Dedication

SAMUEL ROBERTSON CHEEK

who as an alumnus and professor was at all times loyal to Old Centre and did honor to the Alma Mater which he loved so well. To him whose life and work has given inspiration to all, do we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-three, affectionately and respectfully dedicate this volume.

Foreword

THE Class of 1923 has endeavored in the compilation of this review of a busy year and portrayal of our college and its throbbing life, to give to its fellow students a record of never-to-be-forgotten days and places; to the prospective student a vivid and inspiring picture of his future Alma Mater; and to the public at large a glimpse of the institution and an insight into the broad field of service it does.

SENIORS

GEORGE ARDERY

Paris, Kentucky; Kappa Alpha; Paris High School; Secretary and Treasurer Junior Class; Social Committee '21, '22.

"George." Is it silent wisdom that enshrouds him as he goes about his duties in Kentucky? George—where is my wandering boy tonight? It is whispered that George has adopted the sailor's motto, namely, "A girl in every port"; but there ends his proximity to the seas. Women are the specialty of George, and when it comes to really knowing them as they should be known, from the heart out, George is a vampire of calibre one.

But, with all his twentieth century intelligence, George is a student and stands in with every prof in school. His disposition is such that he simply can't be disliked. George, we dedicate to you, as we have to your brothers who established Ardery fame at Centre years before, a sincere wish for success, and an admiration for a true college brother.

STUART LISLE BAKER

Monticello, Kentucky; Monticello High School; Columbia University, Summer '21; Delta Kappa Epsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa; Deinologian Literary Society, Treasurer '20, Vice President '21; Carnival Committee '21, '22; Assistant Editor "Old Centre" '22; News Editor "Cento" '21-'22; "Ye Rounde Table" '22; Class Giftorian '22.

"Knowledge comes but wisdom lingers."

"Bake." Here he is, gentlemen; look at him. Stuart Lisle, the boy from Monticello, the ladies' delight. If there is anything you don't know, whether it's the price of tacks in 1904 or the angle of deflation at  $79^{\circ} 46' 20\frac{3}{4}''$  West Longitude, just ask "Bake"—he uses all, knows all. What would Centre College ever do without him—aid de camp to Dr. Crooks, promoter extraordinary of dope, and foremost candidate for the next president? What would his fellow students ever do without him, he who has passed for them many math exams, and doped out countless physics probs? He is their present help in trouble.

"Bake" came to us as a member of '23, but by exercising those qualities of hard work, stick-to-it-iveness, and integrity, which are as much a part of him as his ever-present good humor and affability, he is now a part of '22, and as we go out into life we wish you everything that life holds good, Lisle, worker, thinker gentleman.

KENNETH W. BRUMBACK

Covington, Kentucky; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Covington High School; "C" in Track '19, '20, '21; Chamberlain Literary Society.

"Red." "Kenneth Walker Brumback" is how it reads in the family Bible, but who ever heard of a guy with a sandy mop of hair being called "Kenneth?" "Red" has been plugging along steadily during his four year sojourn here at Centre and has managed to mark up some nice scores on Charlie Crooks' little record book. In 1921 he surprised everybody, including himself, when he won the State Championship in the discus throw. The multitude thought that with this he would be content, but alas! no sooner had his Senior year begun, than he, too, started on that fatal quest for woman which often ends so disastrously. Little Cupid, with a shout of glee, sharpened his arrows and let fly. It happens in the best well-regulated families, though, so everybody understood. "Red" hasn't decided whether to inspect cross-ties for a living or to try his luck elsewhere, but it's a cinch that he will be a success at whatever he does.

LAWRENCE CLAUDE CAUDILL

Blackey, Kentucky; Stuart Robinson School; Phi Kappa Tau; Charter Member of Sock and Buskin; Manager Baseball '21; Manager Track '21; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '19, '20, '21; Football Trainer '20, '21; Class Poet '22.

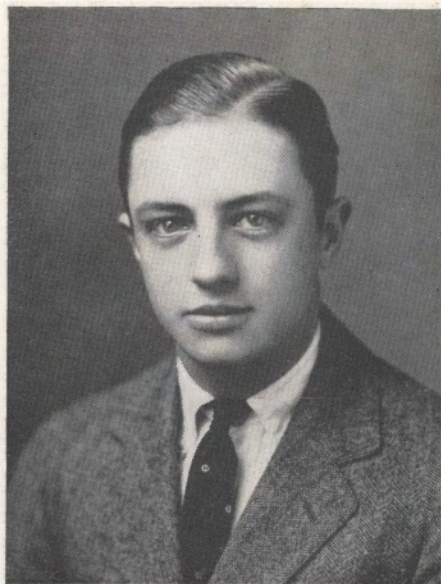

"Larry." "Larry" is Fred's younger brother, but you'd never suspect it, would you now? He's supposed to be two years the younger, but we scarcely believe it. He's married, too, and has an editor's job waiting for him when he gets his mitts on the old sheep-skin. Nuff sed; turn the page—and they lived happily ever after.

FRED W. CAUDILL

Blackey, Kentucky; Stuart Robinson School; Phi Kappa Tau; Y. M. C. A. President '19-'20; Social Committee '20; Carnival Committee '19-'20; "C" in Football '19, '20, '21; Sock and Buskin; Deinologian Literary Society; Chairman State Y. M. C. A. Convention '20.

"Fred." Fred is a pre-med. He looks it, too. You'd think he was already "hard" enough to carve up a "stiff" in medical laboratory without suffering from nervous shock. It is said of him that he actually has been known to shoot rabbit—by accident. Even at that he's harmless and he carries his heart as well as his head in the right place. And even if he does hail from the Eastern Kentucky black diamond fields, he's white clear through. Good luck to you, Fred.

ROBERT RAY CLELAND

Lebanon, Kentucky; Delta Kappa Epsilon; Lebanon High School; U. S. Naval Academy Preparatory School, Annapolis, Md.; United States Naval Academy; Deinologian Literary Society; Social Committee '20, '21, '22; Assistant Cheer Leader '20; "Old Centre" Staff, '21.

"The eternal feminine doth draw us on."

—Goethe "Faust."

"Knock off, boys, knock off."

"Bobbie," "Admiral." Bobbie came into our midst as a special student in the spring of 1919 after a year's sojourn in the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. While there, he acquired a "strut" that often causes strangers to mistake him for the owner of all the sidewalks of Danville. He also became so careful of his clothes that his very appearance bespeaks "Hart, Schaffner, & Marx." His influence on the fair sex is great, signified by the number of "specials" to and from Atlanta.

"Admiral" intended to pursue engineering, but, after a contemplation of the numerous "lab" periods, he fell by the wayside. He now has his eye on the business world where he is certain to succeed.

FRED W. CAUDILL

Blackey, Kentucky; Stuart Robinson School; Phi Kappa Tau; Y. M. C. A. President '19-'20; Social Committee '20; Carnival Committee '19-'20; "C" in Football '19, '20, '21; Sock and Buskin; Deinologian Literary Society; Chairman State Y. M. C. A. Convention '20.

Lebanon, Kentucky; Delta Kappa Epsilon; Lebanon High School; U. S. Naval Academy Preparatory School, Annapolis, Md.; United States Naval Academy; Deinologian Literary Society; Social Committee '20, '21, '22; Assistant Cheer Leader '20; "Old Centre" Staff, '21.

JACK COTTRELL

Prestonburg, Kentucky; Randolph Macon Academy; Beta Theta Pi; Sock and Buskin, Stage Manager '21; Biology Assistant.

"Jackey." "Jackey," the pride and joy of Prestonburg, Ky., startled the college world by his wonderful mastery of the power of hypnotism. He has made use of this power in the class room and elsewhere, hypnotizing everything from Dr. Rainey's pet frog to the fairest of the Danville maidens. From the very day that "Jackey" entered school he showed that he had the ability to become one of the greatest track men that Centre ever produced, but the path of duty led to the biology laboratories rather than to the cinder path, and thus he became a martyr for the cause of science. He later joined the assistants union and since that time has been a wonderful aid in assisting the Freshmen to flunk Dr. Rainey's biology courses. Cottrell intends to enter the medical profession and already bids to become a success, for he can use more meaningless phrases than any man in school.

BENJAMIN WOODBURY CREGOR

Springfield, Kentucky; Beta Theta Pi; Springfield High School; "C" in Football '18, '19, '20, '21; All-Kentucky Tackle '20, '21; "C" in Baseball '19, '20, '21; Social Committee '20-'21; Deinologian Literary Society; Carnival Committee '21, '22; President Senior Class '22.

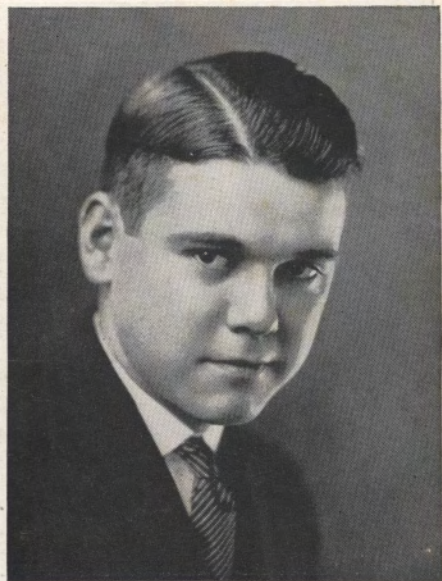

"Baldy" "Ben." "He came, he saw, he conquered." Behold! the conquering hero from Springfield, Kentucky. Entering school as a modest and timid Freshman he soon became one of Centre's head liners, due to the marked absence of what we imagine would be a golden pompadour. Cregor, although a very busy man, has slighted none of the college organizations and each one has felt the power of his presence at one time or another. On the athletic field, in the class room, on the dance floor, or in the parlor, "Baldy" has always been a shining (head) light. Cregor has won for himself a niche in the hall of fame, not because of his athletic prowess, but because of his wonderful work in the realm of chemistry. Due to his untiring effort he has discovered a formula for hair restoration that he guarantees will obliterate the bald-headed row. Here's hoping that it's successful, at least for him.

GRAHAM YATES DAVIDSON

Burnside, Kentucky; Burnside High School; Davidson College; "D" in Track '20; Y. M. C. A.

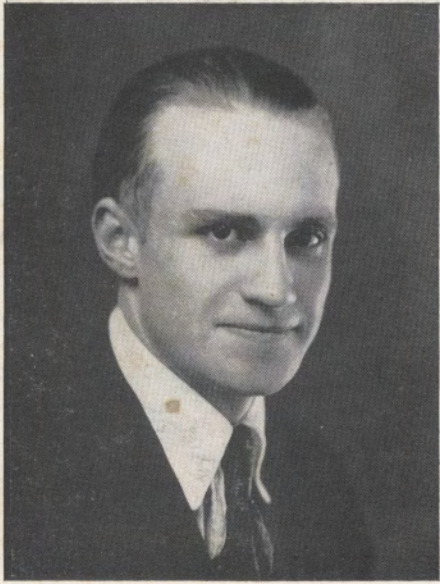

"Dave." This avaricious specimen hails from the neighboring town of Burnside, famed far and near for its county fairs. Here is one who strayed into a far country, but after a year's absence returned once again to "Old Centre," "never no more to roam." Graham is one whom we all admire because of his ability to rest in the arms of Morpheus in spite of the most ardent efforts on the part of the prof's to interest him in their subject. We would feel that we had failed in our duty if we did not mention his numerous "affairs." He rarely ever spends the week end in Danville, and we are all wondering who she is. Perhaps we will receive an invitation in the near future from our "Dutiful Dave."

JUNIUS CALHOUN GRAVES

Auburn, Kentucky; Auburn High School; Phi Kappa Tau; Round Table '21-'22, Steward '22; Chamberlain Literary Society, Secretary '19, President '20.

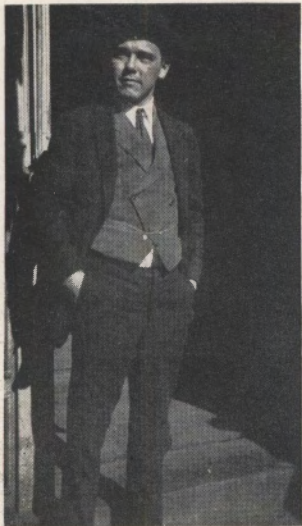

“Preacher.” “Preacher’s” the name usually called when this one is wanted, but when Dr. Allen is putting a question to the history and economics shark it’s always Graves—and some even venture to aver that Graves is his real name. However that may be, “Sammy” Cheek says he is a shark in prose Latin; so he’s evidently possessed of an undue portion of gray matter. “Preacher” is an ardent lover of books, sports and the social life. A good combination, “Preacher.” Stay with ‘em.

JULIAN B. GREEN

Danville, Kentucky; Booneville High School, Booneville, Mo.; Vice President of Chamberlain Literary Society '19.

There is music in the sighing of a reed;
There is music in the gushing of a rill;
There is music in all things if men had ears;
Their earth is but an echo of the spheres.

"Julian." He came here from the "have to be shown" State, but as long as he conducted himself with the proper dignity, that one fault was forgiven. In the year '19 he laid aside the toga for a while, and bloomed forth in the minstrel. Julian is a good boy, and never has the spade of energy ceased to dig deep in the sod of knowledge, and much has he added unto himself in these last years; and one thing is sure—that being that no one can take his measure when it comes to giving out hymn tunes in chapel. All right, Julian, make it Number 128.

RAYMOND FITCH HENDERSON

Vanceburg, Kentucky; Phi Kappa Tau; Lewis County High School; Deinologian Literary Society; English Club; "Cento" Staff '19, '20, '21; Annual Staff '20; Forensic Circle '22; Press Club; Winner Ernst Debate '19; Winner Centre-Georgetown Debate '19; Miami University.

"Percy." Here's another journalistic aspirant. He carries a racy ink spreader, too, and there's sometimes something other than wavy brown hair under his hat. You almost suspect it sometimes, too, when you catch that mischievous twinkle from those innocent brown eyes; and—oh, you'll just know it when you hear his name; it's—it's Percy. But don't judge too hastily now. When he gets those horn-rimmed goggles adjusted, he looks "real" formidable—aristocratic, in fact, and the girls just adore him.

CHARLTON ALEXANDER HOWARD

Covington, Kentucky; Kentucky Military Institute; Sigma Chi; Deinologian Literary Society '20-'21; Minstrel '19; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '19; Historian of Senior Class.

"Alex." Alex showed his good judgment in his Freshman year by transferring to Centre. He still retains his good judgment and rarely overbids his hand. Whenever followers of Hoyle gather he can be counted on for several tricks. As Howard has always hated the obvious and the usual, we will not follow the customary course and tell of the many fair ones that will weep for him. However, all will be sorry to see Alex go, and there is much curiosity as to which of Mr. Hines' tables he will take when he packs his belongings.

W. S. HYNES

Columbia, Kentucky; Phi Kappa Tau; Omicron Delta Kappa; Rounde Table and Centre Forensic Circle; Lindsay-Wilson Training School '17; A. E. with the L. & N. R. R. '17-'18; Military Training in Centre '18; Ernst Debating Prize '20, '21, '22; Faculty-Student Debate '21; College Debating Team '20, '21, '22; College Oratorical Contest '20, '21, '22; President Chamberlain Literary Society '20; President Centre Forensic Circle (first) '22; President Ky. Inter-Collegiate Debating Association '21, '22; President Ky. Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association '21, '22; President Centre Y. M. C. A. '21, '22; Assistant in English Department in Centre '19-'20; Henry-Barrett-Boyle Latin Scholarship Prize '20-'21; Teacher and Coach in Danville High School, '21-'22.

"Hynes." Hynes—universally acclaimed the man who never wastes a minute. That's a mistake, though. His vocal organs get plenty of exercise. Ask anybody in the Phi K. T. House. He's nuts on class work; he's nuts on athletics, for he wears out more basket ball shoes and breaks more tennis racket strings than any man on the campus; and—oh, well, he's nuts on everything and gets his nose and his name into everything connected with the campus. He plans to study law. We predict he'll wind up as a judge on the U. S. Supreme Bench. Here's to you, Judge.

JAMES LEWIS JARVIS

Lakeland, Florida; Phi Kappa Tau; Lindsey-Wilson Training School; Hampden-Sidney College; Deinologian Literary Society.

"Windy." James Lewis was born in the middle of the Atlantic on an English ship with a German captain. Confidentially, the late war was fought over which nation should have J. L., and at the Versailles Conference he was awarded to America—our only reward for great and lasting service.

J. L. being a cosmopolitan, is a jack-of-all-trades. He can navigate the broad Atlantic and the Dix; he can wield the drawing pencil like Bud Fisher; he can sing like any victrola and can play on a Spanish guitar; and last but not least in his gamut of knacks, he is the only man who has ever been able to keep cold on the cold checks at a local bank. Homer had J. L. in mind when he wrote these immortal words, "Short is my date, but deathless my renown."

JOHN B. McGEE

Bloomfield, Ky.; Bloomfield High School; Phi Delta Theta; Zeta Circle Omicron Delta Kappa; Class Basket Ball '17; Associate Editor "Old Centre" '21; Student Manager Athletics '20-'21.

"How doth the busy little McGee improve each shining hour!"

"Johnny." "Johnny" is about the smallest boy in school, but does enough work for half the school. When football was in season "Johnny" had enough work for an entire office force, but with the aid of one "trusty" assistant managed to put the season through and still come out with "many moneys" in the treasury. Johnny is not only busy at all times, but has his finger in many things at the same time, and makes good grades too! "Will wonders never cease!!" At the football banquet "Uncle Charlie" made his entire speech on the merits of his business managers. And when "Unc" praises a man, there is surely quality there. He is the pride of Bloomfield, and we all know that he is going to make a stir wherever he goes. We are watching you, Johnny. "Start gittin'."

JAMES BUTLER MILLIKEN

Bellevue, Ky.; Phi Kappa Tau; Bellevue High School; Business Manager "The Cento" '20-'21; Secretary and Treasurer Senior Class, '21-'22.

"Jimmy." Jimmy, they named him at home, and the name has stuck through four college years, but we fear they made a mistake. It should have been "Aristides, the Just." Still, Jimmy has occasional relapses into frivolity—and genius. He aspires to be a newspaper correspondent. As a wielder of the wicked pen he's there, too. We predict a future for you as a journalist, James.

THOMAS MORAN

Horse Cave, Kentucky; Horse Cave High School, Beta Theta Pi; "C" in Baseball '21; "C" in Football '16, '17, '20.

"Dago." Tom has been one of the star athletes both on the gridiron and on the diamond. He has to argue a great deal with his professors to convince them of what he knows, but being blessed with an exceptionally good line and with marked ability at making excuses, he has accomplished that which he has been striving to do for years, namely, to become a Senior.

Tom has aspirations of becoming a great coach like his father and we wish him success in all of his undertakings.

JOSEPH MURPHY

Columbus, Ohio; East High School, Columbus, Ohio; Phi Kappa Tau; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sock and Buskin, Stage Manager '19-'20, President '21; Y. M. C. A., Vice President '21; Social Committee '19-'20; Carnival Committee '21; President Junior Class '21; Vice President Sophomore Class '20; "C" in Football '18, '19, '20, '21; "C" in Basket Ball '19; "C" in Baseball '19, '20, '21; "C" in Track '19, '20, Captain '21.

"Murph". This one is Murphy. "Chic Murphy" he's known as at Cambridge, the lightest man that ever took part in a grid game in the Harvard stadium. Avoirdupois is the only thing he's light in, though. Besides being a four letter man "Murph" has had a part in most of his class and school activities, and he has grabbed off more than his share of school honors. That old "hoss laugh" will be missed both on and off the campus, now that you're leaving, Murph, but it will be a long time before you are forgotten by your classmates, old boy.

EDWARD K. MARTIN

Glasgow, Kentucky; Glasgow High School; Davidson College; Northwestern University.

"Pre-occupied am I with thoughts
That deeply lie
Within my breast."

"Martin." Martin is really not the terrible character that one might think from observing his middle name. In fact, the boy's meekness is exceeded only by his earnest endeavor to break up everything breakable in the physics laboratory. When he dons his apron and begins to juggle test tubes and other weapons of war, look out. It is rumored that he has already made a fortune from the enormous sales of Martin's Old Reliable Tooth-Pick Sterilizer and Re-Treader.

SAMUEL VAN ARSDALE NOE

Louisville, Kentucky; Beta Theta Pi Fraternity; Deinologian Literary Society, Secretary '19, President '21, '22; Henry Barrett Boyle Latin Prize; Ye Rounde Table '21, '22; Omicron Delta Kappa; Joke Editor "Old Centre" '21; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, Secretary '21, '22; English Club; Deinologian Debating Team '21, '22.

"Noe," "Sam." Noe is a great speaker and although he is very reticent about the matter, under pressure he has been forced to admit that he has never lost an argument during his sweet young life. Sam, besides being a prominent man in school activities, has been the prime factor in dictating the policies of one of Danville's leading newspapers. He spends a great deal of his time in hustling ads for said newspaper, his method of attack being to lie in wait for the unsuspecting prospect within the environs of Hines and Sullivan's pool emporium, or Park's dope establishment. If he has any success in life, and we feel sure that he will, he may well attribute it to the righteous principles which he has always preached and never practiced while here at Old Centre.

THOMAS N. PRIVETTE

Dyersburg, Tennessee; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Dyersburg High School; Assistant Biology '20, '21, '22; Deinologian Literary Society; Advertising Manager "Old Centre" '21.

"T. N.," "Private." Speaking of Spanish athletics, here's a boy who can throw the bovine all over the lot without the least exertion. It has been his aim since he has been in college to excel in this line of endeavor and all will affirm that he has not failed. Last year he was the father of many "schemes" which resulted in the fattening of his own wallet and in a corresponding deflation of the wallets of his unsuspecting schoolmates, all in a very proper and business-like way, of course. Upon being appointed advertising manager of "Old Centre" in 1921, he promptly began his deadly work upon the poor advertisers who pay for annuals, and browbeat them enough to keep the year book from being a financial fizzle. His powers of persuasion were thus diverted into fruitful fields. He wants to take up advertising for his life work. If he does, little does this United States of America know what it has coming to it.

JAMES BORUM ROBERTS

Somerset, Kentucky; Somerset High School; Phi Delta Theta; Cheery Cheer Club '19; "Stove Singers" '20; Football '18, '19, '20, '21; Captain elect '22; Four years All-State; All-Southern Fullback '19; All-Southern End '21; Third All-American End '19; All-American End '21; Basket Ball '19, '20; Baseball '19; Minstrel '21, '22.

"Jim," "Bugger," "Red," "Jago," "Coal-Oil Dick." "Red" Roberts, considering where he is from, is one of the most promising sons of Old Centre. If you want to know how promising, ask Dr. Allen. He is quite a big boy and his clothes always fit rather tightly, thus causing a large tailor's bill for pressing. Hence his idea of starting a pressing shop of his own in order to keep his trousers in press and incidentally give "Roscoe" a job. One would think by looking at his football honors that he would be rather swell-headed, but they stick as lightly to him as water on the proverbial duck's back. He is known and liked by nearly everyone in Kentucky, and we might add that he knows nearly as many as know him. Good luck, "Red," and may you be as successful an "All-American Business Man" as you were in athletics!

THEODORE ALEXANDER SANFORD

Milburn, Ky.; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Fulton High School; Vice President Freshman Class '18-'19; Historian Sophomore Class '19-'20; "Cento" Reporter '18-'19; Associate Editor "The Cento" '20-'21; Editor "The Cento" '21-'22; Assistant in Chemistry '19-'20, '20-'21; Press Club '20-'21; Editor "Old Centre" '21; Chamberlain Literary Society '22; Sock and Buskin, Business Manager '21-'22; Ye Rounde Table, President '21-'22; Omicron Delta Kappa, President Zeta Circle '21-'22; Class Grumbler '22; Vice President Senior Class '21-'22.

"Exhausting thought and hiving wisdom with each studious year."

"Teddy," Teddy has upset all the old dope about scholars being grinds, and proved, during his sojourn in the old classic halls, that a scholar can also be an all-around man. If you don't believe it, just gaze upon his list of activities. Aside from biology (sh-sh-evolution) Ted's pet subject is the terpsichore, where the soft mellow lights play upon his curly locks and the nineteenth century side-burns, thus explaining the much mooted question "Why girls leave home." Doctor Rainey still believes that it must have been Sanford who made out the questionnaires for the government during the World War. However, Ted isn't worried over the fact since Doc always answered in a way that was quite satisfactory. Ted's aspirations lie along surgical lines and we predict that he will be very successful since he is pretty much of a cut-up.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON SPENCER

Guerrant, Kentucky; Highland High School; Chamberlain Literary Society.

If you will, you can.
If you can, you should.
Therefore, press on!

"Aleck." Alexander Hamilton is already quite a famous name, and now it is up to Alec to add the third ingredient. At least he must strive to avoid meeting any Aaron Burrs. Time will be when Alec will be a full-fledged saw-bones, and will shake a ruthless knife, and dispense a wicked pill. He is the kind of a man with whom we should all become intimate, for soon he will have the power to sign prescriptions, and then he will be a much sought after person. Alec, you came, you saw, you conquered. Here's pep to your step.

MONTE BRUCE STEELE

Danville, Kentucky; Georgetown Academy.

"If happiness and gayety are speed, my race is won."

Rumor has it that Bruce entered college merely for the purpose of selling Buicks to the professors. But however that may be, he stuck to the ship and pulled into port with all cylinders hitting (occasionally). Many have been his experiences in the past few moons, varying from being held up and robbed of several spark plugs to demonstrating new cars to old ladies. Bruce says that it is a great life, but one mustn't weaken. But the boy's one crowning glory is his hair, and we have recently learned that he is to receive a great salary for demonstrating Titzer's Tonic for Trailing Tresses. We know that he will be a success, for in that position he will be given free permission to use his head.

GEORGE HAMBLETON TAPP

Springfield, Kentucky; Springfield High School; Beta Theta Pi; Deinologian Literary Society; Assistant in English '21-'22.

"Tapp." Ham is such a dignified young man that he seems much older than his years. This dignity is seen in his every move and act, and it has been his greatest attribute throughout his college life. Ham, while not an athlete, holds the "egg breaking" championship of Old Centre and has met and defeated all comers in hand-gripping contests. It is rumored that he acquired this ability in the early days of his youth, while on a large dairy farm. Ham was an ardent "Y" worker just before the Winchester convention and gave a delightful account of the social activities he enjoyed while there. Tapp has not yet decided what profession he will conquer, but we can rest assured that wherever he goes his pipe shall be his constant companion.

NED GRAHAM WESLEY

Bethelridge, Ky.; Greenville High School, Ohio;
Chamberlain Literary Society.

"Knowledge to my soul
Is as sunlight to a growing plant."

"Ned" worked on the plan that he who makes vacation out of school days makes school out of vacation, and therefore he made hay while the sun shone. Many is the lad who has been helped by old Ned when the time for the crossing of the Rubicon came. If a professor called on Ned, and the desired answer was not forthcoming, the class was immediately dismissed, for all hope was lost. But we all have our faults, and Ned's life was almost ruined by his terrible desire to chew tobacco, but he has taken the cure, and all things point to his becoming a great man, if given time.

JOHN LEE WEST

Oneida, Tennessee; Robbins High School; Chamberlain Literary Society; Howard College; Biology Club.

"Lee." This man spent two years of his college life in another institution before he saw the light clearly, as he did not enter Centre until the beginning of the Junior year. Most students are of the opinion that West has very little to say, but these are the men who have never had the privilege of hearing him debate within the halls of the Chamberlain Literary Society. On these occasions there is such an unending flow of words, and such a display of oratory that the great Demosthenes himself would recognize his superior in West. West is an exceptionally good student and we feel assured that he is preparing himself for a career that will place him among the leading men in the medical profession of the days to come. Here's to you, old boy, and good luck wherever you go.

LEWIS CHURCHILL YEAGER

Danville, Kentucky; Centre College Academy; Phi Delta Theta; Deinologian Literary Society; Sock and Buskin.

"Jake," "Yage." Some men go to college and burn the midnight oil, and others burn the natural gas. Here is a free-flowing well that cannot be surpassed anywhere. Stock promoters have always talked of the great oil and gas deposits of this State, and "Jake" is certainly the proof of the latter. At the beginning of his college career "Jake" had ambitions of becoming a great biologist, but this plan was nipped in the bud by a heartless professor who had more wisdom than to allow another Yeager to enroll in his class. "Jake" is also a recognized authority on fraternities, Fords, women, wine, cards and dice, and anything pertaining to Boyle County. As an ex tempore speaker he is second to none, and for all we know he may become a second William Jennings Bryan.

Senior History

THE fall of 1918 saw the largest Freshman Class in the history of Centre College. From a scraggly ninety students of the previous year, old Centre's enrollment leaped to two hundred and sixty men. Perhaps the "call to arms" accounted for it, more than the desire to imbibe of the Fountain of Knowledge, for that was the year of the S. A. T. C.

Regardless of our strength in numbers, the Sophomore Class took upon themselves the privilege of entertaining us with the usual "reception." We were cordially greeted at the door of the post office, where, upon entering, we had the honor of inscribing our names on the roll of initiates of Centre College. Then the party was in progress. We ran several gauntlets, rolled peanuts with our noses, paged unknown and unborn individuals, and capped the evening's entertainment with a performance at "Doc" Stout's "movie" Emporium. According to Dr. Ganfield, we were now full-fledged Centre men.

Until the first of October we enjoyed college life; then the S. A. T. C. confined most of us to military life. Only those who were under age or undeveloped physically were allowed to proceed peaceably. Breck Hall was converted into barracks and here we drilled and worked faithfully for ourselves, Centre and Uncle Sam. Some of us who had had previous military training or showed signs of intelligence in this line of work were recommended to officers training camps. But the recommendation was all these military geniuses received, for the war ended and soon afterwards Breck Hall was no longer barracks, but a solemn anti-bellistic dormitory as of yore.

After the Christmas holidays many of our class did not return. But a jolly bunch of fellows did come back to unlock the secrets of learning. The next big event in our lives was the "flag rush." After an easy struggle, it is needless to say, that the Class of '21 was ingloriously defeated. Revenge was sweet after what had happened to us at their hands!

The Centennial Carnival came in June—the best and most widely advertised carnival that Centre had known. The old school was then one hundred years old, and many of her devoted sons returned for a visit to their Alma Mater. After several days of celebrating, we all departed until the next fall.

Our second year started with the usual registration and matriculation under Dr. Crooks and Miss Woods. Still more of our class did not return, but those of us that were present were loyal Centre men.

Our football team was second to none in the country. Each man on the team was awarded a gold football decorated with a diamond and the inscription "Champions of the U. S. A." This was accomplished by the defeat of West Virginia by the score of 14 to 6. Those of our class on the team were "Red" Roberts,

"Lefty" Whitnell, Ben Cregor, "Sully" Montgomery, "Chick" Murphy and Tom Moran. Roberts was selected by Walter Camp for his Third All-American Team. This team put old Centre in the limelight of the football world.

Our basket ball team was quite successful, winning the Southern Championship. We played an important part in this also. In the spring the "flag rush" was repeated with the same result to the Class of '23 as was experienced by '21. Out-numbered five to one, that which seemed impossible was accomplished. Again we were the victors.

The next year we returned as Juniors—a justly proud moment in our lives. Our class was still supreme and was yet striving for more honors and new worlds to conquer. In the fall our football team was a "whiz" but was unfortunate. We were defeated but not disgraced by Harvard. The score was 31 to 14 in Harvard's favor; the public at large recognized this as a creditable showing for Centre. The 14 points were scored by two members from our ranks, Roberts and Whitnell. This was the most noteworthy event in our lives during our first year as upper-classmen. The remainder of the year was spent studiously and pleasantly.

The past September marked the beginning of the last days of our scholastic race. By various tricks of fate and fortune we had new additions to our ranks. They are Norris Armstrong, "Bo" McMillin, Lisle Baker, "Slatz" Randall, and Bob Harris.

This year we defeated Harvard 6 to 0. Another honor to Old Centre and the Class of '22. "Red" Roberts made Camp's First All-American Team, and "Bo" the Second.

But our honors are not all of athletic fame. We are indeed a heterogeneous and talented group. Putting aside our athletes we have Sandford and Baker, our literary men; Hynes, our orator and debater; Larry Caudill, our contortionist; Bob Harris, our artist; Jacky Cottrell, our hypnotist; Randall, our musician; and Bobby Clelland, our politician. These are but a few of our stellar performers. Too numerous to mention are our shining lights in society; some of us "fuss" the ladies, while others are "fussed" by the ladies.

The time comes when even the best of friends must part; and thus does Time decree that the best of classes must depart from its seat of learning. As the curtain is drawing over our little "four-act play," let us hope that our accomplishments have not amounted to naught, but that we may bring credit and honor to our future enterprises, such as we have brought to Old Centre and the Class of '22.

Junior Class History

"Ye sons of old Centre who love your Alma Mater,
Whose spirits spread for an hundred years
Upon the land and water,
Let your glorious spirit now be free
To listen to the story
Of how the Class of Twenty-three
Bids fair to join your ranks of fame and glory."

DEAR reader, even though you have become bored by now, will not you let your glance move over this page and refresh your minds on the "doings" of the Class of Twenty-three? Many of our original number have dropped by the wayside—entered the class of the industrious, embarked upon the Sea of Matrimony, or "working for the Old Man"—but we that are left are proud of our class and our college.

We entered old Centre in the fall of '19, one hundred strong and green as the average bunch of Freshmen. The first day, we entered the "lion's den," in charge of Dr. Crooks, the registrar, and received our little classification cards. On the third day we started our classes and soon learned that "the dog's bite is not as fierce as his bark." Of course, some of us were roped in by the ferocious Greeks on the campus but that didn't help us any when it came time for us to be introduced to the ways of Centre—said introduction being made by the Sophomores and termed the "Freshman Initiation." Kind reader, have you ever been so humiliated that you just wanted to crawl in a hole and pull said hole in after you? Well, such a state of affairs existed that night early in September, 1919. After various stunts performed on Main Street and at Stout's Theatre, we ran that terrible gauntlet in front of the K. C. W. girls. Thus we became "Sons of Old Centre."

In athletics we are hard to surpass. We have men on all the teams. For instance, on the "Wonder Team" we have "Terrible Terry" (Hall Terry) Snowday, "Hump" (John Porter) Tanner, and "Man O' War" (Thomas Glen) Bartlett. If you have followed the victories of Centre's football team, you already know what these men have done on the gridiron. In basket ball Snowday held down the back guard position to perfection. A regular record-breaker is our Kimble. He runs the mile and half-mile in a way that is beyond comparison. Our men on the baseball team are the best—"Nick" (Ralph E.) Carter and "Lefty" (Edwin A.) Whitnell.

And then, in the society columns, the Class of Twenty-three can always be found. We are giving a Junior Prom this spring, the first in the history of the college.

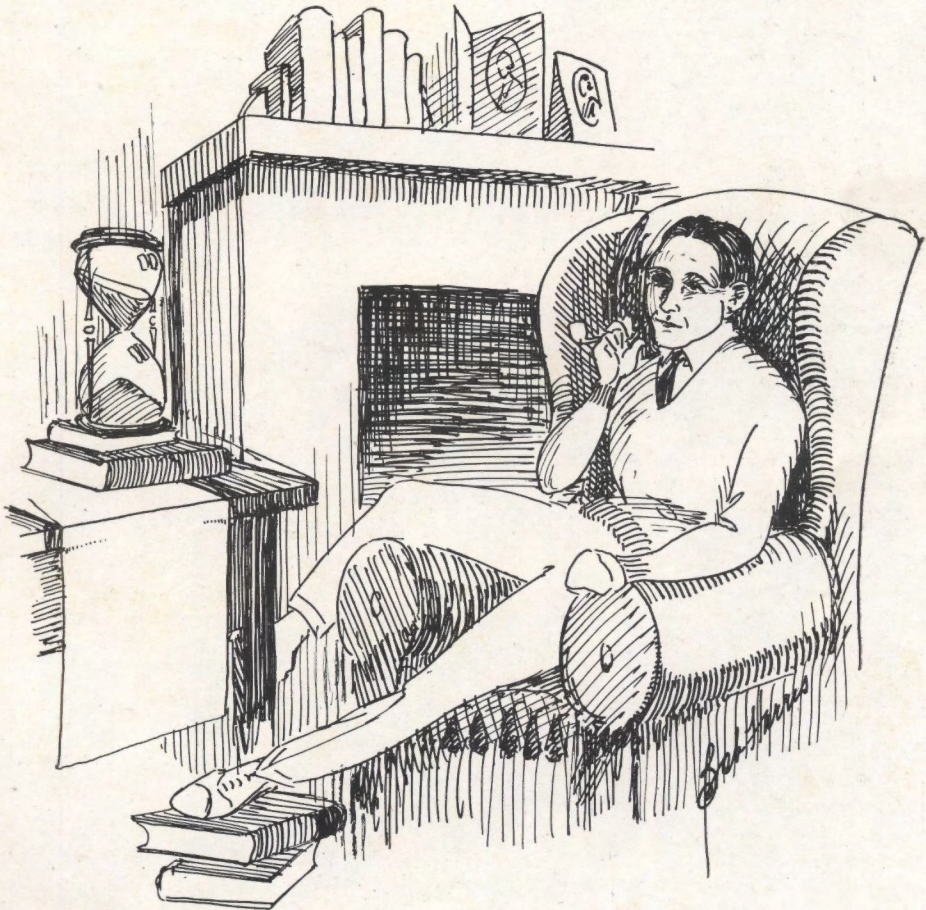

Why yes, I believe we did have a couple of flag rushes—one when we were Freshmen, and the other when we were Sophomores. Who won? Don't kid us, please!

Thus is written the history of the Class of Twenty-three. In closing, let us say to our dear alumni and fellow students that we have done and will always do our best, that we have the spirit of old Centre in our hearts, and that we shall forever honor your Alma Mater, and ours to be, in defeat and glorify her in victory.

"Place the Class of Twenty-three among the rest
Who've done their duty well,
And to the classes following,
Someone this story tell.

Geo. Swinebroad.

Sophomore Class History

Dogmatic jargon learnt by heart,
 Trite sentences, hard terms of art,
 To vulgar ears seem so profound,
 They fancied learning in the sound.

BEFORE the portals of Old Centre on September 14, 1920, there stood an awe-stricken group of one hundred fifty strong awaiting the opportunity of entering and enrolling their names upon the book which every Centre man considers their own "Who's Who." In the meantime grave thoughts filled the Freshman's mind, and the mysteries of a possible hazing, followed by a series of jokes and pranks to which he might be subjected, but which he learns later need only to be met with sportsmanlike spirit. That, we feel, our class showed in the flag rush. We overwhelmed our enemies and placed our standard on high, thus proving to ourselves and our enemies that we had "arrived" and were going to be a telling factor in all lines of college work. Each man accepted our victory—not as a background to pose before, but as a challenge and inspiration to put his true and best spirit in his work.

After a test of his metal for several weeks the Fresh gradually settles down to the usual round of college life, meantime being careful not to be too much in evidence and at the same time he senses, as his first year advances, that strength is being added to his wings and he longs for the day when he, a full-fledged Sophomore, can try out the Fresh as the parent eagle tries the young entrusted to him, and, in the way of counter play, gives unto others as he has received.

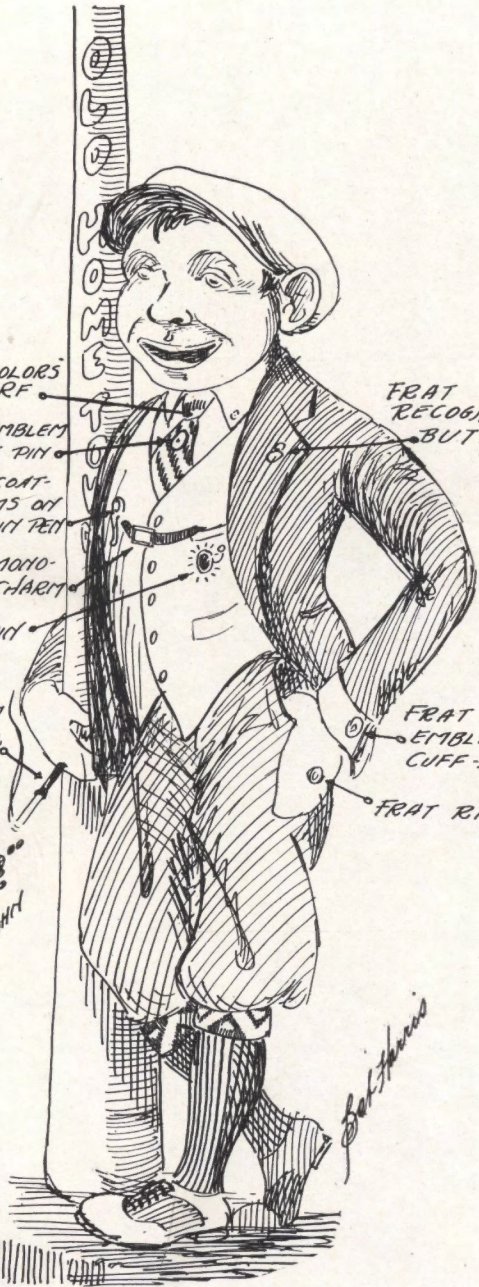

After weathering the persecution of the upper classmen we embark with full sails on the second year of our college career. With those persecutions still fresh in our memory we plan revenge. No doughty warrior of old could use more strategy in making life miserable for a sworn enemy. Our class distinguished itself in every line of college activity, especially in athletics and academic work—appreciating in full that it is only through a development of both that a man is brought to his highest point of usefulness and thereby becomes a true friend to himself and his Alma Mater.

History of Freshman Class

ON September the fourteenth, when our crowd assembled together for the first time, we caused much talk among the Sophomores, not only because of the special promise as men of superior intelligence and because of our individual makeup, but also because of the very large number of us, whom they will have to face on the night of the flag rush.

The Sophs gave us three weeks to get acquainted, after which certain rules were published by which the actions of the Class of '25 were governed. Just a few weeks later these same Freshmen were assembled at the post office and were taxed one dollar for having the privilege of wearing a white and gold cap with our numerals on the front. We were all enrolled in the Sophomore travel tour. The night was one of rare beauty, with the gorgeous moon smiling down on us as we were boldly staggering through a proposal, or singing at Stout's Emporium, or on the old half-worn telephone pole giving a speech on the "Revival of Bunk." Then the word in the air seemed to be K. C. W., and without a moment's hesitation we were driven there and put through the old historic gauntlet.

The athletic teams of the school have been strengthened considerably by the Freshmen. In football and basket ball, although not veterans, we showed the spirit and fight of such. In baseball and track, whose season is drawing nigh, we have many promising candidates of whom we expect much. In the literary circles we have many promising orators and debaters who will soon be known throughout the State because of their ability to sway the angry mob.

At the beginning of school one of the most dreaded rules of the Sophs was that no Fresh could have dates with the fair sex. During that time this hindered our social activities greatly. At Thanksgiving we were relieved of the burden of these rules and all omens point to the fact that we have made up for lost time and are advancing rapidly. We are fortunate in having in our class two men whom I have heard several beautiful young ladies term as the "he vamps" of Centre College. Is not this a great honor for our noble class?

Upon entering Danville to begin our college career, we were all green to the core. Some of us thought ourselves wise, but in reality were greener than the rest. No sooner were we settled than the Greeks began to harpoon us with their wiles. Some of us were caught in a "hot box"; some sweated through it, and others staggered and groped blindly.

As a fellow classman said in a meeting the other day in regards to the coming flag rush, "The Sophs know very well that they cannot win the flag rush by brute force due to the superior number of us. They are going to resort to brain work to put the deed across." Does not this seem humorous? If our guests so wish, they may lie on the greensward to their hearts' content. At eleven p. m. there will be a flag raising with the numerals of '25 written thereon done by us in the honor or dishonor of our visitors.

The Class of '25 will go down in history as a class well deserving what honor and reputation it has gained, and, from the record made in the past, it is safe to predict that the men will do greater things than any class of Old Centre, not only through the remaining years here but after they scatter over the country to take their places in the world of business and professionalism.

History

As the ninety-fourth year of her famous history draws to a close, the Chamberlain Literary Society feels proud that her undying reputation for consistent and constructive work along literary and humanistic lines has been kept on that high plane which her glorious past demands. As the oldest literary organization, in point of continuous existence, west of the Alleghenys, and as the first body of men to organize in Centre College, the Chamberlain Literary Society has a peculiar hold on the minds and hearts of its members that few organizations of such nature can have.

The nearly doubled membership of the Society over last year, shows a revival of interest in things literary in Centre College which is exceedingly gratifying. The Society backed the appearance of Vachel Lindsay in Danville both financially, and by turning out practically to a man to hear him.

This year Mr. Collins and Mr. Hynes, representing Chamberlain, won first and third places in the annual 22nd of February Oratorical Contest. Mr. Collins also ably represented Centre College in the State Oratorical Contest.

The history of Old Centre and the history of Chamberlain are so closely linked, and so many of the men who have left Centre's halls to gain prominence in the world have been members of Chamberlain, that the interests and benefits which have come to Chamberlain are practically identical with those of Centre. The motto, "Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom," which Jeremiah Chamberlain, first president of Centre and the founder of the Society, bestowed upon the organization, still serves to spur her members on to greater efforts for Centre and for Chamberlain.

History

The Deinologian Literary Society was organized in the year 1835 by a number of the students of Centre College, who were discontented with Chamberlain. Or, perhaps, she was discontented with them; but however that may be, their successors have certainly followed in their footsteps, for they have been discontented with Chamberlain and she with them, ever since.

The most distinguished son of Deinologian's early days is without doubt John C. Breckenridge who held many important offices and among them that of Vice President of the United States.

Among the famous members of whom the Deinologian Society is especially proud as having gone forth from her walls are: John Young Brown, a former Governor of the State; Thomas T. Crittenden, an ex-Governor of Missouri and ex-Congressman from the same state; Thomas Z. Morrin, the famous Circuit Judge of the Eighth Kentucky District; William C. Young, a former distinguished President of Centre College; John W. Yerkes, who was the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue Washington, D. C.; and Judge Alex P. Humphrey and J. Boyle noted members of the Louisville Bar.

Not only do we glory in the recollections and traditions of the past, but we are proud of Deinologian's present record. The Deinologian members have worked well.

A. C. Newlin, E. C. Newlin, and S. V. Noe represented the society in the Ernst Debate.

George Yeaman represented the society in the Oratorical Contest.

With the start that she is getting now, Deinologian's future, let us hope, will be to turn out state men, orators, and writers who will surpass those of the past.

Seventeenth Annual Centre College Carnival

June 12, 13, 14, 1922
Danville, Kentucky

WE are all over-anxious to get to Centre in the fall and have the same strong feeling to get away in the spring, and the Centre College Athletic Carnival is the yearly crowning event of every Centre student's year's work.

When the reign of duty and responsibility is past, and the glittering sun shines on the rich meadows, shadowy woodland and smiling gardens of paradise regained, the most famous spot on this earth for its luring atmosphere, and famous through all precedent for its hospitable environment—the Kentucky Bluegrass—the happiness of combined youth and love simply bursts forth in the heart of every youth present, and in most cases their climax is the result, after having been given full sway during the carnival which always takes place in the early part of June.

An eventful week, unique of its kind, and one which has been forever filled with dearest memories for all those fortunate young men whom the star of destiny had led to the pursuit of an elusive higher education at Centre College, is the great Carnival week. The round of merriment and festivities with which Centre College has been wont to greet the full flower of radiant spring and the kiss with which she sends forth enthusiastic and favored sons to fight their battles in the arena of life.

The round of festivities starts with the Alumnae Reception, at which the fathers and mothers of the sons of Old Centre reminisce with each other and partake of the always revolutionized social events of the present day.

Throughout the Carnival days the colonels of Centre contend for the smiles of their ladies fair in tennis and baseball with other institutions that are always glad to receive the Carnival invitation.

The feature of the second night is the Carnival play in which the best of amateur talent of Centre has a chance to shine forth, and much better of late years, since the affiliation of the famous dramatic organization of Centre College—The Sock and Buskin.

And then on the last night of the Carnival, which is the most eventful of all, the Queen of Queens crowns her escort King of All with a wreath of immortal laurel and they are the most highly honored host and hostess of the far-famed Carnival Dance, famous in Kentucky and the South as the gayest and most brilliant social affair of the year. Also, during a short intermission between the coronation and the dance, C's are formally awarded those honored few who have earned them during the then ending year of college athletics. The dance, which is the glorious and never-forgotten finale, carries on into the hours of the day to be.

Thus endeth, but never forgotten, the days of each college year at Dear Old Centre College.

Uncle Charlie

Chief

Thornhill

Uncle Charlie—"Unk" adds new laurels to his crown every year. This has been his fifth and greatest year and the year in which he gained his end, to beat Harvard. By his fairness and cleanliness he has made the wonderful spirit of our team possible and to him we owe a debt of gratitude. We are told that the biggest and best thing we get in college is to know a man or two. To know Uncle Charlie has been indeed an education.

Chief—The moving force in an organization is not always the most outstanding one. The more we look into the history of the wonderful Praying Colonels the more we will appreciate what Chief has done for us. To him we owe our life. He got together the nucleus of the present team, got Uncle Charlie, got the games, did all the work of organizing and still carries on with a spirit which we would give a leg to have.

Thornhill—"Tiny" made the Harvard victory possible. He made the line. The need of a line coach was long felt at Centre but we never realized what one could do until Thornhill came. Although a stranger, he fell into the trend of our spirit immediately. Every day he was out on the field giving the line all he had and you see the result, Harvard 0, Centre 6.

McGee—The work of managing a team like the team we had this year is a job and requires unending time, patience, and energy. Johnny had all of these and gave with all his heart. By his efforts he kept the "men higher-up" free from being worried by routine matters and so able to devote their full energy to the direction of the team. His cheerful co-operation is appreciated by all of us.

OLD CENTRE

JAMES B. ROBERTS (RED), Somerset, Ky., End and Fullback. Age 22; height, six feet; weight, 210; All-Kentucky, '18, '19, '20, '21; All-Southern '21; Third All-American, '19; First All-American '21 Captain-Elect '22

Roberts. Red came back into his own this past season, making Camp's and nearly every other All-American team and was conceded to be one of the most valuable men in football. Red recovered his old spirit and it transformed him. He does everything on the offensive and defensive, and possesses superb ability in every department. As next year's captain we are assured of a leader who can do everything that needs to be done and keep Centre football at the top.

NORRIS ARMSTRONG (ARMY), Fort Smith, Ark., Halfback. Age 23; height, five feet, ten inches; weight, 162; All-Kentucky '18, '19, '20, '21; Captain '21; All-Southern '21.

Armstrong. There comes a time when we all have to part but that does not reconcile us to losing Army, Captain of Centre's most famous team. A remarkable halfback, a man whose athletic ability showed such finish that he made all hard things look easy. We are up against a big job to fill his place. Army goes away with a host of friends who remember him as a gentleman of the highest type, of superior intelligence and ability, who is destined to achieve great things.

OLD CENTRE

ALVIN NUGENT McMILLIN (BO), Fort Worth, Texas. Quarterback. Age 26; Height, five feet 9½ inches; weight, 175; Captain, '19, '20, All-Kentucky, '17, '18, '19, '20, '21; All-Southern, '18, '19, '20, '21; All-American, '19; Second All-American, '20, '21.

McMillin, Bo has won so many honors that anything added here would be like gilding the lily. With a reputation probably never excelled by any football player, Bo has wound up his playing career in a blaze of glory, setting a high mark for others to aim at in the future. He will go down in football history as one of its great outstanding stars. Bo can never be replaced because there are no more like him.

TERRY SNOWDAY, Owensboro, Ky., End. Age 22; height, five feet, ten inches; weight, 175; All-Kentucky '20, '21; All-Southern '21. Honorable mention Walter Camp '21.

Snowday. Why the All-American team choosers do not see Terry is beyond our comprehension because he is certainly a wonderful player. We think he has it all over everybody we have ever seen at broken field running. He is the best man of them all in handling a forward pass with his defensive work ranging a way up high. Terry's spirit is the best imaginable. We are expecting him to reach his proper rank as a great star next season.

JOHN P. TANNER (HUMP) Owensboro, Ky., Fullback. Age 23; height, five feet, six inches; weight, 155; All-Kentucky '21.

Tanner. Hump is probably the smallest big league fullback in the business and one of the best. He gets better every year. Can smack the line wide open, take the ball around end, dodge like a rabbit, drop-kick, catch passes and lay 'em down on defense and run interference. Hump knows his stuff and does it. With him back on the job Centre's stock stays high.

EDWIN KUBALE, Fort Smith, Ark., Center. Age 21; height, six feet; weight 175; All-Kentucky; All-Southern.

Kubale. Center, had the hardest position to fill on the Centre football team, as the center of the year before was an All-American man, and he had to learn from the ground up our system of play. With his being a natural athlete and football player and a student of anything he attempts, he played the position in a way both on offense and defense that he will always be classed as one of the greatest centers that ever played on a Centre team.

WILLIAM P. SHADOAN, (SHAD), Somerset, Ky.,
Guard. Age 27; height, six feet; weight, 192; All-Kentucky '21.

Shadoan. Guard. As a soldier and officer overseas, and football player, was honored before he came to Centre playing on the service team coached by Eddie Mahan of Harvard. He is one of the most consistent linemen in the South. With him at Centre the position at right guard will be taken care of for the next three years. Shad not only gets the benefit of athletics but is one of the best students in college and takes advantage of all the best features of college life.

WILLIAM N. JAMES (BILL), Fort Worth, Texas,
Tackle. Age 23; height, five feet, 9½ inches; weight, 170; All-Kentucky, '18, '19, '20, '21; All-Southern, '21.

James. Sorghum Bill goes away this year with the admiration and affection of every Centre man. Everybody knows he is one of the smartest and best football players anywhere and played end this year after three seasons of tackle, so good it could not be any better. And we will just stop long enough to shake old Bill's hand and tell the world Centre never sent out a finer man. Telling old Bill good bye hurts us right down where we live.

OLD CENTRE

GEORGE R. JONES (BUCK), Dallas, Texas, Guard. Age 19; height, five feet, seven inches; weight, 213; All-Kentucky '21; All-Southern '21.

Jones. Buck is a corking good guard and a fighting fool. One of the boys who made monkeys out of those who figured Centre's line easy. An earnest player, fast and active, good on either interference or defensive. He is the best natured fellow in the world but would fight a buzz saw in a football game. Always a sportsman and gentleman. If Buck shows as much improvement next year as he did this past season, he will be one of the best guards in the country.

GEORGE CHINN, Harrodsburg, Ky., End. Age 20; height, five feet, eleven inches; weight, 183.

Chinn. In spite of injuries to his knee, George played a very good game throughout the entire season. He is a powerful man in the line, strong on offense, and equally as good on defense. He is fast, charges low, and breaks up many of his opponents' plays before they have an opportunity to get started. It matters little to George where he plays, all he asks is a chance to get in and battle.

OLD CENTRE

RICHARD GIBSON, (DICK) Louisville, Ky., Guard. Age 20; height, six feet; weight, 180.

Gibson. Handicapped all during the early part of the season by miserable condition, resulting from long illness, Gibson developed into an excellent lineman. He absorbed Tiny Thornhill's uptown technic and was always a power in the line. This boy certainly did deal them miserly and you would find him always in the middle of every scrimmage. With the benefit of this year's big league experience he is bound to be a bear next season.

TOM BARTLETT, Owensboro, Ky., Halfback. Age, 24; height, five feet, 10½ inches; weight, 154; All-Kentucky '21.

Bartlett. When Tom is in half-way decent physical condition he ranks with the best and he always gives to the utmost. Some of the most brilliant playing of the season was done by Tom—fine on defense, end runner, passer and punter. Even though weak from illness much of the time he played a whale of a game. Hard worker and conscientious every minute. An extremely valuable man.

1922

OLD CENTRE

RAY CLASS, Middletown, Ohio, Halfback. Age 19; height, five feet, ten inches; weight, 169.

Class. Ray is the type of player that is always a great asset to any football team due to his exceptional ability as a kicker. He can put them between the bars, consistently from the thirty yard line by dropkicking as well as being a remarkably good punter. We regret very much that he will not be back with us next year.

MINOS T. GORDY, Abbeyville, La., Tackle. Age 21; height, five feet, ten inches; weight, 178; All-Kentucky '21; All-Southern '21.

Gordy. Left Tackle. One of the very few boys who was a star in prep and made good from the start in college football. After he had played fullback in prep he accepted the job of playing line at Centre in a place where he was needed most, was a real star at it, an did it in a spirit that showed he was a real Centre man; has certainly made good in college not only as a football player but as a student and gentleman. Is very popular among the student body.

OLD CENTRE

CLIFTON W. LEMON, Mayfield, Ky., Halfback. Age 20; height, five feet, nine inches; weight, 155.

Lemon. This boy showed enough stuff last season to make us all feel mighty good over the fact he will be back for next season. He is speedy, big and strong, can tote the ball and catch forward passes. He will look extra good in that backfield next year. If his defensive work improves in proportion to his offensive play we can ask for nothing better.

BEN W. GREGOR (BALDY), Springfield, Ky., Guard. Age, 23; height, five feet, ten inches; weight, 178; All-Kentucky '20, '21; All-Southern '21.

Gregor. Ben's record on the team has been an admirable one. Three seasons he played guard and then last year he distinguished himself at tackle. Here is a real football player. Has grown wise in all tricks and technic of his position. Was a main stay of the immortal line that won the day at Harvard. Ben is a leader in many other lines as well—a true sportsman and high minded gentleman. To lose a man like Ben from the team is one of the hardest things a coach has to face. We all pray that he will come back.

OLD CENTRE

ROYCE N. FLIPPIN, (ANDY), Somerset, Ky., Guard
Age 19; height, six feet; weight, 175.

Flippin. Andy is going to be big and strong enough one of these days to play one whole side of the line by himself. Nobody wearing the Centre uniform tries any harder or gives more of himself than Andy. Considering his youth and the fact he has been shifted from one position to another, he plays a mighty strong game, and he is due to come into his own this coming year. We predict with a little more experience in fast company he will develop into a great lineman. Heretofore every position to which he aspired was held by a seasoned veteran but watch old Andy come up next season.

HERBERT COVINGTON (HERB), Mayfield, Ky., Halfback. Age 19; height, five feet, seven inches; weight, 155.

Covington, like Kubale, will have a very hard position to fill next year as he will have to take the place of Bo Mc-Millin and direct the team's play but if he continues to improve as he did during the past season we predict he will become one of the greatest generals in Southern football. He is already a great individual player but to be a great general and to direct the play of others requires more than individual ability to carry the ball. We hope that Cov. will make a study of this point and return to us next fall with his mind made up to direct eleven men in a manner that his college and team know that he can do.

1922

OLD CENTRE

ROBERT L. THOMASSON (CASE), Newport, Ky.,
Fullback. Age 18; height, six feet; weight, 170.

Thomasson has shown in several games that he has both ability and class, and the coaches are very proud to know that they have such material as he to depend on in the back-field for 1922. We predict that he will even be a better fullback than Roberts was in 1919 as he showed wonderful improvement during the past season. Always a good hard and consistent worker, giving the team his very best at all times. We are sure that he will be one of the big cogs in our 1922 eleven.

JOE MURPHY (MURPH), Columbus, Ohio,
Quarterback and Halfback. Age 24; height, five feet, 5½ inches; weight, 130.

Murphy. We will have to give little Joe the credit of winning the V. P. I. game, coming in as he did at the critical moment, reeling over one big gain after another, putting the ball in position to score, and injecting new life into a jaded and demoralized team. Not very big in size to be sure but a lion in heart, a crusader in spirit, and concentrated dynamite in a football suit. It would not be the same without Joe so here's hoping and expecting for next year.

OLD CENTRE

DON BEANE, (DON) Pittsburg, Pa., Guard. Age 19; height, five feet, seven inches; weight, 175.

Beane. Don is not so very big but he is a real guard just the same. He knows most of the inside stuff about his position and more than holds up his end of the job. He plays a very scientific game and handles himself extra well. We are counting on Don as one of our mainstays next year. His name will be in big type soon.

FRANK RUBARTH, Gatesville, Texas, Tackle. Age 22; height, five feet, eleven inches; weight, 170.

Rubarth. This Texas long-horn thinks a little more of football than he does his right eye. He shows promise of being a wonderful lineman. Frank is not only a high class football man but is an excellent student and a fine unselfish gentleman. His spirit never falters and the coaches look for him to make a big name for himself next year. He does not care where you play him just so he gets to play and the way he tears into them is a caution.

Football

THE year 1921 saw Centre College do many things on the gridiron. She did in one afternoon what many of the greatest universities in the land had been trying in vain for five years to do—to beat Harvard. Famous coaches have picked their men from thousands and thousands of students and have trained them in spacious gyms and upon historic athletic fields have had assistants by the score and money by the peck but they were not able to accomplish what Centre had set her heart on and got: Centre 6, Harvard 0.

It was no inborn superiority or heavenly grace that made Centre's victory possible; it was the result of many aching muscles and an unquenchable fire. She refused defeat.

The season opened with a bang on the first of October when Centre met the strong Clemson aggregation on Cheek Field. The visitors were here for a purpose and made their presence felt throughout the entire game. Centre's new men were subjected to their baptism of fire and could not get their feet. After a closely contested game during which the ball zig-zagged across the middle of the field Centre came off victor by a margin of 14-0. The ball had been in her possession most of the time but because of Clemson's wonderful defensive and the new men's "newness" Centre was not able to get under way.

The eighth of October saw the Colonels struggling on their own field again this time with the aspirants from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. From the moment the game started there was no doubt in the spectators' minds but that V. P. I. had a genuine football machine on the field; and there was some doubt as to what the final score would be. It was in this game that the line, "God bless the line," came into prominence and by no means the least of its strength, Red Roberts. This day was "Jago's" rebirthday on the football field and the beginning of his trip to the All-American. He was everywhere, made tackle after tackle, and opened up wide holes in the Virginia line that could not be filled up. This day also saw a flash of Centre's real power and was an indication of the fact that her new men and her line were to prove her salvation. The final score saw Centre two lengths ahead: Centre 14 V. P. I. 0. Never, since the day of the Camp Taylor game in 1918, has Cheek Field witnessed such a struggling as was seen in the first two games of this season.

Cincinnati was the next to see the victorious Colonels when on the fifteenth of October Centre met St. Xavier College on Redland Field and certainly made the best of it. Although the final whistle saw Centre on the heavy side of a 28-6 score, the Saints made a reputation for themselves. The sterling work of Davis, St. Xavier's half back, was the feature of the game. The Colonels were not up to snuff and could not catch their stride and hold it. Their flashes of offensive form were sufficient to enable them to maintain the lead and the line defended and functioned at the critical moments.

McMillin, Armstrong and James played their last game before Lexington fans when Centre met Transylvania on Thompson Field on October 22, the week before the Harvard game. The Centre first and second squads proved too much for the slender Crimson team and piled up the major portion of the one-sided score of 98-0. The third string men got into the game and were able to score on the shattered eleven. The redeeming feature of the Crimson's work was the great game played by Ryan Thompson, Freshman quarter back. Although the Colonels were working like a machine, and were in the best of form, the Transylvania quarter was able to get away for long gains and hurl passes with deadly accuracy.

The glorious victory which Centre won when she beat Harvard on October 29, 1921, will never be forgotten as long as football lives. Harvard had no excuses to offer. Many teams have come to the stadium, but few have conquered. To have been the first team in five long years to beat Harvard is an accomplishment well worth bragging about.

Centre won by playing safe; she beat Harvard at her own game. The Crimson eleven was ready to cope with the running offensive which the Colonels had displayed the year before, but they could not stand against the line smashing and straight football which was served to them this year.

The playing in the first quarter was confined almost entirely between the twenty-yard lines. There was kicking and line plunging on both sides, and after James recovered a fumble from Chapin, Class went in for Centre and failed at a trial for field goal. After more plunging and exchanges of punts the quarter ended with the ball in Harvard's possession in mid-field.

Although Harvard was inside of Centre's fifteen yard line in the second quarter, the Crimson was unable to score either by field goal or touchdown. Centre put up a stone wall defense on her own thirteen-yard line, and after Buell failed at a field goal Centre took the ball up the field ten yards where she lost to Harvard on a fumble. The Crimson tried two forward passes and another drop kick with no avail, and shortly after Centre put the ball in play on her own 20-yard line, the period closed.

Roberts kicked off for Centre at the beginning of the third quarter. Chapin caught the ball on the two-yard and brought it back to the 15-yard line. On the second line-up the Crimson punted and Bartlett caught the ball in mid-field and brought it back to Harvard's 45-yard line. Harvard was penalized here for tripping and the ball went up to her 30-yard line. On the first line-up McMillin took the ball, and after breaking through Macomber, Chapin and Kunhardt and with a thrilling sprint in which he skillfully dodged three of the Crimson's secondary defense, crossed Harvard's line for the touchdown. After the touchdown there was an exchange of punts, and the ball see-sawed back and forth. Toward the close of the period Harvard again punted. Covington and Bartlett, in three end runs, ran more than half the length of the field and put the ball on the Crimson 30-yard line. A triple pass, McMillin to Bartlett to Snowday, put the ball on Harvard's 11-yard line just as the period ended.

The final period began with Centre in possession of the ball on Harvard's 11-yard line. Harvard substituted, putting in her best men, and Centre lost the ball without gaining. The reinforced Crimson team gained a little through the line but failed at two passes. Harvard punted and Centre advanced the ball only to lose on penalties. Centre punted and Harvard advanced slowly through the line. A forward pass, Buell to Churchill, put the ball on Centre's 3-yard line, but it was called back because of a Crimson off-side play. After failing to gain through the line, they tried to pass, but the pass was intercepted by Bartlett and Centre was rapidly approaching Harvard's goal as the contest came to a close. Centre had won, she had beaten Harvard at her own game.

The glory of the victory does not belong to one man; the team-work of the Colonels won the game. McMillin played a wonderful game. Roberts came second to McMillin alone. His work in the line and in the interference was superb. The interference afforded the Kentucky backs was of the very first order. And the line—God bless the line—held. The whole team held; they hit harder, ran faster, dodged more skillfully and used more head work than ever before. We went to win and left no stone unturned.

The following Saturday, November 5, the victorious Colonels met and defeated the University of Kentucky on Cheek Field. There was a bigger crowd in the stands than has ever been seen in Danville before; it has been estimated at 6,000 or more. The Wildcats were not dangerous at any moment, and after an exhibition of the art by the team which beat Harvard, the second string men were given a chance to show their mettle.

The next formidable opponent was conquered in Birmingham, Alabama, the twelfth of November. Ala. Poly. (Auburn) had been doing a good deal in the Southern football circles, and Centre was in no mood to lose the prestige gained by the Harvard victory. She exhibited such a degree of finesse that the Auburn team was broken to pieces and a score of 21-0 run up against them. The valiant playing of the Colonels endeared them to the thousands who saw the game.

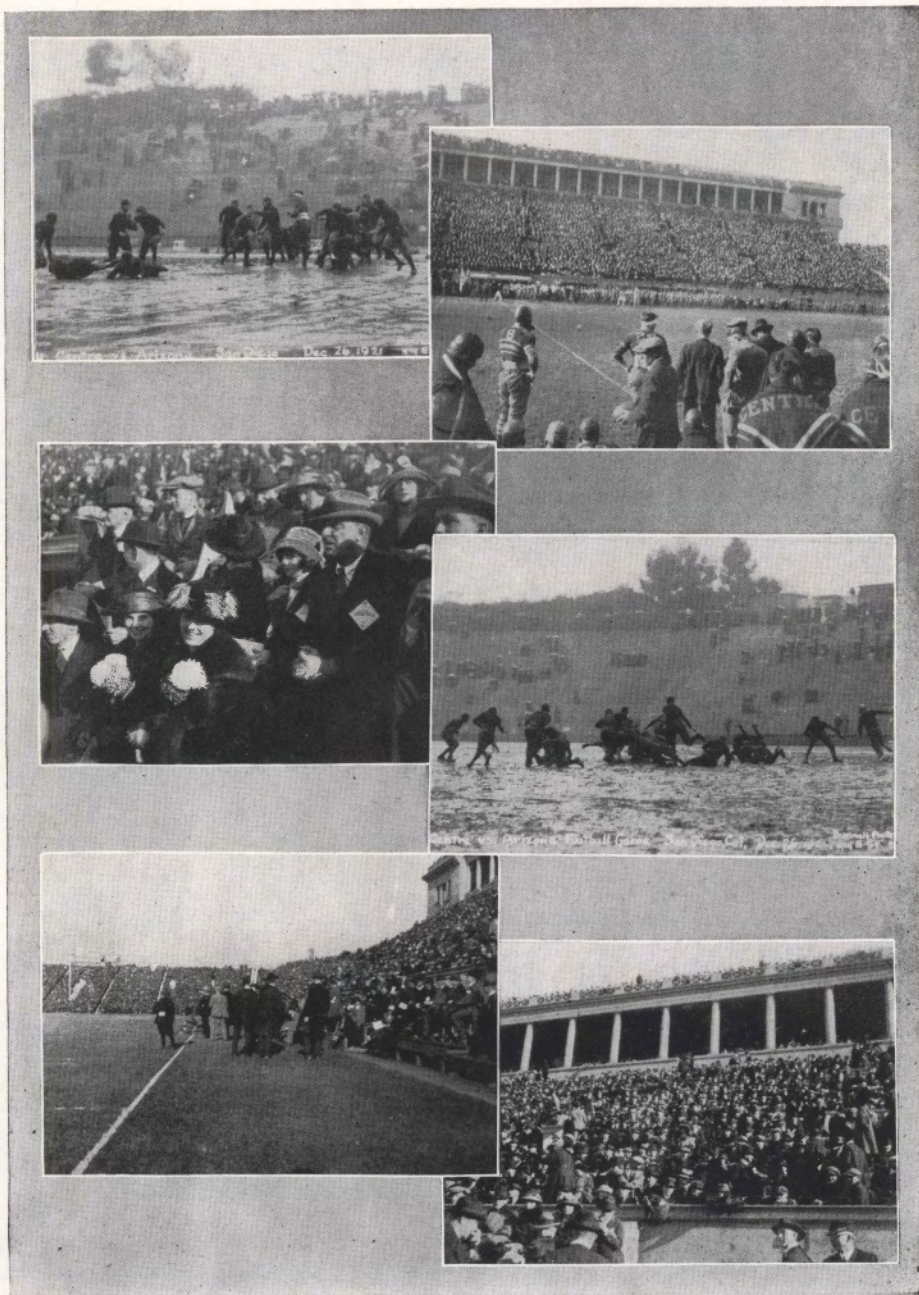

Louisville demanded her chance to see the Colonels in action and got it on November 19. Centre and Washington and Lee journeyed to Louisville and met each other on one of the wettest fields of the year. The fleet Centre backs could not get away in the mud, but they were able to roll up a score of 25-0 in spite of the conditions.

Turkey day, November 24, saw Centre's Prayin' Colonels fighting Tulane in New Orleans with the thermometer 80° F. in the shade. Weather and climate were against them and the Tulane aggregation was out for blood. After a hard-fought contest in which the Centre team could not get together as is her wont, she managed to struggle through with the heavy end of a 21-0 score.

On the sixteenth of December the Prayin' Colonels started on their triumphant march across the country. At every station they were met by crowds of people, and Kentuckians everywhere did their best to entertain them in true Kentucky style. The University of Arizona fell before the Colonels on the twenty-sixth of December in San Diego, Cal. The field was a sea of mud and it rained continually during the game, but Old Centre marched on. From San Diego and California the march led on to Texas, to Fort Worth and to the only defeat of the season. After two weeks on the train, days and nights of entertainment, climatic changes and the excitement of their captain's marriage, the Colonels could not stand against the boys from Texas A. & M. and lost by a margin of one touchdown. The final score on January 2, 1922, was 22-14. The sting of defeat was felt deeply, but did not kill. Because of this reverse and the stimulus from it Centre is anxiously waiting for another chance in 1922.

Centre College and Kentucky are justly proud of the splendid record which her football warriors have won. From among the Praying Colonels have been selected two All-American men and the greater percentage of the All-Southern team. Our boys have completely dominated Kentucky and made it impossible to select an All-Kentucky team without making it All-Centre College too. In their travels—North, South, East and West—the team has been met and treated with a hospitality which they will remember all their days. The wonderful record of the team has been made still more wonderful by the college from which it came and whose sons know nothing but undying loyalty.

ROYCE FLIPPIN

This was "Andy's" second year on the team although his first as a regular. He was the only old man on the squad and proved a strong center around which Coach McMillin built his team. He got the jump on his man and was a hard, consistent player. "Andy" gives promise of being a great athlete soon.

JAMES GREEN

Jimmie is one of our recruits from Louisville. He was one of the leading scorers in the State during the first part of the season. But studies and athletics conflict more or less and Jimmie could not give as much to basket ball as he would have liked to. There are always some boys who bring up the scholastic standing of a team, and here is one who helps the basket ball team. He will go strong next year.

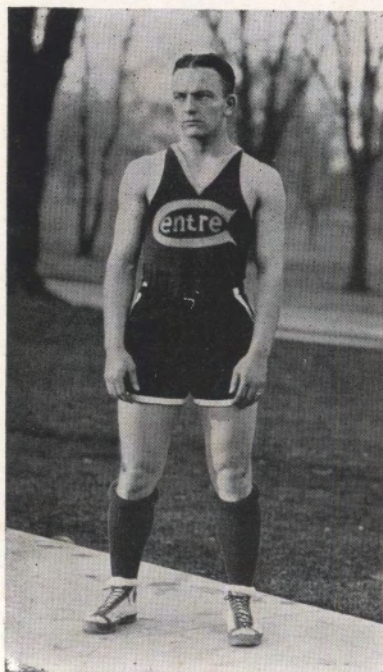

JOSEPH DOOLEY

Dooley is another one of the boys who started out slow but who picked up and came through with flying colors. He was one of the hardest working boys on the floor and contributed much to the morale of the team. He is a fine goal shooter and was one of the principal scorers. He delights in impossible shots and when he is warmed up he can find the basket with his eyes closed.

JOHN HUNTER

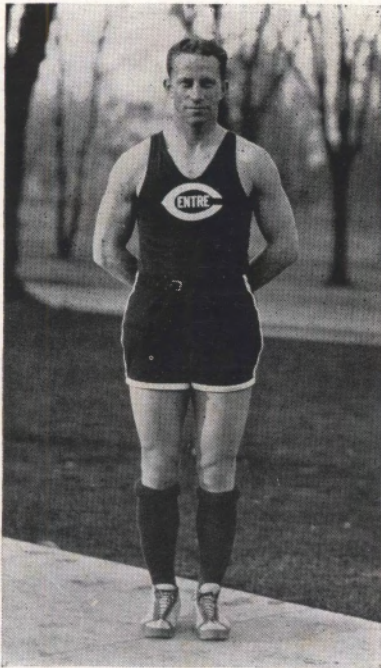

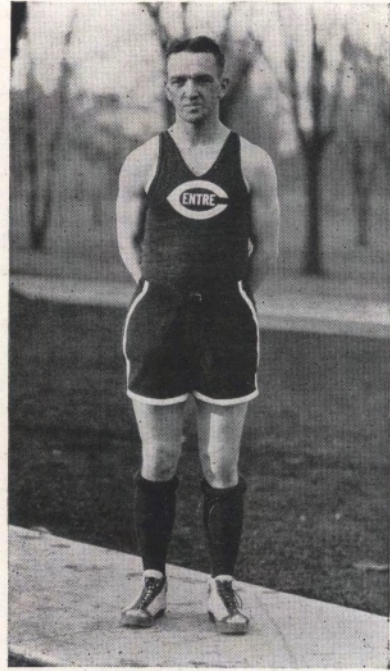

He came all the way from California to make a Centre team and he certainly did it. Hunter was perhaps the hardest, fastest man on the squad. He was at all places at all times, and never slowed up. The spirit and ability which he showed this year indicates a valuable man in future years. Besides basket ball he takes to the other sports with "ball" in them and is going to be one of the best all-around athletes Centre has ever had.

HERBERT COVINGTON

Covington started out slow and for a while it looked as though football had taken his all. But he began to open up by the middle of the season so that he was one of our fastest men. He can dribble wonderfully and can shoot goals. Toward the end of the season he did all the free throwing for the team. Covington is one of our strongest and best prospects for next year.

TERRY SNOWDAY

Terry was one of the greatest assets the team had. His guarding saved many a point and featured in most of the games. Terry plays the same consistent game on the basket ball floor that he does on the gridiron and with as much pep and spirit. He is a great all-around athlete.

Basket Ball

THE wonderful victory which has attended Centre's arms in the last few years was not in evidence during the basket ball season. A green team could not bring home as much bacon as the veteran combinations of the past, but the display of Old Centre spirit which they evidenced would warm the heart of any coach and make any school proud.

Coach McMillin was seriously handicapped this year in having only one letter-man around which to build his team. Royce Flippin was the only member of the last year's team who was eligible to play. The material which turned out for practice was as good as any one might desire, but it requires time to develop a winning combination. The enthusiasm and pep with which the new men took hold was fine, and because of this the name of Old Centre could not suffer inglorious defeat. The team was handicapped throughout the season by not having an elected captain, Flippin acting as captain most of the time under the orders of the coach. It was the newness of the organization which prevented the successful season which we would have liked. But this year saw the foundation laid for one of the best basket ball teams Centre has ever had if the players of this year return to school next year. Besides the letter men the names of Murphy, Brooks, Alexander, Noonan and Leathers deserve mention because of the admirable pep and spirit which they put into their work. The basket ball squad this year was out on the floor working hard every minute and doing this work every afternoon in the week.

Centre's basket ball squad did not pick any easy opponents this year. The second game of the season was played with Depauw, one of the strongest teams in the country. We also had games with Butler College which beat Chicago, Wisconsin and Yale. When we invaded Indiana we did not realize that it meant to go up against the best basket ball State in the country, but everything they got came hard. We were more successful in Kentucky and came off with the second honors. The games which Centre played against Kentucky State were wonderful examples of her fighting blood. Although the Centre squad met defeat at the S. I. A. A. tournament in Atlanta, it took one of the leading teams to do the work. Mercer took on Centre first and entertained her as she did all comers. The Mercer quintet was rated as the best team in the South. After being eliminated from the tournament the squad remained in Atlanta and learned a great deal by watching the other teams display their skill.

The wonderful fight which the green Gold and White squad put up against the Kentucky State quintet deserves special mention. The first game in Danville, was as hard fought a game as has ever been seen on the floor of the Boyle-Humphrey Gymnasium. One side would gain a lead only to be surpassed by the other. At no time of the game could the outcome be prophesied and the final score in which State had a lead by seven points was no disgrace. When our boys stacked up against State again, in Lexington, they were not going as good and allowed a bigger margin to be run up against them. Centre's showing against Kentucky State can only rightly be judged when we remember that Centre had one letter man back to play and Kentucky State had their whole team of last year on the floor again.

The Centre squad had two good trips on their list this year—one at the beginning of the season into Indiana when she met Depauw and Butler; the other toward the close of the season when she went to the S. I. A. A. Tournament at Atlanta. Besides this the team journeyed to Cincinnati and met the University of Cincinnati squad. Coach McMillin received an invitation to take his squad to Havana and play a series of games for the Cuban Athletic Club. It was deemed wisest by the College authorities not to accept this offer.

Centre put up a hard fighting game even though she lacked somewhat in skill. This lack in skill was not in evidence all the time for the team showed flashes of form at times which were fire. It was an invariable rule that she beat her opponent the first half of the game and then lost out in the second half. The new material could not function together successfully for the whole period of the game. This was especially evident at Cincinnati where Centre had the U. C. boys completely whipped by the end of the first half but allowed them to turn the tables in the second half. The five-man defense used by the Centre men made it impossible for any team to score other than by long shots. It may also be said, for the benefit of the Centre squad, that toward the last of the season they gave up long shots entirely and the points scored were from under the basket.

We believe that the Centre team of the next year will be doing great things. The actual scoring this year was not what we might have expected it to be, but a strong foundation has been laid for a winning combination in the future.

Baseball

THE Centre diamond aggregation of the season of 1921 was the original in-and-out organization. In fact, they might well be called the first of the hard-luck clan. When they were working in form, they were a good team; but they were about half the time not working in form. One time they were big leaguers and the next game they were not much better than the Jints of Plunkville.

Though they were able only to split the season, winning seven games and losing as many, they succeeded in splitting the two-game series with the University of Kentucky, thus securing half the State title, Centre already being tied with Kentucky in basket ball and track. Incidentally, they won only one game, the second tilt with Transylvania, away from home, never losing on their newly constructed diamond.

Coach Jesse Tannehill, former National League pitcher, started out at the beginning to make a team out of a crew of amateurs, very few veterans being at his hand. The best team he was able to put into the field, which was not so bad at that, consisted of Capt. Whitnell at first base, Carter at second, Bedford at short, Maver at third, and Murphy, this year's captain, Greene, and Embry, one of the best fly chasers ever to cavort in a collegiate outer garden, in the outfield. Moran, Holland, Bond and Cregor, veteran catcher, did the hurling with Allen, Burres and Daniels at the receiving end of their offerings.

The Colonels started off the season by drubbing Georgetown 7-1 on the home lot; they followed it up with a win over Transylvania, 7-4; the University of Louisville, 14-2. Then they fell before the University of Kentucky in a comedy of errors by 9-8, but came back 10-4 at the expense of Hanover College. Then came their disastrous trip South, when they lost to an old comrade, Lee Moore, and his mates of Cumberland College by 7-0; and thereby hangs the tale of how, after the Tennesseans had garnered seven runs off the delivery of Holland in four innings, Ben Cregor went in on his first attempt and turned them back with two hits in five innings. The next two days they dropped two to the heavy-slugging Vanderbilt outfit by scores of 7-3 and 11-8, both sides hitting heavily in the last game. From there they journeyed to Atlanta, where they dropped two more games to Oglethorpe, 3-2 and 5-3, the squad's two second basemen losing the games on an error. However, the manager, Lawrence Caudill, made a winning trip, for he went back to Atlanta the following June and married an Atlanta girl. Vanderbilt came to Danville for the Carnival game on June 6 and were defeated revengefully 6-3.

The season's record follows:

1922 Track

AT last it seems that track is coming back into her own at Centre, and this year we feel confident that we shall have one of the best track aggregations that has ever carried the Gold and White for Old Centre. This development has been more or less gradual, as it is impossible to make runners of first class calibre in a few weeks. Last year the team had a very successful season under the leadership of captain Murphy, sending several men to the All-Southern meet held at Sewanee, Tennessee, where we made a very creditable showing. In the State meet held at Georgetown last May we proved to Centre's opponents that we had one of the best track teams in the State by tying for first place with our ancient rivals, Kentucky State. At this meet Kimbel lowered the State record for the half mile, covering the distance in the remarkable time of 1:57  $\frac{4}{5}$ .

At the indoor meet held at Cincinnati on March the fourth, Centre, with only five men, was able to take second place in the meet, making a total of sixteen points. On March 18 the track squad accompanied by Coach McMillin journeyed to Louisville where they again did themselves proud. Although running against some of the best athletes in the East, such as Joey Ray, Muercherson, Vanderpile and others, we were able to make eleven points, which gave us third place in the meet. Much is expected when we get out of doors on the cinder track and Coach McMillin feels confident that his men will take down some honors at the Southern meet which is to be held at Baton Rouge, La., the latter part of May.

Kimbel.—Captain Kimbel, who runs the distances, is a hard worker and can always be counted on to place in the fastest company.

Mountjoy.—When Rice reaches his mid-season form in the high jump and pole vault, we feel sure that he can defeat the best that is found in our State.

Berryman.—Talking of speed demons we do not want to forget the Kansas flash. Berryman runs the hundred like a world-beater and will bear watching as he bids fair to become a marvel on the track.

Gordy and Shadoan, who are with us for the first time, take care of the weights, discus and javelin. They are both men of marked ability and will be a great strength to the team.

Keller.—Much is expected of Keller this year in the broad jump. He took first place in this event at the State meet last year.

Brooks.—Here is another Freshman who with proper training bids fair to be a great asset to our team this year. He has grit and endurance and we are counting on him for some first places in the quarter-mile run.

Robertson.—Last year Robertson could never seem to hit his stride, but this year he is showing class both in the quarter-mile and the 220-yard low hurdles.

Hope Hudgins, Flippin and Stevenson, the men around whom the relay team will be built, have already shown by their performance at the Louisville meet that they are going to be top notchers as relay men. We expect them to take first place for Old Centre at the State meet this May.

Murphy—"You girls look much shorter in bloomers."

K. C. W. Girl—"But you men look much longer."

She lay in Baker's arms and snuggled against his cheek—a rush of emotion surged through her—tenderly he caressed her and she closed her eyes in delight.

Baker—"Poor Kitty, did I hurt you?"

"May I kiss your pretty hand, Lovey?"

"It is easier to raise my veil than to take off my glove, Howard."

Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard,
To try to quench her thirst,
But when she got there, the cupboard was bare,
For "Topsy" had been there first.

Ted Sanford—"Where's the tooth paste, Wickliffe, I have a heavy date?"

Combs (to "Either")—"Shave down please."

"Either"—"Yassah, Mistah Combs, dats all dere is to shave, Sah."

(Heard at all dances.)—"Oh Mr. Creagor, what makes you so much like a cave man?"

"Do you Odessa?"

"Odessa what?"

"Odessa 'ittle bit."

"Ain't Nature Grand?!!!"

Kiss me sweet, kiss me cunning,
Kiss me quick, my daddy's coming.

About the Frats.

First Tramp—"Don't go over there to that house, Jim."

Second Tramp—"Why, Bill?"

First Tramp—"Cause I went over there the other day and they put a little button on my coat, called me a goat, made me clean up the cellar, and then kicked me out into the street."

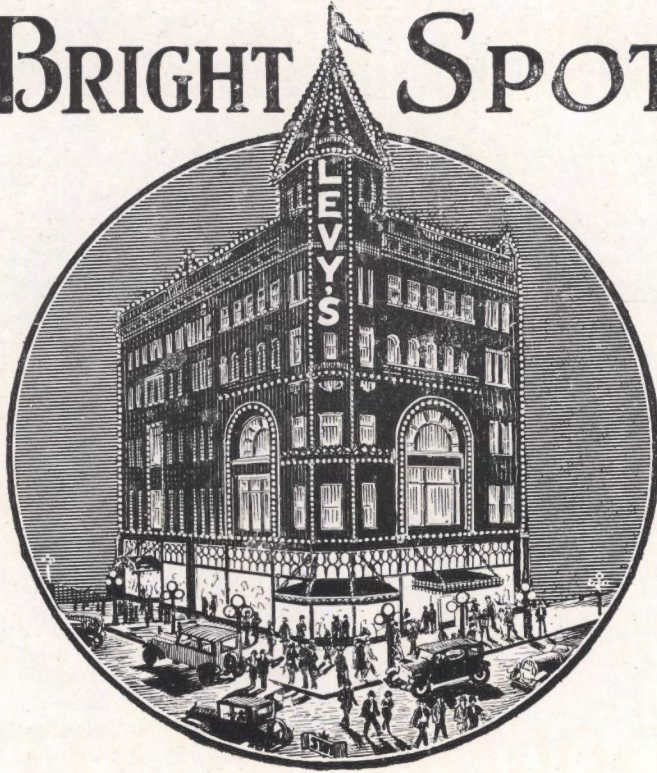

The makers of fraternity pledge buttons might be said to do a rushing business.

Tee—"How did you know my name was grace?"

Hee—"I could tell by your movement."

Dog

I like most any kind of dogs—canine dogs anyway. Any cur with a pair of liquid-brown eyes and a stump of a tail can win my affections. In fact, I think that the only kind of dogs I do not like are the gay dogs, who stay out all night and then insist upon bragging about it.

Jack—"Didn't down town yesterday? I saw you twice."

Jacqueline—"I never notice people in that condition."

"Well I'll be switched, said the freight car as it went in on the siding.

"Up and atom," shouted the molecule as the electrolysis started.

Pres. Carter—"My hair is wet."
H. P. White—"Look out or it will soak thru and you will get water on the brain."

"It won't be long now," said the dog as the train ran over his tail.

Calendar

September

9. Football men drift in, with several likely prospects among the new men. Gus King arrives, the first of a long line of Jellybeans.
10. Dr. Ganfield decides to leave Centre.
11. Football practice begins.
14. Largest enrollment in history. Charlie Crooks attempts to register Dr. Rusk as a freshman. Cut-throat competition, as once again, the rushing season reaches its height.
15. Percy Henderson decides to make it seven straight years and again turns his footsteps toward Centre. Breck Hall regains usual pandemonium.
16. First chapel of the year. A number of new faces supplant the old reliables. Freshmen elated to learn for the first time that among "College men everywhere" they are the "apples of thine eye". Prexy makes usual plea for "downright, earnest, hard work." "Slatz" makes a firm resolve to study.
17. Dr. Ganfield decides to leave.
18. First session of the Second-Floor chapter of the Breck Hall Poker Union. Craighead much in evidence.
19. Freshmen rules out. Morancy declares he is insulted.
20. Charlie Crooks makes up for summer vacation with a nine-minute prayer. Jack Cottrel paralyzed in his seat at the end of seven minutes.
21. Kentucky Wesleyan cancels game. We don't blame 'em.
23. It looks like just a change of menu, boys. Squirrels instead of Oysters.
24. Vets 38—Colts 0. They both look good.
27. Much political machination. Upper class elections show that the dark horses already had the race fixed.
28. "Unk" Charlie arrives. Roscoe in his own once again.
29. Fresh initiation. Power, paddles, and paint. McLean pleads a headache and Yeaman a broken heart after the gauntlet at K.C.W.

October

1. Centre 14. Clemson 0. Why, certainly!
3. Jake Yeager makes annual attempt to get elected to presidency of Freshman class.

4. Privette loses $2.40 to Lowe on World Series game. Keep it in the firm, boys.
5. Prexy makes firm, tho tearful, resolve to leave Centre.
8. Centre 14—V. P. I. O. Murphy starts ball rolling to a victory.
10. Terhune. Jake Yeager and Percy Henderson lead mob to let loose wild animals at K. C. W.—1:00 a. m. Dr. Allen swears vengeance for disturbing his sleep.
12. Eleventh Infantry camps in Danville. "Jellyroll" Martin gets reminiscent and tells the boys how he led the charge at the battle of Breck Hall in '18.
14. Sanford joins freight gang and "hits" Cincinnati. Spends the week end wondering who pushed the post office over on him.
15. Centre 28—Saint X. 6. Naturally!
16. Pennington makes early start for Harvard.
17. Dr. Rainey enjoys laugh over Sanford's eye. Histology class quiet for once.
20. Picture taken of entire school. Classes delayed for half an hour while faculty squats to have picture snapped.
21. Southern Railway loses $3,427.35 in free rides to Lexington.
22. Sounds like a telephone number. Centre 98—Transy 0. Those good old days?
24. Dr. Clark drives small white dog off faculty platform while Charlie prays. Jealousy?
25. Faculty rules off Harvard trip, and the Harvard special is decidedly empty. Much wailing and gnashing of jaws, but no results obtained.
26. Flippin goes to station at 4 a. m. to catch train. Entire village attends send-off for team. Great enthusiasm. Roberts and Roscoe entertain all comers on trip with the Mississippi marbles.
27. Suspense. Much adverse dope and prophecy as the team arrives in Boston.
28. Calm before the storm.
29. 1:30—Anticipation.
2:30—Suspense.
3:30—Delirium.
4:30—Chaos. Centre 6—Harvard 0.
5:30—Doc. Stout pays off.

31. "Hail the conquering heroes." Fire engine, parade, Governor Morrow, Roscoe, Prexy, Bo, paint and the magic formula C-6 H-0 much in evidence. Speechmaking and the Centre Five keeps the air filled with noise.

November

2. Holiday to celebrate and recover.
3. Freshmen celebrate in Bible with a chalk throwing melee. Dr. Rusk takes out more life insurance and dismisses course.
4. Large crowd gathers for annual Kentucky classic.
5. Centre 55—State 0. Centre's night shift goes in in the last quarter. Yes, State had a good band.
8. Team presented with loving cup. "Red" gets a pedigreed, full-blooded jenny as a personal tribute from admiring friends.
9. Alabama bound with a record crowd of heels. Our motto: "A Centre man under every seat."
12. Centre 21—Auburn 0. Graves and Caudill get lost in west end of Birmingham.
13. News Item: On board Centre special homeward bound, at 3:05 this morning C. H. Keller nearly lost his life at the hands of officers when he was roughly withdrawn from under a seat where he had been sleeping. His life was probably saved when he had the presence of mind to shout: "Don't shoot—I'll give a check."
14. Southern papers give the Colonels many compliments on their game. Keller returns to Danville to find himself a hero.
16. The two Carters, Nick and Hick, appear on the campus with a book apiece. First time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.
17. "The Pretty Shakeress" at Doc Stout's. Dr. Meier and Swede Anderson receive a bean bombardment from the gallery. Dugan and John Eads suspected. Students decide to give them gold medal.
18. Charlie Crooks announces a holiday for the Washington and Lee Game. All out for Louisville.
19. Centre 25—W. and L. 0. Colonels and Generals stage a naval battle in the mud. Courier-Journal football banquet at night.
20. "Red" speaks to Sunday School class in Louisville on "The Power of Prayer."

24. Thanksgiving. After pressure, faculty decides to make it a holiday. Incidentally, Centre 21—Tulane 0.
26. "Two Minutes to Go"—with our own Tiny Thornhill.
28. The entire Centre team gets a berth on the All-Kentucky. "Unk" picks six Centre men on the All-Southern.
29. Sock and Buskin (College Dramatic Society, if you don't know what it is) presents the moving picture "Quo Vadis." We didn't recognize any of the members, tho one of the lions did look like Bill Johnson.

December

2. Seventeen freshmen receive letters from Dr. Rusk. Class meets to consider its chances for Heaven and a passing grade. Will Grey heartbroken.
5. K. C. W. Carnival. Feminine Captain Kidds.
7. Murphy and Tapp speak in Chapel urging more spirit and less spirits at the school dances.
9. Football banquet at K. C. W. "Red" elected 1922 captain.
14. "Springtime": Old Centre's ballet artists show their merit.
15. Team departs for San Diego.
16. Christmas holidays at last. Faculty hopes students' wishes for a Merry Christmas will materialize.
23. Eddie Flaig learns there isn't any Santa Claus.
26. Centre 38—Arizona 0. Sunny California looks like a view from the window in Noah's Ark.
27. Dr. Allen nearly succumbs from vile effects of cigars given him by Tanner for Christmas.

January

1. Buck Jones and Tanner resolve to quit eating.
2. Aggies 22—Centre 14. Wow! Mrs. Bo McMillin and too much rich food combine to spill the Colonels.
5. Classes begin.
6. Students commence to return. Another football banquet.
9. Dr. Diez and Dr. Wise get full effects of tacks on faculty chairs in chapel. Lisle Baker denies any part in the affair.
11. Terhune goes squirrel hunting. Loud explosions in Dr. Clark's stove.

13. Jones announces he wants to meet all faculty men after chapel. No accounting for tastes.
16. Roberts, Bartlett and Snoddy return to school after Christmas holidays.
20. De Pauw 33—Centre 13. Phi Kappa Tau dance. Plenty oke.
21. Butler 44—Centre 11. Indiana proves a hoodoo for the Gold and White.
24. H. L. Gossard speaks in chapel on the starving students of Europe. College home boarders sympathize with him deeply.
26. Dr. Clark speaks on horrors of modern divorce problem and dance evil. Clelland decides to break off his engagement.
27. "Red" Brumback knocked unconscious by hamburger thrown from the window of the Greasy Spoon.
28. Centre 27—Transy 9. Morancy appears as the new yell leader. Gets sore throat from his white duck pants. Offered position as a plumber by man who heard him lead yells.
29. Dr. Rusk resigns to accept position posing as Venus de Milo in Johnny Jones' Side Shows.
30. Exams begin. Faculty gains six months revenge in week. Dr. Meier fails to sing "Work for the Night is Coming," for the first time in seven years.

February

4. Exams end, but their flavor lasts. State 28—Centre 21.
6. Centre 34—Maryville 17. Green and Covington star.
7. Hello, Mr. Snowday!
9. The Shiek. K. C. W. happy.
10. Deke dance. Lefty Whitnell struts his stuff.
13. Butler 44—Centre 24. Hard lines.
14. Deinologian wins Ernst debate, with a hammer lock on the dictionary.
15. Centre 25—University of Louisville 12. Dooley hits the dirty basket.
16. Dr. Ervin offers A— to any student who will help him cut wood. No responses.
17. Jeanette Rankin speaks in chapel. Dr. Clark says he's agin' 'em all.
18. Centre 41—Clemson 25. Andy Gump clears for action.
20. Kentucky 40—Centre 23. (Editor's note: No comment needed.)
22. Birthday of the father of his country. No holiday, so far as the faculty is concerned he might as well not had a birthday. Collins wins Oratorical. Drinks up all the water on the platform, and the other contestants get dry mouth. U. of Cincinnati 36—Centre 22. Come home, boys!
24. Phi Kappa Taus 18—S. A. E's 11. Kobert and Sleepy Stone put on an exhibition of how Strangler Lewis won the title.
25. Dr. Biles goes to Lexington and gets lost in the revolving door at the Phoenix. Reports he had a dizzy time.
26. Rothwell Edwards attends chapel. Shades of Johnny Redd!
28. Mercer 32—Centre 17. Hard battle, but to no avail.

March

1. Betas 27—Phis 13. Charley Cecil looked like Aphrodite in his uniform.
3. Beta dance. Hot dance. Noe and Tapp get "overheated" and nearly pass out.
4. State Oratorical Contest. Collins fails to get a good drink, and loses.
7. K. A.'s beat Sigs. Ardery shoots a mean basket at the "crooshul" moment.
8. Keller and Dugan recite in Greek. Doc. Porter overcome with emotion.
10. Doc. McDowell's fraternity brothers collect a purse to get him a shave.
12. Baldy Gregor goes out for swimming team. Freshmen cheer him on to victory from the side lines.
13. Wilbur Cook and Bill Johnson, alias Mike and Ike, appear in chapel with new spring suits. Tweet-tweet, goils, the lawmbs are gawmboling on the gween.
14. Faculty vies with upper classmen in singing "The Crystal Sea". Green, West and Spencer, "win by a nose." It sounded that way anyhow.
15. Betas beat Phi Kappa Taus. Jimmy Milliken and Rice prove to be the extremes in playing.
16. Vachel Lindsay appears in Danville. Boom-a-ling-a, Boom-a-ling-a. As a poet, he makes a fine train-caller.
18. Oh, Politics! What crimes are committed in thy name.
19. First annual banquet of the Triangle Club. Dr. Clark speaks for two hours on "Collitch Ideals." McLean overeats. What a low, dirty trick.

20. "Red" elected King of the Carnival. "The king is dead above the ears, long live the king!"
21. "T" Fox chosen Queen of the Carnival. "Slatz" Randall gets four votes, with the Campus Charmer running a "close" third.
22. Betas vs. Sigs. Mack Sennett material.
23. Roberts—Tanner Minstrel. Amateur Al. Jolsons. Sanford was excruciating.
24. Sig dance. Alec Howard poses afterwards on the campus as "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi!"
25. "Red" receives an enforced vacation. Meeting of the Bolsheviki union to call strike of students.
26. Atmosphere tense. More talk of strike.
27. Tenseness relieved when "Red" is reinstated with full honors.
28. Heavy rainstorm. Dr. Hewlitt postpones English quiz.
29. Hedrick and Henderson imitate Man O' War in halls of main building. Dr. Clark thinks it's the Derby.

April

1. A fine day for squirrels.
2. K. C. W. parades the spring fashions. Prewitt appears in church.
3. Hon. J. W. Yerkes explains the sad case of what happened to the king.
5. Bob Ervin almost captures him a horse on the campus.
6. One more day and this will be done says the Editor. Thank Gawd, Aggie.
7. The calendar will end with a typical Centre scene. The chapel is meeting and Dr. Meier, Johnny McGee, and Tom Moran, have just finished a new hymn. (They were the only ones we could hear singing.) Dr. Crooks is praying the usual universally-gear'd prayer and from the rear of the chapel comes the sonorous strains of George Swinebroad as he snores in his sleep, making up for last night. Paul Bickel is keeping time on Charley and is calling off the minutes in a subdued voice. Suddenly———Amen! That will be all for this year, gentlemen.

Robert W. Ervin.
