OLDE CENTRE 1975
CENTRE COLLEGE OF KENTUCKY

EXTENDING BEYOND its main street frontier, Centre forms a small community within itself. Although Centre means different things to different individuals, certain things about Centre are basic to everyone during their years here. Students are often hurrying to a class, putting the finishing touches on a special project, or just pausing during a busy day — activities common to any college student. Yet the way such routine things are done here makes Centre unique.

SMALL TRADITIONS distinguish the Centre community. Everyone studies — some more than others — and study habits often take on blue-print precision. Some find a favorite desk in Doherty and follow all academic pursuits at that desk for four years. When the weather is nice there's a great escape to the outdoors to settle on an empty bench under a tree. If all else fails, there's still the desk in the dorm.

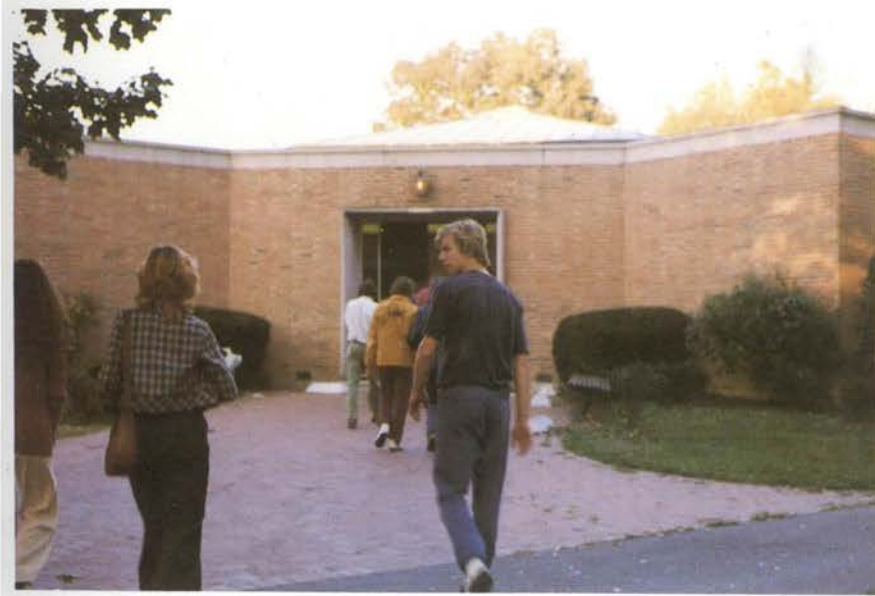

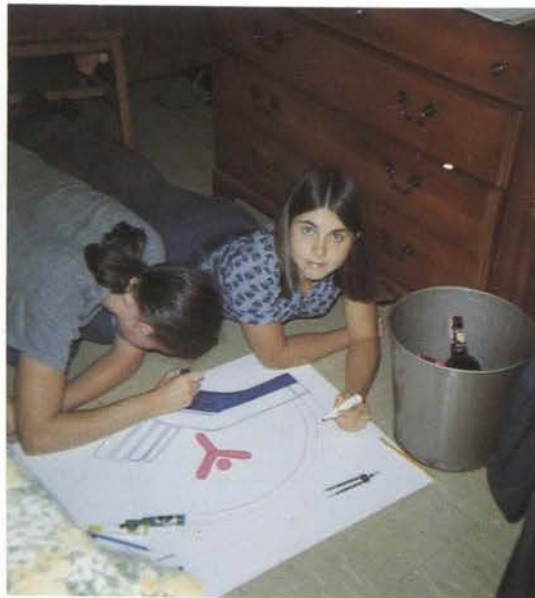

LIKE IT or not, Cowan claims a major part of everyone's time. With guaranteed, though often hesitant diners, Cowan's facilities are still unable to adequately accommodate their guests. Once inside, it's a sure thing you'll see everyone you know (and know almost everyone you see). Like the benches on campus, nearly every table seems to have an invisible reserved sign on it. Groups of people establish a particular table as their own and often claim it for four years.

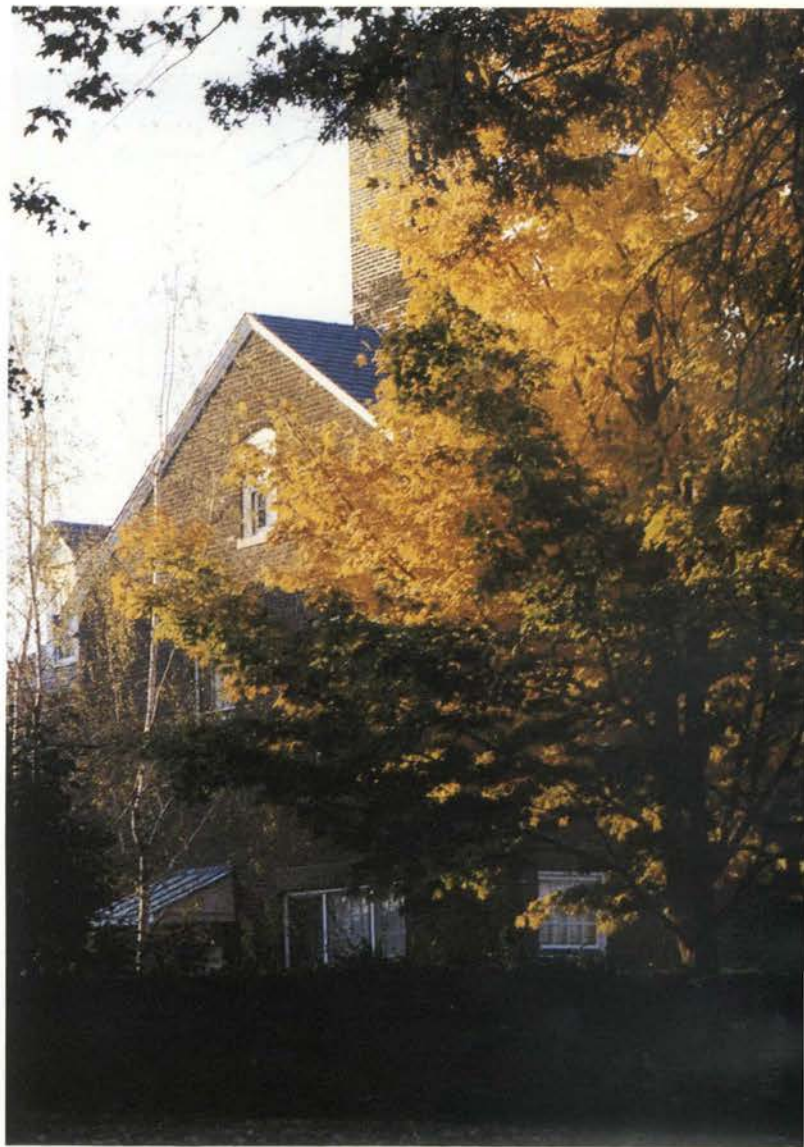

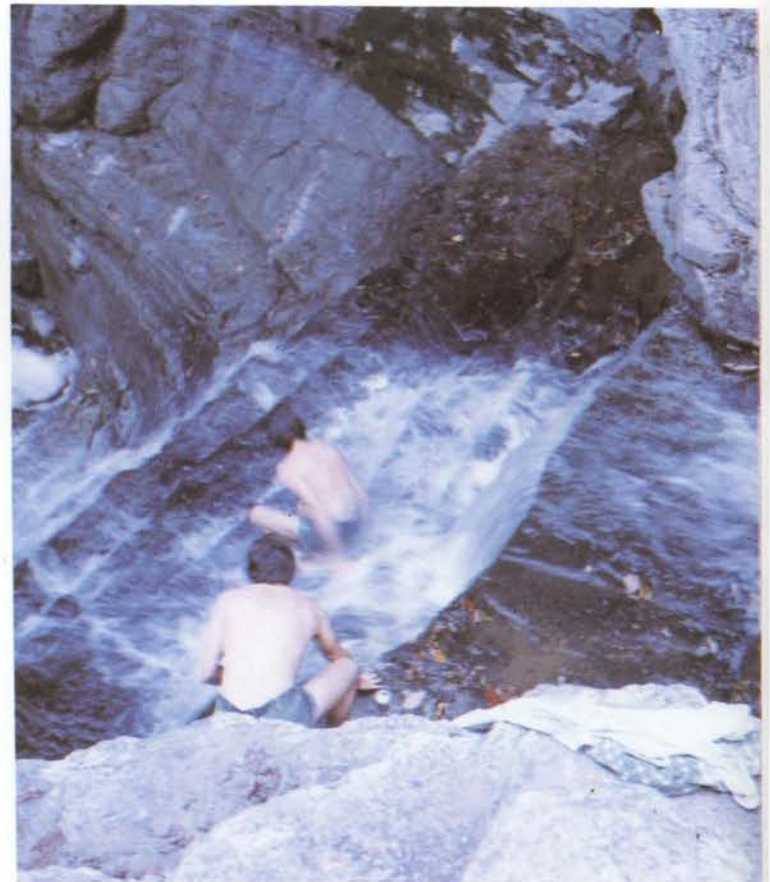

WHETHER GOING back to clean a cluttered room or just to get out the bike, students head for the dorm or fraternity house. Each residence develops characteristic traits which either lure students to it or make apartment living sound more inviting. Dorm mascots, although given names, join students as officially-numbered inhabitants of the Centre community.

WHEN SMALLER diversions simply will not do, Centre's bigger traditions liven up an otherwise quiet campus. Big weekends, sporting events, annual drinking contests, and re-enactments of Cowboy and Indian days create a festive spirit that permeates the campus. Groups or individuals find an additional outlet with off-campus outings.

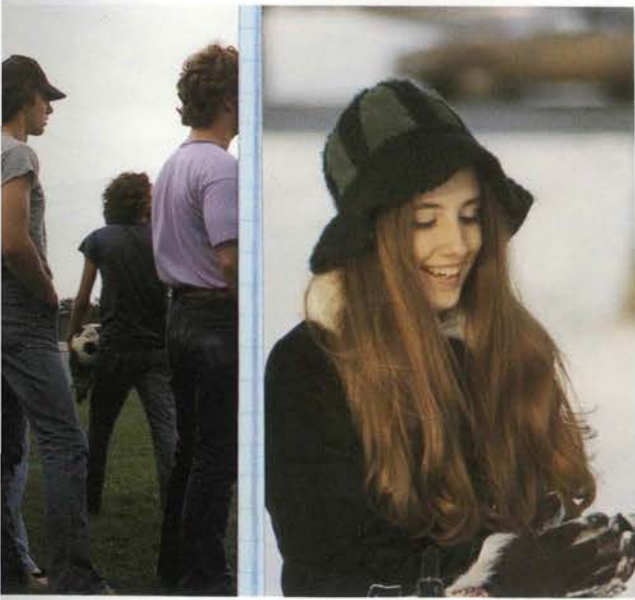

UNLIKE NEIGHBORING universities, Centre is still compact enough to cross its campus within minutes. Varied activities are concentrated within a small radius, and amount of spare time, rather than actual distance, dictates leisure moments.

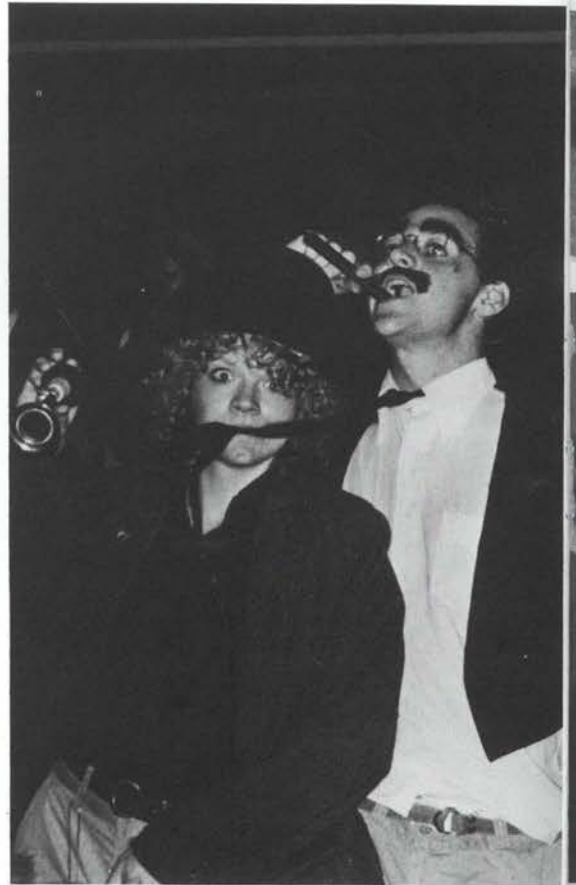

EVERY TOWN has its Main Street, perhaps even many with their own college sprawled along several of its blocks. In this respect, Centre is such a college community. Perhaps Centre will always physically remain on Main Street, yet its traditions are Center traditions and not a main street way of life.

EVENTS

THE SUBSCRIPTION Series for the 1974-75 season provided entertainment for a variety of tastes. The opening performance of Vilella with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra was followed by the performance of Verdi's "La Traviata" by the unique Goldovsky Grand Opera Theatre. The National Dance Company of Senegal added vigorous movement and sound with its troupe of 42 dancers, singers and musicians. The premiere of a new national production of "Fiddler on the Roof", starring Bob Carroll, thrilled a full house.

1/Edward Vilella performing on opening night. 2/The production of "La Traviata," performed by the Goldovsky Opera Theatre, was a delightful evening for all. 3/Tevye sadly bids his daughter farewell, in "Fiddler on the Roof." 4/The choreography in "Fiddler on the Roof" was only a small fraction of the total entertainment. 5/The National Dance Company of Senegal was one of the most exotic performances of the season. 6/One of Tevye's daughters breaks tradition by dancing with a man. 7/Leslie Laeng sews on a patch for one of the members of the "Fiddler on the Roof" cast.

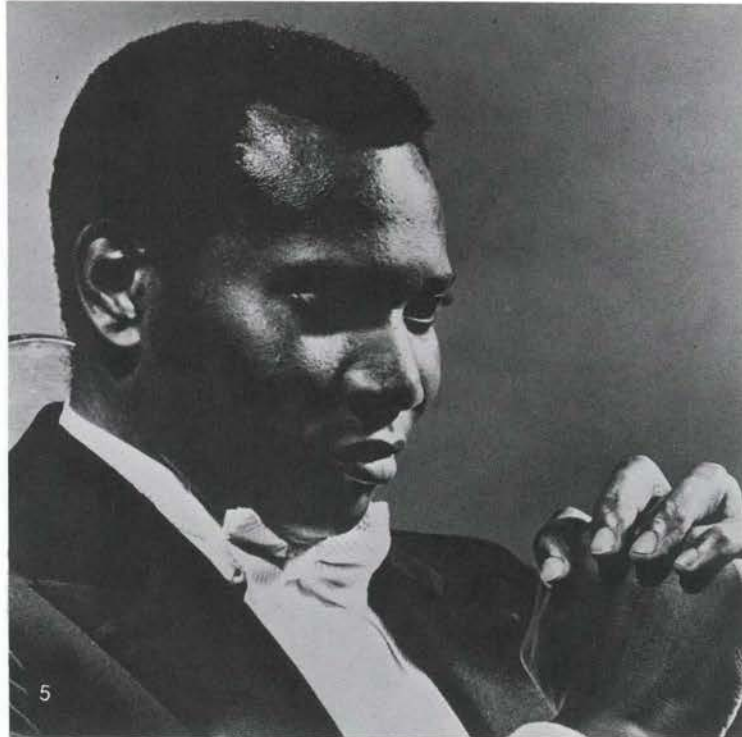

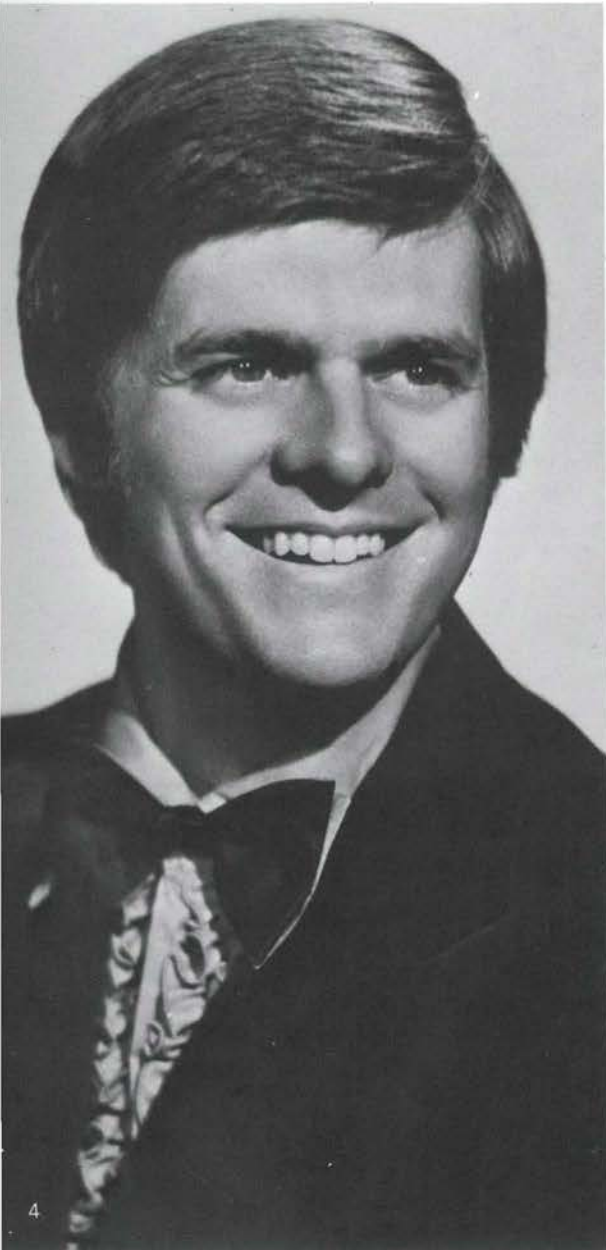

THE FINAL three performances of the Subscription Series delighted the audiences which filled the Concert Hall. The world acclaimed Nikolais Dance Theatre, under the direction of Alwin Nikolais, not only bedazzled onlookers in their Saturday evening performance, but also conducted a lecture-demonstration on Nikolais' approach to dance for advanced dancers from across the state.

Beethoven's majestic Ninth Symphony was performed by the Louisville Orchestra and the 140-voice chorus under the direction of Maestro Jorge Mester. The season concluded with a thoroughly delightful comic performance by Victor Borge on the piano.

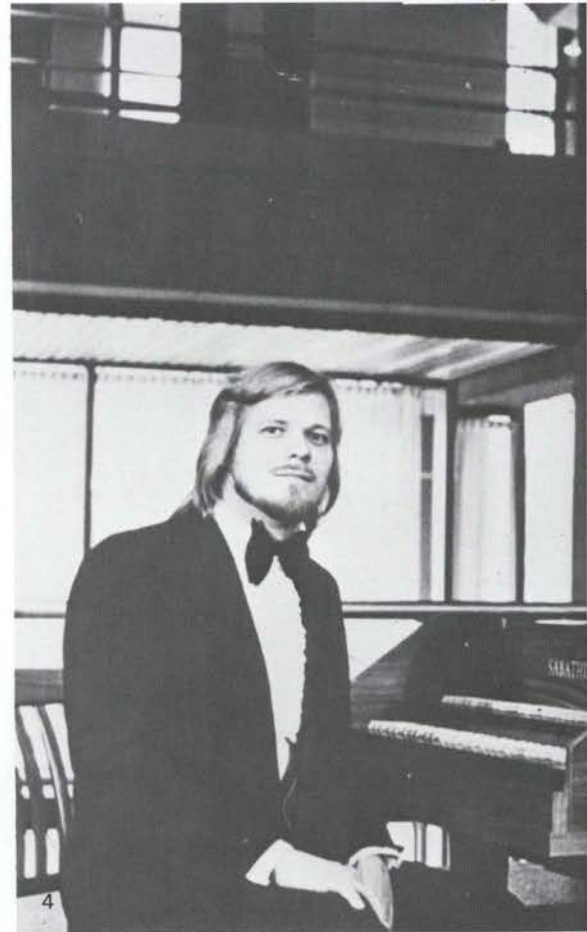

1/The Nikolais Dance Theatre performing. 2/ Featured soloist with the Louisville orchestra, Ellen Shade, star of the Frankfurt Opera Company of Germany. 3/Mary Lee Farris, mezzo-soprano star of the Kentucky Opera Association. 4/John Stewart, star of the Metropolitan and the New York City Opera Companies, featured with the Louisville Orchestra. 5/Bass-baritone Simon Estes, star of the Chicago, San Francisco, Berlin, and Hamburg Opera companies. 6/Victor Borge, renowned comic pianist.

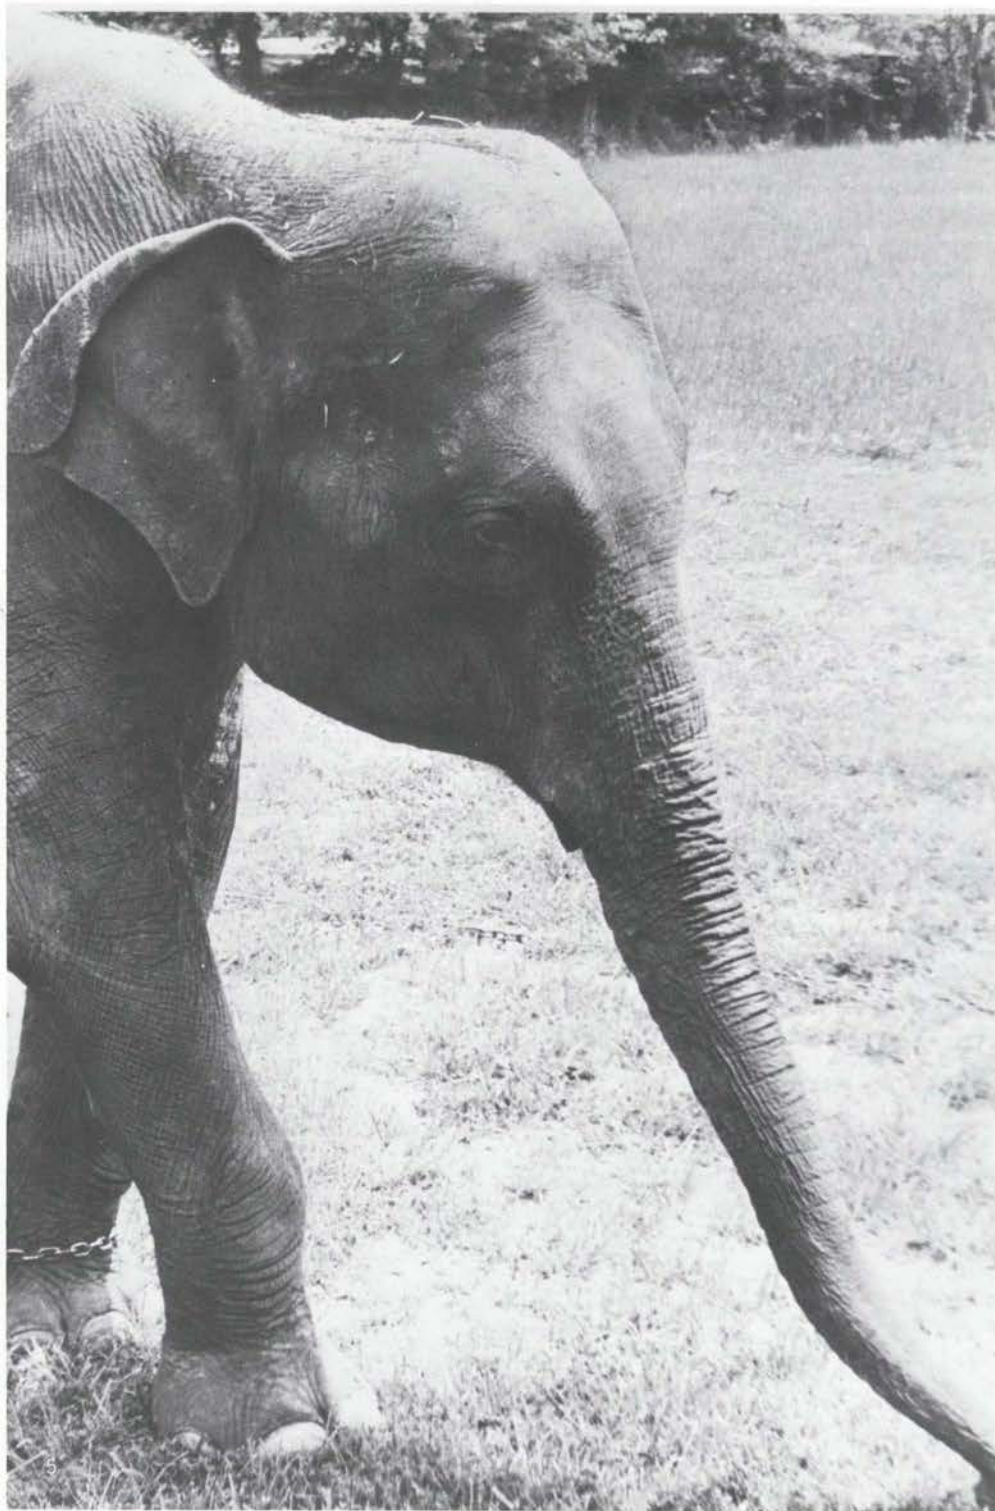

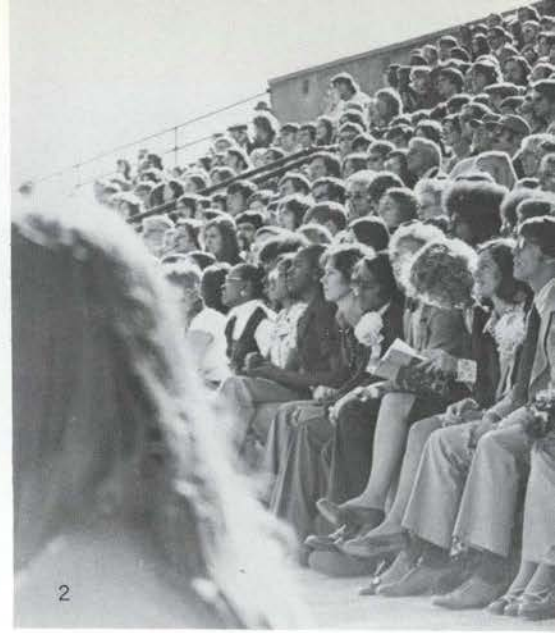

MANY DIVERSE performances were presented as Special Attractions at the Regional Arts Center, ranging from a concert by the Lexington Philharmonic to an imported European Circus. Other attractions included the New York Children's Theatre Paper Bag Players and the Karr and Lewis Duo.

1/ Maestro George Zack conducted the Lexington Philharmonic on the concert stage in a special performance filmed by Kentucky Educational television. 2/ Students work on the Circus set. 3/ One of the Paper Bag Players dons a nose and a colorful tail. 4/ Harmon Lewis, keyboard, and Gary Karr, double bass. 5/ One of the major attractions of James Hertzler's European Circus. 6/ Animal keepers untie the ponies for the show.

THE WEEKEND of October 25th and 26th proved to be a beautiful setting for Homecoming '74. The weather, reminiscent of a summer afternoon, created a festive spirit in all.

The celebration began with a concert, Two Generations of Brubeck, on Friday evening. The parade, depicting the theme, "200 Years of Progress," began Saturday's activities, followed by an action-packed game with Southwestern. Half-time activities centered around the crowning of Helen Williams as Homecoming Queen. The weekend climaxed Saturday evening with movies and a dance in Sutcliffe.

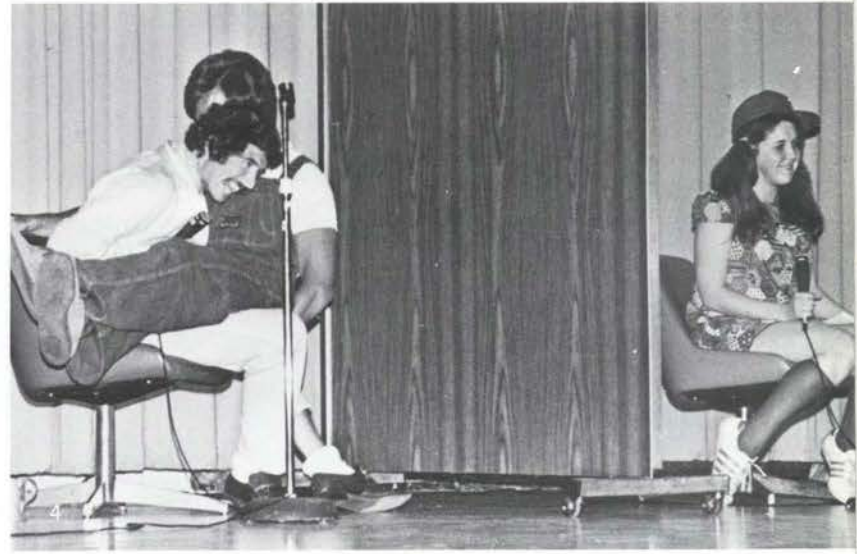

1/Keen Babbage attends the dance. 2/Ethos entertains at the concert. 3/Mike Miller daydreams as he dances with Phyllis Rafferty. 4/Don Newquist dances with Sylvia Gazzaneo, resident assistant of the Spanish House.

THE SOCIAL Board provided entertainment to liven up winter term in the form of Midwinter Weekend. A large crowd packed Sutcliffe for the dance on Friday. Events Saturday included a concert by Ethos, the movie "The Life and Times of Judge Roy Bean," and a breakfast at Cowan.

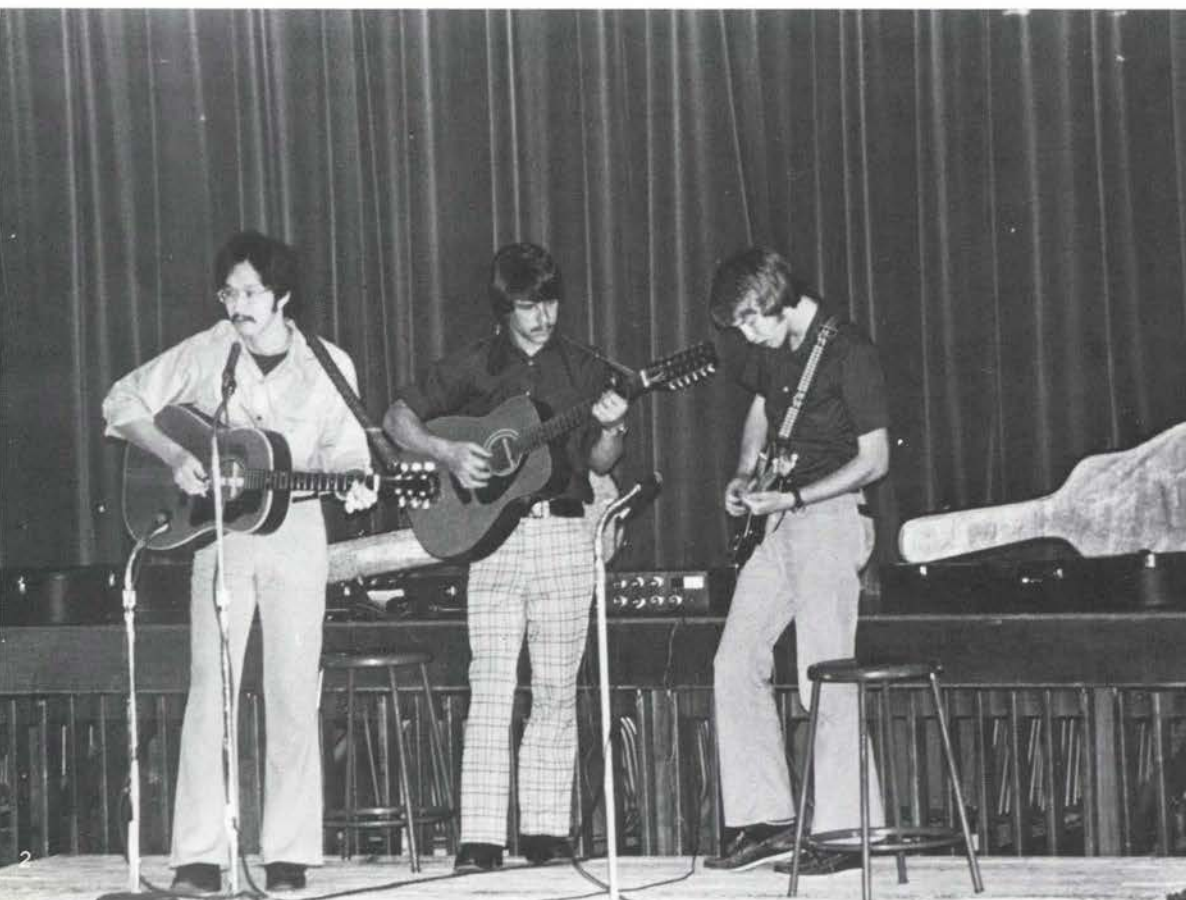

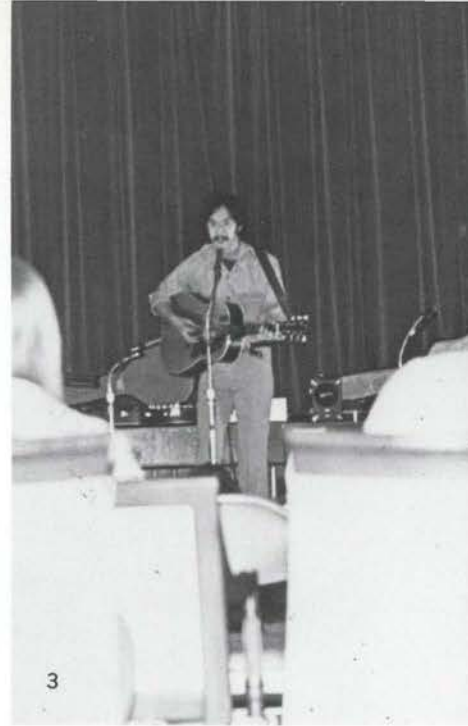

1/Stanley McCune displays the winning pair of legs at an intramural basketball game. 2/Carolyn Zeiher seems surprised at her choice of The Invisible Man in the "Dating Game." 3/The Mr. Ugly Legs Contest gave the men a chance to display their lovely legs. 4/Debra Soyk questions her prospective dates, Bob Hamilton and Gary Colton. 5/Bo Williamson enjoys the bidding at the freshman peon purchase.

THE FRESHMEN women, headed by chairman Sherrie Murphy, sponsored various fund-raising activities for Gardenia Weekend. Both the male and female peon purchases were popular events, with new attractions this year being the "Dating Game," and a Mr. Ugly Legs Contest.

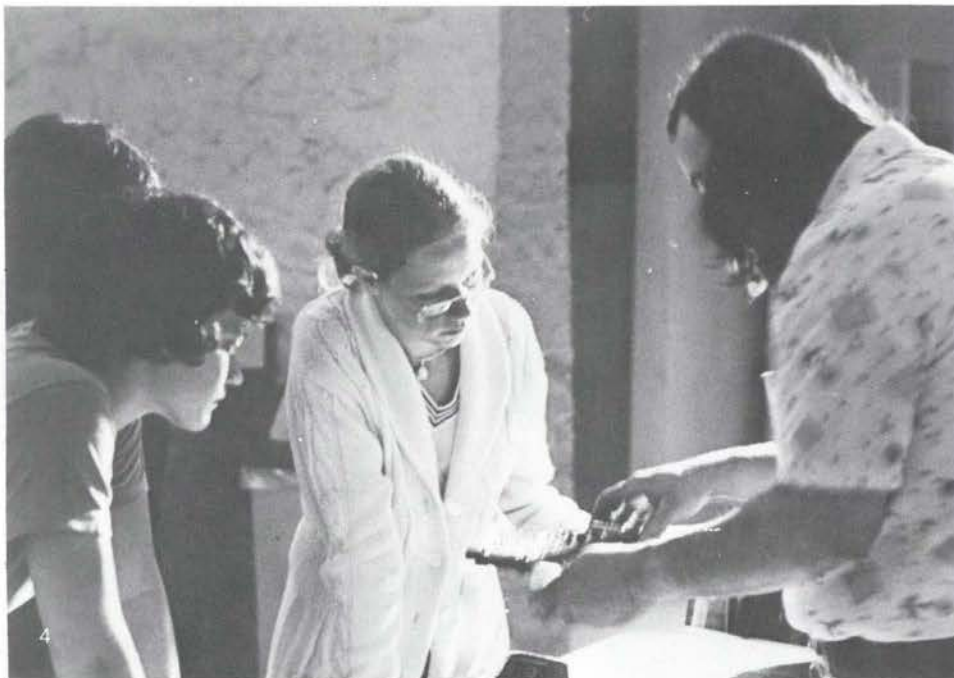

THE TURNABOUT Gardenia Weekend was a success for the freshman women. Friday night's activities included an informal concert by Conrad Shiba, Ed Nugent and Chip Blackwell, followed by the movie "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice." Saturday night the "Tyronne Smith Review," a ten-piece black band from Nashville, played for a large crowd in Sutcliffe. The formal dance was highlighted by the crowning of Sherrie Murphy as queen, the selection made by the freshmen men. The dance was followed by a candlelight breakfast in Cowan.

1/Dr. Max Cavnes crowns Sherrie Murphy as Gardenia Queen, while her escort Jim Smith looks on. 2/Combining their talents, Conrad Shiba, Ed Nugent, and Chip Blackwell entertain the crowd. 3/Conrad Shiba performs a solo number at the Friday night mini-concert. 4/Formally attired for the dance, Sally Grumbles takes a break to try her luck at pinball. 5/Queen Sherrie Murphy and escort Jim Smith pose with the Gardenia court members and escorts: FRONT ROW L. to R.: Karen Svendson and Craig Johnson, Claudia Weibley and John Kingery: BACK ROW: Nancy Keiser and Brad McCoy, Shannon Ecton and John Shipley, Karen Wiley and Kevin Risley. 6/The Tyrone Smith Review delighted dancers Saturday night.

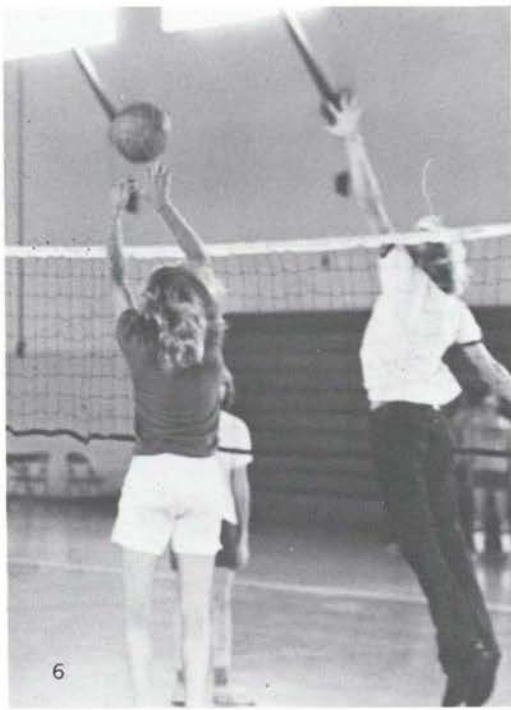

WITHOUT EVER announcing the results of a vote taken to determine the student body's preference, the Social Board abolished the Centre tradition of Carnival with king and queen and formal court, and instead introduced the First Annual Ostrich Festival on the weekend of May 16-18.

The weekend included a poorly attended dance featuring "Montana" and the movie "Jeremiah Johnson" on Friday night. Despite the showers, Saturday afternoon featured an arts and crafts fair, games, and a guitar workshop. The evening included a concert in Cowan and in Sutcliffe. The coronation of Mark Lucas as first annual Ostrich King was the evening's high point.

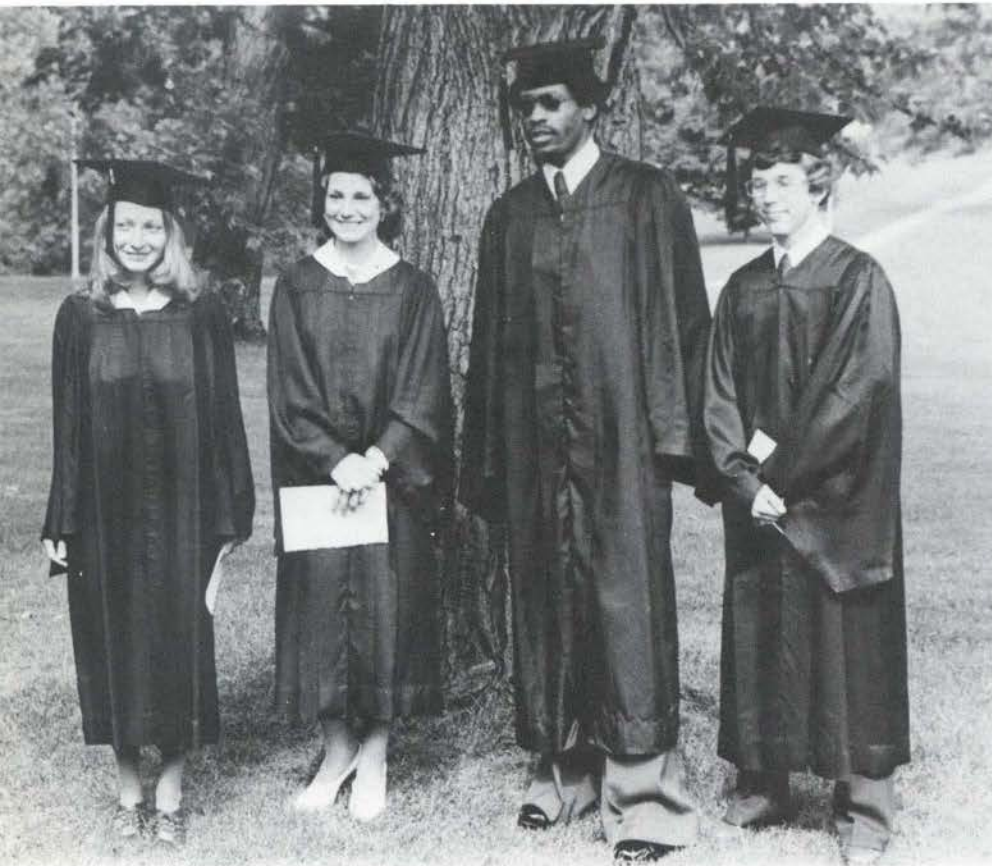

Sunday saw two contestants participate in the Spring Sing on the steps of Olde Centre.

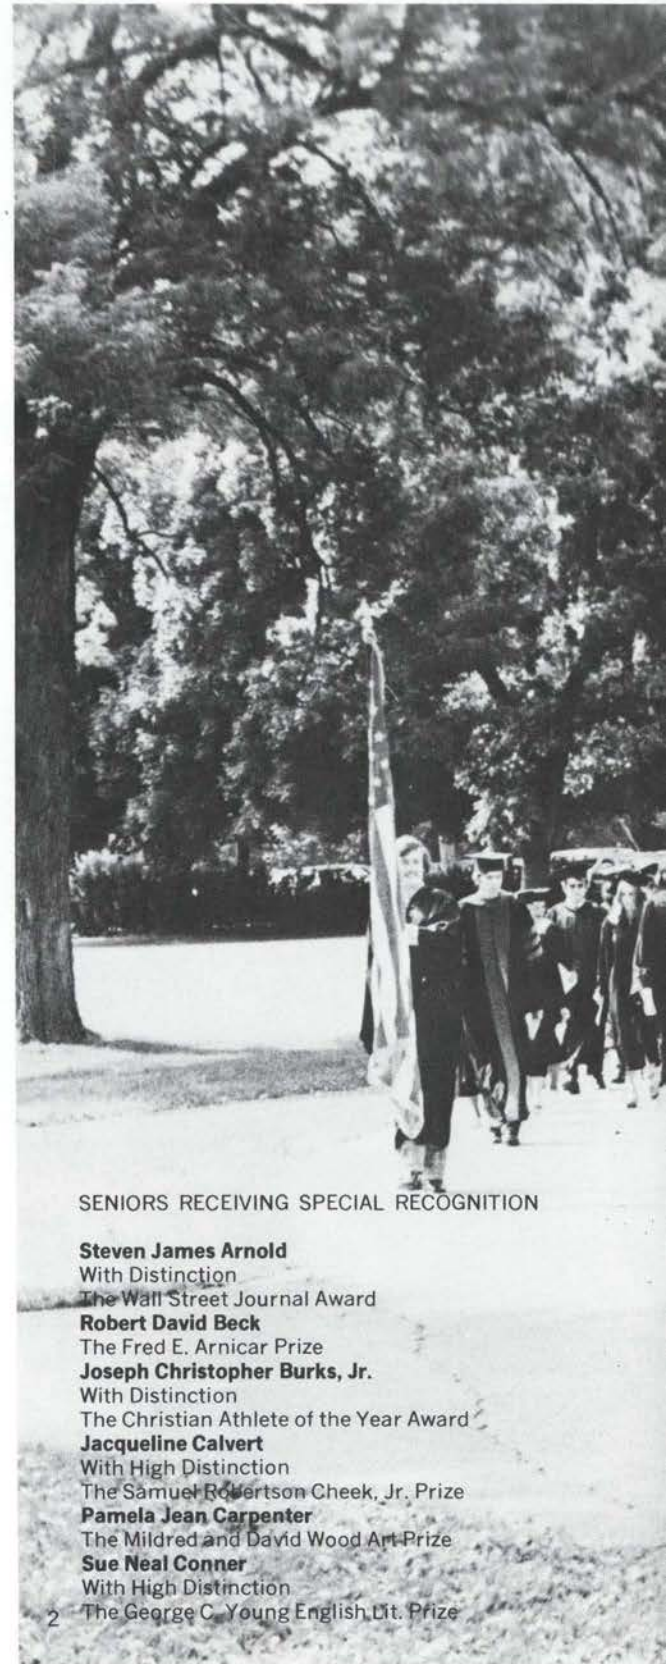

1/ Steve Thomas and Patty Beatty run the Sigs' Wheel of Fortune. 2/ The featured band Saturday night. 3/ Mark Lucas is crowned Ostrich King. 4/ Sharon Hartman watches as Amy Marsh gets a tip on guitar playing from Walter Creft. 5/ Student art was displayed in the Arts and Crafts Fair. 6/ A co-ed volleyball tourney was held Saturday. 7/ Jim Compton leads the Phi Delta Theta fraternity in song. 8/ The Sigma Chi's captured first place in the Spring Sing.

ON SUNDAY afternoon, June 1, 167 seniors received their degrees in the 152nd commencement of Centre College. The speaker at commencement exercises was Wade Hampton McCree, Jr., U.S. Circuit judge. 103 Bachelor of Arts degrees were conferred, while 64 seniors received the Bachelor of Science degree. For the first time in Centre's history, there were four valedictorians.

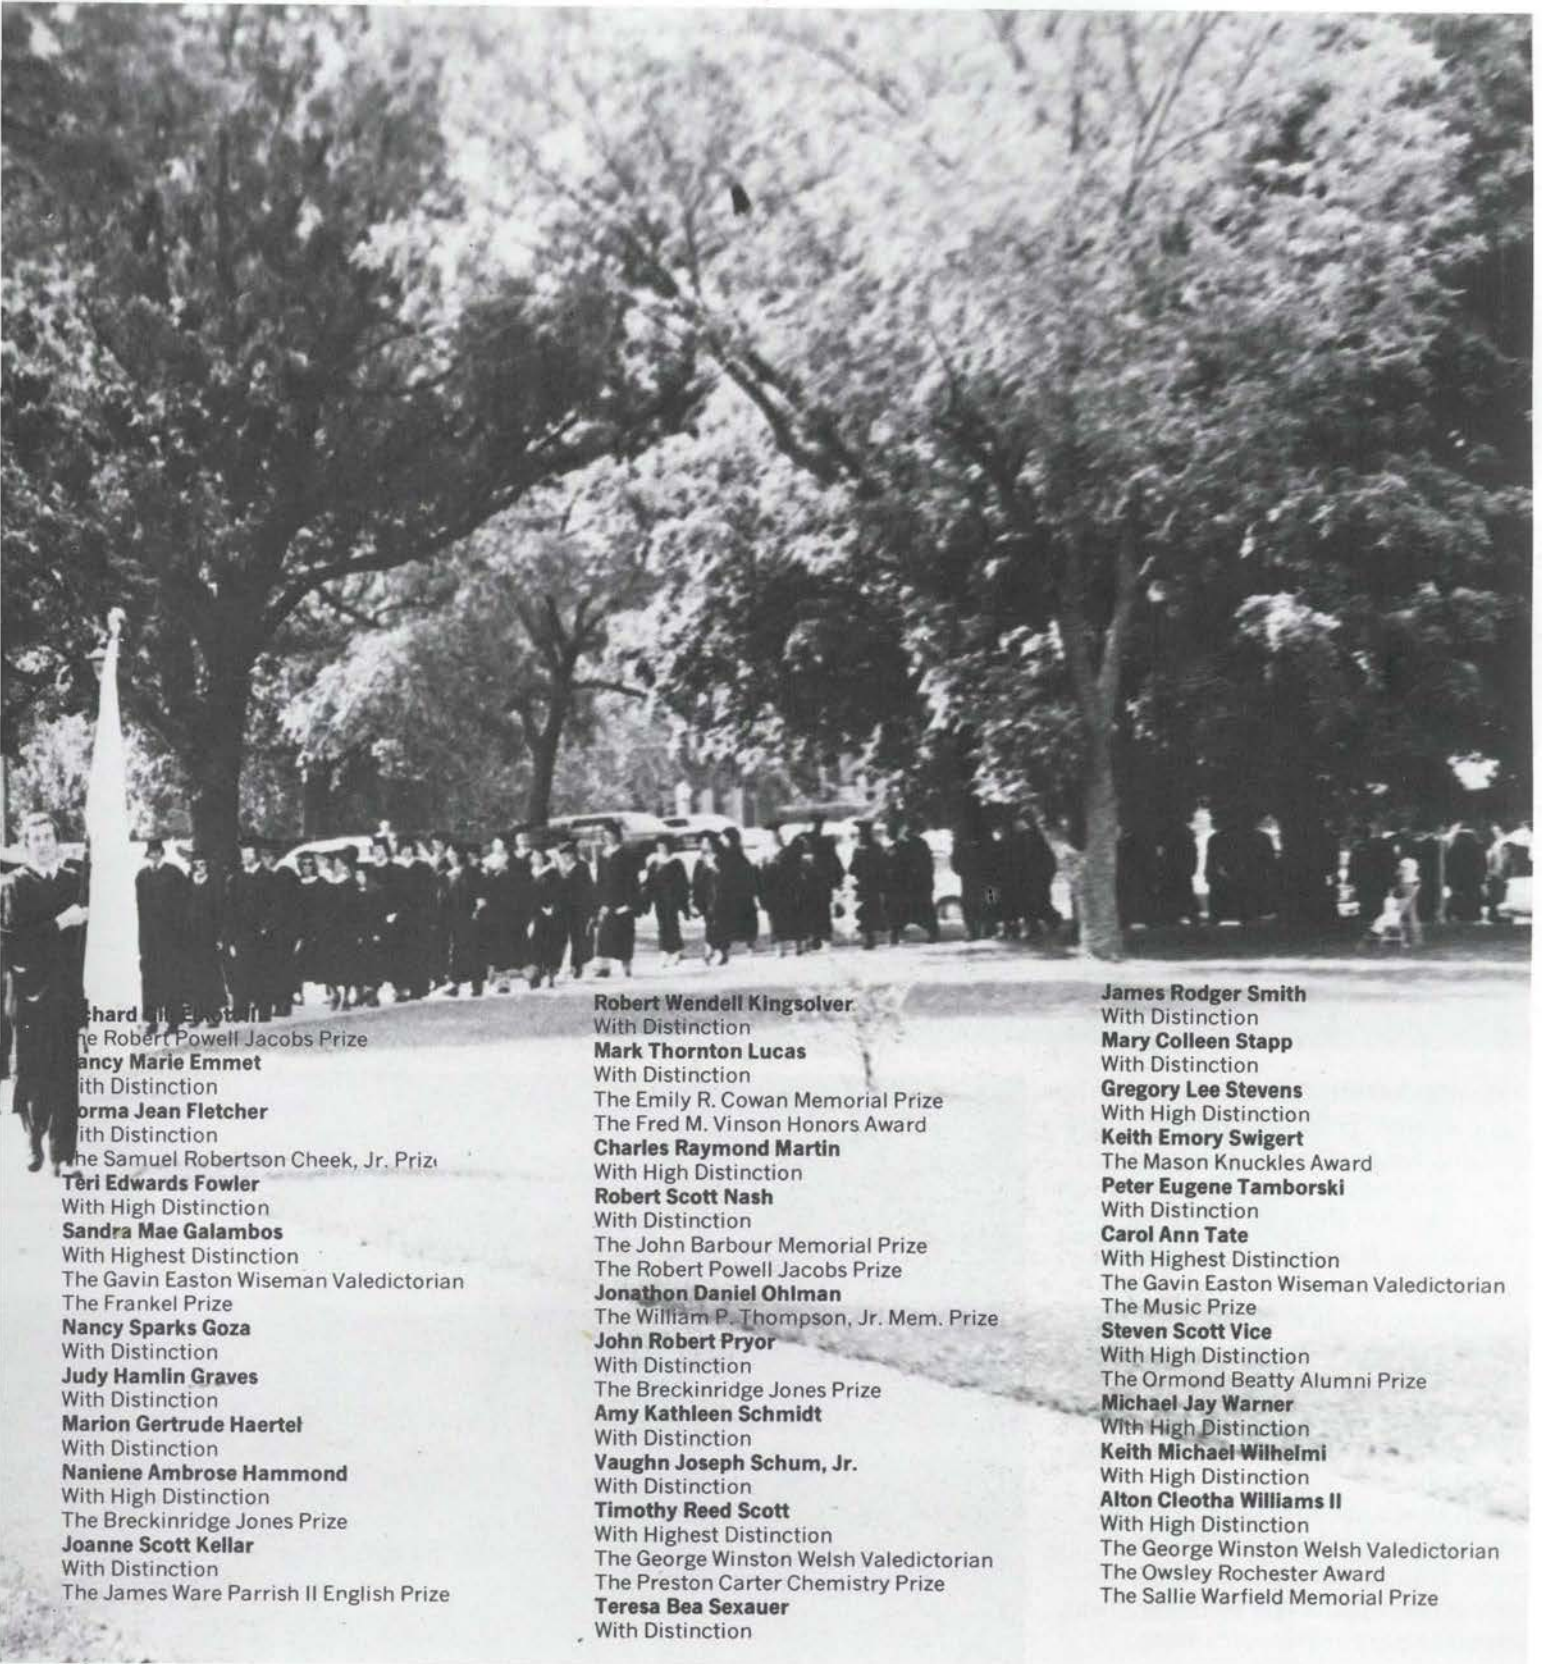

1/ A two-way tie in both the men's and women's competition produced four valedictorians, Sandra Galambos, Carol Ann Tate, Alton Williams, and Timothy Scott. 2/ The seniors begin the traditional march across campus, led by the Junior Marshals.

PLAYS RANGING from comedies to musicals were presented by the Centre Players and Studio Players this year.

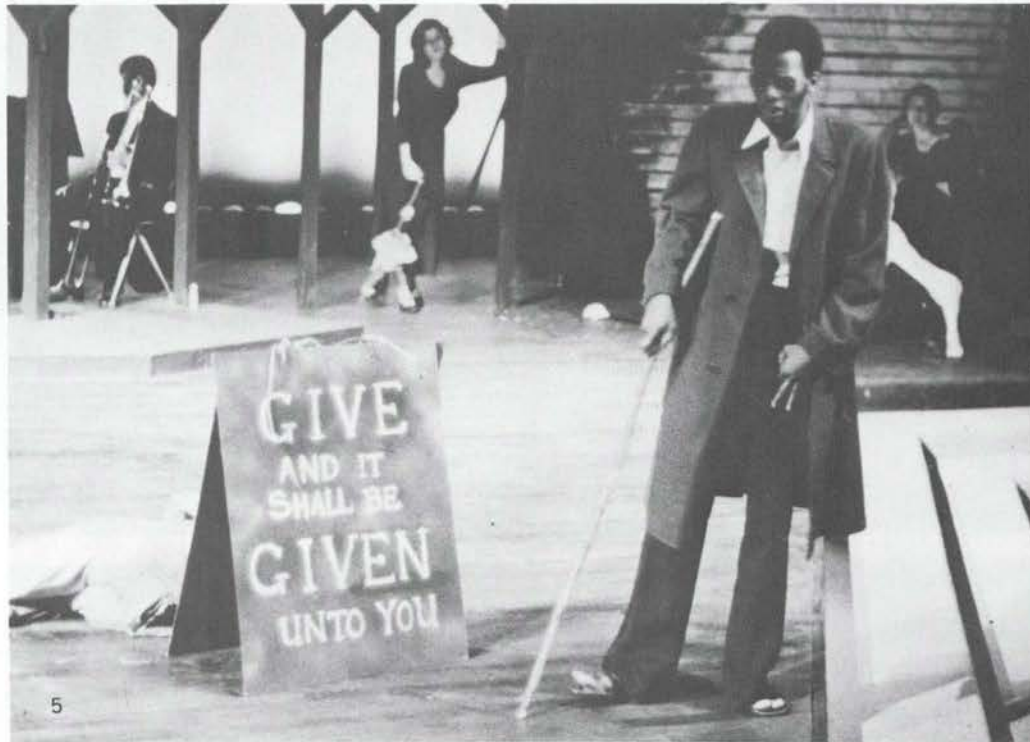

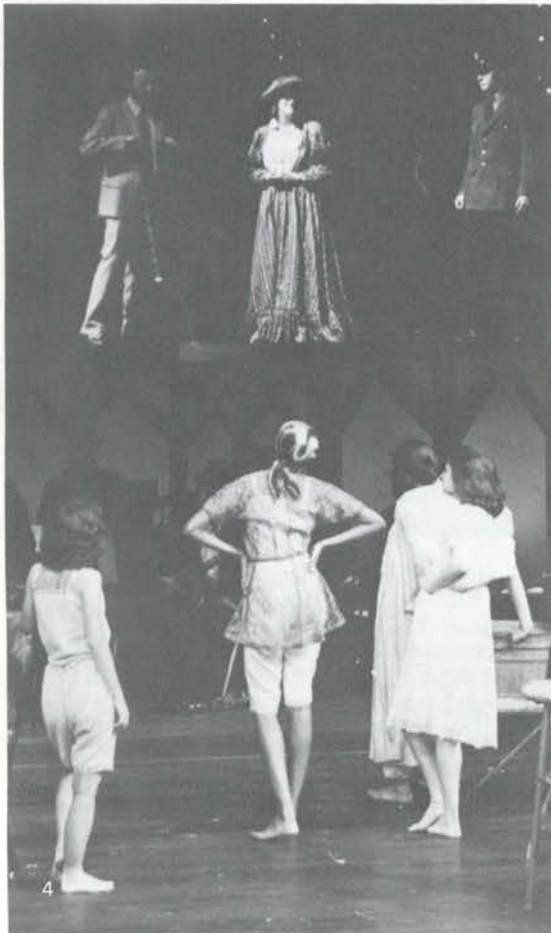

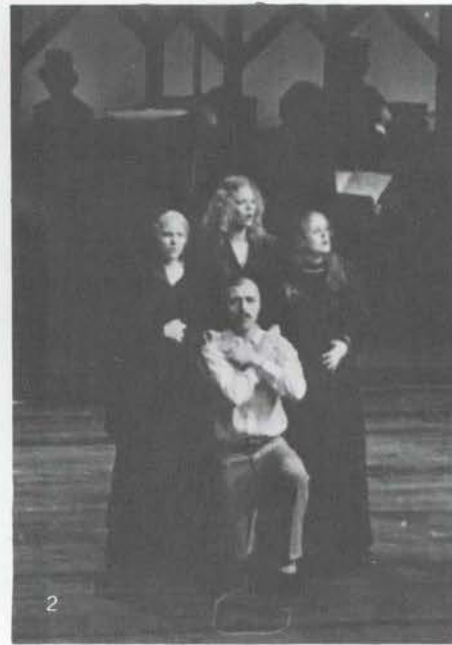

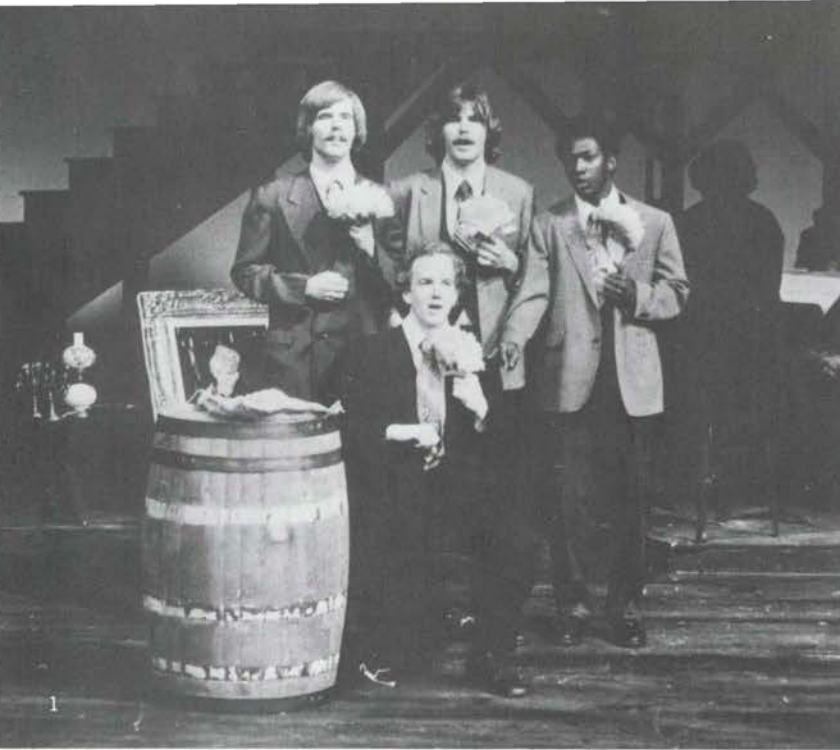

"Marat-Sade," directed by Chris Wilson, presented a challenge for its many actors as it was a psychological drama. Dr. Hill directed "A Slight Ache," which featured the first realistic set design done in the new Experimental Theatre. The Players concluded their season with the production of "Three Penny Opera," designed and directed by Chris Wilson.

Don Newquist directed the Studio Players in a presentation of "The Real Inspector Hound," and a second Studio Players' production, "The Stronger," was presented as part of Women's Week.

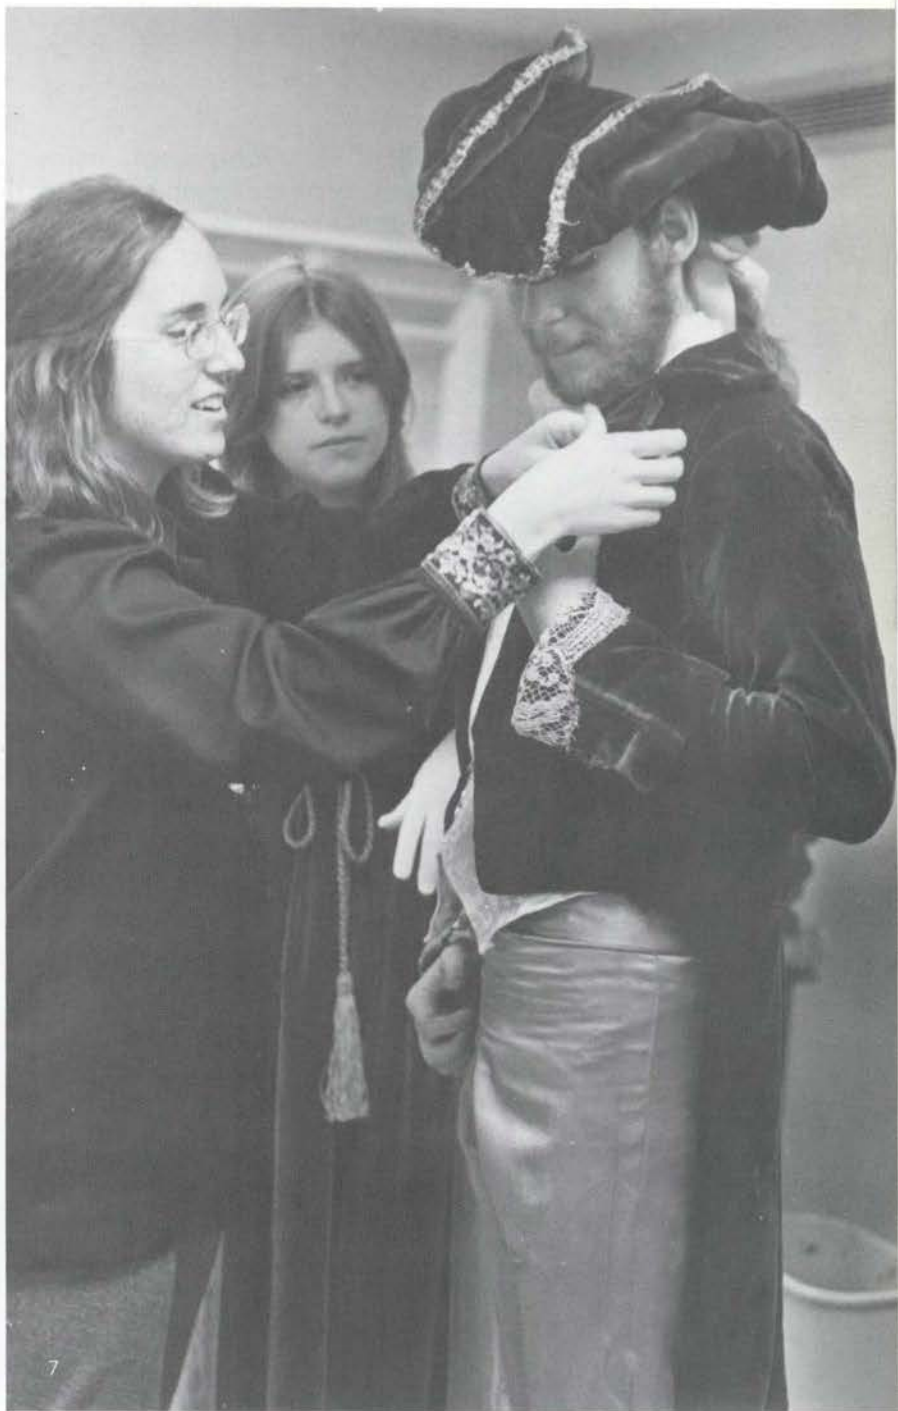

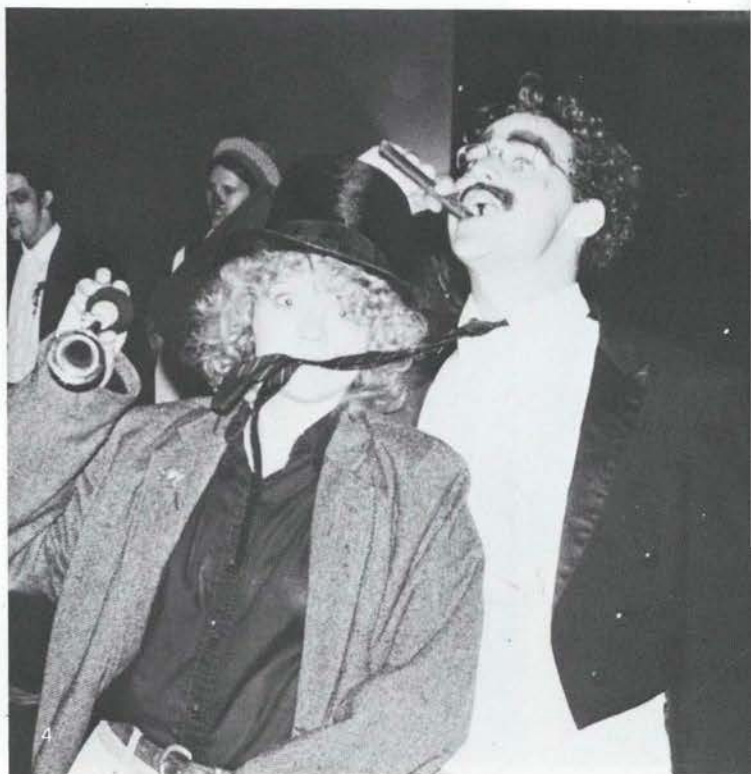

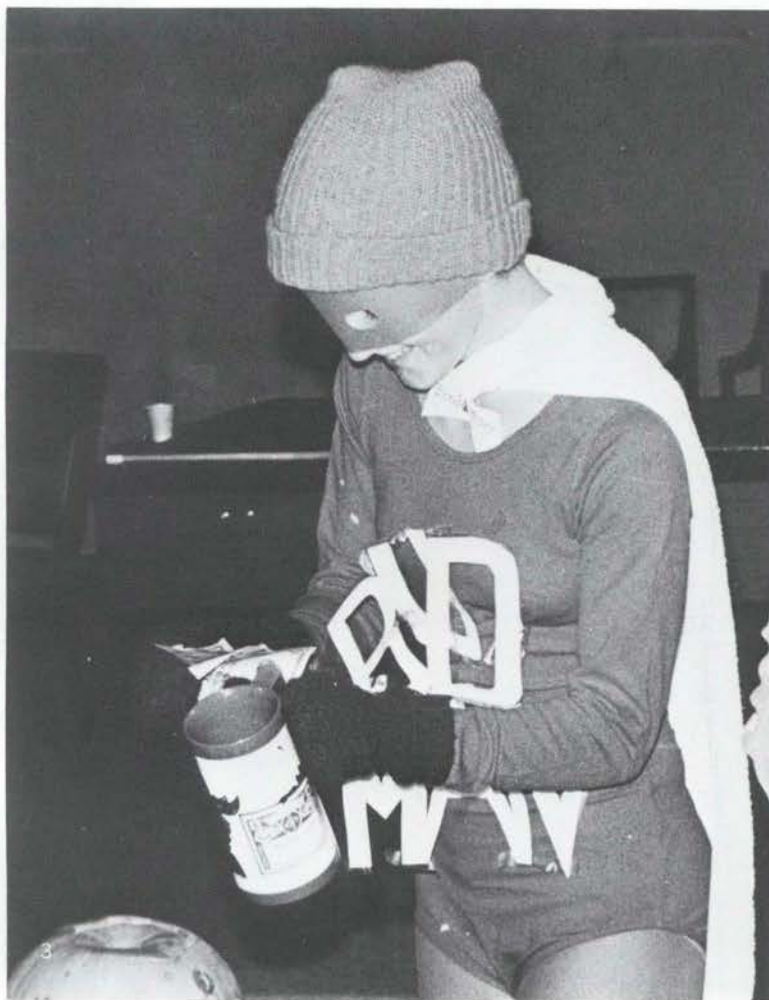

1/Bob Bone admires Ginny Hayes who portrays Charlotte Corday in "Marat-Sade." 2/Members of the chorus perform the copulation mime. 3/Jim Horan, as Marquis de Sade, accosts Marat, played by Mark Funk. 4/The patients of the institution praise Marat as the leader of the revolution. 5/Scot Poland as the match seller in "A Slight Ache." 6, 7, 8/Scenes from "A Slight Ache," starring Scot Poland, Jim Horan and Beth Eden.

1/ The gang, Don Newquist, Derek Wade, John Horhn and Richard Elliott, sing the wedding song in "Three Penny Opera." 2/ MacHeath, played by Tom Gaines, is rerieved. 3/ J.P. Brantley conducts. 4/ MacHeath is stopped at the door of the brothel by Mrs. Peachum and the police. 5/ Titus Bryant sings the theme song, "Mack the Knife." 6/ A scene from "The Real Inspector Hound." 7/ Arlene Jutras adjusts Scot Poland's costume. 8/ Mr. and Mrs. Peachum, portrayed by Lloyd Spears and Annie Moffitt, argue. 9/ The card game in "Inspector Hound." 10/ Mark Funk has his make-up applied before "Marat-Sade."

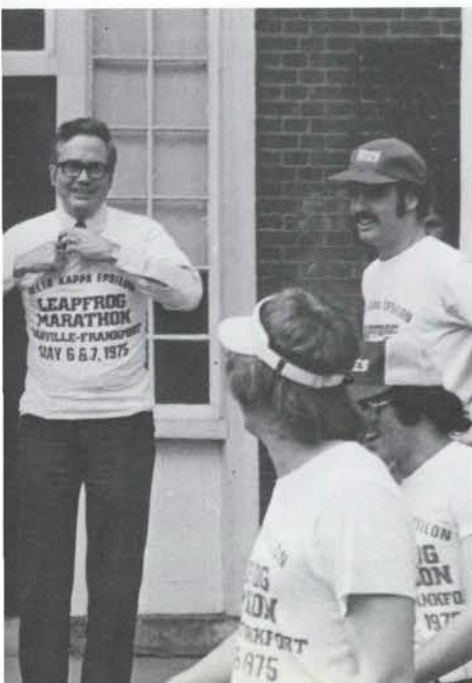

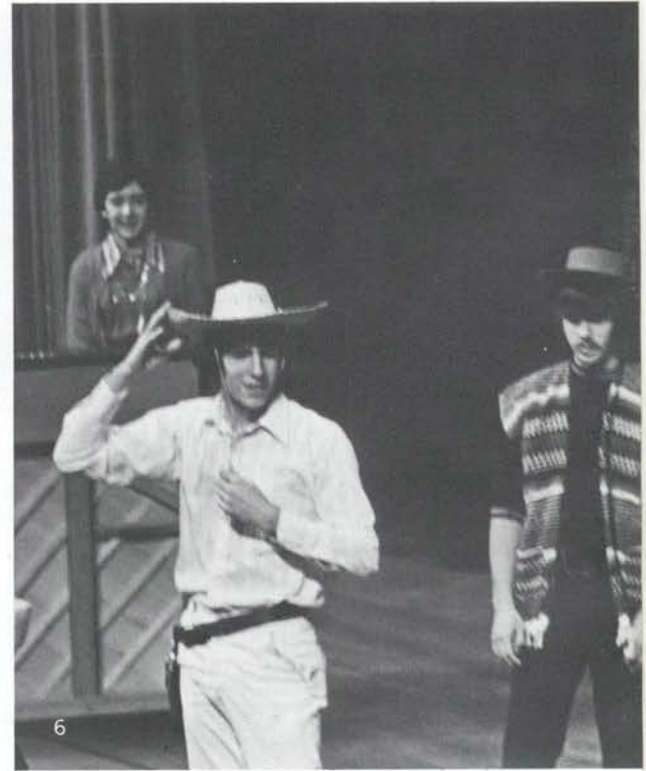

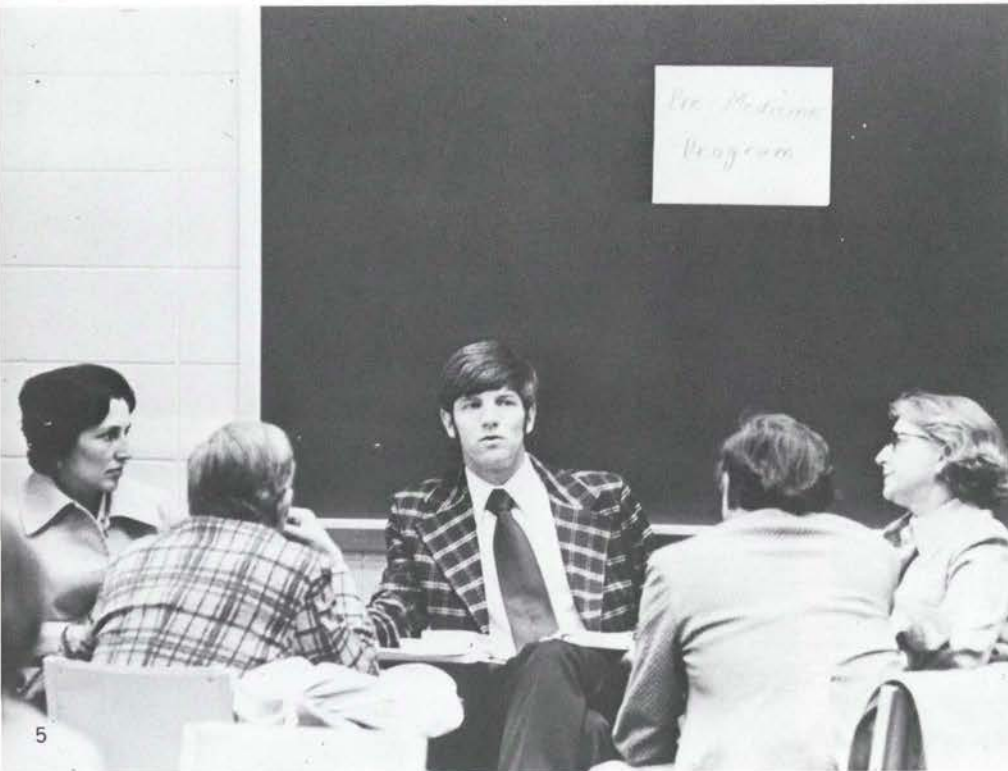

BESIDES THE big events, many smaller highlights are important memories. Seasonal parties, political speeches, study-breakers, and community service projects are as essential to campus social life as is a performance by Victor Borge or a Homecoming celebration.

1/ Jeanette Mason and Kim Dolan seem surprised by the musical accompaniment for the buffet in Cowan. 2/ Dick Kaufman, manager of Cowan, provided a treat for one of the other senses (besides taste) in the form of a band to play during Saturday night dinner. 3/ Liz Stablein as "Bud Man" collects her prize money at the Halloween party. 4/ Rose and Rosco portray two of the Marx Brothers at the party in Sutcliffe. 5/ Dr. Ray Hammond discusses the Pre-Med program on Parent's Day. 6/ Foreign language students sponsored Language Day for area high school students. 7/ U.S. Senator Marlow Cook visits the campus seeking support from Centre's Young Republicans in his campaign for re-election. 8/ Delta Kappa Epsilon president Steve Gowers and past president Reggie Mudd present t-shirts to Dr. Hazelrigg and Dean Reckard to kick-off their leapfrog marathon, a fund raising project for the Crusade for Children. 9/ Donna Thomas and Walter Martin entertain at Neatsville in the Hangout.

Colonels snap 13-game

ALTHOUGH THEIR 3-6 record may not indicate it, the Centre College football team had a highly successful 1974 regular season campaign.

The Colonels finished third in the College Athletic Conference, with a 2-2 mark. They broke a 13-game losing streak with a 25-21 victory over Washington and Lee University.

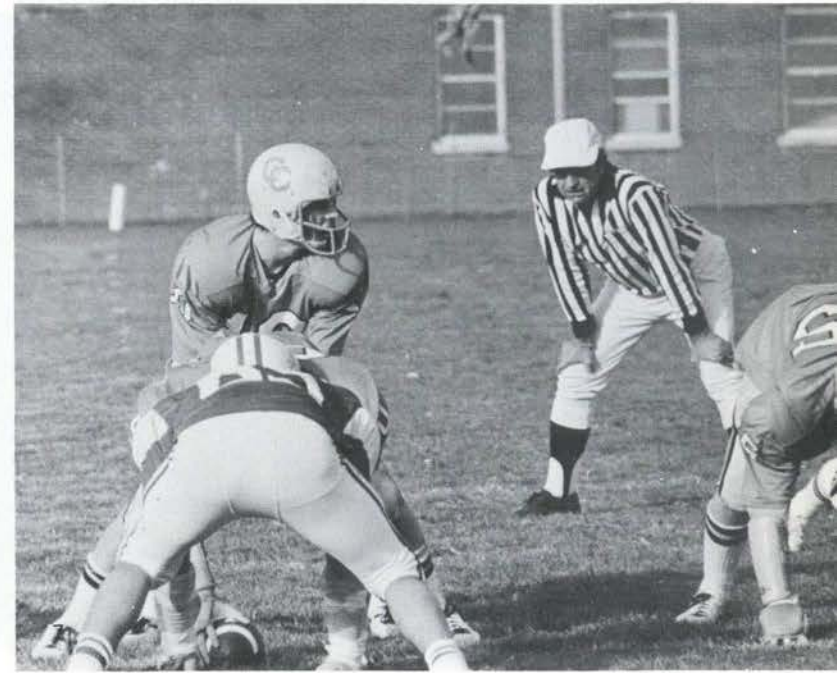

A large Homecoming crowd was thrilled by the Colonels' inspired play against a highly regarded Southwestern team. Centre jumped to an early 14-0 lead, before bowing by a 34-14 count.

losing streak

1/The 1974 Centre College football team, 2/Defensive captain Mike Leising puts the brakes on a Southwestern runner, 3/Quarterback Roy Beard releases a pass behind blocking of Chris Young and Bob Beck, 4/Midleguard Bob Brandner prepares to pop the Wabash center, 5/Roy Beard eludes the grasp of a Wabash defender, 6/Jack Marston displays the thrill of a touchdown, 7/Roy Beard barks signals for the Colonels' offensive team.

Centre finishes third in

DESPITE A lack of physical size, Coach McGuire's defensive team played well throughout the season. Led by mid-guard Bob Brandner and roverback Bob Whitmer, the Colonels used a strong goalline defense to deny the opponents any paydirt.

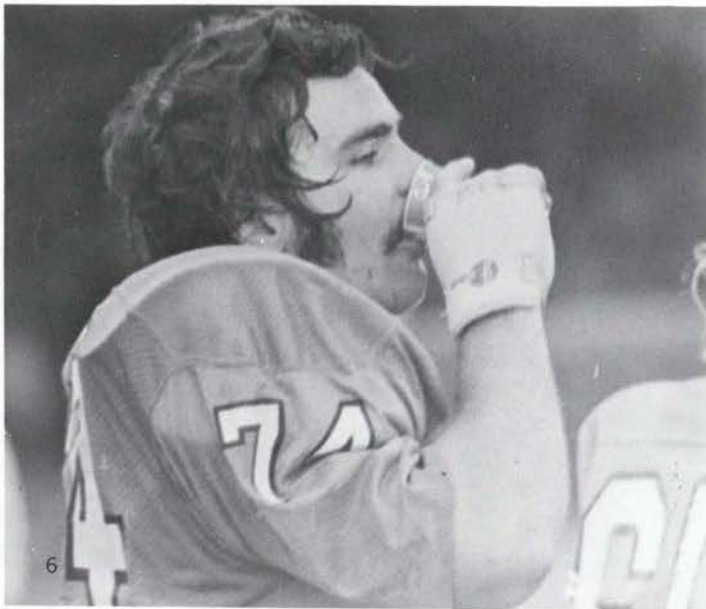

A trio of seniors, Bob Beck, Greg Stevens, and Greg Young, combined to provide a capable offense. Stevens closed out his four-year playing career by being named an all CAC offensive tackle.

the CAC

1/The Colonel gives some helpful hints to powerback Larry Wenstrup. 2/Running back Greg Young breaks to the outside to gain much-needed daylight. 3/Roy Beard sets up to pass behind the protection of Mark Davis. 4/Roy Beard executes a handoff to Rick Straub. 5/Senior rover-back Bob Whitmer receives instructions from Coach Briscoe Inman. 6/Chris Young sips Gatorade during a break in the game's action. 7/Mike Leising makes a lunging tackle on a W and L runner. 8/Bob Beck heads upfield after breaking a tackle.

Colonel runners win Invitational

WITH PRESTON Young and Mike Warner leading the way, the Centre College cross-country team went undefeated in their dual meets for the 1974 season.

Colonel runners also captured the championship crown in the seventh annual running of the Centre College Invitational Cross Country Meet. Coach Heitzenrater's squad rounded out their season with a third place finish in the CAC.

8-15 record

A YOUNG inexperienced Centre basketball team struggled through an 8-15 season. With only three seniors on the squad, the Colonels met defeat at the hands of many scholarship schools.

Their 4-5 CAC record was good for a fourth place finish. Except for a few points in some crucial games, they could have finished as high as second.

Three seniors have

THE SEASON'S end saw the careers of three seniors come to a close. They all finished high in the Colonel's all-time career record book. Steve Richardson finished fifth on Centre's all-time scoring list and first in career assists. Al Williams placed fifth and eighth in rebounding and scoring, respectively. Guard Joe Burks captured the number one slot in career field goal percentage.

impressive stats

1/Al Williams battles a Transy player for a rebound as Jack Prewitt looks on. 2/Steve Richardson lays in two points despite heavy pressure from a Depauw player. 3/A Georgetown player takes a spill after colliding with Rick Bingham. 4/Paul Butler takes a shot against Athletes in Action as Sam Boswell moves into position for the rebound. 5/Lonnie Harriford, Al Williams, and Hoppy Wilson converge on a rebound. 6/A Berea player takes a seat on John Darnell during a scramble for a loose ball. 7/Lonnie Harriford fights for position against Marion College in the Christmas Invitational Tourney.

Ten records fall in CAC meet

COACH SIG Lawson's swimmin' Colonels completed the regular season with an impressive 5-3 record.

The team traveled to Principia College for the CAC Swimming and Diving Championships. Their 149 points placed them second behind host Principia who accumulated a total of 187 points.

Colonel swimmers were responsible for setting ten new school records, four of which were also conference records.

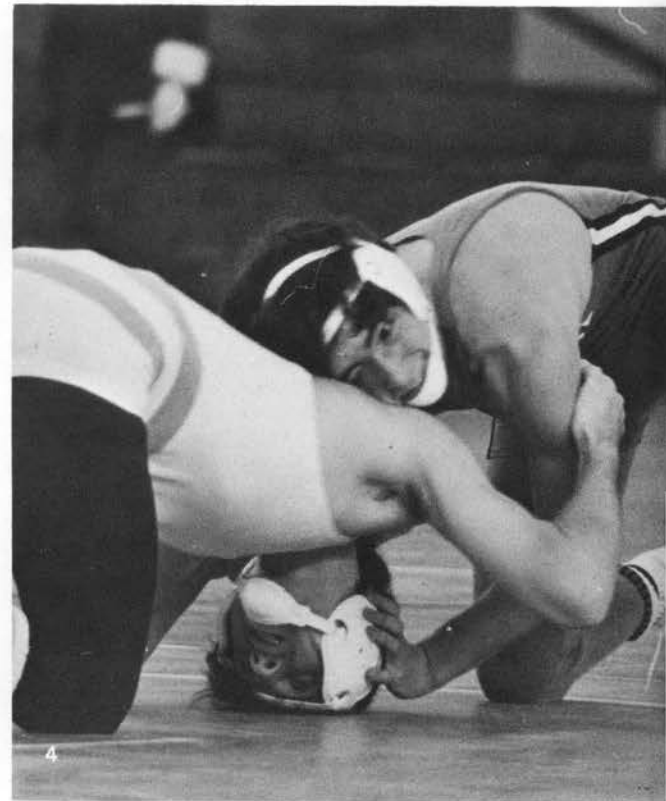

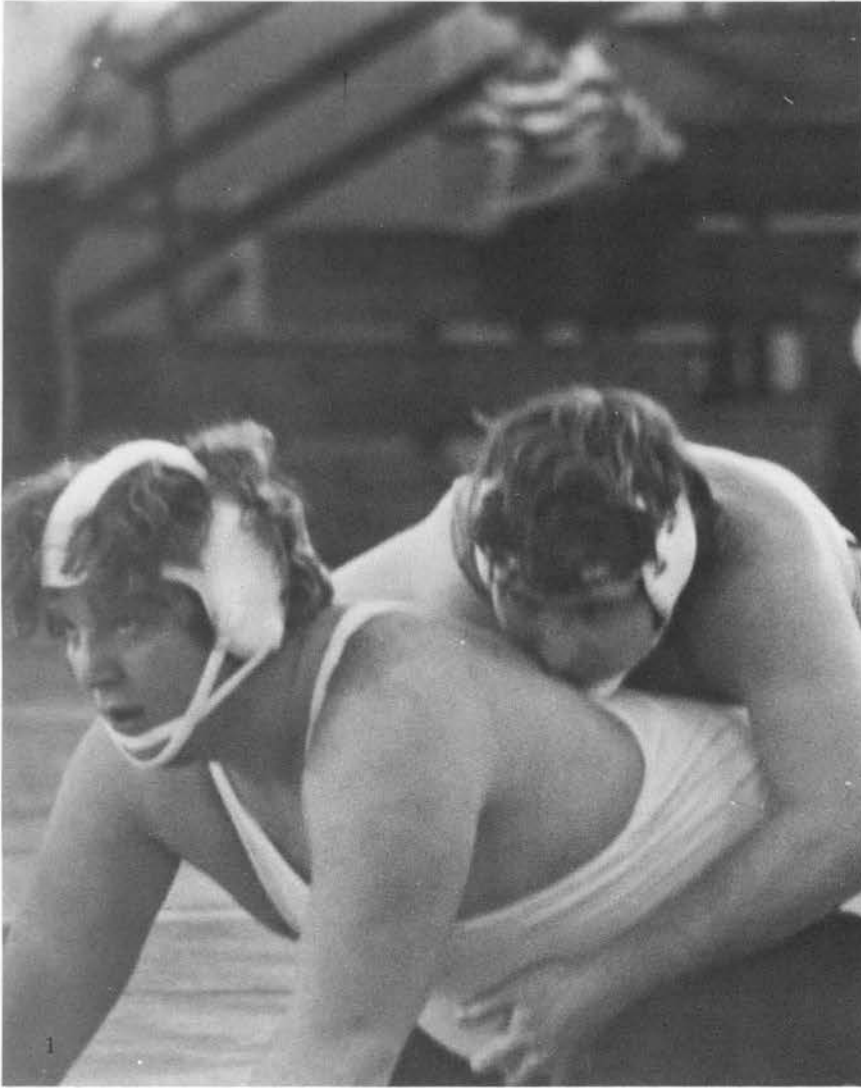

Sophomore Roy Beard qualified for the NCAA Division 3 Championships in two events, the 100 and 200 yard breaststroke.

1/A Colonel diver gracefully enters the water. 2/Barbie Adams indicates her score for a dive. 3/Doug Burgess churns the water while swimming the butterfly. 4/Gary Colton displays his style in the butterfly. 5/Chip Shand grabs a needed breath of air. 6/Coach Lawson looks over his swim squad. 7/Gary Colton flies along the water's surface. 8/The 1974-75 varsity swim team. 9/Doug Burgess checks on his time after finishing his race.

CAC match to Sewanee

COACH BRISCOE Inman's wrestling squad faced one of the toughest schedules in recent years. The Colonels competed against many larger schools while compiling a record of 3-11-1.

Centre was defeated in the CAC match by the Sewanee Tigers. Bob Luppino and Ken Stewart were crowned individual conference champs.

Colonels win five

1/ Rick Caton receives congratulations following his home run. 2/ Catcher Rick Caton crouches to receive a pitch. 3/ Ross Hall gleefully crosses the plate. 4/ Joel Coryell eyes the plate before releasing a pitch. 5/ The varsity baseball team, pictured before the sports banquet. 6/ Nelson Rhodus avoids a tag while crossing the plate. 7/ Steve Sloneker safely slides into second base.

of last eight games

AFTER LOSING their first fifteen ball-games, the Colonels got on the track and won five of their last eight games to finish with a 5-18 regular season record.

Coach Herb McGuire's squad closed the season by winning two of four CAC tournament games to finish third in the conference. Charlie Spradlin and Dan Hinze were selected to the all-conference team.

Colonels take

COACH HARMON'S track team finished third in the CAC tournament behind champion Rose-Hulman and runner-up Principia.

During the season, three Colonels broke individual school records. Wynn Radford set a new pole vault standard, while Steve Knox and Lonnie Harriford broke the 440-yard run and triple-jump records, respectively. Harriford's record qualified him for the NCAA championships.

third in CAC tournament

1/ The varsity track team. 2/ Preston Young's face shows the strain of a three-mile run. 3/ Rick Roberts splashes his way through a turn. 4/ Rick Straub strives for a few extra inches in the long jump. 5/ Rick Roberts clears a hurdle during the 440-yard intermediate hurdles. 6/ Noble Noel leads a Hanover runner toward the finish line. 7/ Steve Knox explodes out of the starting blocks. 8/ Polevaulter Wynn Radford easily clears the bar. 9/ Daryll Martin starts his leg of the 440-yard relay. 10/ Victor Brown eyes the flight of the discus.

22 wins by golf

team most in history

BRISCOE INMAN'S golf team accumulated an amazing 22 wins, the most in Centre's history. The Colonels finished second in the Asbury Tournament and third in both the Centre and Transylvania Invitational Tournaments.

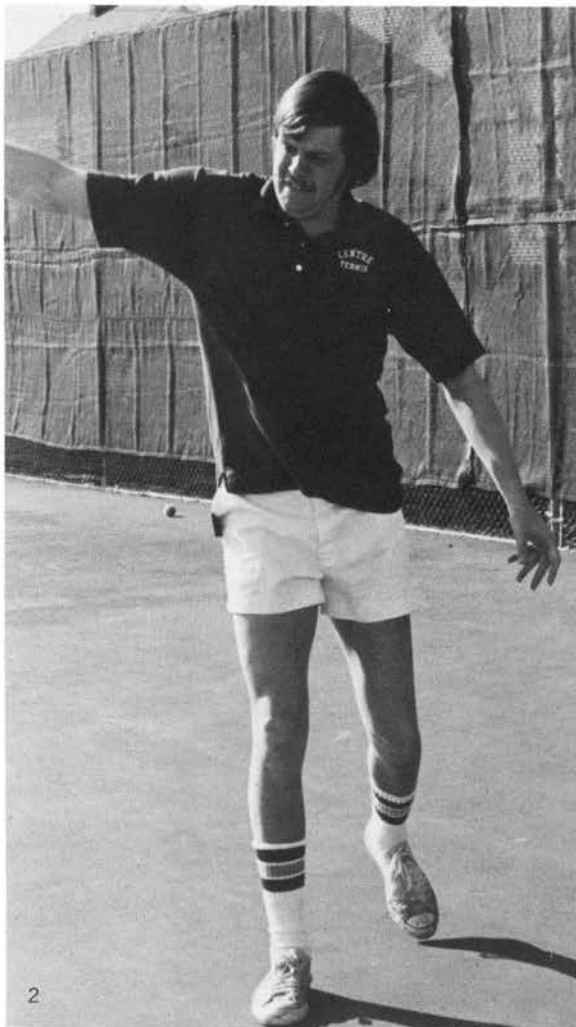

They closed out the season with a second-place finish in the CAC tourney, only three strokes behind champion Rose Hulman. Dick Heaton was runner-up in the individual competition and Jack Prewitt finished close behind.

BEHIND THE leadership of seniors Steve Richardson and Mark Lucas, the men's team compiled a season record of 8-11. The Colonels finished fourth in the CAC, and Mike Tusing and Steve Richardson were conference runners-up.

The women's team competed only during the fall season, and with only two senior members showed a lack of experience. The younger members gained confidence as the season progressed, and the nine-member squad ended with a respectable record.

fourth in CAC

1/ The 1974-75 men's tennis team. 2/ Steve Richardson follows through on his backswing. 3/ Bob Hamilton completes his serve during a match against Northern Kentucky State. 4/ Rodney Petterson returns a shot against Northern Kentucky State. 5/ Bea Amato keeps her eye on the ball while serving. 6/ Mark Lucas shows his form during practice. 7/ The 1974 women's varsity tennis team.

Lowe makes All-State

THE SOCCER Club team competed in the Kentucky State Soccer Tourney and came away with a fourth-place finish. The Colonels' Mike Lowe grabbed a top individual honor by being named to the All-State Tournament team.

The team possessed a tight defense and its offense was improving when the season ended.

1/The 1974-75 Centre College Soccer team. 2/Bill Jenkins' kick clears his opponent's defensive block. 3/Goalie Willie Johnson makes a desperate lunge to prevent a score. 4/Greg Fleck uses his head to make a pass to Les Trapp. 5/ Kevin Phillips leaps to meet the ball in a match against Berea College. 6/John Krupnick attempts a corner kick on the goal. 7/Greg Fleck helps the Colonels' goalie turn back a Berea attack.

Hockey finishes 2-5

COACH SALLY Bunnell's young team compiled a 2-5 record while representing Centre on the hockey field. The Colonels were led in scoring by freshmen Michelle Lansing and Martha Vail.

Women take third in state

THE WOMEN'S basketball team coached by Sally Bunnell and junior Ron Sensibaugh, finished with a 5-6 regular season slate, while competing against many university division teams. They took third place in the college division of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament.

The team, which has been growing in popularity over the last few years, took a big step by playing some of its games in Alumni Memorial fieldhouse.

1/Coach Bunnell ponders the next step as the players cheer on their teammates. 2/Kathy Roberts fights for a basket. 3/Valarie Ziegler pumps in two points. 4/Holly Taylor lays in an easy two. 5/Kathy Roberts strains to get a tip. 6/Sensy gives his players instructions during a timeout. 7/The 1974-75 women's varsity basketball team.

enjoys successful track season

COACH RICHARD Heitzenrater's squad finished the regular season with a 1-3 record, beating Asbury College and losing to University of Kentucky, Berea College and Asbury College. Some team members also competed in such large meets as the Becky Boone Relays and the State Championship.

The women completed their season by winning both the mile and 440 yard relays in the Centre Relays.

Powderpuff football new to intramurals

1/ Quarterback Nancy Ballman calls signals for the junior-senior team against the sophomores. 2/ Nancy Harnden serves during a volleyball game. 3/ Becky Wallace rounds the end against the seniors. 4/ Kathy Cornell studies the batter during a softball game. 5/ Mary Jane Salot returns the volleyball. 6/ Barbie Reed eyes the pitcher before swinging. 7/ Connie Revlett hopes to get the rebound. 8/ Melissa Dawson takes a vicious swing at the softball. 9/ Pam Miller goes high for a tip.

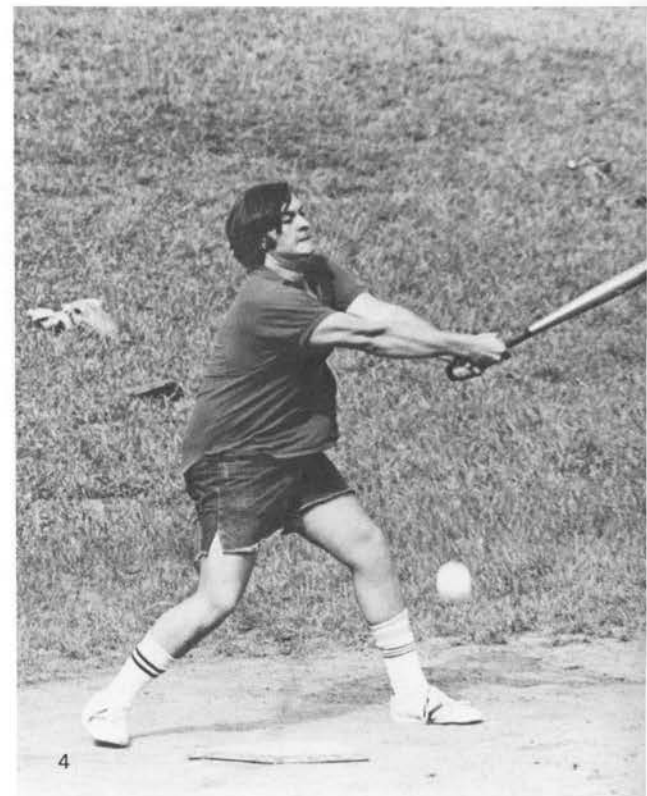

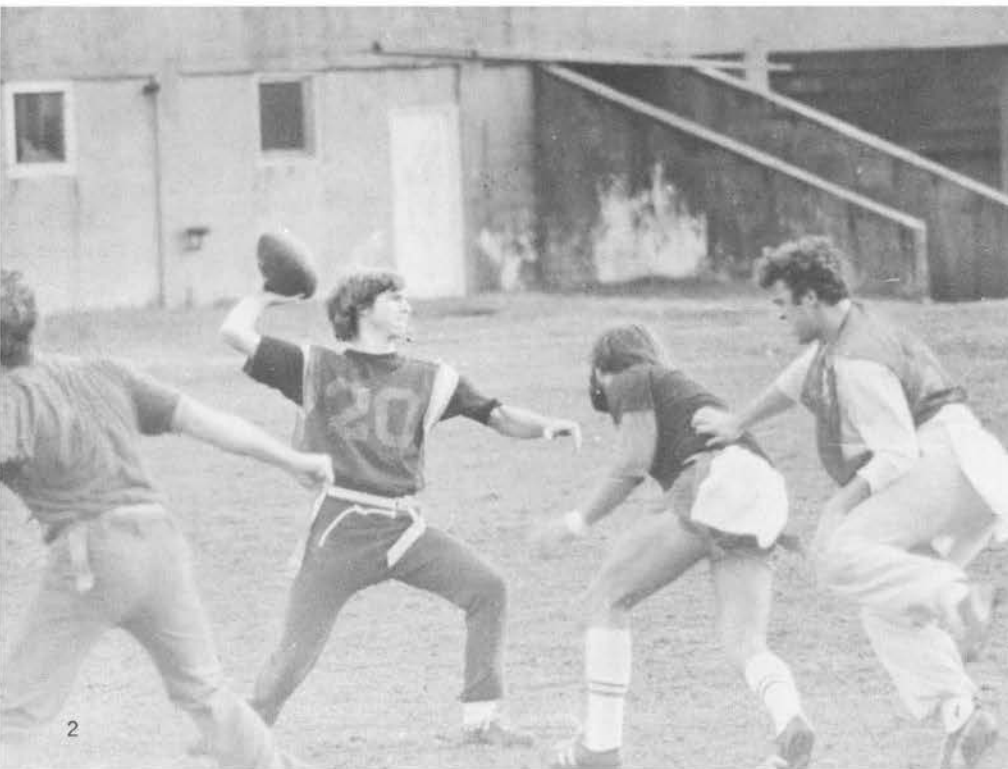

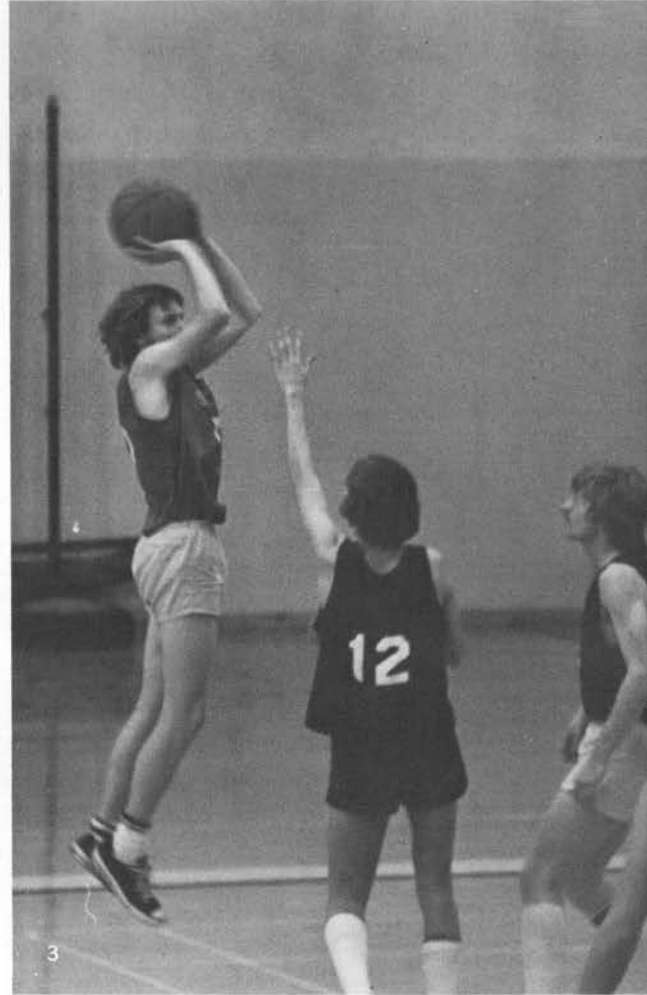

POWDERPUFF FOOTBALL was introduced to women's intramurals with great success. Large crowds gathered to watch the three games. The women continued play in volleyball, basketball, and softball, with participants enjoying the competition, regardless of winning or losing.

Sigs, Betas, and

1/ Don Herget and teammates take a break during halftime of their ballgame. 2/ Deke quarterback John Smith tries to release a pass while receiving heavy pressure from the Beta's Dave Oellerich. 3/ A freshman goes high for a jump shot during an intramural basketball game. 4/ Pete Wunsch takes a mighty swing at an elusive soft-ball. 5/ Sig Lawson attempts to spike the ball during the championship game between the faculty and the Sigma Chis. 6/ Rick Straub eyes the plate while delivering a pitch. 7/ Bob Brandner prepares to connect with a pitch. 8/ The faculty and the S.P.U.'s line up for an inbounds play.

Lonely Hearts champions

THE MEN'S intramurals drew many large crowds while playing four different sports. The Sigma Chi fraternity won the volleyball and softball crowns while the Betas were football champions and the Lonely Hearts Club took the basketball title.

The competition was close in all sports which gave the crowds much to cheer about.

ACADEMICS

A NEW look is evident both on the administrative level and in campus decor. Yet the remodeled interior of Old Centre hints little at the campus-wide "inflation fighting" campaign. Perhaps the economic situation is better reflected in the increasing number of students visiting the office of Placement Director Carol Lunney. On the brighter side, 1974-75 also marks the first year of operation of the student-faculty Council of Centre College.

1/Although President Spragens has been "in the dog house" on various occasions, his dog Bogie must take it literally. 2/Dean Reckard pauses outside his home to enjoy Christmas carols by the senior women. 3/The first forsythia blooms are enjoyed by Katherine Nichols. 4/Tal Warren and John "Convo" Magee "sits and thinks" on their many reflections of Centre life. 5/Recorder Bonnie Stewart retrieves her white cat from the fireplace. 6/Vice-President for Resources and Endowment Gordon Freese pauses during a stroll to let his spaniel Jeff catch his breath. 7/Rick Schwab is assisted in his search for a job by placement officer Carol Lunney. 8/The "dynamic duo" of Old Centre, Deans Barry Dixon and Harold Hanson, take a break from their office duties.

1/Audio-Visual Director George Benson broadcasts his lectures via closed circuit T.V. 2/Pursuing his interest in local history, Director of Libraries John May examines gravestones in Bellevue Cemetery. 3/Financial Aid Officer Violetta Shearer stands beside a product of her favorite pastime, painting. 4/Senior Bob Whitmer discusses his future with Alumni Director Frederick Nahm. 5/After printing The Centerpiece, Director of Information Services Peggy Frisbie relaxes on her finished work. 6/Hal Smith watches attentively as daughter Amy expresses enthusiasm for both of them. 7/Treasurer Ed Rall watches Bing Walter play through during a brief break from his duties as Controller. 8/Director of Development David McCarthy seals a deal concerning envelopes. 9/Laura Hacquard, Director of Sutcliffe, joins the campus-wide plant fad. 10/Admissions Counselors John Boardman and Joe Myers give prospective students a quick campus tour.

JOYCE, ELLIOTT, Faulkner and Renaissance and seven-teenth century literature number among the larger percentage of seminars being offered by the English Department this year. New to the English Department are Francis Doucette and 1974-75 Writer-in-Residence Ruth Stone. Next year's Writer-in-Residence will be poet William Meredith. Primarily kept busy with LP 11, 12, 21 and 22, the Philosophy Department is currently offering a new freshman philosophy course.

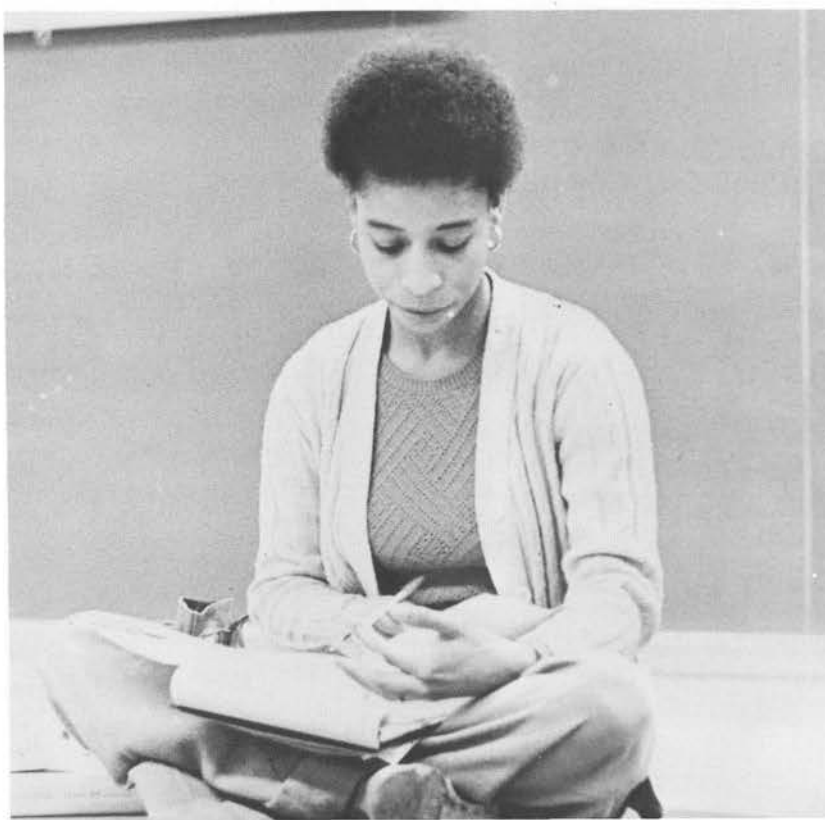

1/Charles Hazelrigg and Paul Cantrell strike out for the bowling alley in their spare time. 2/Helen Carey finds delight in her newest musical hobby. 3/Far from being tired of England, Mary Sweeney relaxes with her favorite British authors. 4/Hoping for a future trek, Francis Doucette checks over his mountain climbing equipment. 5/Roberta White makes use of her extensive personal library in preparing a class lecture. 6/Centre was fortunate in having Ruth Stone as winter term Writer-in-Residence. 7/Milton Reigelman follows the action on the football field while wife Sandy tends to more pressing matters. 8/With the aid of his newly acquired saw, Bruce White begins work on another piece of furniture.

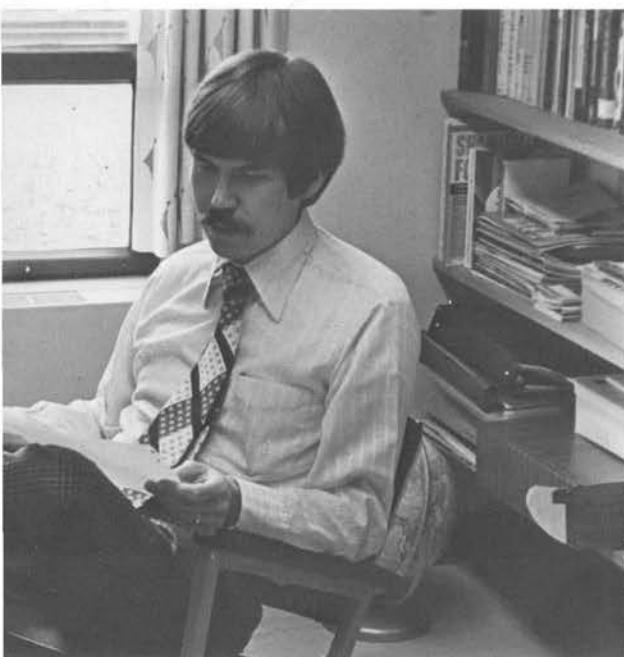

AFTER A successful winter abroad program in France, the Language Department has tentative plans next year for trips to Spain and Germany. For students who prefer to speak a foreign language without leaving Centre's campus, the new language Houses will be continued next year — hopefully with a residential arrangement for German students also. Having served as a Foreign Language and Culture Day host to central Kentucky high school students in April, the Language Department is currently planning a workshop and conference for fall 1975.

1/Newcomer to the Language Department Werner Klimke tunes in a European radio station. 2/Karin Ciholas meets for lunch with German students: "Stammtisch." 3/Castanets in hand, Vivana Brodey demonstrates the art of Spanish dancing. 4/Leonard DiLillo finds his way into Doherty via the Secretary's Office. 5/Shirley Walker perches atop her desk during a class. 6/Spanish professor Egils Macs goes over his students' papers. 7/Charles Vahkamp lends his talents to the powerful faculty volleyball team.

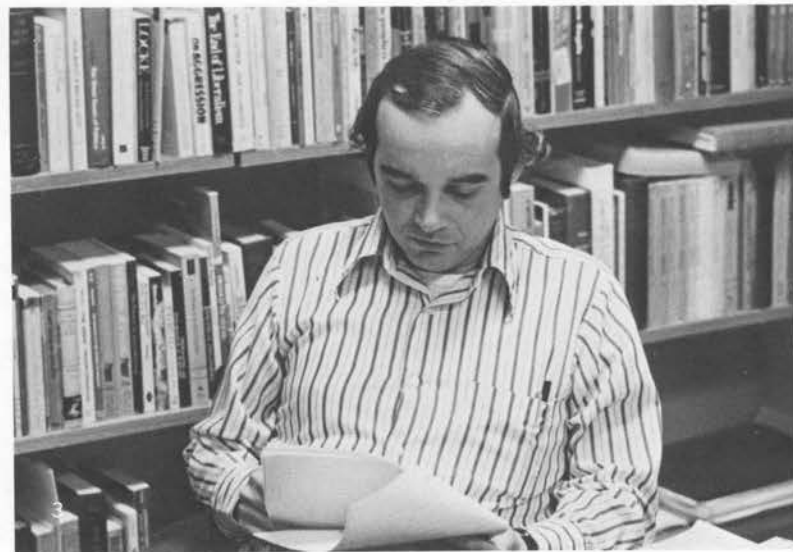

THE REVITALIZED Education Club is seeing the learning process in action with visits planned to the Kentucky School for the Deaf and the Brown School in Louisville. New applicants to the Education program will be required to take an added course in teaching "reading" in secondary seminars. In the realm of Economics, as well as in Education, a larger number of majors can perhaps be attributed to students' greater concern for definite career possibilities. Mathematical economics has been added to this year's curriculum, while a Business and Ethics course is in the planning stage. New Religion courses this year include the American Indian religion and religion in India.

1/Elementary education supervisor Emily Reeves looks over slides to be used in class. 2/Eric Mount examines a gargoyle brought back from his sabbatical leave in France. 3/Bradley Nystrom demonstrates the equipment essential for secondary school teachers. 4/Jogging down a country road, Richard Heitzenrater keeps in shape for upcoming track and cross-country meets. 5/Ronald Sanders makes his daily note on students' progress. 6/Economics instructor Frank Edelen launches into his weekly three-hour marathon class. 7/Students found it easier to catch Gordon Winsor last fall after an accident forced him to use crutches. 8/Milton Scarborough awaits spiritual purification before his "sweat lodge" in a recreation of a North American Indian custom. 9/Charles Campbell unlocks the answer to the amazement of senior Bob Beck. 10/James Edmonds rests his feet and his mind for a few minutes between classes.

POLITICS OF Sub-Saharan Africa, International Law and Political Behavior joined the roster of new courses offered by the Government Department this year, while the senior seminar centered on the study of the political novel. Tentative plans for next year include a winter seminar in Washington D.C. oriented toward study and research on the presidency, Congress and courts. Members of the History Department are also traveling. Drs. Lee and Cavnes journeyed to Boston to watch the reenactment of Paul Revere's ride and the beginning conflicts of the Revolutionary War. Back on campus, Drs. Newhall and Heitzenrater poured over senior seminar papers, while seniors witnessed a vast revision of the requirements they completed for their major.

1/Baseball coach Steven Hatting hits pre-game flies to the outfield. 2/Charles Lee strolls across the Old North Bridge before the Minuteman statue near Concord, Massachusetts. 3/Larry Matheny concentrates on grading the fruits of students' labors. 4/William Garriott receives help from his wife, librarian Mary Beth Garriott, in finding a book. 5/Michael Hamm tosses a frisbie at the annual Publications Board party. 6/After a busy day, Max P. Cavnes finally finds time to read the mail. 7/William Bowker spins to see where his next vacation will be spent. 8/In a rare March moment, David Newhall carries his umbrella unopened. 9/Book in hand, Walter Nimocks starts on his daily walk home.

IN ADDITION to musical performances in the Subscription and Sunday Series at the Regional Arts Center, the Centre community can enjoy the newly-formed Berea-Centre orchestra. The Centre choir, opened to both students and faculty, will be offered for course credit next year, along with Composition and Performance Practices in Medieval and Renaissance Music. Viewing music as both pleasurable and educational, the Music Department is trying to involve as many students as possible in choir and musical ensembles.

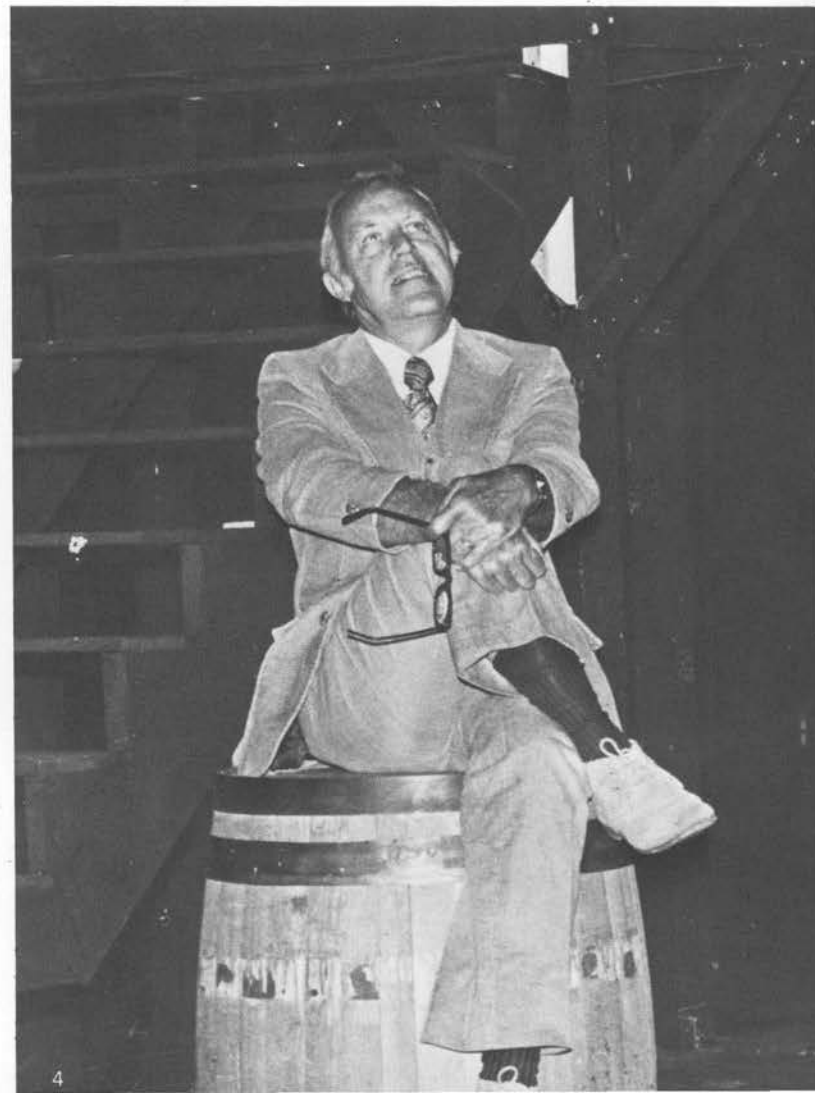

1/Floyd Herzog reminisces on the successful past performances given in the Regional Arts Center. 2/Combining relaxation and study, Robert Weaver scans a musical score. 3/Senior Colleen Stapp receives voice instruction from Suzanne Frank. 4/J.P. Brantley lets the Centre choir take a break while he examines a difficult spot in a new piece of music. 5/Accompanying herself on the guitar, Marilyn Somville teaches French House residents foreign songs.

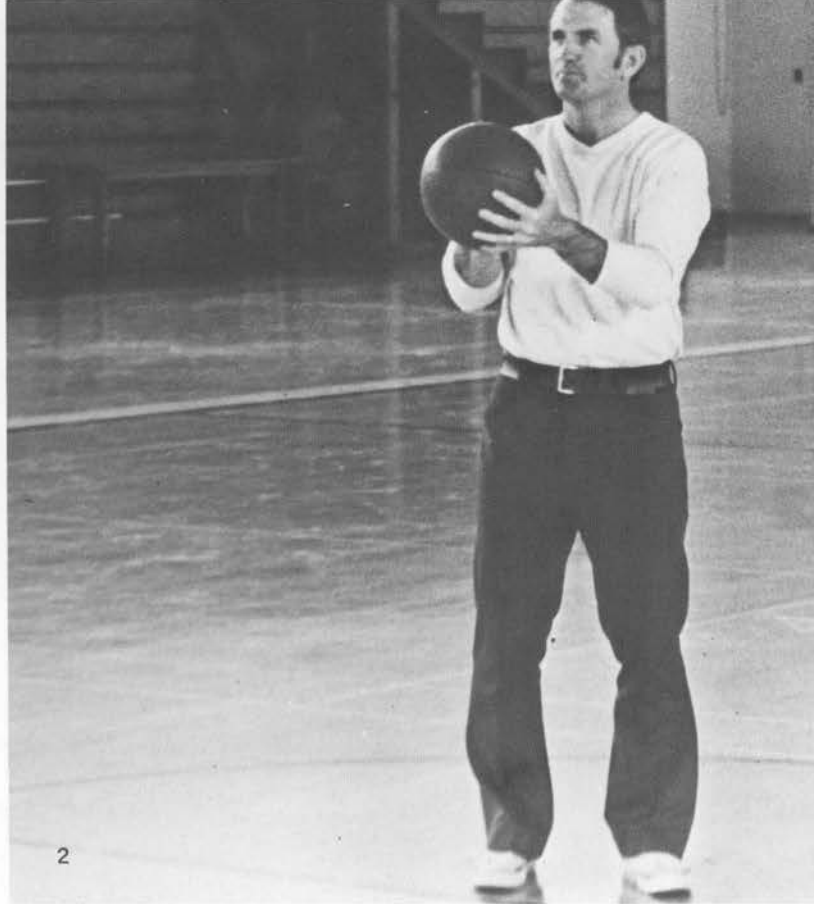

THE DRAMA Department, with the aid of new technical director Ed Swift, is experimenting in musical production with Bertolt Brecht's "Three Penny Opera." Off-campus, Dr. West Hill is planning a British Theatre seminar. In addition to creative participation in the theatre, Art students' photography and painting exhibits decorate fifth floor Grant.

1/Tom Gaines, wife Alice, and daughters Rachel and Erica pose for their newest family portrait. 2/Admiring the set for "Three Penny Opera" are Chris Wilson and wife Toni. 3/Jack Kellam casts an appraising eye toward his art students' endeavors. 4/West T. Hill takes a brief rest from directing the Centre Players. 5/William hurries to catch up with father William Forwood and brother Robert.

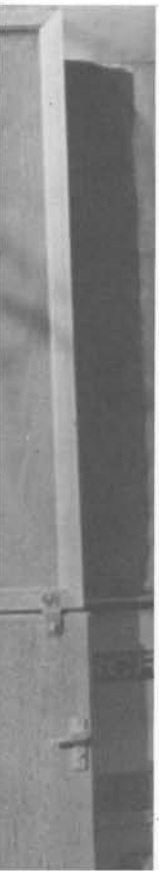

INTRAMURAL SPORTS, along with official college sports and required physical education courses continue to keep the Centre community physically fit. Soccer will replace wrestling next year as an official varsity sport, while the athletic budget is under study in an effort to make the fairest allocation of funds.

1/Sally Bunnell lends her knowledge and enthusiasm to her girls basketball team. 2/Eyeing the net carefully, Steele Harmon realizes his "free trip to Burgin" rests on the success of this free throw. 3/Tom Bryant talks with the coach and assistant coach of Thomas More College before a game with them. 4/Sig Lawson exhibits his expertise in yet another sport. 5/Coach Briscoe Inman calmly directs the Colonels as they hold a precarious one point lead in the fourth quarter. 6/Kitty Baird gets her camper in shape for an upcoming vacation. 7/Herb McGuire contemplates next year's football season.

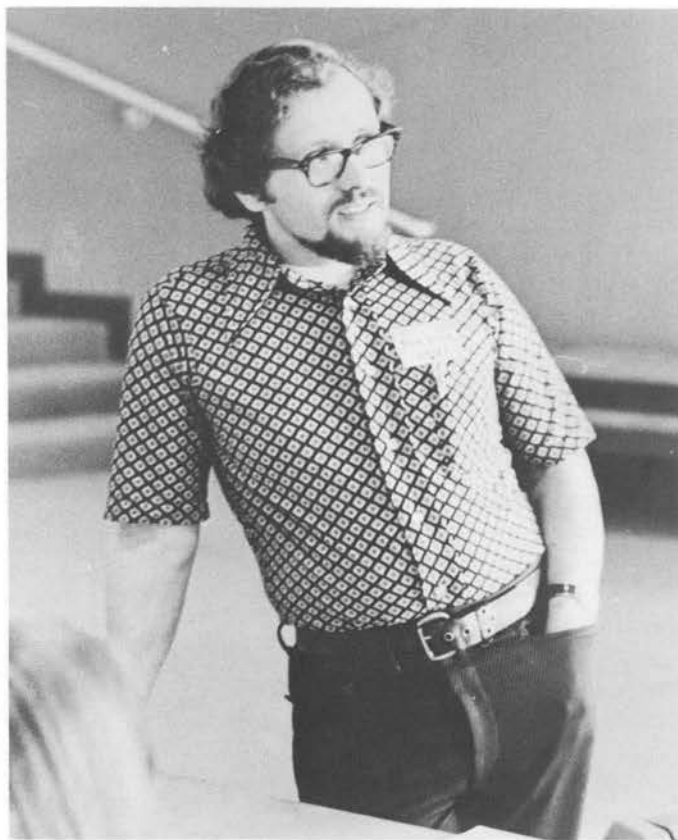

A BOOM in interest in ecology and the Life Sciences is indicated by a record thirty-two rising juniors declaring Biology majors this year. Next year, the introductory program is being changed to a more traditional approach, with one term of biology centered on the theme of evolution and one term of a general survey of psychology. In addition to increased laboratory work in the Greenhouse, several independent study projects are underway — from tadpole study with Dr. Ben Feese to brain lesions with Dr. Brent White.

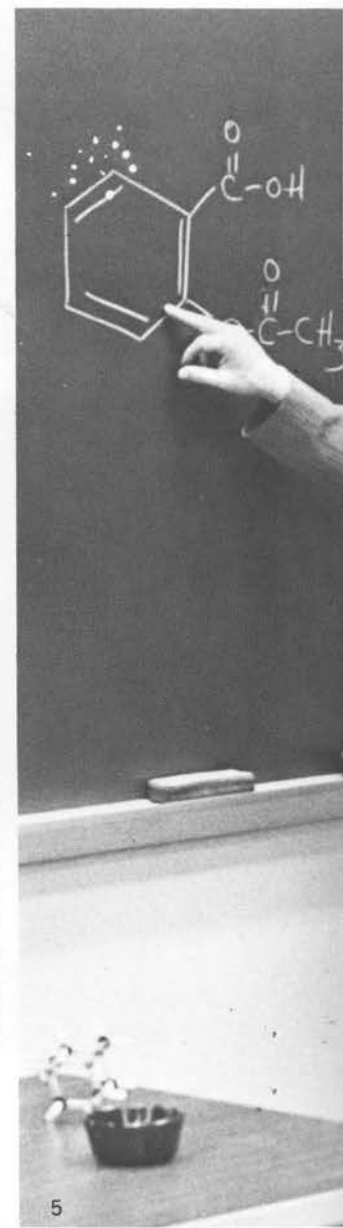

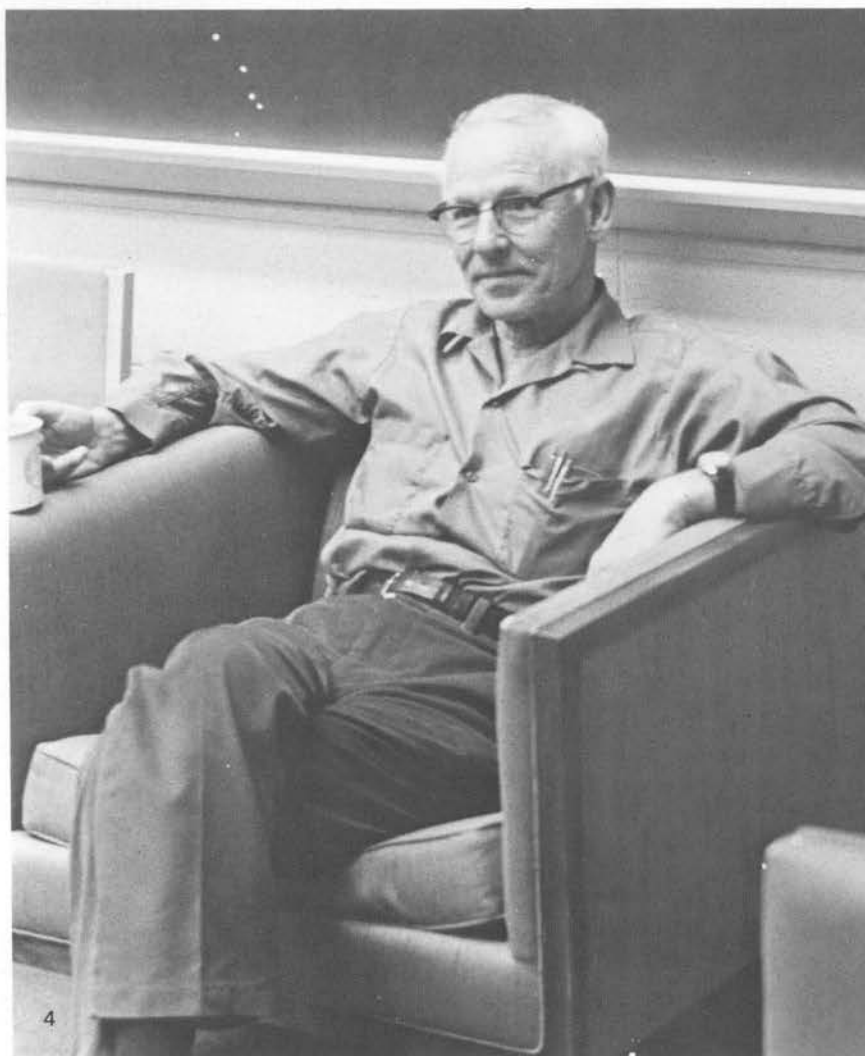

1/Leading Centre students in a pep rally, Ben Feese gets out of his constricting lab smock. 2/Donald Janzen calls a spade a spade in heading the summer archaeological dig. 3/Before returning to his paper work, Don Brown takes an Ollie-burger break. 4/Frederick Loetscher sheds some light on the subject during a class lecture. 5/ At the Kentucky Academy of Sciences meeting hosted by Centre, Brent White prepares to greet visiting professors. 6/Ray Hammond relaxes at home with sons Jason and Drew. 7/Frederick Brown uses his noodle in preparing a spaghetti dinner for his students. 8/Susan Moyle performs a flute solo in conjunction with the Berea-Centre concert.

CENTRE'S PHYSICAL Science Department is perhaps the best informed on the Danville weather, through daily weather bulletins printed by Dr. Charles Girard. Special thanks from the Department to Mr. Charles Gardner, who builds and repairs equipment for Young Hall.

1/Via his ham radio, Otis K. Wolfe contacts his father in Virginia. 2/P. Marshall Wilt works with his newly constructed constant volume gas thermometer. 3/Conrad Shiba and his fiancée Ellen Moore stroll past Doherty Library. 4/Taking time for a cup of coffee, John Walkup relaxes in the lounge of Young Hall. 5/William Sagar illustrates a chemical equation for his Organic students. 6/Charles Girard and Roy Ellis examine a freshly printed weather map in preparing their daily weather bulletin.

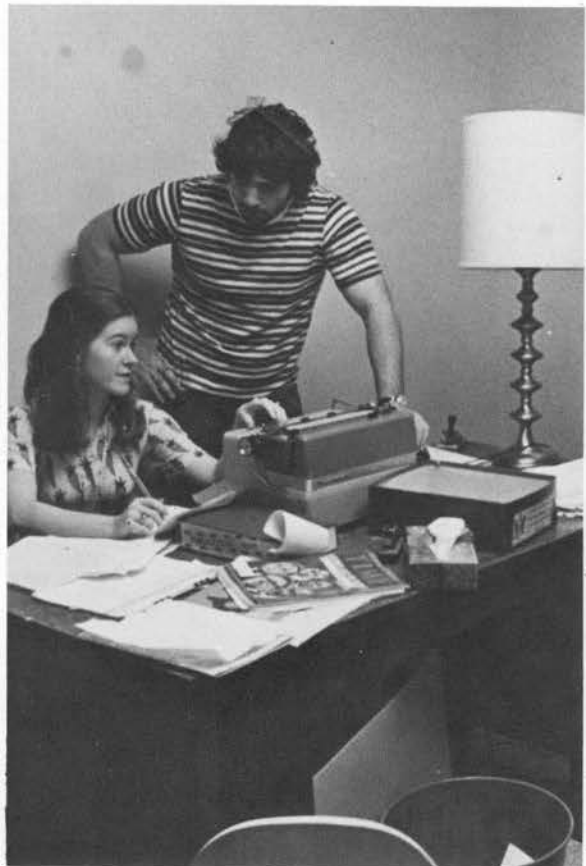

NEW FACULTY member Neil Eklund joins Centre's Math Department as visiting professor while Dr. Charles Whittle continues research at Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Beginning next year, courses dealing with statistics and computers will become lower division requirements for math majors. Thanks to the Student Congress Budget Surplus Committee, students will be able to use the new terminal purchased for the computer.

1/Dorothy Nelms descends the steps of Young Hall on her way to class. 2/Before throwing it on the wheel, Andre Brousseau "pugs clay." 3/Neil Eklund plays horsie with his twins Andy and Scottie. 4/William Owens continues the remodeling of his 1933 Model A Ford. 5/During a spring soccer practice, Robert Piziak combines jobs of coach and boundary marker.

GROUPS

EDITORS, BUSINESS managers, and elected members from the student body and faculty compose Centre's Publications Board. The board supervises all students publications, and chooses editors and business managers for each publication.

1/Student and faculty elected members of the Publications Board. 2/Pete Wunsch and Greg Burton "tap the keg" at the 1974 Publications Board picnic held at Dr. Janzen's home. 3/Publications Board. SEATED ON FLOOR: Steve Arnold, Eileen Burns, Joanne Kellar; L. to R.: Mason Smith, Pete Wunsch, co-chairman Nancy Ballman, Anita Britton, Michael Hamm, co-chairman Milton Reigelman, Phil Smith.

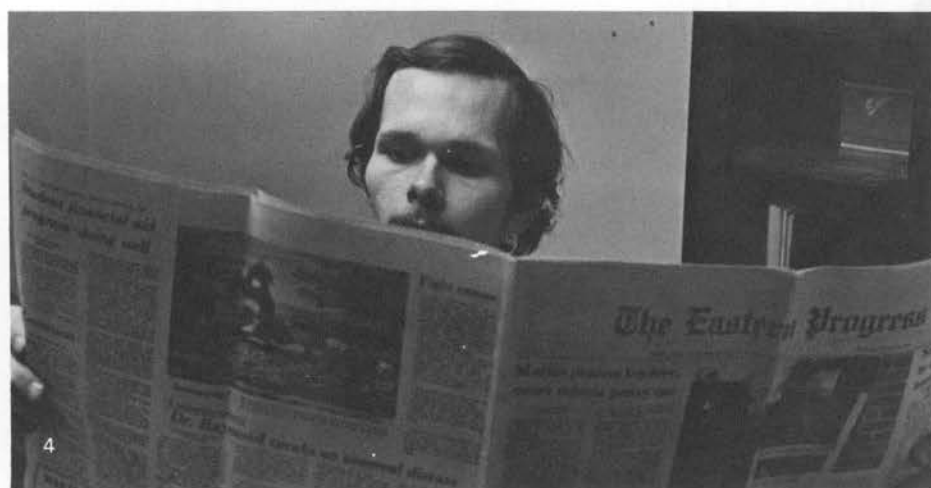

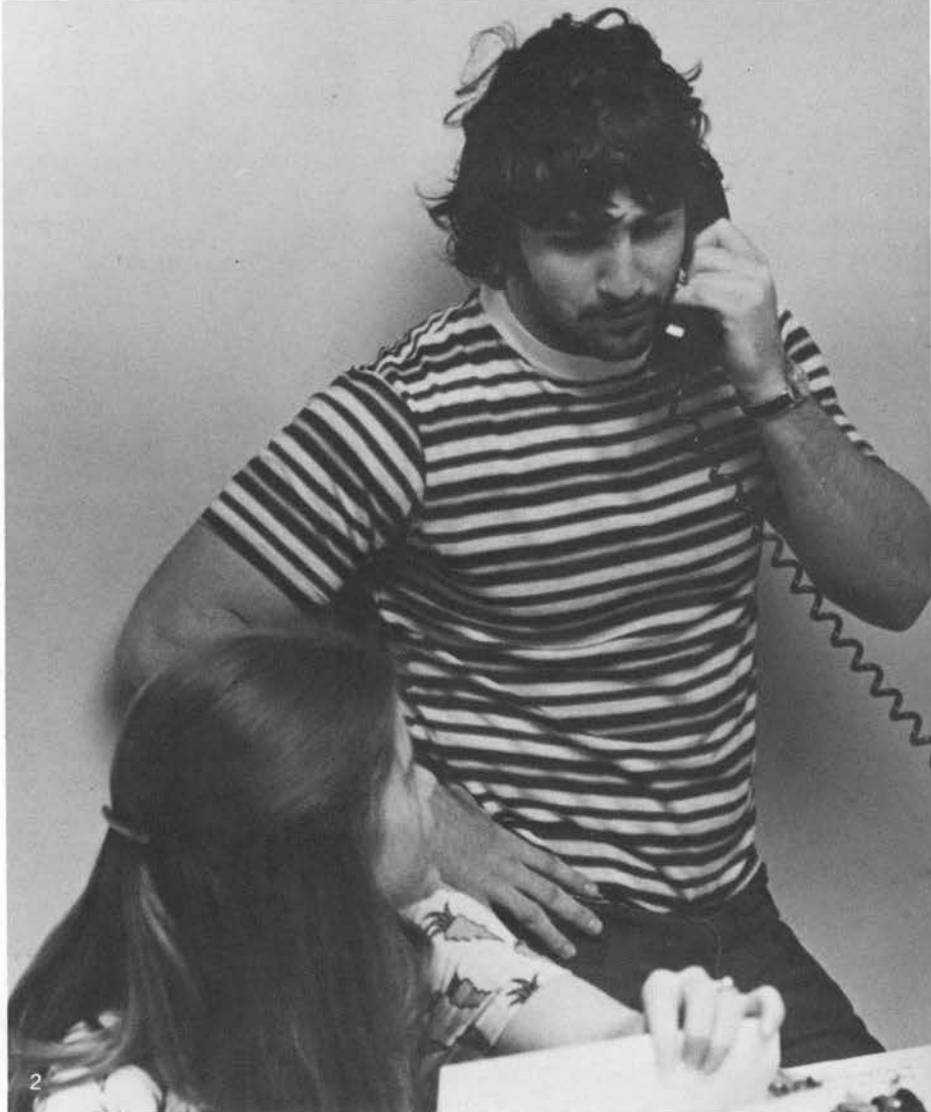

IN AN attempt to capture the essence of campus life and record it, the Olde Centre staff increased its communication with all facets of the Centre community. Turning a group of unrelated photos into the story of 1974-1975 at Centre required the efforts of a small but capable and energetic staff.

1/Photographers Bill Fosdick, Carl Horneman, and Bart Ramsey are caught on the wrong side of the camera. 2/Nancy Ballman assists Martha Dorsey on her faculty section. 3/Assistant editors Gerry Marshall, Bron Gayna Schmit, and Mary Walter Arthur combine efforts with sports editor Keith Swigert to meet a deadline.

EDITORS EILEEN Burns and Mason Smith continue efforts to make the Cento a respected weekly record of events and student opinion. The Cento not only appeared every Friday, but delighted everyone with a special Tuesday April Fool's issue. Three Cento writers, Mason Smith, Peter Wunsch, and Jim Paxton, took first place awards in the small college divisions of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association competition.

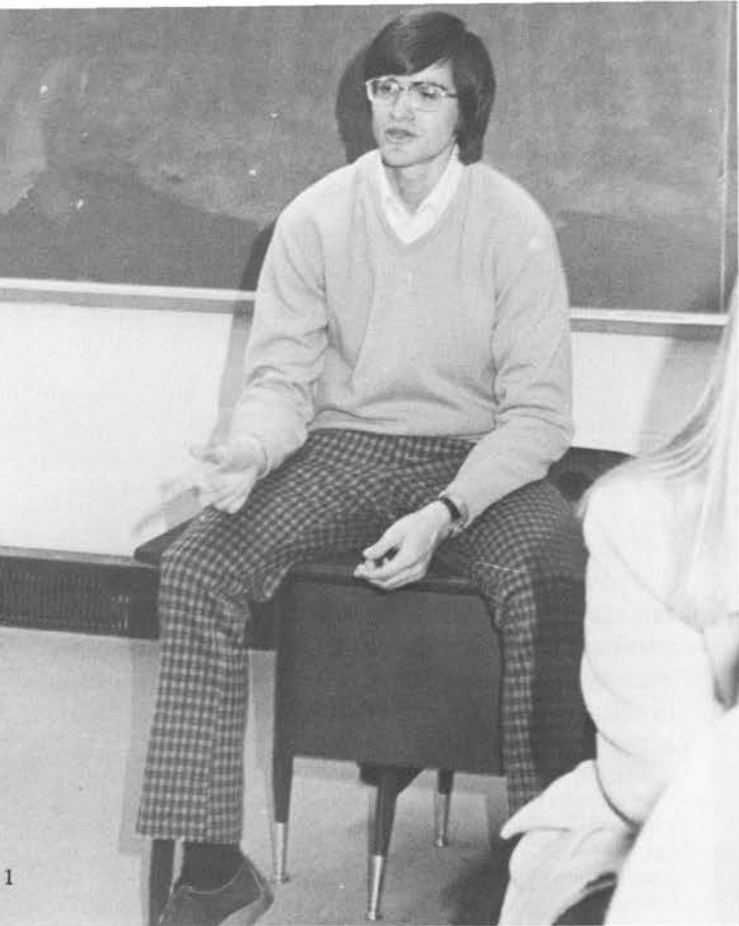

WITH NEW staff members adding their creative talents to those of last year's staff, Vantage Point combined the imaginative ideas of the Centre community in one large edition. All students had a chance to display their artistic talents, ranging from poetry, prose and artwork to photography.

1/Co-editor Eileen Burns tries to decipher a staff member's handwriting. 2/Staff member Phil Benkert takes an important phone call. 3/Members of VANTAGE POINT edit possible entires. 4/In a neverending struggle to be No. 1, co-editor Mason Smith studies a rival newspaper. 5/The 1974-75 VANTAGE POINT staff L. to R.: Joanne Kellar, Barbara Fleming, Steve Moss, Mark Lucas, Beth Greene, Sue Neal Conner, and Anne Harrison. 6/The Cento staff assemblies at the Danville Advocate.

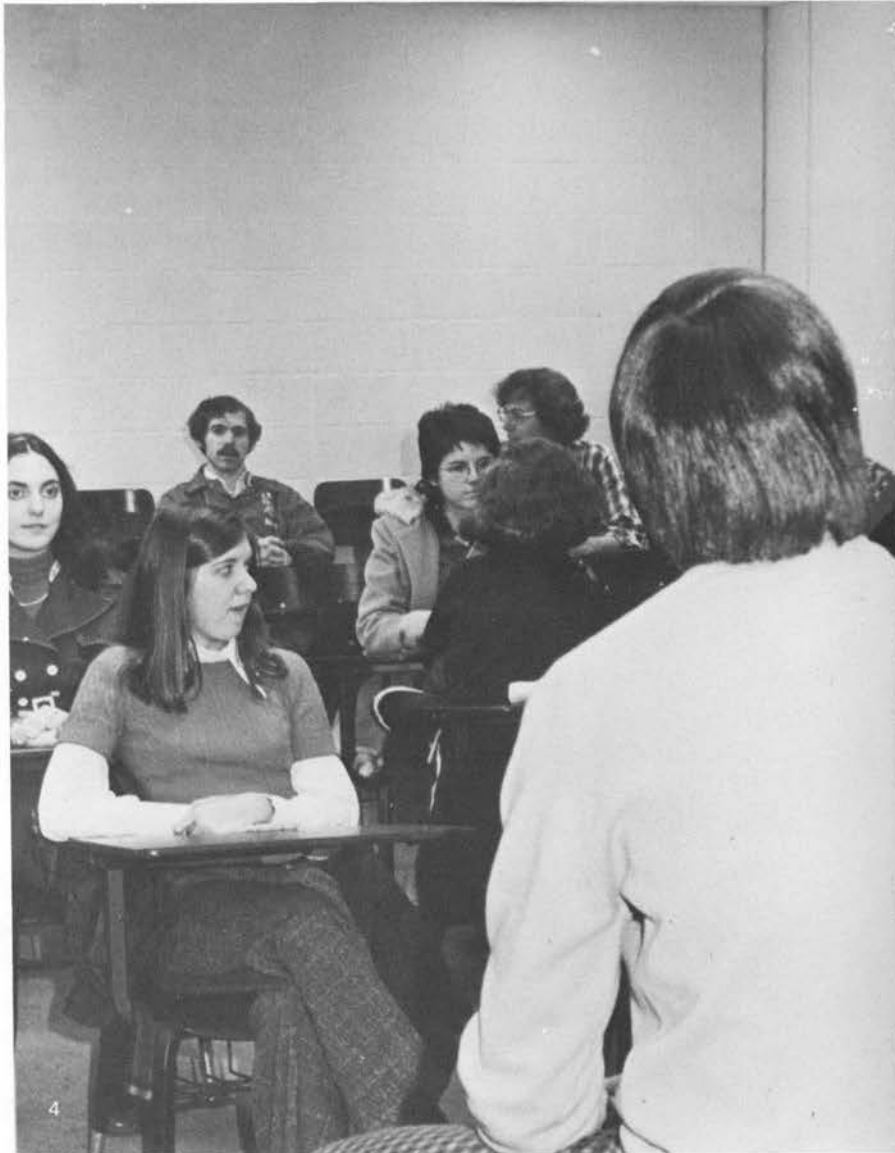

A QUORUM at every meeting may seem like a minor achievement, but President Keen Babbage believes it is an indication of the many accomplishment of the 1974-75 Student Congress.

This organization, composed of student representatives elected on a residential basis, spent most of Fall term allocating funds to student activities and service groups. President Babbage described the results of the allocation as "the most equitable budget the college has seen in past years."

Responding to an editorial in the Centio, the Student Congress took on an investigative role which culminated in its publishing a list of Ten Priorities of student needs.

Finally, the Congress handled the job of spending a $3,000 surplus which went to furnish a new computer terminal, music equipment, books for the library, and equipment for the soccer club.

1/Keen Babbage presides at a Student Congress meeting. 2/A large percent of the student body participated in the election of new Student Congress officers. 3/Upon being elected Student Congress president, Dave Green is congratulated by outgoing President Babbage. 4/Student Congress members discuss one of Keen's proposals. 5/The 1974-75 Student Congress, headed by officers: Keen Babbage (president), Louis Prichard (vice-president), Linda Goodlet (secretary), Steve Crotty (treasurer); Members: Dave Carlock, Dave Carpenter, Jeff Conner, Kathy Cornell, Jenny Cromer, Ruth Gardner, Dave Green, Jim Hawkins, Eric Henize, Debbie Howard, Cary Jackson, Blair Jones, Paula Kamenish, Amy Marsh, Chuck Martin, Sherry Murphy, Nancy Orr, Linda Pell, Mike Richardson, Steve Sanker, Amy Schmidt, Bron Gayna Schmit, Phil Smith, Dianna Swigert, Martha Vail, John Van Volkenburgh, Irene Vick, Henry Welles, Kent Westberry, Jim Worten, Andy Yaros; Faculty Advisors: F. Brown, D. Brown, Cavnes, Vahlkamp, Matheny, Sanders, Sagar.

WORKING TOGETHER in hopes of getting into medical school, the members of the Pre-Med Society volunteered their time at the Ephraim McDowell Memorial Hospital as one of their projects. The main concern is to promote interest in the field of medicine.

NEW DIRECTOR J.P. Brantley brought changes to the Centre Choir this year. Faculty and community members were invited to join and because of the larger group, the choir became more versatile. Their performances included such works as Handel's "The Messiah" and Benjamin Britton's "A Ceremony Of Causes."

1/J.P. Brantley keeps the beat during rehearsal. 2/Sherry Alexander, Gayle Hammers, and Edie Weatherford harmonize during the Christmas concert. 3/The choir takes a break between songs. 4/Burva Pates rehearses her part in Handel's "The Messiah." 5/Old English carols were sung by the choir at the Christmas concert.

FOR THE first year each dorm elected a Lower Judiciary Council, whereas previously only fraternities had such governing bodies. The purpose of these councils was to try all minor and intradormitory infractions, relieving burdens on the Higher Judiciary.

The Higher Judiciary had a busy year, handling infractions ranging from panty raids to students' attempts to re-route Walnut Street past the fraternity houses.

1/Mike Richardson, Zedrick Braden, and Carl Horneman, members of Lower Judiciary councils from their dorms, discuss campus problems. 2/Lower Judiciary members Sharon Janor and Pat Stack pause in front of the library 3/Members of the Higher Judiciary L. to R. UNDERGOING STUDENT and editorial criticism for not presenting a "Big-band" concert, the Social Board nevertheless sponsored various entertaining activities throughout the year.

This elected board worked with the Coordinator of Student Activities to present dances, movies, concerts, and major weekends. A popular highlight this year was the Talent Show, presented as part of Parents' Weekend.

BLACK AWARENESS Week was the highlight of B.S.U. activities this year. The Communication week featured a panel discussion, the production of "Apple Turnover," and a Black Symposium. Other events were Black Weekend, designed to recruit black prospective students, and a memorial for Martin Luther King, Jr., featuring the Bardstown and Springfield Choir.

BROADENING ITS scope of social activities, the Interfraternity Council sponsored many events this year. The council, comprised of the president and an elected member from each of the fraternities, began the year's activities with an outdoor dance in the quadrangle. Oktoberfest, which took place at the Pistol Range, featured bonfires, beer, and hot dogs for entertainment on a brisk October evening.

Returning to the site of Oktoberfest, the IFC presented Greek Games for inter-fraternity competition. Volleyball, tug-of-war, softball throw, three-legged race and a relay beer-drinking contest comprised the day's competition. The Dekes reigned victorious as overall champs, with the Sigs finishing a close second. The overcast morning brightened into a sunny afternoon which concluded with a band playing for the large crowd.

THE EPSILON chapter of Beta Theta Pi had a successful social calendar which was highlighted by a Casino party, an Alumni reception at Homecoming, a Christmas party, and a visit by Freddy Fudpucker.

The Betas won the intramural football championship for the third consecutive year and reached the playoffs in basketball. Brother Bob Giltner served as Interfraternity Council President and Steve Crotty held the position of Student Congress Treasurer. The Betas completed their rush activities by pledging 10 new members.

1975 SAW the members of Delta Kappa Epsilon complete one of their most successful years in recent history. Training Breaker and Patty's Day were the usual highlights on the social calendar, but the "Starlight Lounge" casino and the cocktail party finished a close second.

Pledge Sunday proved to be the best in the last five years, as the Dekes gathered 21 new members. Academically, the Dekes also showed improvement by finishing second in the Yerkes Cup competition.

CELEBRATING THE 125th year of existence of the Alpha Delta chapter was the highlight of the Phi Delta Theta social calendar. Activities of the April 18-19 weekend included a dance to begin Founders Day, a visit to Keenland on Saturday, and a reception and dinner that evening.

Wild West and Mardi Gras remained traditions, drawing large crowds to the house. The Phi Delt's remained one of the largest fraternities, with some of its members having to live on other parts of the campus. They also continued their good showing in all intramural sports.

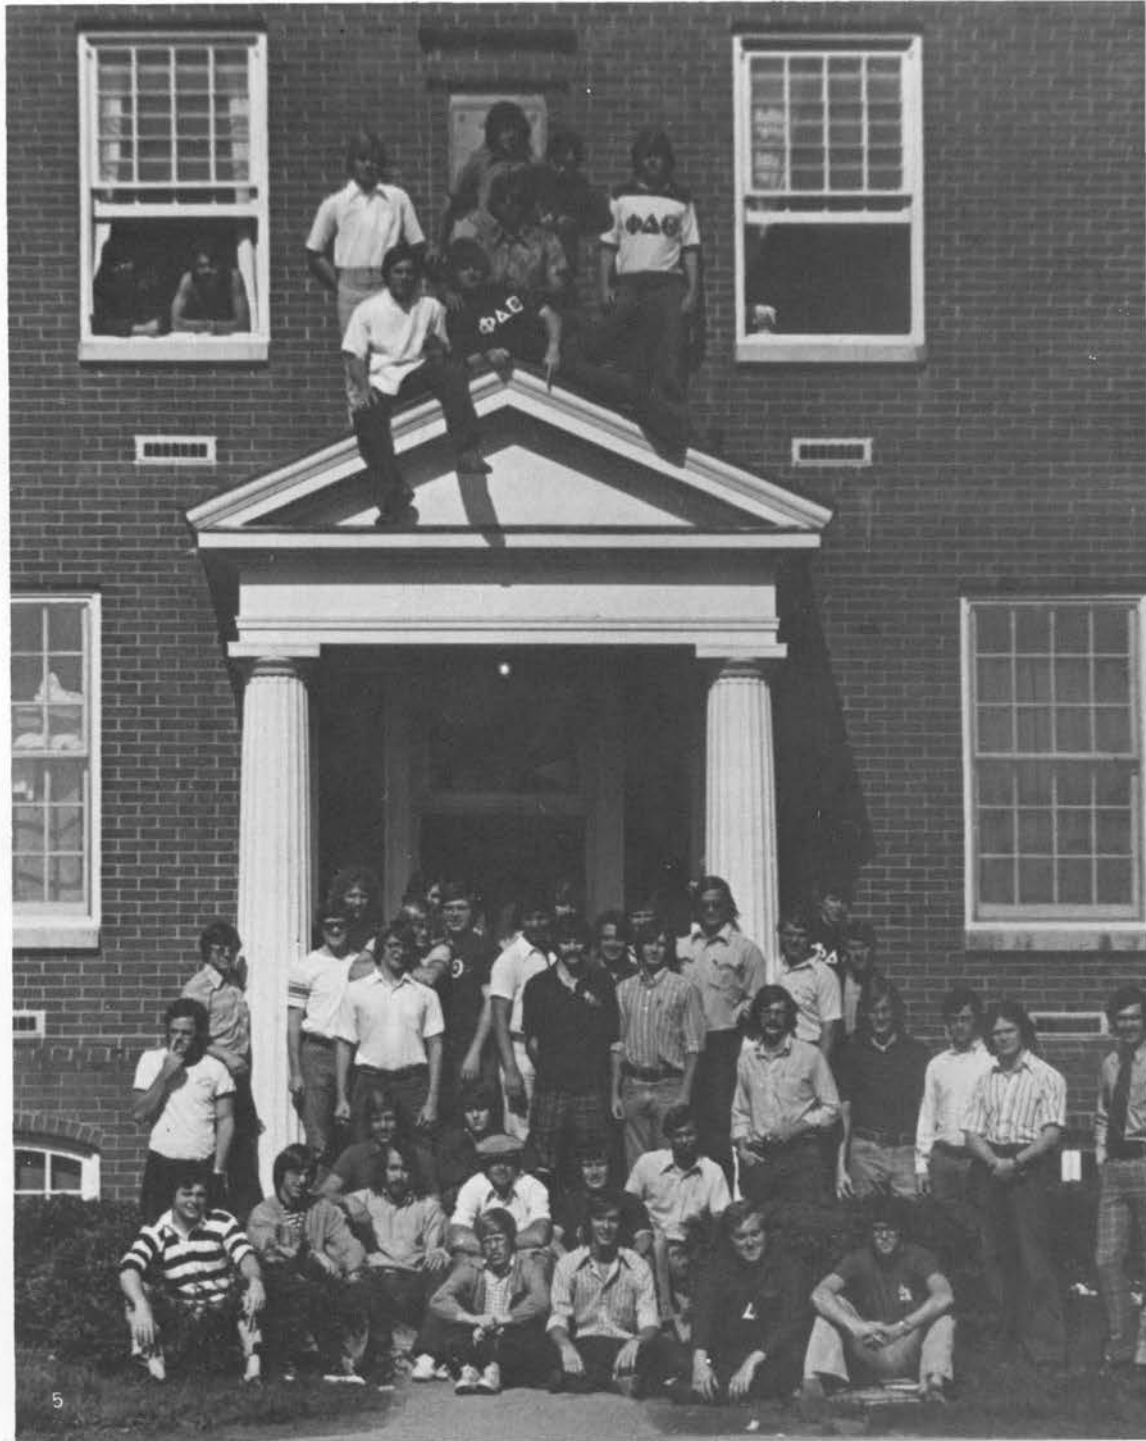

1/ The Phi Delt's parody of other Spring Sing contestants earned them second place. 2/ Fraternity sweetheart Linda Bargo anticipates half-time activities as she rides in the Homecoming parade. 3/ Roscoe Leffler enjoys a piece of watermelon after Spring Sing. 4/ Dead Fred makes an appearance at his last Homecoming, escorted by Tom Gentilucci and Mike Bowman. 5/ Members of Phi Delta Theta.

WITH A tie for the largest number of pledges, the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity greatly increased its size. The fraternity made an excellent showing by winning the Yerkes Cup competition, and continued to see several of its brothers hold key campus leadership positions ranging from Cento business manager to valedictorian.

1/ One of the Phi Tau drinkers runs back from her turn at the drinking table. 2/ Willie Johnson and Dave Carlock team up for the three-legged race at the Greek Games. 3/ Members of Phi Kappa Tau. 4/ A new Phi Tau pledge hurries toward the warmth of the house and its enthusiastic actives on Pledge Sunday. 5/ Joanne Kellar, Phi Kappa Tau sweetheart, enjoys the parade. 6/ Jim Kiel looks amused as he watches the tug-of-war at the Greek Games.

Phi Kappa Tau — Officers: William Jackson (president), Brad McCoy (vice-president), Jim Kiel (treasurer), Auguste Peterson (recording secretary), Lloyd Spear (corresponding secretary); Members: Eli Adams, Zedrick Braden III, James Bryant, David Carlock, Paul Carosiello, Robert Cooke, Kim Dement, Mark Derrick, Steve Erhler, Steve Fernandez, Joe Foley, Kamran Hakimi, John Hanbury, Lonnie Harri-ford, Coy Heisler, William Johnson, Blair Jones, Keith Mathis, Walter Martin, Carey Moon, Daniel Mooser, Dave Morgan, Steve Moss, Dave Mullendore, Ali Saifi, Randall Scott, Ed Spain, Richard Stoner, Mike Tusing, Al Williams, John Webb

GWINN ISLAND was the site of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon pig roast early in the fall. The SAE's took 9 pledges on Pledge Sunday, and celebrated Founders Day as part of their social activities this year.

1/ Andy Yaros gets instructions from the bench during a softball game. 2/ Despite efforts by the tug-of-war team with Joel Coryell as anchor man, the SAE team lost to the Betas. 3/ Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. 4/ Joe Schmidt and Brent Clark leave the field after the third out. 5/ The photographer catches Pat Berry, Sigma Alpha Epsilon sweetheart, off guard.

THIS YEAR, the Sigma Chi fraternity gained much recognition from their national organization. The members received the Peterson Significant Chapter Award, the Daniel William Cooper Award, and the Legion of Honor Award.

On the local level, the Sigs took first place in the Homecoming float competition and the intramural volleyball tournament.

Their social activities included a Sweetheart Weekend at Mammoth Cave and a Bluegrass Music Festival.

The Sigs continued to be a leader in community affairs by sponsoring parties for the Christian Children's Center and assisting the Optimist Club with Halloween Spook House.

SIGMA CHI — Officers: Walt Ecton (consul), Dave Johnson (pro consul), Lynn Neel (annotator), Rick Schwab (queastar); Members: Logan Askew, Keen Babbage, Freeman Blackwell, Tom Bloomfield, Sam Boswell, Don Brown, Joe Burks, Ryan Coady, James Cooper, John Darnell, C.R. REALIZING THE end of their undergraduate work at Centre is no longer years away, Juniors try to concentrate on their major areas of academic interest and pull up their grade point averages without missing out on all the fun. Ironically, some make a delayed decision to venture from Centre the fall of their junior year, only to return again in the spring.

1/An unidentified Centre body abandons the books for a snooze in the grass. 2/Unaware of the passing photographer, Dave Heil and Martha Wells sneak a smooch between classes. 3/Defensive tackle Keith Mathis gazes from the sidelines. 4/As yet unregistered, a familiar campus pet munches in front of Old Centre.

SOPHOMORES ENCOUNTER a year of confusion and decision as they choose whether or not to remain a part of the Centre community. Dwindling in size, the sophomore class realizes the traditional loss of its members to the options of transfers, marriages and jobs. Those who remain and choose their major area are usually here for a four year stay, as they are often more easily transferred than their credits.

IN MANY ways Centre is like other college communities. Yet Centre traditions, basic to everyone during their years here, set Centre apart.

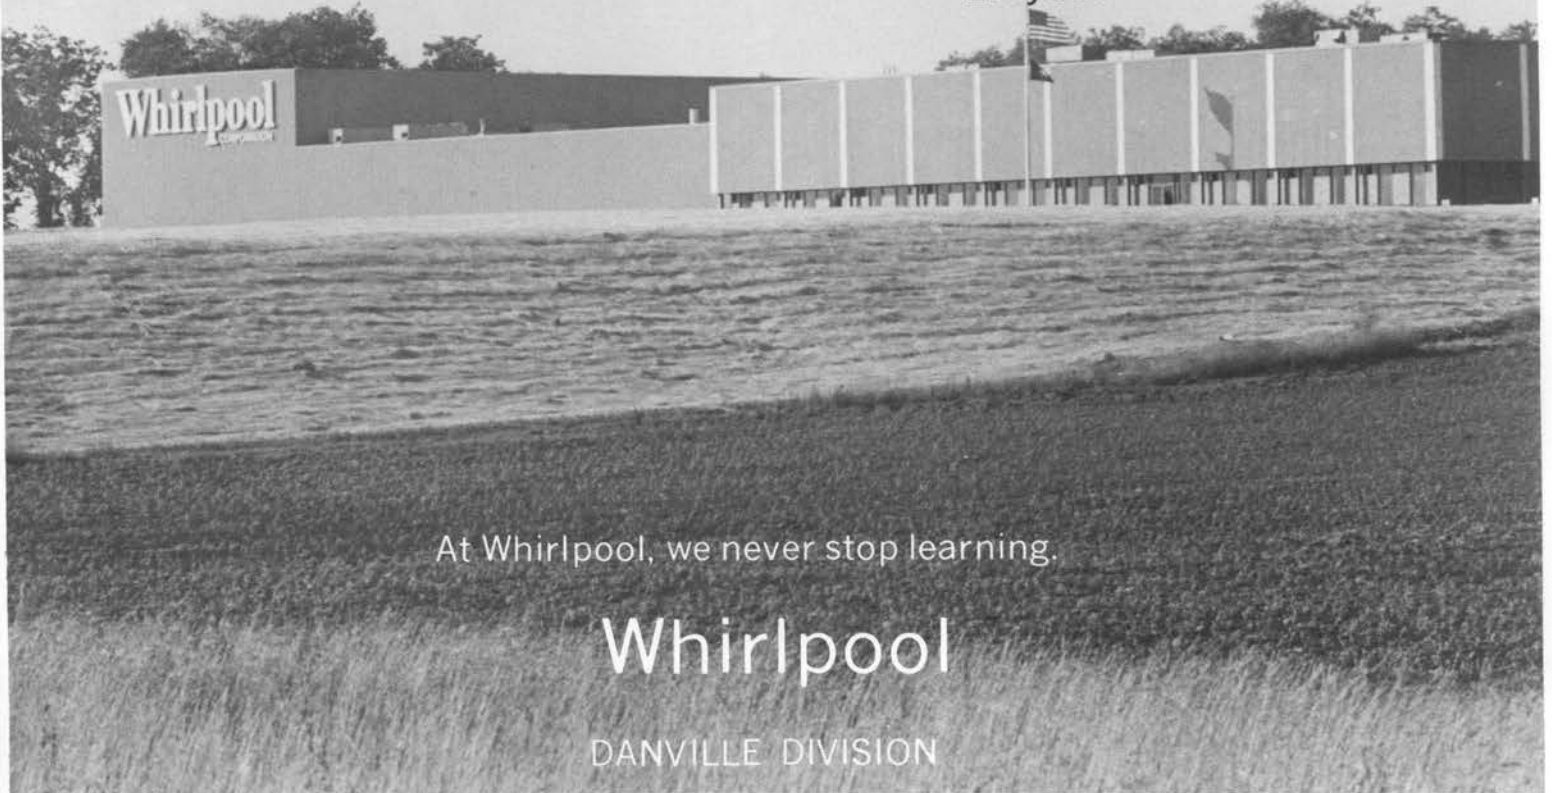

PERHAPS CENTRE will always physically remain on Main Street, but it is beyond that frontier that Centre becomes unique.
