1-3 Ocean Ter., Circa 2021

1-3 Ocean Terrace is a wood-frame building that is listed as a 'Garden Condo' that was built in approximately 1905. It is in a picturesque, residential neighborhood of Salem and only a short walk to the water. The street itself is a quiet, tree-lined road that is primarily residential. The houses on Ocean Avenue are typical of the New England style, with many featuring clapboard siding, shutters, and white picket fences. The neighborhood is known for its historic architecture, and many of the homes date back to the 19th century. The home is very close to Forest River Park, Salem State University, and two of the locations used in the contemporary film "Hocus Pocus."

4 Ocean Ave. - "Max's House in Hocus Pocus"

House in Pioneer Village - Used as Background in "Hocus Pocus"

Just around the corner from 1-3 Ocean Terrace you'll find 4 Ocean Avenue. In the movie, the house is the home of Max and Dani Dennison and their parents, who have recently moved to Salem from California. The exterior of the house is a classic New England-style home, with lovely waterfront views of the harbor. The house is used throughout the movie as the main setting for the children's adventures as they try to thwart the plans of the Sanderson sisters.

The house was originally built in the mid-1800s and has undergone some renovations over the years. It is a private residence and is not open to the public. However, fans of the movie can still visit the exterior of the house to see where some of their favorite scenes were filmed.

Another close by location is Pioneer Village, located within Forest River Park. The park was used as a backdrop for the early settings of the movie from when the Sanderson sisters had been alive. This is primarily in the scene where Binks is running around looking for his sister.

Forest River Park has a rich history that dates back to the early 20th century. The land that the park now occupies was originally part of a large estate owned by a wealthy Salem family, but it was eventually sold to the city of Salem in the early 1900s for use as a public park. In the months after the Great Salem Fire of June 1914, 1400 people lived in tents in the park, before they could return ton their normal lives.

In the decades that followed, the park underwent numerous changes and improvements. In the 1930s, the Civilian Conservation Corps, a federal program created to provide jobs during the Great Depression, built many of the park's recreational facilities, including the picnic areas, baseball field, and tennis courts.

During World War II, the park was used as a training ground for the US Army, and many of the park's facilities were repurposed for military use. After the war, the park was returned to civilian use and was extensively renovated and updated.

Salem State University, located in Salem, Massachusetts, is a public university founded in 1854 as Salem Normal School, a teacher-training institution. The school was established to provide education and training for teachers in the area, in response to a growing demand for well-educated teachers in the region.

In the early years, the school was located in various locations throughout Salem, including a rented building on Summer Street and a former hotel on Broad Street. In 1857, the school moved to its current location on Lafayette Street.

In the late 19th and early 20th centuries, the school's curriculum expanded to include more general education courses, and the school's name was changed to Salem Normal School and State Teachers College. In 1932, the school was renamed again as Salem Teachers College, and it began to offer bachelor's degrees in education.

In the 1960s and 1970s, Salem State began to expand its curriculum and to offer more liberal arts and sciences programs. In 1972, the school was renamed Salem State College and began to offer graduate programs.

In 2010, the school was renamed Salem State University, reflecting its status as a comprehensive, public university. Today, Salem State offers undergraduate and graduate programs in a wide range of disciplines, including education, business, the liberal arts, and the sciences. The university has a diverse student population of around 10,000 students and it is considered one of the most prestigious institutions in the area.

Salem State University has played an important role in the education and development of the North Shore region and the state of Massachusetts, and it continues to be a major educational institution in the area.

Boats in Salem Harbor

Although nowhere in Salem is very far from water, 1-3 Ocean Terrace is steps away from the waterfront. Salem Harbor is an historic and important area in Salem, Massachusetts. The harbor has a long and rich history dating back to the 17th century when Salem was an important port city and a center of trade and commerce.

One of the most interesting things about Salem Harbor is its association with the maritime industry. During the 18th and 19th centuries, Salem was a major shipbuilding center, and the harbor was home to many shipyards and sail lofts. Many of the ships built in Salem were used for trade with the East and for the whaling industry. Salem's maritime history is well-preserved at the Salem Maritime National Historic Site, which is located in the harbor. Another interesting aspect of Salem Harbor is its role in the China trade. In the late 18th and early 19th centuries, Salem was a major center of the trade with China, and many of the ships that sailed to China and the East left from the harbor. The China trade brought prosperity to Salem, and many of the city's grandest homes and buildings were built during this time.

The harbor is also home to a number of interesting historical sites and landmarks, including the Custom House and the East India Marine Hall, both of which are part of the Salem Maritime National Historic Site.

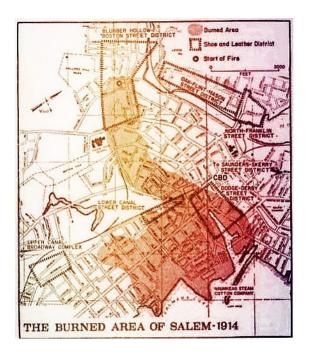

In addition to its historical significance, Salem Harbor is also a popular spot for recreational activities such as boating, fishing and simply enjoying the view of the ocean. The harbor is also home to a number of restaurants and shops that are popular with tourists and locals alike.

Salem, Massachusetts was founded in 1626 by a group of fishermen from Cape Ann led by Roger Conant. The area was initially known as Naumkeag and was part of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. In the early years, Salem's economy was primarily based on fishing and agriculture.

During the 17th century, Salem became an important center of trade and commerce. Its location on the coast made it a convenient port for ships sailing between Europe and the New World. In 1643, Salem was granted a charter and officially incorporated as a town.

In the 18th century, Salem's economy began to diversify. The town became known for its shipbuilding industry and for the production of textiles, particularly wool. Salem also played a significant role in the American Revolution, with many of its residents serving in the Continental Army. In the 19th century, Salem's economy shifted again, this time towards manufacturing. The town was home to numerous factories, including the Naumkeag Steam Cotton Company, which was one of the largest cotton mills in the country. Salem also became a center of the China trade, with many ships leaving the port to trade with China and the East.

In the early 20th century, Salem's economy began to decline as manufacturing moved elsewhere. The town also suffered from a series of devastating fires, including the Great Salem Fire of 1914, which destroyed much of the downtown area. In the 1930s, the city underwent a period of urban renewal, with many of the older buildings being demolished to make way for new construction. By 1950, Salem had transformed from a bustling commercial and industrial center to a quieter, more residential community. The town's economy had shifted towards service industries, with many residents working in retail, healthcare, and education. Today, Salem is known for its rich history and for its many historical sites, including the Salem Witch Trials Memorial and the Salem Maritime National Historic Site.

Something that occurred not long after 1-3 Ocean Terrace was built was a citywide fire. The Salem Fire of 1914 was a devastating fire that occurred in Salem, Massachusetts on June 25, 1914. The fire started in the early morning and quickly spread, destroying much of the downtown area. The fire was caused by a spark from a passing trolley that set fire to a wooden building on Washington Street.

It is unclear whether the houses on Ocean Terrace were directly affected the inferno. While the fire primarily destroyed the downtown commercial district of Salem, which was located several miles away from the Ocean Terrace neighborhood., it came within blocks of property.

The fire spread quickly, fueled by strong winds and the many wooden buildings in the area. Despite the efforts of the city's fire department, the fire soon grew out of control, and by the time it was finally brought under control, much of the city's downtown area had been destroyed. The fire caused significant damage to many of the city's factories and mills, which were major employers in the area. As a result, many workers may have lost their jobs, which could have impacted their ability to pay rent or mortgages on their homes.

Over 1,400 buildings were destroyed in the fire, including many homes, businesses, and public buildings. The loss of property was estimated at around $10 million, which was a huge amount of money for that time. Many residents were left homeless and without jobs, as the fire destroyed much of the city's commercial and industrial center.

The Salem Fire of 1914 was a major disaster for the city, and it had a significant impact on the city's economy and population. However, the city quickly began to rebuild and recover, and the downtown area was soon rebuilt with more fire-resistant materials.

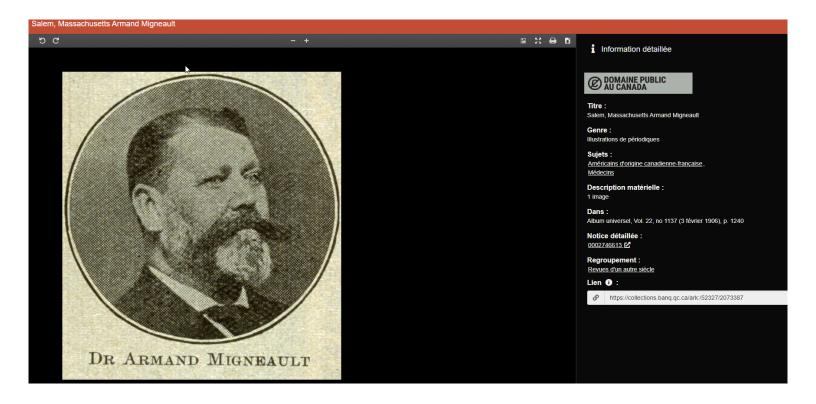

The event was a turning point in the city's history, and it marked the beginning of a new era of modernization and urban renewal. The fire also led to the development of new building codes and regulations, which helped to ensure that similar fires would not happen in the future.

Postcard of the Ruins

Refugee Camp at Forest River Park

Dr. Armand Mignault was a physician who practiced in Salem, Massachusetts in the late 19th century and early 20th century. He was a member of several professional organizations, including the Massachusetts Medical Society and the American Medical Association.

In addition to his medical practice, Dr. Mignault was involved in civic and community affairs in Salem. He served as a member of the Salem Board of Health and was active in local Republican Party politics.

In November 1897, Dr. Mignault married Rose-Alba Mathieu in Quebec, Canada. They did have at least one child together, Edward Lucien (birth Nov. 24, 1898), but Dr. Mignault had four sons total. Two of these sons lived in Salem. Not much is known about Rose-Alba, but her birthday is listed as July 6th of 1866. This would have meant she would have given birth to Edward later in her life. She was born in Saint-Barnabe-Sud, Canada.

Dr. Mignault's unique office hours were likely a reflection of his commitment to his medical practice and his patients. His work as a physician and his membership in professional organizations suggest that he was a dedicated and respected professional.

Unfortunately, Dr. Mignault was diagnosed with cancer and passed away on November 13, 1908, only a few months after his diagnosis. Prior to his death, he wrote a will leaving one dollar each of his sons, and the remainder of his estate to his wife, Rose-Alba.

While not much is known about Dr. Mignault's personal life, his involvement in civic and community affairs and his membership in professional organizations indicate that he was an active and engaged member of the Salem community during his lifetime.

DE IT RECEMBERS that I, Stephen A. Newcomb of Boston in the County of Suffelk and Commorwealth of Mansachusetts, being of sound mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life, do make this my last will and tostament.

After the payment of my just debts and funeral charges I be -

To my son, Frederick W. Newcord all the property and estate, both Deal, personal and mixed, of whatever name, nature and description, wherescover located and to be found, of which I may die seized or possessed, or to which may be entitled, but in trust nevertheless, and for the following purposes, to with to be safely invested by him unless so invested at the time of my decess, Armand had a substantial amount of property that his widow divided up and sold a few years after his death. Much of the property was sold to William and Annie Goldman. They further divided the land up and sold the lot and building that came to be known as 1-3 Ocean Terrace to Raymond H. Bacherman.

Raymond Harry Bacherman was born on March 16, 1884, in Russia. A multilingual individual, Raymond spoke at least three languages, including his native Yiddish. In search of a better life, he immigrated to the United States in 1904, followed by his future wife, Florence C. Bacherman, in 1906. The couple married in 1908, and together they began their new lives in America.

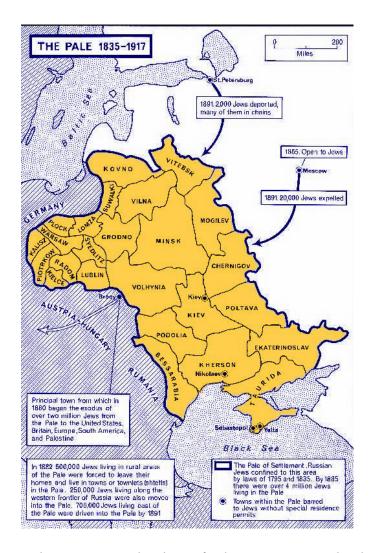

The reasons behind Raymond and Florence's decision to leave Russia remain uncertain, but it is possible that the tumultuous political and social climate of the time played a significant role. The early 20th century was marked by a series of challenging events in Russia, including the Russo-Japanese War, widespread famine, and the 1905 Revolution. These events not only impacted the economy but also fueled social unrest and violence.

Marketplace of Shadova, c. 1900

Jewish families like the Bachermans faced increasing antisemitism in Russia during this period. The majority of the Jewish population was segregated to a region known as the Pale, with restrictions imposed under the 'May Laws.' This hostile environment made it extremely difficult for Jewish individuals to settle or conduct trade outside of designated areas.

In the face of escalating racial violence, many Jewish families sought refuge in the United States, which likely influenced the Bachermans' decision to immigrate. Although it does not seem that they ever lived at 1-3 Ocean Terrace, by 1930, Raymond and Florence were residing in a rented home. It is possible they were used as intermediaries in the purchase of the property. Raymond initially owned a cigar shop but later transitioned to selling casters.

Raymond Harry Bacherman passed away in 1939, but his wife Florence continued to live until 1977. Their journey from Russia to the United States exemplifies the perseverance and adaptability of countless immigrants who sought better lives amidst challenging circumstances. The Bachermans' story is a testament to the resilience and determination of those who faced adversity in pursuit of a brighter future.

The next family to own the property where Albert and Annie Goldman, who also happened to be a Jewish family that immigrated from Russia.

Albert Goldman was born on May 28, 1869, in Russia to Hyman and Bertha (also known as Bessie) Goldman. He was a resourceful individual who found success in the grocer and shirt-making business. His wife, Annie Collar, was born in 1871 in Poland, which was then under Russian rule, to Levi and Eva Collar. Albert made his journey to America in 1890, aboard the ship Caribbean, where he would later become a naturalized citizen.

The couple set up home in the United States, joined by Albert's mother, Bertha. They thrived in their new country, managing to employ a servant, Jennie Block, who also hailed from Russia. Albert's hard work and entrepreneurial spirit extended beyond his initial profession as he found success in real estate investments. Many properties passed through his hands, often for a nominal fee of a dollar, although the exact nature of these transactions remains a subject of speculation. It appears he was providing safe havens to other Jewish families fleeing Russia, but this can not be proven concretely.

Albert's American journey did not sever his ties with his homeland. Records indicate he traveled back to Russia at least twice, reflecting his enduring connection to his place of birth. His international travels and business acumen led him to be identified as a merchant in several documents.

Annie Goldman, while industriously contributing to the family income by working in a factory, experienced a traumatic event in 1905. When returning home very early one morning, she was accosted by two men who threatened her with a handgun and stole her purse. Despite the terrifying ordeal, her quick thinking led to the capture of the assailants when she alerted a passing patrolman. Both men were sent to trail.

Together, Albert and Annie had two daughters, Queena Lena, affectionately known as Queenie, born in 1895, and Ida, also known as Aida, born in 1896.

Ida went to college and at least finished her second year. Then she met and married Simon Collier. Simon's parents had also immigrated from Russia. Ida did not need to work after marriage, as Simon was a successful chemist. Unfortunately, he was employed at an asbestos factory. They had one daughter named Vera and the family moved out of state to live in Illinois.

Queenie understood the value of hard work and the importance of community engagement. From a young age, she showed a keen interest in music and quickly mastered the art of piano. She would engage in performances that would also give people the chance to gather and socialize with one another. She would continue her involvement and was an early member of the Young Women's Hebrew Association in Salem.

She met and married Samuel Freedman, who shared not only her values, but her parents as well. He first worked in the tax industry and later stepped into law. He did well enough that they had a number of maids over the years. Samuel shared his earnings with others and supported both local immigrants and struggling Jewish communities overseas. They appear to have had only one son, named Eli.

1-3 Ocean Terrace passed from Albert and Annie Goldman, to their daughter and son in law, Queenie and Samuel Freedman, but once the two were married they did not live in the home, and it was sold to Louise E. Adams in 1920.

Louise Adams was born in 1903. She had a son named William with her husband John C. Adams. She was widowed early, and was raising her son on her own by the time William was 4. Not much can be found about this family. We do know that she offered the property out for rent sometimes, and that she placed the home in the name of several members of her family, so when the home was sold in 1964 the names William F. Adams, Ellener F. Story, Rena A. Parker, and Walter S. Adams are the names on the deed. 1-3 Ocean Terrance was then sold to Adrien and Helen Caron.

Salem Police Office Directing Traffic, circa 1960

In 1967, the home sold to Joseph and Rosalie Wodzenski, who held it until 1972. The couple then sold it to Roger W. Hearne and Sparhawk Realty Trust. In 1979, 1-3 Ocean Terrace was sold to Stewart A. Comer. In 1983 it was sold to Ronald A Marsilia, Robert Marsilia and Atlantic Building Realty Trust. In 1990 the home was sold to Peter White and Nancy Chatis, who then created a master deed for the property in 2002 and split the property into condos.

The word "family" means any group of persons related by blood, marriage, adoption or other legally established form of family relationship.

- (b) No Unit shall be used or maintained in a manner contrary to or inconsistent with the By-Laws of the Condominium Trust and regulations which may be adopted pursuant thereto.
- (c) The architectural integrity of the Building and the Units shall be preserved without modification, and to that end, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, no porch/deck or porch/deck enclosure, awning, screen, antenna, sign, banner or other device, and no exterior change, addition, structure, projection, decoration or other feature shall be erected or placed upon or attached to any Unit or any part thereof; no addition to or change or replacement (except, so far as practicable, with identical kind) of any exterior light, door knocker or other exterior hardware, exterior Unit door, or door frames shall be made, and no painting or other decoration shall be done on any exterior part or surface of any Unit nor on the interior surface of any window; provided, however, that the provisions of this subparagraph (c) shall not restrict the right of any Unit Owner (i) to decorate the interior of his or her Unit as he or she may desire so long as such Unit Owner shall in no way whatsoever alter, remove or otherwise modify any structural component of his or her Unit.

The restrictions set forth in paragraphs (a) through (c) above shall be for the benefit of all of the Unit Owners and the Condominium Trust and (i) shall be administered on behalf of said Owners by the Trustees of the Condominium Trust, (ii) shall be enforceable solely by the Trustees, insofar as permitted by law, (iii) may be waived in specific cases by such Trustees and (iv) shall, insofar as permitted by law, be perpetual, and, to that end, may be extended at such time or times and in such manner as permitted or required by law for the continued enforceability thereof. No Unit Owner shall be liable for any breach of the provisions of this paragraph except such as occur during his or her ownership of a Unit.

10. AMENDMENTS. This Master Deed may be amended by an instrument in writing (i) signed by the Unit Owners entitled to sixty six and two thirds percent (66.66%) or more of the undivided interests in the Condominium Trust pursuant to the By-Laws thereof, and (ii) signed and acknowledged by a majority of the Trustees of the Condominium Trust and (iii) duly recorded with the Essex South Registry of Deeds, PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that:

- (a) The date of which any such instrument is first signed by a Unit Owner shall be indicated thereon as the date thereof, and no such instrument shall be of any force or effect unless the same shall have been so recorded within six (6) months after such date:
- (b) No instrument of amendment which alters the dimensions of any Unit shall be of any force or effect unless the same has been signed by the Unit Owner of the Unit so altered;
- (c) No instrument of amendment which alters the percentage of the undivided interest in and to the Common Areas and Facilities to which any Unit is entitled shall be of any force or effect unless the same has been signed by all Unit Owners and said instrument is recorded as an Amended Master Deed;
- (d) No instrument of amendment which purports to alter or redefine the property defined herein as Common Areas and Facilities shall be of any force or effect.
- (e) No instrument of amendment affecting any Unit upon which there is a first mortgage of record held by a bank or insurance company or a purchase money second mortgage held by the Declarant or his heirs or assigns shall be of any force or effect unless the same shall have been assented to by the holder of such mortgage; and
- (f) No instrument of amendment which alters this Master Deed in any manner which would render it contrary to or inconsistent with any provisions of said Chapter 183A of the General Laws of Massachusetts shall be of any force or effect.

11. MANAGING ENTITY. The entity through which the Unit Owners will manage and regulate the Condominium established hereby (the "Condominium Association") is The 1-3 Ocean Terrace Condominium Trust, under a Declaration of Trust (including the By-Laws) of even date and recorded herewith (the "Condominium Trust"). Such Declaration of Trust establishes a trust for the benefit of all Unit Owners in which each Unit Owner shall have a beneficiary interest and membership in proportion to its percentage of undivided interest in the Common Areas and Facilities to which such Owner is entitled hereunder. The names and addresses of the original and present Trustees thereof are as follows:

Peter A. White, 1-3 Ocean Terrace, Salem, Massachusetts 01970 Nancy C. White, 1-3 Ocean Terrace, Salem, Massachusetts 01970

Such Trustees have enacted By-Laws pursuant to and in accordance with provisions of Chapter 183A of the General Laws of Massachusetts.

- 12. GENERAL LAWS CHAPTER 183A. The Units and the common areas and facilities, and the Unit Owners and Condominium Trustees shall have the benefit of and be subject to the provisions of said Chapter 183A of the General Laws of Massachusetts, as from time to time amended, and in all respects not specified in this Master Deed or in said Declaration of Trust of the 1-3 Ocean Terrace Condominium Trust and the By-Laws set forth therein, shall be governed by provisions of said Chapter 183A as from time to time amended, in their relation to each other and to the Condominium established hereby, including, without limitation, provisions thereof with respect to improvements and rebuilding of common areas and facilities, and with respect to removal of the Condominium premises or any portion thereof from the provisions of said Chapter 183A.
- 13. MORTGAGEE PROVISIONS. The following provisions shall apply to mortgages of one or more Condominium Units:
 - (a) A first mortgage at its request shall be entitled to written notification from the Condominium Trustees of any default by the mortgagor of such unit in the performance of such mortgagor's obligations under the Condominium documents which is not cured within thirty (30) days.

- (b) Any first mortgagee who comes into possession of the Unit pursuant to the remedies provided in the mortgage, foreclosure of the mortgage, or deed or assignment in lieu of foreclosure, shall be except from any right of first refusal.
- (c) Any first mortgagee who comes into possession of the Unit pursuant to the remedies provided in the mortgage, foreclosure of the mortgage, or deed or assignment in lieu of foreclosure, shall take the property free of any claims for unpaid assessments or charges against the mortgaged Unit which accrue prior to the time such holder comes into possession of the Unit (except for claims for a pro-rata allocation of such assessment or charges to all Units including the mortgaged Unit).
- (d) Unless one hundred percent (100%) of the first mortgagees of Condominium Units shall have given their prior written approval, the Condominium Owners shall not be entitled to:
 - (1) by act or omission, seek to abandon or terminate the Condominium regime; or
 - (2) change the pro-rata interest or obligations of any Condominium Unit for (i) purposes of levying assessments or charges or allocating distributions of hazard insurance proceeds or condemnation awards or, for (ii) determining the pro-rata share of the ownership of each Unit in appurtenant real estate and any improvements thereon which are owned by the Unit Owners in the Condominium project in undivided pro-rata interests (common areas and facilities); or,
 - (3) partition or subdivide any Condominium Unit;
 - (4) by act or omission, seek to abandon, partition, subdivide, encumber, sell or transfer the common areas facilities. The granting of easements for public

- utilities or for other purposes consistent with the intended use of the common areas and facilities by the Condominium project shall not be deemed a transfer within the meaning of this clause; or,
- (5) use hazard insurance proceeds for losses to any Condominium property (whether to Units or to common areas and facilities) for other than the repair, replacement or reconstruction of such improvements, except as provided by statute in case of substantial loss as to the Units and/or common areas and facilities of the Condominium project.
- (e) First mortgagees shall have the right to examine the books and records of the Condominium Trust.
- (f) No Condominium Owner, or any other party, shall have priority over any right of first mortgagees of Condominium Units pursuant to their mortgages in the case of a distribution to the Condominium Unit Owners of insurance proceeds or condemnation awards for losses to or a taking of all or a portion of any Condominium Unit and/or the common areas and facilities.
- 14. INVALIDITY. The invalidity of any provision of this Master Deed shall not be deemed to impair or affect in any manner the validity, enforceability or effect of the remainder of this Master Deed and, in such event, all of the other provisions of this Master Deed shall continue in full force and effect as if such invalid provision had never been included herein.

- 17. DEFINITIONS. All terms and expressions herein used which are defined in Section 1 of Chapter 183A shall have the same meanings herein unless the context otherwise requires.
- 18. CONFLICTS. This Master Deed is set forth to comply with the requirements of Chapter 183A of the General Laws of Massachusetts in effect upon the date of execution of this Master Deed and any future amendments thereto which are specifically made retroactive in application. In case any provisions stated within this Master Deed are in conflict with the provisions of said statute, the provisions of said statute shall control.
