

THE HIGH HAT

Norfolk Division College of William and Mary

Vol. 1

Norfolk, Va., November, 1930

No. 1

BANG! BASKETBALL SEASON STARTS OFF WITH A CRASH

On Monday, November 17, a call was issued for basketball candidates. About 20 men responded. The team will be coached by Tommy Scott, who starred several seasons for the V. M. I. varsity.

Most of the home games will be played on the Blair Court while the more important games will be transferred to the Maury gymnasium.

Although practice is still young, some flashy footwork has been pulled off with indications of a fast quintet. Several former local and prep school stars are out for the team, which makes the outlook bright at the present. The players who have reported are as follows: Walker, Phillips, Hamburger, Maxey, Baxter, Tonelson, Odell, Rydeen, L. Synder, M. Synder, T. Taylor, Alexander, Shaffer, Kahn, Ottley, Facchini, Karlin, Kaufman and Nesson.

The schedule has been practically arranged and is very attractive. The team will play most of the leading prep and high school teams of the state. Several smaller schools are also included on the schedule. One trip, lasting a week and calling for a journey through the entire state. The schedule follows:

- Dec. 12—South Norfolk High School, South Norfolk.
- Dec. 19—Suffolk High School, Suffolk.
- Jan. 2—W. & M. Freshman, Williamsburg.
- Jan. 9—Oceana High School, Norfolk.
- Jan. 10—Maury High School, Norfolk.
- Jan. 14—Campbell College, N. C., Norfolk.
- Jan. 16—Blackstone Military Academy, Norfolk.
- Jan. 17—Norfolk College, Norfolk.
- Jan. 30—Woodrow Wilson High School, Portsmouth.
- Feb. 2—Pending.
- Feb. 3—W. & L. Freshmen, Lexington.
- Feb. 4—V. M. I. Freshmen (pending), Lexington.
- Feb. 5—V. P. I. Freshman (pending), Blacksburg.
- Feb. 6—Pending.
- Feb. 7—Augusta Military Academy (pending), Fort Defiance.
- Feb. 11—Woodrow Wilson High School, Norfolk.
- Feb. 14—Maury High School, Norfolk.
- Feb. 17—Fort Union Military Academy, Norfolk.
- Feb. 20—Ocean High School, Oceana.

- Feb. 25—South Norfolk High School, Norfolk.
- Feb. 27—Davidson College Freshman, Davidson, N. C.
- March 4—Suffolk High School, Norfolk.
- March 6—Pending.
- March 11—Pending.
- March 13—Pending.

The Retail Merchants' Association, Norfolk, Virginia
Nov. 15, 1930

Prof. H. Edgar Timmerman, Director, Norfolk Division, William and Mary College, Norfolk, Va.

Dear Sir:

The board of directors of this association, at a special meeting yesterday, approved "The High Hat" as an advertising medium for the members of this association, this approval extending to June, 1931, the end of the school year.

It is distinctly to be understood that this approval by the board of directors does not in any way commit any member of the association to use the publication. That is a matter for the individual member to decide for himself.

The advertising manager of The High Hat may use this letter as a means of informing the members of the Retail Merchants Association that its board of directors has approved the use of the publication as an advertising medium, if they choose to avail themselves of it.

Yours very truly,

Signed: F. L. CHADWICK,
Secretary.
FLC-C (Seal)

SOUSA RECEIVES HUGE OVATION

Lieut. Com. John Phillip Sousa, venerable band leader, was well received Monday afternoon and evening, November 17, by over 4,000 music lovers of Norfolk.

The bandmaster wielded his baton with as much vigor as in his younger days.

"Stars and Stripes Forever" made the biggest hit of the selections rendered. The piccolo sextette received thunderous applause. The selection was ended with the piccolo, trombone and trumpet sections playing fortissimo.

The xylophone solo was well received. The 66 pieces left a good impression on the Norfolk audience.

AT THE NEWPORT THEATRE

Thanksgiving was ushered in by "The Sap From Syracuse," featuring none other than the rip-snorting, laugh-provoking hero, Jack Oakie. As a victim of mistaken identity, he was superb. Jack's bubbling personality puts the picture in the class of good,

College Library

The latest impetus to study in this college is the addition of a library. The library, although far from complete, is an excellent indication of the books to come. The several shelves are divided according to subjects, that is, certain divisions for history, economics, government English, chemistry and psychology. Many of the latest and best known texts on each subject are included.

Although students are not allowed behind the library rail, a request to the attendant will be promptly filled for any book. Books may be taken from the room by charging them to the student on a special card after 3:00 P. M. on every day except Saturday, when the time is 1:00 P. M. They must be returned before 9:15 A. M. on the next college day, or a fine of 25 cents is imposed for each school hour that the book is overdue.

Magazines and large reference books may never be taken from the library, but may be used in the room. "Webster's New International Dictionary" is the latest Monthly editions of the Britannica series, and several good encyclopedias are among the reference books.

The library is open from 9:00 to 12:00, and from 1:00 to 5:00, except on Saturdays, when the time is from 9:00 to 1:00. This room is open to the student body as a study hall with only one restriction imposed—"No talking."

The Football Season

When the football season of the Norfolk Division of William and Mary College opened the outlook was rather dull. After the first game, in which the "Braves" were defeated by Suffolk High, 6 to 0, the outlook was even more dull. However, Coach Scott injected some unfathomable "vim" and power into his teams, hence impressive victories were scored over such teams as Oceana High, South Norfolk High, Hertford High and our brothers, the William and Mary Freshmen, of Williamsburg. In a return game, the "Papooses" held the "Braves" to a scoreless tie. The brunt has been carried on by Captain Wilson, Walker, Maxey and Hawkins in the backfield, while in the line, Phillips, Preston, Hamburger, Parks, Odell, Eames and Vann have proven veritable barriers on the defense. The rest of the team, which includes Kaufman, Facchini, Hall, Fantone, Seagle, Abrams and others, have shown up well under fire. The season has been most successful, and Coach Scott is well pleased with his charges. Take a tip and keep an eye on the "Braves" next year.

First Issue of Local Fortnightly Distributed

"High Hat" Is Work of Temporary Staff Appointed by Director

With this issue, the "High Hat," the official publication of the local division of the College of William and Mary, makes its debut, and beginning on a sound basis a career that the staff hopes will be long and successful. Last week several staff members attended the meeting in Williamsburg of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and there met, conversed with, and discussed newspapers with other representatives from all the college publications of the state. Although this staff is somewhat inexperienced, it might be added that these round table discussions threw great light on the tricks of the trade and have aided much in the presentation of this

No one, as yet, has been permanently elected to either the business or the editorial staffs of the paper. Such an election will be based on the quality as well as the quantity of articles presented by all who desire to compete for a place. All students are eligible for either staff and, although the editorial division, headed by Wilson Chandler, is greatly supported by the student body, Charles Cross, Dorothy Oliver and Land Mott urge additional auxiliaries for the business end.

The Norfolk Retail Merchants' Association threw up a rampart of hope and strength last week when it agreed to accept the publication as a creditable medium of advertisement. This will, indeed, aid the financial end of the endeavor, as no retail merchant in the city will give advertisements to any form of paper not accepted by the association. No subscriptions will be made among the student body for the paper, and it is to be run primarily on the financial basis furnished by the advertisers.

The present size of the paper has been adopted as favorable by the staff and will appear fortnightly on Friday. Several copies will be mailed to the various other college as exchanges and besides being distributed among the local students will also be sent to the advertisers.

FOOTBALL ELECTION

At the meeting of the football team, "Junie" Wilson was elected captain. "Junie" played with Maury High in '28 and the V. M. I. Freshmen in '29. The college is fortunate in having "June." He has proved a most admirable captain, and the team should be commended for its wisdom in selecting Wilson as a pilot.

To the Students of The Norfolk Division College of William and Mary

It is indeed a rare opportunity that a college administrator has the privilege of officially welcoming a new class and at the same time offering his congratulations to them for the establishment of a new publication.

What has been done in this new division of an old and honored institution during the past two months is now history, and to say what we are going to do in the future would require a special gift of prophesy. Yet, there are so many things that one can do to make the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary an institution to which not only the City of Norfolk, but all of Virginia and the whole South, may look to with pride. It is especially important that during this formation period that the faculty and the student body co-operate in the highest degree in order that the institution may pass through its really "critical" period. I am sure that all are desirous of seeing the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary expand and develop to meet the fullest educational needs of the City of Norfolk, and to this end may I ask your help?

With the establishment of this publication of the student body, I feel that a much needed want in our school has been fulfilled. The High Hat can be of so much service to our division of the college that it is hard for us to realize its potentialities. It should boost our athletic, literary, dramatic and musical activities, and at the same time stand for the highest in scholastic attainment. I know that will prove to be an expression of the latent talents of our student body.

I bid the students of the Norfolk Division, College of William and Mary, and The High Hat a welcome.

H. EDGAR TIMMERMAN.

The High Hat

(Member of Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association)

Editor-in-Chief Wilson G. Chandler

EDITORIAL STAFF

Managing Editor Charles J. Cross
Assistant Managing Editor Rosa Holmes

NEWS DEPARTMENT

Chairman News Board Joe Hudgins
Society Beatrice Wynne, Marie Overton
Dramatics Margaret Burgess, Eddie Cohn
Columnists Virginis Bell, Stanly Kahn, Bill Jeffers
Make-Up-Editor Elsie Mae Mercer
Typist Francis Potts

SPORTS DEPARTMENT

Editor William Rosenfeld
Assistant Editor Margaret Jackson
Reporter Virginia Johnston

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager Dorothy Oliver
Assistant Business Manager Beth Hume
Advertising Manager Chas. Land Mott
Circulation Manager Clyde Jennings

TO THE FRESHMEN

We welcome you to the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary in Virginia. The college, rich in the glories of the past, looks to you, the freshmen, to establish a future that will be even greater than the past. William and Mary offers a splendid vision for the future. Are you going to glorify your Alma Mater or are you going to remain idle?

The freshman year is not a period of triumph or reward, but of preparation. As such, it is the most important of the four. If you gain a reputation for ability and good work, it will help you throughout your college career and in later life. Build your foundation solid.

Make sure of your curriculum work. Plan your course so that when your work is being checked over in your senior year, you will not be kept from receiving your degree because of one or two subjects that you should have taken but failed to do so. Do not, however, become one-sided. No one ever acquired a well-rounded education from books alone. Go out for as many student activities as possible. There is nothing to lose, but everything to gain.

TO THE FRESHMEN WOMEN

'Tis an old question, but an ever new one, that question of school spirit. Each year the school officials of every institution orate at length on the beauty, the demand, and the results of school spirit, and yet there are always instances when each student body fails.

The women's student body of the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary has not been an exception. Since this is a new school, the administration and student body full of hope and anticipation at the great field open to them, and the environment wholesome and new, one has a right to expect school spirit to run high and strong. Lately, the first blot on the record of this branch of that renowned old William and Mary has spread over the entire Women's Student Government Association.

It was, indeed, an excellent showing of school spirit when the Freshman class rose up against the Sophomores who had been authorized to apply Freshman initiation. The attempt far from a success, however, and the many paddles which had been prepared and secreted by a number of the decesses, were discovered and promptly turned over to the upper classes who wielded them to advantage. The poor display of school pride, however, lay in the fact that it was more of a conflict of the Freshman women vs. the Student Government and administrative authority.

A word to the wise should be sufficient. Therefore, since this article is published with the idea of bettering the situation, it is also used as a warning from the executive committee of the Women's Student Government Association that no other such offenses will be tolerated by the organization. Remember, women, this is your college. Give it all the good you have.

OUR HONOR SYSTEM

Our college has just established an honor system and it is to be hoped that all of the students will adhere to this system. Statistics show that, in a college of the size of this, one or two people should come under the surveillance of this system. It is up to us to show that in our case the statistics are wrong by standing by this system. The honor council has proposed a plan that has been tried and proved satisfactory in other colleges, and it should prove to be satisfactory in ours. Let every student do his best to stick up for our honor system, and let us set a record in our college so that not a person will have to be tried.

The Elevated Eyebrow

SCHOLARLY MUSINGS

LINGUAL

At luncheon somebody said, "Pass me the fruit, please."
I did so with ease.
Heigh-ho, I wish I could pass Spanish
As nonchalantly as I pass bananish.

MATHEMATICAL

Than have to solve problems dealing with minima and maxima,
I would almost rather have galloping eczema.

HISTORICAL

Most people would rather read an Edgar Wallace mystery
Than a more edifying book like the Beards' History.
But to me a choice between the Beards and Edgar Wallace
Is like a choice between doughnuts and crullers.
(If you pronounce "Wallace" and "crullers" as if you were pressed for time
They'll rime.)
You see, I like neither crullers nor doughnuts, oh
That is why I'm moanats low.

Dame Rumor hath it that a certain college director known as Mr. H. Edgar Timmerman—we mention no names—has been of late attending football games free of charge by the ingenious stratagem of going disguised as a member of the band.

The disguise is simple; he can pass any gatekeeper as a saxophone player merely by carrying along his pipe.

We suppose most of you have noticed it, too. We mean the faintly hollow ring life has around this seminary, the feeling that there's something missing, the—the un-third-dimensionality, if you see what we mean, that is robbing our college days of their full flavor, their complete completeness. Well, the other day, my bully boys and apple-cheeked lasses, we put our finger on it:

We were up at the corner frog-shop, revelling between classes with a few of our dashing devil-may-care companions, downing great foaming steins of coca-cola and having sport with Buxom Bess, the inn-keeper's fair daughter. Laughter and merry quips rang free, and now and again a clear, youthful voice would be raised in song. Like a flash, we had it. What songs were they singing? Rowdy ballads, and airs from the music halls. But no college songs. For why, my friends? Because they had no college songs!

And that is what is amiss! We propose to remedy this unfortunate condition with the following stirring nambah, ideally fitted, we modestly are sure, for all purposes of this glorious institute. (Cheers, applause, and general throat of lynching.)

Our composition:
College of William and Mary, Norfolk Division Moot
(Tun—"The Star-Spangled Banner.")
College of William and Mary, Norfolk Division Moon,
Tell her that I love her,
College of William and Mary, Norfolk Division Moon,
Shine on above her,
O moon of Norfolk Division,
How I am wishing
That she were here,
To give to me cheer,
Like in the days of long ago,
In the days of long ago.

Ames & Brownley for Fashions—smart, correct, inexpensive!

We Wish
Success for You---
William & Mary

May you as division of the mother college, William and Mary, carry on and add to her already rich store of traditions and leadership in culture and education.

Norfolk welcomes you! And Ames & Brownley—a Norfolk Institution serving goods to those whom you serve learning—bids you welcome, too.

AMES & BROWNLEY

WEARING APPAREL
ACCESSORIES
FURNITURE

MILLINERY
MEN'S FURNISHINGS
DRAPERIES and SHADES

LINENS
SHOES
RUGS

HIGH HAT HARRY SEZ

Boy, oh Boy, was due week a success? Dunt Esk.

And were the guys disappointed when the girls wore their gym suits?

They thought it was something different.

That was the only day that Billy Walker got to school at nine bells sharp.

And the pictures of "my sweet-heart"—

Everybody included from Spark Plug to Chester Gump.

But did the femmes put one over on "dress backward" day?

Crew neck sweaters and skirts.

Omygosh, wotta gyp.

Rumor has it that Jack Hawkins disapproves of some of the basketball training rules—Askim-whattis.

Wonder what became of the men's lounging room project? Better talk it up guys.

High Hat Harry's hints to love-sick swains (not swines) includes the well-known slogan, "When in doubt hesitate."

What would you all do without me?

Did you know that I heard that one of our neighboring coaches is doing his best to relieve the employment situation among college football players?

Or don't you care?

Have you heard the story (oh you have, have you?) of the dialectician who decided to patronize a gambling house? Well, it seems the first night he went he was taken over the hurdles for $1,500. The second time he visited the place, he won $60. As he left the jerk a friend asked, "Well, O'Rielly, how did you come out?" "Oh, I came out even," was the startling reply. "I vun vonce and lost vonce."

Dark. Quiet. Soft Music.

And now for the sake of old times I'll revive that epic of the 15th century.

She: "Is that the moon up there shining through the trees?" He: "I dunno, I'm a stranger here myself."

I know lots of other good jokes, too, about funerals and murders, etcetera.

There will be a weekly prize of 2 hand-embroidered bathing suits for goldfish for the best essay titled, "Why is that Kohum?"

WHY AM I OR FROM THE SEWER TO THE GUTTER THE STORY OF MY SUCCESS.

Slewfoot Sammy was sitting alone with three college students when there came a k-nock, k-nock, at the door with three raps to relieve the monotony. "Who is there," quired the two simultaneously, at once. In stepped Horation Merriwell, (I'm feeling merriwell thank you, and how are you?) jauntily. "Your honor," said he, "A beautiful young lady awaits without." "Without what?" was our request. "Well find her and show her in," was the command.

Moral—Dead men tell no tales.

I'd like to stay but I must be going.

Abyssinia

MEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION MEETS

With a turnout which was probably the largest of the year, the men met Wednesday, November 5, in room 11. The meeting was called to consider the honor system as it applies to the men students of the college.

The plan was presented by the chairman of Men's Honor Council, William Gore, better known as 'Sonny.' Gore brought out the points well and his remarks had a striking significance which made every man think as he spoke.

At conclusion of his brief talk, Sonny made the request that the association take a vote to decide whether or not they wanted to change the men on the honor council. It was unanimously voted to keep those already selected. The meeting was then turned over to our president, David Nessen, who dismissed the group.

PAGE

In the newspapers, VIRGINIA TECH, of V. P. I. was first; THE FLAT HAT, of WILLIAM AND MARY, second, and the CADET, of V. M. I., third.

WILLIAM AND MARY was tied with HOLLINS for first place in the literary magazines; the magazines of RANDOLPH-MACON WOMEN'S COLLEGE being second.

WASHINGTON AND LEE won first place for annuals, and V. P. I., V. M. I. won second and third respectively.

THE SKIPPER of V. P. I. won the prize for humorous magazines.

Ross: I see here where a man married a woman for money. You wouldn't marry me for money, would you?

Red: Why, certainly not, my dear; I wouldn't marry you for all the money in the world.

APARTMENTS TO SHARE—W. 86th Street—Lady, pleasant, sonny (three exposures.)—N. Y. Times.

As Virgil says, "If she hath greater virtues, I think they are hidden."

V. P. I. Holds Fourth Annual Meeting in Williamsburg

Norfolk Division Sends Delegates

Virginia Polytechnic Institute Wins The Award in Three Divisions
Atlantic University Wins Junior College Cup

With approximately two hundred delegates on the campus, the fourth annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association met in Williamsburg on November 14th and 15th and carried out a program of conference and lectures that had been planned for several weeks in advance. Those representing "THE HIGH HAT" were Lota Spense, Dorothy Oliver, Wilson Chandler and Chas. Cross. Activities were under the direction of William F. Rountree, Jr., former Editor of the Flat Hat, and now President of the Association, and an executive committee composed of Frances Snyder, Harrisonburg State Teachers' College; Jessie Smith, Farmville State Teachers' College; T. B. Doughty, Washington and Lee; and Merle B. Grubbs, Hollins College.

The Intercollegiate Press Association, which was organized in Virginia in 1926, meets annually at some college in the state to award trophies to winning magazines, annuals, and newspapers. The purpose of these meetings, as stated by the president, is to foster the development of better college publications in Virginia, and to provide a means of discussion between members of various college staffs. Last year the organization held its conference in Blacksburg, under the auspices of Virginia Polytechnic Institute. This year elaborate plans, including an address by Lewis T. Jester, Editor of the Newport News Daily Press and Times-Herald, were had. A conference committee has been appointed on the campus to make definite arrangements for the entertainment of the delegates. Members include the following:

J. A. C. Chandler, Jr., chairman; Frances Bragg, Ellen Ticer, Ann Croxton, James B. Lucy, Robert Pammill, Chas. H. Dunker, Thomas McCaskey, and Elliott Healy. A constitution committee of the following four people has also been appointed: James B. Lucy, College of William and Mary, chairman; Byrd Leavell, Virginia Military Institute; J. W. Bush, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and Martha von Briesen, Sweetbrier College.

CONVENTION PROGRAM

The program for the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Convention was as follows:

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14

9:00 to 11:50 A. M.

Registration of delegates, Washington Hall.

12:00 Noon

Lunch for both men and women delegates, College Refectory.

1:30 P. M.

Opening meeting, Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Address of welcome by Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President, College of William and Mary. Business session.

3:00 P. M.

Discussion Groups. Editorial—Newspapers: Joe Nettles, Manager, Williamsburg Daily Press Bureau, leader.

Magazines: G. Glenwood Clark, Assistant Professor of Journalism, College of William and Mary, leader.

Annuals: Charles H. Dunker, Editor 1931, Colonial Echo, leader.

Business—Newspaper, Magazine and Annuals—Robert Pannill, Business Manager, 1931, William & Mary Literary Magazine, leader.

6:30 P. M.

Banquet, College of William and Mary Refectory—Compliments of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler.

Address: Lewis T. Jester, Editor Daily Press and Times-Herald, Newport News, Virginia.

Music by William and Mary Instrumental Quartet, under direction of Francis Hull.

8:30 P. M.

Night football game: William and Mary Frosh vs. Emerson Institute, Carey Field.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15

8:00 P. M.

Breakfast for men and women, College Refectory.

9:00 A. M.

Discussion Groups. Newspapers, Magazines, Annuals, Business Managers.

10:00 A. M.

Recess.

10:30 A. M.

Final business session, Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Address: James C. Latimer, Secretary, Virginia Press Association, of Farmville, Virginia.

Reading: Grover C. Clay, compliments of Sigma Upsilon.

Report of committees, elections of officers, selection of next meeting place, awarding of cups.

12:00 Noon

Lunch, College Refectory.

1:30 P. M.

Sightseeing tour, Williamsburg, Jamestown and Yorktown. Delegates left on noon busses and trains for V. P. I.-Maryland game in Norfolk, Virginia.

It was planned to hold the next meeting of the convention at Lynchburg. The women will be entertained at the Randolph-Macon Women's College, while the men will be entertained at Lynchburg College.

"Hash is certainly an enthusiastic dish."

"How's that?"

"The cook puts everything she has into it."

Miss Redwine: Correct this sentence, "Before any damage could be done, the fire was put out by the volunteer fire department."

Eddie Hall: The fire was put out before any damage could be done by the volunteer fire department."

Lois: "Am I the first girl you ever kissed?"

Elmer: "Now that you mention it, you do look familiar."

compliments

of

Superior

Advertising

Service

414 Monticello Avenue

Norfolk, Va.

Confidence : Security : Service
Open a Savings Account With us

The Virginia National Bank of Norfolk

Main and Granby Streets
Branches:
Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach Church and Freeman Sts.

Two Stores with one Motto:
"SERVICE AND HOW"

Sawyer's Confectionery

Hot Sandwiches—Hot Coffee and Chocolate

HEADQUARTERS FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES, SODA, TOBACCO.

Maury Confectionery

"Your Old Standby"

CAPIN'S MILLINERY

For the Latest in WOMEN'S APPAREL

200 Main Street : Norfolk, Va.

PLANTERS LIME and CHEMICAL CORP.

Agricultural Lime, Poisons,
Fertilizers

88 Church St. Norfolk, Va.

Smith  Welton

Youthful Spirited
Fashion Center

Thirty-seven years young and keen for the thrilling adventure of furnishing you collegians with those gay, smart fashions for men and women.

Spirited
William and Mary
Co-eds

We welcome you and wish you success

300 Granby Street

MEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT HOLDS ELECTION

The first Men's Student Government election at the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary was held in the main hall of the college in October, after which the votes were counted by Mr. Timmerman, the director. The results were as follows: President, Dave Nesson; vice president, Wilson G. Chandler, and secretary-treasurer, Sam Phillips.

PLANS FOR WOMEN'S SPORTS ARE PROGRESSING

Sports of various types are to be offered at the Norfolk Division of William and Mary so that every woman will have an opportunity to enter a desired field of activity.

Miss M. O. Parker, the physical education instructor, has many interesting plans for the coming year. The women will have the use of the Larchmont school grounds since the Norfolk Division has no campus facilities as yet.

Participation in track is required and plans have been made for a track meet to be held in the near future. Basketball preliminaries are to be started on November 14, and regular basketball games are expected in December and January. Volley ball is also going to be offered for those who are interested. Tennis will come in the spring, at which time class tournaments are going to be held at the city park. In the classes, some lucky students will receive golf instructions for elementary golf. Supervision for the children's sports is now being given by the William and Mary women and will continue throughout the year. This supervision is for the afternoon games on the Larchmont school playgrounds.

THE "TIGA" CLUB ORGANIZED

Sixteen members of the Men's Student Body decided November 3, 1930, to begin a club. The purpose of this club is to give three or four dances during the year. Some will be formal and some informal. Their first dance was held Friday, November 21, 1930, in the college auditorium from 9 o'clock to 12:30. The college student body has been invited as well as many outsiders. The club elected the following officers:

Ed Hall, president; Junie Wilson, vice president; Temp Licklider, secretary; Sonny Gore, treasurer, and Billy Walker, sergeant-at-arms. The members include: Bill Eames, Foy Vann; Sam Phillips, Gorham Parks, Owen Campbell, Jeter Kaufman, Elmer Johnson, Dean Preston, Freddie Lejere and Francis Morrisette.

AN OUTLINE OF PROCEDURE

1—Anyone believing that a breach of the Honor System has been committed shall, with the assistance of such witnesses as he or she may desire to call upon, investigate the matter as secretly and speedily as possible. After a thorough investigation, they shall demand of the accused an explanation of his or her conduct. If after hearing his or her explanation or after he or she has refused to make an explanation, they are convinced of his or her guilt they shall report the offence to the Honor Council.

2—The accused must then either leave the college or demand a trial by the Honor Council of his or her sex.

3—In the trial before the Honor Council, both sides may call witnesses from the student body for the presentation of evidence pro and con.

4—The Honor Council shall have the privilege of asking the witness questions, but only such questions as shall tend to bring out the facts of the case. The Honor Council shall not be allowed to make an argument, but the accused may say what he chooses in his or her own defense.

5—If, after thorough trial, four (4) of the five (5) who compose the Honor Council are convinced of the guilt of the accused, and shall so cast their votes in a secret ballot, the accused must leave the college immediately.

6—The secretary of the Honor Council shall keep the minutes of the proceedings in a minute-book, which shall be placed for safekeeping in the director's safe when not in use. In case the accused is declared innocent, all minutes and records of the case shall be immediately destroyed. On conviction of the accused, the secretary shall report the name of the convicted student found guilty to the director, who shall record the accused departure from the college as a dishonorable expulsion for a breach of the Honor System.

7—In case the student is dismissed from the college without trial by the Honor Council, the accuser shall notify the Honor Council of the name of the offender and the nature of the offense. Following such notification, the Honor Council shall take action to make public and record the facts just as if the case had been tried before them.

8—The Honor Council shall consist of five (5) students to be chosen from the Men's (or Women's) Student Body, in accordance with the constitution of the Men's (or Women's) Student Body.

9—From the decision of the Honor Council there shall be no appeal except to the Board of Visitors as provided by law.

—Men's Honor Council.

Geech: It's hard to be poor.

Chappell: With so many saps around, it's almost impossible.

"One kiss is worth a dozen wise cracks," says Potts.

Sam: "I'm rather good at imitations; I could imitate any bird you can name.

Marie: "Really? Can you imitate a homing pigeon.

AN EXPLANATION OF THE HONOR SYSTEM

The Honor Code of this institution is very simple and consists merely of this: A man or woman shall not be a liar, thief, or a cheat. If he is, he must leave college and go in disgrace throughout his life.

Now and then there will crop out narrow-minded idiots who will, because this Honor Code is effective in eliminating the bad, propose to let it include violations of such laws as "No smoking in the halls," "No gambling in the building," or "Keep Off the Grass," which come entirely and separately under the supervision of, and enforcement by, the director of the college. You will learn to resist with all your strength such silly innovations and dangerous complications.

The Honor System requires that men shall in all their relations of student life act honorably. Lying, stealing, cheating or breaking one's pledged word of honor under any circumstances are considered as infringements of the Honor Code. Upon conviction by the Honor Council the result in such cases will always be dishonorable dismissal from the college. The pledge in classes on quizzes, examinations, written problems and exercises means that the work which a student hands in to his professor is his own, which he himself has done in accordance with the requirements of the course as laid down by the professor. The faculty will cooperate in establishing a clear understanding of these requirements.

The Honor System requires in the second place that when a student sees another student in suspicious circumstances he shall investigate the matter as secretly and as speedily as possible and if he finds evidence of guilt shall accuse the suspected student to his face and before the Honor Council if necessary. It is vitally important that every student recognize this duty of protecting the Honor System and student body. Anyone who sees a fellow student in suspicious circumstances and fails to investigate the matter is himself guilty of a breach of honor.

It is also important that everyone should exercise the greatest care to keep himself free from the suspicion of evil. Such practice as leaving the examination room for any length of time unaccompanied, or taking an examination alone, or bringing text and note books into the examination room, or carelessly glancing towards another student's paper—these are heartily condemned by the Honor Council. While they do not of themselves constitute infringements of the Honor Code, such practices are highly dangerous both for the individual and for the continued well-being of the Honor System.

Students will be requested to leave the college, for cheating in the classroom, for violation of athletic training pledges, and for cheating, stealing and lying in varying circumstances.

All students should take every opportunity of acquainting themselves with the working of the Honor System in detail, as well as these general principles. Further explanations of the Honor System will be presented before the various classes and student meetings at appropriate times in the near future.

AN OCTOBER MEETING

Pirates, gypsies, sweet old-fashioned ladies, columbines and pierriotts, and two-year-olds in rompers. Has William and Mary become the melting pot for fairy tales? No. It was Halloween and the collegians were having a masquerade dance.

The blood-thirsty pirates had never plundered a ship of gold. Plundering hearts for gold is their loot. Those gypsies had never danced thrillingly to the music of tamborines through leaping flames, but they do the twinkle and the shag, and how! The sweet old-fashioned ladies don't make cutseys or pick old-fashioned flowers in old-fashioned gardens, or blush old-fashioned blushes at their beaux. What they lack in blushes they make up in beaux. The columbines and pierriotts never put sunshades over the flowers so they wouldn't droop and were never in a magic spell. And the rompered kids don't make mud cakes; they indulge in Roman comedy and psychology.

V. P. I. PLANS TO PUBLISH MAGAZINE

The Virginia intercollegiate Press Association plans to publish a magazine for the college students of Virginia. This magazine is to be patterned after LIBERTY and COLLEGE HUMOR and should have a characteristic cover sheet.

This magazine was proposed by a Mr. Hudgins who was the first president of the Association, and Mr. Hudgins is to secure the ads and to edit this paper with no charge. If the magazine is a success the Association shall profit by it, but if it falls through Mr. Hudgins will be responsible.

The following is the plan as proposed by Mr. Hudgins:

"To create an even better understanding between the colleges and universities in the State of Virginia under the auspices of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, an Intercollegiate Magazine (type) publication is proposed.

There should be one representative on each campus in Virginia to act as a news and picture source and as an agent for the sale of the magazine.

Sales at ten cents and advertising rates should take care of the printing with a larger income each publication.

The association, if such a publication were successful, could use the profit as follows:

1. Furnishing a travelling secretary for the association for use in staff work, printing contracts, etc.

2. To defray expenses of annual meeting, thus bringing larger speakers and having even more elaborate programs.

3. Use for betterment of publications by use of more pictures and larger publication.

4. By creating a central publishing house for members of the publications thus reducing their cost and really having a "Collegiate" type of make-up to each individual publication. (This is utopian, nevertheless possible.)

That is Mr. Hudgins plan and the Association voted to adopt this publication, without a single dissenting vote.

Society.—

SOCIAL GLEANINGS

Did we have a dance Halloween night? My, goodness, yes! More pretty costumes and the very best music. Our first college dance certainly went over big! Of course, the Williamsburg team stayed over for it. The faculty was well represented, too. This was only one of the dances which we are looking forward to with such a great deal of enthusiasm.

Our co-eds are leaving town for the week-ends, it seems. Let's see—Vivian Parker went to Williamsburg not long ago and Marie Overton tells us what a big time she had at V. P. I. Berna Underwood and Virginia Dare Holland attended the football game and dance at the U. S. N. Military Academy early in November. Oh, Navy!

The "football heroes" refuse to miss out on anything. Dean Preston and Bill Ottley traveled up to Farmville. "Eddie" Hall and "Jeter" Kaufman took an extended trip through the Valley all in one week-end—and have you heard about that, or seen that cute picture that "Eddie" and "Jeter" had taken?

The "Tigas" are going to entertain at a dance in the college auditorium on Friday, November 21. The college orchestra (and surely you know how good they are) will furnish the music. The entire student body is invited—don't miss it!

The co-eds are forming a Cotillion Club—looks like the more dances. Committees have been elected to make the arrangements for the first dance to be held on December 12 in the auditorium. Just the members of the club will attend with their dates and a number of bids will be sent to stags. There is a rumor in the air about a figure for this dance.

TIGA DANCE

Shaded lights—hot music—striking decorations—beautiful red rose buds—corsages for the sponsor—all these, many hold as fond memories of the wonderful dance given by the Tigas. The college auditorium was beautifully decorated in the college colors, green, gold and silver. William and Mary pennants added to the appearance a great deal. And as for the "High Hatters"—

It had been rumored that Guy Lombardo's orchestra had been thought of for the dance, but after hearing "The High Hatters" all doubt was swept from the minds of the Tiga members. The musicians must have been in a hurry to go home 'cause they certainly did put "fast motion" in Home, Sweet Home.

The members of the Tigas wore red rosebuds and did they look sweet? The roses—of course. In the midst of the excitement, Eddie Hall, Tiga president, presented Miss Jessie Voight, Tiga sponsor, with a lovely corsage of red rosebuds.

The Tiga dance was a big success and we hope that we may have many others that will be as successful.

Do You Know That—

Skeets Gallagher was born in Terre Haute, Ind., and is five feet seven and a half inches tall, with blonde hair, blue eyes, and a weight of 140 pounds?

Greta Garba is only 24 years old and her real name is Gustapen. Can you imagine it?

Fifi Dorsey was borne in Montreal, Canada, and has never set foot in France? Yet they say she's French. My! My! What hokum is published!

Arthur Larce isn't married and he's only 20! What a break!

Ramon Navarro is 31 years old and has never been married. Maybe his best friend wouldn't tell him.

The great Garbo now has a rival, a German, Marlene Dietrich. Boy! She's out Garboing better than Greta.

Julius Caesar scratched his head with the index finger of his left hand?

COTILLION CLUB ORGANIZED

The organization of the Girls' Cotillion Club has been completed, launching a new social club on a working basis.

Under the constitution, recently drawn up, the quota of 20 members has been filled, and the sponsor, Miss Willehemia Swann—a William and Mary alumnae—elected. The following officers have been chosen: President, Bee Wynn; secretary, Elsie Mercer; treasurer, Dot Oliver.

The club was started by a group of girls interested in sponsoring dances. The Cotillion's first dance is dated for December 12. The following committees are busy working on plans: Decoration, chairman, Margaret Burgess; Finance, chairman, Dot Oliver; music, Lois Bishop; Refreshments, Mary Abbott, and Bid, Elsie Mercer, chairman.

A series of college social events fill the club calendar for the coming year—with the hope of making its initial year a tremendous success.

Newly Organized Dramatic Club

Miss Reina Puckett Suggests Several Plays for Year.

Miss Reina Puckett, who has recently been elected as sponsor and coach of the local dramatic club, met with the members of that organization and presented a well developed outline of the work she has planned for the year. From the plays that she suggested the club is to select one to be presented in the near future and by its own talent.

Miss Puckett has had a great deal of experience in this type of work and has recently completed a course in dramatic art at the College of William and Mary. Soon after the student organization in October, she offered through an alumnae her services to both the dramatic choral clubs and, as she was so extremely interested and capable, she was eagerly accepted. There is really no reason, then, why these two societies should not develop into working groups that will be reorganized by the leaders of the other such organizations on campus. Student interest has been aroused to the point of wholesome enthusiasm.

MONOGRAM CLUB

At a meeting of the football letter men, the Monogram Club was organized. The following officers were elected:

President, Junie Wilson.
Vive President, Sam Phillips.
Secretary, Foy Vann.
Treasurer, Gorham Parks.

Other members are as follows: Walker, Hawkins, M a x e y, Ottley, Abrams, Kaufman, Eames, Preston, Odell, Hamburger, Segal and Manager Morrisette.

THE WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The women students of the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary organized themselves into a student government association during the month of October. This association and a similar one formed by the men students of the college are probably the most important organizations in the school.

The government is divided into three distinct ruling bodies. The first, the Executive Committee, is head of the business part of the organization. Lota Spence, as president of the association, heads all the committees.

The second committee, which is the Honor Committee, is headed by Virginia Dare Holland. This committee deals with all cases involving the Honor System and any violations of its rules. This committee has the final decision in any such matters. The third committee, the Judicial Committee, is headed by Beatrice Wynne. This committee makes all the rules concerning the conduct of the girls and the special rules while they are on the college campus. The committees have already organized and have started work.

Miss Ethel Childress has been chosen as the faculty advisor of the association and has invited the women students to come to her at any time with their problems. Miss Childress, since she was herself a William and Mary student, is fully acquainted with the Honor System and thoroughly approves of it.

The association has made it an unwritten law that no student shall sit in cars parked at the school or ride in automobiles during the hours from 9 to 12, or 2 to 4. This law was made because of the newness of this division of the college and because the reputation of the college here depends on the students of this year.

The women students have planned a subscription card party to be given November 28, to enable them to furnish the room that Mr. Timmerman has set aside for them. Each girl is expected to get up at least one table and as many more as possible.

The association meets every month on the first Monday at 3 o'clock in the college auditorium. A very strict account is kept of the absentees and they are fined a sum of 50 cents for every absence. The officers of the Women's Student Government Association are as follows:

Executive Council — President, Lota Spence; vice president, Carrie Baldwin; secretary, Frances Potts; treasurer, Mary Abbott, and members-at-large, Nancy Shafer and Virginia Johnston.

Honor Committee — Chairman, Virginia Dare Holland; secretary, Rosa Holmes. Members at large—Elsie Mercer, Jack Trent.

Judicial Committee — Chairman, Beatrice Wynne; secretary, Marion White. Members at large—Hulda Dimmitt, Margaret Jackson.

Turk Office Equipment Co., Inc.

"Direct from Factory to You"
218-220 Flatiron Bldg.
NORFOLK, VIRGINIA

The popular store for men and boys.

It pays to be trifty and buy at

The Hub NORFOLK

Established 1884
Incorporated 1889

The Henry Walke Co.

Mill Supplies and Machinery
Contractors Supplies
NORFOLK, VA.

"Sally" returns as "Sunny"

Marilyn Miller
in her best offering
"SUNNY"

NEWPORT
ENTIRE WEEK DECEMBER 1st

Special Leather Winbreaker, $10.00
White Sweat Shirts

Complete equipment for the athlete or outdoor sports.

Robertson-Northrop
Sport Shop, Inc.
430 Granby Street

You'll Find a

Brae Born University

SUIT or TOPCOAT

at

The Young Men's Store

Main at Bank St.

Made to Measure
Without Additional Charge

Take our address for Optical and Kodak supplies.

257 Granby Street G. L. Hall Optical Company

Double Strength

Delicious Flavor

TIDEWATER PHOTO SERVICE, Inc.

Commercial and Group Pictures

Phone 27717 880 Withers Bldg.

J. G. TRAFTON & SQN

Coal

35th St. near Hampton Blvd.

NORFOLK, VA.

Phones 27555 21495

Shaffer's Book Store

Carries a complete line of your needs for William and Mary College.

If your Fountain Pen needs attention bring it to us, we are experts in Pen repairs.

be a Shaffer's Specialty Book $1.50 in colors. Solid Gold Point Guaranteed.

Shaffer's Book Store
107 GRANBY STREET
NORFOLK, VA.

When you buy your

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

—think of—

- SLIPPERS
- HOSIERY
- HANDBAGS
- COSTUME JEWELRY

The greatest variety of better values in the city.

Compliments of

W. Taylor Johnson, Inc.

GENERAL INSURANCE

Life—Fire—Casualty

Royster Bldg.

A hearty welcome always awaits William and Mary students at

SEABOARD CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK

Resources $20,000,000

Compliments of

J. E. CAPPS

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Aufenger
Maker of Portraits by PHOTOGRAPHY
117 w. Freemason St. Studio, Norfolk, Va.

Phones 21507 - 23246

P. J. MALBON

HARDWARE

Distributors of Valentine Varnishes and Paints

90 Commercial Place

NORFOLK, VA.

Regular Optical Company

Prescription Opticians
116 College Place Norfolk, Va.

C. B. CROSS CO., Inc.

Pile Driving, Bridge and Dock Building

Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va.

There is an Equitable policy for every life insurance need.

L. S. GROVE

Representative

243 Main St. Phone 24789

MONTICELLO HOTEL

BARBER SHOP

"The Director's Own"
Eight Chairs Ready
Phone 24951
Monticello Hotel Building

DRIVE-IN-DRUG

6414 Hampton Blvd.

Near Marine Hospital

BEST SANDWICHES AND DRINKS IN TOWN

MOTOROYAL GARAGE

Auto Repairs

Duco Finishing—Tires

26th & Church Sts. Phone 24247

An Exclusive Shop for Women

NATHAN GOLDBERG

Norfolk, Va. Phone 23179

111 Cranby St.

Invites Faculty, Friend and Student to make this shop your home and headquarters for

Mighty Good Shoes

600,000

WOMEN

CAN'T

BE WRONG

This vast number shops daily in

D. P. Stores

AMERICAN

NATIONAL BANK

Portsmouth's Largest and Only National Bank

LET US

REFINANCE

YOUR MORTGAGE

at 5 1/2 or 6%—Long Term

GORDAN & HUME

1005 National Bank of Commerce Building

GET THAT REFRESHING

DRINK at

"NUNNALLY'S"

Beautify the Home With

Shrubs and Flowers

WINN NURSERY

"DUCESS" WEEK HUGE SUCCESS

Strange things were seen on the William and Mary campus week before last. On Monday I came into school and met a girl I knew, who seemed somehow rather different. She had pigtales down her back tied with green ribbons and around her neck a drawing of duck entitled, "I Am a Duccess." I thought she was crazy then, but when I heard the answer "Quack, quack," to her name in roll call, I was sure of it. What was my astonishment to hear a dozen or more answer the same way. I looked around. Yes, they all had their hair in plaits and their duck signs. "Well," I said, "will somebody please explain?" "It's 'duc' week," whispered my neighbor, "and we're going to make those little freshmen howl for mercy."

This enlightened, I awaited the next day's developments. Pigtales again—13, I found out—and this time each freshman girl had a bundle of clothes on her head (or should have had). Heavens above, the college looked like a laundry—and not a very respectable one at that.

Wednesday, I was sure I had entered an orphan asylum. Picture to yourself 50 girls clad in romper suits, skirts wrong side out, mismatched shoes, and the everlasting pigtales. Also the features of our girls had seemed unusually pale of late. I wondered if they were getting enough fresh air and plenty of sleep.

Thursday the freshmen had their dresses on backwards. I had not realized before what a distinct difference there is between the front and rear view of the figure. As to top it off, each carried the picture of her "best boy friend." I never saw so many bulldogs, fathers, brothers, movie actors and comic strip faces in all my life. I do believe I saw one "boy friend."

Friday, the initiated were supposed to appear all in green, but that afternoon the real fun started. After all the classes were over, attired in the green rompers that suited so well, they met in the auditorium for the Sophomore Tribunal. And a grave and serious meeting it was. Before the trial could begin, however, it was reported to the judge that some of the freshmen had brought paddles. They were sternly summoned to file before a line of sophomores, who searched them for said paddles. The meeting then proceeded. Culprits were called before the judge, who demanded the jury to pronounce the verdict. In every case, the victims were adjudged guilty, some for breaking up happy homes by bringing H. Edgar Timmerman's picture as their best "boy friend;" some for not plaiting their hair; others for being insolent to the sophomores, and still others for being too good. Various punishments were laid upon the backs of the murmuring freshmen. On Saturday afternoon some had to wash Franklin's windows, while others gave out toothpicks to the protesting citizens of Norfolk.

Four particular unmanageables, Margaret Burgess, "Bee" Wynne, Hulda Dimitt and Ruth Wilson, in addition, had to scrub floors while their pictures were being taken.

Several had to wear signs and tack ten inches of green cambric on the hems of their dresses the following week.

For the most part, the little "first years" were docile under the reproving hands of their big sisters. But let a sophomore start to paddle a freshman and the whole class would immediately rise to the aid of its unfortunate member, and as the freshmen outnumbered the upperclassmen about two to one, there swiftly ensued a free-for-all. The leader of the sophomores once lost her dignity (and balance) in such a fight, but no actual harm was done.

The week was on the whole rather enjoyable to the freshmen, I think. But the prediction of next year's "duc" week sounded bad indeed for the incoming class. I offered them my deepest sympathy.

ORCHESTRA HOLDS FIRST BUSINESS MEETING

The first business meeting of the College of William and Mary, Norfolk Division, dance orchestra was held on Monday, November 17, in Room 113.

Officers of the orchestra elected were: Albert Alexander, president; Edward D. Cohn, secretary, and James Carter, treasurer.

Fines will be instituted for unexcused absences of members from either the rehearsals or meetings. By popular vote, the orchestra will be officially known as the "William and Mary High Hatters."

The orchestra is now open for engagements.

THE IMP CLUB

The Imp Club, an organization of the sophomore body of the College of William and Mary, Norfolk Division, has recently been organized. The officers elected were as follows:

- President—William Rosenfeld.
- Vice President—C. Land Mott.
- Secretary—Hardy Dudley.
- Chaplain—Lee Chapman.
- Sergeant-at-Arms—Max Goodlette.
- Treasurer—C. Jennings.
- Business Manager—Anthony Spiccuza.

Other members are Truman Baxter, Fred Stewart, Carleton Shaffer and John Rydeen. The club conducts its meetings every Wednesday night at 7:30. A dance has been proposed and will be given in the near future.

Men's Student Government Association and Honor Council Elected

At a recent election held by the Men's Student Body, the following officers were elected: Dave Nelson, president, and Wilson Chandler, vice president, both students at William and Mary College in Williamsburg last year, and Sam Phillips, secretary-treasurer, who is a graduate of Blackstone Military Academy. Two meetings have been held by the class at which current school topics have been discussed and an outline of the constitution read.

This Honor Council is composed of five members, William Goss, chairman; Jeter Kaufman, secretary, and three members at large, Temple Licklider, Francis Morrisette and Truman Baxter.

TROMAN