I. Before the Uptons

The neighborhood at Bridge Street Neck is the oldest in Salem. It was there that the first English settlers in 1626 established their little community of Naumkeag. A few decades later in the late 1600s, the northern side of the Ferry Lane was owned largely by the Skerry family of yeomen farmers. Ferry Lane, which is today Bridge Street, was laid out from the Common towards the bridge to Beverly by 1698.¹

Marshall Henry Skerry passed his homestead down to his son John Skerry in 1697. John later moved to Kent in England, by 1718. Francis Skerry, a yeoman, purchased a lot of land from the estate of Jeffrey Massy in 1676. In 1700, Nathaniel Felton, Sr. and John Massy testified that “the homestead had six houses upon it before 1661”.²

When Francis died in 1736, it passed to his brother, Ephraim. In 1741, it went to Henry Skerry, who conveyed it to his son, Samuel Skerry, in 1781. Benjamin Webb, innholder, purchased the land in 1799 and died in 1815. Webb’s heirs owned part of the homestead until 1831, while Samuel Skerry owned another.

Bridge Street Neck developed later than the other parts of Salem in modern times, and in 1851, the northern tip was still largely unoccupied except for ropewalks and a few scattered houses, with the exceptions of the northern edge of Osborne Street and the area between Conant and Skerry streets. This made the northern side of Saunders Street and the southern side of Pearl Street the end of continuous Salem development in that era.

Many of the present side streets were laid out in the early 1800s as the population of Salem grew: Pearl and Cross Street in 1806, Northey Street in 1807, Saunders Street in 1825, Lemon Street in 1843, Conant Street transforming from a private way to a public way around 1850, Skerry Street by 1851, and finally, Burnside Street in 1858.³

The Saunders were an early Salem family, as physically evidenced by the headstones of Hannah and Elizabeth Saunders, dated 1707 and 1708 respectively, in the Charter Street Burying Ground. John Saunders was one of the earliest Salem settlers, granted 40 acres by the town in 1636 and a half acre of marshland in 1637.⁴⁵

According to Sidney Perley, Saunders street was so called in 1831, though it appears in Joseph Beadle’s 1813 deed and Paul Upton’s 1825 deed.⁶⁷⁸ It appears in the map of Salem in the 1837 directory.⁹ Between 1846 and 1850, the railway ran parallel to Saunders Street, just to its south.

The Salem Lead Company was established in 1868, manufacturing lead pipe and white lead, employing about thirty people. In 1874, Salem Lead Company was across the street along the North River. By the 1890s, this had become the National Lead Company. In 1903, a shoe factory was built by the Cass & Daley Building Association at 24 Saunders Street. A rear addition was added in 1975. The factory was standing in 1985, when it was surveyed by the Salem Planning Department but was demolished to make way for the North River Bypass in the early 1990s.¹⁰

2. The Descendants of Paul Upton

The Upton family was a presence in Salem since 1659, when John Upton, a blacksmith from Hammersmith (today Saugus) arrived in what is today Peabody. He and his wife Eleanor Stuart had 13 children, 10 of whom lived to adulthood, ensuring a local legacy. His oldest son, John, Jr. lived in Reading, where John Sr. removed to in 1676 and died in 1699. William, the second son, lived in what is today Danvers until 1739-1740.¹¹ In 1837, there were 11 Uptons listed in Salem. In 1842, 14, in 1850, 22, and in 1853, 28.¹²

Henry Orlando Upton, whose wife Elizabeth purchased The House of the Seven Gables on Turner Street and lived there until 1908, was a distant relative of the Saunders Street Uptons. Henry was the son of Ebenezer Upton, who was the son of Jesse Upton, who was the son of Ezra Upton, who was the son of Ens. Paul Upton, who was the fourth child of William Upton of Danvers. This made him the third cousin once removed of his contemporaries Joseph, Edward A., George Larrabee Upton.¹³

A number of family members of the Salem Light Infantry: Samuel Upton, 1809, Daniel R., 1829, Henry P., 1836, Daniel, 1854, John, 1861, Joseph M. Upton, 1884, Henry P. 1887.¹⁴

A. Paul Upton

The first Upton on Saunders Street was Paul Upton, born Dec. 26, 1760, to Caleb Upton, a tailor in Amherst, New Hampshire.¹⁵ Caleb was the tenth and youngest child of the William Upton mentioned above, born February 4, 1722.¹⁷

Paul married Rebecca Pierce on October 5, 1785, she was six years his junior.¹⁸ He served as director of the Salem Almshouse and was alleged to be “of great strength.”²⁰

The Uptons first son, Benjamin was born Jan. 17, 1786. Their second son, Joseph, was born January 27, 1788. Four more sons followed, for a total of six: John, Dec. 26, 1789, Samuel Dec. 6, 1791, Henry, Sept. 6, 1794, and Edmund, on May 9, 1797. Finally a daughter, Rebecca, was born Oct. 21, 1799.²¹ Rebecca died November 4, 1799, and her namesake followed her on December 19.²²

After Rebecca's death, Paul married Elizabeth Peirce on April 9, 1801.²³ She was the daughter of James and Elizabeth, baptized October 10, 1762.²⁴

In 1825, Paul purchased a $1,225 lot of land "on a new street, called Saunders Street, leading from Bridge Street to the North River."²⁵ The seller, master mariner Joseph Beadle, paid $845 in March 1813 to Moses Kimball for the lot. A housewright, Kimball built the dwelling house there after buying it from yeoman Benjamin Webb, mentioned above, for $423 on December 7, 1807.^{26,27} The first two decades of the nineteenth century were a period of rapid speculation and construction in the area north of the Salem Common, as seen on Andrew Street nearby.²⁸ In 1823, Paul Upton also bought a piece of land from Abiel Upton in Andover for $1,200.²⁹

Two of the Upton boys met early deaths at sea. Joseph died aged 30, by falling from the masthead of the brig Lion. His death was recorded on June 19, 1818. His brother, John, died at Batavia, aged 33, as master of ship Maine. His death was recorded on July 30, 1824.³⁰ Paul Upton died July 24, 1830, aged 69.³¹ On October 5, 1830, the committee to divide the estate (William Ropes, Joseph Beadle, and Joseph Vincent, Jr.) attested that Paul Upton died possessed of "a piece of land on Saunders Street with a dwelling house, valued at $1225.00 dollars." His only other real estate was a pew in Rev. Emerson's South Meeting House, valued at $20.³² His widow, Elizabeth, was entitled to one third of his real estate, valued at $415 and described as thus:

"The whole of the second story of said dwelling house, together with the eastern side of the garrett, as partitioned by the stairway, and a part of the cellar under said house beginning at the eastern cellar wall and running westerly to the cellar window, thence northerly to the arch, the boundary boeing marked on the flooring. Elizabeth Pierce Upton lived at 13 Saunders Street until she died on January 12, 1857, when she was 95.³³

The inventory of Paul Upton’s personal estate lists $70 from Edmund Upton for “House Rent due,” which judging by his presence at 13 Saunders in the 1837 directory, he was paying for space in his parent’s home. He is also owed bills of hand by his son Edmund, Henry, and Samuel Upton, totalling $6289.73. His personal estate came to the impressive sum of 3232.95.³⁴

His heirs are listed as his widow, Elizabeth, his four living sons, Benjamin, Edmund, Samuel, and Henry, and the three children of John, who had died six years earlier, John, Eliza, and Moses. Elizabeth received $842.50, while the five sons or their representatives each received $337.³⁵

B. Benjamin Upton and Family

Capt. Benjamin Upton, Paul’s oldest son, was a ship master and merchant. He married Priscilla Ropes on September 4, 1808. Their oldest child, Benjamin Upton, Jr., born 1809, served as a U.S. Consul in Buenos Aires, and lived in Rosario and Para in Brazil, as well as in New York City. He married a Brazilian woman from Para, Maria Francisca Corea Bulhao. The second child, Daniel Ropes Upton was born in 1811 and died at sea returning from Para in 1822 or 1823. The third child, Alice Rebecca Upton married Francis Putnam in 1842. The fourth child, George F. Upton became a consul at Rio Grande in Brazil and also lived in Buenos Aires.

The fifth child of Benjamin and Priscilla, Henry Paul, a merchant, married Harriet Ellen Savory in October 1840. They had five children, three of whom (Elizabeth Lewis, George N., Georgiana T.) survived to adulthood. Harriet died August 29, 1877; he died June 20, 1887.

The sixth child, Priscilla Lambert Upton, married George Nathan Ropes in 1846.³⁶ The seventh, Anna M. Upton, became a teacher. After Priscilla died June 8, 1828, Benjamin married Eliza Willis on October 11, 1831.

The eighth child of Benjamin, with Eliza Willis, was Edward Upton, was born April 22, 1837, he was a tanner and currier who served in the Civil War. He married twice and had two children, Martha and Sumner W.

The ninth and tenth children of Benjamin were twins, Daniel and Francis, were baptized May 7, 1839. Daniel became a bookkeeper, worked at a dry goods store, and served in the Civil War, while Francis became a music teacher. Annie M. Upton was a dressmaker, married to Daniel Upton, he died September 4, 1889.³⁷

Benjamin died November 4, 1853. Eliza died February 23, 1870.

C. John Upton and Family

John Upton, the third son of Rebecca and Paul, commanded the armed schooners Cossack and Helen as a privateer during the War of 1812. He married Mercy Townsend on December 6, 1812. She was baptized August 21, 1796 the daughter of Samuel and Mercy Townsend.³⁸

They had four children, three of whom survived to adulthood: John Pierce, born September 8, 1816, who became a printer in San Francisco; Eliza M., born about 1820; and Moses Townsend, born January 7, 1822. Moses worked as a carpenter and married two women named Sarah Jackson (to Sarah A. Jackson and Sarah Ellen Jackson), producing three children who survived to adulthood (Moses T., Jr., Catherine J., and Edmund T.) He died September 11, 1870.³⁹

John died at Batavia, in August 1824. Mercy died May 4, 1855. Eliza M. Upton died July 7, 1885.

D. Samuel Upton and Family

Samuel Upton was a master mariner. He married Mary Fabens on January 22, 1818. She was born the daughter of William Fabens, March 13, 1801.⁴⁰ They had eight children, six of whom lived to adulthood: Samuel Fabens, born March 1, 1821; Paul, born December 26, 1827; William F., a shipmaster who lived in South Danvers; Charles H., born 1833, was also a shipmaster and married Abby M. Brown on June 30, 1864; Horace G., born 1839; and Harriet Maria, who married William Serls Howard of Beverly on December 7, 1865. Samuel F. Upton became a lumber dealer, married Mary R. Brown, and moved to Chelsea in the 1850s. Neither of their two children, Mary and Thomas, lived to adulthood. He died July 13, 1869. Paul died January 18, 1884⁴¹ Sarah F. Upton, his widow, died July 4, 1890.

Samuel died before 1861 and Mary Fabens Upton died June 4, 1863.

Capt. Henry Upton was a master mariner and tollkeeper for the Beverly Salem Bridge. He married Eliza Peel Needham on August 14, 1823. She was likely the daughter of John Needham born September 29, 1801.⁴² They had a daughter and a son, Mary Bell and Thomas Needham, both of whom died as children. Eliza died December 27, 1863, and he died in Taunton a decade later in 1873.

Sally Stone Larrabee was born January 2, 1809.⁴³ She married Edmund Upton, on February 20, 1825, when she was 16 and he was 27.⁴⁴ They had three sons: Joseph, in 1825, Edward Augustus on July 14, 1828, and George Larrabee on October 7, 1832.⁴⁵⁴⁶

According to the Massachusetts Historic Commission, Capt. Edmund and Elizabeth (Sally S.) Upton owned both the large Federal houses at 5 and 13 Saunders Street.⁴⁷⁴⁸ Edmund died on September 21, 1860, leaving his entire estate to Sally, allowing her to divide it among their children: Joseph Upton, Edmund A. Upton, and George L. Upton.⁴⁹

Edmund Augustus Upton became a master mariner and died on June 8, 1881. His mother, Sally S. Upton, served as his executrix, with George L. Upton and Charles Lawson as sureties. He was also survived by his brother. Joseph.⁵⁰

Capt. Joseph Upton was a ship master, who according to Sidney Perley, lived in Boston. He married Sarah B. Safford on August 17, 1852. She was probably Sarah Baxter Russell, the daughter of Joshua Safford, born October 26, 1828.⁵¹ It is unclear if her father was the son of Thomas Safford and Sarah A. Osborne, born December 13, 1801 or the son of Joshua Safford and Dorothy, born January 1, 1803.⁵² After Sarah's death in Boston on September 7, 1865, Joseph married Mary Jane Sumner. They had three children: Joseph Marshall, born December 3, 1868 in Beverly, married Mary E. Williams Dawn and died in Somerville on May 9, 1946; Annie L., who married Charles W. Rice June 21, 1894; and Henry Roberts, born May 3, 1875, in Salem, who passed away August 24, 1876.

Joseph died on November 28, 1884.⁵³ Mary then married Winfield S. Mitchell on January 15, 1898.⁵⁴

George Larrabee Upton worked as a carpenter. He married Hannah J. Walton, and they had five children: Edmund Augustus, born April 15, 1863; Alice R. Upton, born October 14, 1865; Grace, born March 14, 1868; George, born August 10, 1870, and Sally Stone, born September 5, 1873.⁵⁵

The younger Edmund Augustus was a carpenter. He married Alice F. Morse of Beverly, on October 27, 1887. They had a daughter, Ednah Marguerite, born April 15, 1892.⁵⁶ Alice R. married Rev. Joseph Wheelwright of Byfield, January 22, 1884. Grace married Arthur M. Root,

Sally died January 20, 1900, just having turned 91.⁵⁸ Her obituary in the January 22, 1900 Salem Gazette noted that she was “A Wife 35 Years, A Widow 40; Once a Sweet Choir Singer.”⁵⁹ George Larrabee Upton died August 10, 1909.

The Edmund Uptons in question are not to be confused with Paul’s slightly older brother, Edmund Upton, born circa 1760, who was also a ship master. He married Priscilla Gardner on September 11, 1791. She died in January 1823. He died in February of 1836.⁶⁰ His son, Edmund, was first mate of the ship Columbus out of Boston, at Matanzas, Cuba when he died on July 8, 1827, aged 36 years. Edmund Jr. had married Mary Southward on April 24, 1822.⁶¹

3. The Upton’s Real Estate, 1840-1854

Benjamin Upton

On November 13, 1845, Benjamin Upton was one of 26 people to be given 86 Federal Street by Michael McCarthy in payment of his debts.⁶² He also invested with others in land on Brown Street.⁶³

John Willis, mariner, to Benjamin Upton (land from Aaron Osborn, Apr. 5th, 1839, 269:82) for $1,000 on April 12, 1845.⁶⁴

Aaron Osborn, housewright, Betsey, his wife, to John Willis. [On the easterly side of Oliver Street] “with all the buildings thereon.”⁶⁵

In January 1849, Henry P. Upton, and his brother-in-law, George Savory, bought a piece of land on Lafayette Street from a number of parties for $1,400.⁶⁶ The following month they bought a lot on Woodbury and LaGrange Streets from the same sellers for $550.⁶⁷ In 1852, Henry P. purchased more land in the Lafayette Street area, abutting land George Savory.⁶⁸

On August 14, 1851, Benjamin Upton, Jr. bought, for $4,957, a lot of land on Lafayette Street in trust for the Chevalier Miguel Jozé Rais of Brazil.⁶⁹ In 1853, Benjamin Upton, Jr.’s wife,

Maria Francisca Correa Upton, bought property on Union Street.⁷⁰ The next year, she sold it to Henry P.⁷¹

On April 23, 1855, Eliza W. Upton, widow of Benjamin Upton, merchant, for $30, sold her interest in a “to the lower story of a certain two Story, wooden Dwelling House, situate by Saunders Street in said Salem and numbered 13” together with the “that portion of the land and the privileges appurtenant to said lower story.” (517:267)

On December 8, 1858, Benjamin Upton, of New York City, George F. Upton, “now living in Rio Grande, in South America, Francis and Alice Putnam, George N. and Priscilla Ropes, Henry P. Upton, Anna M. Upton, Francis Upton, Daniel Upton, Edward Upton, of Salem for $100, sold to Sally S. Upton “a certain parcel of land” bounded “on the North by a private way of land now or late of Thorndike, East by Saunders Street, South by land of Edmund Upton, and West by Essex Rail Road.”⁷²

John Upton

John P. Upton, printer, for $1 from his mother, Mercy Upton, quitclaimed the estate of his father, John Upton, and grandfather, Paul Upton, September 29, 1837.⁷³

Moses T. Upton, housewright, paid his mother, Mercy, $400 for her house and land on May 19, 1845, described as: “Beginning at the south east corner of said Mercy Upton’s garden and running Northerly sixty three feet bounded Easterly on land of Preston, then running Westerly fifty feet and three inches bounded Northerly by other land of said Mercy Upton then running Southerly sixty one feet and eight inches bounded Westerly by land of Narbone late Andrews then running Easterly fifty two feet bounded Southerly by land of Ropes late Princes lot, together with a privilege of a passageway or Court of the width of seventeen feet leading over the land of said Mercy from Essex Street to said lot said passageway to extend over that said part of Mercy’s and now occupied by her dwelling house.”⁷⁴ Moses then sold that “dwelling house, situate in the rear of Mercy Upton’s estate opposite to Pleasant Street” the same day, to Joseph G. Waters for $700.⁷⁵

Moses T. and Eliza M. Upton “having received from Mercy Upton, [their] guardian, the full amount of our shares of the estate of our late father, John Upton, and our grandfather, Paul Upton” remised and released Mercy from debts they may have called on the sums on 17 June 1845.⁷⁶

In 1849, the mariner Francis M. Ashton sold a lot on Essex Street to Moses T. Upton.⁷⁷ The next year he bought a lot on the southfields for $500.⁷⁸ In 1854, he purchased some land on the corner of Mall and Forrester Streets with James N. Brown and Levi Wiggins.⁷⁹ He and brown also bought land on Union Street.⁸⁰

May 4, 1858: John P. and Mary Ann Upton of San Francisco, for $100, “one undivided third part of one undivided quarter part of a certain lot of land.” It is described as the same lot conveyed to Paul Upton 240:25, a grandfather of John P. Upton.

Samuel Upton

On August 1, 1823, merchant Joseph White deeded a dwelling house and land to Samuel for $1,550. It was bounded “northwesterly on Bridge Street about 70 feet, easterly on land of John Osgood, about 170 feet, southeasterly on said Osgood about 68 feet, in a line nearly parallel with Bridge Street, and southwesterly ion said Osgood about 170 feet to the first bounds.” The land had been purchased from Thaddeus Gwinn, July 3, 1823.⁸¹

Robert and Rebecca O. Stone, Susan W. Osgood, Elizabeth Osgood, and John B. and Hannah M. Osgood, on April 29, 1841, sold to Samuel Upton for $362, “a lot of land bounded northwesterly 58 feet or thereabout on Bridge Street, northeasterly 115 feet or thereabout on land sold by us this day to Daniel B. Gardner, then northwesterly about 47 feet more or less on the same, northwesterly again 74 feet or thereabout on Osgood Street, southeasterly 101 feet more or less on land belonging to us, and 181 feet more or less on other land of said Upton.⁸² The lot measured 13,800 square feet.

In 1842, Samuel received through his wife Mary, one ninth part of her father’s mansion on High Street and nearby parcels on Gedney Street and “Negro Lane.”⁸³

Samuel Upton granted Samuel F. Upton power of attorney, June 29, 1846. Both were described as merchants.⁸⁴ William Fabens, Esq. of Marblehead then on December 2, 1846 paid $2500 for “all that messuage situate on Bridge Street... now occupied and improved by said Upton,” including the previous purchases from White and Stone.⁸⁵

Samuel invested with others in land in Beverly in 1847.⁸⁶⁷

On December 7, 1847, Mary R.B. Upton, Samuel F.'s wife, inherited "an undivided fifth part of a certain messuage in Federal Street" and "also one undivided fifth part of a lot of land with dwelling houses stores, barn and other buildings thereon" bounded by Mill and Creek Streets.⁸⁸ On May 14, 1849, Mary R.B. Upton, along with Ephraim Brown, Jr., Daniel Brown, and Joseph A. Brown, bought from Ephraim Brown, Jr. his extra share of their father Ephraim's estate, giving them each one fourth part.⁸⁹

Paul Upton bought from Elizabeth Osgood a messuage on Bridge Street abutting his brother Samuel's land.⁹⁰ William Fabens assigned his property to Paul in 1852.⁹¹

Edmund

Edmund Upton purchased a parcel of real estate in 1839 at the corners of Saunders at Cross Streets, number 5, along with another parcel from William H. Honeycomb, a housewright, for $600. The first lot is described as "a certain parcel of real estate situate on the corner of Saunders and a Cross street in said Salem, Consisting of the southern half of a dwelling house standing thereon with the land under and adjoining, bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at the middle of the door on Saunders Street and running westerly directly through the house on a line parallel with the southern bound on said Cross street to a common six feet way, about 44 feet: thence southerly by said common way to the aforementioned Cross Street: thence southerly by said Cross Street to Saunders Street: thence by said Saunders Street to the middle of the door aforementioned, the point begun at, with a privilege of using in common the entry way and stairs leading from Saunders Street, the passageway on the western side of the house and the necessary at the end of said passageway."⁹²

The second is "a certain parcel of land next adjoining the estate of the heirs of Paul Upton situate on said Saunders Street beginning at the Northeast corner and running southerly on said Saunders Street twenty three feet and six inches to land of Samuel R. Honeycomb; thence easterly about forty four feet to the common way aforementioned; thence by said way: thence northerly by said way to land of Upton's heirs: thence easterly by said land to the point begun at." This second lot is where 11 Saunders Street was built 43 years later.

On May 14, 1852: John Dwyer and Thomas F. Odell, assignees under insolvent laws for Benj. Upton, Benj. Upton, Jr., and Henry F. Upton, "merchants and insolvent debtors" for $137 from Sally S. Upton, wife of Edmund, transferred "the property of said insolvent in and to two thirds of one undivided quarter part of a certain messuage." It consisted of a lot "situated in

Eliza W. Upton conveyed her rights to the lower story of 13 Saunders for $30 on May 14, 1852.⁹⁵

On November 27, 1857, Moses T. Upton and Eliza M. Upton, brother and sister and residents of Salem, conveyed to Sally S. Upton “two undivided third parts of one undivided quarter part of a certain lot of land” for $100 of the same lot mentioned above.

4. Saunders Street in the Mid-Nineteenth Century

In 1837, according to the Salem Directory, Edmund Upton, a mariner, and Elizabeth, lived at 13 Saunders.⁹⁶ Victualler Samuel R. Honeycomb, whose business was at 14 Derby Square, lived at 5 Saunders along with Mary Flakefield, a sempstress.⁹⁷⁹⁸ Stephen Badger, a carpenter, lived at 8 Saunders.⁹⁹ At 14 Saunders was the Rev. Joseph Banvard of the Second Baptist Church who lived from 1810 to 1887 and wrote a number of nonfiction books including The Young Observers, or, How to Learn Without Books in 1846, Plymouth and the Pilgrims in 1851, and the novel Priscilla; or, Trials for the truth. An historic tale of the Puritans and the Baptists in 1854.¹⁰⁰¹⁰¹ In 1842, Banvard moved to 95 Federal Street in Salem.¹⁰²

By the time of the 1842 directory, the street had grown and was renumbered. Elizabeth was at 13 Saunders.¹⁰³ Samuel R. Honeycomb was at 3 Saunders.¹⁰⁴ The newly constructed 8 Saunders was home to Samuel Barnard, who worked in lumber, Elijah B. Barnard, a tinsplate maker, and Henry Thomas, a mariner.¹⁰⁵¹⁰⁶ The last resident has his name redoubled as “Thomas Kenry” in the directory.¹⁰⁷ Stephen Badger was at 10 Saunders.¹⁰⁸ 14 Saunders was lived in by

William Lefavour and Jonathan W. Perkins, mariners.¹⁰⁹¹¹⁰

In 1846, Elizabeth Upton was still at 13 Saunders with Mrs. Hannah Burbank, a nurse.¹¹¹¹¹² Samuel R. Honeycomb, who was by then a carpenter, lived at 5 Saunders with Celecia Honeycomb. William Honeycomb, perhaps his father, provided $4.08 worth of carpentry work to the estate of Paul Upton in 1830.¹¹³ There was another Honeycomb who was a carpenter, Thomas B. Honeycomb, who worked at H. & Edwards on 6 North and lived at 92 Essex Street.¹¹⁴ At 8 Saunders are Samuel Barnard, who works at the lumber wharf on Water Street, Ezekiel Needham, and Henry Thomas.¹¹⁵¹¹⁶¹¹⁷ James Gilbert, Jr., a mariner, lives at 10 Saunders.¹¹⁸ Jonathan W. Perkins is still at 14 Saunders with Benjamin Whitmore, a clerk at a cordage factory on Bridge Street.¹¹⁹

Another Upton is found on Saunders Street in 1850: In addition to Elizabeth at 13 Saunders, Joseph Upton, a clerk at 15 Derby Wharf, is living at 5 Saunders Street.¹²⁰ Also at 5 Saunders Street are Mrs. Benjamin Pickering and William Waters, a chair painter.¹²¹¹²² At 8 Saunders can be found John D. Howard, Charles D. Howard, a printer, and Henry Thomas, a mariner.¹²³¹²⁴ Capt. George Bartram and Horatio D. Hobbs, who worked at Franklin Market are at 10 Saunders.¹²⁵¹²⁶ 13 Saunders is home to Samuel Benson, Jr., a laborer, and Jonathan W. Perkins is still at number 14.¹²⁷¹²⁸

In Henry McIntyre's 1851 map of Salem, the house at 13 Saunders listed as belonging to "Upton's heirs," and there is no home where 11 Saunders stands today.¹²⁹

In the 1851 Salem directory, Elizabeth Upton was still at 13 Saunders.¹³⁰ William Waters remained at 5 Saunders Street, though Joseph Upton was gone. He was possibly replaced by James

W. Green.¹³¹ 8 Saunders was home to Samuel Barnard, who worked at 19 Water Street, Charles D. and John D. Howard, and Henry Thomas.¹³²¹³³¹³⁴ Some more printers lived next door at 10 Saunders Street: Warren J. Dowe and Benjamin W. Lander.¹³⁵¹³⁶ Number 13 was home to Samuel Benson, Jr., a laborer and Charles Reddish, a gasfitter who worked at 25 Washington.¹³⁷¹³⁸ Number 14, in addition to Capt. Jonathan W. Perkins, housed Capt. John Gillen, captain.¹³⁹¹⁴⁰

The 1853 directory lists Elizabeth Upton at 13 Saunders, along with Mrs. Mary Ann Baker and Samuel Benson, Jr., a laborer.¹⁴¹¹⁴²¹⁴³ Joseph Upton, then a grocer at 104 Derby Street, is listed as a resident of the newly constructed (and since demolished) 17 Saunders Street.¹⁴⁴ The rest of the street remained much as it had two years earlier, with Gillen, Lander, Perkins, Waters in the same houses as they had occupied in 1851. William W. Goldthwait, a clerk at 14 Newbury Street, then lived at 10 Saunders.¹⁴⁵ Philip Morse, a cabinet maker lived at 5 Saunders.¹⁴⁶ The newly constructed (and since demolished) 19 Saunders was home to James Wells, a coach painter.¹⁴⁷ Charles D. Willoughby, a bootmaker at 41 Essex Street, lived at 8 Saunders, with Aaron C. Young, a carpenter.¹⁴⁸¹⁴⁹

Capt. Edmund at 2 Cross Street in 1850, 1851, 1853, and 1855; and Capt. Edmund A. Upton lived there as well in 1853 in 1855.¹⁵⁰¹⁵¹ George L. Upton lived at 2 Cross Street as well in 1855. Mrs. Edmund Upton lived at 5 Saunders Street.

Captain Joseph Upton moved frequently before moving to 11 Saunders, in 1855, he was at 5 Skerry Street, at 51 Bridge Street in 1857, and in 1864 at 15 Saunders Street.¹⁵²¹⁵³¹⁵⁴

The Phippens built the prominently-gabled Italianate house at 2-4 Saunders Street at some point in the mid-nineteenth century after 1851. George D. Phippen, for $500, sold to George L. Upton a lot of land on the north side of Bridge Street on July 30, 1859.¹⁵⁵

Charles A. Dodge, tanner, lived at 2 Cross on the corner of Saunders in 1879.¹⁵⁶ Edward Busch's 1874 Atlas of Salem shows the large amount of land between 5 and 13 Saunders where 11 Saunders would soon be relocated.¹⁵⁷

11 Saunders was built circa 1840 according to the Massachusetts Historical Commission's database, MACRIS¹⁵⁸ A 2002 study of the architecture of the Bridge Street Neck neighborhood by Lisa Mausolf and Betsy Friedberg concluded it was a Greek Revival house built circa 1840 that was moved to its present site circa 1882.¹⁵⁹ An 1883 Bird's Eye View of Salem reveals that the house was newly relocated to Saunders Street.¹⁶⁰

Captain Joseph Upton was a master mariner. In 1853, he twice travelled aboard the bark Active to Para.¹⁶¹

He lived at 13 Saunders in the 1870s, then he moved to 15 Saunders in 1881.¹⁶² The 1882-83 Directory lists Joseph Upton at 11 Saunders Street, its first appearance.¹⁶³

In 1884, Joseph Upton, master mariner, lived at 11 Saunders Street, though he died that year on September 28. His widow, Mary J., and son, Joseph M., continued living there.¹⁶⁴ In 1886, Mary J. Upton, widow of Joseph, lived at 11 Saunders.¹⁶⁵ The 1890 atlas of Salem indicates the house was owned by E. Upton's heirs, as were the adjacent buildings to the east and west.¹⁶⁶

In 1890, "Miss Annie L. Upton" is listed at 11 Saunders, along with her mother, Mary J.¹⁶⁷ Between 1895 and 1898, it was occupied by Mary J. Upton¹⁶⁸¹⁶⁹ In 1898 she remarried to Winfield S. Mitchell, a foreman mechanic at the Boston & Maine railroad repair shop. He lived at 204 North Street, and in 1899 moved to 6 Oakland Street, presumably with Mary.¹⁷⁰¹⁷¹

Annie married Charles Rice in 1894. In 1899-1900, Charles W. Rice was a clerk at Neal & Newhall, dealers in gentlemen's furnishings and hats at 230 Essex and living at 11 Saunders.¹⁷²¹⁷³ The previous year, he had been at 38 Northend Ave.¹⁷⁴ Charles and Annie were at 11 Saunders still in 1901-2.¹⁷⁵ The same is true in 1906.¹⁷⁶ In 1910, the Rices were no longer there, having moved in with Mary at 6 Oakland.¹⁷⁷ By then, she had been widowed again between 1906 and 1910.¹⁷⁸

The first Rice in the Salem directories is Henry Rice, a sailmaker living at 15 Essex in 1837.¹⁷⁹ In 1842 and 1846, he lived at 20 Carleton.¹⁸⁰¹⁸¹ In 1850, he lived at 98 Turner Street.¹⁸²

From 1851 to 1857, he was back at Carleton, at number 17 or 17½.¹⁸³¹⁸⁴ In 1864, he was at 19 Carleton.¹⁸⁵

In 1853, there are also listed: George W. Rice, a broker, who lived at 14 Howard, John Rice, a tailor who lived at 12 River Street, and Sylvester Rice, a shoemaker who lived at the corner of Water and Liberty Streets.¹⁸⁶ The 1855 Directory lists John, living near Dearborn, and Mrs. Eliza, a dressmaker, at 9 English.¹⁸⁷ In 1857, John was at 13 Lynn. Joshua Rice was a fisherman at 23 Carleton.¹⁸⁸

In 1864, Andrew J. Rice, a shoemaker at 17 St. Peters, made his first appearance living at 17 Saunders. John was at 22 River, Robert, a currier, boarded at 19 Boston. William H. Rice, another shoemaker, lived at the rear of 31 Bridge.¹⁸⁹

In 1879, William F. Rice, a blacksmith at the Eastern Railroad Car Shop, was the only Rice at 5 Skerry Street.¹⁹⁰ In 1884, there were 15 Rices, though none at Saunders Street.¹⁹¹ Charles W. Rice, a clerk at 202 Essex, boards at 5 Skerry, as does William F. Rice, a blacksmith at E. R. R. Car Shop.¹⁹² In 1886, Charles worked as a clerk at 228 Essex Street and boarded at 5 Skerry with William F. Rice. Walter B. Rice, a clerk at 69 Bridge, also boarded there.

Annie L. Rice, wife of Charles W. Rice, born about 1870, him about 1868, living at 18 Cross Street in the 1940 Census.¹⁹³

At 11 Saunders, Lewis N. Benway, a driver, was the sole resident in 1906, 1910, and 1911.¹⁹⁴¹⁹⁵ "A. Rice" owns 11 Saunders according to the 1911 Atlas.¹⁹⁶ Charles W. and Annie Rice returned in 1914 and lived there until 1915.¹⁹⁷¹⁹⁸

In 1917, Wills M. Quimby, an engineer, lived at 11 Saunders with his wife, Leona, and W. Foster Quimby, who was serving in the U.S. Navy in WWI.¹⁹⁹

Ethel J. Swann and her husband, Camden J. Swann, a bookkeeper at the Russell Simm Tanning Company at 10 Blaney lived there in 1921.²⁰⁰

Florence, born July 9, 1927, John, born May 2, 1931, Rachel, born about 1935, James, born about 1942, and Victor, born May 8, 1945.²¹¹²¹²²¹³²¹⁴²¹⁵²¹⁶²¹⁷

He was a corporal in the Massachusetts infantry. His brothers, Louis and John, both served in the Korean War. Anthony died aged 29 October 28, 1965 in Waltham and is buried in St. Mary's Cemetery in Salem.²¹⁸

Following the Tamilios, for almost the last forty years of the twentieth century the house at 11 Saunders Street was occupied by two successive generations of the Gray family.

On the 14th of June, 1961, Donald E. and Barbara E. Gray bought 11 Saunders Street from Anthony Tamilio and Eleanor M. Tamilio for consideration paid.²¹⁹

Barbara E. Gray and Donald E. Gray were husband and wife, divorced by 1966. On June 11, 1966, Donald E. Gray transferred his interest in the property to Barbara.²²⁰ Donald E. Gray died April 6, 1991.²²¹

Lynda D. Piecewicz, of Beverly, executrix of Donald E. Gray, passed the house to Donald W. Gray.²²²

Donald W. served in the Coast Guard and worked for the Salem, New Hampshire Post Office. He married Marjorie Gaudet. Donald W. Gray died aged 83 on February 8, 2013 at Salem, New Hampshire. According to his obituary, he “enjoyed bowling, playing golf, and horseshoes, and most of all he loved spending time with his family and watching his grandson jplay hockey.”²²³

Jeffrey and Kelly A. Cheney, later of Tucson, AZ, husband and wife, purchased the property from Donald W. Gray for $129,000 on May 28 1999²²⁴

Katerina Done of Lynn purchased the home from Jeffrey and Kelly A. Cheney on 6 Nov 2002 $276,500²²⁵²²⁶

Lauren Wedham and Linda Worthington, joint tenants, purchased the home on January 14, 2004 from the U.S. Bank National Association for $295,000²²⁷

Daniel J. and Kelley L. Dugery, husband and wife, purchased the home from Wedham and Worthington on May 16 2007 for $295,000.²²⁸

The property still consists of the same two parcels as the late Upton period: The first, Easterly by Saunders Street, 46 feet. Southerly by land formerly of Sally S. Upton. 44 feet. Westerly by land of said Upton, Northerly by other land of said Upton, about 44.7 feet. The second, Easterly on Saunders Street. 13 feet, Southerly, by land of George S. Upton, 62.8 feet. Westerly by a railroad fence, 23.15 feet. Northerly by B&M Railroad 17.8 feet. Easterly by land of Sally S. Upton, 11 feet. Northerly by said land of Sally S. Upton, 44 feet.

6. Conclusion:

When Paul Upton moved to Saunders Street in 1825, it was on the outskirts of Salem's Common and Harbor neighborhoods. The yeoman son of an Amherst, New Hampshire tailor with Salem roots, Paul had six sons and amassed a sizable estate by his death in 1830. His four surviving sons and several grandsons quickly set about buying and speculating in land, much of it around Saunders and Bridge Streets. Many became ship captains, plying the trade in Brazil and the West Indies. 1839, Edmund, his youngest son (the youngest son of a youngest son of a youngest son) purchased the southern half of 5 Saunders Street and the lot to the south of 13 Saunders. It remained undeveloped until Captain Joseph Upton, who had bounced around many different houses in the neighborhood, moved a house to the property. The house was a fine side-gabled Greek Revival, built probably 40 years earlier when its style was at its height. Its original builder, construction date, and location have not yet been determined. After Joseph's death in 1884, his widow Mary J. lived there until she remarried. Joseph and Mary's daughter, Annie, and her husband, Charles W. Rice lived in the house off and on in the early twentieth century. Tenants included the electrician Elisha Vogler and machinist Walter W. Perlins. The Rices' descendants owned the house until 1959, when it was purchased by Anthony and Eleanor M. Tamilio. Donald E. and Barbara E. Gray owned the house from 1966 to 1992, when it was passed to their son, Donald W., who owned it another seven years. The twenty-first century has seen several shorter term tenants, but the historic charm of 11 Saunders remains.
