

ST. PAUL'S ROAD CHAPEL,

ST. PAUL'S ROAD, CAMDEN TOWN.

The Ladies of the St. Paul's Road Chapel, Camden Town, having formed themselves into a Committee, earnestly appeal to all friends for aid in the promulgation of those great principles so successfully advocated by their highly gifted teacher, Mr. M. D. CONWAY: the aim of whose teaching is, the unrestricted freedom of thought and expression in all religious matters, the duty of exercising the greatest of God's gifts—REASON, and the building up in those who come under his influence a pure, generous, intelligent, and useful life.

The present Chapel is insufficient for accommodating an increasing congregation, and owing to its proximity to the Midland Railway, the services cannot be conducted there with tranquillity and comfort. The Ladies, therefore, seek to raise a fund for the purpose of obtaining a larger and more convenient building; and any contributions towards this object may be forwarded to Mrs. SQUIRE, Lady President, or to any member of the Committee of Ladies.
