from a year

A year is a vague, misty thing;
When it is not thought of,
It is as though it never existed.
Yet upon concentration,
Some large event looms forth,
Sets it off, and then it is this year
And not any other.
Suddenly some small excitement Trips across the mind, and
Out of the darkness flows a stream
Of old emotions. Something happens again,
And all the long dead images of mind reawaken,
And are lighted one by one.

to a month

December, crystals glittering in the light
Of past memories,
Of skating in the night,
Laughter, and the smoke of icy breath.
December, burning heat,
The Hiss of logs,
The glowing depths of fire.
December, white against the background
Of the night,
Crystal patterns, and tonight,
The moon, a silver river in the snow.

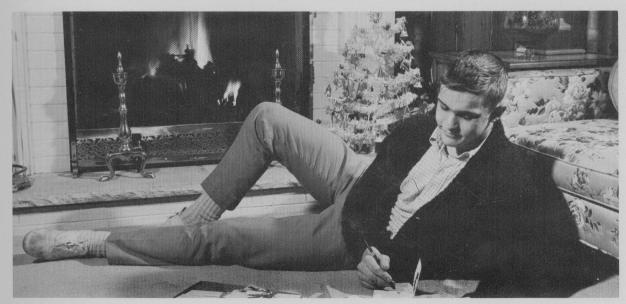

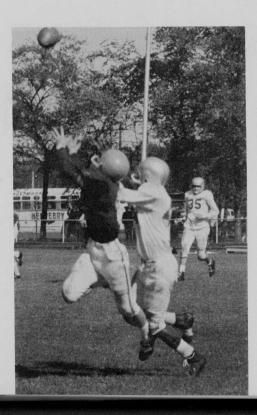

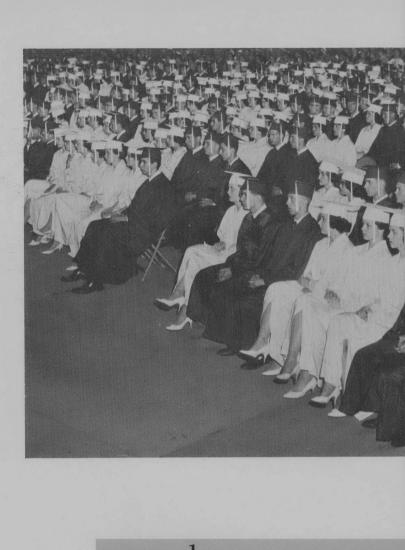

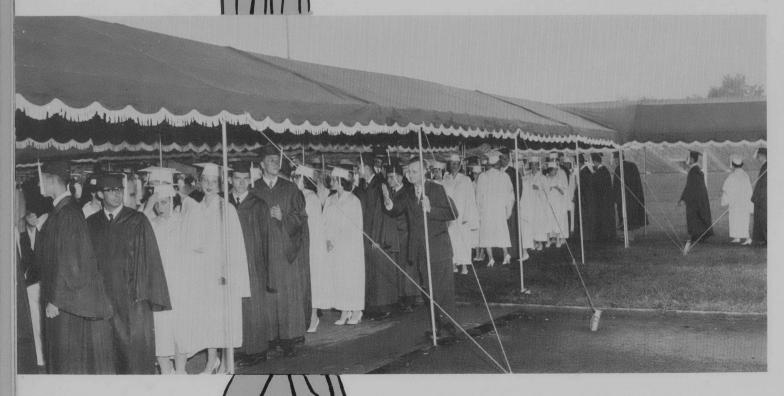

to a week

The year is sparkled with the Scatterings of our ambitions,
With the projects of our time,
With the parties, the dances, and the plays.
Some weeks are the essence of activity;
Others are remote and quiescent.
Of the former, the most hectic
And gratifying
Is Homecoming, with its memories of Last minute preparations, the parade, the game,
And the dance.

There is no history of small events No day on which one saw the rainbow No date for the first time you felt lost. Even "events" have no specific time, 'Yet they are the very heart of experience. They are the joy of our memories, The reoccuring images That silently influence our minds And flavor our very existence. Of the days of the year, And of the small things of memory, Graduation is the most complete. It is the culmination and the binding of ragged edges -The end, the first day, the recollected fear, The crowds, the heat, and the long walk With its uncertain steps -The joy of memories of years past.

Composition student, Craig Stevens, suggests this syllogism: All composition students who make mistakes are poppingooves. Irene Karpman, a composition student, has made a mistake. Therefore, Irene is a poppingoof.

english excellence proves exception, rather than rule

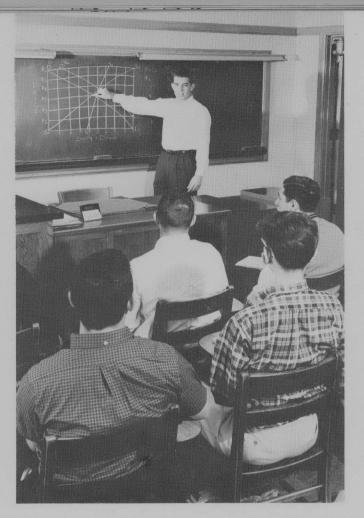

How often it has been said that verbal communication is the greatest deficiency of modern America. The English program at Niles, however, seems to present at least one outright contradiction to the rule. Having concluded three required years of English and encouraged to elect a fourth, the student has mastered the rudiments of grammar, has built a basic vocabulary, and has been introduced to the fundamental literary achievements. Those students who have participated in the advanced program of studies, having chosen such courses as Composition, American Ideas, and Honors Reading, have gained not only the knowledge which accompanies extensive work, but also the literary appreciation coming through analysis and practical experience. Upon graduation, the Nilehi student goes forth adequately prepared to enter the adult world as a well-informed, self-expressive individual.

"Alas poor Yorick, I knew him well . . .", laments an English literature Hamlet (Marcia Wiktor), while grave-diggers Willard Eames and Noel Uzemack seem unperturbed.

Books, books, and more books, provide an interesting and entertaining evening for an American Ideas seminar.

Making supply meet demand proves no problem for Economics student, Bob Nieder.

social sciences promote interests through variety

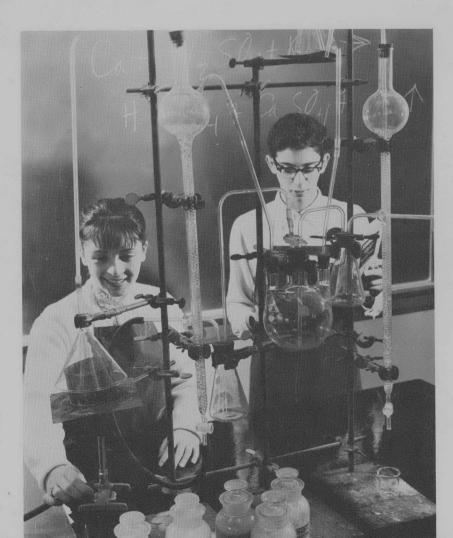

Just as the natural sciences interpret the physical world, so the social sciences are essential in understanding the complexities of the human elements which inhabit this planet. At Niles, students are afforded the opportunity of developing a mental attitude critical of the world situation through active participation in such courses as: Freshman Social Studies, World History, United States History, and Senior Social Studies. Preferring to further cultivate personal aptitudes, an individual may wish to elect Sociology, Latin American History, or Economics. For the industrious student there are the two honors courses, advanced World History and advanced placement American History, the latter of which may reward the deserving student with college credit. Such course diversity allows specialization and assures intelligent and responsible adults.

The fervor of a national election catches FSS students, Paul Scarpelli and Flip Miller.

science courses derive formula for progress

In a world so resigned to the theory of material progress, scientific advancement has become the stepping stone to supremacy. At Niles, the budding scientist may plot his future course by choosing from innumerable and diverse offerings. Whatever the course may be, each is formulated to give specific knowledge in one of the major areas, while acquainting the student with the scientific process of reasoning. The talented individual, for instance, may go beyond conventional studies—General Science, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry—and pursue advanced courses or elect such others as Physiology, Psychology, Botany, or Zoology. Extensive laboratory experimentation and the traditional lecture combine to amplify personal studies and thus furnish a springboard to vocation or avocation.

Myriads of microscopic organisms glide across the slide as the combined efforts of Biology students, Pete Zaphirio and Maureen Freres, graphically reproduce the images.

Simple equipment produces extraordinary results as Physics students Gary Tennison, Larry Haller, and Don Leaf, plot acceleration.

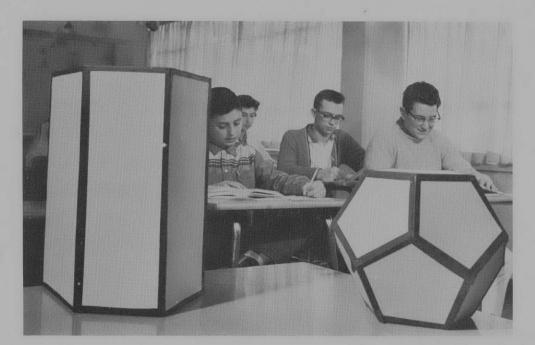

Studying cones, Algebra students, Liz Kramer and Penny Brown, seem to agree that a model is worth a thousand words.

specialized programs plus individual effort equal strong future

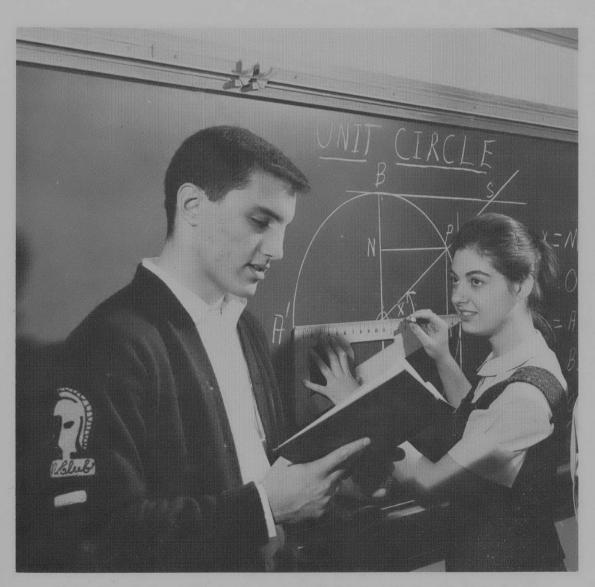

Acceleration is the keynote of the Niles mathematics department under whose guidance and supervision young mathematicians must, and will, learn to meet the challenge of tomorrow. Participation in the regular program, consisting of Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry, enables the student master fundamentals, while developing a logical reasoning process. For those whose natural inclination is mathematics, there is the advanced program which includes first and second year Algebra on the freshman level, Plane and Solid Geometry during the sophomore year, college Algebra and Trigonometry in the junior year, and Analytical Geometry and Calculus for senior-year studies. In this manner, both student and country benefit, the former acquiring a firm foundation for higher education, the latter gaining continued security.

Math Analysis students, Lee Bromberg, Ronald Wolfstyn, and James Chang, prove that three intellects are better than one when constructing ellipsoids.

Eager minds inquire, while reason dictates, as advanced Geometry students solve complex problems.

Jim Boosales assists Greer Kosdon in diagramming a unit circle for aid in the study of Trigonometry.

Thoughts of a gay fiesta and the surprise in the pinata bring fond memories and fresh smiles for Spanish students, Carole Nachman, Darlene Woywot, and Bruce Miller.

The foreign language department of Niles attempts to promote international cooperation by combining the study of foreign languages with the understanding of various cultures and customs of the country. As an aid in these studies, Niles has installed a language laboratory — the most modern technique in language instruction — which, equipped with soundproof booths, earphones, microphones, and tape recorders, carries daily lessons and special readings to French, German, Russian, and Spanish students. Such practice, when integrated with classroom work, enables the aspiring linguist to become more proficient in the oral-aural aspects of a language sooner than is possible under traditional teaching methods.

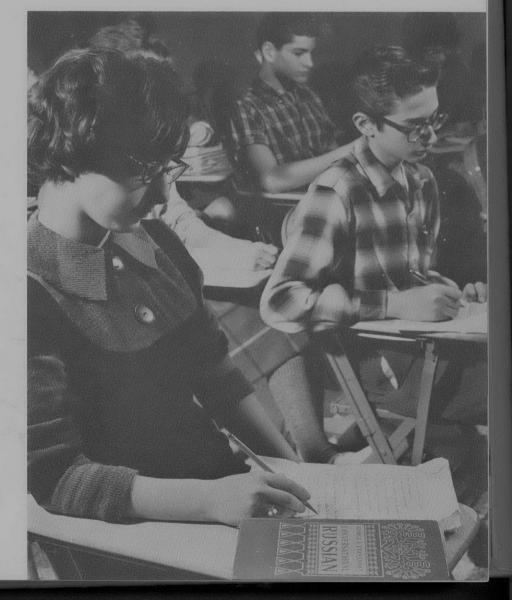

"Quo usque tandem abutere, Catilina . . ." thunders a modern Cicero, Larry Dallia, while senatores, Joe Kremer and Judy Sheldon, glare at the malefactor, Larry Lissner.

Judy Kamps, Janice Kamps, Bruce Patis and Jeff Mantell find the tape recorder a valuable asset in language study.

Business conditions test the knowledge of Clerical Practices student, Rosalie

As business volumes increase, the demand for qualified secretaries and executives rises proportionately. Recognizing this, the business education department of Niles has attempted to utilize only those courses and that material which can, and does, give an adequate insight into the professional world. Whether it be Advertising or Salesmanship, Business Law or Bookkeeping, Clerical Practices or Typing, the student is assured the opportunity to become proficient in that phase of business activity which is appealing and, at the same time, suited to his vocational preferences.

home and industrial arts courses "build" for future

Providing many and varied courses, while affording a basic foundation for adult life, is the task of the Industrial and Home Arts program at Niles. Homemakers of tomorrow display both an appreciation and comprehension of the "art" of gracious living after having completed such courses as Clothing, Home Management, Foods, and Home Furnishings. In a like manner, the industrial courses — the shops — prove indispensible to that portion of the male population which is attracted to a technical or mechanical education. Irregardless of vocational interest, skills gained through these courses become future assets.

Woods students, Bob Heller and Mike Edwards, find patience and a strong arm prerequisites for work on the lathe.

Ken Potrue and Tom Weise discover that practical experience and mechanical aptitude are important in metalworking.

The whir of mechanisms, the grinding of gears — labyrinth of parts — tax the abilities of Auto students, Paul Miller and Al Burlini.

The tuba may hoot, the flute may scream, but Band student, Barbara Apelian, continues her practice, oblivious of the surrounding clamor.

culture courses enhance aesthetic appreciation

The fine arts department of Niles, including art, drama, and music, endeavors to impart the knowledge, the spirit, the very essence of creativity to its young protegees. Delving into the realm of imagination, a student gains not only the self-satisfaction accompanying creation, but also an appreciation of the difficulties confronting the artist. Perception and sentiment combine to foster understanding and cultural enjoyment; no longer is the novice satisfied with a simple "I like it". Consciousness replaces indifference, enlarging aesthetic values and broadening the scope of human emotions.

The hand is raised — the voices of Glee students respond.

Surprise or awe? Anger or resolution? Sam Arnoff and Joyce Russo demonstrate the importance of facial expression to would-be actors and actresses.

Buried images, hidden emotions — the subtilties of the mind — brighten the canvasses of Art students, Sue Osborn and Barbara Saflarski.

Although plagued with numerous problems resulting from construction and planning for the complete division of schools next fall, Student Council continued to undertake projects which benefited the entire student body and the school. The major innovation of the year was the establishment of the Honor System, an idealistic yet beneficial program to not only curb dishonesty, but also to instill within the students a new sense of responsibility and maturity. On February 17, the first Niles Township Safety Conference was held at Devonshire Community Center with guest speaker, John Doremus from WMAQ. In addition, a student tutoring system and an experimental allperiod Student Lounge were initiated during the year. Council continued its support of the Korean War Orphan, Yang Hong Shik, and brought its third foreign exchange student to Niles, Ida Boshuis from the Netherlands, under the American Field Service. Finally, a complete reorganization of the Council constitution and activities was formulated in order to prepare for the increased enrollment after the division of the schools.

Along with establishing a school store, West Council devoted much time determining the new school colors, scarlet and white; the mascot, Indians; and the symbolic emblem. In the annual United Fund Drive, the combined total donated by both schools exceeded $2000, displaying the willingness of Niles' students to help others less fortunate. As Student Council creates more opportunities for students to demonstrate their maturity, the student body exhibits greater enthusiasm for Council's activities and the desire to assist instead of ridicule.

The Student Service Organization, initiated in 1956, has since grown to include over four hundred members in its three individual departments: Student Supervised Study Halls, SSSH; Student Supervised Moni-ments: Student Supervised Study Halls, SSSH; Student Supervised Monitors, SSM; and the Special Service Division, SSD. An executive board, comprised of one member from each of these three departments, coordinates and supervises all of the organization's activities.

The services performed by these students are twofold. By delegating greater student responsibility, SSO attempts to create, in its members, self-discipline and respect for school policies as well as greater maturity. In addition to this, SSO is able to conserve finances for the Board of Education by saving an estimated $44,000 in toachors' for the Board of Education by saving an estimated $44,000 in teachers'

With vows of "We'll get it in early this year!" and elaborate but unfeasible ideas, work begins on the 1961 Reflections. The stardust dreams are soon pushed aside, and new and more practical ideas take shape as the work of logically compiling a yearbook begins. After the theme is chosen, the staff works late to select pictures and write suitable copy. Occasionally these late meetings are interrupted by outraged parents who cry," I want my son!" Sitting amidst stacks of pictures, copy, self expression through literary creativity

Through the outstanding literary organizations of Niles, students can reveal their personal expression and written creativity. East Division's Golden Galleon Guild and West Division's Silver Clipper each publish an annual magazine, containing the original writings of Nilehi students. After reading and examining the numerous manuscripts received, the club members select the outstanding examples of quality, and the arrangement of the periodical begins. Members benefit and learn from the advice and leadership of Mrs. Parepa Rice and Miss Jean Canning, sponsors of Golden Galleon and Mr. Richard Gragg and Miss Caroline Householder, sponsors of Silver Clipper. Their instruction in the perfection of literary expression encourages the student to develop an individual style and technique, and he is rewarded for his efforts in early June when copies of the completed magazines are distributed to the student body and faculty.

The Nilehilite offers practical training to students interested in a journalistic career, and at the same time, is an enjoyable source of school news and information for the student body. For the first time in the paper's history, cartoons were used as a regular feature for the editorial page, adding greatly to both appearance and enjoyment. A sports column "just for girls" and a column devoted to the activities of Student Council were also new additions to this year's paper. Special issues for Christmas and graduation and the inclusion of the supplementary magazine "Roto" were features of the Nilehilite, greatly appreciated by the students.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Scherb, the quality of the Nilehilite won the paper a first place rating from the Columbia Scholastic National Press Association for Membership in the National Honor Society is perhaps the greatest honor that can be bestowed upon any student. It is a recognition of excellence and achievement in the four main fields of high school endeavor.

On March 23, twenty-nine juniors and sixty seniors were inducted into the National Hoñor Society. During the solemn ceremony, the new members, received the traditional red roses and gold pins, and, with candles raised, pledged themselves to the upholding of the ideals of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. These qualities, in addition to the consideration of a B average and faculty recommendation, serve as the basic criterion for

A chance for students to become better acquainted socially is offered by the monthly Saturday night Student Unions. Sponsored by the all-senior Student Union Board, the nine unions held this year offered a variety of activities. Students had a choice of dancing, playing ping pong, or just visiting in the Student Lounge. Another of the attractions was the showing of such movies as "The Diary of Anne Frank", "North by Northwest", and "No Time for Sergeants". Two of the high spots of Nilehi's social calendar were the Student Union sponsored Christmas dance, "Winter Nocturne", and later in the year, the Key Club "Penthouse Party". Under the direction of Mr. George Roth and Mr. Arthur Colver, the East and West Hi-Y clubs sponsored projects such as paper drives, car washes, the Hi-Y Citizenship Award, and the Hi-Y Scholarship. the lure of the spotlight

The drama groups at Niles provide worthwhile entertainment for students and adults in addition to providing participating students valuable and memorable experiences. The feverish excitement, the last minute upsets, the first time on stage before an audience, the forgotten lines; all these go into a play. But the pace is not always so hurried and excited. There are also the long, often monotonous tasks to be completed; yet after all the work, when the curtain goes up in the West auditorium, the resulting production is always a success.

Members of Spotlighters learned how to act and carry out the necessary behind stage duties. Spotlighters also went to plays put on by professional groups or other schools. Either by acting or working on crews, or in a combination of both, students strive toward the one-hundred hours required to become a Thespian. Under the direction of Miss Virginia Stemp, two all school plays, "Our Town" and "Fair Exchange" were presented this year. In addition, East and West Spotlighters put on two one-act plays; "The Uqly Duckling", directed by Miss Blacher, and "Gianni Schicchi", which Mrs. Finfer translated from an opera by Puccini. This unusual play provided a unique climax to the Niles' successful drama season.

The feverish excitement, the last minute upsets, the first time on stage before an audience, the forgotten lines; all these go into a play. But the pace is not always so hurried and excited. There are also the long, often monotonous tasks to be completed; yet after all the work, when the curtain goes up in the West auditorium, the resulting production is always a success.

Members of Spotlighters learned how to act and carry out the necessary behind stage duties. Spotlighters also went to plays put on by professional groups or other schools. Either by acting or working on crews, or in a combination of both, students strive toward the one-hundred hours required to become a Thespian. Under the direction of Miss Virginia Stemp, two all school plays, "Our Town" and "Fair Exchange" were presented this year. In addition, East and West Spotlighters put on two one-act plays; "The Ugly Duckling", directed by Miss Blacher, and "Gianni Schicchi", which Mrs. Finfer translated from an opera by Puccini. This unusual play provided a unique climax to the Niles' successful drama season.

"Fair Exchange", the fall play, provided varied character roles. Included in the cast were B. Sodemann, K. Finn, A. Witzel, A. Thor-S. Sanders, R. Miller, B. Lawler, T. Kroon, E. Winer.

music - the universal language

Continually growing in size and quality, the Niles Township High School music department excelled in the presentation of four major productions during the year. To open the Christmas season, the combined vocal groups and the orchestra joined together in the annual Christmas Festival in mid-December. The traditional "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah" climaxed the program of carols and religious melodies. Once final exams were over, rehearsals began on the original student musicale, "All At Once," a take-off on the Broadway musical "My Sister Eileen." On March 17 and 18, the curtain rose after months of preparation under the direction of faculty members Mr. Hugh McGee and Mr. Earle Auge. Meanwhile, band members at East and West kept busy learning scores of music for the spring band concert led by Mr. Leo Provost and Mr. Charles Groeling. The final musical production of the school year, held in the West Division auditorium, involved all students in the orchestras, glee clubs, and choir. "America — Our Heritage," the theme of the May music festival, introduced classical as well as semi-popular selections to close the music season. In addition, students interested in specialized or advanced work may become members of Vivace and Choir at East, or Loreleis at West, if they exhibit exceptional ability. The Vivace chorus was invited to sing at international Kiwanis conventions and to entertain many Chicago area clubs and organizations. Because of the many opportunities available in the music department, students can choose the fields in which they are most well-suited and most interested, resulting in high standards and excellent quality in each production.

Through the varied activities of the individual East Division foreign language clubs and the combined language club at West, students supplement their classroom knowledge of the language they are studying by acquainting themselves with foreign lands and peoples. France, Mexico, ancient Rome, Germany, and Russia become familiar to club members as informative programs are presented, describing and illustrating the people, their customs, and their heritage.

Throughout the year, the holidays of foreign lands are observed by each of the clubs. French and German students enjoy typical native dishes at their annual spring dinners, while Latin students return to the ancient land of Rome via the Latin banquet. Students are given the opportunity of putting their knowledge to practical use when they travel to Mexico and Canada during spring vacation. These activities help to broaden the student's knowledge and increase his understanding of other lands.

The athletic program of any school is only as good as the support the program draws from the school's student body. Nilehi's fine showing in all sports this year was due in great part to the student support which the teams received. The twirlers, in their appearances with the Trojan band, brightened many football game half-times. Racket Squad, celebrating its third year of existence worked on the organization of pep assemblies and card section presentations at football games. West Division Pep Club did much to promote interest in athletic events and other school functions among freshmen and sophomores. Leading the shouts for a touchdown or a basket were the cheerleaders, always adding to any setting.

Nilehi's school spirit organizations, together with the entire student body, served to prove that, in the last year of the existence of the school as one unit, "East Plus West Equals Success."

eading the spirit yells at both football and basketball games are nomore cheerleaders including Diane Anton, Michele Lazar, Robin gner, and Carol Fink.

Varsity cheerleaders of the future are freshmen Snookie Perri, Barbara Lee, Lynn Kaselow, and Linda Schoenberg.

Proud fathers receive Dad's Day awards from Dr. Kavanaugh, East Division principal.

Starting the season with a great display of might, the Trojan eleven defeated non-league foe Barrington by the noteworthy score of 22-6. With the squad at its season low in the injury department, the Nilehiers proceeded to shut out both Oak Park and Morton.

Playing before a capacity Homecoming crowd, injuries and a strong Proviso squad proved too much for the men of Troy as they suffered the first defeat of the season. After bouncing back to triumph over Waukegan by the score of 18-13, a much-weakened squad saw arch-rival New Trier take advantage of a Trojan fumble and march to a 7-0 victory.

In succeeding weeks the Nilehi squad reached deadlocks with both Highland Park and Evanston, finishing the season with third place in the Suburban League. Injuries to key players were a great factor in several games. In spite of this handicap, as well as a lack of weight in this year's line, the Trojans gave Niles an extremely respectable record. Special credit for the season must go to junior Jim Hart, who took over the quarterback spot after the early season injury of senior Jim Boosales. He will be a valuable asset to next year's West Division Indians.

sophs overpower opposition

Coach Coyer and Dr. Brown, team physician, return to the line of play after examining an injured squad member.

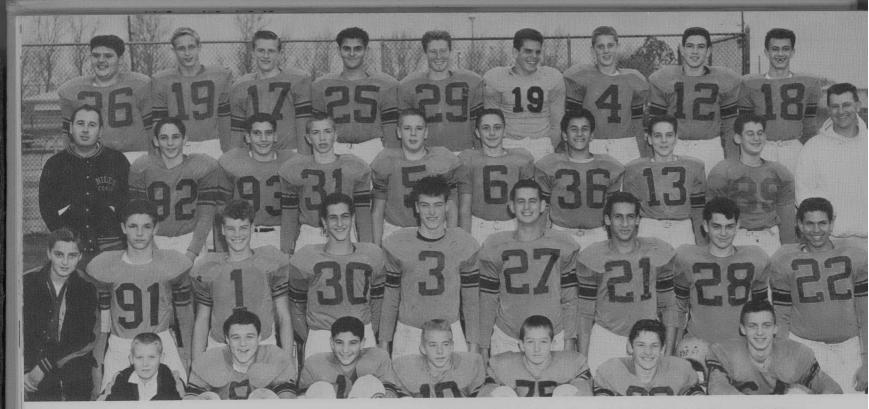

Under an excellent coaching staff headed by Mr. Coyer, the sophs turned in an impressive 5-2-1 record this year. After defeating both Barrington and Oak Park by identical scores of 27-13, the young Trojans went on to shutout Morton 39-0. Three dismal weeks followed. A tie was salvaged in the Proviso game, followed by consecutive defeats at the hands of Waukegan and New Trier. Returning to earlier form, and showing traditional Trojan strength, the sophs proceeded to bar both Highland Park and neighboring adversary, Evanston, from the scoring column.

With the solid foundation these boys developed it is certain that much good football will be played on both the East and West campuses next year.

A weak A squad and strong B team were the learning vehicles for Nilehi's frosh newcomers in 1960. The A team turned in a 2-5 record, while the B group came up with a sparkling 6-1 season. Coached by Mr. Harmon, the 1960 cross country team finished the season with a record of three wins and four losses, the best of any Harrier squad in several years. The two-milers placed fifth in the Suburban League meet and seventh in the State Districts.

The frosh-soph team, coached by Mr. Cress and Mr. Martin, compiled a dual meet record of four wins and three losses. At the Suburban League meet, the sophs equalled the varsity squad, placing fifth. Cross country is again gaining strength at Nilehi, and its popularity is sure to grow in the coming years.

If an award was given for "Most Valuable Nilehi Team," its recipient would have to be the 1960-1961 wrestling squad. Boasting ten returning seniors out of a team of twelve, the grapplers closed the season with a dual meet record of 15 wins and only I defeat, easily the best of any Trojan squad. Drawing large crowds to both home and away meets, the matmen's only defeat was at the hands of a powerhouse Waukegan squad.

During Christmas vacation, the grapplers captured third place in the Waukegan Invitational Tournament. In the State District meet at Glenbrook, the Trojans captured first place, scoring 124 points and sending ten men to the State Sectionals at Waukegan. At the Sectionals, the grapplers took second place, sending five men to the State Finals at Champaign. Jim Miresse, wrestling with injuries incurred in his only previous loss — that at the District meet - was defeated in the first round of the finals by the eventual 145 lb. champion, Roy of Reavis. Ninety-five pound junior, Gary Lindemann, who had grappled his way through an impressive season, also met with first round defeat. Dick Isel, going into the 165 lb. championship match with a perfect record, placed second as he lost to Evans of Oak Lawn. With a record including only two defeats as he went into the championship match, Howie Alder, 138 lb., was defeated by Torrence of Thornton, thus placing second in state. Dennis Dobrowolski, after pinning his second as well as his third round opponent, went down to defeat in the championship encounter, gaining second place for his efforts. With three second place winners, the Trojan twelve brought back to the halls of Nilehi the trophy signifying second place in the sport of wrestling in the State of Illinois.

This year's wrestling squad was the finest in Nilehi history. With strong frosh, soph, and junior varsity team members returning, the squads of both schools should be title contenders again in the years to come.

Both the sophomore and freshmen wrestling teams concluded successful seasons this winter. The sophs, compiling an 11-3 record, took second place in Suburban League competition. Their only defeats were at the hands of tough, Waukegan, East Leyden, and Maine East squads. Special credit must go to sophomore Steve Brown, now undefeated for a period of almost two years. Placing fourth in the League, the frosh squad boasted a highly respectable 5-4-2 scorecard. Filled with the wisdom that only experience can bring, these Trojans will definitely play a key part in extending Nilehi domination of north suburban wrestling in coming seasons.

gymnast pearl second in state

Fulfilling promise shown last season, the varsity gymnasts compiled a dual meet record of ten wins and nine losses, three of which were by margins of seven points or less. Most noteworthy event of the year was the squad's ninth place finish in the state finals, with junior Elliot Pearl placing second on the rings. Now in its third year at Niles, gymnastics enjoys ever-increasing popularity.

The sophomores had an extremely successful season, as this Trojan team boasted a 15-5 record. With the greater part of the varsity squad returning, the future of gymnastic appears bright for both schools next season. Congratulations are certainly due Mr. Cress and his staff for giving Nilehi teams such great strength in the space of three short years.

With a squad composed of several returning lettermen as well as other members of last year's varsity and junior varsity teams, the 1960-1961 Trojans gave Nilehi a 7-12 season record, the the best of any roundball organization in many years. Playing with a great height disadvantage in one of the toughest basketball leagues in the state, the team's success was due almost completely to the untiring coaching efforts of Mr. Fabri and Mr. Engle.

This year the Trojans proved that they can play good basketball consistently. Always impressive was the play of senior Joel Goodman and junior Ken Borcia. Next year's teams will include several returning lettermen at both schools. With these players forming the nucleus of each squad and the addition of talented boys from both the j.v. and frosh-soph teams, the Indians and the Trojans will undoubtedly have fine seasons. Basketball is again on the way up at Niles!

nelson qualifies for state meet

Closing the season with a 56-30 victory over East Leyden, the varsity put together a record of five wins and ten losses. The record, however, is not indicative of the high quality of the squad, as the Suburban League is known to be the finest high school swimming league in the country. Outstanding throughout the season were the performances of Troian diver Jim Nelson.

varsity diamondmen take district title

After dropping their opener to Maine East by the score of I-O, Coach Phipps' varsity went on to triumph over Arlington and Glenbrook by respective tallies of 6-I and 4-I. With many of last year's starters graduated, the big queston was the ability of numerous juniors and untried seniors to play on the top level of high school baseball.

Stalwarts of the squad were returning lettermen Bronson Davis and Larry Mills, as well as catcher Dennis Dobrowolski, who always seemed to find the silver lining inside the proverbial cloud of darkness. The performances of senior pitcher Ed Sabev were also outstanding.

Sabey were also outstanding.

With many of these boys returning next year, both the Indians and the Trojans are sure to be powers to reckon with in their respective leagues.

Looking very good in their first contest, the sophs defeated the Glenbrook Spartans by the highly impressive score of 4-0. Coached by Mr. Coyer, the sophomores gained valuable experience that is sure to figure heavily in the extension of Nilehi's baseball triumphs in the next two years.

linksters up to par

With four returning lettermen in seniors Bob Zender, Jim Puccinelli, and Lloyd Kuehn, as well as junior Lyle Mink, prospects were bright for a fine golf campaign this spring. Led by Zender, squad captain and unquestionably one of the finest high school golfers in the Middle West, the team's home course was the tough Arlington lay-out.

Coached by Mr. Kiviluoma, the varsity is composed of ten linksters, of whom only five may participate in dual meet competition. Advancement to the starting five may be gained by challenging and defeating a member of that group. This intra-squad rivalry is very successful in developing those talked-about low scores, thus leading Nilehi to team victories on the links.

The frosh-soph squad, coached by Mr. Basrak and Mr. Nelson, gave underclassmen the opportunity to play in organized match competition, thus gaining valuable experience.

goldman, zimberoff lead cindermen

Paul Goldman and Jerry Zimberoff get in position for the start of the race.

Again this year as in the past, the cindermen were hampered due to inadequate training facilities. Lack of indoor track areas has long been a weak point in the Nilehi sports picture, and the situation has been much aggravated by the fact that competitors have enjoyed the early season use of such facilities. The picture will brighten, however, in 1962, when the new indoor practice area now under construction at East will be ready.

Leading the varsity, coached by Mr. Harmon, were senior Paul Goldman in the hurdles and broad jump and junior star Jerry Zimberoff in the dashes and 440 yard run. Potential future track greatness was very evident in the performances of sophomores Don Raab and Bill Lorr. Other cindermen too numerous to mention contributed greatly to the strength of the squad.

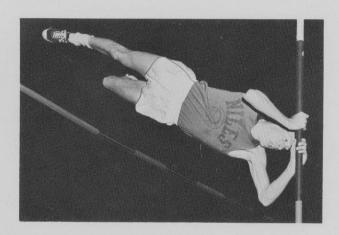

With the opening of the new practice facilities and the return of most of the team next year, both schools can look forward to what will certainly be strong track programs.

racketmen send two downstate

The outlook for an excellent tennis season was good, with almost all of last year's sensational squad returning to the Nilehi courts. With outstanding singles players in Steve Weiss, Dennis Redding, and soph Mike Baer, Coach Markus' only difficulty seemed to be finding the right combination for the first doubles unit. A sign of net triumphs to come was the netmen's 4-1 victory in the season opener with Glenbrook.

Coached by Mr. Kielwasser, the sophs appeared destined for a spring full of racket

faculty defeats n-club in overtime contest

Faculty members R. Bluege and G. Kielwasser go high in the air for a rebound as N-Club members J. Boyesen and P. Goldman look on.

The N-Club had an extremely successful year of operation during the 1960-1961 school term. Sponsored by Mr. Larson, the Club, comprised of Nilehi's lettermen, presented the traditional N-Club-faculty basketball game and, in addition, held its initiations of new members at two Student Unions.

Receipts for the Club-faculty tilt, which saw the faculty squad triumph in an action-packed overtime, went to several worthwhile causes. The lettermen made a sizable contribution to the Ilg Park Y.M.C.A. development fund. Proceeds of the game were also set aside to put the N-Clubs off to a good start at both East and West, which will be separate organizations next year.

These Trojans, who have done much to spread the fame of Niles through their athletic prowess, have also done much to improve their school by their wide scope of interest in its functions. Including in its membership class officers as well as leaders of many other organizations, the N-Club has been a valued contributor to Nilehi.

g. a. a. hosts suburban school playday

Membership in G.A.A. entitles a girl to participate in many activities, not all of which are athletic. For the seventh straight year, these girls have produced a first prize Homecoming float. A service project, the all school turnabout dance, "Isle of Enchantment," and the formal initiation and award presentation are just a few of their many accomplishments. In addition, this year, G.A.A. played hostess to girls in the Suburban League schools for a Play Day.

The variety of sports sponsored by the organization affords each girl the opportunity to develop both individual skills and group participation and cooperation. Each year, three girls find membership in G.A.A. particularly rewarding. Two junior girls are sent to summer camp, and a $400 scholarship is awarded to a senior who plans to major in health, physical education, or recreation.

By encouraging good sportsmanship and service to the community, the Girls' Athletic Association of Nilehi helps to develop a mature citizen of tomorrow.

East Division Board Members plan the association's yearly activities. Back Row: S. Le-Vine, L. Riefstahl, G. Galsky, B. Abbink, M. Ostermeier, K. Roock. Second Row: M. Godfriaux, S. Osborn, R. The coolness of an Oriental pool was admired by G.A.A. members and their dates at last year's turnabout dance, "Serenade in Jade."

east plus west equals success

"I can't believe it," say Sharon Swanberg and Sue Kaplan on being elected to the Homecoming Court.

After winning first prize in the class B float division, this elephant will never forget Homecoming 1960.

Though we lost this one, it's the start of a fine season.

With the last hectic tasks of sawing, cutting, and painting completed, most Nilehi students could sit back, relax, and enjoy the Homecoming festivities of 1960. Through the diligent efforts of the Homecoming Committee, the entire day went like clockwork. From the weather, right on down to the menu at the Alumni Tea, "East plus West" did "equal success."

Although the slogan "No lion, we'll lick 'em," proved to be a winner for the G.A.A. first place float, our Trojan team was defeated in a close game with the Proviso Pirates. Even this defeat, however, did not dampen the spirits of the growds of cheering Nilehi students and alumni. The climan crowds of cheering Nilehi students and alumni. The climax of the gala festivities came with the traditional Homecoming dance, where the soft music and imaginative decorations left many "Moments to Remember."

Who wouldn't come to the Homecoming Dance when you can meet two queens, Penny Johnson and Sharon Shores.

"We can't lose," say Sam Arnoff and Larry Proft, "when we have Joan Murlas, Linda Kar-lov, and Ginny Thomas on our side."

After kissing Santa, Joan Murlas is sure to get her Christmas wish.

"Careful with the pin," says Jim Thomson to Jeri Kluge.

Hostess Barb Kolderup serves iced punch, as her date, John Lilliedahl, looks on wondering whether he'll ever get any.

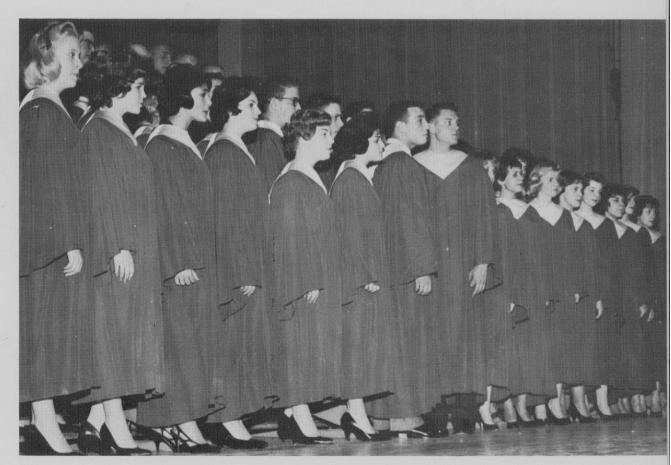

Christmas is the season of the progression of time. There are the days of frolicking in the snow or skating across the ice, as well as the days of solemn worship. There are the weeks of joyous celebration and those of welcomed vacation. There is the wonderful month of December, with its Christmas and its transition of fall into winter. There is the end of the one year, which passes merrily through Christmas and on to the new Son of Father Time.

Two of those memorable days at Niles were the Christmas dance and the Christmas festival. This year's annual dance was appropriately called "Winter Nocturne," as it was held on a brisk December eve.

The festival flowed with the varied currents of Christmas: its rejoicing, its solemnity, its mirth. The conclusiveness of the program was a true treatment of the meaning of Christmas.

As the curtain ascends, the first strains of "Silent Night" hush the audience.

In the true spirit of Christmas, these Nilehi carollers sing the songs of the sea-

"love in an inn"

In spite of the tantrums and ravings of director Gregorovitch, "Hollywood Heyday" proved to be a boxoffice sell-out. In an attempt to bring variety and freshness to the movie industry, this Russian perfectionist tried to include everything in his newest masterpiece, "Love in an Inn." In commenting on the movie, critics were quick to point out the highlights. A precision drill team was easily agreed upon as best of show, while a roaring twenties bevy of beauties won the critics award for the best chorus line. A "Sweet Sixteen" novelty act and a "Night Train" instrumental were chosen as best in their categories.

With all of this talent, and the internationally known Miss Marilyn Mudpack in the same movie, director Gregorovitch was sure that he would win the coveted Oscar, and was quite shocked when the award was presented to "Ben Hershey" by Malt Dismal. Although "Love in an Inn" was no Oscar winner, few Nilehi students will deny the entertaining success of "Hollywood Heyday.'

The roaring twenties live again in Jackie Kofoed, Karyn Stryker, Sue Hansen, Carol Flaherty, Ginny Backus, Donna Miller, Judy Iverson, Rosanne Schiff, Judy Viere, and Pat Paul.

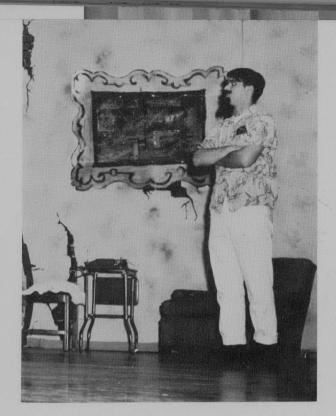

Precision at its prettiest is supplied by Judie Kirschner, Marcia Wiktor, Babs Gibson, Sharon Brei, Sue Seedorf, Irene Freske, Ruth Sack, Cindy Ponto, Sherry Otto, and Judy Verhunce.

Who wouldn't answer Joanne Worthington's "Indian Love Call"?

"By the sea, by the beautiful sea" are Sue LeVine and Sue Osborn.

"Love me, love my painting," says Mr. Alexander (Les Silverman).

nilehi sees new york "all at once"

The rumbling sound of the subway, and the rattle and clamor of a construction company at work were the sound effects in this year's musical, "All At Once." Patterned after the Broadway production of "My Sister Eileen," Nilehi students enjoyed the hustle and bustle of the big city, as they followed the Farrington sisters in their search for careers. In acquainting themselves with the ways of the big city, Julie and Marcy Farrington were quickly convinced that New York was nothing like their hometown, Dayton, Ohio. As the girls wandered through the city, encountering many of the odd, but interesting New Yorkers, comedy and romance reached a peak.

comedy and romance reached a peak.

Selections from "Gigi," "Can-Can," and "Up In Central Park" gave the program the polish of a professional production.
"All At Once" offered further proof that East and West could work together efficiently and successfully.

Jerry Dulkin, Judy Holzworth, and Barbara Lee dance on the sidewalks of New York.

Diane Layden tells her story in song; "I'm glad I'm not young anymore."

The Farrington girls, Miriam Rothman and Barbara Braun, are packed and ready to leave for the big city, New York.

Really stepping high in "All At Once" is Wendy Belgarbo.

"Could this be a new naval maneuver?" wonder Miriam Rothman and Barbara Braun.

A little bit of gay Scotland comes to the halls of Nilehi as Jerry Hildebrand and Marcia Braverman campaign for Prom King and Queen.

There seems to be no chance of abdication by Queen Sue Levin or King Marty Fine.

It may not be elegant, but it sure does feel good.

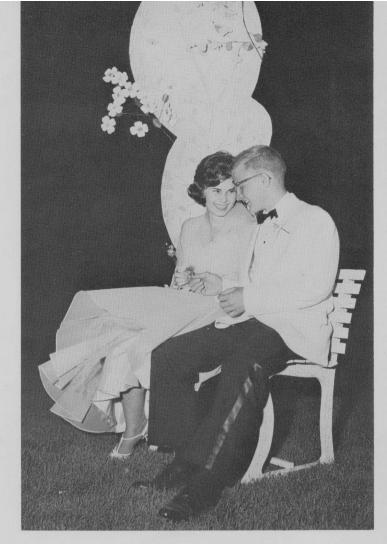

Just as graduation is the culmination of high school academic endeavors, the Junior-Senior Prom is the climax of four years of social activities at Nilehi. As the day approaches, excitement runs high. The campaign, the Prom King and Queen election, and the last minute shopping sprees are all a part of the hectic preparations.

For most Prom goers, the evening begins with a coketail party at the home of a friend. Then, its off to the Prom, where the hours pass quickly as the delicate puffs of blue and yellow formals sway to the soft music of a well known band. When the clock strikes twelve, the gay couples are off to the Chez Paree or Polynesian Village for more dining and dancing.

Breakfast and a picnic are next on the schedule as the seemingly untiring couples set out for the lake and some swimming and skiing. Then, as the afternoon fades and evening takes its course, the Prom takes its place in the structure of time — a memory never to be forgotten.

For Tod Wise and Linda Jalling, a park bench is the same wherever it is.

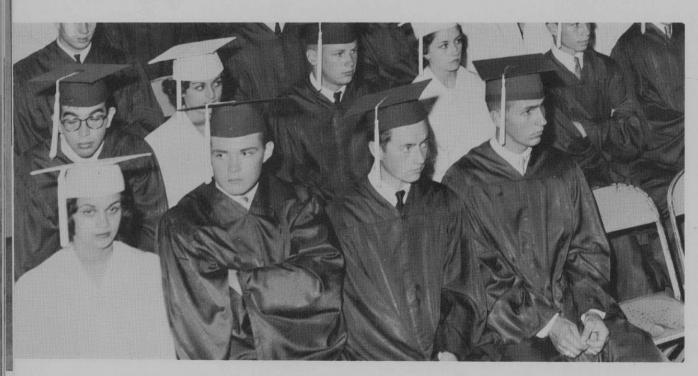

Gazing at a portrait of "Southern Splendor" are Sue Herzog, Bob Feinberg, Sandy Orbach, and Barry Chapnick.

Fred Denkman lends a helping hand to graduate Carolyn Bergeron.

It is a bright warm June day; a little bit sultry, the last day heavy with the sound of happy voices and the din of self congratulation. And far away the place to which you are to go. And somehow with all that heavy robe and your nervousness you get there — just in time to hear the commencement speeches.

"Commencement," as every graduation speaker seems to repeat, "is not the end, but the beginning." Having said as much, what more is there to say? Commencement is the beginning of a new life. No longer are we children, and now it can be recognized. We are, at least conditionally, to be admitted into the more real world in which not only potentiality, but reality reside. We can, at least, abandon some of the myths of adolescence and face problems which have more meaning to us. Thus, graduation is both an end and a beginning.

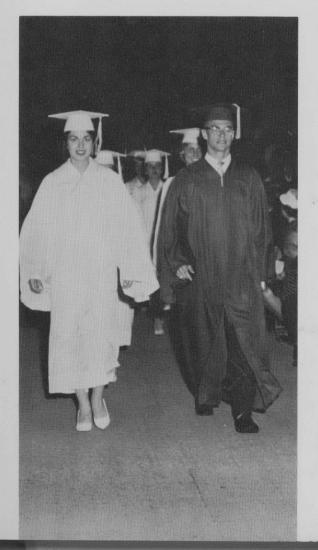

After four years of work and activities, the final day has arrived.

"Program, sir?" asks Judy Sheldon, junior member of the National Honor Society.

seniors approach greater responsibilities.

The future so near at hand, seems to have arrived almost too soon. All our past activities remain in our minds as mere memories, never to recur again except in retrospect. Always present, however, will be friends and acquaintances who experienced similar joys and sorrows, and who worked with ideas and patterns, common only to seniors of one particular graduating class, the graduating procession, the Homecoming and Christmas dances, the Prom, college boards, final exams — all these become part of the past; but now our eyes are focused on the future — thoughts become reality.

Upperclassmen at last! Relieved in discovering that there is no great or disasterous change involved, juniors rapidly become adjusted in their new environment at the East Division. Although quite busy with homecoming preparations and the prom, the junior becomes more "grade" conscious or "college" conscious. As the counselors' appointment lists increase, the covers of college catalogues become familiar parts of the Nilehi scene.

In spite of this note of seriousness, the junior continues to enjoy a long list of extra curricular activities and social events. With seniors graduating and their class dividing, with traditions amended and friendships ended, their memories still remain and are a part of the juniors' lives.

The sophomores, the so-called "seniors" of Niles West, have accepted their position of leadership with ease and pleasure. With no upperclassmen to overshadow their influence, they have become the "top men on the totem pole", the "executives" of the West Division. The responsibilities of freshmen orientation rest with these sophomores, for they set the examples to be followed by their underclassmen. In their role as leaders, they help to keep Nilehi traditions a part of West Division.

In addition to maintaining this leadership, the sophomores have met the challenge of more advanced courses with time remaining for both friends and activities. Thus, rewarding and busy are the two adjectives which best describe the sophomore year.

freshmen gain self-assurance through experience

There is something refreshing about the faces of freshmen on that first hectic day of the fall term. Both anticipation and bewilderment are seen in the eyes of these new students as they wander through the corridors in search of room 214 or M13. This is just a beginning of the year that lay ahead, a year of many "firsts"; papers and more papers, final exams, late passes, and formal dances. It is a year of uncertainty about the high school fun and problems to come; and, exploration into new and varied activities and situations. In all his endeavors, academic or extracurricular, the freshman gains new friends and forms new interests. And, as those final June days approach, his first uncertainties change to self-assurance, and he learns to accept the responsibilities and challenge of high school life.

Dr. Clyde Parker, Superintendent, strives for the preservation and futherance of high educational ideals.

This is the last year that the Niles Township Community High Schools will publish their yearbook jointly. Next year each school will be a four-year high school and each division will have its own book. This coming change in policy is indicative of progress and the rapid growth of the Niles Township High School System.

We, the faculties and students of our school system, are proud to be a part of an organization that is dynamic and changes to meet the educational needs of the young people of the community. It is the hope of all of us that the quality of education will be improved as each change is made. Educational achievement must keep pace with modern world progress as we move swiftly into the atomic age.

Our schools must be dedicated to the preservation and furtherance of the ideals of the American Way of Life. Without this dedication our nation cannot continue to furnish leadership to the freedom-loving peoples of the world.

The graduates of the Class of 1961 will face some of the greatest challenges ever faced by any group of young people since the beginnings of civilized man. It is our hope that your high school has served you well. We trust that you are prepared to continue your preparation to serve the peoples of the world for peace. The cause is great — the way is hard. We trust you are ready.

Clyde Parker Superintendent of Schools

The plans for two four year school units have been completed; a third Nilehi is on the drawing boards; and, the school board's responsibilities grow more numerous as the number of students and faculty increases. Even with this continual expansion, the school board attempts to achieve a close relationship and understanding with the student body. At their Monday night meetings, social projects, as well as academic activities are discussed, always with the welfare of the Nilehi student in mind.

Last years' innovation of direct student reports from such organizations as S.S.O. and Student Council provided for a closer student contact and broadened the opportunity for student-school board co-operation. The main objective of this busy group of community workers is to secure the best educational advancements for the students of Niles Township High School.

their goals: support, cooperation, and effective communication between parents, teachers, and students

Both the Nilehi Parent-Teacher Association and the Boosters Club are adult groups, organized for the purpose of promoting community support for the best attainable programs of education and activities.

The P.T.A., through its monthly meetings and annual open house, aims at acquainting the parent with the various parts of the high school. To keep their members aware of the happenings at Nilehi, the Nile-O-Gram, a monthly newsletter, is published and sent to all P.T.A. parents.

Working along the same lines as the P.T.A., the Boosters Club is also concerned with the welfare and interests of the Nilehi student, especially in the field of athletics. The game refreshment stands and athletic banquets are just two of the many worthwhile projects accomplished by this dedicated group of parents.

Through these programs and activities, the Nilehi Boosters Club and the Parent-Teacher Association serve both their school and their community.

Members of the Boosters Club: Mr. Ed Artwick, Mr. Marvin H. Ihne, Mrs. Eugene Evans, Mr. Harry Sortal, Mrs. Robert Tune, Mr. Joe Lis, Mrs. James Rhodes, Mr. Fred Gilbert, Mrs. Weenonah Hein, Mr. Irving Hoffenberg, Mr. James Yardley.

Although little contact between Nilehi's non-teaching staff and students exists, this hard working group does not go unappreciated. They are one of the most essential groups at Niles, for their work forms the basis of smooth functioning of the school. The office, library, audio-visual, and custodial staffs are responsible for the many necessary details that make life at Nilehi enjoyable and efficient.

The East and West Division office staffs are in charge of the daily bulletins, the switchboard, student registration, scheduling, and mail distribution. Accounting for the many volumes of books, providing reserve pamphlets, and helping students to find necessary information are the duties of the Nilehi librarians. The provision of slides, films, records, and tape-recorders comes under the auspices of the audio-visual aids department. Preparation of the pleasing meals and the maintenance of the technical facilities of the school are capably managed by the cafeteria and custodial staffs. These behind the scenes workers are appreciated by both the students and faculty for their all-important services to Nilehi.

From a year . . . to a month . . . to a week . . . to a day, the yearbook staff has attempted to capture and preserve the memories of time in its passing. Many of our remembrances are prominent and bring to mind something special and exciting, while others quickly fade and dim into the normal, everyday hum-drum of high school activity. From cover to cover, the yearbook staff has planned and designed the 1961 Reflections . . . the structure of time in retrospect. We extend our thanks to Root Studio photographers, Mr. Koenig of the Norman King Publishing Company, Mr. Raymond Nelson, general staff advisor, Mrs. Henry Abram, sophomore staff advisor, Miss Jean Jackson, senior section advisor, and to the entire faculty for their splendid cooperation throughout the year.
