Student Government Holds Last Session

The MCC Student Government will be serving as the state secretary of the Texas Junior College Student Government Association (TJCSGA) for the '76-'77 school year. MCC was selected to the office during the TJCSGA state convention which was held from April 11 through 13 in Dallas.

At the Monday meeting of Student Government, President elect, Bobby Kacal said that he was pleased with the cooperation he received from MCC members during the state convention.

Dr. LaVerne Wong, dean of student services, attended this final meeting of the organization and participated in a question and answer period with the representatives. The questions and answers dealt mainly with the problem of obtaining a yearbook for the college and revising the cheerleader election procedure.

Members of Student Government also accepted the verbal resignation of Rep. Cindy Briars, Rep. Briars had impeachment proceedings started against her at the last meeting; the proceedings will be dropped because of her resignation.

The cheerleader committee announced that the revision in the qualifications for cheerleaders had been approved and would be put in the Highlander's Guide.

The banner for the gym is currently on display in front of Don Bynum's office and will be presented to the school at the Award's Assembly on May 3, said Bobby Kacal.

Certificates of appreciation were given to representatives, officers, and justices of the Supreme Court. Sponsors Don Bynum and Paul Holder were presented with plaques of appreciation.

Spring Play Opens Friday Night

An evening of enjoyable entertainment is a sure bet with the drama department's Spring production "Ring Round the Moon." The comedy play is by Jean Anouilh and is adapted to English.

Set in the early 1900s in the country home of Madam Desmormort, the head of the family, the play revolves around Hugo's scheme to break up the romance between his identical twin brother, Frederic, and the spoiled and rich Diana Messerschmann. Cliff Sharpless portrays Hugo and Candice Drake portrays Diana.

Hugo hires a young and innocent dancer, Isabell, to help in his plan. She is accompanied by her mother, a social-climbing woman with visions of grandeur for her daughter. Kellye Manning portrays Isabell and Jude Smith plays the Mother.

Of course, everyone wants to keep the Madam from knowing what's going on, but Capulet, her companion, spills the beans. Rita Foster plays the Madam and Valerie Dunagan plays the role of Capulet.

To complicate matters, Lady India, the mistress of Mr. Messerschmann, has to decide between him and her other lover, Patrice. Ila Bates is Lady India, Maik Woodard is Messerschmann, and Ross Mormino is Patrice.

The easily swayed Romainville and the devoted servant

Josephine are caught in the middle of things. Cindy Snokhous is Josephine and Billy Neckar is Romainville.

The costumes and set for the play were done by the cast. Each of the female cast has two costumes, a day dress and a ball dress, which were made under the supervision of costume crew co-heads Cindy Snokhous and Ila Bates. Yards of material were needed for each dress and the petticoats. Corsets are also a very real part of the costumes' authenticity to this time period.

The production manager for the play is John Cleavelin. Prop crew head is Ross Mormino, and publicity crew head is Rita Foster.

The set was built from the bare stage up by students.

A dedicated joint effort by the cast and James Henderson, director of the drama department, "Ring Round the Moon" is a lovely way to spend an evening. Performances are Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts theatre, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday next week.

MCC students are admitted free, however, all seats are reserved. Call 756-6551, ext. 283 for reservations.

The events are sponsored by the Student Activities Office and the MCC Music Department.

WEATHER

Highest temperature last week was 81 degrees, with the lowest being 52 degrees.

Letter To The Editor Student Speaks Out For Ex-Zoo Director

Spring Health Fair Starts Today In SC

TO THE EDITOR:

I was sorely disappointed to hear of Centex Zoo Director, David Raboy's resignation.

I was impressed with Raboy when he spoke at MCC in February on endangered species, the purpose of zoos, and the condition of the Centex Zoo in particular.

Raboy, with a master's degree in animal behavior, teaching experience, and previous experience in zoo directing in New England, aids that the existence of zoos is primarily for the preservation of endangered species and for educational functions. Public pleasure comes second. He said he would as soon let the animals go as have zoos exist solely for the pleasure of the public.

Raboy's resignation followed conflicts over philosophy between Raboy and the Zoo Board. I don't know what's in the Centex Zoo's future now, but Raboy seemed to have its best interests in mind. I wonder if the totality of the Zoo Board does. Sincerely, Beverly Blohowski

Rabbit Run, Lots 'O Fun

Students get set to begin the rabbit race that was held on a April 9.

MCC had a rabbit race, that is, a two legged rabbit race. The April 9 contest was broken into three divisions: women's, men's and the faculty division.

The women's division got off to a hopping start with only one contestant, Christy Doughty. In the men's there were a few more rabbits in the race, and the winners were Louis Rendon, Doel Garcia, and Michael Beal.

In the faculty division, there were two super fast bunnies entered in the race. They were John Nobis and Susan Cochran, (both are counselors). After hopping four rounds in the race, Nobis passed Mrs. Cochran, thus winning the race for the faculty.

The first and second place winners of the mile long course had a choice of either a live rabbit or an Easter basket. The third place winners received a colored egg.

Music Instructor Plays At Recital

Melvin Cooksey, music instructor, presented a clarinet recital April 9 in the Fine Arts Theater. The program featured faculty members Kenneth Alford and Doris Scott on piano, Caterina Micieli, vocalist, Marianna O'Brien on piano and Lynne MacMorran Cooksey on flute.

Cooksey performed "Concertine" by Guseiphi Tartini, "Concerto" by Carl Nielsen, "Der Hirt auf dem Felsen" (The Shepherd on the Rock), by Franz Schubert and "Tarantelle" by Camille Saint-Saens.

"Concertine" represents one of the few important works for clarinet from the Baroque period. The piece was originally written for violin and piano, but has been arranged for clarinet and piano by English composer, Gordon Jacob.

"Concerto" was Nielsen's last major composition and has become a standard 20th century clarinet concerto. "Tarantelle" is a trio piece for clarinet, flute and piano. Its name was derived from a rapid dance from southern Italy. Legend has it that the dance was a cure for the poisonous bite of the tarantula spider.

Odds & Ends

by Terry Tackler

Before yesterday's action, the MCC Highlander baseball squad had a 9-7 Northern Texas Junior College Athletic Association Conference record. Ranger possessed a 9-5 mark. The Highlanders still have four remaining games with Ranger, two of them at home and two in Ranger. The Highlanders have been fighting from behind all year and with four games left with the league leaders, MCC might just get another championship team to boost about.

Jim Gideon, who almost won a starting pitching job on the Texas Ranger squad, hurled the opener for the Ranger's triple-A farm team Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League and was a 7-6 winner. Gideon gave up all six runs in the first two innings, after that he was brilliant, giving up one hit and one walk in the last seven innings. Gideon graduated from the University of Texas at Austin.

ABC's national television schedule for the 1976 collegiate football season has been announced. Last year's only unbeaten football team, Arizona State, kicks off the action Tuesday night, Sept. 7, against UCLA. Baylor hosts the University of Houston Sept. 11 and that contest will be broadcast regionally.

Baylor graduate Neil Jeffrey won't be the only stuttering quarterback in the National Football League. Top New York Jet draftee Richard Todd of Alabama also has a speech problem.

Darryl Lee, Grayson County College's outstanding basketball center who scored 51 points against MCC in the conference game in Denison, has been recruited by Cameron State College, Lawton, Okla., said Grayson Coach Buddy Travis. Lee was named to the first team All-Northern Texas Conference squad in January.

Most college All-America basketball teams are either publicity or popularity contest. One that isn't is chosen annually by the National Basketball Association.

Badminton Results

MCC students competed in a badminton tournament against Baylor April 9.

Rick Ryer won mens' singles, Jane Kersten won the womens' consolation singles and Sharon Winn and Gloria Martinez won the womens' consolation doubles.

Rick Ryer and Randy Cehnot were in the semi-finals in mens' doubles.

tion's 18 coaches. Here are their selections as based solely on talent, not position: forward Scott May of Indiana; guard John Lucas of Maryland; forward Adrian Dantley of Notre Dame; center Kent Benson of Indiana; and center Leon Douglas of Alabama.

Dallas Cowboy reserve quarterback Clint Longley hunts rattlesnakes in West Texas to amuse himself. Captured snakes are milked of venom for vaccine. Their hides are used for belts, billfolds, purses and hatbands, their skulls sold to curio-shop dealers and, finally, their meat fried. "A lot of people will tell you that it tastes like the white meat of chicken," says Longley. "Personally, I'll just stick with the chicken." In the back of his pickup, Longley carries his equipment for the hunt, a covered trash can, gasoline to be poured into the den (the fumes aggravate the snakes and drive them to the surface), strap sticks (broom handles with leather loops that can be drawn around the snakes), pinning sticks (which resemble golf putters and are used to hold down the snakes' heads) and a sack of crushed ice. This they hope they won't have to use. "If someone gets bit," Longley said, "we'll put ice on the area to slow the spread of the poison and get the hell to the hospital as fast as this of pickup will carry us."

SPORTQUOTES: Doug Swift, veteran NFL linebacker on the most enjoyable part of football: "Being introduced and running through the goalposts. It's all downhill after that."

Cotton Fitzsimmons, who had just been dismissed as Atlanta Hawks coach, arriving 15 minutes late for a postfiring press conference: "I didn't realize how many people there were in the unemployment lines."

Sports At A Glance

Coach Jimmy Clayton's MCC golf team takes the week off to prepare for the regional tournament that will be held in Roswell N.M. The dates for that tournament have been set for April 30 and May 1. Next week's issue of The Highland Herald will take a closer look at the tournament.

The 1976 Northern Texas Junior College Athletic Association conference tennis tournament will be held in Denison on the campus of Grayson County College. The tournament will be held Friday. Coach Don Tatum's netters are entered in the competition.

The scheduled baseball doubleheader Tuesday between Grayson County and McLennan Community College was postponed by rain and the poor playing condition of the field.

The games have tentatively been rescheduled in Denison today at 1 p.m.

The intramural basketball game between the MCC champions, the Shooting Stars, and the Baylor champions, Brooks Dormitory, will be played either at 8 p.m. tonight or 7 p.m. tomorrow night in Rena Marrs-McLean Gymnasium. Officials from both schools will meet to decide the precise time for the contest.

One thing is certain about the game, the members of the Baylor team. The squad consists of football players Alec Jackson, Mark Jackson, John Jeffrey, David Stevens, Greg Hawthorne, Marty Mikkelsen and baseball performer Buddy Wooley. Alec Jackson, Hawthorne and Stevens are each over 6'3" tall, so the MCC cagers might have a tough time rebounding with the Baylor players.

Due to the bad weather, all of the Highlanders Sports activities were cancelled last week.
