They erupted through an open well in the castle courtyard. Come on said Harry, we don't wanna be late for the king

As the pair walked into the castle's main hall, the king's slumbering knights bowed their heads as Blaze and Harry walked by. When they finally got to the King's Court, horns sounded off and Harry knelt down. Blaze, kneeling Harry said, gesturing to the floor. Blaze quickly took a knee beside Harry, and loud thunderous laughter filled the room.
