The excessive length of the cafeteria food line may decrease after installation of the new drink machine.

Drink Machine To Be Added In SC Cafeteria

By Debbie Garrett

A need for changes in the Student Center has been recently brought to the attention of George Andreason, director of administrative services, and Tom Shearer, manager of cafeteria food services.

Change will be made available to any student asking for it. Andreason urges all students to go directly to the head of the line and ask the cashier. This service is available so students may make a telephone call or buy something from the vending machines. A change machine would cost more than $1500. Also there would be a problem with relocating the other vending machines.

A drink machine will be installed sometime this week said

Shearer. The order was placed with Automatic Chef last week. It will be next to the other vending machines. It will serve Coke, Dr Pepper, Diet Dr Pepper and 7-Up in 10 oz. cups. These cups are the same size as the 20 cent drinks in the cafeteria. Shearer said the cost will probably be 15 cents.

The increase of the line is due to demand not because of student enrollment, said Andreason.

This year's fall credit enrollment is 3,702 as compared to last year's fall enrollment of 3,564.

Shearer said any alternative will be tried before opening the snack bar again.

The snack bar closed in March of 1972. It served drinks and short order food. Associated Food Company was servicing the cafeteria then, but resigned because of financial problems. It was costing too much to operate both the snack bar and food line. Extra personnel had to be hired and more equipment was needed.

Andreason said the cafeteria is receiving better food shipments which is bringing up the quality of the food. If a student is not satisfied with his food he should not hesitate to take it back and call it to their attention.

Student Government plans to make large posters to give special attention to the new trash cans being distributed in the cafeteria.

Counseling Office Sets Spring Advising Sessions

By Marilynn Jones

Day students may make an appointment in person for spring advising sessions beginning Nov. 15 in the Counseling Office on the ground floor of the Student Center.

"Sophomores with degree plans will have first choice of the appointment times. Students have to have completed 30 semester hours at the beginning of the fall semester to be classified as a sophomore. This is so that students planning to graduate in May can get the classes they need to graduate," said Keith Geisler, director of counseling and testing.

The advising sessions will be held from 10 to 11 a.m. and from 11 a.m. to noon on Nov. 22, 23, and 24 in the Science Lecture Hall.

Packets will be given out and course advising forms will be signed at these sessions.

"On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, no one has a class at 10 a.m., and I hope that students will be free sometime between 10 a.m. and noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Of course the sessions will be lighter on Tuesdays and Thursdays, but I expect about a 100 students per session or 200 a day," said Geisler.

Daytime vocational and technical education students may pick up packets from the following program directors: Bill Buckler, law enforcement; Iva Lee, data processing; Wesley Rogers, long term health programs; Miller Brister, management development; Mary Cantrell, mental health; Janice Roberson, associate degree nursing; Larry James, radiologic technology; and Mike White, teacher aid coordinator.

Other vocational and technical education majors not listed may pick up packets in the counseling office, said Geisler.

Evening students may pick up packets beginning Nov. 22 for sophomores and Dec. 1 for freshmen. Evening students do not have to have degree plan or make an appointment to attend an advising session.

"To make registration faster all students exempt from Physical Education classes because they are veterans, have already completed four PE courses or for health reasons, should have a copy of the document excusing them from PE. This includes a written statement from a doctor, a transcript with the four PE courses on it, etc," said Geisler.

Dr. Ball Addresses SG, Pep Rally To Boost Spirit

Dr. Wilbur Ball, president, gave Student Government advice about its recommendations for campus improvement projects Monday.

Dr. Ball explained that the money used to finance such projects as lighted tennis courts was actually in the hands of the Board of Trustees. He suggested that the student government make out a list of improvement projects, in order of their importance, to send to the administration.

Dr. Ball said that any background information or research to support the ideas would also be helpful in his presentation to the board.

The date for the Red Cross Blood Drive was set for Nov. 18. Representatives voted to accept Afro Student Kindred for active status this year.

The Afro Student Kindred organization and the Student Government are jointly sponsoring a "Meet the Teams" pep rally at 10 a.m. Monday in Highlander Gym.

Members of the Highlassie and Highlander basketball teams will be introduced. Students can take in the first performance by the MCC Dance Company, drill team instructed by Sandy Hinton. Coaches Pam Davis and Johnny Carter will give their outlooks on the approaching season.

The stage band will provide music for the rally and cheerleaders Leigh Ann Adams, Carol Mitchell, Wendy Sommers, Paula Roerick and Susan Boyett will attempt to boost spirit for the basketball opener Monday night.

Niel Russell was introduced as the Inter-Club Council representative to Student Government.

Dale Britt, Carol Kirklanu, Carol Mitchell and Paula Roerick were nominated for Who's Who in American Junior Colleges by the representatives.

Collection To Start For Stricken Family

A Waco family of nine has been living in a motel room for two weeks because their house was completely destroyed by fire on Oct. 15. A temporary home has been found for them, and an effort to supply them with household commodities has been started.

MCC student Slim Hughes has been collecting household items for the family. Hughes said that those students who wanted to contribute could bring canned goods, clothing and furniture between today and Nov. 12. Canned goods and clothing may be left in the Support Services for the Physically Limited Office on the second floor of the Student Center.

Hughes said that those students who wanted to contribute tribute furniture items could leave their name and address in the Student Activities Office, and he would pick up the items.

The five boys in the family wear clothing sizes 7, 10, 16, and 18; their shoe sizes are 8½ and 6½ in men's and 13½ and 11½ in boys.

The two girls wear sizes 5 and 8 in children's clothing and size 1½ in children's shoes.

The mother wears size 16 to 18 clothing and size 7½ in women's shoes. The father wears extra large size in men's shirts and a size 48 waist - 33 length pants; he wears a size 10 in men's shoes.

Buying Prints Provides Profit

By Randy Chenot

Buying original prints is an excellent way for the novice to make a modest investment in beautiful works of art. However, the buyer had better beware.

As more and more attention is being given to art as an investment, more and more dealers are trying to pass off cheap reproductions as fine art.

Here are a few pointers about original prints.

Original prints, whatever the process used to create them, are "hand-pulled" under the artist's supervision or by the artist himself. This means that any work produced photographically or by another purely mechanical process is not an original print.

If one examines a print under a magnifying glass and discovers a regular pattern of small dots, one will know immediately that it is not an original print.

If the print is a serigraph (produced by a silk-screen process), the ink will seem rather like paint and appear to be sitting upon rather than absorbed into the paper.

Etchings and engravings will produce a physical impression on the paper itself.

Contemporary original prints will always be signed in pencil by the artist himself to indicate personal supervision and approval of the individual print.

Original prints are always produced in limited editions, at the most several hundred copies. If thousands of copies are available, then the work is almost certainly not original. In most cases, to assure that the integrity of their work is not violated, artists will destroy the plate after the edition has been produced.

The print will have a figure on its border indicating the number of prints pulled and the number of the individual print in sequence. For example, the figure 50-100 means that the edition has been limited to 100, and that this is the 50th print pulled.

Phone System Now In Use

Dimension, the new phone system, is now in full swing and operating with only slight difficulties. Reactions to the system have all been encouraging, said George Andreason, director of administrative services.

"Everyone likes the system because it is quite a novelty at this point. We've had a few problems, but nothing that can't be handled," Andreason said.

"One thing I'm really encouraged about is that I have had no complaints at all. And that really speaks for the Dimension system and its efficiency," Andreason also said.

Kathy Megown, one of the operators of the console unit, has been bothered by few problems since the system's inception over a week ago.

"We haven't had too many problems after the first few days, and that is a good sign. I would like to urge callers to hold on a little longer and be patient. That would really assist us," she said.

Clyde Koehne, director of social sciences and communications, says Dimension has great capabilities and should help more as teachers and staff become better acquainted with the system.

Student Has Special Interest For Cincinnati Reds Baseball Pitching Hero Zachry

By Roger Busby

The World Series of Baseball represented a lot of excitement for Waco fans this year. Home boy Pat Zachry starred for the Cincinnati Reds in the third game of the four game Cincinnati sweep. He topped off his sensational rookie season in New York's refurbished Yankee Stadium on that occasion.

Sitting in the stands that night were Pat's mother, father, sister and niece. His sister, Lynn Pauk, started MCC this fall to work toward an elementary education degree. When contacted at the MCC library, she told the inside story on baseball's newest superstar.

"I'm seven and a half years older than Pat, and that makes us very close," Lynn said. Between checking out books and giving information to students, she sat quietly and recalled her brother's dream-come-true.

"Pat is an extremely private person. He seemed calm and under control to most people this year, but Pat was fulfilling a life long dream. His emotions were running wild," she smiled. She thought a moment and continued, "He was very emotional after the playoffs. He hugged out Dad, and I was crying." She remembered that Pat told them he expected to wake up at any time and find out that he actually was dreaming.

She said it was her opinion that the pressure was less for the World Series than it was for the playoffs.

"Pat was a lot more relaxed," she said. She said that Philadelphia (the opponent in the playoffs) had played the Reds before, and both clubs knew what to expect from each other. Also, both teams had exceptional records, but they still had to win one more series in order to reach the ultimate in baseball.

"Everything, including the whole year, depended on the playoff series," she said.

She frowned when she talked about the games in Philadelphia. "Philadelphia was terrible about Cincinnati's tickets!" she exclaimed. "I mean the positioning. They put us really high up in the centerfield bleachers. So high, we couldn't see the players' numbers."

She tensed up and shrugged her shoulders as she talked about the cold wind that was prevalent in Philadelphia. "We were so cold that we were wind burned. It was supposed to be cold in New York, but Philadelphia was much colder," she said.

Mrs. Pauk's husband is a fireman for the Waco fire department. He was unable to make the playoff or series trips because of his work. After the win in Philadelphia she called the fire station.

"I don't know who answered, but he said that George (her husband) was not there because he had been injured in a fire," she said. "We found out, though, that he was not seriously hurt, although two other firemen were. Our celebrating came to an end."

New York was a much better experience than Philadelphia. She said that the seats that were allotted to Cincinnati were covered. "The New York fans started throwing bottles toward the end of the game. We were completely protected though," she said.

However, all was not so good. "My mother was struck in the neck as we were leaving the stadium. She wasn't seriously injured, but a New York fan tried to hurt her."

She smiled as she recalled that several people had thought that Pat had been struck in the head with a bottle thrown by a disgruntled New York fan. "Pat's a clut," she laughed. "He bumped his head on the dugout as he left the field."

She also recalled the tense moments of that whole excited time. It revolves around a statement that Pat made to reporters after the playoff victories. When asked what he was going to do with all his playoff money winnings ($25,000 to $35,000), he said, "I'm going to buy my dog a case of dog food." This statement was made after he sent his dog home to Waco.

He did not know that the dog came up missing a week after he arrived in Waco. "We don't know if he was stolen or if he ran off, but we couldn't tell Pat about it. That's all he talked about the whole time we were up there. We were sure that the news would upset him, so we didn't tell him," said Mrs. Pauk.

She sounded like a computer

Karper, MCC Takes Titles

Phil Karper shot a 74 to finish as the individual winner in the abbreviated Sam Houston State University Fall Invitational Tournament in Huntsville. The Highlander team shot a first-day total of 302 to win their third consecutive tournament. Bad weather forced cancellation of the final 18 holes Friday afternoon.

Bobby Heath carded a 75 to tie for second place in the individual scores. Mark Knutson shot a 76 and Jack Twedell a 77 to round out the Highlander marks. Wharton County finished second in the tournament which also contained teams from Paris and Henderson Jr. Colleges and the host team Sam Houston.

Coach Jimmy Clayton's Highlanders return to action Thursday through Saturday in the Jimmy Demaret Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, hosted by Pan American University at Brownwood.

when asked about Pat's statistics. "He finished with a 14-7 regular season record with a 2.72 earned run average," she proudly stated.

"He finished the year with 204 innings pitched, which was second only to Gary Nolan on the team. He was first in strikeouts, and he won a game, in the playoffs and one in the World Series."

She sighed thinking about all that has occurred in the past few months. Her brother was now a superstar, and she and her family had been able to take in the World Series happenings. She is now becoming famous because of it.

"I was asked for my autograph because I'm Pat's sister," she grinned. "It has been a dream-come-true. I hope we can do the same next year."

The chances are pretty good that Cincinnati will repeat their good fortune next year, and that Pat Zachry will, too. The chances for her autograph are also good, if you drop by the library check-out desk and ask for it. She did win a World Series game, but her brother did.

Scoring Points

By Terry Tacker

BASKETBALL SEASON, the number one time of the year for MCC sports fans, is finally here. Monday night in Highlander Gym, Coach Pam Davis' Highladies entertain Mountainview College. MCC scrimmages the Baylor Bearettes, ranked in the top 15 teams in the country by Sports Illustrated, 4 p.m. Friday at Rena Marrs-McLean Gym.....CATCHER BUTCH WYNEGAR OF THE MINNESOTA TWINS was named the American League Rookie Player of the Year in a poll of players. Detroit Tiger pitcher Mark Fidrych was chosen American League Rookie pitcher of the Year.....LARRY HERNDON WHO BATTED .279 to lead San Francisco in that department, was named the National League Rookie Player of the Year. San Diego Padre star relief pitcher Butch Metzger was named National League Rookie Pitcher of the Year. Metzger polled 164 votes to only 25 for his nearest competitor, righthand starter Pat Zachry of Cincinnati.....BILL RODGERS OF MELROSE, MASS., winner of the 1975 Boston Marathon but a disappointment in the Olympics at Montreal, won the 1976 New York City Marathon, defeating 1972 Olympic champion and 1976 silver medalist Frank Shorter.....COOKE COUNTY COLLEGE, member of the Northern Texas Junior College basketball conference, has a new basketball coach. New coach of the Lions, who finished in fifth place last year, is R.C. Shipley. Shipley, who posted an impressive 112-81 record at Missouri Southern State College, welcomes three starters back from the 1975 team.....THE DALLAS COWBOYS for the first time since George Allen became head coach at Washington, completely dominated the Redskins Sunday at Washington. Dallas' defense shut down Billy Kilmer, Calvin Hill, John Riggins and the rest of the Redskin offense. The victory marked the first Cowboy win in the nation's capital since 1971. Dallas definitely appears the strongest team in the National Football League.....SPEAKING OF THE COWBOYS, Dallas management announced Wednesday the games with the New York Giants Sunday and the St. Louis Cardinals Thanksgiving Day have been sold out. The club previously announced the season-ending home game with Washington was a sellout. Tickets remain for only one Cowboys game—that being a Monday night meeting with Buffalo Nov. 15.....THE HOUSTON OILERS, the surprise team of the NFL a year ago, is pulling more surprises this year. Houston, it appears, is trying to set a record for fewest rushing attempts every by a football team. In their loss to Cincinnati two weeks ago, Houston ran the ball nine times, seven in the first half and twice in the second, for 28 yards. In three games, the Oilers have gained 166 yards on the ground.....THE MIDWEST DIVISION of the National Basketball Association should reflect the success of the American Basketball Association teams coming into the senior league. The Midwest Division did not produce a .500 percent team last year, with the Milwaukee Bucks winning the title with a 38-44 mark. Now, the Denver Nuggets are competing in the division and they bring with them the ABA crown and a 60-24 record for 1976. The Nuggets are very talented, owning David Thompson, Dan Issel, Ralph Simpson and Marvin Webster. Denver is favored to win the division. If they fail, it is certain the play of the extinct league will be questioned.
