Judiciary Prepares For Appeals

An oath of office taken by five students reinstated the student Supreme Court which has been dormant more than a semester.

The oath of office was administered by Harold Nolte, president of Student Government, to Billy Richardson, Debra Kuhnle, and Sam Wheat, sophomores, and

M. Kathryn Newburey and Paul Grazier, freshmen.

The Supreme Court will function as the highest student judicial organization on campus. The Court and the Director of Student Activities Don Bynum will determine the original and appellate jurisdiction of the Court. This usually includes appeals for traffic fines and interpretation of the constitution of Student Government.

The court lapsed last fall when the Student Government "just failed to get one appointed," Bynum said. No traffic appeals were submitted during that term.

All appeals presented to the Student Court must be in writing. These cases would take the approval of three members of the Court before a final judgement is reached on any appeal.

The judgement reached by the Court will be printed in the student bulletin after each meeting. Details of cases will, however, be withheld from the bulletin. The records of cases and their judgements will be kept in permanent locked files in the office of Student Activities. These records are open to inspection with the permission of the director and chief justice of the court.

Actions taken on appeals accepted by the court will be sent to Dean of Student Services Joyce O'Rear for final approval.

The court will meet at least twice each month during regular semesters or as often as necessary to complete the student business before the Court. A notice of meetings will be published in the student bulletin in advance when possible and all meeting are open to students, faculty and administration unless otherwise designated by the Court.

Members of the Court will serve for one year beginning when they have been appointed and approved and ending when a successor has been chosen.

The president of Student Government will also appoint a clerk to take minutes of the proceedings and to prepare copies of appeal cases for each member of the court and advisor.

The chief justice will be chosen from among one of the members by secret ballot. The court members will also choose an advisor from either the faculty or administration. The advisor will serve without a vote, but must be familiar with Constitution and Bylaws of the Student Government. Other officials may be appointed as the need arises to insure the efficient operation of the court.

Excursion To Houston Planned For Students

The art students plan to leave on a field trip to Houston at 8 a.m. March 13.

They will visit the Houston Museum of Fine Arts, the Contemporary Arts Museum, the Rothko Chapel, various Houston art galleries, Rice University and University of St. Thomas.

Students participating will provide their own transportation and lodging. John Chatmas, art coordinator, and Barney Fitzpatrick, art instructor, will serve as guides and provide information to the students.

Members of the Art Department began an art club two weeks ago.

The club has started a project to present a painting to the college.

The painting will be a group project with each member painting a triangle on poster board. The triangles will be composed into a picture on canvas. The painting will be enlarged to a 4 ft. by 6 ft. canvas.

The Art Club meets 10 a.m. Wednesdays in the Fine Arts building.

GOT ANOTHER ONE—John McAnelly, job placement director, just found a job for a student, in spite of declining employment opportunities.

Economy Affects Jobs

Recent economic conditions have caused numerous lay-offs in the job market, and many MCC students are among them.

During the month of January, 58 students sought full or part-time work through MCC's Student Placement Center. John McAnelly, placement director, said that 25 percent of those 58 students were seeking jobs because they had recently been laid off.

Unemployment for the Waco area during the month of January was 5.8, an increase of 1.3 over last January, and a 1.5 increase over December, according to McAnelly.

"The February statistics may show a more favorable trend," said McAnelly. "It appears that the part-time job market has improved during the month of February."

The reasons for the present state of the economy is the reduction of retail sales, which in turn causes the reduction in manufacturing and transportation in industries. Waco's industries have not escaped these reductions, and therefore have had to resort to lay-offs.

"One reason students are having trouble finding part-time jobs is the jobs are being taken by people who have been laid off from full-time jobs," said McAnelly. "These people take part-time work until they can find another full-time job."

"Students are not generally as flexible when it comes to their work schedule because of classes they attend," said McAnelly.

The Student Placement Center is available to help place students in jobs off campus as well as on. Of the 58 students seeking jobs in January, 15 were employed on campus and eight off campus.

Persons seeking employment only need to fill out an application and bring it to the center. Employers will be contacted and the student referred for an interview. Of the 12 students referred to off campus jobs in January, eight were employed. Twenty job offers were received in the placement office the same month.

"Any student interested in student placement is welcome to come by," said McAnelly.

Recreational Facilities Available To Students

A games area of the Student Center opens today offering pool, foosball, ping pong and other entertainment items to students. The lounge area and Student Activities office opened Monday in the new addition to the center.

The games area will also function as a lost and found, and an information center for the college.

Complete use of the new three story complex will come as furniture for offices arrives and Financial Aid, Veterans Affairs Placement and Student Government move from the first and second floors of the present center to the third floor of the annex.

Meeting rooms, Highlander, Tartan, and club project rooms will be located on the third floor.

Use of the building had been delayed while the contractor corrected stairways and concrete work.

Students, faculty, staff, and administrators have priority use of the games area facilities.

Players are responsible for any negligent damage to the games area equipment and property and the cost of the damage will be charged to the player or players using it at the time the damage occurs.

Only drinks will be allowed in the annex. No food or drink is allowed in the games area.

The games area fees are 60 cents an hour for billiards and table tennis; foosball 25 cents a game; cards, pinocchio cards, dominoes, chess, checkers, Chinese checkers and monopoly free with student

ID. There will also be friebons for outside use.

The following policies will be enforced in the games area:

No gambling or swearing will be allowed.

No sitting, no cigarettes, and no drinks permitted on billiard, ping pong, and foosball tables.

Persons shall refrain from hitting tables, furniture, walls, etc., with ping pong paddles, cues, and balls and from flipping coins on the billiard table cloth.

For Billiards—One foot on floor, no curve, monkey, or jump shots.

For Foosball—the table should not be shifted or picked up to move a stuck ball.

Billiard tables, foosball (if applicable), and ping pong equipment may be checked-out for a maximum time of one hour when there is a waiting list for using the equipment.

For games in which there is no fee charged (chess, checkers, dominoes, cards, etc.) the equipment may be checked out for a maximum of four hours or Games Counter closing time, whichever comes first.

A daily late check in fine will be charged for all games which are held until the next day or longer.

MCC students, faculty, staff, and administrators may check-out games equipment for use in the Student Center from the Games Counter by presenting and leaving their own MCC ID cards.

Guests of the above or College may check-out equipment when available by presenting and leaving their own drivers license.

Politicians Not Very Good Actors

By Louis Haak

The political race of '76 is starting to take shape with candidates announcing their intentions of seeking the office of President.

There are people in the United States that are not satisfied with any of the choices they are given from election to election.

"The President should appeal to the best in Americans. He should have the capacity to rally the people around the rock of principle when the going is hard and treacherous," said Sen. Edmund Muskie.

In reviewing the possibilities at hand I find that the '76 presidential election has no such candidate that can unite this country and bring it out of the economic and social problems facing it.

There is a solution to this problem, though it may have been overlooked up until this point. Get the politicians out of office and let the "professional" actors run the country.

Consider, President John Wayne, the name is so much stronger than Gerald Ford. Wayne has a wide variety of talents as demonstrated in his movies. He has fought Indians, oil well fires and the Viet Cong.

Wayne has served with honor in all branches of the armed services. The idea of Wayne swaggering into a press conference and announcing that he will personally lead the Marines into battle in Libya—boggles the imagination.

With his running mate, Bob Hope, the team would be an unbeatable combination at the polls. The world would have a new outlook on the United States with these great men in our country's two most distinguished positions.

With a carefully planned project directed by the State Department for release of Wayne's and Hope's old movies in foreign countries our country's status overseas could be catapulted back to number one.

Bob Hope has been a loyal ambassador to foreign countries with his annual Christmas tours of our armed forces.

Upon taking office, President Wayne should clean house—the White House that is. The first to go should be William E. Colby, the director of the CIA. He should be replaced by Peter Falk (Columbo).

The first conversation between

President Wayne and Columbo might go something like this:

Columbo enters the White House dressed in his dirty raincoat and flashed his police card. "Lieutenant Columbo," he says, showing his card to the President. "Sure is a nice place you have here. How much does a place like this cost?"

"Well come on in here Columbo, partner. I've been hankerin' to see you," says President Wayne.

"Oh, I really apologize," says Columbo, "I didn't mean to drop by so late. Say, is that a real oil painting of George Washington? It's a fantastic work of art—don't get me wrong, I don't know anything about painting."

"Well, you care for a drink?" says the President.

"This is really a great honor, to a member of your cabinet, Mr. President. Wait till I tell my wife. She'll be really bowled over," says Columbo.

"Columbo, we need to circle up the wagons and rustle this country back to being a great nation," says the President.

Other positions might be filled with the following actors: Alan Alda (MASH), surgeon general; George C. Scott, (Patton) secretary of defense; Red Foxx (Fred Sanford), housing and urban development; Mel Brooks (Blazing Saddles), special advisor to the President. Charlton Heston could be named ambassador to Israel.

Marty Feldman could replace Ron Neissen as press secretary. Junior Samples could replace another comedian, Earl Butts, as secretary of agriculture. Carrol O'Connor (Archie Bunker) could take over the office of Health, Education and Welfare.

Henry Kissinger should be retained as secretary of state because during the past two administrations he has proven to be an award winning actor.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

Welcome to MCC, Texas' most beautiful campus. To the right of McLennan Drive one will see the beautiful multi-million dollar Health Physical Education Building. Inside one will find a heated pool, handball courts, a small practice gymnasium, and an undersized gymnasium capable of holding 500 (sic) of MCC's 3000 students.

Of course not close to 3000 students are interested in the games. Only about 2,000 students would ever want to attend Highlander Basketball. And MCC has at least 300 to 500 Wacoans who just enjoy coming to a game. That totals to at least 2,500 interested fans who want to see the Highlanders compete in basketball. Why then does MCC have such a small gymnasium for a team that has won the conference in 1975 and have always been major contender for the title?

Mr. Ray Murray (HPE coordinator) stated that once upon a time MCC was glad just to have it. But times are changing and crowds are forever becoming larger. At the recent Cisco game the crowd was so large that many people were complaining about not being able to see half of the court. Since basketball is played on two halves of a gym then most people missed half of the game. The crowd of 1,000 (sic) wild, excited fans was jammed into the gym so tight that not another person could possibly have squeezed in! Because of this many persons were turned away in disappointment.

What can possibly be done about this? This problem can be completely neglected and a negative attitude be maintained about the possibility of the Highlanders having a team to match the present one. But more than likely MCC will remain a major in the basketball conference. If so will the crowd of over 1,000 be jammed into a gym capable of holding only 500 fans? Maybe a bond election could be held to accommodate enough funds to build a new gymnasium for athletic events only. That idea might be a little expensive. If enough funds are not available to build a new gym then the next solution would be to have the far wall taken out, expand the gym, and have new bleachers placed in it.

Whatever procedure is taken, it needs to be done soon. If this problem is completely neglected, and in two or three years crowds are being smothered in at games one solution remains to be viewed. That is to contact one of Waco's area high schools and make arrangements to have McLennan Community College basketball games played in a gym capable of holding at least 2,000 fans.

Bobby Kacal and Janet Meek

Student government representatives

Editor's note: Athletic Director Jimmy Clayton's figures indicate seating capacity in gymnasium is 900, including portable bleachers.

Make Some Crunchies to Cure Munchies

By Francy Richings

The problem of what to do when the mid-term studying munchies arrive and the money is already gone concerns students across the nation as well as at MCC. Here are some low-cost, easy-to-make recipes for students.

Mike's Granola

Really good granola. We make 18 pounds every two weeks—costs about 70¢ a pound but it's much better than other cereals (tastewise and health-wise).

Preheat oven to 325° F.

- 2 lbs. oats, rolled
- 2 lbs. wheat flakes
- 2 lbs. rye flakes
- 2 lbs. chopped cashews
- 2 lbs. shredded coconut
- 3 lbs. raisins
- 1/2 lb. pumpkin seeds, chopped
- 1 jar wheat germ
- 1 lb. roasted soybeans, chopped
- 1/2 to 1 lb. almonds, chopped
- 2 lbs. sunflower seeds
- corn, soy or safflower oil
- honey
- vanilla

Mix all dry ingredients, then divide into 11-cup portions. For every 11-cup portion, heat 1/2 cup corn, soy, or safflower oil plus 1 cup honey and 2 teaspoons vanilla. When heated, mix with each 11-cup portion. Spread on cookie sheet and bake for about 12 minutes, turning over at least every 5 minutes. spread out to dry.

Yoga Banana Bread

Preheat oven to 350° F.

- 3 cups flour (whole wheat or unbleached white)
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
- 4 bananas
- 1/2 cup yogurt
- 1/2 cup butter, cut in small pieces
- 2 eggs beaten

Mix together dry ingredients. Mash bananas with yogurt, add sugar, butter, and beaten eggs, and blend thoroughly. Add dry ingredients and mix well. Bake in greased pan 1 hour. Makes 1 loaf.

Banana bread is rich in itself, but can be made even more special by making sandwiches with it and one of these fillings: Mix together, 1-6 oz. package cream cheese, 1/2 cup marmalade and 1/2 cup nuts; or mix together 1/2 cup peanut butter with 1/2 cup honey.

Kim's Lasagna

This is one of my very favorite recipes. It makes up one meal to which we are certain to have guests... who "just happen to be in the neighborhood." All of our friends love it. One caution: let the lasagna stand at least 10 minutes before cutting or you may wind up snipping stringy cheese with the scissors (as we did!).

Preheat oven to 375° F.

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1 tablespoon basil
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 2 8-oz. cans tomato paste
- 1/2 cup onion, minced
- enipped fresh parsley or parsley flakes
- 10 oz. lasagna noodles
- 1 lb. mozzarella cheese, sliced thin

Cheese filling:
3 cups creamy cottage cheese
1/2 cup Parmesan, grated
2 tablespoons parsley flakes or fresh parsley
2 beaten eggs
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Brown meat. Add all other ingredients, except cheese filling, to meat. Simmer 1/2 hour, stirring occasionally. Cook lasagna noodles until tender.

Mix cheese filling ingredients well. In large baking dish, put a layer of 1/2 of noodles, 1/2 cheese filling, 1/2 mozzarella, 1/2 meat sauce. Repeat each layer. Bake for 30 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before cutting. Serves 12.

To make a number of meals for one or two people, make the full recipe for twelve and wrap individual servings in aluminum foil and freeze. Thaw and heat while still in foil.

Waffles

When exams start, we make this up in large quantities and refrigerate it... then anyone who gets hungry at odd hours can quickly make a couple of waffles. We got our used waffle iron for practically nothing at Goodwill.

Mix:

- 3 beaten eggs
- 2 cups flour (best if 1 cup is whole-wheat flour)
- 2 tablespoons baking soda
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 tablespoons melted butter
- approximately 1 1/2 cups milk (add gradually until batter is good consistency for pouring onto waffle iron)

Just before cooking, add 1 cup of mashed bananas or one cup of blueberries.

Another way to preserve the batter for a later date is to go ahead and make the waffles, wrap them individually and freeze them. Pop them into the toaster to reheat.

Butterscotch Brownies

Preheat oven to 375° F.

- 2 cups brown sugar
- 1/2 cup oil
- 2 large eggs, beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup whole-wheat flour (plus some extra for nuts and pan)
- 1/2 cup powdered milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 cup soy grits (soaked in 1/2 cup hot water)
- 1/2 cup wheat germ
- 1 cup walnut meats
- 1 oz. (optional)

Combine sugar, oil, and eggs; mix well. Add vanilla. Add sifted flour, milk, salt, baking powder; mix. Add grits, wheat germ, walnut meats dredged in flour (so they won't sink). Bake in greased, floured pan for 25-30 minutes. Let cool 5 minutes before cutting into squares.

For more recipes, there are a number of cookbooks in the library including The College Cookbook from which these recipes were taken.

Addicted Pool Shark Kicks Habit

LUPE DIAZ, business office employee, sees if the old "touch" is still there, after giving up pool five years ago.

By Kathy Voss

Meek, mild-mannered business office employee Lupe Diaz may appear quite passive to those who know him today, but several years ago he was one of Waco's most reputable pool sharks.

Diaz, reared on a farm near the town of Elk, began frequenting the pool halls in Waco when he was 16. He picked up the "touch" rapidly and continued playing during his last high school years. In 1966, he decided to come to MCC.

"I was on work-study at the college, but I was only making $66 a month," said Diaz. He said his parents could give him little financial support and he needed something else to provide him with what every 18-year old male college freshman needs—cash.

After many long hours spent with a cue in his hand, Diaz found that his pool hall years began to pay off—literally.

"I would go into pool rooms and hustle other players," he said. "I'd pretend I didn't know what I was doing, and I'd let them win a few games."

Soon the object of money would pop into the picture and the betting would start out small. Again, Diaz would play the image of a dumb bunny and let his cocky opponent win a few games. As soon as the price was raised high enough, Diaz would release his talent and rake in the dough. He said he played every night of the week, making approximately $200 to $250 a week.

When asked about his hustling, Diaz replied, "I never did do that until I felt sure I could win, and I wouldn't recommend it to anyone just starting out."

He said that this hustling did not last for long, but soon his reputation as a pool shark spread. He began to receive invitations to play other sharks for money.

Diaz continued his pool binge until 1970, when he ran into that institution that makes men do strange and unusual things—marriage. His wife, Gloria, who works in the bookstore, influenced him to terminate his days as a pool shark. Diaz has never played another game of pool since.

Commenting on the hustling aspect, Diaz said, "Sure, it's all tax free, but you can make it and you can lose it just as fast." He added that pool was just as addicting as alcohol in many ways. "You enjoy it while you have it, then when it is over, you find yourself coming back for more and more."

It appears the happy-go-lucky days of billiard balls and smoke-filled pool halls have disappeared for Lupe Diaz. He has sold all his cue sticks and set his chalk aside forever.

BASEBALL

The Highlander baseball team wound up 1-3 in its two doubleheaders against the Bee County Cougars Friday and Saturday in Beeville.

Bee had an early lead of 4-0 in the first game on Friday when Rusty Rogers drove in Drew Perkins in the sixth inning for a first game loss of 4-1.

In the first game of the doubleheader played on Saturday, the Highlanders won 5-3. It was freshman Tommy Scott's first win of the season. Skinner hit two singles for one RBI and Thompson cracked a double for two RBIs. Glenn Jones drilled a single for one run.

In the second game of the day, which Bee won 11-4, the Highlanders edged ahead 1-0 in the first inning. Bee came back to put the works on the Highlander pitching staff and was leading 6-1 after four innings. Skinner knocked down two singles and was good for one RBI. Harris drove in one run with a single.

The two days play brought the Highlanders to 2-4 for the season.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

The Highlander athletic program will have a new team. Rather than wait for directives from the Federal Health, Education, and Welfare Department on the expansion of women's athletic programs, the college has moved to expand its women's athletic program by entering a women's basketball team in intercollegiate competition in the fall of 1975.

The new team will play in the same conference as existing men's and women's teams, the Northern Texas Junior College Athletic Conference (NTJAC) and Region V of the National Junior College Athletic Association. It will progress through conference, regional and national levels of competition.

The college already has a women's Scots-n-Water Canoe Club received $20 toward its trip down the Guadalupe River starting at Kerrville.

The Student Government will have 15 members attending the Texas Junior College Student Government Convention to be held in Houston March 13 to 15.

tennis team that is currently defending champion of the NTJAC title.

"We hope to hire a qualified basketball coach and physical education instructor within six weeks, and recruitment of team members can begin quickly afterward," said Athletic Director Jimmy Clayton.

"I expect the college to be able to field a competitive team from the beginning because of the strong women's basketball situation in the Central Texas area. Try-outs for the team will be held here and scholarships will be offered."

TENNIS

The women's tennis team lost to the Baylor women's team on Tuesday afternoon on the home courts.

Elaine Kocian was the only winner in singles competition 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 with Lisa Lockridge, Becky Carpenter, and Phyllis Golden losing their sets.

The doubles team of Carpenter and Golden was defeated. The doubles team of Kocian and Lockridge also lost a close match, 4-6, 3-6.

Orange Faces N.M. Military Shoot For Second Regional Title

By Louis Haak

The Highlanders' next action will be 4 p.m. Thursday in Amarillo. They will play New Mexico Military Institute. The Highlanders are seeded second and are facing the seventh seeded team in the tournament.

The tournament is single elimination with the winner advancing to the national tournament in Hutchinson, Kan.

Western Texas is seeded number one and are favored to win the regional title. They are ranked seventh in the nation and carry a 28-1 record into the tourney. They will be weakened possibly by an injury to one of their starting forwards.

MCC 88 — Vikings 74

John Derrick led the Highlanders to a 88-74 win over the Grayson County Vikings Thursday night as witnessed by a packed home crowd.

Derrick blocked 11 shots, gathered in 21 rebounds and led the team in scoring with 26. Derrick had control of the middle of the lanes during the contest and forced the Vikings to look elsewhere for ways to score.

The win concludes regular season play for the Big Orange. Their season record is 25-4 and their Northern Texas Junior College Athletic Conference mark is 13-1 with them riding a nine game winning streak.

The contest was marred by the ejection of A.C. Kuykendall along with a Viking player during the first half for tussling. Both players were charged with a technical foul. Kuykendall's absence hampered the scoring punch of the Highlanders but Malcomb Patten started the second half and played well for Coach Johnny Carter.

"Weasel" Johnson made his final home court appearance along with Patten, Ivan Gordon, Paul Lamb, Blue Mitchell, Craig Smoak and Danny Kaspar.

Johnson had 20 points, 4 steals and 7 assists. He sat out seven minutes of the second half with four fouls while Kaspar and Patten played his point guard position.

The Highlander's man-to-man defense forced the Vikings into 14 turnovers and outrebounded them by a 59-57 margin.

The Big Orange won the battle of the charity line by hitting 14 of 20 while limiting the Vikings to 6 of 8. The Vikings had no free throw opportunities in the second half. The Highlanders had only 12 fouls called against them with 21 being called on Grayson.

Kaspar scored 12 points and played his usual tough defensive game. Smoak seemed to awaken from a long sleep during the second half and resembled the player fans grew to love and opponents grew to hate during the middle of the season. Smoak scored 11 points all in the second half. He also battled his way to 12 rebounds.

Carter said, "Craig finally knocked some heads."

"Super Subs" Carlos Blackwood and Patten scored 8 and 6 points respectively with Patten snaring 11 rebounds.

The Vikings took a 44-43 halftime lead with a 40-foot shot at the buzzer by Scott Gray. The Highlanders battled back in the second half and held the Vikings scoreless for over six minutes to pull out into a commanding lead.

Tennis Teams to Compete in Tournament

Sixteen teams will compete in the MCC Invitational Tennis Tournament this Friday and Saturday. The competition will be held on five different courts Sul Ross, MCC, Waco High, T bar M, Baylor Marina and Lions Park.

The men's singles competition will begin Friday morning at Sul Ross and Baylor. The women's play will begin Friday morning at MCC, Waco High, T bar M, and Lions Park.

Central Texas College, Navarro, Midland and Schreiner are favored in the tournament. Coach Don Tatum said these teams are about equal in strength.

"This will be some of the best tennis you will see around here for a while," said Coach Tatum.

The Highlander tennis team wiped out it's competition in three consecutive matches last week. They won 9-0 against Hill Junior College on the Highlander courts Wednesday, 9-2 against Mountainview College in Dallas on Thursday and 8-1 against Grayson County on it's home courts Saturday.

In the match with Hill the Highlanders won the men's singles, Dennis Dougherty 6-2, 6-1; Randy Essenburg 6-0, 6-1. In the women's singles Elaine Kocian won 6-0, 6-0; Phyllis Golden 6-1, 6-0; Becky Carpenter 6-0, 6-0; and Lisa Lockridge 6-0, 6-0. In the men's doubles Bob Cervenka and Steve Hirth won 6-4, 6-1. In the women's doubles Kocian and Lockridge won 6-1, 6-2; Golden and Carpenter won 6-1, 6-0.

The Highlanders traveled to Dallas on Thursday to meet Mountainview. In the mens singles Dougherty won 6-0, 6-0; Essenburg 6-2, 6-0; Cervenka 6-0, 6-0; and Hirth 6-1, 6-1. In the women's singles Kocian won 6-1, 6-0; Golden lost 8-9; Carpenter won 3-7, 6-3, 7-5; and Lockridge lost 6-8. The men's doubles fell to Dougherty and Hirth 6-1, 7-6; and Cervenka and Essenburg 6-1, 6-1. Kocian and Lockridge won the women's doubles 8-4.

The twice-in-a-week victorious Highlanders were back on their home courts Saturday to dash the aspirations of Grayson County. In the men's singles Dougherty won 6-4, 1-6, 6-0; Essenburg 6-3, 5-7, 6-3; Cervenka 7-5, 4-6, 6-3; and Steve Hirth 2-6, 7-6, 6-3. COACH JIMMY CLAYTON will be a busy man this weekend with his teams seeing action in two tournaments.

Title Defended In Fort Worth

Coach Jimmy Clayton will split the Highlander golf team in order to attend two tournaments this week. Half the team will be attending the Sam Houston State University Invitational at Huntsville Thursday and Friday while the other half travels to Fort Worth for the Southwest Recreational Golf Tournament Friday and Saturday.

Three junior colleges have been invited to the Sam Houston Tournament and 10 to 12 universities will be attending. In their last meeting Sam Houston won over the Highlanders by one shot.

The Highlanders will be the defending champions at the Southwest Recreational in Fort Worth. They won the junior college division last year by 23 strokes and tied North Texas State University in the university division. Team member Barron Sutton won the individual award.

"We split the team as evenly as possible to field as strong a team as possible at both places," said Clayton.
