The Functionality

Consider your passions, what it is that you intend to pursue, and the practicality of each.

The demands of your work should effect (but not determine) your final decision.

Chapter 11 What makes a Mask?

Workable Materials

With a better understanding of what your new mask will look like, the following will detail accessible materials to work with, and where to find them.

⇒ Mask making materials ⇒

- Wood
- Clay
- Stone
- Metals
- Cloth
- Silver
- Gold
- Gems
- Bone
- ETC.

To spare yourself the costs of importing one or all of the materials you need, it's important to know the home of said resources.

The Forest of Lyko-
Produces the most lumber of any civilization in Veile

Additionally, many beasts and elk reside within the woods, Ample means of procuring Bone

Sydor Fortress-
The mountainous city's quarry is perfect for Clay/Stone deposits

Orethe-

Home of the smithing guild, best place to find any raw metals

The Markets of Teyloy-

Where fine Gemstones are bought and sold in abundance

Kylix Villas-

Best place to find cloth from various civilizations and cultures

(See MASK INTERIORS for more)

The Glass Citadel-

Houses salesmen of any and all materials you may need, but may come at a high price.

DISCLAIMER

Do not harvest the bones from sentient beings, dead or alive.

Don't rob any graves, and PLEASE don't kill anyone for their bones.

Mask Interiors

Nothing ruins your day quite like a splinter in your cheek or a sore nose, it's important to consider the part of the mask that your face will be the most intimate with throughout the years.

The inside.

Any form of breathable fabric can turn a course mask interior into a second thought. I Suggest :

- Pyre Wool
- Kylixian silk and Cotton
- Heavy Felt
- Teryxian Down

Additional interior carving may alleviate pinching and general discomfort the weight of the mask may produce. In the following chapter, you'll learn what to ask for to ensure style And comfort.

Chapter 111

Who's Mask is it?

The mask is yours, but consider the possibility that it may be inherited, and should represent your proud lineage and social standing. Time to get the paint.

The Markings

With the paint dried and patterns decided, your mask is ready to be carved and personalized further.

You don't need my guidance to carve cool shapes into your mask.

Just stay safe!

Now what do I do?

~ Maintenance / Care ~

There would be little purpose in you reading all of this without giving you the means of making your new mask last.

No matter the material of your mask, maintaining a sanitary interior is tantamount, especially in more strenuous lines of work.

Soaking in Purified Water:
Let the cloth interior of the mask soak in boiled/treated/perfumed waters for at least an hour. This will remove any odors incurred by physical labor.

Hand dry, and let sit overnight.

Sanitizing with Alcohol:
A convenient method, if not the most effective. Any non-flavored alcohol will work wonders to remove stains and any other contaminants on a mask, but you'll smell like a drunkard.

Maybe this should be a last resort.

Replacing Interior:

Should the interior be grievously contaminated, refurbishing may be advised. Any tailor can replace a cloth lining, but materials such as wood or metal may need some form of coating.

I find the former more affordable.

Splinters :

When wooden masks begin to split or crack, splintery protrusions may form. If this aesthetic is not desired, sanding away at the affected area will do the trick.

Cracks on Bone :

If the surface of a bone mask is splitting and cracking, consider an adhesive coating on the area, then apply pressure until dry.

It can't heal on it's own anymore.

Rusted Metal :

Chemical treatment may be required to remove rust from the surface, chemicals which any apothecary can provide.

Stone Deterioration :

When the stone eventually crumbles, a healthy reapplication of more clay and rock will make it look good as new.

Cracked Glass :

If the visor of your mask gets cracked, adhesives should mend this, but a glass-blower should be sought out.

Exorcism :

If you believe your mask may be possessing a curse, or host to a demonic force, Just burn it.

Taboos

The Etiquette of a mask wearing society

- I. Wearing a mask atop one's head, except when dining
- II. Sleeping with company, without a mask
- III. Kissing a mask
- IV. Using a mask as a blunt instrument in battle
- V. Concealing weapons or goods behind one's mask
- VI. Repurposing masks for decoration or otherwise
- VII. Buying or selling a previously owned mask

Examples

The following pages will show some masks I have designed that best represent their variety, utility, and personality.

The Mask of Airship Captain Valen-Tielluca

- Wood carved*
- Skull replica*
- Made from ship planks*
- Space made for hat*
- Purple Split pattern*
- Face insulation*

As imposing a mask as the man who commissioned it, this face symbolizes a highly decorated career, a wise leader, and a fearsome enemy to pirates.

Yisla of Kylix*

- Marble Sculpture
- Cosmetician's mask
- Replica of the Muse
- Sanitary
- Clear Eye pattern
- Smooth Interior
- Confident colors

The idealistic beauty captured in their new face inspires thier client's confidence and ensures they know where to look for fine cosmetics and treatments.

The Mask of Warrior Poet
Owca of Sydor

- Smelted Iron
- Beast's horns
- Eye glyphs
- Protective
- Unobstructed speech
- Altered Heirloom

*The helmet of a warrior, containing the mind of a poet,
constantly adrift in thought,
but protected by the battle hardened spirits from whom she inherited the helmet.*

Mira of Kylix (me)*

- Blackened wood*
- Surgeon's disk*
- Glass visor*
- Hair net*
- Sanitation seal*
- Mouth glyphs*

I may seem a bit biased, but this mask has been, and continues to be my greatest accomplishment, It makes me feel proud of my work, getting to wear it every day.

the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis (1974), and the Journal of Experimental Psychology: Applied (1975).

There are a number of reasons why the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is the most widely cited journal in the field of behavior analysis.

First, the journal has a long history of publishing high-quality research in the field of behavior analysis.

Second, the journal has a wide range of topics, including basic research, applied research, and clinical research.

Third, the journal has a high impact factor, which is a measure of the journal's influence in the field.

Finally, the journal has a high level of readability, which makes it accessible to a wide range of researchers and practitioners.

Overall, the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is a leading journal in the field of behavior analysis, and its high citation rate is a reflection of its quality and influence.

There are a number of other journals in the field of behavior analysis, but none have the same level of citation as the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis.

For example, the Journal of Experimental Psychology: Applied is a leading journal in the field of applied behavior analysis, but its citation rate is lower than that of the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis.

Similarly, the Journal of Behavior Therapy and Experimental Psychiatry is a leading journal in the field of behavior therapy, but its citation rate is also lower than that of the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis.

Therefore, the Journal of Applied Behavior Analysis is the most widely cited journal in the field of behavior analysis, and its high citation rate is a reflection of its quality and influence.
