The Education Society

The "EDUCATION SOCIETY" was founded in 1818 by an interested group of clergy and laymen living within the area of Washington, Georgetown, Maryland and Alexandria. Its purpose was stated in the official title, "The Society for the Education of Pious Young Men for the Ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church." Active in its organization and early development were the Rev. William Meade, rector of Christ Church, and the Rev. William H. Wilmer, rector of St. Paul's Church, both in Alexandria; the Rev. Dr. Hawley and Dr. Reuel Keith, rectors of St. John's Church and Christ Church in Georgetown, and others in nearby Maryland and Virginia. Among the laymen supporting the undertaking was Francis Scott Key who lived in Georgetown. The Rev. Dr. J. P. K. Henshaw, later Bishop of Rhode Island, and the Rev. Dr. Charles P. McIlvaine became deeply interested and were among the Society's most active supporters.

Five years later their faithful efforts bore fruit in the founding in Alexandria of the second theological seminary of the Episcopal Church in the United States. The Education Society still lives and labors for the Seminary it brought into being and from the funds it has been able to secure through the years now contributes approximately $20,000 a year toward the support of the Seminary.

Three Seminary buildings bear the names of these early pioneers in the fields of theological education: Wilmer Hall and Meade Hall (dormitories), and Francis Scott Key Hall (Voice and Speech).

Requirements for Admission

Every applicant for admission to the Seminary must be a college graduate, or must satisfy the Faculty that he is adequately equipped to do the work of the Seminary. When an applicant is not a college graduate the Admission Committee will require a statement from the Board of Examining Chaplains of the Diocese or District certifying that the provisions of Canon 26, Section 5 (a), (b), or (c), as the case may be, have been complied with and the examinations passed satisfactorily.

Every applicant must present satisfactory credentials as to his character and fitness for the ministry, a physical and psychological examination, and a letter of commendation from the Bishop of the Diocese with which he is canonically connected.

A conference between the applicant and one or more members of the Admissions Committee is required, except for valid reason acceptable to the Dean; in which case an interview between the applicant and an alumnus willing to represent the Seminary may be arranged, subject to the approval of the Dean.

The attention of all applicants and students is drawn to the requirement laid down by Canon 27, Section I Sub-Section 3 of the Protestant Episcopal Church, requiring that in order to become a Candidate for Holy Orders a man studying at a Seminary must receive "a certificate from the Theological Seminary where he is studying . . . showing his scholastic record and personal qualifications for the ministry of this Church as revealed by one year's work." Every man in his first year in Seminary, therefore, is on trial, for the Faculty cannot give this certificate unless he has convinced them that he has the necessary personal, as well as academic qualifications.

Requirements for Graduation

(Applicable to students entering September 1954 and after)

Being an accredited member of the American Association of Theological Schools, this Seminary follows the requirements for graduation and for receiving degrees as laid down by the Association.

- (1) Students who hold a previous bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and who complete the full course with an average not lower than A will be admitted to the degree of BACHELOR IN DIVINITY with HONORS.

- (2) Students who hold a previous bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and who complete the full course with an average not lower than C and who have not received a mark of D in over twenty per cent of their work will be admitted to the degree of BACHELOR IN DIVINITY.
- (3) Students, without a previous college degree who have been accepted under the provisions of Canon 26, Section 5 (a), (b), (c) with an average of not lower than C and who have not received a mark of D in over twenty per cent of their work will be granted a certificate of graduation.
- (4) No degree or certificate is awarded unless all required courses are passed satisfactorily.
- (5) An E in any course carries with it the privilege of retaking the examination on the first Saturday in October.
- (6) An F in any course can only be overcome by retaking the course. Because of class schedule conflicts this is often impossible during the regular three year course.

PASTORAL CARE

DR. HOWE

MR. SOLEAU, MR. FRANK

- P.T. 2. Introduction to Pastoral Theology. Junior. Second Semester, two hours.

An introductory study of the growth and development of the human individual from infancy, through childhood and adolescence, into adulthood. An introduction to the meanings of human relationships. This course focuses on a study of the needs of men, as part of the human situation which stands in need of redemption.

- P.T. 2A. Clinical Introduction to Pastoral Theology: Clinical Pastoral Training. Summer Program, twelve weeks, following the Junior Year.

The courses in Pastoral Theology in the Middle and Senior years assume previous supervised training in work with people, taken in accredited centers—general and mental hospitals, correctional institutions and other approved centers. This training is usually taken in the training centers and under the supervision of the Chaplain Supervisors of the Council for Clinical Training and the Institute of Pastoral Care, whose training has been endorsed by the American Association of Theological Schools.

Clinical Pastoral Training gives students an experience as Student Chaplains, in ministering to people in life situations under the supervision of a trained Chaplain. The aim of the training is that students may grow in their understanding of life and of interpersonal relations from a Christian point of view, and may see some of the resources of the Gospel being brought to bear on situations of human need. The previous theological training in the Junior year in the Seminary helps to deepen the significance of the summer experience, and this experience in turn helps the student to see more fully the relevance of the balance of his theological training.

- P.T. 5. Pastoral Counseling and Pastoral Theology. Middle. First Semester, two hours.

An introduction to the principles and methods of pastoral counseling as basic to the Prayer Book ministry. This course begins the correlation of the clinical experience of the summer term with an understanding of the pastoral ministry. Work will be based on clinical experience, lectures, assigned readings, and discussion of counseling situations.

Prerequisites: P.T. 2, P.T. 2A

- P.T. 6. Holy Matrimony and Pastoral Theology. Middle. Second Semester, two hours.

Fundamental concepts of Christian marriage, sex, and family life, with special attention to their contemporary cultural context. Principles of pre-marital instruction and marital counseling. The administration and conduct of the Solemnization of Matrimony. Work will be based on clinical experience, lectures, assigned readings, and discussions of marital situations.

Prerequisites: P.T. 2, P.T. 2A, P.T. 5.

- P.T. 11. Holy Baptism and Pastoral Theology. Senior. First Semester, three hours.

Study of the pastoral use of the Prayer Book continued, focusing particularly on Holy Baptism as the sacramental basis of the church's ministry. Emphasis is on the correlation of students' understandings of man's need and God's action. One hour a week lecture, two hours seminar.

The Senior courses in Pastoral Theology continue the correlation of the training experiences of the previous summer terms with an understanding of the parish ministry.

- P.T. 12. The Prayer Book and Pastoral Theology. Senior. Second Semester, three hours.

The teaching significance of the pastoral ministry. Confirmation, parish calling, Visitation of the Sick, ministry of Confession and Absolution, ministry to the dying and bereaved, Burial of the Dead. Work is based on clinical experience, assigned readings, lectures, discussion of parish situations, and a final comprehensive paper.

Prerequisite: P.T. 11.

- P.T. 24. Holy Communion and Pastoral Theology. Senior. Elective. Second Semester, two hours.

- P.T. 27. Advanced Summer Training. (in the summer following the Middle Year). Elective. Twelve weeks.

When possible, a second period of supervised training is recommended for students in their second summer. Training opportunities are currently available in the Town and Country Church Institute of the National Council, Roanridge, Missouri; the Southern Rural Church Institute, Valle Crucis, North Carolina; the Parish Training Program, Province of New England; the Overseas Training Program of the National Council.

SPEECH AND MUSIC

DR. BEVERIDGE

MR. MATHIS, MR. MCGINLEY

The courses in Speech and Music are designed to help prepare students for an effective ministry in the Parish and in the Community with special emphasis upon the conduct of Public Worship. Class work will consist of lectures illustrated by phonograph records and demonstrations; in addition there will be group singing and discussion. Each student will receive individual coaching in Speech. A schedule of appointments will be issued early in each Semester.

- P.T. 3. Fundamentals of Speech and Music. Junior. First Semester, three hours.

Use of the voice in the conduct of Public Worship with emphasis upon the Book of Common Prayer. Elements of music: chanting and hymn singing. Lectures, discussion and individual coaching.

- P.T. 17. Church Music. Middle. First Semester, two hours.

Historical and liturgical background of music in the Episcopal Church: contents and use of the 1940 Hymnal: practical aids and information for developing a meaningful program of music in worship and in the total life of the Church.

- H. 2. Homiletics. Middle. Second Semester, three hours.

Introduction to Homiletics. What preaching is and its place in worship. General principles of public speaking with particular emphasis upon the preparation, construction and delivery of sermons. How sermons are organized, a study of the classical types, and a concentration on outlining and oral delivery.

- H. 3-4. Homiletics. Senior. First Semester, three hours; Second Semester, three hours.

Sources of preaching with the Bible as the principle source book. Insight into living Biblical situations and how they can be retranslated and interpreted to meet modern needs and problems. Expository and exegetical sermons will be written and preached for criticism and counsel both as to content and human relevance. The Second Semester will offer a planned course on Preaching in the Church Year. The importance and relevance of the Church Seasons together with the schematic ideas contained in the Collects, Epistles, Gospels and the New Lectionary will be studied. Assigned preaching in the Church Year for criticism.

LITURGICS

- Lit. 10. Liturgics. Senior. Second Semester, three hours.

The theology, history and principles of Christian Worship. History of the Book of Common Prayer. Content and use of the Book of Common Prayer. Practice in the conduct of public worship. (Not given 1956-1957).

The Reinecker Lectures

By the generosity of the late Mr. George A. Reinecker, of Baltimore, an annual lectureship was founded in October, 1894, which has added an important feature to the curriculum. For the first year eight lectures were given on this foundation; but subsequently the donor requested that the number be limited to six or less annually, and at the same time he increased the foundation to about seven thousand dollars. The lecturers are chosen by the Faculty without any restrictions.

In the recent past, the Reinecker Lectures have been delivered by such men as: James E. Frame, Douglas V. Steere, Wilhelm Pauck, Dr. Rollins, Bishop Dun, John Mackay, F. W. Dillistone, Edgar C. Young, Francis Wei, Theodore M. Greene, Alan Richardson, Sherman E. Johnson, Bishop Emrich, J. V. L. Casserly, Samuel L. Terrien, M. A. C. Warren and Friedrich Heiler.

The Reinecker Lectures for 1956-57 will be given February 11, 12, 13, 1957, by Dr. John Baillie of Scotland.

The Library

Since the founding of the Seminary, the provision of an adequate collection of books on religion and related subjects has been a vital concern of the trustees, faculty, and alumni. The holdings now number approximately 45,000 volumes and pamphlets, with substantial increases through purchases and gifts each year.

The library is presently housed in the Packard-Laird Memorial Hall (1921). Construction of a new building is in progress, to be known as The Seminary Library, which will provide much needed expansion of the present facilities.

As an integral part of the primary function of the Seminary, the library is seen as a teaching medium supporting and widening the intellectual life of the entire Seminary community. In this conviction, the library staff offers a wide range of services to students, faculty, and visitors doing special research.

Matriculation Statement

(The following states the position of the Faculty of the Virginia Theological Seminary. This statement is not to be understood as a creedal affirmation which a new student is expected to endorse. However, on November first, every incoming student will be asked to acknowledge by his signature that he understands and accepts this statement as representing the conditions under which he will receive his theological education in this institution.)

In the Providence of God this Seminary was founded more than a century ago to train men for the Ministry of Christ's Church. During its long life it has sought to fulfill this purpose, guided by a few clear principles of belief and action. In loyalty and devotion to these principles its men have served the Church well at home and have carried the Gospel to other lands.

This Seminary believes that its primary allegiance is to Jesus Christ. Its first duty is to know Him and to make Him known. It seeks to form lives of strong faith and simple piety, fashioned and enriched by personal communion with Christ, and to make men able out of their own experience to preach Him to others as Lord and Saviour. Christ must be put first. That is the Seminary's evangelical conviction which it allows no other emphasis to hide or minimize.

The Seminary is gladly and professedly Protestant both in its unwillingness to conform to any tradition, or to heed any ecclesiastical claim which displaces the primary accent upon the Gospel, and in its readiness to accept new truth and to face the occasions of a new day. It maintains the right of the individual Christian to his own personal relationships to God.

The Seminary is Catholic in its acceptance of the age-long inheritance of the Church in its Scriptures and Creeds, in its Sacraments and Orders. Its rule of discipline and worship it finds in the Book of Common Prayer, and to this Book it bids its members be loyal as the common order of this Church and as fruitful for Christian life and devotion.

This Seminary believes in the Church as the Body of Christ and the home of Salvation. It regards the Church also as a family of God's people in which all the members are called to live together in unity of mind and heart, in love and sacrifice, and in helpfulness and mutual esteem.

Finally, the Seminary holds that life within it is not to be interpreted as private enterprise, but as a vocation into which its members are called by God, which is shared with others, and which asks for all that is best in them of work, personal living, faith and devotion.

I acknowledge and accept these principles as representing the conditions under which I shall pursue my theological education in this Seminary.

Financial Matters Veteran's Affairs

Matters concerning the rights and benefits to which Veterans are entitled under Public Laws 550 and 894 are handled by the Bursar.

Expenses

Seminary fees are kept at the lowest possible level consistent with the accommodations provided and type of teaching and training maintained. The total charges as listed below are far less than half the actual cost to the Seminary for the education of each student enrolled.<sup>o</sup> The remainder is provided (1) by income from established endowment funds, (2) through gifts received from the annual THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION OFFERING and (3) recurring contributions given individually by the many Friends of the Virginia Seminary. The resulting benefit to the student is immediately reflected in these minimum charges:

	Single	Married
Tuition .....	$300.00	$300.00
Board .....	360.00	90.00*
Room .....	100.00
Library .....	35.00	35.00
†Clinical Training (First summer only) .....	100.00	100.00

Total charges — Clinical Training included first year .....

Total charges, second and third years
each .....

It will be seen from the above that every student enrolled receives from funds held by the Seminary for that purpose, indirect financial assistance in excess of half the actual cost of his training.

<sup>o</sup>The actual cost to the Seminary is Two Thousand and Seventy-Four Dollars per year per student.

*Married students attend daily luncheons Mondays through Fridays. The $90 charge is to cover the cost of these extra meals.

†The fee of $100 is a charge of the Council for Clinical Training, but payable through the Bursar's office not later than May 1.

Other Contractual Obligations

- (1) One half of all Seminary fees is due and payable on the opening day of school and the second half on February 1.
- (2) Every applicant upon acceptance is required to pay a reservation fee of $25.00. This sum will be credited to his tuition fee for the first semester. It is not refundable in the event of the applicant's withdrawal.
- (3) No deduction nor refund of fees or other charges may be made by reason of withdrawal from the Seminary during any academic year. In the event of voluntary withdrawal during either semester, the student will be obligated for the full payment of all fees for the semester in which the withdrawal occurs.
- (4) There are additional expenses for such items as group hospitalization insurance, required for all on-campus students, purchase of books customarily required to be owned personally by all students, personal expenses, etc.
- The only fixed charge in the above is the required hospitalization insurance which for the single student costs $20.40 per year. Insurance combining hospitalization and surgical benefits cost $33.40 per year. The Seminary requires the student to have the former and strongly urges the latter as well.
- (5) No student may take his mid-year examinations until all Seminary fees (including Book Store bills, and library fines and other financial obligations incurred during his first semester) shall have been paid in full, or until assurance, satisfactory to the Bursar, is given of their early settlement, including the sources from which such settlement may be expected.
- (6) No student may take his final examinations until all Seminary charges (as above) have been paid in full, together with all other indebtedness relating in any way to his Seminary course.
- (7) No student may take either mid-year or final examinations until all work assigned for the semester in that course has been completed. In case of work not completed because of illness, arrangements satisfactory to the Professor involved must be made.
- (8) It will be of help to students in planning their budgets to know that room, board and laundry are furnished single students by most of the training centers for Clinical Training. An effort is made to place in centers in the Washington area where possible those married students who are unable to move their families to take training elsewhere. This training is full-time, including Sundays, and there is no opportunity to earn money through outside work during the twelve weeks of the summer program. Eligible Veterans may take this training under the G.I. Bill, if taken at the usual time after the Junior year.

- (9) For a non-resident minister doing special work there is a fee of $10.00 per semester course. Auditing courses — fee of $10.00 per semester course.
- (10) Each student supplies for himself a cassock and surplice.
- (11) Students living in Seminary dormitories care for their own rooms. In addition, every student takes part in the work necessary for the upkeep of grounds and buildings, and in waiting on tables in the refectory. The time spent in the work program averages two hours a week.
- (12) The Seminary provides for each resident a single bed, a desk, a chest of drawers and a chair. Students supply their own linen and blankets and any additional furnishings.

Sunday Work Policies

In 1955 the Field Work Committee of the Faculty was asked to study the place of Sunday work in the Seminary, and to make recommendations regarding the future of Sunday work here—policies, personnel, etc. The Field Work Committee met jointly with a number of clergy who are supervising students in Field Work, and also met jointly with the Faculty's Curriculum Committee. It was clear that it would be virtually impossible to develop sufficient parish Field Work programs of satisfactory quality to accommodate the entire Middle and Senior classes. The Curriculum Committee was also impressed with the magnitude of the task of organizing and continuing to develop well supervised Field Work programs on a wider scale than we are at present attempting.

But more crucial in the thinking of both committees was a serious question about the justification of Field Work programs at all—even the best ones. The committees felt that we needed to keep clearly before us the primary task of the Seminary—namely, the basic foundation in the fields of Bible, History, Theology, Pastoral Theology and Homiletics. Held within very clear limits and administered by faculty members who understood and were fully committed to the total Seminary enterprise, a limited amount of Sunday work in parishes can be a resource to the full Seminary's training by helping the student see more fully some of the relevance of his theological education. However, when Sunday work is not kept within clearly stated limits, it often tends to draw students away from their primary task of theological education.

Therefore we have consolidated the program we have, reducing Field Work and Sunday work to the point where it can be administered by the present faculty, and placing it within very clear limits by means of the following policies.

KINDS OF SUNDAY WORK:

Sunday work may be of two general kinds—(1) Field Work, which is designed to give a student some supervised training in aspects of the parish ministry—and (2) Sunday jobs which consists primarily of remunerative jobs in parishes and missions.

For administrative facility, these two categories of Sunday work are divided into the following three divisions—each division under the administration of a faculty member:

1. Supervised Field Work under the direction of selected clergy. This is the only kind of Sunday work that is properly called "Field Work," and which is administered by a member of the Pastoral Theology Department. It will be restricted to a maximum of 12 selected local parishes who are interested in working within the framework set up for Supervised Field Work, with a limited number of students.
2. Sunday jobs in parishes where there is a rector. This work is primarily in the nature of remunerative work in Church School and Youth Programs in parishes. The faculty member administering this acts chiefly as an information center to assist students in placement.
3. Independent Sunday work in missions or on the preaching circuit. This kind of work also is primarily remunerative, and since it is usually in missions where there is no ordained ministry, no Middler should be allowed to engage in this type of Sunday work alone—but only where there is a priest-in-charge, or a Senior to share the work. The Faculty Member in charge of this type of Sunday work will keep in touch with students as well as with the Diocesan representative in charge of missions to insure that students are not drawn into more responsibilities than they can handle in the allotted maximum time limit. (See policy below regarding time.)

POLICIES:

The following policies are for the protection of students engaging in Sunday work.

POLICY FOR JUNIORS:

The Seminary has found it best for Juniors to remain free of any kind of regular field work (i.e. religious work done by students in parishes, missions, institutions, etc.). This allows Juniors to use their Sundays to visit the various churches in the Washington community, to see a wide variety of church services in every denomination, and to become acquainted with many specialized ministries—ministries to college students, in hospitals, prisons and other institutions. During the first year, Juniors will be laying the academic ground-work which will enable them to take more effective part in the field work programs in parishes during their Middle and Senior years.

NO STUDENTS ARE REQUIRED TO TAKE ANY KIND OF SUNDAY WORK. Sunday work is encouraged only where a student feels the experience will benefit him, or if he needs to earn additional money. In special instances, the faculty may recommend that a particular student engage in a program of Supervised Field Work.

POLICY FOR MIDLERS:

Middlers who maintain a degree average may engage in all three types of Sunday work, but only where there is either a rector, a priest-in-charge, or a Senior with whom he shares the work.

MIDDLER PREACHING in their Sunday work situations should involve a maximum of two new sermons per semester.

MAXIMUM TIME spent in Sunday jobs or Field Work is to be 12 hours per week, including all time spent in travel, preparation, administration, and on the job.

POLICY FOR SENIORS:

Seniors who maintain a degree average may engage in any one of the three kinds of Sunday work.

SENIOR PREACHING on the "circuit" or in missions should involve a maximum of two new sermons per month.

MAXIMUM TIME spent in Sunday jobs or Field Work is the same as for Middlers—12 hours per week, including all time spent in travel preparation, administration, and on the job. Seniors in independent mission situations may find it particularly difficult to keep within this limit. For this reason, it is urged that no student be put "in charge" of the total work of a mission—but that he limit his work either to working with the Church School or taking the 11 o'clock services. The mission should be made to look for help from the diocese or from local clergy for such additional demands as administrative leadership of the mission, extensive pastoral work, etc.

For both Middlers and Seniors. All additional preaching beyond those maximums should be from lay-readers' sermons. Any student finding it difficult to prepare even the allowed number of sermons, is encouraged to use lay-readers' sermons, rather than to allow his school work or his sermon preparation to suffer.

ADMINISTRATION OF POLICIES:

These policies can be maintained only by the active participation of all the faculty and with the interested cooperation of all students participating in Sunday work. Since the policies are for the protection of students, students are encouraged to keep their Faculty Advisors posted as to their Sunday work situations and to discuss with them any problems that have arisen in connection with their Sunday work.

For the year 1956-57, the Field Work Committee will be:

JOHN E. SOLEAU, Chairman—in charge of Supervised Field Work
MURRAY H. NEWMAN—in charge of Sunday jobs in parishes
ALLEN J. GREEN—in charge of independent Seminary jobs in diocesan missions and on the circuit.

Scholarship Aid

A theological seminary, like every other educational institution, must receive annually funds sufficient to meet the growing cost of operation. The Seminary therefore has no choice other than to withhold final approval of any application for admission until full assurance is given that adequate provision has been made or will be made for the payment of all student charges as listed in the catalogue.

This statement of fact, however, is in no way intended to discourage any applicant whose character and ability give promise of a useful ministry from seeking enrollment as a student, and the Seminary is ready to assist as far as possible in seeking out and developing such financial support beyond the applicant's own resources as may be needed. These would be the Diocese from which the applicant comes and the parish of which he is a member. Scholarship grants, as circumstances warrant, may often be secured from established Scholarship Societies.

In the event that these sources are unable to ensure the full payment of all Seminary charges as listed, the applicant may apply to the Seminary for a special grant over and above the benefits already assured (see previously under "Expenses"). The funds from which such aid may be given are limited both as to number and amount, and may only be drawn upon in cases of demonstrated need for which financial assistance may not be had from sources outside the Seminary. Grants are on a yearly basis.

Grants from the Seminary are not available to students who operate automobiles solely for their personal convenience or pleasure. A grant from the Seminary is automatically cancelled in the case of any student who fails to maintain an average of "C" in his courses.

Concerning Marriage in Course

The Board of Trustees at their meeting in June 1955 adopted the following procedure regarding requests for permission to be married in course:

1. The student shall secure in writing his Bishop's consent to petition the Faculty for permission to marry in course.
2. The marriage shall not take place until the student has completed his middle year and his clinical pastoral training or its equivalent, except that a student of mature age who has had previous experience, as for instance in business or the Armed Forces, may in exceptional circumstances be allowed to marry after the completion of his junior year, and the completion of his clinical pastoral training or its equivalent.
3. The student must show to the satisfaction of the Faculty, by such evidences as the Faculty may require, his ability to support and finance himself and his family for the rest of his Seminary career.

However, he shall not include among his resources assistance from an educational organization directly or indirectly connected with the Church.

5. The student shall remain responsible for his contractual obligations for the payment of his room and board during any academic session; and he shall notify the bursar no later than the first day of June of his intention to vacate a dormitory room.

6. The Faculty shall make its recommendation after the above requirements have been fulfilled, but final decision in all cases shall be made by the Bishop of the applicant.

Concerning Ordination

This Seminary does not expect its students to be ordained until after graduation. In certain rare instances permission may be granted for ordination during the second semester of the Senior year. Students entering this Seminary should, however, not expect to be ordained until after graduation.

Religious Services

Holy Communion is celebrated on those days provided for in the Book of Common Prayer, and on Thursdays when there is no special day provided for in any week.

Daily morning services are held in the Chapel.

On Wednesday evenings there is an informal devotional service with an address by a member of the Faculty or outside speaker.

Dormitory prayers are led nightly by the students.

A Quiet Day is held each Semester — on November 1 and on Ash Wednesday — and a retreat for the Seniors shortly before their graduation.

THE DEAN

The Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary

Alexandria, Virginia

Origin and History

The Virginia Seminary had its inception within a small group of clergy and laymen living in and nearby Washington who, in 1818, organized a "Society for the Education of Pious Young Men for the Ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church." After five years of tireless effort they managed to secure sufficient funds to rent an old brick building on the corner of King and Washington streets in Alexandria and there, on October 15, 1823, the Seminary opened for its first session with an enrollment of fourteen students and a faculty of two—the Rev. William H. Wilmer, D.D., and the Rev. Reuel Keith, D.D.

The disadvantages of having the Seminary located in the heart of Alexandria soon became apparent and four years later the Board of Trustees were able to purchase the property upon which it now stands—then, approximately sixty acres of veritable wilderness; today, the geographical center of the city of Alexandria.

These early years were difficult years for the Seminary and students alike. There were few alumni to whom it could turn for help, but the Education Society, aided by the small faculty, managed not only to keep the young Seminary alive, but to lay sure foundations for its future development.

Early Growth

The Seminary opened the session in September of 1860 with four newly completed buildings: the Library (now Key Hall), Aspinwall, Bohlen and Meade Halls; four faculty houses and a Chapel built in 1839. There was a faculty of four members and a student body of seventy-three, including fifteen in the Preparatory Department. Dr. Sparrow was soon to report to the Board of Trustees: "We commenced this term under more favorable auspices than any other in the history of the Seminary—with the most abundant accommodations, either in possession or immediate prospect." The Seminary stood well within reach of the fulfillment of many of its dreams of growing usefulness to the Church.

War

It may well be said that four years of civil war set the Seminary back forty years. It was a war-ravaged Seminary to which Dr. Sparrow, Dr. Packard and eleven battle-weary veterans returned in October of 1865 to reopen the Seminary with a smaller enrollment than that with which it had first begun in 1823. But they had not been the only sufferers. Used as a hospital base, 1700 wounded Federal soldiers had been cared for within its walls, more than 500 of whom died. These were buried in a lower corner of the grounds, their bodies being later removed to Arlington Cemetery.

The years of reconstruction were made more difficult by reason of the loss of most of the invested funds the Seminary had been able to accumulate prior to the outbreak of war. The Trustees moved quickly to petition the Federal government for compensation in the amount of $20,000 to repair the damage caused by four years of military occupation. Not until twenty-five years later was the petition granted. It would be sixty years before the Seminary again reached the pre-war enrollment of seventy-three students.

Centennial

The Centennial was observed in 1923. Two years prior the Packard-Laird Memorial Library was erected. In the year immediately following, funds were raised for the new Sparrow Hall, containing executive offices, a new and larger Prayer Hall and dormitory space for the accommodation of fifteen additional students. In 1925 a generous gift made possible the building of an additional faculty house to be used as the Deanery.

Crisis

In the middle "Forties" the Seminary came face to face with one of the greatest problems and certainly the greatest challenge in its long life. A survey within the entire field of clergy supply and demand was initiated by the Board of Trustees and carried through with the help of all the Bishops and seminaries of the Church. It revealed two very significant facts: from the Bishops came many reports of vacancies for which no clergy could be found. From the seminaries came the surprising news that many more men were seeking admission than could possibly be accepted. The Virginia Seminary alone had been refusing applicants by the score. It had neither the faculty to teach them nor the facilities to accommodate them.

"Let Us Rise and Build"

It was to remedy this critical situation, as far as the Seminary could, that the recent program of expansion was undertaken. What the success of this program has meant in terms of new buildings, additional faculty members and a steadily growing student body is a story oft told throughout the Church, and more particularly, to its ever-growing host of friends.

The Enduring Spirit

Throughout its long history the Seminary has laid unremitting stress on overseas missions and the pastoral office. Before it was a year old its faculty and students had organized a "Society for the Acquisition of Missionary Intelligence and the Collection of Funds for Missionary Enterprise." Its fruits were soon manifest. The Rev. John H. Hill, graduating in 1830 to become the first of a long line of missionaries, founded the Mission in Greece where he labored for 52 years. Our great Mission fields of China, Japan, Liberia and Brazil were likewise established by graduates of this Seminary. The latest to follow in their train were members of the Class of 1956. The "Missionary Society," whose membership now comprises the entire student body, is still in existence.

No less has been the emphasis upon the importance of the pastoral ministry. In 1827, when the Seminary moved from Alexandria to its present location, there was formed another society "For the Religious Improvement of the Neighborhood of the Seminary." Continuously since, students have been given every opportunity of serving in Seminary Missions or assisting in nearby parishes, thereby learning to put into effect, under the guidance of the faculty or rectors of the parishes in which they serve, the theories and skills of the pastoral ministry as taught under the Department of Pastoral Theology.

The Way Ahead

It can in truth be said of the Seminary that it "faces the coming years under more favorable circumstances than any other in its long history . . . with the most abundant accommodations, either in possession or immediate prospect." That this is so can only be due to the loyal support of its growing number of alumni and the thousands of others throughout the Church who have so generously equipped it for the effective training of a greater ministry.

"Friends of Virginia Seminary"

Organized in December 1947 by a group of interested friends of the Seminary, this group now numbers many alumni and lay men and women throughout the Church who, through their regular gifts, make a substantial contribution to the annual income of the Seminary for its operating expenses.

The Book of Remembrance

In April of 1953 the Virginia Theological Seminary Memorial Fund was established by the members of the graduating class of 1953. The purpose of the Fund is as follows:

- (1) to receive, from any interested persons, both within and without the Seminary, contributions as living memorials to any alumnus of or student in the Seminary, or to the deceased relatives of any alumnus or student; and
- (2) to use any interest accruing from the investment of these memorial gift offerings for some worthy purpose directly connected with the ongoing life of this Seminary.

The names of the deceased in whose memory offerings are made are entered in The Book of Remembrance which is placed on the altar on All Saints' Day. At this time the names entered therein during the past year are read and remembered in prayer.

Contributions should be addressed to the Secretary of the Student Body.

Buildings

FRANCIS SCOTT KEY HALL (1855) VOICE AND SPEECH STUDIO. Named in honor of Francis Scott Key of Georgetown; a loyal Churchman and one of the founders of the "Education Society" in 1818, the organization of which made possible the establishment of the Virginia Seminary.

Formerly known as "Wilmer Hall," it was erected as a library through a legacy of Mrs. Sophia Jones of Virginia and a gift of John Bohlen, Esq., of Philadelphia.

ASPINWALL HALL (1858). Erected by Messrs. William H. and John L. Aspinwall, of New York. It contains Class and Seminar rooms, and a Commons Room in memory of The Rev. Charles Wilford Sheerin, D.D.

BOHLEN HALL (1859). Administration Offices and Faculty Room; Snack Shop and Book Store in the basement.

MEADE HALL (1860). Erected by the Alumni as a memorial to Bishop Meade. Student dormitory.

IMMANUEL CHAPEL (1880). Erected on the site of the old Chapel through gifts from the Alumni and friends in all parts of the country. A new choir and chancel were added in 1906, the gift of Bishop of this institution. The interior of the Chapel was repaired and redecorated in 1955.

PACKARD-LAIRD MEMORIAL HALL (1921). One-third of the cost was contributed by Mr. W. Winder Laird of Wilmington, Del., in memory of his grandfather, the Rev. Joseph Packard, D.D., for many years a Professor and Dean; and his brother, the Rev. William H. Laird, D.D., an honored alumnus of this Seminary.

THE SEMINARY LIBRARY (1956). Presently under construction.

SPARROW HALL (1924). Named in honor of the Rev. William Sparrow, D.D. It contains student rooms and Prayer Hall, the latter having been given by Col. John D. Letcher in memory of Mrs. Louise Taylor Letcher.

WILMER HALL (1948). Named in memory of the Rev. William H. Wilmer, D.D., one of the founders of the Seminary. Student dormitory.

JOHNS HALL (1949). Named in honor of the Rt. Rev. John Johns, D.D., theologian and bishop. Student dormitory.

MADISON HALL (1950). Named after James Madison (consecrated at Lambeth in 1790 as the first Bishop of Virginia). Student dormitory.

MOORE HALL (1950). Named for Richard Channing Moore, during whose episcopate the Seminary was founded. Faculty apartments, guest rooms and student rooms.

REFECTORY (1950). Erected through grants from the Old Dominion and Avalon Foundations. A spacious dining room, seating 250; Dietician's office together with completely equipped culinary department.

SCOTT MEMORIAL ROOM (1951). A large Reception and Social room incorporated in the refectory building and given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic William Scott by their children.

ST. GEORGE'S HALL (1952). The second dormitory to bear that name, it perpetuates the traditions of the original St. George's erected in 1856 but "liquidated" in 1945 as being unsafe for student occupancy. Student dormitory.

FUNSTEN MEMORIAL HOUSE (1925). A handsome faculty residence given by Mr. R. E. Funsten, of St. Louis, as a memorial to his wife, Lillie Funsten, and to his father and mother, Col. David and Susan Meade Funsten.

Fourteen houses (some with apartments) for faculty and staff.

"Alumni Association"

This society was organized in 1833, ten years after the founding of the Seminary. Its purpose is to "produce concert in the efforts of the Alumni for the advancement of the interests of the Seminary, the prosperity of the Church, and the spiritual improvement and ministerial usefulness of its members."

Regional meetings are held during the winter or early spring in many of the large Church centers, the annual meeting being held in connection with the commencement exercises at the Seminary every June.

The Missionary Society

The Seminary was only three months old when the Missionary Society was organized in January 1824. Its life and work have been interrupted only by the four years of military occupation of the Seminary grounds and buildings during the Civil War. Its membership has always embraced the entire student body.

As stated in its Constitution, "the purpose of the Missionary Society is to stir up zeal for and direct the missionary and evangelistic activities of the Seminary and to inspire each student to carry away with him some of this spirit by which the Church of God may fulfill its purpose of bringing all mankind to the Salvation which is found in Jesus Christ." The Society seeks to carry out this purpose by means of daily prayers, weekly offerings, public displays, constant contact with missionaries at home and abroad, participation in the interseminary movements, occasional speakers and films. The Society has therefore been one of the chief factors in preserving and strengthening the traditional "missionary spirit" of the Virginia Seminary.

The affairs of the Society are directed by a Council, members of which for 1956-57 are as follows:

Missionary Society Council

ROBERT TSU (California), President

MINOR LEE ROGERS (Southwestern Virginia), Secretary

WILLIAM DOLS (Maryland), Treasurer

CHARLES PENNIMAN (Delaware), First Delegate to the Interseminary Movement

MACON WALTON (Virginia), Second Delegate to the Interseminary Movement

DONALD CUTLER (Harrisburg), First Delegate to the Anglican Seminary Conference

LOUIS MITCHELL (New York), Second Delegate to the Anglican Seminary Conference

JAMES KING (Southwestern Virginia), Senior Class Representative

RODERICK REINECKE (North Carolina), Middle Class Representative

....., Junior Class Representative. (To be elected.)

The Student Council

Members of the Council are elected by the student body and work in mutual cooperation with the Faculty and Administration in all matters pertaining to the work and corporate life of the Seminary.

Officers 1956-1957

THE BISHOP PAYNE DIVINITY SCHOOL

By joint action of their respective Boards of Trustees, the Virginia Seminary and Bishop Payne Divinity School have been merged into a single corporation.

It was agreed that the name of the merged corporation shall be "The Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary in Virginia."

It was further agreed that all alumni of Bishop Payne Divinity School "shall henceforth be alumni of the 'merged corporation'."

Immediately following and by unanimous action, the alumni of Bishop Payne Divinity School were elected members of the "Alumni Association of the Virginia Seminary."

(For permanent record, the alumni records of Bishop Payne Divinity School are herewith included with those of the Virginia Seminary.)

Please notify Dr. Barnwell's office of any change of address.
