Mission Statement

Virginia Theological Seminary is a seminary of the Episcopal Church accredited by the Association of Theological Schools. It seeks to further the universal mission of Christ's church by providing graduate theological education and serving as a theological resource for the church.

The Seminary's primary mission is to prepare men and women for the ordained ministry, particularly for service in the parish ministry and leadership in the church. Out of its evangelical heritage and its missionary tradition, it emphasizes the ministries of preaching, teaching, pastoral care and social justice. It seeks to prepare its students as servants of Jesus Christ to equip the people of God for their vocation and ministry in the world. It also provides continuing education for clergy of all denominations and theological education for laity.

This seminary believes that theological education leading to a degree requires full-time study and full participation in its common life and worship. It also believes that theological education is greatly enhanced when it is done within an ecumenical context.

Heritage and Purpose of Virginia Seminary

In the Providence of God this seminary was founded in 1823 to educate men for the ministry of Christ's church. During its long life it has sought to fulfill this purpose, guided by a few clear principles of belief and action. In loyalty and devotion to these principles its graduates have served the church faithfully at home and have carried the Gospel to other lands. In continuity with this tradition the Seminary now seeks to prepare both men and women for leadership, either as clergy or lay persons, in the church and in the world. The Seminary envisions the education of men and women who will know how to relate the content of the faith to contemporary issues and concerns and who will be capable of and motivated for continued learning. It looks forward to the graduation of persons of strength and humility whose duty is to serve God by serving the people of God in their mission to the world.

This seminary believes that its primary allegiance is to Jesus Christ. Its first duty is to know him and to make him known. It seeks to form lives of strong faith and true piety, fashioned and enriched by personal communion with Christ and to enable men and women out of their own experience to proclaim him to others as Lord and Savior. That is the Seminary's evangelical conviction which it allows no other emphasis to hide or minimize.

The Seminary is Catholic in its acceptance of the age-long heritage of the church in its Scriptures and creeds, in its sacraments and orders. Its rule of discipline and worship it finds in the Book of Common Prayer and to this book it bids its members be loyal as the common order of this church and as fruitful for Christian life and devotion.

The Seminary is Protestant in its adherence to the Reformation's recovery of the primacy and sufficiency of Holy Scripture and its message of justification through the grace of Jesus Christ received by faith alone. It is unwilling to conform to any tradition or to heed any ecclesiastical claim which displaces the primary accent upon the Gospel, and it affirms the importance of the individual Christian's personal relationship to God nourished by prayer, word and sacrament. It affirms also the address of God's Word as judgment and hope to all human communities.

The Seminary, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, is open to new truths discovered by reason and experience and is committed to respond eagerly and faithfully to the challenges of each succeeding age.

The Seminary believes that through the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and by the enabling power of his Spirit, God called and continues to call his people into the life and mission of the Church that the world may know Christ and be served in his name. We are committed to the church as the body of which Christ is the head, which is composed of all baptized persons and in which the Gospel is communicated through the word and the sacraments, and through the common life including worship, study and service. We are committed to the church as the people of God offering up praise and thanksgiving to the Lord who gives us life, overcomes alienation, separation and death, and brings all things to the fulfillment of his purpose. In this family of God's people we are called to live and serve together in fellowship of mind and heart and in helpfulness and mutual esteem.

A Brief History—1823-1989

The Seminary is located on a ridge not far from the Potomac River. The Seminary's Aspinwall Tower dominates the Northern Virginia skyline. The spacious tree-shaded campus of about 80 acres is a ten-to-fifteen minute drive from downtown Washington. Shirley Highway (Interstate 395) is but minutes away from the Seminary's location at Quaker Lane and Seminary Road in Alexandria.

When it was founded in 1823, the Seminary was a rural institution in the midst of Virginia farmland. Now it is surrounded by shopping centers, apartment complexes, and the stimulating life of the nation's capital.

The Virginia Theological Seminary was born of the struggle which followed the Revolutionary War. During the early days of America's independence, the Episcopal Church was suffering under a double handicap; it was suspect because of its ties with the Church of England and it was virtually immobilized by the inertia which plagued all religious bodies of that time.

Despite the bleakness of the situation, a small group of dedicated men committed themselves to the task of recruiting and training a new generation of church leaders. Francis Scott Key was one of this group which in 1818 formed "An Education Society" and five years later opened the "School of Prophets," later to become the Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary in Virginia. When the school opened in Alexandria with two instructors, fourteen students were enrolled.

Within ten years graduates of the Seminary had gone out to serve the church in almost every state between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi and in the territories and states of Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Texas and California. By 1863 the same missionary spirit had led Virginia graduates to open for the Episcopal Church mission fields in China, Japan, Liberia, Greece, and Brazil.

The Seminary was never a wealthy institution and the Civil War struck a harsh blow. After the war two professors and eleven battle-weary veterans reopened the Seminary on a war-ravaged campus which had been used to house 1,700 wounded Federal troops and to bury 500 of their comrades. The graves of the soldiers have since been moved to Arlington National Cemetery.

By 1923, the year of its Centennial, the Seminary had regained the resources, the certainty of full enrollment, and the invested funds which had characterized the institution in 1860. The years between 1923 and 1946 saw steady progress, but the end of World War II marked the advent of the present era of continuing expansion and improvement.

The Bishop Payne Divinity School, a distinguished black institution, was started by the Virginia Theological Seminary in 1878. It was named for the Rt. Rev. John Payne, an alumnus of the Seminary in the class of 1836, and the first bishop of Liberia. It merged with Virginia Seminary on June 3, 1953. At the time, enrollment at the black seminary had dropped to only three students. Limited funds to rebuild and revitalize were available. However, in the belief that separate theological education was a mistake, the trustees of both seminaries electd to merge. Assets from the Bishop Payne Divinity School plus a grant from the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church were used to establish a fund "to further theological education among Negroes." Income from the fund is awarded on the basis of need to support the education of black students preparing for the ministry at Virginia Seminary.

As a continuing reminder of the service this seminary has rendered to the whole church, the trustees of the Virginia Seminary have named the Seminary library the Bishop Payne Memorial Library.

In 1969 the Seminary completed the Second Century Fund Campaign, a major capital funds and development program designed to increase the Seminary's effectiveness. The Seminary's closer ties with seminaries of other traditions through its participation in the Washington Theological Consortium have markedly strengthened the ecumenical dimension of the educational program. As it expands its role, it is seeking to remain faithful to its best missionary and pastoral traditions.

The campus itself expresses something of the traditional spirit of Virginia Seminary in the arrangement of its buildings. The chapel and fourteen other principal buildings, including a library completed in 1957, form a widely spaced quadrangle in the center of the campus. Circling these buildings in a great arc are twenty-five faculty homes, easily accessible to all students. Since its founding, the Seminary has fostered and encouraged a close pastoral relationship between teacher and student.

The academic buildings, administrative offices, and chapel are grouped together on one side of the campus, across from the library, refectory, and dormitories. Classrooms are in close proximity to each other and living facilities are conveniently located near the library.

Nine of the fifty campus buildings, including four faculty residences, four academic buildings, and the chapel, were built before the turn of the century, some before the Civil War. Since 1950 twenty-two new buildings have been erected, including five dormitories, the refectory and student lounge, and fifteen faculty homes. To these have been added more recently a continuing education building and a recreation building. A day-care center for young children is currently under construction. The numerous additions made to the original physical plant of the Seminary blend so well it is difficult to distinguish the old from the new.

What Undergirds the Curriculum

The program of study at the Virginia Seminary is a reflection in curricular form of a particular understanding of theological education. The conception of education which informs it may be sketched by setting out some given conditions and then options which may be taken from that point.

The given is the subject matter of theology itself, that is, what has been thought and said about the relations of God, human kind, and world in the history of Israel and the Christian tradition. For the sake of manageability this subject matter is commonly divided into certain areas such as Bible, history, and theology in a narrower sense. Theology in the broader sense is a unitary discipline, like medicine, law, or natural science. The usual subdivisions are not the only possible ones, but for sufficient reason they have been accepted as the "given" with which we have to work.

From that point theological schools have devised some combination of two alternative procedures. One is to give high priority to the content of theology as an historically-given body of tradition to be mastered. In academic work the emphasis falls upon what the Bible says, what the "facts" of church history are, what traditional Christian doctrine says, and what according to that doctrine the office of the church and its ministry is. Outside the classroom the same concern is reflected in the provision of a full ordering of the student's life centered around the daily offices which the church developed in the days of a relatively unified Christendom—the structuring of the day around periods devoted to the praise of God and meditation upon his word in Scripture. A disciplined life in dormitory and refectory as well give expression to the same end, which is the induction of a man or woman into what is given in the Christian tradition.

The alternative procedure is to give the priority to personal appropriation not in proportion to what is given but in proportion to what the individual is capable of receiving. The emphasis in the first procedure is upon order and discipline; in this case the emphasis is upon freedom. The traditional material is of course presented in the classroom, but with more concern for the relevant than the traditional, for commitment and testimony than for orthodoxy, for personal involvement than for the acquisition of information. Accordingly, the ordering of the student's life is left as largely as possible to him or her. A daily service of common worship is provided, a refectory, a place to live. What use the men or women make of these, and what else they do to discipline and strengthen themselves is theirs to determine.

Doubtless these alternatives reflect in some way two backgrounds, that of the monastery on the one hand and that of the family on the other. Each of them has its peculiar virtues and, it should be said, each involves a risk. The risk of the first is that a man or woman will come out fully equipped with someone else's religion which, being not his own, will break down under the stresses of modern life. The risk of the second is that a man or woman will come out with a religion of very narrow and individualistic dimensions.

Neither of the alternatives was or is likely to be encountered in pure form in any school. But there is an ethos, a point of view in any school, disposed in one direction or the other. At Virginia Seminary the emphasis has tended to fall in the direction of the second alternative. It has been a good school for the fully committed and the relatively mature. It is still that.

This seminary intends to serve and educate students who are fully prepared to enter upon professional education for the ministry, though it seeks also to serve, especially through its Master in Theological Studies program, those who wish to deepen their understanding of the Christian faith and their commitment to Christ but are not seeking ordination. The Seminary's strengths for this task are a faculty whose firm commitment to the classical Christian tradition is itself the motivation for the task of authentic contemporary expression, and an ethos in which the emphasis is upon free, personal appropriation of the Christian faith. That emphasis entails, inside of class and out, the struggle of incessant challenge, questioning, testing.

The Seminary assumes high levels of maturity and motivation on the part of its students and encourages them in independent work to the full extent of their abilities. At the same time, the diversity of methods employed in both core curriculum and elective courses gives ample opportunity for learning through lectures, reading programs, and other methods of a more structured nature.

The Christian faith in its manifold forms has woven a vast and varied tapestry of life, and our aim is that the student find his or her own face in that tapestry. The expectation is that at some point each person can return a personal affirmative answer to the question posed in Hymn 172, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?"

Theological Education for Today

As much as ever before, theological education today should prepare men and women in seminary to proclaim the creating and redeeming grace of God through Christ and the Spirit. World hunger, overpopulation, economic depression, ecological threat, and urban crises have awakened new interest and regard for religious truth. Today men and women coming to seminary should be introduced in depth to the truths of the Holy Scriptures and the Christian tradition.

Further, theological education today should provide a context for each man and woman studying and teaching at the Seminary to grow in self-knowledge and in the personal knowledge and love of God. The Virginia Seminary community is conscious of the need to provide a context of worship, learning, and personal growth for the spiritual journey of each of its members.

Theological education today should also be ecumenical. The time has passed when men and women in seminary are isolated from Christians in other traditions. Affiliation of this seminary with the Washington Theological Consortium, an association of Roman Catholic, Methodist, Lutheran, Episcopal, and interdenominational theological faculties in the Washington area, enables this to happen.

Seniors Bill Lovell, Frank Limehouse, and John Wilme.

Finally, theological education today should be profoundly in touch with the physical conditions and the minds and hearts of contemporary Americans. The Seminary faculty is conscious that Christian ministry today is to people in a technological and increasingly urbanized culture. It is a culture in which people seek to extend ever further the control of autonomous human reason; it is a culture in which people are wary of self-delusions and ideology; it is a culture in which many are hungering for a sense of their own value and identity. In this culture basic institutions, such as the family, schools, and the churches have little unquestioned authority. Therefore, theological education must offer opportunities for field education, practice of professional skills, and theological reflection on faith in action. Virginia Seminary's programs of church and society, internships, and field education seek to respond to this need.

Virginia Seminary Life

The decision to enter seminary is for most people a difficult and anxiety-provoking one. It is an experience of risk and a venture in faith.

Many students come to seminary after giving up jobs, homes, and friends. Some have never lived in a large metropolitan area at all.

To this new challenge these students bring a wide diversity of backgrounds. Both men and women, directly from college and older, some overseas students new to America, some recently married, some with children, some single . . . each new student brings a unique set of gifts which will help him or her to live with the pressures of seminary life.

Yet very few students ever make it through seminary just on their own gifts. The demanding academic curriculum, the pressures of field education, the pinch of finances, and many other unavoidable strains can accumulate.

Community

It is at this point that Virginia Seminary offers a very great resource. That resource is the community. Virginia Seminary encompasses about 500 men, women, and children among its faculty, staff, and students and their families in one extended family.

The Seminary is a community of faith and hope where there is never a shortage of people to lend an ear or a hand. The community endeavors to be a place to celebrate the joys of life as well as a place where its members have all the support they need in times of trouble.

Students in the hospital do not lack for visitors. Students in the process of moving to new quarters easily find help. Others struggling to understand academic work find willing tutors.

Through the experience of corporate worship and sustained caring for each other during the years at seminary, men and women are formed who will go forth into the world as concerned and compassionate servants of the Lord and of his people everywhere.

A seminary chaplain is readily available to students and their families for pastoral care, spiritual direction, and practical concern. The Seminary tries to offer programs for the education, fellowship, and enrichment of student spouses and children. Parties, dances, picnics, and sports planned by student committees add zest to the life of the community.

Dormitories

One's perspective of the Seminary is affected markedly by where one lives. At present there are four dormitories: Madison, Wilmer, St. George's and Johns Hall, each with 14-18 single rooms. Each room is typically furnished with a desk, chair, lounge chair and stool, bed, cabinet, drawers, and bookcase; most have sinks. There is a common bathroom on each floor and on the first floor a "common room" or student lounge with a fireplace. Laundry facilities are available on campus. A registered nurse is available weekday mornings for minor medical care and referrals.

The dormitories provide other assets. On-Hill students rapidly develop friendships and begin to make trips into nearby Washington to take advantage of its many cultural resources. Some of these trips are to local churches to experience the varying forms of worship conducted in the churches of other traditions. Countless restaurants, theatres, movies, and stores are found in the metropolitan area.

The type and degree of camaraderie developed each year depends on the students. Yet no single student should worry about being bored living in the dormitories.

Most single students elect to live in the dormitories during their entire stay at the Seminary for several reasons—including the very low cost and the great convenience.

Family Housing

Subsidized housing for married students is provided by the Seminary (see page 77). Those who wish to take advantage of this subsidized housing will be required to live in the apartment or town house complexes designated by the Seminary. For married students accepted for entrance in the following fall, it is best to begin making housing arrangements as soon as possible.

Jobs and Schools

Wives or husbands of married students should expect the usual challenges of finding suitable employment. They must sometimes accept jobs in fields other than the ones for which they have been trained or at levels which are lower than appropriate for their professional experience.

Affordable pre-school childcare is available at the Seminary's "Butterfly House." Schools, both public and private, are plentiful and generally quite good.

In spite of the difficulties which married students encounter in bringing a family to seminary, the shared experience is well worth the trouble and the expense. Wives and husbands of married students are encouraged to participate as much as their circumstances permit in the life of the Seminary.

The Metropolitan Area

Washington is a national and international cultural center. Families are within a few miles of great museums, national landmarks, and theatres. The countryside of Virginia and Maryland offers outdoor-oriented families convenient recreational facilities.

Corporate Life

There are two daily events which bring the academic community together. The first is chapel. All students and faculty are expected to participate in the corporate services of worship at the Seminary chapel. In addition, each student takes responsibility for helping to conduct the worship at stated times during the academic year.

The other daily event which gathers the community is lunch. At this time the faculty, staff, and students all come together to share fellowship and a common meal. Often this is the most convenient time for special interest groups to meet and share ideas and plans. Lunch is served cafeteria style, and each diner is offered a choice among entrees.

"The children of men take refuge in the shadow of thy wings." Psalm 36:7b

Breakfast and dinner are also served cafeteria style. Married students and faculty do not have these meals in the Seminary's refectory except on special occasions.

Inclusiveness

At present approximately one-third of the students are women. The faculty and board of trustees were early and strong advocates of the ordination of women. This position has been periodically reaffirmed and commended to all, both as part of the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Episcopal Church and as integral to the life of the Seminary community.

Whether male or female, single or married, the community spirit and close companionship at V.T.S. make it possible for seminarians and their families to feel at home and enjoy friendship and collegiality during their years in seminary.

The Conference on Ministry

Each year a Conference on Ministry is held in February for prospective students and for those persons who want to explore the possibilities for lay and ordained ministries within the Episcopal Church. The Conference begins with a reception and dinner on Friday evening and ends with worship in area churches on Sunday. Conferees are housed on campus in the Seminary guest house and dorms, or off campus in the apartments and homes of married students. The weekend is designed to give participants an opportunity to meet students and faculty, hear presentations about the academic curriculum and community life, attend worship services in the Seminary chapel, and have their meals in the campus refectory. There is no charge for the conference; the only expense for those attending is the cost of travel to and from Alexandria.

In 1990, the Conference on Ministry will be held on February 16-18. Brochures and registration materials will be available in December. Please address any inquiries about the conference to the admissions office.

Seeking the Truth

By the Rev. Gail Allinson Epes
Class of 1987

Carved into the face of the Seminary library are the words:

*Seek the truth
Come whence it may Cost what it will*

These words let us know what our task is for the next three years. They alert us to the fact that truth can come from unexpected places and cost us dearly. Already we have left behind friends, spouse, church, a world where we were known. We bring a faith strong enough to get us here, and we come wanting to find something like the evangelist gave to Theophilus, "an orderly account" that we might know the truth concerning the things of which we have been informed. We want the truth, but we do not know what this will mean for us. Seminary is many things, but it is above all a search for the truth about ourselves, our world, and the Gospel.

But how is truth to be found? The Anglican poet John Donne put it this way:

*"On a huge hill
Cragged, and steep, Truth stands, and hee that will Reach her, about must, and about must goe..."*

Seminary is something like circling. In and out of Aspinwall to classes, studying scripture, theology, ethics, Greek; walking to the refectory; learning to let go of hard-won and cherished old understandings "so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine," and finally climbing toward frightening bright new insights.

And seminary is something like standing still. The outrage of having to stand up in the midst of the crashing confusion of Junior Year to preach the Gospel in our first homiletics class sears. Still, we do it. "It is possible," writes Frederick Buechner, "to think of the Gospel and our preaching of it as, above all and at no matter what risk, a speaking of the truth about the way things are." We learn we can do that. We learn to tell how it is for us, our own truth.

We circle again. The circling for truth that we do is not always upward. Sometimes we spiral downward, deep, deep into ourselves. In CPE we encounter old fears, as familiar as our own skin and that hard to pull away. With hospital patients we are forced to stand answerless before their sorrow. "What is truth?" we ask, and like Pilate before Jesus, we hear no answer.

Meanwhile our children have birthdays and move to the next grade. Spouses are involved in new jobs. We begin looking outward a little more as we set off to work in field work parishes.

Seminary is something like leaning, too. We find ourselves held up. The priest who feeds us bread and wine at the Wednesday morning eucharist is the professor who teaches us Old Testament later on in the day. The community says the creed for us when we cannot. Day after day we gather to pray and sing and eat and study so that we are being woven together without even realizing it, and so that by the end, though there is still much we do not know about each other, we know and are known by heart.

When homiletics class comes around Senior Year, it is different from the first time. We are nearly at the end of our time at seminary, and the stakes are higher now. We are that much closer to going out into the world to preach for the rest of our lives, and we are two years deeper into wrestling with the Gospel for its truth, for our truth. We can speak to each other in a new way now, having learned through time something of speaking what truth we see in love.

We are not wrong in seeking truth, for it is the truth, Jesus says, which will make us free. In seeking the truth we are seeking Jesus, the one who is the truth and who will set us free that we might set others free. "For this I was born," Jesus said, "and for this I have come into the world, to bear witness to the truth." And so were we born for this.

A visitor to the Seminary wrote, "As I walked about, I felt very close to God there and closer to the very best that the human race is capable of." That was our original vision, too, that called us here—wanting to be close to God and to give our very best. And as we have lived here, learning how to "about goe"—seeking, circling, standing, spiraling, leaning—we found that what we learned was not some finished task or final truth so much as a way to travel, a way of looking to Jesus who is the way, and the truth, and the life.

Amen!

The Master in Theological Studies Program

By Laura L. Meagher, M.T.S. '80

How do you respond to a radical call to ministry which you do not experience as a call to ordination? For lay persons desiring intensive training and formation in Christian life and service beyond the resources of the parish community, the M.T.S. degree offered by Virginia Seminary provides several options.

Lay persons seeking a deeper understanding of their Christian vocations can find in the Master of Theological Studies program a unique opportunity to examine many possibilities that fall under the heading of "the ministry of the laity." Whether preparing for service to the church as teacher, administrator, pastoral associate or volunteer, or for theologically grounded service to secular society, M.T.S. students undertake a comprehensive theological education. Unlike graduate courses in religion offered in college or university settings, the M.T.S. program at Virginia Seminary is centered in the life of a worshipping community which requires much more than intellectual commitment alone. For many M.T.S. students, the choice of the Seminary community is an integral part of the process of strengthening their Christian vocation "to carry on Christ's work of reconciliation in the world" (Book of Common Prayer, p. 855).

M.T.S. students both enliven and are enlivened by the various understandings of ministry which arise in a community in which most students are preparing for ordination. The special needs of M.T.S. students are taken into account in the structure of advisee groups and in curriculum requirements.

Candidates for the two-year M.T.S. degree are required to take the same foundational courses in Scripture, church history, systematic theology and Christian ethics prescribed for M.Div. candidates. Additionally, they undertake an independent study project in their final semester with an adviser of their choosing. Courses in pastoral theology, liturgics, and homiletics required of M.Div. students are open to M.T.S. students as electives, as are opportunities in field education and in clinical pastoral education. One of the attractive opportunities offered by the M.T.S. program is the choice of a wide variety of electives. Whether chosen from the Seminary curriculum or from the wider resources of the Washington Theological Consortium, courses can be selected to provide theological insights into almost any aspect of contemporary society.

Whether preparing for a career that requires a theological education or seeking insight into the meaning of Christian vocation, the student enrolled in the M.T.S. program can find within a supportive community formation and training for a broad range of possible responses to the call to Christian ministry.

Education in the Field

The Department of Field Education facilitates and oversees programs “in the field” during the middle and senior years concurrent with academic studies; during the summer following the junior year; and, for those students who choose additional field education, during the second summer or for an intern year.

Concurrent Field Education

In the spring semester, junior year, the student negotiates a field placement for twelve hours a week beginning in September of the middle year. This process is facilitated by the director of field education. There are approximately one hundred approved parish training sites in the greater Washington area. Experienced, trained field supervisors serve in a variety of church settings: urban, suburban, or rural; small, medium, or large; contemporary or historical; and having a diversity of liturgical traditions and organizational features. Each student has the opportunity to reflect on the field ministry with an individual supervisor and with a lay committee, members of the parish committed to assist in the learning process. In parish sites students lead worship, preach, teach, visit, serve on committees, and become involved in special aspects of parish life.

Other approved training sites may include educational, clinical, or community institutions in which students who are well grounded in parish experience may learn through the practice of special ministries. Most students experience deeper involvement and learning by remaining in the same placement for two years; however, the student-site contract is negotiated annually, and students are encouraged to seek the training site which best provides experience related to learning goals.

Learning in field education which is concurrent with academic courses is achieved at several levels. Most obvious are the practical skills of ministry—the “how to” learning. Growth in personal and professional identity is crucial—the deeper discovery of “who I am.” “Is this truly my calling” is the level of testing a vocation to the ordained ministry. The integration of academic and field work occurs when the student reflects theologically on the practice of ministry—“How is God present and active in all this?”

Field education colloquy is a weekly small group discussion of issues arising in the various levels of learning in the field site. Accounts of actual events in which the student has been involved become the basis of reflective learning, as seven or eight students meet with a faculty mentor, a lay person, and a parish priest in both semesters of the middle year. Colloquy is a key opportunity to bring together academic and field work into an integrated theological education.

Satisfactory completion of two years of concurrent field education is the norm for M.Div. students. Written evaluations at the end of each semester become the basis of a grade (satisfactory, conditional, unsatisfactory) assigned by the director of field education. A conditional is changed to satisfactory when the student demonstrates in subsequent semesters of field education that the conditional area performance is fully satisfactory. An unsatisfactory grade is changed to satisfactory when the student has done remedial work required by the faculty and prescribed by the director of field education and when subsequent semesters of field education are fully satisfactory.

To help defray the expenses of participation in the field education program, students are offered grants from the Seminary. These grants are made possible by contributions to the field education program from participating training sites plus income from a special field education fund of the Seminary. Students may not receive direct payment for services from a training site.

A manual more fully describing field education at the Seminary has been prepared for distribution to students, supervisors, and lay committees.

First Summer—Clinical Pastoral Education

Students in the Master in Divinity course devote the summer following the junior year to an eleven-to twelve-week program in Clinical Pastoral Education. Certified supervisors in accredited mental hospitals, general hospitals, correctional institutions, and a few parishes across the nation offer a significant experience in which the student engages in training in pastoral care and undergoes personal growth in self- and professional-identity. Six hours academic credit is given for satisfactory completion of CPE.

The Field Education Department facilitates applications, admissions interviews, and placements of students, but each center supervisor selects the group of trainees at that site. A limited number of CPE centers are located in the greater Washington area, and because of the realities of financial and personal hardship, the Seminary stresses priority in these placements for married students and particularly those with children. Married students not placed locally are usually placed within weekend commuting distance of their homes.

CPE programs are full-time during the five weekdays, with occasional Sunday duties; thus, it is not practical for students to attempt evening or weekend work at paying jobs. Students must be able to finance this summer's training. The CPE training fee is due on April 1 and is uniform for all students (see Financial Information, p. 74). Living expenses are the responsibility of the student. Some CPE centers provide room and/or board, some offer stipends; most provide only the training.

Second Summer

Assuming successful completion of CPE and middler field education, the Seminary has no requirements for the summer following the middle year. Every candidate for a degree is encouraged, however, to undertake supervised ministry and/or study in a culture or subculture (other than his or her own) during some portion of theological education.

The summer following the second year is particularly recommended for this purpose in the case of Master in Divinity candidates. Students may propose a cross-cultural program on their own or may choose among a number of established programs (e.g., Panama Study project; the overseas companion relation of one home diocese; or the Appalachian Ministries Educational Resources Center, which specializes in training for students preparing for ministry in the Appalachian Church and other settings, with particular attention to small town and rural congregations). A limited amount of scholarship aid is available, based on need, for some approved summer programs.

Alternatively, experience in another culture may be sought during the academic year through attending one or more January courses at the Overseas Ministry Study Center at New Haven, Connecticut.

Students should consult the Assistant Professor of Mission and World Religions or the Director of Field Education, as appropriate, for suggestions about specific programs and locations. Supervised work will be entered on a student's transcript as "Additional Training Received" if a description of the work, together with a written satisfactory evaluation by the program director, is provided.

Financial arrangements vary widely and are the responsibility of the student. VTS students have participated in field experiences throughout the United States and abroad.

Independent Study

The director of field education may supervise up to five students each semester in field-related, independent study, in addition to the required twelve hours. Academic credit is given.

Intern Year

A faculty-approved internship of nine-to-fifteen months, usually following the middle year, involves full-time work under trained supervision and may carry academic credit. If the sponsor is an academic institution and the program involves regular seminars, assigned readings, and papers, academic credit usually is given. Internships may be arranged in parishes, urban social work, intercultural settings, Clinical Pastoral Education, or overseas.

Students remain enrolled in the Seminary and return for their subsequent studies without further admissions procedures. Single students in local internships may live in a seminary dormitory. Financial arrangements vary greatly and specific programs must be investigated to determine the student's financial obligations and/or benefits. Internships which do not carry academic credit are recorded on the student's transcript as "Additional Training Received" if a written satisfactory evaluation is submitted by the supervisor.

Center for the Ministry of Teaching

The Center for the Ministry of Teaching was established in 1985 for the purpose of promoting excellence in Christian education. Housed in Packard-Laird Hall, the Center includes an extensive library of educational materials for use in parishes, a teaching laboratory, a media center for the Seminary faculty, and additional work space and offices.

All classes in Christian education are taught in the Center, including practice teaching courses in which the seminarians plan and carry out class sessions with children and youth which are videotaped. They then evaluate their experience. (Boys and girls from the Seminary community and surrounding parishes are members of the practice groups.)

In addition, weekend workshops and summer programs are offered for professional and lay educators in the churches. The Center programs seek to foster exchange between parish educators and the Seminary's effort to prepare its graduates for effective educational ministry—as teachers and administrators of programs.

In the evolving development of the Center, it is envisaged that the staff will be expanded to include research and development personnel, with a view to writing and publishing suitable curricular resources for teaching in the Episcopal Church. It is also hoped that leadership can be provided regionally across the country in the education of teachers/leaders for parish programs.

Director of the Center is the Rev. Locke E. Bowman, Jr., professor of Christian Education and Pastoral Theology.

The Washington Theological Consortium

---

The Washington Theological Consortium is an association of theological schools in the Washington area of which this seminary is a member. The Consortium is intended to make possible greater cooperation on an ecumenical basis in theological education, and to take advantage of the resources of the Washington metropolitan area in preparing men and women for ministry.

Students at V.T.S. have found that other schools in the Consortium offer vast and enriching libraries, faculties, and student resources. In some cases the Consortium offers courses in subjects not offered at V.T.S. In other cases students cross-register primarily to gain exposure to a theological tradition different from their own.

To this end students in any member school of the Consortium are permitted to take courses for credit in any other member school at no additional cost. In addition there are opportunities for exchanges of faculty for particular courses and for participation in consortium seminars led by a faculty team representing two or more member schools.

Each year a significant number of V.T.S. students enroll in courses at other schools in the Consortium. At the same time students from other consortium schools take classes at V.T.S. All students in the M.Div. and M.T.S. programs are required to take at least one Consortium course.

This important venture in theological education is in keeping with the recommendation of the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada, and the Board for Theological Education of the Episcopal Church, which have recommended that seminaries take part in various kinds of "clusters" and other educational structures which will permit cooperation across denominational lines and among various kinds of schools.

The Reverend David Trickett, Ph.D., is director. Members of the Consortium are listed below.

Center for Continuing Education

The Rev. Richard A. Busch, Ph.D.,
Director

The Rev. Burton J. Newman, S.T.D.,
Associate Director

The vocation of the ministry is increasingly complex and challenging. Through the program of the Center for Continuing Education we hope to assist ministers in their work for a renewed and relevant church, faithful to its Lord and dedicated to his mission in the world. This is accomplished by coming away from the pressures of the parish for a period of all-round renewal. It provides a challenging opportunity that fosters personal growth through theological reflection, evaluation and integration, worship and looking ahead.

The Virginia Seminary program is unique within the church in terms of its duration and diversity. The program is based upon a six-week experience in residence with a group of peers, followed by ten months back home, and completed by a one-week return conference with the original group. Our program is fully ecumenical. Using an action-reflection model of theological education, this effort is specifically designed to take advantage of peer group learning. Therefore, willingness to participate in such a koinonia is essential. The rewards are great and provide an exciting, stretching, and deeply satisfying learning opportunity.

The design of our program varies with the needs of different groups. However, our basic design includes daily Bible study and worship, theological and biblical updating, four-day human interaction conference, pastoral care workshop and theological presentations by seminary faculty and participants. In addition, there are workshops in conflict management, leadership, journal writing, sexuality and spirituality, visits to a variety of churches in the greater Washington area, a three-day silent retreat, a husbands' and wives' weekend, opportunities to meet with seminary faculty and students, and a comprehensive eight-day life and career planning program. Each of these elements is turned toward the center of the program: the fostering of authentic pastoral ministry—authentic in terms of responsible servanthood.

Worship is an integral part of the six-week residency. (The Seminary community worships every morning.) The Washington area offers many diverse opportunities to observe different styles of parish ministry. Visits to these congregations are encouraged.

Fellowship grants have been made possible by the generosity of friends of the Center through their gifts to our endowment. The remaining charge is $1,700.00 and covers tuition, room and board for the six weeks, as well as the return conference the following year. There are some limited scholarship funds available, but each applicant is encouraged to seek scholarship aid from other sources.

This program is open to all ordained persons with at least five years of ministerial experience. Three six-weeks' terms are scheduled each year—fall, winter and spring. Exact dates may be obtained by writing to the director.

The Center for Continuing Education is located on the campus. Each term is limited to fourteen persons, and there are fourteen comfortable private rooms with baths in the Center. All meals are taken in the Seminary refectory.

Tennis courts, a gym, and an area for jogging are available on the campus. Washers and dryers may be used for a modest fee. A large shopping center is nearby.

Ample opportunity is given to meet and talk with the Seminary faculty and students. During each term several faculty members offer presentations as a part of our program. Virginia Seminary is a member of the Washington Theological Consortium, and a number of speakers and resource persons from a wide variety of backgrounds are available for consultation. A variety of speakers from around the world regularly come to the Seminary, and our schedule is arranged to include opportunities to hear and meet with these persons.

The Washington-Northern Virginia area is full of resources of every description. There is some free time available for informal participation in religious, community, cultural, and sporting events.

The Summer Refresher

Each year in early June, Virginia Seminary offers the Summer Refresher—an eight-day ecumenical conference for lay and ordained persons. Our programs include lectures, discussions, and workshops led by distinguished Christian leaders and teachers. In 1989 the leaders were Dr. Diogenes Allen, Professor of Philosophy at Princeton Theological Seminary; William Diehl, Lutheran layman and author of Christianity and Real Life and God's

John Sanford, noted author and expert in Jungian psychology, led a two-day continuing education seminar at VTS entitled "The Lost Psychology of the New Testament," in the Spring of 1989.

Agents for Change; Dr. Marianne Micks, Professor Emerita of Biblical and Historical Theology at VTS; and the Rev. Dr. David Scott, VTS Professor of Systematic Theology and Ethics. In addition, there are opportunities to participate in daily worship, to share common concerns, to read and reflect, to meet old friends and make new ones, and to enjoy the greater Washington area. Participants are welcome on a residential or non-residential basis. Complete information and application forms may be received by writing to the director.

Short Courses

A variety of short-term courses are offered each year. These are designed to address current issues of theology and the practice of ministry. These courses are led by persons recognized as leaders in their fields. Participants are welcome on a residential or non-residential basis. In addition, opportunities are made available for self-directed study, making use of the resources of Virginia Seminary and the metropolitan Washington area. Information is available upon request.

Lay School of Theology

The Lay School of Theology was established in 1971 at the request of a number of parishes in the Washington area in order to provide an opportunity for serious theological education for lay people. The program is open to persons of all denominations who wish to deepen their own understanding of the Christian faith and experience.

Spouses of seminarians are encouraged to enroll in Lay School courses. Tuition is waived for these individuals.

Students in the Lay School of Theology may take courses as auditors or may enroll for credit toward the Diploma in Theological Studies. The diploma is awarded for the satisfactory completion for credit of six courses, four of which are required: Introduction to Christian Theology, Introduction to Old Testament, Introduction to New Testament, and The Worship of the Church. (These credits are not transferrable to Virginia Seminary or to other academic institutions.)

Classes in the Lay School of Theology are taught by members of Virginia Seminary's faculty or other qualified persons. They are held on campus, on weekday evenings. Two or three courses are offered each semester. Tuition is modest. The Seminary's library is available to registered students in the Lay School.

Courses for Fall 1989 are:

Introduction to the Old Testament
The Making of a Holy People
Owning a Personal Theology

Additional information about the Lay School of Theology and registration applications may be obtained from Mrs. Sara Barnes, Registrar.

The Bishop Payne Library

Senior Elizabeth Bryan.

The Bishop Payne Library is a symbol and reminder of the union of the Bishop Payne Divinity School with the Virginia Theological Seminary. The Divinity School, named for the Right Reverend John Payne (V.T.S. 1836), first Bishop of Liberia, was founded in 1878 in Petersburg, Virginia, to prepare black persons for ministry. Virginia Seminary and Bishop Payne Divinity School merged in 1953. The library is a modern, fully-equipped facility, efficiently designed to serve students, faculty, graduates of the Seminary and the local clergy.

The book collection dates back to the early years of the nineteenth century and now contains approximately 110,000 books. The library also receives 560 periodicals, not counting continuations and publications of learned societies. The growing reference collection is a rich resource of major works of religious scholarship including bibliographies, encyclopedias, indexes, and commentaries.

Through its participation in the Washington Theological Consortium, the extensive collections of the member libraries, numbering more than 900,000 volumes, are available for direct borrowing by students and faculty. Automated bibliographical services are available from the Online Computer Library Center (OCLC).

Lectureships and Visiting Professorships

The Reinicker Lectures

By the generosity of the late George A. Reinicker of Baltimore, a lectureship was founded in October 1894 which has brought to the Seminary campus a long list of distinguished lecturers over the past ninety years. The most recent of the Reinicker series, which are given every few years, were delivered by the Most Reverend Frederick Donald Coggan, then the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Rev. Dr. Raymond Brown of Union Seminary in New York.

The Lester Bradner Lectures

This lectureship, created in 1933 by the four children of the Rev. Lester Bradner of North Kingstown, R. I., in his memory, are given on a rotating basis at the Episcopal Divinity School of Cambridge, Massachusetts, the General Theological Seminary of New York City, and the Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary in Virginia. The lectures are devoted to the field of Christian Education.

Dr. Craig Dykstra of Princeton Theological Seminary gave the Bradner Lectures at Virginia Seminary in 1988.

The Alexander Clinton Zabriskie Lectures

Alexander Clinton Zabriskie, a former dean and for thirty years a member of the faculty, died on June 24, 1956. In the following year the trustees, alumni, family and friends, created a memorial to him in the form of this endowed lectureship. [Dr. Zabriskie had earlier planned such a memorial to his father, and the trustees adopted the terms which Dr. Zabriskie had established:

"The lecturer is to be chosen by the Faculty of the Theological Seminary. They may invite either clergymen or laymen, either men or women, either members of the Protestant Episcopal Church or any other Christian church, either American or foreign. He may speak on any subject the Faculty thinks important to have presented to seminarians and church folk. It is expected that he will treat his subject in a broad and ecumenical fashion and not in any narrow denominational or partisan fashion. I trust that these lectures will contribute in some small way to the understanding and articulating of the one great Church as it exists already in the mind and purposes of God; but the lectures need not be explicitly devoted to the problems of Christian reunion."]

Recent Zabriskie Lectures were delivered by Dr. Ann Belford Ulanov, Professor of Psychiatry and Religion at Union Theological Seminary in New York; the Reverend Dr. James A. Forbes, Jr., the Joe R. Engle Professor of Preaching at Union Theological Seminary in New York; and the Reverend Dr. Walter Brueggemann, Professor of Old Testament at Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia.

The 1989 lecturer will be Dr. Stephen W. Sykes, Regius Professor of Theology, The University of Cambridge.

The Daniel Francis Sprigg Lectures

By the generous provisions of the Rev. William D. Morgan of Baltimore (1855-1942), this lectureship was established in honor of his wife's uncle, the Rev. Daniel Francis Sprigg (d. 1908), a graduate of the Seminary in 1846 and a long-time member of its board of trustees.

In February 1987, the Sprigg Lectures were delivered by the Reverend Dr. Arthur Peacocke, Director of the Ian Ramsey Centre at St. Cross College, Oxford, a center dedicated to studying and reflecting upon the issues between science and theology and the ethical issues raised by scientific investigation. "Science and Theology Today" was the title of the series.

The Trotter Visiting Professorship

Friends of the Very Reverend Jesse M. Trotter, professor at Virginia Seminary from 1945 until 1977 and dean from 1956 until 1969, established a fund in his memory in 1983 to provide for a visiting professorship in fields in which Dr. Trotter had a particular interest. The Right Reverend John B. Coburn, retired Bishop of Massachusetts, was the first Trotter Visiting Professor, teaching in the Fall 1987 semester in the field of spirituality. In the Spring of 1990, the Right Reverend Philip A. Smith, retired Bishop of New Hampshire, will teach pastoral theology.

Alumni/ae Association

The Alumni/ae Association is composed of all persons who have matriculated at the Virginia Theological Seminary, and all honorary alumni/ae. The Alumni/ae Association is represented by its elected Executive Council (AAEC). The task of the AAEC, in cooperation with the dean and board of trustees, faculty and students, is to communicate the needs, purposes, and decisions of the Seminary to its alumni/ae; and, on their behalf, to represent their experience in and concerns about the Church's ministry to the Seminary, particularly through the Alumni/ae Association's elected representatives to the Seminary's board of trustees. To that end, the AAEC seeks to support the work of the Seminary by promoting and funding appropriate programs for the nurture of its alumni/ae and the Seminary community.

Alumni/ae Association By-Laws

Membership

The Alumni/ae Association of the Protestant Episcopal Seminary in Virginia shall be composed of all those listed in the Seminary records as living alumni/ae, all honorary members elected to the Association, and the Fellows of the Center for Continuing Education.

Meetings

There shall be an annual meeting during the Fall Alumni/ae Convocation at the Seminary. Ballots for the election of new officers shall be sent by the Executive Committee each spring.

Executive Committee

An executive committee shall be composed of twelve members, serving three-year terms, with four members rotating off each year.

New members shall be elected each spring by mailed ballots from Association members. The Executive Committee shall conduct the election.

Members of the Executive Committee are expected to attend all meetings. Persons habitually absent will be replaced by the Executive Committee.

Election of Executive Committee

Before the election, nominations shall be requested from Association members by the Executive Committee.

Any nomination endorsed by the signatures of ten alumni/ae will be included on the ballot.

Other names may be added by the Executive Committee.

At least two names for each vacancy on the Executive Committee will be provided on the ballot.

An alumni/ae representative to the Seminary board of trustees shall also be elected each spring, from among current or outgoing Executive Committee members, at the same time as the ballot for the Executive Committee, by Association members. At least two nominations for each vacancy for this election shall be made by the Executive Committee.

Officers

Officers shall be elected from among Executive Committee members, by the Executive Committee, at its first meeting after the time of election of members.

Officers shall serve for one-year terms, and may be re-elected.

They shall consist of: president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Alumni/ae trustees shall be ex-officio members of the Executive Committee.

Notes: Master in Divinity

A. Elective Distribution

The forty-two semester hours of electives in the Master in Divinity course of study shall be distributed as follows:

1. One three-hour theology course in a major doctrine, to be taken after ST 1 and to be chosen from among the following courses, at least one of which will be offered every semester:
  - ST 3 The Authority and Interpretation of Scripture
  - ST 4 The Doctrine of Revelation
  - ST 5 The Christian Doctrine of God
  - ST 6 The Person and Work of Jesus Christ
  - ST 7 Human Spirit and Holy Spirit
  - ST 8 Church and Sacraments
2. PCE 103, "Teaching in the Church." This course will be offered every semester and may be taken at any time.
3. Four additional quarter courses (six semester hours) in Pastoral Theology, including at least one quarter course (1½ hours) in Administration (PA), one in Care and Counseling (PC), one in Evangelism (PEV), and one in General Pastoral Theology (PT).
4. One additional three-hour course in each of the following five areas: Old Testament, New Testament, Theology, Church History, and Christian Ethics and Contemporary Society.
5. The remaining fifteen hours of electives may be distributed as the student chooses.

B. Consortium Requirement

Students are required to take at least one course taught by a member of the faculty of another school in the Washington Theological Consortium or a Consortium-sponsored seminar. Normally this should be one of the elective courses.

C. Clinical Pastoral Education Requirement

In addition to the 96 semester hours listed above, students are required to take one quarter of Clinical Pastoral Education. This is normally taken in the summer between the junior and middle years. Six hours credit will be given for successful completion of this program, making a total of 102 semester hours required for the M.Div. degree.

D. Biblical Language Requirement

Students may fulfill the biblical language requirement in one of three ways: (1) They may take OT/NT 4, "Introduction to Biblical Languages," normally taken in the first semester of the junior year. (2) They may take OT 101, the first semester of "Beginning Hebrew" (OT 101-102). (3) They may take NT 101, the first semester of "Elementary New Testament Greek" (NT 101-102). While one semester of either Hebrew or Greek will satisfy the language requirement, students who choose options #2 or #3 should normally plan to take the chosen language for two semesters.

E. Field Education Requirement

- (1) Two years of field education are normally required of all students.
- (2) With faculty permission, students who enroll in the Middle-Atlantic Parish Training Program (or some other equivalent and approved summer program) may be exempted from senior field education, provided petition to the faculty is made by April 1 of the middle year. If the faculty approves the exemption, it will be contingent upon satisfactory completion of the summer program as well as middle field education.
- (3) Students determined by the faculty to be seriously deficient academically at the end of the fall or spring semester, middle year, may be required to take two additional academic courses in lieu of senior field education. Such students may be required to do Middle-Atlantic Parish Training Program (or some other equivalent and approved program) as a substitute for senior field education.
- (4) Students determined by the faculty to be deficient in field education during the middle year may be required to do Middle-Atlantic Parish Training Program (or some other equivalent and approved program) in addition to senior field education.

F. Faculty Approval of Registration

Students shall consult with their faculty advisors each semester before registering for courses. Advisors shall sign their advisees' registration forms indicating that such consultation has taken place. The faculty may require a student in the senior year to elect courses it specifies in order to remedy deficiencies.

Notes: Master in Theological Studies

1. Students in the MTS degree program shall elect one three-hour theology course in a major doctrine, which shall be taken after ST 1 and chosen from among the following courses, at least one of which will be offered every semester:

- ST 3 The Authority and Interpretation of Scripture
- ST 4 The Doctrine of Revelation
- ST 5 The Christian Doctrine of God
- ST 6 The Person and Work of Jesus Christ
- ST 7 Human Spirit and Holy Spirit
- ST 8 Church and Sacraments

2. The remaining 27 semester hours of electives may be distributed as the student chooses, thereby enabling the student to concentrate in areas of special interest or to opt for a broader exposure across the full range of theological disciplines.

3. Candidates for the MTS degree are required to undertake an independent study project (MTS 401) in the second year. The project should be related to the student's primary area of interest or vocational goal. Such a project will normally take the form of a major paper, but it may also take other forms, such as educational curricula for church schools, media presentations or annotated works of art or literature. The precise nature of the independent study project will be worked out in consultation with the student's project advisor, who is to be chosen by the end of the first year of study. It may be done in the spring semester of the second year for three hours of credit or, for longer or more involved projects, in both semesters of the second year for six hours credit.

4. Students are required to take at least one course taught by a member of the faculty of another school in the Washington Theological Consortium or a Consortium-sponsored seminar. Normally this should be one of the elective courses.

5. Students may take a quarter of Clinical Pastoral Education if they are accepted into that program. Credits earned in that program must be in addition to those required for the MTS degree.

6. The biblical language requirement may be fulfilled in one of three ways. (See Note "D" under the M.Div. curriculum on p. 47.)

7. Students shall consult with their faculty advisors each semester before registering for courses. Advisors shall sign their advisees' registration forms indicating that such consultation has taken place. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may also be consulted on matters dealing with the MTS program.

Master of Arts in Christian Education

Beginning in the academic year 1990-1991, the Seminary will offer a two-year curriculum leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Christian Education (M.A.C.E.). Persons who complete this program successfully will be equipped to assume professional leadership in parish Christian education. Ideal candidates for admission are lay persons who do not seek ordination but feel called to serve the Church in significant roles as directors/ministers of Christian education.

Total credit hours required: 61.5

Notes: Master of Arts in Christian Education

1. Students are required to take at least one three-hour elective course taught by a member of the faculty of another school in the Washington Theological Consortium or a Consortium-sponsored seminar.
2. One full year of field education in a local parish Christian Education program will be required in the second year of the program.
3. Students shall consult with their faculty advisers each semester before registering for courses. Advisers shall sign their advisees' registration forms indicating that such consultation has taken place. The Professor of Christian Education and Pastoral Theology may also be consulted on matters dealing with the M.A.C.E. program.

Doctor of Ministry

The Doctor of Ministry program represents a creative design for advanced professional education at Virginia Seminary. Many clergy feel the need for professional and intellectual growth. This ecumenical program provides ordained ministers and full-time church professionals who have at least five years professional experience an opportunity for graduate study without the penalty of an interruption in ongoing ministry. The program has been designed so that candidates can complete the requirements of the degree while they continue the normal activities of their ministry.

The Purpose

The focus of the D.Min. program is the practice of ministry. The immediate purpose is to instill greater theological, spiritual, and behavioral understanding of particular situations in the candidates' ministry, supported by biblical and historical perspectives. A longer range goal is to stimulate and assist candidates to continue growing intellectually, spiritually, and professionally in their active ministries. Thus, this program is not directed to academic research or teaching, but to increased excellence in ministerial practice. The candidates are encouraged to learn in and from their ministerial work.

Stages of the Program

1. Completion of a basic 6-week term in the Continuing Education program of V.T.S. or its equivalent.
2. Satisfactory completion of two summer residential terms (four weeks each in duration). There are a number of ingredients in these sessions. There will be the use of the candidates' own situational case studies in four key areas of ministerial practice (a. theological and ethical aspects of ministry; b. general pastoral aspects of ministry; c. communicative and educative aspects of ministry; d. organizational and administrative aspects of ministry). In making use of the case studies, a colleague group and two faculty persons will critically assess concrete situations arising in ministry and the candidate's own practice of ministry. In addition, these summer sessions will include a theological seminar, Bible study, worship, and field studies in the greater Washington area.
3. Individualized preparation for action-reflection exams. Each candidate will prepare a self-evaluation in the light of workshop critiques and faculty counsel and then outline an individual program for further preparation for action-reflection exams. This may include a reading list, summer refresher courses, conferences, laboratories, or other forms of education at Virginia Seminary or elsewhere.
4. A thesis project in some area associated with the practice of ministry. Each candidate will have some latitude in selecting a topic as long as two dimensions are articulated in his or her report: first, some dimension of his or her work as a minister; and second, the correlation and mutual illumination between the chosen area and appropriate elements of classical theological disciplines to illuminate this dimension or area of ministry.

5. An oral defense of the thesis project.

Admission Requirements

Admission is determined by a faculty committee which takes into account a variety of factors which include the following:

1. Experience in ordained ministry or full-time church work of at least five years.
2. A place of full-time ministry: a parish or local church, a denominational or ecumenical office, an institution which one serves as chaplain. Candidates must furnish the Admissions Committee some assurance that they will continue to be engaged in some full-time ministerial service during their participation in the program.
3. A masters-level theological degree from an accredited seminary; B average at graduate level normally required.
4. The promise of growth in one's ministry as evidenced by letters from professional colleagues, both ordained and lay.
5. Ecclesiastical endorsement, as evidenced by a letter from the appropriate denominational office and from the Senior Warden/Clerk of Session, etc., which indicates agreement and support of the applicant's participation in the program.
6. Applicant's demonstration of ability to engage in doctoral level work (e.g., a reflection paper and a theological essay).
7. High motivation for professional growth.
8. Interview with Doctor of Ministry Committee, if requested by V.T.S.

For further information, call or write the director of the program, the Reverend Dick Busch.

Diploma in Anglican Studies

Total hours required: 30

Requirements for Admission

Persons who have received a graduate theological degree from a seminary of another tradition, and who seek a year of study focusing on the Anglican tradition in preparation for ordination in the Episcopal Church, may be admitted to a one-year program of full-time study leading to a Diploma in Anglican Studies. (Those who prefer a less structured program of study should apply for the Certificate of Work Accomplished.) Applicants for this program should be postulants or candidates for Holy Orders or have the written permission of their bishops. The application procedure and requirements are the same as for the Master in Divinity degree.

Requirements for Graduation

In order to receive the Diploma in Anglican Studies, a student must be in residence as a full-time student for one academic year and successfully complete at least 30 semester hours of credit, of which 21 hours must be in required courses as specified in the following curriculum:

	hours
LIT 1	Liturgics..... 4
CH 205	History of the Protestant Episcopal Church..... 3
CE 201	Anglican Moral Theology..... 3
PEV 44	The Prayer Book Offices I..... 1½
PT-PC 45	The Prayer Book Offices II..... 1½
LIT 2 and 3	Liturgical Music..... 2
	Two Electives in Theology or Church History..... 6
	(See below)
	Additional Electives..... 9
	30

Notes: Diploma in Anglican Studies

1. The two "Electives in Theology or Church History" listed above as requirements must be chosen from among the following courses:
  - a) ST 221—Anglican Theology from Cranmer to Sykes
  - b) CH 115—Foundations of the Church of England
  - c) CH 118—The Anglican Church and Patristic Theology
  - d) CH 212—History of Christian Thought Seminar: Richard Hooker
2. An appropriate field education experience in an Episcopal Church may be required in place of an elective course. The necessity, nature and extent of such experience will be determined in consultation with the Director of Field Education and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, and will be based on the student's prior field education experiences in such a setting.
3. A course in liturgical preaching may be required, in place of an elective course, for those who in the judgment of the Seminary have not had sufficient training in this area.
4. A grade point average of at least 2.0 is required for the Diploma.
5. In case of schedule conflicts or the unavailability of a required course in the one year a student is in residence, appropriate substitutions may be made with the approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

---

The Diploma in Theology

Ordained students from other nations may be granted the Diploma in Theology, provided that they meet the prerequisites and fulfill the requirements for graduation.

The prerequisites for the Diploma in Theology are:

1. A minimum of two years of study in Bible, Church, History, and Systematic Theology at another acceptable theology school or seminary.
2. Ordination.
3. Demonstration of the ability to use spoken and written English.

The requirements for graduation with a Diploma in Theology are:

1. One academic year of residency at Virginia Seminary.
2. A minimum of 24 hours of credit.
3. At least one course each in Old Testament, New Testament, Church History, and Systematic Theology.
4. A grade average of at least 2.0.

The Certificate of Work Accomplished

Laypersons (and clergy) from other nations who are not candidates for a degree and who satisfactorily complete one year of special study with at least 24 semester hours of credit will be awarded a Certificate of Work Accomplished. Unlike the Diploma in Theology, the Certificate of Work Accomplished is not limited to students from countries other than the United States. Please see page 71.

1989 Graduates Meg Ingalls, Jim Nelson, and Larry Hooper

Description of Courses

Courses numbered 1-99 are required courses. Electives numbered in the 100s are open to all classes, in the 200s are open to middlers and seniors, and in the 300s are open to seniors. In special cases permission can be given to a junior or middler to take an advanced level course. Unless otherwise indicated all courses carry three hours credit. Courses are subject to change.

Department of Old Testament Language and Literature

Dr. Newman, Dr. Ross, Dr. VanDevelder, Dean Reid, Dr. Lewis

FALL SEMESTER

Required Courses

OT 1 Introduction to the Old Testament

A study of the Old Testament with special attention to the historical background of Israel's faith; the distinctive contributions of particular books; the relevance of certain approaches to the material, such as literary analysis, tradition history, and form criticism; and the development of major themes in Old Testament theology, the Pentateuch and Former Prophets. Dr. Newman.

OT-NT 4 Introduction to Biblical Languages

An introduction to biblical Hebrew and Greek with emphasis on the tools and methods used in the examination of the vocabulary of the Bible. (Required of all first-year students except those who elect NT 101 or OT 101.) Dr. VanDevelder, Dr. Ross, Dr. Lewis.

Electives

OT 101 Beginning Hebrew

Dr. VanDevelder

OT 201 Hebrew Reading and Exegesis

A study of selected portions of the book of Exodus. Dr. Newman.

OT 205 The Psalms

A study of the biblical Psalms in terms of their types, theology, and contribution to an understanding of Israel's religious life. Attention will also be given to the use of the Psalms in the services of the church. (In English.) (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Ross.

OT 208 Job and the Wisdom Literature

A study of the books of Job, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes in English, with emphasis on comparisons and contrasts of their unique literary and theological motifs. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Ross.

OT 209 Amos and Hosea

An intensive study of the message of Amos and Hosea, their place in the prophetic movement of ancient Israel, and their meaning for the contemporary church. (In English.) (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Ross.

OT 211 The Literature of Early Judaism

A study of the history and literature of early Judaism in the period between the close of the Hebrew Bible and the second Jewish Revolt against Rome (132-135 C.E.). The Apocrypha, selections from the Pseudepigrapha, and the Dead Sea Scrolls are read and discussed. The significance of these books for Judaism and their possible relation to the early Christian movement are examined. (This course meets the elective requirement in either Old or New Testament.) Dr. VanDevelder.

OT 214 The Deuteronomistic Movement

A study of the origins and development of "Deuteronomistic historical work," and editions of prophetic works, with special reference to the theme of "representing history" as an attempt to make tradition relevant for the present. Dr. Ross.

OT-NT 215 Major Motifs in Biblical Theology

A brief introduction to the history of biblical theology, followed by an examination of some of the major themes that constitute lines of continuity between the Old and New Testaments. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. VanDevelder.

SPRING SEMESTER

Required Courses

OT 2 Introduction to the Old Testament

A continuation of OT 1. The Latter Prophets and Writings. Dr. VanDevelder.

Electives

OT 102 Beginning Hebrew

A continuation of OT 101. Dr. VanDevelder.

OT 202 Hebrew Reading and Exegesis

Selections to be announced in connection with the course on Second Isaiah. Dr. Ross.

OT 203 Jeremiah and Ezekiel

An introduction to the prophets and their times and a survey of their main contributions to the theology of the Old Testament by means of the exegesis of key passages. Special attention will be given to the role of Jeremiah and Ezekiel in the prophetic movement as a whole. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Ross.

OT 204 Archaeology and the History of Israel

A study of the significance of archaeology for understanding and interpreting the Bible. Dr. Ross.

OT 206 Second Isaiah and the Faith of Israel

A study of Isaiah 40-55 with emphasis upon the theological concerns of the prophet in the context of the larger biblical faith: history, revelation, creation, Israel's election, covenant, and the Suffering Servant. Primarily lectures with some discussion. (In English.) Dr. Newman.

OT 207 The Jahwist Epic

A seminar which will deal with the theology of the Jahwist and its relevance in the period of the early monarchy. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Newman.

OT 210 Jeremiah

Jeremiah is viewed as the epitome of the pre-exilic prophetic movement in Israel, in whose life and work most of the major motifs of prophecy are focused. Lectures and seminars. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. VanDevellder.

OT-NT 212 Jerusalem Study Tour

A group study tour in the Holy Land during May under the auspices of St. George's College, Jerusalem. Using St. George's as home base, the group will visit many of the most important sites mentioned in the Bible and will also have ample time to explore the innumerable sites to be found within Jerusalem itself. (Limited enrollment.) Call or write Dr. VanDevellder.

OT 213 Judaism

A seminar on Judaism, its history, beliefs, and practices. Special attention will be given to the modern State of Israel as the cutting edge in the development of twentieth century Judaism. The contemporary Jewish-Christian dialogue will also receive some consideration. The seminar will be conducted on an informal basis with field trips and guest lecturers. (Enrollment limited to twelve with permission of instructors required.) (This course does not meet the elective requirements in Old Testament.) (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Newman, Dr. VanDevellder.

OT 306 Problems in the History and Faith of Early Israel

This course will deal with the history and faith of Israel from the Patriarchs to the early Monarchy. The primary focus will be the Land (of Canaan, of Promise, of Israel)—when the Hebrews came into possession of it, how they came into its possession, and the theological meaning (or meanings) they came to attach to it. Some attention will be given to the Old Testament roots of the contemporary Middle East situation involving the State of Israel. Lecture/seminar approach, with a substantial paper required. Dr. Newman.

Department of New Testament Language and Literature

Dr. Reid, Dr. VanDevellder, Dr. Lewis, Dr. Hall, Ms. Dozier, Mrs. Christman

NT 206 Epistle to the Romans

A detailed study in English of the epistle. Dean Reid.

NT 207 The Gospel of John

An exegetical study in English of the Gospel with a view to understanding the author's theology and interpretation of Christ. There will be a special section for those who wish to translate the Greek text. Dean Reid.

NT 210 First Corinthians in English

The letter will be studied in English exegetically in the context of a reconstruction of St. Paul's relation with the Corinthian Church and of Pauline theology. There will be a special section for those who wish to translate the Greek text. Dr. Lewis.

NT-OT 212 Jerusalem Study Tour

(See description under OT-NT 212.)

NT 219 The Parables

An examination of what Jesus was doing with the parables 1 and 2 or equivalent, are prerequisites. Class limited to 20. Ms. Dozier.

Department of Church History

Dr. Stafford, Dr. Pritchard, Mr. Mitchell, Dr. Trigg

FALL SEMESTER

Required Courses

CH 1 The History of the Early and Medieval Church

A study of the development and modification of Christianity during late antiquity and the middle ages. In the setting of the Roman Empire, we will examine the mission of the church and its development of characteristic institutions, doctrines, and ways of life. We will then study the reshaping of Christianity in the wake of the Empire's fall and the church's fresh grasp of mission during the Latin middle ages. Dr. Stafford.

Electives

CH/MWR 104

(See description under MWR/CH 104)

---

CH 115 The Formation of the Church of England: the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries

The Reformation of the church in England and subsequent struggle over its basic institutions. The course will study theological developments, including the Reformers, Hooker, the Caroline Divines, and the English Puritan tradition, especially as they relate to church life and organization. Particular attention will be given to the Books of Common Prayer, the 39 Articles, the Books of Homilies, and the development of rival pastoral theologies. Lectures and seminars. (Fall semester of odd years.) Dr. Stafford, Dr. Prichard.

CH 118 The Anglican Church and Patristic Theology

Anglican apologists have often sought to justify Anglican theology and church order by appealing to the Christians of the first five centuries. This course will focus on this apologetic tradition by reading both the patristic authors themselves and Anglican authors from the Reformation, the Oxford Movement, the late 19th century, and present missionary effort in Latin America. (Fall of even years.) Dr. Prichard.

CH 203 History of Christian Thought Seminar: Augustine

Augustine's understanding of the human predicament and God's salvation is studied in the context of late antiquity. Participants in the seminar will read in Augustine's writings intensively, especially the Confessions. Permission required for juniors. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Stafford.

CH 205 The History of the Protestant Episcopal Church

An historical study of the Episcopal Church in America with an emphasis on the way in which Episcopalians have understood and proclaimed their faith. Dr. Prichard.

SPRING SEMESTER

Required Courses

CH 2 The History of the Church Since 1500

A rapid survey of the history of Christianity since 1500 with particular emphasis upon the Reformation, the spread of Christianity to North America, the Great Awakening, and the 19th Century. Lectures and seminars. Dr. Prichard.

Electives

CH 111 Seminar in American Church History

This seminar focuses in detail on a specific issue in American Church history. Students will write a course paper and make one class presentation. (Limited to twelve.)
1990 topic: The role of theological seminaries in 19th Century Protestantism—Nineteenth Century American Christians often identified distinct theological movements by the seminaries in which their chief proponents taught (Princeton theology, New Haven theology, etc). This seminar will identify some of the leading Protestant seminaries and their theological perspectives and examine the role they played in 19th century Protestantism. (Spring semester of even years.) Dr. Prichard

CH 114 Classics of the Christian Journey

Readings of accounts of spiritual pilgrimage given during the course of the history of the Church, including those by Origen, Anthony of Egypt, Augustine, Gregory of Nyssa, Bernard of Clairvaux, Julian of Norwich, Martin Luther, Teresa of Avila, and John Bunyan. The seminar will attempt to understand the view of Christian life offered by each one, both in its own context and as it might be appropriated now. (Limited to twelve.) (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Stafford.

CH 117 Seminar in European Church History

This Seminar focuses on specific topics in European Church history. (Limited to twelve.) (Offered Spring Semester of odd years.) Dr. Prichard.

CH 120 English Mystical Writers in the Middle Ages

Readings and discussion of texts from Aelred of Rievaulx, Richard Rolle, The Cloud of Unknowing, Julian of Norwich, and Walter Hilton, considered in their religious and social settings and in their present witness. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Stafford.

CH 204 History of Christian Thought Seminar: John Calvin

Calvin's major creation was his biblical theology. He intended it to give form and meaning to every aspect of Christian life, individual and corporate. This seminar focuses on Calvin's biblical theology, especially the Institutes of the Christian Religion. There will be particular emphasis on Calvin's grasp of the Scriptures' implications for life. This will all be studied in the context in which Calvin created it: his reformation of Geneva. There will be attention to the influence of Calvin's work on Anglican traditions. (Limited to twelve.) Permission required for juniors. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Stafford.

CH 210 History of Christian Thought Seminar: Martin Luther

A study of Luther's theology in the religious and theological context in which it developed. The seminar will read in Luther's writings intensively, especially his commentaries on Scripture. Permission required for juniors. Dr. Stafford.

CH 212 Seminar in Historical Theology: Richard Hooker

Exploration of the defense of the English Church which Hooker advanced in Of the Laws of Ecclesiastical Polity. The readings and discussion will focus on understanding Hooker in his historical context, with attention to implications for the contemporary church. Permission required for juniors. Dr. Stafford.

Department of Theology

Dr. Scott, Dr. Eversley, Dr. Hancock, Dr. Trigg, Fr. Webster

FALL SEMESTER

Required Courses

ST 1 Introduction to Systematic Theology

The sources and methods of theological reflection, together with a study of basic Christian doctrines as summarized in the historic creeds. (4 credit hours.) Dr. Eversley, Dr. Hancock

ST 3 The Interpretation of Scripture

This course reviews major paradigms of the Church's interpretation of the Bible. Particular attention is given to the typological, allegorical, historical-critical, and "text as canon" views. Attention is also given to liberation interpretation theory. Theological assumptions about the authority and inspiration of the Bible are discussed. Another focus is on using the Bible for guidance for contemporary theological and ethical issues in the life of the Church.

Prerequisite: ST1 or an introductory course in Christian theology. Dr. Scott.

ST 4 Doctrine of Revelation

The Christian teaching about revelation will be developed, with particular attention to its role in modern theology as the answer to the fundamental epistemological question, "How do we know God?" Topics to be considered: revelation as personal; revelation as salvation; revelation in relation to faith and reason; revelation as mediated by nature and historical events; the history of revelation culminating in the revelation through Christ. (Not offered 1989-90.) Dr. Eversley.

ST 5 The Christian Doctrine of God

This course addresses our knowledge of God (Revelation and Faith), God's nature (Trinity), and God as Creator. (Not offered 1989-90.) Dr. Hancock.

ST 7 The Doctrine of the Holy Spirit

This course will examine Christian teaching about the Third Person of the Holy Trinity. The place of the Spirit in Scripture, sacraments, prayer, thought and experience will engage our attention. Dr. Eversley.

Electives

ST 117 The Theologian as Preacher: Edwards and Donne

As we attempt to answer the question—how does the preacher communicate theological ideas, this course in theological method from an aesthetic perspective, will focus on the poetic imagination, the religious affections, beauty and sensibility in major works, selected poetry, and sermons of Jonathan Edwards and John Donne, two preacher theologians. Dr. Eversley.

ST 221 Anglican Theology from Cranmer to Sykes

What is 'Anglican' theology? This course will consider Anglican writers who have consciously articulated an 'Anglican' theological position drawing variously upon the 'three fold knot' of Scripture, tradition, and reason. It will focus upon classic Anglican theological texts and engage critically with them. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Hancock.

ST 222 The Theology of Schleiermacher and Tillich

A careful reading and comparison of Friedrich Schleiermacher's The Christian Faith and Paul Tillich's Systematic Theology with consideration of selected other works. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Eversley.

Required Courses

ST 2 Creation and Creativity

A study of Christian doctrines of creation in biblical and historical theology, and their implications for human creativity, human responsibility, science and religion. Dr. Eversley.

ST 6 The Person and Work of Jesus Christ

An exploration of Christology and Soteriology in the light of Scripture, tradition, and contemporary theological thought. Dr. Hancock.

ST 8 Church and Sacraments

A study of the doctrine of the church in biblical and historical theology, and of contemporary ecclesiology including the ecumenical movement. This will be followed by examination of the concepts of sacraments and sacramentality in the life of the church and of the Christian. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Hancock.

Electives

ST 118 Twentieth Century Theology: Barth to Moltmann

Beginning with Karl Barth and Neo-orthodoxy, this course will explore the meanings of salvation in contemporary Christian theologies. Hope, Process, Liberation theologies (Black, Feminist, Third World), Aesthetic, Deconstruction, and Evangelical thought and method will receive attention. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Eversley.

ST 119 The Kingdom of God and the City

Within the larger theological framework of the kingdom of God, this course will focus upon understanding the city and addressing its needs. Readings from Maurice, Niebuhr, Rauschenbusch, Cone, Wink, and Martin Luther King will help us identify theological and pastoral responses to power, justice, race and class. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Eversley.

ST/PEV 120 Organizing A 'Traditional' Church

Much has been written about starting congregations in free church traditions. The work of organizing churches in the mainline tradition receives little attention. Grounded in the study of evangelical theology and evangelism, this course will compare the two different approaches and suggest methods of organizing new congregations and rejuvenating old ones in the mainline tradition. (This course satisfies either one elective in theology or requirement in evangelism.) Dr. Eversley.

ST 121 'Myths', 'Miracles', and the Modern World

This course will consider critically two much-debated issues in modern theology: The first, the role of 'myth' within the Bible and subsequent Christian reflection, and the second, 'miracles' in a scientific world. The course will afford a good opportunity for personal reflection upon the status of Scripture within the life of the Church and individual, and the practical nature of the Church's 'Good News' for the world today. (Not offered 1989-90.) Dr. Hancock.

ST 123 The Study of Theology

This course will examine critically the history of the development of the science of 'Theology', its sources and resources. Particular attention will be given to the methodology of Origen, Augustine, Aquinas, Calvin, Schleiermacher, Barth, and Segundo in order to reflect upon an appropriate approach to the 'doing' of Theology today within a parochial context. (Not offered 1989-90.) Dr. Hancock.

ST 202 Karl Barth and the Trinity Doctrine

This seminar will focus on Barth's treatment of the doctrine of God as Trinity as part of his doctrine of revelation. Barth's trinity doctrine in The Church Dogmatics I/1 will be the basic reading for the seminar. Other themes will be Barth's renewal of the trinity doctrine in modern theology and the significance of the trinity doctrine for Christian theology and ethics generally. Limited to ten students. Prerequisite: an introductory theology course. Dr. Scott.

ST 210 Evil and the God of Love

Characterizations of evil, responsibility for it, and divine and human responses to evil are the issues in this course. It is an attempt to answer the question—how can there not be a God of love when there is so much evil? Dr. Eversley.

ST 215 Introduction to Eastern Orthodox Theology

An exploration of the distinctive theological method and tradition of the Eastern Orthodox Churches. The course will focus on the doctrines of the Holy Trinity, creation and anthropology, the Person and economy of the Son of God and of the Holy Spirit, the Church, deification and eschatology, the communion of saints, and sacraments and liturgy. Special attention will be given to current ecumenical dialogues. (This course meets the Consortium requirement). Fr. Webster.

ST 219 Seminar on Early Christology

An examination of the development of the doctrine of Christ from its biblical origins through the Council of Chalcedon. Students will study the principal primary and secondary sources and prepare a paper. Dr. Trigg.

Department of Christian Ethics and Contemporary Society

Dr. Parrent, Dr. Scott, Dr. Newman, Mr. Mitchell

FALL SEMESTER

Required Course

CE 1 Christian Ethics

A study of biblical and theological foundations for the Christian life, the varieties of Christian ethical traditions and modes of analysis, the application of Christian norms to the political, economic, cultural, and familial orders. (4 credit hours.) Dr. Parrent, Dr. Scott.

CE 103 The Church in Society

What is the role of the Church in the social order? This course will examine perspectives on the relationship between the Church and society, patterns of Christian social action, and the issue of the Church's social involvement. Attention will be given to Church pronouncements and actions on selected contemporary social issues. (Not offered in 1989-90.) Dr. Parrent.

CE 105 The Urban Scene: An Overview for Clergy and Lay Persons

Using the City of Alexandria and the (D.C.) Metropolitan Area as a laboratory, this course will offer an opportunity to explore the urban scene, to understand the nature of some of the problems of urban areas, and to observe how these problems are being met. Through field trips, meetings with city officials and community organizers, appropriate readings and group discussion, attention will be focused on such areas as political structure, social agencies, community organizations, health care, schools, law enforcement, as well as the churches' response to urban needs. Mr. Mitchell.

CE 111 Christian Ethics and Issues of Economic Life

The focus of this course will be on moral issues raised by economic activity in the production, acquisition, possession, and use of material goods. The course will examine Christian theological perspectives on nature and the environment, property and its use, and human work as a vocation. Attention will be given to the ethical analysis of economic systems and to selected issues such as hunger, corporate responsibility, church investments, and business ethics. Dr. Parrent.

CE 201 Anglican Moral Theology

This seminar will study selections from major Anglican moral theologians. Our reading will be guided by three interests: distinctive features of Anglican moral theology; usefulness for parish ministry; relation to contemporary non-Anglican ethics. (Prerequisite: previous or concurrent introductory course in ethics.) Dr. Scott.

CE 208 Seminar on the Theology and Ethics of Reinhold Niebuhr

This seminar will focus on The Nature and Destiny of Man with consideration of other selected writings by and about Reinhold Niebuhr. (Not offered 1989-90.) Dr. Parrent.

CE 104 Twentieth Century Christian Social Thought

Beginning with the social gospel, the course will examine contemporary Christian social thought as reflected in Christian realism, the Christian-Marxist dialogue, the theologies of liberation (Black, feminist, third world), the new evangelicals, the ecumenical movement, and contemporary Roman Catholicism. Dr. Parrent.

CE 106 The Black Religious Experience in America

A study of the origin and development of Afro-American religion (within the context of United States history). Emphasis on the social, political, and economic functioning of the Black church. Mr. Mitchell.

CE 108 The Church and Popular Culture

An analysis of various forms of popular culture (film, TV, novels, music, sports) in relation to cultural values as those values affect the Christian community. Participation requires attendance at several forms of pop culture, e.g., film, sports events. (Limited to ten.) Dr. Scott.

CE 110 Christianity, Politics, and the State

This course will examine biblical and theological perspectives on the state, the development of normative Christian political thought, alternative approaches to politics, and contemporary issues in church-state relations. (Not offered 1989-90.) Dr. Parrent.

CE 202 Medical Ethics

The focus of the seminar will be on moral decision making about genetic screening, abortion of deformed fetuses, letting babies die, and euthanasia. The seminar will use case studies. (Prerequisite: an introductory course in ethics or permission of the instructor.) Dr. Scott.

CE 207 The Bible and the New York Times

A weekly Anuseinandersetzung based on the regular reading of the daily lessons of Morning Prayer and of the daily and Sunday New York Times. The discussion will focus on the relation between biblical faith and contemporary life. (Limited enrollment, permission of the instructor required. Priority given to seniors.) (This course does not meet the elective requirement in Christian Ethics.) Dr. Newman.

Department of Pastoral Theology

*Dr. Hanchey, Dr. Morgan, Dr. Bowman, Mr. Gibson, Mr. Green,
Mr. Guernsey, Dr. Roessler, Dr. Sunderland, Dr. Busch, Dr. Kryder,
Dr. Anderson, Mr. Gleason, Dr. Wohlfort, Dr. Prichard, Dr. Woodard*

The pastoral theology curriculum is designed to enable students to become familiar with the theory and practice of ministry in four important areas: administration (PA), pastoral care and counseling (PC), Christian education (PCE), evangelism (PEV). Academic explorations are integrated with personal reflection and field education experience when possible.

Students in the M.Div. program must elect six quarter courses, or equivalent, for a total of nine semester hours: one quarter course in the area of administration (PA), one in the area of pastoral care and counseling (PC), two in the area of Christian education (PCE), one in the area of evangelism (PEV), and one in the area of general pastoral theology (PT). A semester course counts as two quarter courses.

Recognizing that students bring a variety of strengths and interests to the seminary, this curriculum provides for an individualized program in pastoral theology according to each student's interest and sense of vocation. Drs. Hanchey, Morgan and Bowman are available to help students design their pastoral theology programs in light of students' prior education and experience.

Quarter courses numbered 10-39 are open to all students, 40-79 to middlers and seniors, and 80-99 to seniors only. Each quarter course receives 1.5 hours credit. Any of the following courses may be taken also as an elective.

Minimum Pastoral Theology Requirements for Graduation: 1 PA, 1 PC, 2 PCE, 1 PEV, and 1 other PT.

- PT-PCE 62 Practicum: The Ministry of Teaching, Bowman (spring)

Full Semester

PCE 103 Teaching in the Church

This fundamental course stresses the pastoral role in teaching the Gospel to all age levels. It includes practical orientation to the following: analyzing curricular content; developing goals and objectives; selecting appropriate classroom strategies; analyzing interaction; and choosing media. Students will practice their teaching skills and reconsider the teaching/learning process. Theories of learning are explored in relation to what actually happens in church classrooms. Dr. Bowman.

First Quarter

PA 10 The Ministry of Administration

Administration is a process which engages a person in ministry to a group. The model for such ministry is the parish. This course offers an understanding of administration as the ministry of the priesthood. Mr. Gleason

PA 18 Perspectives on Parish Ministry

This course will consider some of the issues raised in To Come Alive by James D. Anderson, and other congregational concerns, including: Parish administration, pastoral care, worship, church music, preaching, teaching, social outreach, managing stress, women and men serving in ordained ministry together, lay-clergy issues, and others. Mr. Green.

PA 53 Mutual Accountability: A Model for Clergy/Laity Teamwork

This course aims to impart: (1) the importance of organizing a small or large parish—clergy, vestry, staff, volunteers—on the model of accountability through mutual expectations, with practical and proven examples, and (2) some understanding of how the national, diocesan and parochial bodies of our Church are structured and interrelated. A study of The General Convention of the Episcopal Church discovers the prototype for government on all levels. Dr. Kryder.

PC 13 Sustaining Intimacy with the Brokenhearted and the Oppressed: The Ministry of Listening

Health and healing both treasure devoted contact between the healer and those hurting. This course explores brief pastoral counseling with the brokenhearted and oppressed, and the importance, employment, and a theology of listening in both care and counseling. Attention is paid to skill development, the use of empathy, confrontation, advice, and behavior modification in the helping relationship, and discerning the "base style" of the helping conversation for every participant. Good before and after CPE. Dr. Hanchey.

PC 14 Pastoral Relationships from Three Perspectives

This course of study is designed to help pastors define and live into relationships of spiritual direction, pastoral counseling, and crisis support. The nature and purpose of each is unique, and each may be an appropriate pastoral response at different times in the lives of people. Mr. Gibson.

PT-PCE 61 Readings: The Ministry of Teaching

Guided discussions on selected books and articles in the field of church teaching will focus on the historical development of Christian education—and the roles of clergy and laity in teaching children, youth, and adults. Students will reexamine their own responsibility for teaching and assisting others in this ministry. (Prerequisite: PCE 103.) Dr. Bowman.

PEV 1 Hospitality to the Stranger: A Prototype for Evangelism

After in-depth study of the theology and praxis of Old and New Testament hospitality to the stranger, the course will explore ways in which this prototype might inspire, promote and accomplish the task of evangelism in the context of today's parish community. Particular emphasis will focus on the leadership vocation of rector or clergy-person as the community's theologian and "pathfinder." Dr. Kryder.

Second Quarter

PA 43 Parish Management

Parish management is defined as the practice of Christian stewardship with respect to all resources in congregational life. This course focuses on leadership styles and skills, use and delegation of authority, management of time, and how to plan effectively. Financial matters and other practical aspects are reviewed. The parish is seen as a system of persons and organizations that utilizes all the gifts of the Spirit, including administration. Dr. Morgan.

PC 11 The Stress Effect: Ministry to the Heavy-Laden and Scared

All change generates stress, and the move to a new town and a change in jobs are just a few events generating strain in everyday life. While pastoral ministry treats stress individually, it also well knows that stress can move couples toward natural divergence, maybe even legal divorce. Using a proven method, this hands-on course explores the theory, theology and practice of providing care at times of stress, to both individuals and families, and considers both alcoholism and suicide as a response to extreme stress. Helps prepare for CPE. Dr. Hanchey.

PT-PCE 40 Pastoral Ministry in Primary and Secondary Schools

Course work centers on an examination of the particular and general emphases of personal ministry in the school by the chaplain to students, faculty, and staff. Mr. Gibson.

PT-PC 41 Pastoral Care of the Chemically Dependent and Their Families

Addiction and the consequences of addiction for the person, family, and community will be explored through lecture, readings, and discussion. Pastoral ministry and intervention in response provide for practical considerations. (Limited to 15.) Dr. Roessler.

PT-PC 57 Building Christian Community Through Small Groups

This seminar focuses on the birth, care, and feeding of Christian small groups, particularly as they can function in the life of a local congregation. A variety of types of groups will be studied including neighborhood Bible studies, personal support and sharing groups, task action groups including committees and accountability groups. Philosophies of small group ministry will be explored, along with strategies for beginning groups and maintaining them in a church. Dr. Busch.

PT-PCE 19 Human Growth and the Ministry of Teaching

The stages of human development, especially in the work of Erik Erikson and Jean Piaget, will be explored—to enable students to work further in the theories of education and moral and faith development (especially represented by Havighurst, Kohlberg, and Fowler). Class members will be asked to make specific observations related to their own participation in faith communities. Dr. Bowman.

PEV 21 Power in the Church: The Ministries of Evangelism and Clergy Leadership

Clergy “pathfinding” leadership is an important issue addressed in this course, guidance that confidently and comfortably helps congregations set goals and objectives. This practical course examines the theology and common denominators present in the life of growing Episcopal churches, including the “mission” in contrast to the “maintenance” perspective, the shape of worship on Sunday morning—and whether it welcomes or not, hands-on work with the ministry of identifying newcomers and incorporating them, and the means to develop a congregation’s ability to identify signs of God’s presence and ministry (commonly called the ministry of evangelism). (Limited to 15 students.) Dr. Hanchey.

PEV 24 Asserting God’s Presence: Studies in Pastoral Theology

Signs of God’s action are examined and particular attention is paid to explaining why bad things happen if God is so loving. This course helps prepare for CPE in a hospital setting, and a final paper sketches a student designed parish educational program to help Christians answer, “Why do bad things happen if God is so good?” Dr. Hanchey.

Full Semester

PC 202 Seminar in Pastoral Counseling and Psychotherapy

Videotapes of selected therapeutic orientations are discussed from psychological and theological perspectives. Class discussion and some reality practice provide the practical application of ideas about personal usage. CPE is a prerequisite. Dr. Hanchey.

PCE 103 Teaching in the Church

(See fall semester description.)

PEV/ST 120 Organizing a ‘Traditional Church’

(See ST/PEV 120.)

PT-PA 104 Urban Ministry.

The course is based on a hypothetical situation in which each student becomes rector or senior pastor of a sick inner city church. The theological and practical components of urban ministry will be explored as the student’s case parish is renewed and enlivened, step by step. Among the dimensions covered will be pastoral/prophetic tensions, whole ministry, advocacy, parish and judicatory strategy development, neighborhood organization, issues of social change, fund-raising, involvement in coalitions, and personal survival. Dr. Woodard.

Third Quarter

PT-PA 46 The Practice of Christian Stewardship in Family, Church, and World

An intensive study of the theology of Christian stewardship, its biblical basis and daily practice in individual and parish life. The course will put particular emphasis on equipping students as teachers and trainers so that they might design parish stewardship programs to reflect the spiritual message of Scripture about money and possessions. Mr. Guernsey.

PT-PA 50 Conflict Management

A consideration of some of the ways in which emotions, issues, and organizational processes affect the generation and resolution of parish conflict. Attention is given to needs out of which conflict arises, resources available, and strategies which may be brought to bear. Conflict and anger are placed in biblical and theological perspectives, and the differences between negative conflict and positive conflict are examined. (Alternate years). Dr. Morgan.

PA 81 Pastoral Ministry in Town and Country

A study of the special problems and opportunities for ministry in small town and country parishes and of the interacting influences of the church and the rural community where it serves. (Spring of odd years.) Dr. Prichard.

PT-PC 41 Pastoral Care of the Chemically Dependent and Their Families

Addiction and the consequences of addiction for the person, family, and community will be explored through lecture, readings, and discussion. Pastoral ministry and intervention in response provide for practical considerations. (Limited to 15.) Dr. Roessler.

PEV 44 The Prayer Book Offices: Making Believers of Christians

Building a strong church is a Prayer Book ministry of four parts. This practical course explores each component, and pays particular attention to the shape of clergy "pathfinding" leadership. Clergy leadership does make all the difference. 1) Newcomer welcome, their inclusion in the congregation, and a proven ministry to accomplish this is explored. Also attended are the 2) preparation of parents for the baptism of their infant children, 3) preparing the congregation for the early inclusion of children in the eucharist, and 4) the shape of believer's confirmation. (Limited to 12 students.) Dr. Hanchey.

PT-PC 47 Marriage Enrichment and Parish Ministry

In a fractured and stress-generating world couples need opportunities to enjoy one another in a community of fellow travelers. This is the genesis of marriage enrichment programs. ME programs celebrate not what is wrong with a marriage but what is right in a marriage, and the marriages of those involved in this course will be strengthened. Readings, student led marriage enrichment events, and field site interviews are the focus of seminar explorations. A final paper develops a student-designed parish marriage enrichment program for later use. Limited enrollment. Dr. Hanchey.

PT-PC 48 Human Sexuality in Pastoral and Theological Perspectives

Consideration is given to human sexuality in relation to four general areas: patterns of sexual development and response, including normal and dysfunctional aspects; theological and ethical considerations in the light of scripture and Christian tradition; personal attitudes and issues and their relationship to our ministries; and pastoral ministry when issues of sexuality are significantly present. Case studies, films, lectures, readings, and small group discussions will be utilized. (Alternate years.) Dr. Morgan.

PT-PCE 62 Practicum: The Ministry of Teaching

Students who engage in teaching in their field education assignments will evaluate their classroom experiences, especially in light of insights gained in other Pastoral Theology courses. Class projects may include experimental units of study developed in parish settings. Every effort will be made to offer personal counsel and assistance to individuals engaged in forms of teaching (children, youth, and adults). (Prerequisite: PCE 61.) Dr. Bowman.

Fourth Quarter

PT-PA 31 Organizing A Parish for Christian Education

Effective clergy leadership and parish organization both contribute to successful Sunday morning Christian education. This hands-on course explores a method of Sunday morning CE that works in both large and very small churches, and one that generates confidence and joy in church school teachers. It is explained in the instructor's two books. As a result of using this organizational program, you and your parish will gain more satisfaction from your employment of any store-bought curricula materials (particularly the Colorado curriculum), and you yourself will feel more secure in the leadership your parish expects from you. The model 1) manages the nine month teaching year by dividing it into five seasonal terms each ending with a show-and-tell festival, 2) helps parishioners define a parish goal and set some objectives and, 3) utilizes an effective method of imaginative bible study for teens, adults and children. Dr. Hanchey.

PT-PA 58 Canon Law

An introductory course covering the history of canon law, the relationship of law to polity, the use of law in the church, and a study of the constitution and canons of the Episcopal Church, with special emphasis on marriage and clergy responsibilities. Discussion of real and hypothetical cases will include a brief survey of legal theory and its relation to theology. (Permission required for juniors.) Dr. Sunderland.

PC 12 Pastoral Ministry in Times of Illness

This course will consider the art of pastoral care in times of illness, dying, and grieving, with attention being given both to individual ministry and to the ways in which a church may more effectively mobilize the broader resources of the laity for pastoral support. Practical and theological questions about sickness and healing, death and evil will be examined, and pastoral relationships between the clergy and the patient, family members, and medical community will be discussed. Lectures, case studies, readings, films, and personal reflection will be utilized. Dr. Morgan.

PT-PC 17 The Greying of the Congregation: Ministry and Older Adults

As the average life expectancy increases, ministry with and on behalf of older adults has become essential in the life of many congregations. Opportunities, strategies and perspectives on ministry with and for older adults need to be recognized and developed by the clergy. Erik Erikson's eight stages of the life cycle, facts and myths about aging, ethics, national monetary policies, health care, retirement, volunteerism, education and support to care givers will be some of the issues addressed in this seminar. Dr. Wohlfort.

PC 22 Marriage Counseling and the Parish Pastor

Several common denominators shape the care needed by persons married or about to be wed. This idea course plots a program to attend the needs of couples planning to be wed, details general marriage trauma and the ways and means of treatment, and offers a diagnostic profile of divorce and the limitations of intervention. The course assumes participant possession of basic listening skills, and deepens diagnostic capability from relational and theological perspectives. Limited enrollment. Dr. Hanchey.

PT-PC 45 The Prayer Book Offices: Assuaging Hurt and Trauma

For each of the important pastoral offices of (a) Ministration to the Sick, (b) Reconciliation of a Penitent and (c) the Burial Office, this quarter course seeks to develop understanding of theological foundations, creativity in interpretation, and proficiency in conduct. Case studies are based on actual parochial experiences. Dr. Kryder.

PC 82 Ordained Ministry Start-up

This practical course examines the entrance and inclusion of deacons and assistants into new parish settings, and is particularly helpful as after seminary work is negotiated. What to expect, what to look for, what to avoid and the ways and means of effective response are considered. Evaluated are several of the most common clergy leadership styles and how to live with styles of leadership divergent from the student's own. The leadership style of course participants is also examined from the perspective of the Myers Briggs Type Indicator. Also explored are current issues and interests determined by the class. This course does not satisfy the PT core course requirement. Dr. Hanchey.

PT-PCE 20 Curricular Resources for Teaching in the Church

Organization and development of curriculum, comparisons of resources from various publishers, and suggestions for administering a program of teaching that makes effective use of the publications, will be the basis for this practical course intended to equip clergy and laity as they evaluate the kinds of materials currently available for Christian education in a parish. Dr. Bowman.

Department of Homiletics

Mr. Albritton, Mr. Crum, Ms. Allen-Faiella, Ms. Hogan, Ms. Irish, Dr. Hanchey.

FALL SEMESTER

Required Courses

HOM 2 Liturgical Preaching

Preaching in this course takes special note of the liturgical context and the church year. (Basic homiletical theory and skills are assumed.) Sermons will be based on the lessons from Advent through Trinity Sunday. Interpretations of selected lessons illustrative of the liturgical seasons will be presented. Mr. Crum and others.

Electives

HOM 401 Independent Study in Homiletics

Independent study in (1) homiletical methods; (2) individual preachers; (3) communication theory; (4) preaching in relation to theology and/or Scripture; or (5) other aspects of homiletics. By contract with the instructor. Mr. Crum.

Required Courses

HOM 1 Introduction to Homiletics

The aim of this course is to equip students to preach the Gospel by teaching basic homiletical theory and skills in the context of real preaching to the class congregation. The skills include biblical interpretation of human life, development of sermons with the experiential flow of a story, and person-to-person oral communication, as well as the skill of learning through written and oral responses from the congregation. Mr. Albritton and others.

Electives

HOM 401 Independent Study in Homiletics

(See fall semester description.)

HOM-PEV 201 Preaching the Power of God

This practical course examines a style of sermoneering taking its cue from the way Scripture is written. Kingdom of God sermons are typically expository, keenly exegetical, they are preached for metanoia and they look for conversion. Often divided into two parts, these sermons first explore the Scripture being used, paying careful attention to God's action, while in the second part they identify these same signs of God's presence and ministry in everyday life today. As a result, eyes in the world have opportunity to see and, seeing, to believe. With instructor permission, this course satisfies the PT evangelism requirement. Limited to seven students. Dr. Hanchey.

Department of Liturgics

Mr. Albritton, Dr. Hancock, Dr. Prichard, Dr. Stafford, and others.

FALL SEMESTER

Required Courses

LIT 1 Introduction to Anglican Worship

The theology and development of Anglican worship. Special attention to the theology of worship, the historical development of the liturgy, and the actual life of worship according to the Book of Common Prayer of 1979. Three hours of lecture and discussion each week. An additional hour a week will be devoted to work in small groups led by experienced clergy on the conduct of the Daily and Pastoral Offices and the celebration of the sacraments. (Four credit hours). Dr. Hancock, Dr. Prichard, and Dr. Stafford.

LIT 2 Liturgical Music

The hymns, chants and sung parts of the liturgy in their varying forms. There will be practical experience in the planning and execution of liturgy and a term project in some relevant phase of Liturgical Music. One hour credit. Mr. Whitmire.

Electives

LIT 20 The Liturgy in Spanish

The number of Spanish speaking congregations in the United States has been growing rapidly within the past ten years. This course is designed to assist students in the public reading of El Libro de Oracion Comun, the Spanish language edition of the Book of Common Prayer. An interest in Spanish ministry is required, but a fluency in the language is not needed. Students will be graded on the basis of the progress made in the course. One hour credit. (Pass/Fail) Dr. VanDevelder, Dr. Prichard.

First Quarter

LIT 4 The Music of the Liturgy

A brief survey of the music associated with worship in the Judeo-Christian tradition. The emphasis is on the music of our liturgy and how it came to be this way. (1.5 credit hours.) (Not offered fall 1989-90.) Mr. Albritton.

SPRING SEMESTER

Required Courses

LIT 3 Liturgical Music

A continuation of LIT 2. (One credit hour.) Mr. Albritton.

Third Quarter

LIT 5 The Sung Service

Major portions of the liturgy (with notable exceptions) have traditionally been sung by celebrant and congregation. This course looks at the development of the Sung Service in the church and emphasizes practical experience in the execution of it. (1.5 credit hours) Mr. Albritton.

LIT 30 Liturgical Theology Preparation

The first half of this course concentrates upon the roots and meaning of celebration; the Liturgical Movement; the substructures of the Episcopal Church's liturgy; and its architectural, musical and visual arts settings. The second half provides opportunity to prepare Prayer Book services in the light of pertinent theological, canonical and aesthetic considerations. Dr. Kryder.

Fourth Quarter

LIT 6 The Music of the Liturgy

A brief survey of the music associated with worship in the Judeo-Christian tradition. The emphasis is on the music of our liturgy and how it came to be this way. (1.5 credit hours.) Mr. Albritton.

LIT 21 The Bible in Spanish

A one-hour pass/fail continuation of LIT 20, with a special focus on the reading of the Bible in Spanish. Dr. VanDevelder, Dr. Prichard.

LIT 35 Liturgy as Art

This course will explore the relation between our sensory perceptions and liturgy: speaking, listening, seeing, moving; also the creative element in celebrating the Eucharist. (1.5 credit hours.) Dr. Anderson.

Department of Field Education

Dr. Morgan

FALL SEMESTER

Required Courses

FE 1 Field Education and Colloquy

Required of middlers in the M.Div. program, field education is a twelve hour per week commitment in an approved field education training site under supervision.

Colloquies meet once a week for two hours, consist of approximately seven students, one faculty member, one parish clergy person, and one layperson. Their purpose is to reflect on field work experiences and to integrate them with personal and vocational insights, professional skills, and academic work. Dr. Morgan and others.

FE 3 Field Education

Required of M.Div. seniors unless specifically waived by faculty action. A twelve-hour per week commitment in an approved field education training site under supervision. Seniors most often remain in their middle year training site but may seek a different training experience for their senior year. Dr. Morgan and others.

Electives

FE 401 Reading and Research in Independent
Studies Related to Field Work

Admission only by permission of instructor who must approve the student's study proposal prior to registration. (Limited enrollment.) Dr. Morgan.

SPRING SEMESTER

Required Courses

FE 2 Field Education and Colloquy

Continuation of FE 1. (See description under fall semester.) Dr. Morgan and others.

FE 4 Field Education

Continuation of FE 3. (See description under fall semester.) Dr. Morgan and others.

Electives

FE 401 Reading and Research in Independent
Studies Related to Field Work

(See description under fall semester.)

SUMMER

Required Courses

CPE 1 Clinical Pastoral Education

One quarter (ten-twelve weeks) in an accredited program of C.P. E. is required of all candidates for the M.Div. degree. Normally taken in the summer following the junior year. See description in article, "Education in the Field," page 18. (Six credit hours.)

Department of Mission and World Religions

Dr. Jones

FALL SEMESTER

MWR 101 World Religions

A survey of the worship, code, and creed through which Hindus, Muslims, and Buddhists find and express ultimate meaning, with some comparison to themes of Christian theology. Dr. Jones

MWR/CH 104 The Outreach of the Church in History

A survey of the demographic expansion of the Christian movement from its Jerusalem origins to its current urban and tribal frontiers. Emphasis will be placed on the adaptations to culture and the change introduced in culture as the Gospel has been appropriated by successive peoples. (This course will meet the elective requirement in Church History.) Dr. Jones.

SPRING SEMESTER

MWR 103 Theologies of the Christian Mission

The rationale for the Church's mission by representative thinkers from St. Paul to John Stott, Gustavo Gutierrez, and Wilfred Cantwell Smith. Dr. Jones.

MWR 102 Incarnation and Prophethood

A seminar on the Christian-Muslim encounter, focusing on the Christian confession of Christ as incarnate Son of God and the Islamic confession of Muhammed as the Seal of the Prophets and instrument of the Qur'an. Dr. Jones.

Special Study in Personal Religion

Mr. Gibson

Electives

PR 101 Personal Religion

The theology and practice of prayer. A study of our personal devotional life with particular attention given to the devotional use of prayer, Scriptures, and devotional classics. The role of devotional groups within a parish and the teaching of personal religion within a parish setting. Consideration of corporate worship and the sacraments and their relationship to our personal religious life. Mr. Gibson.

Special Program In Speech

Fr. Burke, and others

SPRING SEMESTER

Required Course

NOTE: SP 1 is an experiential course. Attendance is required, and the full time of the student is necessary. It is therefore mandatory to make no other commitments for this five-day period.

SP 1 Oral Interpretation of Scripture

A one-week course in the effective oral communication of the sacred Scriptures in the liturgy, required of all juniors. This is an intensive course and an intense experience, requiring the full participation and involvement of each student. Because of its brevity, attendance is expected at all sessions. Students are requested to bring a Bible to each session. The course is conducted by members of the staff of the Word of God Institute, a Washington-based organization that seeks to encourage "professional competence and evangelical enthusiasm (in) the ministries of preaching and Bible sharing." (One credit hour.) Fr. Burke and others.

Requirements for Admission

This seminary is a theological school of the Episcopal Church with daily worship, a community life which seeks to express a Christian quality, and courses of study with requirements for academic credit. A full-time student is expected to participate regularly in all aspects of the Seminary's life not incompatible with conscience or the exigencies of life, and to respect its communal and moral ethos, both within and outside the classroom. Applicants for entrance to the Seminary undertake such participation and respect.

Master in Divinity

To apply for admission to the Master in Divinity program one must be a graduate of an accredited college and otherwise qualified.

An applicant who wishes to study for the ordained ministry who is not a college graduate must satisfy the Admissions Committee, through the bishop and commission on ministry of the diocese concerned, that he or she has met all the requirements of the canons and has been admitted as a postulant for Holy Orders. Such students who meet all of the requirements of the Master in Divinity degree will receive the Licentiate in Theology (#3, p. 71).

Although the course of study in the three-year professional degree program (Master in Divinity) is designed primarily to prepare men and women for the ordained ministry of the Episcopal Church, qualified applicants can be accepted who are candidates for ordination in other denominations or who wish to earn this degree in order to prepare for ministry as lay persons.

Every applicant who is a postulant for Holy Orders must present satisfactory credentials as to character and fitness for the ministry, including a letter of commendation from the bishop of the diocese concerned to study at this seminary. All applicants must present certified copies of transcripts showing the academic record for all work accomplished at the undergraduate level, at the graduate level (if such work has been undertaken), scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), evidence of a satisfactory physical and psychological examination, four letters of reference and a statement indicating adequate resources to finance three years of study.

The curriculum and requirements for the M.Div. degree are given on page 46.

All candidates for the Master in Divinity degree will be evaluated by the faculty with regard to academic and personal qualifications for ministry.

Master in Theological Studies

Every applicant for admission to the two-year M.T.S. program must be a college graduate and must have achieved satisfactory scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE).

After submitting the results of a physical examination, a personal statement, and four letters of reference regarding qualifications for the course, the applicant is required to confer with the Admissions Committee and to have an interview with the Seminary's consulting psychiatrist.

The curriculum and requirements for the M.T.S. degree are given on page 48.

Associate Dean Allan Parrent and 1989 graduate Saundra Richardson.

The Master of Arts in Christian Education

Please see page 49 for a complete description of the prerequisites, requirements for graduation, and the course of study for the Master of Arts in Christian Education. This program will begin in the Fall of 1990.

The Diploma in Anglican Studies

Please see page 51 for a detailed description of this program.

The Diploma in Theology

Anglican clergy and qualified lay leaders from other nations who are approved by their bishops may apply for one academic year of supplemental theological education. Please see page 52 for a complete description of the prerequisites and requirements for graduation with the Diploma in Theology.

Certificate of Work Accomplished

Persons not seeking a theological degree may apply for a one-year course of full-time study (at least 24 semester hours), at the conclusion of which they may receive a Certificate of Work Accomplished. Applicants should be graduates of an accredited college and otherwise qualified to do full-time graduate study. This is a flexible program that can be designed to fit the particular needs of the student. It may be appropriate for those who desire a more flexible course of study than is possible with the Diploma in Anglican Studies or the Diploma in Theology.

Midler Jodene Hawkins and Junior Jean Rogers.

All Full-Time Applicants

Completed seminary applications must be received in the Admissions Office by June 1 for the fall semester of the upcoming academic year.

A personal interview with the Admissions Committee is required for all persons applying as full-time students and will normally not be scheduled until after an application has been filed and all credentials have been submitted. At this time an appointment will be arranged for the applicant by the secretary for admissions.

Visits to the Seminary by prospective students are always welcome and counsel can be arranged for those who are considering the possibility of applying.

Full-time students in degree programs or in the ordination process are eligible to apply for financial assistance. Such assistance is given entirely on the basis of need. A financial disclosure form is included in the admissions packet.

Part-Time Special Students

Persons not seeking a theological degree can be considered for admission as part-time special students to take not more than two courses per semester. To apply for admission as a part-time special student, one must be a graduate of an accredited college and otherwise qualified. A personal interview is required. Application must be made no later than July 15. Part-time students are not eligible for financial assistance. For further information, please call or write the registrar, Mrs. Barnes.

Applicants From Countries Other Than the United States

Clergy and qualified lay leaders from other nations who are approved by their bishops or appropriate judicatory officials, may apply to the Seminary for one year of supplemental theological education in one of the following ways:

1) Through the program sponsored by the World Council of Churches. (This is an ecumenical program).

2) Anglicans may apply through the program sponsored by the Overseas Leadership Development Office of the Episcopal Church Center, 815 Second Avenue, New York, NY 10017.

3) Anglicans from dioceses which have special companion relationships with dioceses in the Episcopal Church in the United States may apply to the Seminary provided some arrangement can be made with the American diocese.

In the cases of Anglican students, the Seminary must have written notice from the applicant's bishop that he wishes him/her to do the proposed study.

Applicants from other countries must provide documentation of financial support before admission is granted. In general those who are admitted will receive financial aid from the Seminary to cover tuition, room, and board. The cost of travel to and from Virginia, health insurance, and other expenses must be provided from other sources.

Accommodations exist for single students only. Students from other countries may not bring spouses or families.

Students who qualify may be admitted as candidates for the Diploma in Theology or for the Certificate of Work Accomplished (see page 52).

Seminary Regulations and Policies

---

Detailed information about the Seminary's policies and regulations pertaining to such matters as dropping and adding courses, independent study projects, financial obligation restrictions, and other explanatory material, is set forth in the Handbook on Academic Regulations and Policies.

Regulations Governing Recommendation for Ordination

The attention of applicants planning to study for the ordained ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church is called to the requirements set forth in Title III of the canons of the Episcopal Church. A student will normally have been accepted as a postulant by his or her bishop before entering the Seminary and before entering the M.Div. program.

Transcripts and annual evaluations of the student's academic and personal qualifications for the ordained ministry are required to be submitted to the bishop and the postulant. At the end of the three-year period the faculty is required to give a judgment about the candidate's personal qualifications for the ministry of this Church. This means that each man or woman enters the Seminary with the understanding that he or she is beginning a period of evaluation, because the faculty cannot give its recommendation unless the candidate has convinced them that he or she has the necessary personal as well as academic qualifications.

Requirements for Graduation

Being an accredited member of the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada, this seminary follows the requirements for graduation and for awarding degrees as laid down by the association.

1. Honors Degree—Students who hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and who complete the full course with an average not lower than 3.75 may be admitted to the degree of Master in Divinity, Master in Theological Studies, or Master of Arts in Christian Education with honors.

2. Master in Divinity—Students who hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and who complete the 3-year course of study outlined on page 46 with an average not lower than 2.0, may be admitted to the degree of Master in Divinity provided that they have not received a grade lower than C- in more than six courses, of which not more than four shall be required courses.

3. Licentiate in Theology—Those students who can be admitted under A.T.S. regulations without a college degree and who complete the 3-year course of study outlined on page with an average not lower than 2.0, may be admitted to the Licentiate in Theology provided that they have not received a grade lower than C- in more than six courses, of which not more than four shall be required courses.

4. Master in Theological Studies—Students who hold the bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and who complete the two-year course of study outlined on page 48 with an average not lower than 2.0, may be admitted to the degree of Master in Theological Studies, provided that they have not received a grade lower than C- in more than four courses, of which not more than three shall be required courses.

5. Master of Arts in Christian Education—Students who hold the bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and who complete the two-year course of study outlined on page 49 with an average not lower than 2.0, may be admitted to the degree of Master of Arts in Christian Education, provided that they have not received a grade lower than C- in more than four courses, of which not more than three shall be required courses.

6. Diploma in Theology—Please see page 52.

7. Diploma in Anglican Studies—Please see page 51.

8. Certificate of Work Accomplished—Students who are not candidates for a degree and who satisfactorily complete one year of special study with at least 24 semester hours of credit will be awarded a Certificate of Work Accomplished.

9. No Degree—No degree or certificate is awarded unless all required courses are passed satisfactorily.

10. Residency Requirements for Degrees—Subject to limitations set by the faculty, courses in other accredited institutions may be counted toward the M.Div., M.T.S., and M.A.C.E. degrees. Two years of full-time study in residence in this seminary are required for the M.Div. degree and one year for the M.T.S., and M.A.C.E. degrees.

11. Cross Registration—Candidates for the M.Div., M.T.S. and M.A.C.E. degrees are required to take at least one course taught by a member of the faculty of another school in the Washington Theological Consortium or a Consortium-sponsored seminar. This can be taken in any semester.

12. Reduced Load in Middle or Senior Year—For sufficient reasons and with the approval of the associate dean for academic affairs, students may reduce their load to four courses in a given semester and remain in good standing as full-time students.

13. Clinical Pastoral Education

for Juniors (M.Div. Program)—As in many other seminaries, the policy at Virginia is that the summer following the junior year should be devoted to Clinical Pastoral Education. A description of Clinical Pastoral Education is found on page 19 and financial information on page 74.

14. Waiver of Required Courses—Students who wish to request permission to be excused from a required course because of equivalent previous academic work should consult the associate dean for academic affairs and the head of the department concerned. If the request is granted, a waiver form must be filed in the registrar's office.

Policy on Registration

There will be a formal registration for all students on a designated day each semester.

All full-time students must register in person on the designated day and begin classes and other expectations on time. Failure to do so without prior permission from the faculty for a late registration, except in the case of an emergency reported by telephone to the registrar, will mean that a student cannot continue in course without a formal hearing by the faculty and its acceptance of the explanation given.

Students who for some compelling reason find it a great hardship to be present for registration must petition the faculty in advance for permission to register late. A late registration fee of $25.00 will be charged. In the case of a legitimate and duly reported emergency, students may, with permission of the faculty, be permitted to register late. The late registration fee may be waived.

Overseas students, transfer students, and full-time special students entering the Seminary must attend a special required preorientation conference in accordance with the calendar listed on page 86. This will normally begin on the Tuesday of orientation week.

Changes in registration must be made according to the following schedule.

- (1) During the first two weeks of a semester students may change elective courses.
- (2) Students who overelect may drop an elective course without penalty during the first five weeks of a semester.

Policy on Continuance in Course

It is the prerogative of the dean to separate from the Seminary those students who in the opinion of the dean do not measure up to the academic, personal, or ethical standards of this institution. Such action may be deemed necessary, for example, in response to patterns of behavior that have a significant disruptive effect on the general welfare of the community, or in cases of cheating on examinations or other violations of trust and mutual respect.

Policy on Student Employment

The Seminary curriculum, including assigned field work under the field education program, is designed with full-time students in mind. In cases of need, a student should consult with his or her advisor before undertaking remunerative employment. In any case, such employment must not interfere with the student's studies, assigned field work, or regular participation in the worship and other essential activities of the Seminary.

Policy on Ordination in Course

This seminary does not expect its students to be ordained until after graduation. If, for reasons of necessity within the diocese, a bishop requests an early recommendation for ordination in course and permission for the student to continue in course after ordination, the request will be considered by the dean and faculty.

Policy on Changing Degree Programs

From M.Div. to M.T.S.—Persons wishing to transfer from the M.Div. to the M.T.S. program must signify their intention to do so at least one full academic year before they expect to receive the M.T.S. degree and must complete all the requirements for the latter degree. The transfer must also be approved by the faculty.

From M.T.S. to M.Div.—At any time prior to receiving the M.T.S. degree a candidate for that degree may apply for admission to the M.Div. program. It cannot be assumed that permission to transfer will be granted automatically. All such applications require the approval of the dean and faculty. In order for such a person to receive the degree, he or she must complete all the requirements for the M.Div. program, including Clinical Pastoral Education, field education, and Colloquy.

In order to avoid extending the seminary program into a fourth year, any candidate for the M.T.S. who is considering transferring into the M.Div. program is advised to be aware that C.P.E. is normally done in the summer following the first year of seminary, and the first year of field education and Colloquy are normally done in the second year of seminary.

Policy on Marriage in Course

1. A student who is a candidate for ordination is reminded that if marriage is planned in course he or she should discuss the forthcoming marriage with his or her bishop.

2. A student who marries in course normally will be required to vacate the dormitory room at or before the end of the semester in which he or she is married and should notify the business office at least two weeks prior to moving. In addition, the student is responsible for all seminary charges for the dormitory room and meals for the entire semester even when the marriage takes place during the semester.

3. The following board of trustees ruling applies to students who are receiving scholarship aid and marry in course: "A student who receives scholarship aid and marries in course will continue to receive the current scholarship aid minus the pro-rated portion for board and room, the balance, if any, being considered a tuition scholarship, but the following year would be eligible for scholarship aid only on the same basis as other married students without children."

Policy Statement on Norms of Sexual Behavior

Because a variety of different, even conflicting, views on issues of sexual morality exists in the Episcopal Church, the larger Christian community, and the society at large, the board of trustees states the following policy as applicable to this seminary.

1. The area of sexual behavior, as well as other aspects of human behavior, is relevant to a person's entrance into and continued membership in Virginia Seminary.

2. The Bible is the basic resource for norms of Christian sexual behavior and a Christian understanding of human sexuality. This in no way rules out new insights and new understandings from a variety of disciplines, for God is the source of all truth. Neither does it rule out the biblically mandated responsibility to state and attempt to live according to the claims of Christian truth as perceived by significant segments of the historic Christian community.

3. Faculty and students are expected to lead a life which is "a wholesome example to all people" (BCP pp. 517, 532, 544). In addition to all that this includes positively in the specific area of sexual behavior, it excludes at least the following: sexual intercourse outside the bonds of marriage, adulterous relationships, and the practice of homosexuality.

4. The proper Christian approach to cases of sexual immorality, as to all immorality, should be pastoral, not legalistic and merely condemnatory.

5. Seminary policy concerns sexual behavior in contrast to sexual orientation. Furthermore, this policy distinguishes between arguing a particular moral viewpoint in the context of teaching and learning, and practicing acts which are contrary to traditional Christian norms and to positions taken by the General Convention of the Episcopal Church.

Policy on Inclusive Language

Language reflects, reinforces, and creates reality. This is the case with regard to gender, race, ethnic identity and religion. The integrity of people with various opinions and interpretations on the issue of language is assumed. It is recognized that the English language, always undergoing changes, is in our time rapidly evolving in more inclusive directions. The Virginia Theological Seminary community welcomes this process of change. It is also recognized that exclusive language can work unwitting and unintended harm by distorting reality and excluding members from our community. Therefore, all members of the Virginia Theological Seminary community (students, faculty, administrators and staff) are invited to join together in using language which more adequately reflects the unity of the people of God and the reality of God.

Financial Information

Seminary fees are kept at the lowest possible level consistent with the accommodations provided and quality of teaching and training maintained. Students must anticipate annual adjustments in tuition and fees.

The total charges as listed below are far less than the actual cost to the Seminary for the education of each enrolled student. This remainder is provided (1) by income from established endowment funds, (2) through gifts received from Annual Parish Giving, and (3) recurring contributions, given individually, by the numerous Friends of Virginia Seminary. The resulting benefit is immediately reflected in these minimum charges:

For part-time special students, the following fees are applicable for 1989-90:

- $180.00 per hour for credit
- $ 90.00 per hour for audit
- $ 25.00 for registration fee<sup>3</sup>

1. Married and other off-campus students attend daily luncheon, Mondays through Fridays. The $600.00 charge is to cover the cost of these extra meals.

2. First year only. Does not include room and board. This charge is payable through the Business Manager's office not later than April 1.

3. First year only, a one-time nonrefundable fee payable after acceptance at the time of first registration.

4. On-Hill students only.

Other Contractual Obligations

1. One-half of all seminary fees are due and payable on or before the opening day of school, and one-half due and payable on or before classes begin for the final semester of the academic year.

2. Every full-time applicant upon acceptance is required to pay a registration fee of $135.00. This sum will not be credited to the tuition fee, but will be used to cover the cost of his or her degree and other expenses at the time of graduation from the Seminary. If the student fails to graduate, this sum is not refundable.

3. In the event of voluntary withdrawal during any term, the student will be obligated for the full payment of all fees for the semester in which the withdrawal occurs, including room, for an on-hill student.

4. Each student is required to carry hospital insurance. It is optional whether the student carries the insurance with the Seminary's group plan.

The Seminary has three group health and hospitalization plans for students. The rates are quoted below and may vary from year to year. Changes in rates become effective June 1 of each year. The rates quoted are for twelve months.

	Individual	Family
Emtrust . . . . .	$1,296	$3,564
CapitalCare . . . . .	1,719	4,360
Kaiser . . . . .	1,354	3,385

5. No student may register in a new semester until all seminary fees (including bookstore bills, library fines, and other debts or financial obligations relating in any way to his or her seminary course during the previous term) have been paid in full, or until satisfactory assurance is given to the business manager of their early settlement, disclosing the sources from which such settlement may be expected.

6. No student may receive academic credit for work done in the final semester of the junior or middle years, or receive any degree or certificate from this institution until all seminary charges as stated above have been paid in full.

7. Students should know that there may be costs in connection with Clinical Pastoral Education over the $400.00 tuition. These costs vary from center to center. A few centers provide stipends, others offer room and/or board, some provide nothing. Students, therefore, should choose the centers to which they apply in accordance with their means. Clinical Pastoral Education is a full-time occupation, often including Sundays, so there is little opportunity to earn money through outside work during the educational period.

8. Each student supplies for himself or herself any needed ecclesiastical vestments.

9. Students living in seminary dormitories are required to clean and care for their own rooms, including windows. Dormitories will be open for occupancy during the academic year. Due to summer program requirements, no housing is available on campus between commencement and orientation.

STUDENTS MAY NOT BRING PETS OF ANY TYPE TO THE SEMINARY. NO PETS OF ANY KIND ARE PERMITTED AT ANY TIME IN THE VIRGINIA SEMINARY DORMITORIES.

10. The refectory will be open and serving meals seven days a week to students living on campus and lunches Monday through Friday for off-campus students during the academic year with the following exception: the refectory will be closed and no meals served during the Christmas vacation and the spring recess.

Students receiving financial aid will be required to wait on tables in the refectory at certain times.

11. Students should note that there will be additional expenses for such items as purchase of books customarily required to be owned personally by all students, personal expenses, etc.

Financial Aid

Virginia Theological Seminary has a financial aid program to which full-time students demonstrating financial need may apply. A financial aid application and guideline book can be obtained from the Coordinator of Financial Aid at any time. New and transfer students should not submit financial aid applications for consideration until they have received official notification of admission.

It is assumed that applicants planning to enter Seminary have begun to think of their financial needs long before applying. If an applicant anticipates having inadequate funds to pay for tuition, fees, and living expenses, the Coordinator of Financial Aid should be contacted for an appointment to discuss ways to meet the unfunded portion of his or her expenses. If possible, the applicant should coordinate this appointment with the admissions interview.

The Seminary assumes that a student will receive support from a variety of sources. Seminary, like all graduate and undergraduate schooling, is expensive. Years of saving will, in many cases, meet just a part of the expenses students will have to bear while attending. Examples of sources from which to seek funds are one's own assets, family, bishop, rector, and private foundations. Seminary grants are awarded to students who prove remaining unmet need after all other possible sources of funds have been exhausted. The Seminary grant is the final component of a student's aid package for each year it is awarded.

The Seminary defines financial need as the difference between the total cost of attending V.T.S. (within the framework of "allowable expenses") and the amount of resources available. Payments for prior debt, educational and otherwise, will not be included as allowable expenses when awarding grants. Applicants with debt should plan to reduce it as much as possible prior to entering seminary. The stated official purpose for V.T.S. scholarship financial aid is to assist men and women, who demonstrate financial need, in financing their education and preparation for ministry.

Tentative grants are awarded as soon as possible after the Coordinator of Financial Aid receives an application. Grants are confirmed once the registration fee has been paid by the applicant, and letters from the applicant's bishop and rector have been received by the Coordinator of Financial Aid indicating anticipated support for the academic year. The deadline date for new and transfer students to apply for financial aid to the Seminary is June 15th.

Off-campus Housing

The Seminary has a lease arrangement for one- and two-bedroom apartments at Braddock Lee Apartments and two- and three-bedroom apartments at Van Dom Apartments and Brookville and Jamestowne Village Townhouses for which married couples/single parents with 1-3 children may apply (after official acceptance to the Seminary). All complexes are in Alexandria and are near the Seminary. Students who choose to live in these complexes will be eligible to receive a subsidy.

Seminary subsidies for 1989/90 are as follows:

- $145—married couple without children
- $180—married couple or single parent with one child
- $220—married couple or single parent with two children
- $250—married couple or single parent with three or more children

Rental applications may be obtained from the rental office at the complex or the Financial Aid Office at V.T.S. once a student has been officially accepted to Virginia

Seminary. A completed application should be returned to the Seminary's Financial Aid Office. Desired occupancy date needs to be clearly indicated on the rental application.

The Coordinator of Financial Aid will place the student's name on a waiting list for an apartment as soon as an application is received and the Seminary's registration fee is paid. When an apartment becomes available which meets the student's needs, it is reserved. The student is then notified by the Coordinator of his or her new address.

It is the student's responsibility to keep the Coordinator posted on any changes in anticipated date of arrival. Keys are to be obtained from the rental office. It is advisable to call ahead to be certain the office is opened at anticipated arrival time.

For students applying for financial aid, and receiving the housing subsidy, allowable rent on a V.T.S. scholarship application is the amount for the minimum-size apartment which meets the family's essential needs (i.e., couple with no children in one-bedroom, couple with one child in two-bedroom, and so on) and is located in the less expensive of the two complexes.

Families with four or more children will need to locate housing individually. The Financial Aid Office occasionally gets information on rental houses and may be able to help. In these instances, housing subsidy may be requested and will be considered on the basis of financial need.

Summer Programs

A limited amount of scholarship money is available, based on financial need, for certain specified approved summer programs.
