

REVISED LIST
OF
W. STEWART & CO.'S
Publications.

Large cr. 8vo, cloth, gold and silver lettered, price 3s., by post
3s. 3d.,

ROSES AND RUE;

BEING RANDOM NOTES AND SKETCHES.

By SALADIN.

"A collection of clever essays.....They have originality, freshness, impudent daring, and a total want of reverence. Mr. Ross made a hit with his 'Lays of Romance and Chivalry,' and this volume, which he does not dignify by presenting under a bolder description than 'random notes and sketches,' is marked by the same dash and vigour as the 'Lays.' On the whole, the essays breathe a healthy spirit, and the girding at humbug and hypocrisy are not unwelcome. It is not a book to send to a country vicarage and such like homes of intellectual serenity; but it has enough cleverness and 'go' to make it acceptable to minds jaded by commonplace orthodoxy."—Evening News.

"The author is a man of intense moral earnestness, and he offers to his readers not opinions, but convictions; not such thoughts as lightly come and lightly go, but conclusions: arrived at by the severest processes of heart and head. The essays seem written in his heart's blood, and, while we reject many of his theological views, we cannot but admire his transparent honesty, his high moral attitude, his chivalrous courtesy, and his trenchant yet felicitous literary style. The volume is at once instructive, entertaining, and stimulating."—Brighouse Gazette.

"These notes and sketches are intensely interesting. It is not easy to say which of the three-dozen papers is most entertaining, and none is bald or tame. Keen humour runs through them. Whether in soap, warts, sentiment, scandal, whisky, or witchcraft, he is brilliantly attractive. He gives us much useful information, told in a charming way. We heartily recommend the well-got-up volume to those who wish to be entertained as well as instructed."—Perthshire Advertiser.

"'Roses and Rue' is the pretty title of a collection of essays not quite suitable to searchers after prettiness. The author, Mr. W. Stewart Ross, better known, perhaps, as Saladin, has a facile pen, a quick fancy, and a daring wit. Sometimes he rises into a vein of lofty thought; but, for the most part, these essays are satirico-comic, with the former flavour largely predominating."—Inquirer.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Recently issued, cr. 8vo, 224 pp., rough edges, gilt top, price
2s. 6d., post free 2s. 9d.,

JANET SMITH :

A PROMISCUOUS ESSAY ON WOMAN.

By W. STEWART ROSS.

"Mr. Stewart Ross' 'Janet Smith' is not a story, but a 'promiscuous essay,' and the critic who casually opens it merely gnashes his teeth. The critic who reads a few pages in the middle at once turns back to the beginning of the book, and, come friend come foe, perseveres to the end. He still frequently gnashes his teeth ; but he laughs often, and, although his path is unduly thick with thorns, he plucks roses most desirable. Mr. Stewart Ross is sometimes fearfully and wonderfully mad ; but he is a clever man, and not seldom he has moments of genius."—Literary World.

"W. Stewart Ross has achieved a reputation as the wielder of a facile pen, the possessor of a brilliant fancy, and a daring wit. He revels in tilting at humbugs, in unmasking the shams of modern life. He has a happy vein of satirical humour, and he is never dull....The 'proem' on a mother's love is in the author's best style, full of tenderness and pathos, and through his merciless unveiling of feminine shortcomings peeps ever and anon the intense love of home which covers a multitude of his satirical sins against the 'Janet' who is at once man's delight, desire, and despair."—The Star.

"Credit is due to his unfailing honesty and his vigorous literary style. Much in the book is worthy of serious thought and attention on the part of political economists and social reformers."—Aberdeen Journal.

"The author.....has audacity which makes him say what he desires without the slightest attention to conventionalities. When an author writes cleverly and smartly he is entitled to some praise from those who think dullness is the last and worst infirmity of an author.....We give to Mr. Stewart Ross the praise due to a smart writer."—Perthshire Advertiser.

"Mr. Stewart Ross includes a review which observes, 'this is not a book to send to a country parsonage,' and this quite expresses our view of 'Janet Smith.' It is clever ; it is often more than plain-spoken ; it is written by one who is both poet and dreamer."—Glasgow Herald.

"A most provoking book. Some parts of it are so good, others are so reckless, that one scarcely knows what to say about it..... Taking it altogether, it is quite an uncivil book."—Brighton Herald.

"Bold, daring, and clever. The reader cannot but admire the keen satire and irreverent iconoclasm.....Will hold the reader amused and entertained from the first chapter to the last."—Portsmouth Times.

"A vigorous attack on some of the shams of the day."—Light.

London : W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Recently issued, in neat wrapper, price 1s., by post 1s. 1d.,

THE BIBLE'S OWN ACCOUNT OF ITSELF.

BEING A CONCISE EXPOSITION OF THE CHRISTIAN THEOSOPHY.

By EDWARD MAITLAND,

Author of "The Pilgrim and the Shrine," "The Keys of the Creeds," etc., and Joint Writer with Dr. Anna Kingsford of "The Perfect Way," etc.

"Ingenious in thought and well-written."—Religio-Philosophical Journal.

Cr. 8vo, 96 pp., cloth, gilt lettered, red edged, on superior paper, price 2s., post free 2s. 2d.,

Isaure & Other Poems.

By W. STEWART ROSS (SALADIN).

Mr. Stewart Ross has the fervour of a true and natural lyricist. This quality is exhibited to advantage in some of his smaller pieces, such as the Ode to Burns and the poem entitled "The Declaration of Sanquhar."—Scotsman.

Mr. Stewart Ross, as we before have had occasion to say..... has decided poetic ability, and his muse seems to inspire him with a certain fantastic and weird imagery which may remind his American readers of Edgar Allen Poe—not in its rhythm or subjects, but in its passionate utterances and romantic exaggeration.—The Open Court (Chicago).

"Isaure" is pathetically and touchingly told; a story of intense passion, in the telling of which the author at times rises beyond himself and shows us of what he is capable.—Wakefield Herald.

The whole twenty-one poems are cultured, fresh, fragrant, thoughtful..... Every verse reveals the thinker, observer, reformer..... Every page glows with passion and throbs with life.—Oldham Chronicle.

The soul of a true poet.... Often attains the lilt of the genuine music.—Gerald Massey.

Price 2s. post free, elegantly printed in colours,

SONGS BY THE WAYSIDE OF AN AGNOSTIC'S LIFE.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Now Ready, People's Edition, unabridged, with two new Poems added, price 1s., post free 1s. 2d., or cloth, gilt lettered, 2s., by post 2s. 2d.,

LAYS OF ROMANCE & CHIVALRY.

By W. STEWART ROSS (SALADIN).

"Lays of Romance and Chivalry" may now be had for one shilling. The "Lays" remind us of Walter Scott at his best, and years ago they secured for their author a place among the genuine singers of the nineteenth century.—OLDHAM CHRONICLE.

Some of these effusions are of a very remarkable character, and indicate that Mr. Ross has a genuine vein of poetic inspiration.—DAILY TELEGRAPH.

Mr. Stewart Ross shows great power of dramatic expression. . . . . The work will be welcomed by all who can appreciate poetic energy applied to the interesting and thrilling incidents of the earlier and more romantic periods of history.—ABERDEEN JOURNAL.

Many of the poems are characterised by a spirit and ringing martial vigour that stirs the blood.—DAILY CHRONICLE.

A book of romantic, historic verse, aglow in every page with the energy of a true and high poetic genius.—GLASGOW WEEKLY MAIL.

The poems contain many fine thoughts, expressed in powerful language.—NEWCASTLE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

The author gives ample proof of his varied talents, and has no small share of the minstrel's magic power.—ABERDEEN FREE PRESS.

There is much that is excellent in the work. . . . Mr. Ross is apparently a scholar, and might make a success in some other walk in literature.—LIVERPOOL DAILY POST.

Mr. Stewart Ross is not only a poet, he is a scholar and a thinker.—SOUTH LONDON PRESS.

The "Lays" are of great poetic merit.—WAKEFIELD FREE PRESS.

We have no hesitation, indeed, in saying that there is a true poet's fervour, a genuine originality of manner, and much fineness and richness of expression in these productions.—NEWCASTLE DAILY JOURNAL.

As to the success with which Mr. Stewart Ross has hit on the salient points of the various incidents there can be no two opinions; while there is an easy, bold swing in most of the poems which will certainly help to make them popular.—BRIGHTON HERALD.

---

Price 1d., post free 1½d.,

The Gospels Critically Examined.—I.

THE BIRTH OF JESUS.

By AGNOSCO AND GIAOUR.

---

Price Sixpence, post free Sevenpence,

THE PILLARS OF THE CHURCH OR, THE GOSPELS AND COUNCILS.

By JULIAN.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

NEW EDITION.

380 pp, cloth, gold lettered, price 3s., free by post for 3s. 3d.,

GOD AND HIS BOOK.

By SALADIN.

"You have earned the thanks of all who really think. You have hastened the coming of that day when there will be found in the world's creed this at least:—Happiness is the only good. The time to be happy is now. The place to be happy is here. The way to be happy is to try to make others so. And, when that day comes, those who by thought or deed have added to the sum of human joy will be the saints, and on that calendar will be found your name."
—R. G. Ingersoll.

"I have dwelt upon its vast research, its sound criticism, its caustic humour, its sledge-hammer vehemence, its scathing satire, its occasional pathos, and its bursts of eloquence. As a work of art, it manifests true genius of a very high order, is never dull, is often stirring as a trumpet, or the flourish of a red flag in a Spanish arena; and I say it advisedly that never book has issued from the press so calculated to strike at the foundation of that idol temple miscalled the Church of God."—Julian.

"'God and His Book' is the heaviest iconoclastic broadside that has been fired at the Jewish God and the Bible by any modern Freethinker. Christians may get angry at it; but their system of religion cannot escape conviction under the powerful indictment drawn by Saladin."—Truthseeker, New York.

"The only gentleman of real genius the Secularists ever had was W. Stewart Ross (Saladin), a true poet, a man of fine sympathies, a slashing and brilliant writer."—Rev. Z. B. Woffendale, in "Light of the World."

"There is not a dull page from beginning to end. There are gems from the byeways of recondite erudition and slag from the newspapers of yesterday—all, by the touch of literary magic, welded into a mass of forcible but eccentric illustration, tearful pathos, sublime poetry, soaring eloquence, and sardonic laughter."—"A University Man" (see S. R., Feb. 5th, 1887).

"It will be admitted by all impartial critics that Saladin has done his work well. To many his fierce and relentless advocacy may cause grievous pain..... Yet even the most sensitive critic will concede that the impeachment is the work of a scholar and thinker, who is intensely in earnest, if deplorably wrong."—The Literary Guide.

"The author is a scholar, a dialectician, a thinker, a poet of high order..... His honesty is transparent on every page..... Saladin is a unique figure in the theological battlefield, and the figure is as picturesque as it is unique."—Oldham Chronicle.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Crown 8vo, cloth, gilt lettered, Vol. I., 260 pp., price 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 9d.; and Vol. II., 268 pp., price 2s. 6d.,
post free 2s. 9d.,

WOMAN:

HER GLORY, HER SHAME, AND HER GOD.

By SALADIN.

"The motto on the title-page of this volume is from the Rev. Archdeacon Farrar, and is in these words: 'It [Christianity] elevated the woman; it shrouded as with a halo of sacred innocence the tender years of the child.' The object of Saladin's book appears to be to refute the assertion of Archdeacon Farrar's opinion of what Christianity has done for woman; and this object has been carried out in the most thorough, exhaustive, and plainest manner possible. Everything relating to woman, from her first appearance in the Garden of Eden, down through all her subsequent history—Biblically, religiously, socially, morally, domestically, etc.—is given with great minuteness, and her 'glory and shame' dwelt upon most elaborately. It is a book that many Christians would be frightened to read, and yet the author gives copious proofs from the Bible and from history for the correctness of all he says in regard to woman."—Boston Investigator.

"This certainly is one of the most marvellous books ever issued from the press. The conception is novel and unique, the reading it has required must have been gargantuan, the authorities cited are unquestionable, the style is 'ever fresh and ever new,' and the result convincing."—Julian.

"These neatly-got-up half-crown volumes are sure to be the most popular of all Saladin's writings. They appeared in weekly instalments in the Secular Review, which is the ablest, strongest, and most cultured of all the Secular periodical literature. When the articles on 'Woman: Her Glory, Her Shame, and Her God,' appeared, it was generally known that Saladin would issue them in a more permanent form, for he clearly had braced himself up for a great effort. The work is a heavy onslaught on Christianity. Saladin does not spare the Church, nor Christian ministers; but, then, he assails them not with the fierce vindictiveness of the wolf, but with the majestic heroism of the lion. He is not a mere smasher, like so many who write Secularism; he is a soldier, and will only use fair weapons, recognised by the army of literary belligerents. Every line seems to bristle with a fact, or marshals an argument, or burns with righteous indignation. One cannot but grieve to see such extraordinary talent defending propositions which our best men cannot endorse."—Oldham Chronicle.

New Edition, price 1s., by post 1s. 1d.,

THE CONFESSIONAL:

ROMISH AND ANGLICAN. An Exposure.

By SALADIN.

CONTENTS:—Introduction—Licentiousness of the Pre-Reformation Church—Lechery of the Confessional—Ritualism: "The Priest in Absolution"—The Anglican Confessional—Ineffectual Efforts to Suppress Reforming Tendencies in the Anglican Church—Confessions of an Escaped Nun—Extracts from Dens and Liguori—Examination of the Church's Claim to have Fostered Learning: Her Attempts at Continency even more Ruinous than her Self-indulgence—The Relative Criminal Statistics of Catholicism and Protestantism.—Appendix

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

112 pp., price 1s. 6d., post free 1s. 8d.,

Why I am an Agnostic.

BEING

A MANUAL OF AGNOSTICISM.

By SALADIN AND JOSEPH TAYLOR.

(Dedicated to Samuel Laing.)

Our Objects and Method—Agnosticism the Spirit of the Age—
Special Misconceptions and Misrepresentations of Agnosticism—
General Misconceptions and Misrepresentations of Agnosticism—
The Affirmation of the Absolute: the Negation of the Individual.

\* The most clear, simple, and succinct exposition and defence of Agnosticism ever published.*

---

64 pp., in wrapper, price 6d., post free, 7d.,

“SEXUAL ECONOMY,”

AS TAUGHT BY CHARLES BRADLAUGH.

By PETER AGATE, M.D. (and Addendum by SALADIN)

CONTENTS: Introduction—The Two B.'s and “The Elements”—Bradlaugh's Quarrel with Joseph Barker—Sexual Religion—The Neo-Malthusian Doctrine of Marriage—Palæo-Secular Views of Social Evils—Palæo-Secular Medicine—
The Palæo-Secularist Malthusians—Palæo-Secularist Society—Addendum, by Saladin.

---

Crown 8vo., handsomely bound, gilt lettered, gilt edges and vignette title page, price 2s., post free,

MOODS AND MEMORIES,

BEING MISCELLANEOUS POEMS

By THE LATE WILLIAM MACCALL.

\* “The latest literary expression of another son of Genius and Misfortune.”*

London: W Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

MISCELLANEOUS PAMPHLETS.

BY SALADIN.

A VISIT TO MR. SPURGEON'S TABERNACLE. Full Account of the "Dipping," etc. With Portrait. Price id., post free 1½d.

A VISIT TO THE GRAVE OF THOMAS CARLYLE. (With Portrait.) Price id., post free 1½d.

ROBERT BURNS: WAS HE A FREETHINKER? (With Portrait.) Appendix:—The Prize Poem in Connection with the Dumfries Statue to Burns. Price id., post free 1½d.

HELL: WHERE IS IT? Bitterly sarcastic, and yet grave and erudite brochure. Price id., post free 1½d.

BEETLES AND BATHERS; COFFINS AND CANTRIPS. Price id., post free 1½d.

CONCERNING THE DEVIL. Price id., post free 1½d.

A FEARFUL FLOGGING. Price 3d., post free 4d.

THE AGONIES OF HANGING. Price 3d., post free 4d.

The above, in one vol., cloth, gold lettered, price 1s. 6d., post free 1s. 8d.

---

"A COMPLETE DIGEST OF SCIENCE."

The Dynamic Theory of Life and Mind :

An Attempt to Show that all Organic Beings are both Constructed and Operated by the Dynamic Agencies of their Respective Environment.

By JAMES B. ALEXANDER.

Over 400 Illustrations. 87 Chapters, 1,067 Pages, and a 3-col. Index of 11 Pages. Price 12s., by post 12s. 6d.

---

New Edition, 64 pp., in wrapper, price 6d., post free 7d.,

DID JESUS CHRIST RISE FROM THE DEAD ?

The Evidences for the Resurrection Tried and Found Wanting.

By SALADIN.

"One of the best essays ever written on the subject."—TRUTHSEEKER.

London : W. Stewart & Co, 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

HISTORICAL PAMPHLETS.

BY SALADIN.

THE DIVINE INTERPRETATION OF SCRIPTURE. A Reply to Cardinal Manning. New Edition, 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE CRUSADES. 16 pp., with Illustration, price 1d., post free 1½d.

CHRISTIAN PERSECUTION. 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE FLAGELLANTS. In neat wrapper, price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE ICONOCLASTS. In neat wrapper, price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE COVENANTERS. In neat wrapper, price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE INQUISITION. Part I., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE INQUISITION. Part II., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE DANCERS, SHAKERS, AND JUMPERS. Part I., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE DANCERS, SHAKERS, AND JUMPERS. Part II., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE PERSECUTION OF THE JEWS. Part I., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

THE PERSECUTION OF THE JEWS. Part II., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION. A Letter to Cardinal Manning. Part I., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION. A Letter to Cardinal Manning. Part II., 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION. A Letter to Cardinal Manning. Part III., with Addenda, "The Christian Heaven" and "Chivalry." 16 pp., price 1d., post free 1½d.

ST. MUNGO. The Saint who Founded Glasgow. Price 3d., post free 4d.

Or in one vol., handsomely bound in cloth, gilt lettered, 2s., post free 2s. 2d.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

96 pp., in pictorial wrapper, price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.,
CHRISTIANITY AND THE SLAVE TRADE.

BY SALADIN.

"An idea of the nature of the work may be gained by imagining a condensation of all the well-known and other facts upon this subject, with the additions of such comments as only Saladin can make."—Truthseeker, New York.

---

MAJOR F—I MAJOR F—I

In pictorial wrapper, price 3d., by post 3½d.,

THE AGONIES OF HANGING.

BY ONE WHO WAS CUT DOWN FROM THE GALLOWS.

Printed from MSS. in the hands of SALADIN.

"This is the first instalment of a work which promises to be one of the most wonderful efforts of Saladin's wonderful pen. It is vivacious, yet awful; witty, yet blood-curdling; bantering, yet stern. One cannot, as yet, see its purport, though every line makes us feel that there is deep meaning in it throughout."—Oldham Chronicle.

---

In pictorial wrapper, price 3d., by post 3½d.,

A FEARFUL FLOGGING.

BY ONE WHO ENDURED IT.

Printed from MSS. in the hands of SALADIN.

"In a previous issue we noticed Saladin's 'Agonies of Hanging,' an uncommonly weird and truly extraordinary emanation of human mentality. 'A Fearful Flogging' is a sequential brochure, and, from a literary and artistic point of view, is a most grotesque performance. It is inimitably clever, and is decidedly humorous. He would be a pulseless man indeed who could read the account of the 'flogging' without being continuously provoked to boisterous laughter. Every line irritates even the dullard, and, except it be the prude, no one can reasonably object to Saladin's, at times, dangerously indelicate insinuations. Mr. W. Stewart Ross has proved himself a born wit, and his ever-increasing constituency should welcome this brilliant addition to his writings."—Watts's Literary Guide.

---

Bound strongly in cloth gilt, lettered, price 1s. 6d., post free 1s. 8d.,

HYLO-IDEALISTIC PHILOSOPHY.

BY WILLIAM BELL McTAGGART.

(Late Captain 14th Hussars.)

This volume should be read by all interested in the problems of philosophy; for the highest advances of modern thought are here laid bare of their inmost recess, and in a style and diction that he who runs may read.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Price 10s. 6d., post free,
OUTLINES OF
MENTAL PHILOSOPHY.

By J. D. MORELL, M.A., LL.D.

---

Price 12s. 6d., post free,
A MANUAL OF THE
HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY.
FROM THE EARLIEST PERIOD TO THE PRESENT TIME.
By J. D. MORELL, M.A., LL.D

---

Cr. 8vo, bevelled boards, red edges, published at 4s. 6d., reduced to 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 9d.,

PHILOSOPHICAL FRAGMENTS.

Written during Intervals of Business.

By J. D. MORELL, LL.D.

---

In cloth, gilt lettered, price 2s.,
THE RELIGION OF THE FUTURE.

By EDWARD VON HARTMANN.

Translated from the German by ERNEST DARE.

---

New Edition, crown 8vo, cloth, gold lettered, price 1s.,
post free 1s. 1½d.,

LIFE AND MIND :
ON THE BASIS OF MODERN MEDICINE.

By THE LATE ROBERT LEWINS, M.D.

With Biographical Sketch of Dr. Lewins, by SALADIN.

---

Price 6d., post free 7d.,

AUTO-CENTRICISM ;
OR, THE BRAIN THEORY OF LIFE AND MIND-

Being the Substance of Letters written to the Secular Review
(1883-4).

By THE LATE ROBERT LEWINS, M.D.

EDITED BY HERBERT L. COURTNEY.

London : W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Cr. 4to, cloth, gilt lettered, price 7s. 6d. post free,

ABSOLUTERE RELATIVISM ;

OR,

THE ABSOLUTE IN RELATION.

By WILLIAM BELL McTAGGART.

This work consists of a Prolegomena which is a vidimus of the entire field of Mental Science, and of an exhaustive chapter on Materialism and another on Idealism, setting forth a compendious and exhaustive exposition of the two great primary schools into which philosophical thought is divided.

We regard the work as an able and valuable contribution to the philosophic discussion of the day.—The Open Court (Chicago).

---

OUTLINES OF RATIONALISTIC PHILOSOPHY.

Neatly bound in cloth, price 1s. 6d., by post 1s. 8d.,

FREETHINKING & FREE INQUIRY.

By AGNOSCO.

Contents :—Freethought : What is It?—Freethought in Science—Freethought in Politics—Freethought in Religion—Rationalism as a Philosophy—The Scope of Rationalism—Education—Summary.

---

Cr. 8vo, price 6d., by post 7d.,

SCIENCE AND RELIGION.

CALVIN AND SERVETUS.

A SKETCH OF REFORMATION TIMES.

By LEX NATURÆ.

---

Crown 8vo, 64 pp., in wrapper, price 6d., by post 7d.,

CHRISTIANISM AND NATURAL RELIGION.

By THE LATE ROBERT A. RIDDELL, M.A.

London : W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

EVERY THURSDAY.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

THE AGNOSTIC JOURNAL

AND ECLECTIC REVIEW.

EDITED BY

SALADIN.

*.* Under name and pen-name, some of the most scholarly and able writers of the age contribute regularly to THE AGNOSTIC JOURNAL; and, although the Editorial policy is opposed to the popular and dominant faith, the columns of the journal are ever open to articles in defence of Christianity from clergymen or lay Christians of recognised ability, while considerable space is devoted to the investigation of Theosophy, Spiritualism, Mysticism, etc.

THE AGNOSTIC JOURNAL can be had free by post on the following terms:—Quarterly, 2s. 8½d.; half-yearly, 5s. 5d.; yearly, 10s. 10d. Orders should be given to local newsagents; but where this is impracticable they should be sent direct to the Publishing Office.

---

In wrapper, with newly-engraved portrait of BRUNO.

Crown 8vo, 64 pp., price 6d., by post 7d.,

Life of Giordano Bruno.

By F. J. GOULD,

Author of "Stepping-Stones to Agnosticism," etc.

---

Price 1s., post free 1s. 1d., packed safely in mill-board,

LIFE-LIKE PHOTOGRAPHIC

PORTRAIT OF SALADIN.

(CABINET SIZE.)

By the London Stereoscopic and Photographic Company.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Just ready, crown 8vo, 64 pp., in wrapper, by post 7d.,

THE WHIRLWIND SOWN AND REAPED.

IN THE INSTANCE OF THE REV. WILLIAM BYRES.

A NOVELETTE.

BY SALADIN.

"Be sure thy sins will find thee out."

"A strong, realistic story by an able and scholarly writer."—Religio-Philosophical Journal.

"Written in Saladin's weirdly energetic style, with streaks of grim humour thrown in."—Truthseeker.

"A short story of clerical crime and villainy founded on fact. The story is told in Saladin's characteristic way, and is as thrilling as a drama."—Boston Investigator.

"Saladin is, undoubtedly, one of the best authors of his kind, and his novel will command the same, or more, interest than Helen Gardener's story, 'Is this your Son, my Lord?'"—Open Court (Chicago).

---

Price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.,

WHAT IS RELIGION? A VINDICATION OF FREETHOUGHT.

BY CONSTANCE NADEN.

ANNOTATED BY THE LATE DR. LEWINS.

---

Paper covers 6d. ; superior Edition, cloth, lettered, 1s. 6d.,

NOTES ON NORWAY AND PLACES ELSEWHERE.

By W. B. McTAGGART, late Captain 14th Hussars.

---

Price 2s., post free 2s. 3d.,

MAGIC AND MYSTERY.

ALL ABOUT THE SECRET AND WONDERFUL.

By ALFRED THOMPSON.

Ghosts, Spiritualism, Palmistry—Ether, Astrology, Mesmerism—Table Turning, Dreams, Faith Healing, Second Sight, Etc.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

Recently Issued, price 3d., post free 3½d.,

ST. MUNGO:

BEING THE

Life and Adventures of the Son of a Virgin.

By SALADIN.

---

Price 6d., by post 7½d.,

The Agnostic Annual for 1896.

Balfour's "Foundations of Belief": An Agnostic Rejoinder. By
S. Laing.

Agnosticism and its Equivalents. By Amos Waters.

The Man, Christ Jesus: The Germ of the Christian Myth. By J. Allanson Picton.

Psyche: A Poem. By W. Stewart Ross (Saladin).

Mind as Controlled by Matter. By Constance E. Plumptre.

The Faiths of Our Forefathers. By Charles Watts.

An Agnostic View of Theism and Monism. By R. Bithell, B.Sc.,
Ph.D.

The Old Testament Library. By F. J. Gould.

Immortality. By W. A. Leonard.

The Physiological Bias of Religious Leaders. By Furneaux
Jordan, F.R.S.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

---

TO AUTHORS.

W. STEWART & CO., 41, FARRINGTON STREET, LONDON, E.C., are prepared to negotiate with Authors for the publication of their MSS.

MSS. lacking in literary accuracy and finish prepared for the Press by experienced writers at moderate charges.

Just Issued, uniform with "Janet Smith," price 2s. 6d., or 2s. 9d.,
post free,

The Bottomless Pit.

A Discursive Treatise on Eternal Torment.

BY W. STEWART ROSS (SALADIN).

"The orthodox will have no difficulty in believing that Mr. Stewart Ross is, in the mediæval sense, a man 'possessed' of his subject. He is terribly in earnest; and against the austere mood of the knight-errant, whose self-appointed mission is to hunt 'Auld Hornie' off the face of the earth, his undoubted humour stands out the more grimly."—Scotsman.

"Our popular faith, with its hells, has hurled millions of the best of us into mad-houses, and it has never built lunatic asylums to hold a tithe of the maniacs it has made.' This is a tremendous indictment. Unhappily, it is not altogether untrue. If we might judge from this book, Mr. Stewart Ross himself has not altogether escaped from the disturbing effects. It has roused in him not submission, but revolt, and revolt of the bitterest kind. Amid his wild and whirling words one can recognise the qualities of a fine mind and a fervent spirit. The pity of it is that the horrific side of religion should have passed over such a spirit and left it seared."—Brighton Herald.

"In a succession of chapters made up of whirlwind, earthquake, and fire, Saladin here sets forth his hatred of the mediæval doctrine of hell, the appreciation of the devil, which he appears to share with his compatriot Burns, and his contempt for orthodoxy and its teachers. In so far as the horrible notions he here stigmatises still survive in Christendom, we sympathise with him in his crusade."—The Literary World.

"This volume is charged with an explosive energy of thought suggestive of a kind of intellectual dynamite. No one acquainted with the writings of Saladin will be astonished by the vigour which is here displayed, nor by the grim humour that never forsakes him. His courage is altogether undismayed by any fear, whether of the present or of the future; and he pursues his iconoclastic, mocking way without the least regard for the susceptibilities of the men and women whose most cherished beliefs it is his business to assail."—Dumfries Standard.

"That brilliant writer, Mr. Stewart Ross, scored a success with his witty satire, 'Janet Smith;' but this, his latest effusion, is in a more caustic vein. He inveighs, with intense earnestness, against the humbug and wickedness of conventional religion."—Portsmouth Times.

"He is a writer of power, and has an excellent subject."—Inquirer.

London: W. Stewart & Co., 41, Farringdon Street, E.C.

* * * In preparing these Letters for the press, the writer has endeavoured to speak with perfect freedom, and yet to avoid hurting the feelings of those to whom free speaking on these subjects is strange.

Crown 8vo, cloth, gold lettered, price 2s. 6d.; by post, 2s. 9d.,

LAY RELIGION.

BEING SOME

*OUTSPOKEN LETTERS TO A LADY ON THE
PRESENT RELIGIOUS SITUATION.*

By RICHARD HARTE.

“Presents a readable account of opinions that appear to be widely current at present among thinking people.”—Scotsman.

“The letters are written in a bright, lively, and chatty manner.”—Aberdeen Journal.

Crown 8vo, cloth, gold lettered, price 2s. 6d.; by post, 2s. 9d.,

THE NEW THEOLOGY.

BEING SOME

*OUTSPOKEN LETTERS TO A LADY ON THE
PRESENT RELIGIOUS SITUATION.*

By RICHARD HARTE.

“Must help many to think again—and to think seriously—of dogmas conventionally accepted.”—Inquirer.

“The letters are generally suggestive, and will be read with interest by laymen who like to think for themselves on matters of religion.”—Scotsman.

“Despite its avowedly colloquial and epistolary form, Mr. Harte's book must prove of notable interest and value to all lingerers in the quagmires of orthodoxy and materialism.”—The Agnostic Journal.

LONDON: W. STEWART & CO., 41 FARRINGTON ST., E.C.

TO AUTHORS.

W. STEWART & CO., 41 FARRINGTON STREET, LONDON, E.C., are prepared to negotiate with Authors for the publication of their MSS.

MSS. lacking in literary accuracy and finish prepared for the Press by experienced writers at moderate charges.