THE CENTRE PLAYERS

The three Centre choirs—CENTRE COLLEGE CHOIR (open to all members of the college community,) CENTRE SINGERS and CHAMBER SINGERS (select groups of student singers requiring auditions for membership)—maintained busy schedules this year. Focusing primarily on Handel's "Messiah," the largest choir performed the masterpiece at Christmas and in the spring accompanied by the Centre Community orchestra. The Centre Singers performed in two concerts this year, demonstrating a versatility in many languages.

The three main stage productions of the CENTRE PLAYERS this year were "The Amorous Flea," "Seascape" and "Our Town." All were quite successful, as was the studio production of "Fumed Oak." A number of student-directed productions were presented this year, in addition to the C.P. sponsored April Fool's Masquerade Party. Leadership for the group was provided by Lisa Newburg—Pres., Georgia Reeves—V.P., Meg Ross—Sec. and Dana Mercer—Sec/Treas.

(1) The PRE-MED SOCIETY provides the opportunity for students with an interest in medicine and science to become better acquainted with the various fields of medicine. Activities included volunteer work at Epheiam McDowell Hospital, films, guest speakers and visits to med schools.

(2) The WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB sponsored four movies of interest as well as luncheon discussion with persons of import such as Mary Vance Trent and Maurice East. ENCOUNTER '81 plans were initiated.

(5) The all new CENTRE PARACHUTING ASSOCIATION is comprised of students interested in sports parachuting. Members receive their training and jump in Bardstown.

(6) Realizing the need for assistance in ridding the campus of loneliness the LONELY HEARTS CLUB was founded by I. M. Lonely. Over 150 lonelies are now card-carrying members. Informal parties, dating services and the sense of belonging help to ease the problem.

The Roommate Game, a new office, coffeehouses, Art Jones, a real budget, tournaments, the SB logo, Fly Away, Cliffview Lodge, contests, tee shirts, Red Barron, CARNIVAL, Gil Eagles, Rocky Horror Picture Show . . .

All this and so much more marks Social Board's success in its first year as a campuswide organization responsible for, and enthusiastic about, student activities at Centre. Faced with the lethal combination of social unrest and enforced alcohol policy, Social Board strived to develop a social program that provides something for everyone. Gone are the TGIF's, Super parties and spiked punch. In their places are theme parties, game tournaments, lecture series and responsible BYOB. Whatever the changes, they sure worked. Social Board's efforts were greatly rewarded with membership growth and generally increased campus attendance.

Le Cenacle, Centre's French Club, has as its goal and raison d'être the promotion of interest in the French culture and language. Activities included selling crepes, which has become a tradition at Centre, a soiree in October, and a traditional Christmas party, complete with Quiche Lorraine, Swiss and French fondue and French Christmas carols. Le Cenacle joined the Hispanic and German Societies in sponsoring a Foreign Language Festival during Spring term.

The International Students Association was founded in January 1979, and assumed the responsibility of resolving any problems encountered by international students at Centre. Assistance is given in areas such as finding summer jobs, immigration and naturalization and academic programs. All with the hope of heightening interest and awareness of international affairs. The annual Banquet was held March 20 and well attended as usual. Jane Barber served as President.

Centre's Gamma chapter of Omicron Delta Epsilon, newly granted during the 1979-80 year, is the only Kentucky chapter of the international honorary recognizing outstanding economics students.

Members of the Centre chapter include Ball, Bragg, Burns, Butler, Frisina, Graham, Hoppenjans, Houchell, Keyser, Klump, Rose.

The Iota-Omega chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, an international honorary for students of history, celebrated its fifteenth anniversary by sponsoring the Kentucky Regional Conference on April 19. President Stuart Hales and VP Georgia Reeves provided leadership for the group.

The primary goal of FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) is to build a strong, united fellowship of Christians — not necessarily athletic ones — and to facilitate spiritual growth. This goal was accomplished through weekly discussions and a December weekend retreat. Projects included restoring a flood damaged church in southern Kentucky, outings with the Christians Children's Home, a spaghetti dinner, a raffle and rent-a-collegiate.

The Centre College Catholic Campus Ministry is devoted to helping all Catholic students express their faith through retreats, masses, and discussion groups. Any and all Catholic students are welcome to become members if they wish. Fr. Jim Graf and Sr. Helen Carey and campus liaisons to SS Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Danville.

For the past several years, ACW has strived to serve as a unifying organization for Centre's women.

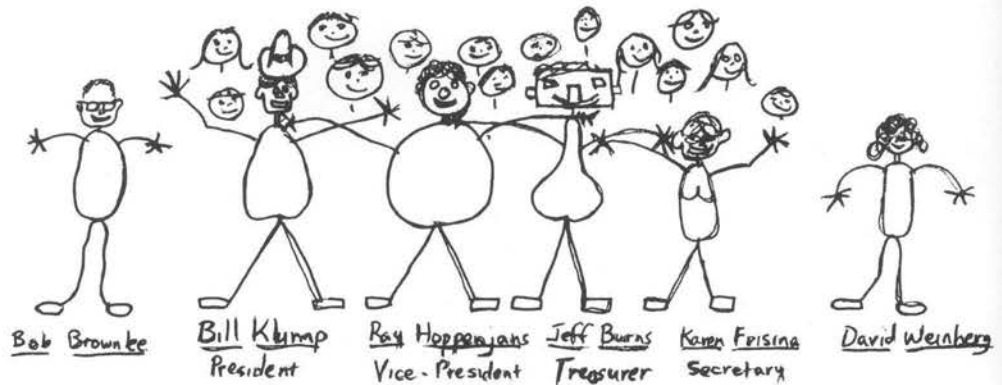

With the recent appearance of sororities, ACW has a new role in providing an alternative to sororities. ACW (the Association of Centre Women) sponsored campus-wide activities for the college community and mixed scholastic with social interests in their projects. The Big Sister/Little Sister program, Octoberfest, Red Lite Revue, a Valentine's Dance, Spring Picnic, and Tutoring children at the Christian Children's Home kept members busy throughout the year.

Circle K is the only organization on campus totally devoted to serving the Danville and Centre College communities. With the 1979-80 year came the creation of the "Big Buddy" program as well as a float in Danville's first Christmas parade. Sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, Circle K maintained relations with the Friendship House (a home for the elderly) by visits to trick-or-treat, to sing Christmas carols and to decorate, and to bring a little warmth and sunshine during the winter months with a "Hawaiian Party". Circle K manned a booth during Carnival Weekend and supplied the needed manpower to get the new playground underway at Toliver School. As always, the group put in some time at the Ephraim McDowell House to make sure the place was presentable for tours. To wind up the year, the club met for a banquet and the active members were awarded Circle K pins for their service to the community.

The Black Student Union has endeavored to achieve recognition and better communication within the campus and community. Mr. James Joseph, undersecretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior, was the guest speaker at the annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial Convocation. The Paula M. Crumbie Memorial Fund Banquet was held as part of BSU/Black Alumni Weekend, May 25-27. Several of the BSU members have been working with students from Ky. School for the Deaf. Although the Black population at Centre has been decreasing, a successful program has been presented during the year.

PUBLICATIONS

It's like this. As usual, Vantage Point's activities during the year came in fits and/or starts. Fall term highlights included the traditional outdoor "happening" where students were able to paint with water colors and drink apple cider instead of reading books or something. A discussion and reading of Dylan Thomas' work was also held in conjunction with Emlyn Williams' one-man performance of "Dylan Thomas Growing Up". The fall issue of Vantage Point was well-received and included several first-time contributors. Purportedly, it was the first issue in recent memory which did not evoke abject depression among sensitive types.

During winter term, VP sponsored one major event, a very successful poetry reading attended by Ruth Whitman, Centre's writer-in-residence. Spring term began with VP being relocated in a new room in East Hall after a request for a split-level world headquarters building was dismissed out-of-hand. Still, springtime brought out the best in VP. The first VP-sponsored mini-issue became a reality, a small poster was turned out on the press, and an extremely enjoyable artshow/coffeehouse was held in March. VP also helped stage a one-day writers' conference in May, an event that proved very beneficial to the general region as well as to the campus. The spring issue of VP, one of the largest ever, was also long on quality, with much of the work being submitted by Ruth Whitman's writing students. In closing, a special and sincere thanks goes to Dr. Roberta White for her much appreciated help during the entire year.

The Publications Board was established a decade ago as a joint student-faculty body responsible for student publications. Some of its duties are: to select editors and business managers and exercise financial oversight. Other duties have evolved, ranging from responsibility for the Grant Hall darkroom to service as a complaint bureau and mediation board. On an ideal campus in an ideal world, the Pub board would meet once a year.

 2. Pub Board Members: Mary McKee, Carol Bastian, Jim Rose, Bob Brownlee, Ben Feese, Lynn Guarnieri.

The Student Congress has a responsibility to represent the student body and meet their needs. In compliance with this role, they continued the traditional functions of renting refrigerators, providing shuttlebus service to the Lexington

Airport, conducting campus elections, and sponsoring some twenty student organizations. In addition, the Congress provided several other services beginning with active participation in freshman orientation. Mug books and student directories were also provided by the group. Other efforts included a highly successful Red Cross Blood Drive, the establishment of a Bail Fund, the implementation of Operation ID and the installation of smoke detectors, carried out with the assistance of other concerned groups. The Student Congress also sponsored an Alumni Banquet during Homecoming and a bowling party during spring term.

IFC, HIGHER JUDICIARY

The Intrafraternity Council managed to maintain a fairly constant path despite problems with housing, the loss of one chapter's recognition, and vandalism. In trying to act as a buffer between the administration and the fraternities, the IFC tightened controls on social activities and tried to appease the administration. With the IFC dance in the fall and Greek Olympics in the spring, the IFC attempts to unify the fraternities.

SORORITIES COME TO CENTRE

March 9, 1980 — the dawning of women's fraternities at Centre College. After months of planning and preparation by senior Susan Clark and her committee, the dreams of 99 college women became a reality.

Culminating three days of parties and interviews, the national representatives, local alumnae, and college representatives of Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Kappa Kappa Gamma pledged one third of the women's population to their colonies. The work was left for those who pledged, with installation and initiation in the fall.

The Beta Phi Chapter of Delta Delta Delta was started on March 9, 1980. Its thirty-three members are proud to be a part of the noble heritage that was started on Thanksgiving Eve in 1888. In the spring of 1980 Beta Phi won the blood drive competition between the three sororities and placed second in the annual Spring Sing contest.

The Epsilon Eta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta includes 33 pledges which will be initiated on October 4, 1980. Kappa Alpha Theta was founded in 1870 at DePauw University. Since this date, the sorority now includes 98 national chapters. Members held a bake sale in Sutcliffe to raise money for charity and sponsored a child at the Christian Children's Home. The chapter plans on operating a booth during Carnival and participating in the Greek Olympics as well as helping in the Special Olympics.

The Zeta Gamma colonizers of the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity enjoy a wide diversity of girls. They have already shown their ability to pool together their different interests and capabilities to work toward establishing a strong and active chapter. Early in their pledge year, the Kappas hosted a Greek reception for the other two sororities on campus. The Kappas have big plans for a summer "get-together" and hope to send a delegate to the Kappa convention in West Palm Beach.

BETA THETA PI

The Betas had another outstanding year. In sports, they captured the intramural football, volleyball and frisbee golf championships.

Highlights of the social season included the annual Bourbon Street, South Seas, Beta Breakout and their own version of Carnival. Service projects included tutoring at the Danville Christian

Children's Home and working for the United Fund

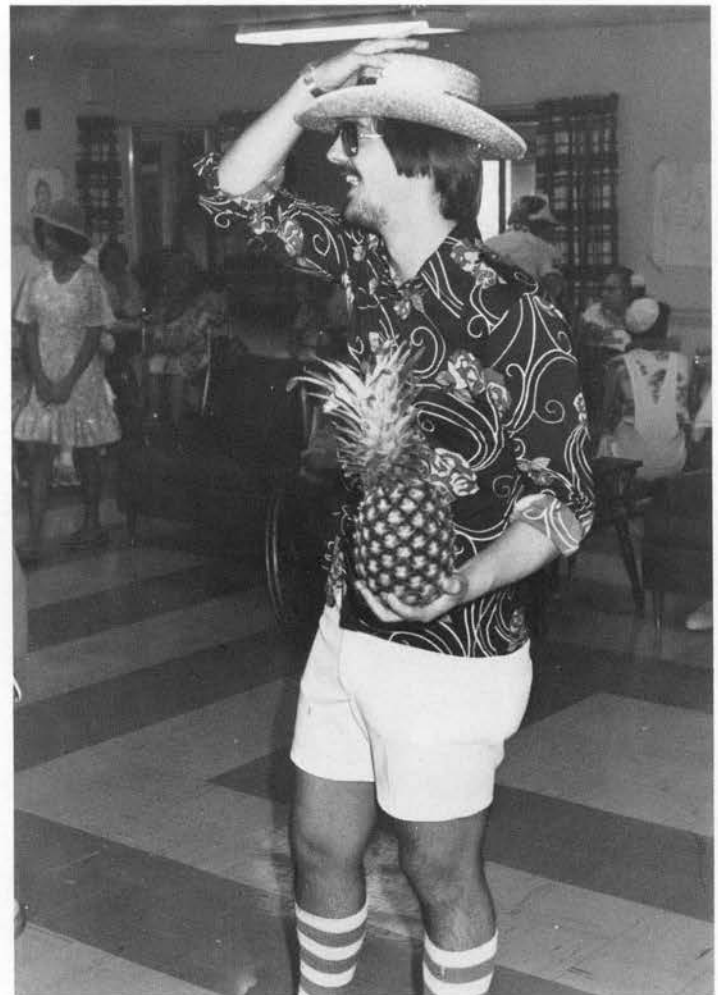

Drive. All of the brothers pitched in and successfully remodeled the social rooms until they became the "showplaces of the campus" that they once were.

The diverse group of men in Phi Delta Theta were once again active in nearly all aspects of campus life. Phi Delta Theta was prominent in academics, well represented in varsity and intramural athletics, and highly visible on the social scene. While always having been known for such parties as Playboy After Dark, Cabaret, and Mardi Gras, this year the chapter added Studio 54 and the Battle of the Babes to its social calendar. It was a banner year at Phi Delta Theta in more ways than one. The Kentucky Alpha-Delta chapter led the campus in Winter term pledges with 20. The year was also characterized by an increase in emphasis upon alumni relations and community service. At the end of the spring term, the brothers underwent a reorganization program to insure that they better themselves in all areas, in hopes of realizing their potential as a creative and useful source to the college and the surrounding community.

PHI KAPPA TAU

The year was a turn around for the brothers of Delta chapter. Activities included Homecoming and Founder's Day dinners, the Haunted House and Alumni Softball game, not to mention numerous social gatherings. A stereo was purchased, a huge debt to National alleviated and a House Building Fund was established to finance 15,000 dollars of badly needed renovation. Band parties continued to be a big draw and participation in all aspects of campus life increased. But the highlight of the year was the acceptance of 19 associate members on Pledge Sunday.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The year was one of reorientation for the members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The brothers and sisters worked to create a spirit of dedication to the chapter. As a result, the fraternity sponsored several popular parties such as "Lightness from Obscurity", "Hot Toddy II", and "Punk Rock Night", as well as a successful faculty reception. The members also continued their leadership in campus cultural activities. Phi Alpha!

GARDENIA

A new attraction was added to Gardenia weekend, sponsored by the freshman girls, a dinner with a show provided by Gil Eagles. Art Jones and the Social Board helped make arrangements for Cowan to provide a nightclub type atmosphere with a sit-down dinner complete with waitress service. Gil Eagles entertained with a show of demonstrations of ESP (extra-sensory perception) and hypnosis. On Saturday night the traditional semi-formal dance began at 10 pm with the band "Slikk". At midnight 1979 Queen Joan Ryan crowned Kay Bennett as the 1980 Gardenia Queen. Gardenia chairman Ruth Dudley organized many fund-raising activities such as Faculty Favors, the Peon sales, and selling Valentine carnations and M&M's. The court consisted of Kay Bennett, escorted by Miles Barkley, Lisa Daniel escorted by Fred Day, Laura Rueff escorted by Ray Maikkula, Tara Owen escorted by date.

In spite of dreary weather, Social Board's annual Carnival was a success.

Friday night, a Bluegrass band entertained students under Cowan's dome, with Centre students Matt Gill, Tim Quinn and Mark Wheeler providing quality music during the band's breaks.

In the alcoves, Centre's various organizations were well represented, selling everything from popcorn to pictures and cotton candy. There was also an exciting change of pace with the SAE rat races in the back of the room.

Festivities continued Saturday although Greek Olympics were cancelled due to rain. The Carnival King and Queen, Matt Vonderbrink and Ginny Graham, were duly crowned Saturday night in Sutcliffe Ballroom and led off an evening of dancing. Breakfast was served in the Hangout for those who developed an appetite.

The weekend was rounded off by a very well attended Spring Sing. All three sororities joined in this event for the first time, with the Tri-Delts taking second place to the Senior Women's excellent performance.

Fugmann Wins It All

The swimming season was an exciting one, with many records broken. Chris Fugmann, an outstanding sophomore swimmer, repeatedly broke records at home and away, helping the team to many victories. He ended the season at the NCAA division III swimming championships held in Washington, Penn. After qualifying in the 200-yard and 400-yard individual medleys, and the 200-yard butterfly, he managed to place fourth in the butterfly and 200 IM. In the 400 IM, he qualified third, but held off his opponents and went on to win by one-hundredth of a second. Coached by Dan Hill, Chris is Centre's first All-American and the only National Champion.

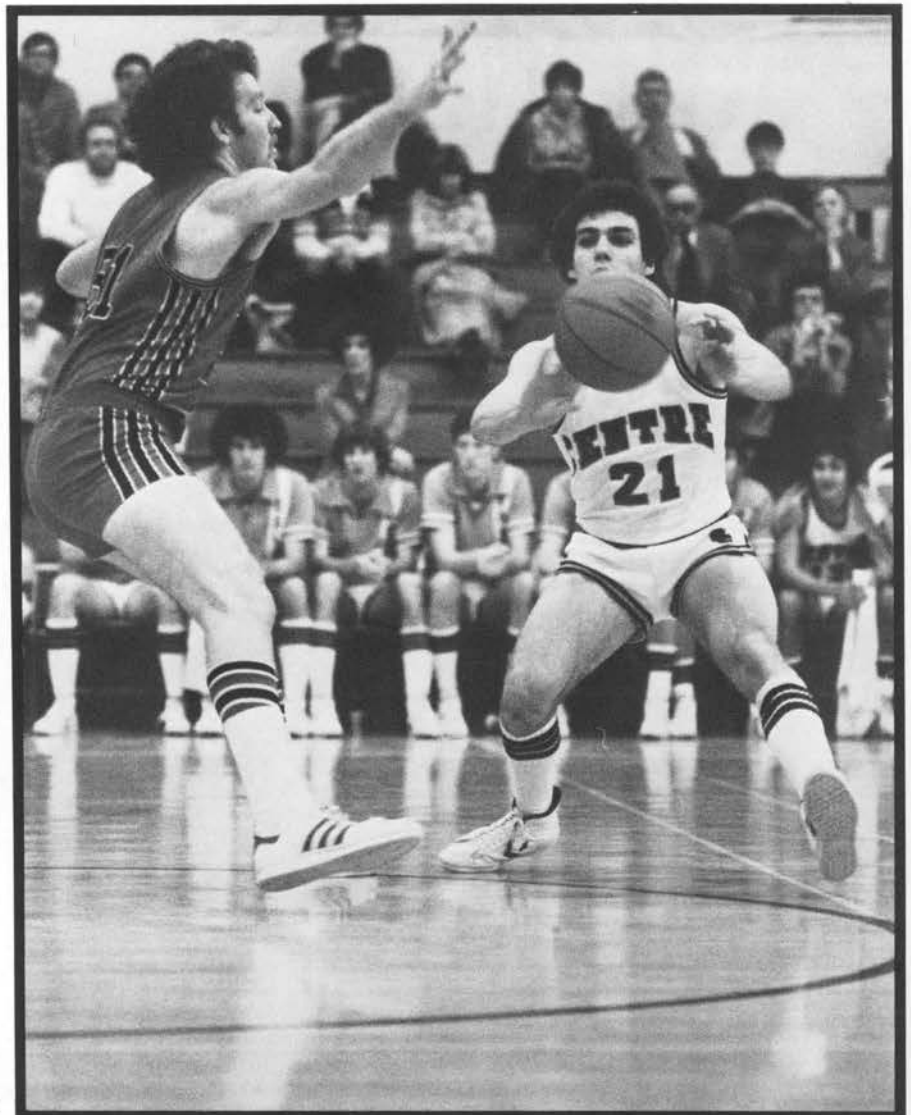

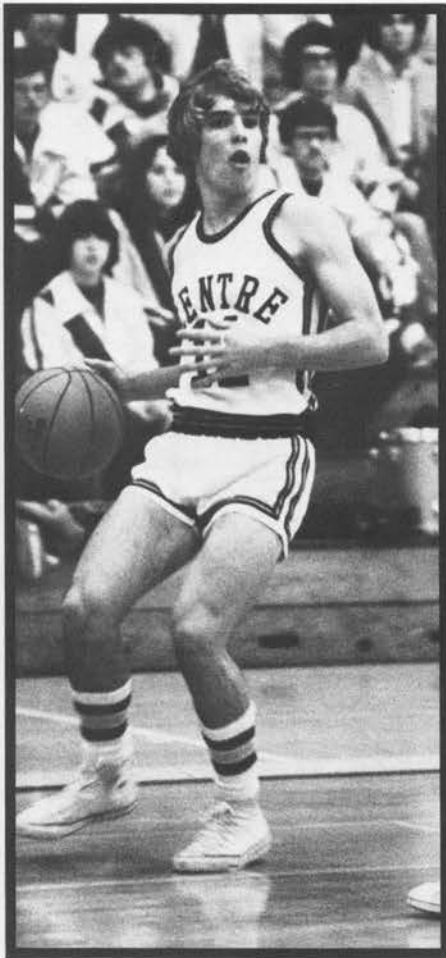

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The team started the season off well, with several impressive wins. Unfortunately, they faltered in mid-season but managed to end the season with a 10-11 record. Co-captains were Danny Pawley and Neil Sterba. Most Valuable Player was Matt Vonderbrink, the Most Efficient — Neil Sterba, the Rebounding Award and the Best Foul Shooter was given to Joe Lovelace, Most Improved — Dave Cooney and Most Valuable JV Player — Jeff Hoover. The Best Defensive Player was Jeff Horsey and the Charlie Hustle Award went to Mark Ogle.

Although the women's field hockey team did not complete the 1979 season with a winning record (2-10-3), they certainly spent many hours of hard work and play learning to function and communicate as a team. The coach, Ellen Miller, was the strongest unifying factor the team possessed. At each practice she not only ran the drills along with us, she would often run them backwards, or do fifty push ups while we would barely pump out twenty. She made each one of us feel as though we had a special place and no one wanted to disappoint her. Many of the girls had never held a hockey stick, which could possibly be one explanation for our record. However, with the experience of the old and the effort of the new, Centre's team was able to come home with the second place title in the State Tournament held at Berea.

BASEBALL

Under the direction of coach Greg Wallace and asst. coach Bill Garriott the baseball team won an impressive first place in the CAC Spring Sports Festival with a 3-1 record. MVP Chic Ryan helped out considerably with ten strikeouts against Principia and eight against Southwestern. The team set a new school record with 111 stolen bases in 29 games. Captains Danny Pawley and Brad Eden were chosen along with Chic Ryan for the All-Conference team. The most-improved players were David Berger and Gary Bennett. Lettermen for the 1980 season included Tony Weber, Hart Sledd, Kevin Mulcahy, Gary Bennett, Brad Eden, Dennis Newman, Danny Pawley, David Brown, Chic Ryan and Eddie Woods.

MEN'S TENNIS

The team had a captain named "Seed",
Whose coaches he wanted to heed;
But with a big match to ponder,
He might go "down yonder,"
Rather than stay in the library and read.

Its senior co-captain was Plott,
And when he was hot, he was hot;
But in the midst of a "tank,"
His movements just stank;
A gazelle on the courts he was not.

When there was this "Corky" who'd shout,
"That's what I'm talking about!"
When he turned on the gas
And popped a can of "Stomp-ass,"
He put both friends and enemies to rout.

The team had a Ken Doll named "Woodhead,"
Who was quiet except when he fed;
If he was eager to eat,
He chewed little of the meat,
But gobbled it whole instead.

The squad had pre-med named Koch;
His favorite words were Reid and book;
When singles gave troubles,
He specialized in doubles;
And Marcia was the partner he took.

Now this team had its own "Dr. J."
Who would rather say "nay" than say "yea";
A prof. to abuse
Was his way to amuse,
But he'd live in a lab for an A.

Also from Frankfort came Robbie,
Who made campus politics his hobby;
When he decided to run
Against Deaton's old "Hon",
That Robbie was out of a jobbie.

And there was a utility man
From the town of Bibb and Van;
When the emergencies came
And they called out Tom's name,
He was ready with racket in hand.

Since in two team matches he'd been lickin',
Griffin hoped to continue the kickin';
To his "We'll beat their butts!"
Marge said he was nuts,
So this George proved he was no Chicken.

Young Dan was no match for Ira Schechter,
So if he played a girl, he'd respect her;
And the day of his fight
Against a woman in white,
He not only beat her, he "Rechter."

The next Dan was one of the Frenches,
Who would play either men or the wenchens.
But due to much precipitation
And even more cancellation,
He spent most of his time on the benches.

Now a young freshman named Ken
Is the last of these stout-hearted men;
After working hard every day
Despite few matches to play,
He said, "To play Lisa I'd do it again."

They had also a coach who's retiring
After eleven stellar years of inspiring;
With his lofty state rank
And his refusal to tank,
His retiring is clearly no firing.

The other team coach will still steer
The squad for one additional year,
Unless tactful John Howard
Calls him a big coward
And every other team member a queer.

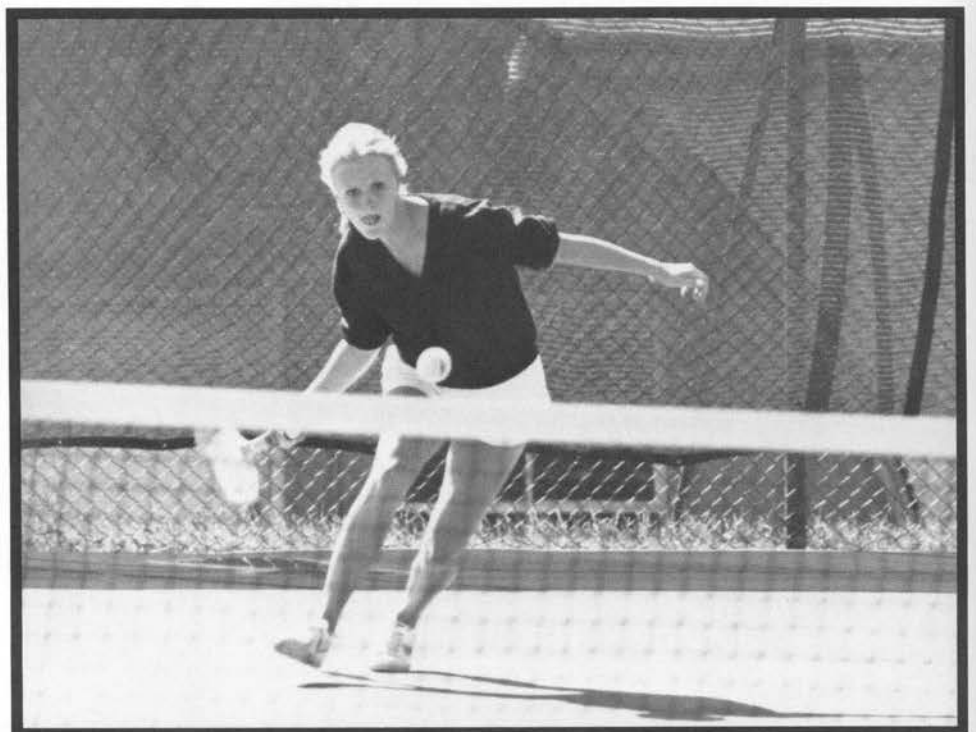

—Coach Mount

FALL INTRAMURALS

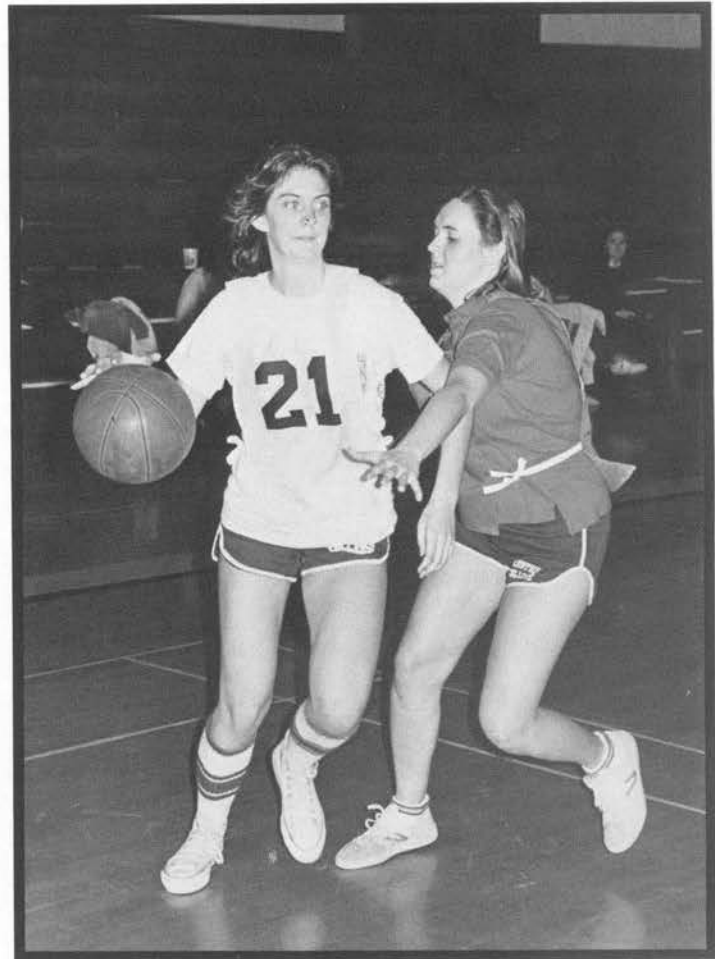

The first intramural contest of the year was flag football. Coming out on top after some tough competition were the Betas in the men's division and Don Ho's Dolls in the women's. Brad McKinney and Jeff Mackin won the Golf Championship with the Phi Delt's capturing the team title. Ray Maikula, Mike Baker and John Earthman came in first, second and third, respectively, in the Cross Country Meet. The Samaurai Servers were first in the Co-Ed Volleyball competition, with Beta I winning the men's division and Muah!! winning the women's division in volleyball and basketball. The Sig I team won the Basketball tournament in the men's division.

Classes are important to any student, but free time becomes especially valuable during college, and there are many ways to spend it. Centre has many activities to choose from, among them: 1. Mike Kelley, Ray Hoppenjans, and Norb Hummel engage in a donut eating contest. 2. Students and faculty sing Christmas carols.

6.

3. Art classes take a lot of time to get things "just right". 4. Jo Garretson, Mary Ann Serratt, and Susan Ross wait for "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" to begin. 5. Clare Gunther enjoys the nice weather as she "wheels" around campus.

7.

8.

3.

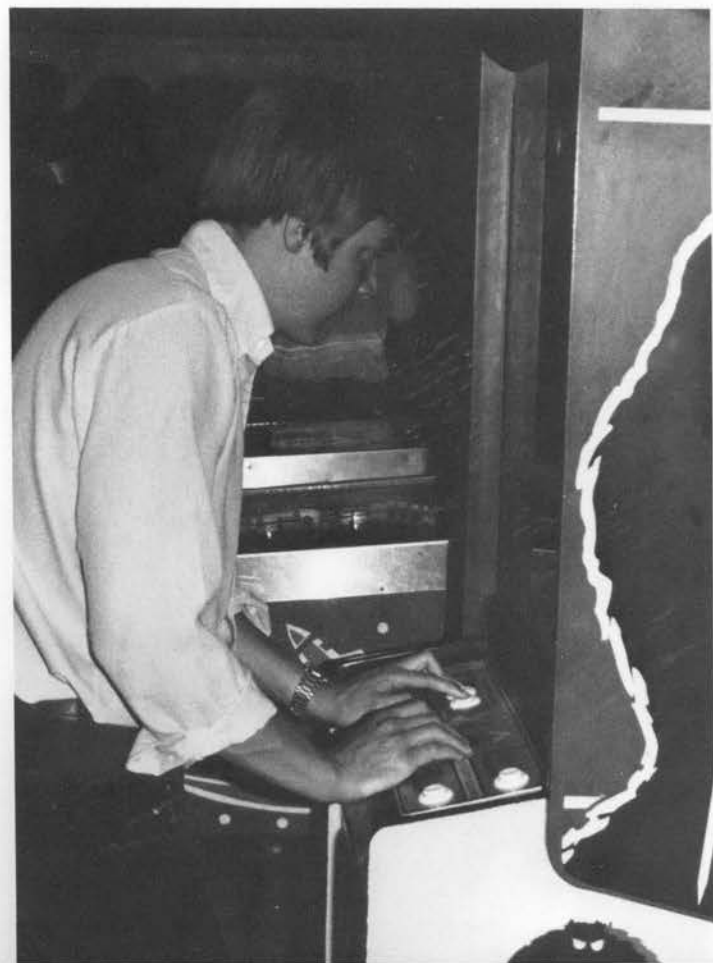

6. A common sight in Young Hall: trying to cram before a Chem Eq test. 7. One way to have a change of pace is to go to Germany like Randy May, Katherine Beasley, Norman Minogue, Lori Bachman and Marc Kowalk. 8. 1, 2, 3 — Jump! Jenny Revis and Karen Frisina play in the snow.

4.

10.

9. Pinball challenges one's reflexes and concentration. 10. Don Boes and Lee Dunham blow their tops.

9.

1. Tara Owen receives some advice from Bonnie Brantley about her schedule. 2. It's time to boogie down at the BSU dance. 7. Dave Likins sees something more interesting than his food at Cowan. 8. Lee Imes spends part of her week working in the Hangout.

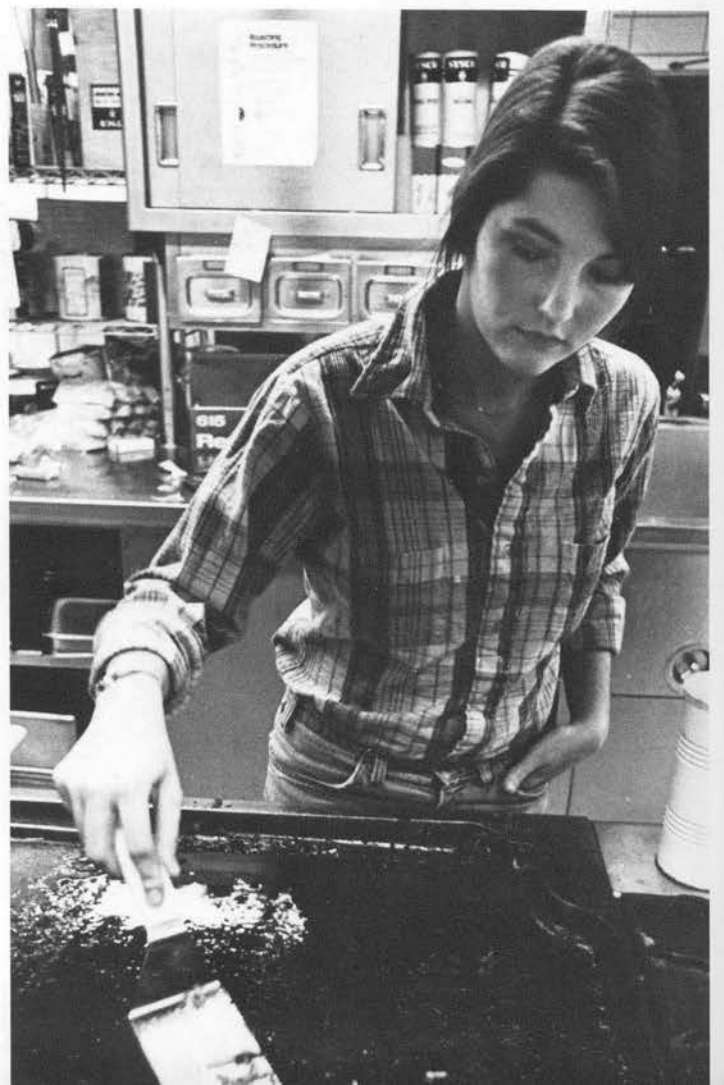

1.

7.

8.

3.

4.

5.

6.

9.

3. Tom Baughman tries to improve his backhand and burn off a few calories. 4. Snow bring a new obstacle to overcome on the way to class. 5. Becky White, Polly Marcum, and Nancie Nolan watch an intramural football game. 6. Studying takes up much of a Centre student's time. 9. Culver Halliday enjoys himself at a private party.

We have had many difficulties this year in producing the yearbook, and had it not been for Rick Nahm, many Student Congress members and tons of Patrons and Alumni, this book may still be in the "dream" stage, rather than a reality. Financial problems aside, many thanks go to Albert Leggett, Todd Bensenhaver and Peggy Frisbie who provided most of the photographs for the book.

We hope you'll enjoy this book despite the delays. If you do, let those involved know about it.

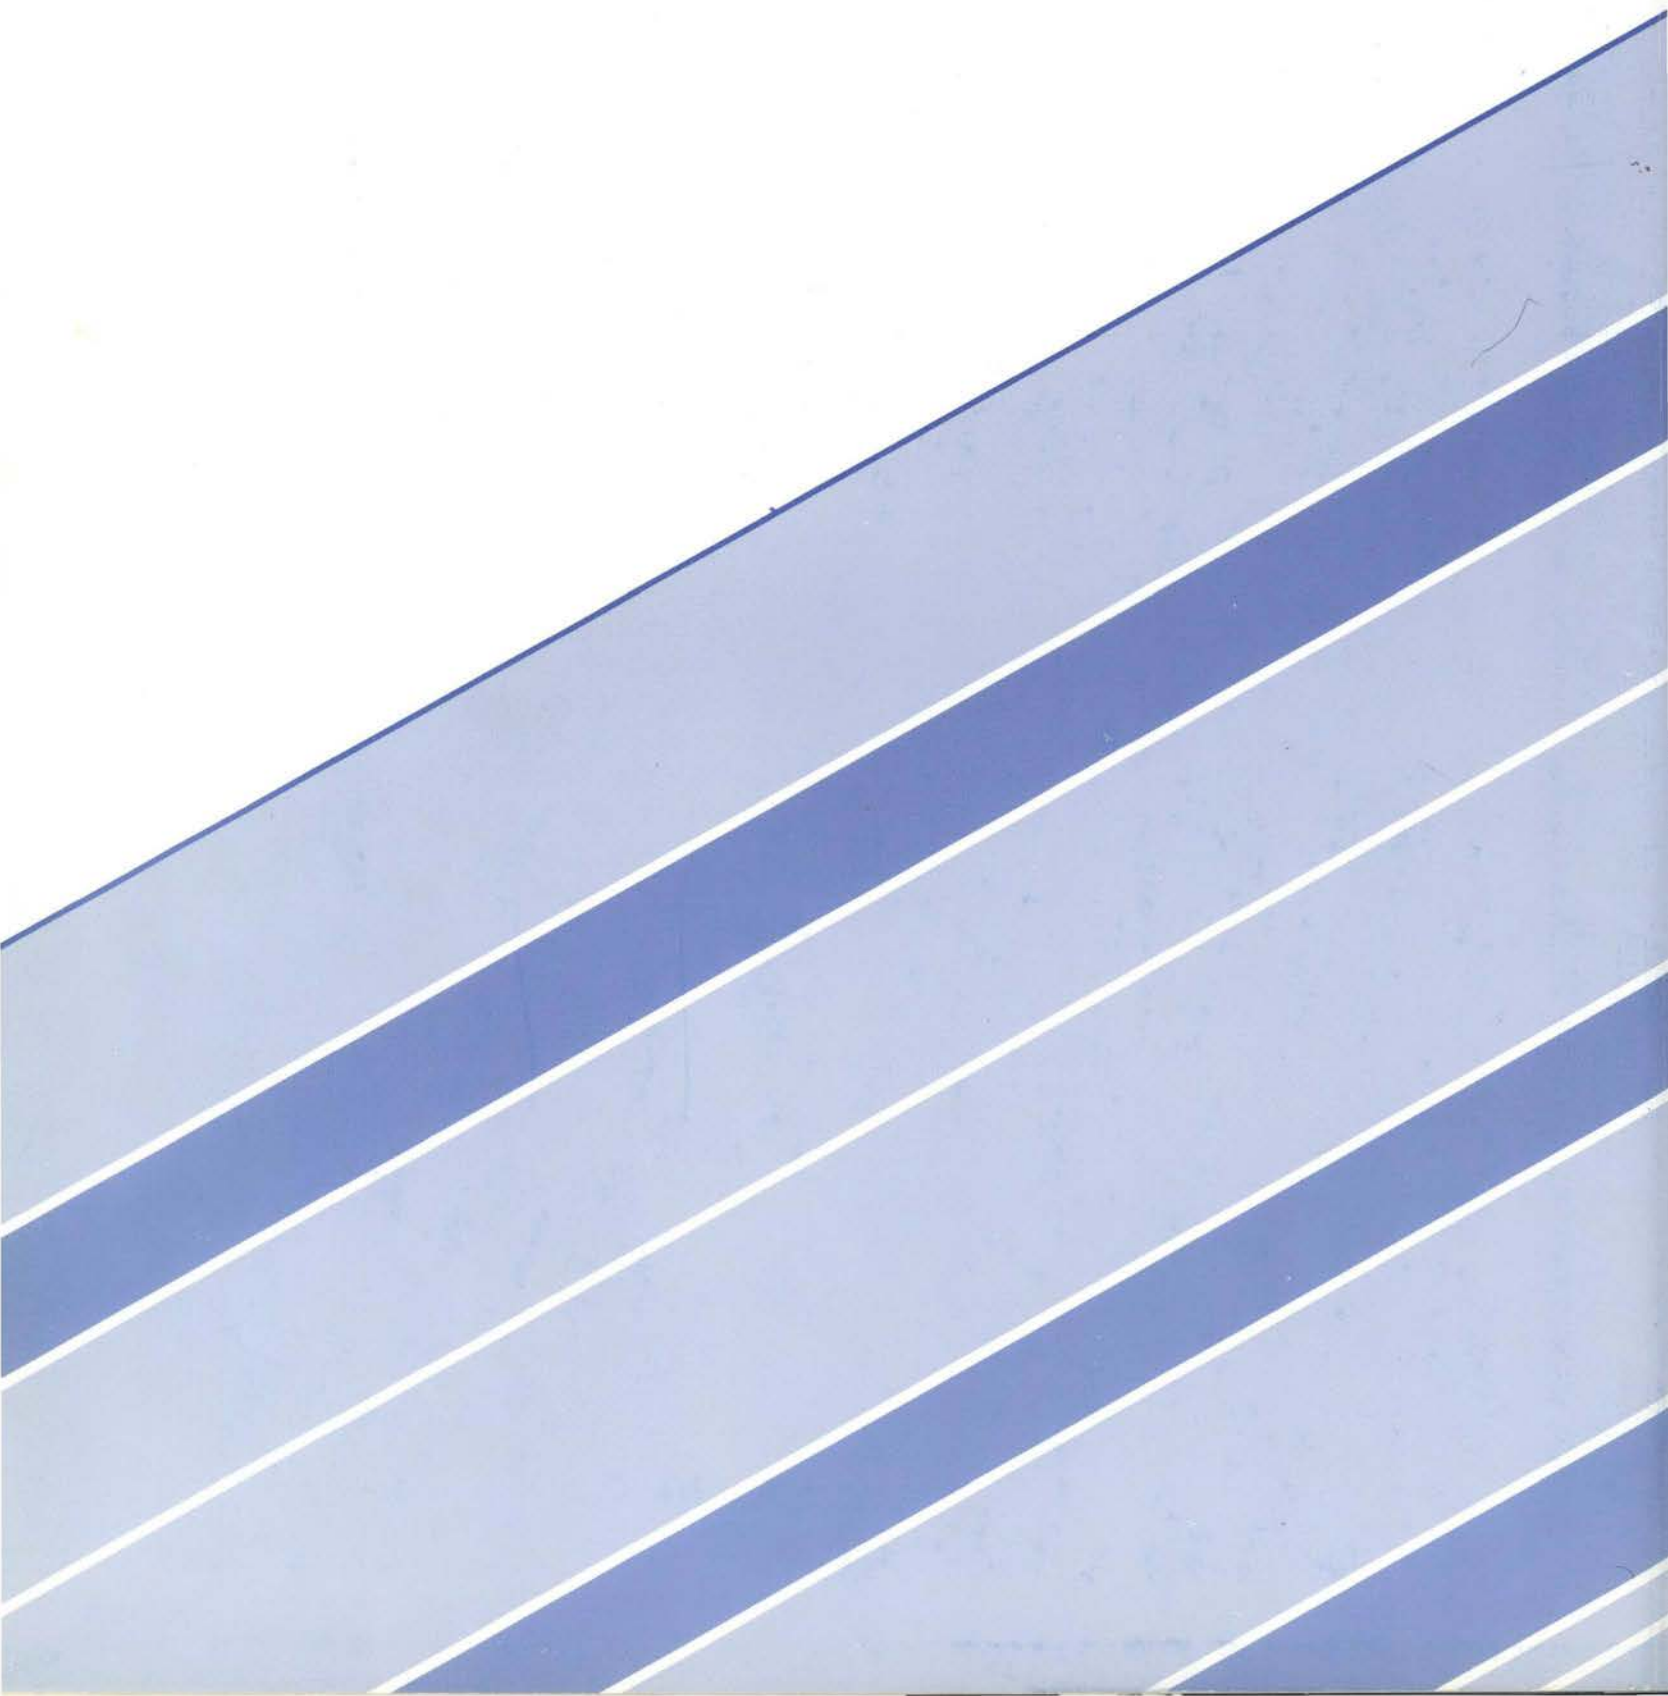

Take care Centre!

SPECIFICATIONS

Using 208 pages with a press run of 750 copies, the 1980 edition of Olde Centre, the official publication of The Centre College of Kentucky was printed by the Delmar Printing Company in Charlotte, North Carolina.

The cover design was inspired by a Gulf-Western Annual Report using alternating screens of PMS 294 40% and 80%, with the design blocks silver embossed. The design was silkscreened on a Lexotone material employing a wrap-around technique. The artwork used in the blocks is illustrative of the various divisions of the campus community.

The endsheet and division page designs were created to illustrate the diversity of the cover design, while simultaneously emphasizing a specific division through the use of a representative photograph. All copy was set in Melior type, with headlines in Melior Bold.
