Dedication

To the memory of

PROFESSOR JOHN CILLEY FALES

for forty-four years a potent force in Centre College, as librarian, professor, dean and acting president, as a wide and profound scholar and a stimulating teacher, and as an exemplar and a friend to the students of this institution, this volume is respectfully dedicated.

Prologue

O gentle reader, for your delight,
In toil and trouble we've brought to light,
By working hard both day and night,
This Annual, "Old Centre" hight.

And since a prefatory note
On such a book is always wrote,
Although on this we do not dote
We needs must follow the usual rote.

In years to come we hope you'll find
Something to stir up memories kind,
For in these pages we tried to bind
The happy years we've left behind.

Other Annuals may this surpass,
In some points we may have failed, alas,
But our best we've given to our class,
Our faults omit, our virtues write in brass.

One word more we'd like to say,
Ere we bid you a fond good-day:
First and foremost and all the way
Old Centre will live in our hearts always.

EWING THOMAS BOLES, Phrenocon
Williamstown, Ky.

Born at Williamstown, Ky., May 4, 1895. Prepared for college at Williamstown High School. Entered Centre College, '13. Varsity football, '13-'14-'15. Treasurer, Chamberlain Literary Society, '14-'15. Represented Chamberlain in February 22nd Oratorical, '15. Secretary, Deutscher Verein, '14-'15. Ye Rounde Table. Charter member of Phrenocon. Associate Editor, "Old Centre." Assistant in Education, '16. Vice-president of Senior Class. Expects to study law.

"Casting a dim religious light."

—Milton, II Penseroso

"P. A." is the hard worker of the class. Not content with the three years spent here, he has passed his summers in toil and labor for his sheepskin. An invaluable man on the field, on the platform and in the classroom, he will not stop at that, but announces that he is still in the race for that handicapped Class Cup. We predict an easy victory. He shocked the natives when he declared he was for a true Kentucky class—withdrawing his support from prohibition. Sioux City may look out.

PAUL BAYLEY BOYD, K. A.
Leitchfield, Ky.

Born Wright City, Mo. Prepared, Louisville Male High School; entered Centre College, '12; Vice-President, Freshman Class; German Club, '12-'13; Student Assistant, Physics, '12-'13-'14-'15; Principal, Leitchfield, Ky. High School '13-'14; Cento staff, '14-'15; Historian, Senior Class; Assistant Librarian, '15-'16; Art Editor of "Old Centre"; President of Deinologian, '15; Vice-President, Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Society, '15-'16; Ye Rounde Table.

"PAUL"

"She is mine own,
And I as rich in having such a jewel,
As twenty seas if all their sands were pearl,
The water nectar, and the rocks pure gold."

Paul started out with the bunch, dropped out a year, and returned to be graduated with less exertion than some who have been plugging away for the whole four laps. Paul has another distinction or so; first, he is the only married man that the class possesses, and second, he is the only man that could grow a decent mustache. The meanest thing that he has done was to handle the Freshmen roughly in the "flag rush," but it is hard to say just what has been his greatest achievement. His exploits, in the company of others, in the bathroom in his Freshman year must not be overlooked. He sings well and is often imposed upon in a crowd. In spite of his many other obligations he always seems to have read the assignment; in this and other connections he has always been more or less of a mystery. For a while he contemplated taking the Ford agency in this section, but one afternoon he went to the picture show and saw an accident enacted, or about to be enacted and changed his mind.

VASILIOS ISADORE CHEBITHES, Phrenocon
Somerset, Ky.

Born on the Island of Icaria, Greece, November 15, 1893. Came to America, 1906, taking up his residence at Somerset. Prepared for college in the public schools of Pulaski county and the Somerset High School. Entered Centre College, '13. Chamberlain Literary Society, Secretary, '14; Vice-President, '15; President, '16. Cento Staff, '14-'15-'16. Student's Publicity Board, '15-'16. Kappa Pi. Carnival Committee, '15. Football "C" man, '15. Winner, Ernst Debate '15, '16. Winner, February Oratorical, '16. Winner, June Oratorical, '15. Winner, Intercollegiate Debate, Centre vs. Transylvania, '15. Winner, Intercollegiate Debate, Centre vs. State, '16. Member, Athletic Board of Control, '15-'16. Board of Censorship, "Old Centre." Ye Rounde Table, '16. Member of Executive Committee, Kentucky Intercollegiate Debating Association.

"CHEB"

"Not of him could the gods make even a digger or a plowman or anything intelligent, he was a bungler at every trade."—HOMER.

When this well-greaved Achaian first came to Danville, little did we dream such a worm as he could attain such fame. Yet, behold!. His athletics, his social activities, his public spiritedness, and his college work have startled even Chronus and Apollo the far-darter; but his oratory and persuasive powers are best brought out in an incident related about him. A certain entrance fee was demanded of him by Dr. Thomas for the Ernst Debate. His defense was: "Either you have taught me the art of persuasion as you undertook, in which case let me persuade you not to take a fee; or you have failed to teach me, in which case, I owe you nothing."

Life work: Spreading it.

JOHN MARSHALL CLOYD, Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Campbellsville, Ky.

Born December 16, 1894, at Campbellsville, Ky. Prepared for college at Buchanan Collegiate Institute, Campbellsville. Entered Centre College, 1912. Varsity baseball, '13, '14, '15 and '16. Chosen All-Kentucky outfielder. 1914. Track team, 1913. Crucible Club. Ye Rounde Table. Assistant in Chemistry, Centre College, '14-'15-'16. Deinologian Literary Society, president, '16. Ernst Debate, '16. February 22nd Oratorical, '16. Scientific Club, '16. Capt., Baseball Team, '16. Life work, chemist.

"A wretched soul, bruised with adversity."
—SHAKESPEARE, Comedy of Errors.

At last, after three years of trials and tribulations, Cluetts having evaded every spy from Peter Claasen to Damyou has turned out his latest dramatic success, "The Bloody Fields of Belgium." He has also in his old age become quite an orator—probably trying to drown out the memories of four years of fumes in Hickdom Hall. At a recent Senior Party, Cloyd made some broad assertions regarding the race he is going to run for the Class Cup. Best luck to another All-Kentuckian!

ROBERT BURDETTE DUNN, Phi Delta Theta

Carnival Committee, 1913; Secretary, Carnival Committee, 1914; Chairman, Carnival Committee, 1915. Captain, Sophomore Football Team, varsity football, 1915. Kappa Pi, Publicity Board, Chamberlain, Ernst Debate, State Debating Team, President Chamberlain, second term, 1915, German Club, Cheer Leader, Secretary of Pan-Hellenic.

"Bob"

*"A man he seems of cheerful yesterdays,
And confident tomorrows."
"And we called him "Bob" because it suited him."*

Keen for everything both great and small, he has tried his hand at about everything in college. and, figuratively speaking, he has a batting average around the .400 mark. He was not content with running the dances and incidentally half the college but has taken up a position as reporter on the "Advocate," where he makes the boys who go 'to the far country' miserable. We know that success is his, and may Dame Fortune fill his cup with every happiness.

Life work: Politics.

EDWARD IRVING FULTON
Anchorage, Ky.

Born Anchorage, Ky.; Prepared, Bellewood Seminary and Louisville Male High School; entered Centre College, '13; Freshman Football, '13; Chamberlain Officer, '13-'14, '14-'15, '15-'16; Cento Staff, '14-'15, '15-'16; Deutscher Verein, '14-'15; summer course, University of Illinois, 1915; Ye Rounde Table; Editor-in-Chief of "Old Centre."

Life work: Dramatic art.

"DUKE"

Duke is the genius of the Senior class. When he is not pointing out the niceties of the English lesson to Dr. Thomas, his regular pastime is devising tortures for the members of the faculty. It may be added that he is very strong in the latter branch. He says that the only words that he thinks should be 'cut out' of the dictionary are 'Gordon' and 'dry.' It has fallen to the lot of our "Duke" to break the monotony of college life and in this respect he has admirably succeeded. He is co-inventor with Hoss, of the famous 'chapel shower bath' system which invention alone brought him undying fame. Of late he has become a great pest and worries the delinquent contributors of the Annual muchly. Besides all this and other things that are best left unmentioned, at least until he has received his sheepskin, Duke is a hard and thorough student, making his college course in three years and it is to him, gentle reader, that you owe this volume.

HENRY CLAY GARRISON

Born, Danville, Ky., prepared at Centre College Academy and entered Centre College in 1912. Treasurer, Sophomore class, Vice-President, Junior Class, Treasurer, Senior Class. Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '14-'15, President, Y. M. C. A., '15-'16. Sophomore Football Team, Glee Club, '14-'15, '15-'16.

"CLAY"

Whether this is his name or merely a descriptive epithet, we have never clearly ascertained. Although "Sloo-Foot" bears the name of the immortal Kentucky orator, he has never cared much about soap box oratory and even in the Y. M. C. A. he often blushed modestly after Dr. Meier mentioned the banquet and crowds began to attend the Friday morning services. Clay made himself famous asking foolish questions in Physics, but he got the job of assistant and some of his friends who kept the unwise silence of ignorance, flunked. Clay has the old stick-to-it-iveness that will put him across. K. C. W. guide. His ambition is to have a farm, a wife, a victrola, and to raise chickens. One mean trick was painting Peter Claasen's horse because Mrs. Claasen wouldn't give him a second cup of coffee at a German Club meeting.

Life work: Love making.

CHARLES MORTON HANNA, Sigma Chi

Born, Shelbyville, Ky., June 13, 1896. Prepared at Pleasureville Academy and entered Centre College fall of 1913. Freshman and Sophomore Football Team. Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '14-'15 Vice-President, Y. M. C. A., '15-'16. Officer, Deinologian Literary Society, '13-'14-'15-'16. Varsity Football, 1915; Vice-President, Deinologian, 1915; Cento Staff, '14-'15. Annual Board; Ye Rounde Table.

"VENUS"

"I know the disposition of women, when you will, they won't,

When you won't they set their hearts upon you of their own inclination."—TERENCE

Here is a man who has always bespoken such dignity that he did not gain a nickname until his Senior year. His entree was not spectacular, nor will he leave like a cluod on an April day, but he is one of the last men who will make the course at Centre in three years. Hanna stood the punching on the scrub team in good shape for two years to be rewarded with a letter this fall. Virtue, sincerity, weakness, women, diversion, study, ambition to be a Caruso.

Life work: Farming.

PAUL JONES HUGHES, Beta Theta Pi
Columbia, Ky.

Born at Columbia, Ky., March 8, 1893. Prepared for college at Columbia High School. Entered Centre College in 1912. Chamberlain Literary Society, Librarian, '12-'13; Vice-President, '13-'14, two terms; Treasurer, '15-'16. Cento Staff, Circulation Manager, '13; Business Manager, '14; Organizations Editor, '16. Kappa Pi. Esperanto Club. Founder of Students' Publicity Board. Chairman of Board of Censorship, "Old Centre." Pan-Hellenic Council, '15-'16. Field worker for Centre College, summer of 1915. Secretary of First Interscholastic Track Meet, 1915. Secretary of First Interscholastic Basket ball Tournament, 1916.

Expects to go into advertising.

P. J.

*"So much one man can do,
That does both act and know."*

Paul is one of those modest, quiet ones, who never worry, but just "get there." From what we can hear, Paul, from earliest infancy has always showed a marked ability to manage things and, needless to say, he always does it well. It was in no other fertile brain than his, that the idea of a Student Publicity Board originated, and it was his "Get Up" and drive that has made this organization such a potent factor in the large increase in students. We may add, he is an excellent host. We will not be satisfied until we see "P. J." firmly seated in the chair of the boss at Tammany Hall.

CLEM DIXON JOHNSTON, Beta Theta Pi
Crestwood, Ky.

Born at Crestwood, Ky. on Nov. 7, 1896. Prepared at Louisville Male High School. Entered Centre, '13. Vice President of Chamberlain, '14-'15. Cento Staff, '13-'14. Business Manager, Cento, '14-'15. Student Assistant in Chemistry, '14-'15. Crucible Club, '13-'14. Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '14-'15-'16. Carnival Committee, '14-'15-'16. Varsity Football, '14-'15, Captain, '15. Varsity Track Team, '14-'15-'16, Captain, '16. Varsity Basket ball, '15. Student Assistant in Biology, '15-'16. Scientific Club, '16; Sophomore Historian, '15. Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, '15-'16. Business Manager, "Old Centre."

"CLEM"

"Be silent always when you doubt your sense, and speak, tho sure, with seeming diffidence."

Clem is a quiet (?) obliging fellow who takes more interest in work than in frivolities. Versatility, thy name is Johnston. Clem is the only Napoleon we have among us. He was a potent member of the football team, Y. M. C. A. president, and confirmed vandal and anarchist all at the same time. Dr. Flippin ranks him as foremost among the anarchists of the present day and possibly of all times. Clem is a 'stujent', an athlete, good fellow, and best of all a good toastmaster. Here's to the "Don Quixote" of Old Centre.

Life work: Medicine.

JOHN FAULKNER WHITE, Sigma Chi
Richmond, Ky.

JOHN F. WHITE

John had the peculiar nickname of "Goat" that he fell "air" to by rooming with "Tubby" Mahan in his Freshman year, but in his dignified poise and bearing as a Senior, he has been known as "John Faulkner." John is one of the few who survived the four rounds and has always been steady. A safe sane friend who has won all the honors in his class, and at the same time maintained a high rating with the girls in the east end of town. Although he has the infamous habit of taking long walks and an occasional hobo trip, we have no fear of his ever taking the open road of tramp life. An athlete, scholar, philosopher, social lion, and the best book agent that ever held down the east wing of the Main Building, Albert Ely not excepted. To him life is a soliloquy at best, and he has refused to give up "the great god of nicotine" for a wee whimpering girl. It is said that he knows Kipling better than Kipling knows himself.

Senior History

NOW that the goal toward which we have striven for four long years is in sight, it is with a great amount of pleasure, not entirely free from pride, that we look back upon our record as a class. We feel that during these four years we have seen the evolution of a "New Centre" and that the class of '16 has been one of the great factors in bringing this about. Along with our successes and achievements, we are not totally blind to our failures, but have taken them as a part of life and have endeavored to benefit by them accordingly. While we believe we have been a benefit to Centre College, we also feel very deeply the great amount of good that she has done for us, and it is with most thankful and appreciative minds for this good that we take our departure from our beloved "Centre." Those who have received much from, and given much to an institution can not help but be greatly devoted to it.

There was nothing exceptional about the class of '16 when it first appeared upon the campus, except its greenness and desire to learn. It was not long however until we were noticed in a very casual (?) way by our friends, the Sophs, and were entertained in the same delightful way that the Freshmen have been entertained for untold cycles. Our class was then organized and J. J. Betherum chosen as our first president. The experiences of Hallowe'en quite removed all lingering evidences of freshness.

Soon flag rush came, and, by well planned strategy, the class of '15 triumphed over us. Later another election was held and Leslie Brown was chosen to lead the class through the remaining part of the year.

In athletics we had five men on the football team, and two on the basket ball team.

In September of '13 our class returned somewhat diminished in numbers, but with more "pep" and determination to be victors. T. J. Turley was elected Leonidas of the "Spartan Band" and we removed the freshness from the class of '17 by our applications of college life held on the second Saturday after the opening of school, and on Hallowe'en night, and by our football victory on Nov. 8th. Having profited by the experiences with the class of '15, we decided to use strategy in the coming flag rush and so the class of '16 was triumphant—thanks to the efforts of Turley and Crockett, who, disguised, placed our flag on the Main Building, and guarded it until it was kissed by the rising sun. In literary halls, on the athletic field and in society circles the men of '16 were represented with much credit.

By the opening of our third year we felt that the class of '16 had gained a secure reputation for doing things. This year we no longer took part in the trivial affairs of hazing and flag rush, but turned our minds to gain distinction in other lines.

The captains of the baseball and of the football teams came from our midst and six men out of the eight were wearers of the "C." We also saw one of our number attain high honor by his coronation as King on Gala Night. We sent forward to the class of '15, Bethurum, Lewis, Mahan and Sweets.

Now comes the opening of our last year at dear "Old Centre." Instead of decreasing this year we had a goodly number of men added to our ranks by the entrance of Boles, Chebithes, Fulton, Hanna and Johnston from the class of '17. John F. White took the place at the helm and very successfully headed our glorious band toward the country generally known as the "Land of Diplomas." Clem Johnston was captain of our football team. V. I. Chebithes and Robt. Dunn won places on the debating team. Johnston, Chebithes, Hanna and Boles won their "C" in football. Boyd, Cloyd, Chebithes and Dunn, presidents of Chamberlain and Deinologian Literary Societies, were taken from our class. Boles is captain-elect of the football team for 1916. In baseball we will finish J. M. Cloyd, who has already thoroughly proved his ability for three years on this team. White, our president, has won his letter in both football and track.

Now that we have arrived at the end of our Senior year, let us give fifteen for "Old Centre" and fifteen for the class of '16, and hope that the careers of both the college and the class will be blessed with the same happiness and success that has crowned both during their association.

Junior Class History

THE Junior Class, a band of eleven men, stands at the present time as the solid bed rock of the large Freshman class of three years ago. We have been unfortunate in the loss of some twenty men. A few were taken from college by fate, but some were elevated to the rank of seniorship. Nevertheless, we stand looking back upon the past with a smile, and glance into the future with thoughtful minds. What we have accomplished for Centre in the past three years, we will make the foundation for the work which we have planned for the coming year. With spirit, mind, and body working for this old institution, we intend to make Centre College "Better than Ever, and Bigger than Ever."

The men who are holding our offices are President, Laidley E. Douthitt, Vice-President, Thomas B. Tate, Secretary, John Rogers Treasurer, Chas.W.Vaught, and Historian, Murray C.Shoun. While Freshmen, we over-came the fighting Sophomores in the annual flag rush. Still, as Sophomores, our flag remained untouched and unblemished when the morning sun shown upon the letters "Class of 1917."

At times, during the interval of three years, we have had as many as eight men on the varsity football team. We have been represented not only in numbers, but also by the best quality of players Centre has had in years. Upon the basket ball floor we have held our own. This year we have four regular players on the Varsity squad, T. J. Turley, Montgomery, Tate, and Douthitt; not only in football and basketball have we shown our skill but in baseball and track, our superiority has not been challenged. We tell these facts not to praise ourselves, but to show our ever present interest and undying love for "Old Centre."

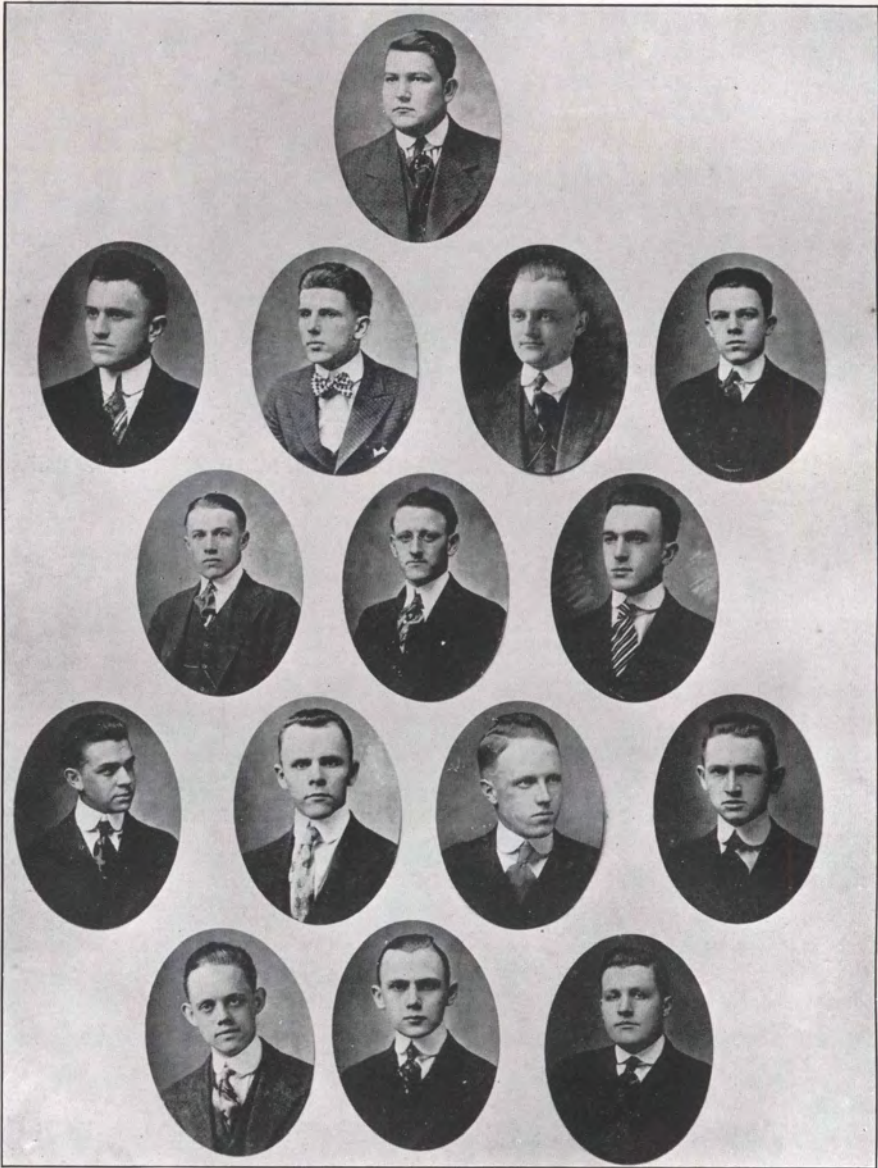

Well pleased with our athletic record, we now turn to the intellectual. Just recently three of our men, Stanley Dickson, Thos. H. Lockett and John C. Rogers were elected to "Ye Rounde Table." In addition to this honor for intellectual prowess, we have been well represented in all debates. "Tom" Lockett won the Ernst Debate in 1914, and was a member of the debating team which unanimously defeated Transylvania. Again this year he won a place in the Ernst Debate.

The Centre College Cento is practically under the supervision of the Junior class, and it is conceded to be the best publication ever issued by the students of this insttiution.

In closing our band of warriors say:

"Fight for Centre, and Centre will fight for you."

—Murray C. Shoun,' 17.

Sophomore Class History

THE dawn of the year 1915-16 saw us return to "Old Centre" with swelling heads and feet that walked on clouds. We felt our Sophomorical wings had grown to their full size, and we had, one and all, an ardent desire to flap them in the face of the incoming Freshman class, whose verdant sprouts were already decorating the campus and all other places where the fellows meet. The only cloud that darkened our early days as Sophomores was the fact that eight "Good men and true" failed to answer the call and were missed from the company of their brethren. Several new men, however, entered the Sophomore class and lessened our grief at the loss of our old friends, without replacing them.

We soon got together and elected our officers for the year. At this election Eddie Rogers was chosen president; Ardery, vice-president; Lowe, secretary; Mc Chord, treasurer; and Redmond, historian.

Naturally the next thing in order was the promulgation of the Freshman "Ten Commandments." These rules wisely restrained the Freshmen from irresponsible skittishness over the fact that they had at last attained the dignity of college men, and kept them from "feeling their oats" too strongly. Wisely we decided that it was illogical to strain every sinew to get a good Freshman class here, and then to beat them up when they came. For this reason the decree went forth from us that the Freshman initiation" was dispensed with. This exploit will win for us the eternal gratitude of generations yet unborn of Centre College Freshmen.

Our class is well represented in college activities. We have men on the Cento Staff, in the Y. M. C. A., Glee Club, and every college activity worth while. We also have men who have made "C's" in every branch of college athletics, and men who have made "A's" on the class-room battle ground. We are well represented in both Chamberlain and Deinologian literary societies and doubtless have some future Solons and Demosthenes in our midst.

Taken altogether, we give promise of becoming one of the famous classes of Centre, and a class, certainly, which will always pay tribute to her wise guidance and do her reverence as our "Cornelia." We say this, not boastingly, but in the sincere belief that, if we do not "hide our light under a bushel," the succeeding classes may derive benefits from our example, and receive inspiration from our achievement.

—Redmond, '18.
Historian.

Freshman History

MARCHING to the strain of "On to Centre," fifty-three stalwart men entered this famous institution in the early fall of 1915. Coming together from far and near, we intend to continue and better the great customs and principles of Old Centre, which may fall upon our shoulders during a period of four pleasant years. Although most of us are Kentuckians, yet we are pleased to have men in our class from Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee and Mississippi.

Notwithstanding our large number, we believe that the deep attachment for Centre College will not permit the loss of any member of our class. We are here to fight for Centre and in doing so, to uplift the principles of education and religion in the state of Kentucky. Although young in experience, we have learned that education, religion and athletics make the "all around man," and we believe that these three are embodied in the foundation of our much loved institution.

Upon the athletic field, the Freshman class has made a glorious start. This season we had six men on the varsity squad, namely, Arnsparger, F. Allen, Gibbs, Diddle, Newman and Schaaf. These men finished the season with great credit, both to themselves and to the college. They were well repaid for their splendid work by the receipt of their "C's," which mean much to a first year man. To basket ball the members of our class have given their enthusiastic support. We have four men on the 'Varsity team: Bryant, Diddle, C. Puryear and Veach. The Freshman class expects to have not less than five or six men on the baseball squad. The coach is well pleased with the prospects and we believe that our men will prove of value to him.

Working upon the principle that intellect makes the man, we are not building our foundation upon intentions. The Freshman class as a whole is making a good record in the classroom, and we expect that many of our men will be elected to that intellectual organization, "Ye Rounde Table," when they have reached the ranks of the dignified Juniors. Our class is ably represented upon the staff of the Centre College Cento. Many of our men are deeply interested in the success of the Y. M. C. A., believing that after four years of hard work, they can elevate it to a position equal to athletics and classroom work.

Under the leadership of such men as President Rush Gibbs, Vice President "Chick" Schaaf, Treasurer Raymond Ingram, Secretary Ben. Newman, and Historian Frank Allen, the Freshman class has accomplished every task set before it. And not only in these tasks but in another have we been successful. On the morning of March 6th we successfully charged the Sophomores, taking down their flag and guarding ours until the first rays of the morning sun crowned it with victory. This is the first time that the "Flag Rush" has been won by the Freshman class for several years.

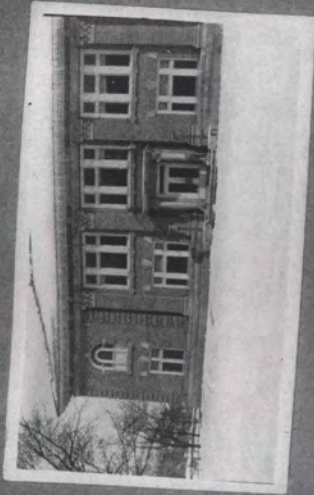

About the first of April we plan to give a minstrel show, and with the proceeds we intend to give the entire school a beef-steak breakfast during Carnival Week.

Filled with the spirit which has so characterized the students of this college and full of an ever-present love for this historic institution, the class of 1919 is determined that the "Gold and White" shall ever be unblemished and undefeated, as long as they remain in Centre College.

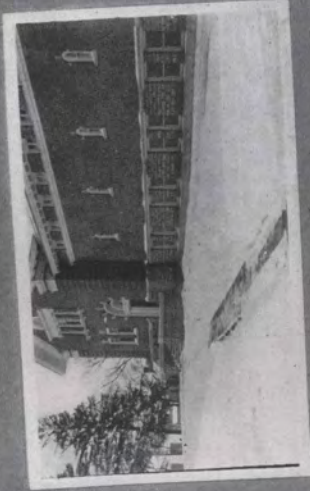

We are proud of the fact that we will be graduated when Old Centre is one hundred years old. To the men who are going to college, we heartily say, "All aboard for Centre" to learn to be "At home in the world."

—Frank F. Allen, Historian.

The Y. M. C. A. at Centre College 1915-1916

THE slogan of "Old Centre" for this year, "Bigger and Better Than Ever," seems to have borne its most effective fruit in the new spirit and life of the Young Men's Christian Association. Never in its history did the Y. M. C. A. enter upon its field of endeavor with more flattering prospects than in the fall of 1915, and it seems that the enthusiasm shown at the first meeting has multiplied with each succeeding one. It was the ambition of the members of the cabinet that every member of the student body should become an active member of the association, and we are greatly indebted to Dr. Meier for his unceasing interest in this respect.

The members of the cabinet—President, Garrison, '16; Vice President, Hanna, '16; Secretary, Johnston, '16; Treasurer, Moss, '18; Chairman of Bible Study Work, Boyd, '16; and Chairman of Mission Study Work, Hoss, '17—have undertaken a new plan this year in that they have invited a number of the most prominent business men of the town to come out to our Friday morning meetings and give us practical little talks about the every-day things of life that come before us. These talks have proven very interesting as well as inspiring.

Fulton, '16, Garrison, '16, Hoss, '17, Moss, '18, Marsh, '18, McChord, '18, and Laurence, '19, from the student body, and Drs. Ganfield, Smith, Flippin, and Meier from the faculty, attended the Student State Convention, at Berea, on Nov. 6 and 7. All of them came back very much enthused and brought many new ideas for our association.

We were exceptionally fortunate in having with us for our week of prayer, Dr. Joseph D. Cochrane, of the Presbyterian Board of Education, with headquarters at Philadelphia. Dr. Cochrane's talks were very beneficial and enlightening, and each service was more largely attended than the previous one. We were very sorry that Dr. Cochrane was unable to spend the entire week with us, but he was forced to leave us on Friday morning on account of a previous engagement. Dr. Vander Meulen came to us on our day of prayer, Feb. 24, and spent the day with us, and his talks were so helpful that they tended in a way to make up for Dr. Cochrane's short visit.

Nothing in the past few years has stirred the religious life of the boys like the delightful visit of Raymond Robbins and Jack Childs on the second and third of April. Their coming was the signal for a great burst of enthusiasm that continued during the entire time that they were here. These men have been very prominent in Y. M. C. A. work all over the United States, and it is not often that a college as small as Centre is fortunate enough to have a visit from them.

Great interest has been manifested in the Bible study class conducted by Dr. Ganfield on "God's Plan for a Man's Life Work." Several of the fellows are greatly interested in Sunday School classes that they are conducting in the houses near town. There have been several mission study classes instituted at the fraternity houses and dormitories which have been well attended.

All of the students enjoyed the reception given by the young ladies at Kentucky College for Women, and we were very sorry that our new gymnasium was not completed so that we could return the compliment. This is the first year that the members of the Y. M. C. A. have ever had any social evenings among themselves and they have proved quite enjoyable. These were held in the new Boyle-Humphrey gymnasium.

President Garrison and his cabinet have been unceasing in their efforts in behalf of the association, and a great deal of their success has been due to the hearty co-operation of the faculty and the students themselves.

Chamberlain History

WHEN we look back across the years that have elapsed since 1828, when Chamberlain Literary Society was founded; when we view her glorious record; when we see men in every walk of life who have received their inspiration and training in her halls, we cannot help but swell with pride to know that our names will appear along with the names of those illustrious men as members of Chamberlain.

Since her organization she has been one of the leading factors in the college life at Old Centre. Her representatives have placed their names high on the roll of fame, while, by their brilliant oratory, they have swayed the populace, but we are willing to rely on past glory only as a stimulus to further achievements. We have endeavored this year to keep up the standards of Chamberlain set by our worthy predecessors.

Under the presidency of Mr. Chebithes we early perfected our organization and added to our roll of members some prospective Clays, Websters and Harlans, who some day, we believe, will occupy seats of state in our nation.

Last June Chebithes added another laurel to the glory of Chamberlain by winning the June Oratorical. Not only does Chamberlain produce orators, but debaters who rival the logic and argumentation of Plato and Aristotle. She was represented in the Ernst Debate by T. H. Lockett, V. I. Chebithes, and R. B. Dunn, who not only won the debate but were picked to represent Centre in the State-Centre debate. On the night of March 17, these men journeyed to Lexington, and brought another victory back to Old Centre.

Soon after the Ernst debate a call came for representatives in the Feb. 22 Oratorical Contest. Douthitt and Chebithes became the champions of Chamberlain. On the appointed night the silver tongued orators from the Deinologian arrayed themselves against Chamberlain's matchless orators. Chebithes again brought back to our halls the trophy of battle; Douthitt exhibited that ability for oratory which will some day make him heard down the halls of the U. S. Senate.

This has indeed been a successful year for Chamberlain, but the future lies just ahead, unknown and unexplored. To this we look, only casting our eyes backward for inspiration that may aid us in meeting the future and upholding the traditions of Chamberlain.

Deinologian History

DEINOLOGIAN Literary Society is the second literary society founded at Centre College, the Chamberlain Literary Society being its senior by a few years. Deinologian was founded seventy-two years ago by a group of men who believed that to advance the literary development in Centre College a friendly rivalry must exist between two sister societies; therefore, Deinologian was founded and christened. She has well played her role. Through all of the preceding years she has held her place along the line of college literary activities, and many fond memories are projected as one thinks of the past years in which she participated in so many fine contests, and in which she always came forth with her share of the honors. This year Deinologian has had an uphill fight, yet never for a moment lacking in spirit and determination. She is weakened to a great extent by the loss of such men as Boggs, Hopper and Guerrant, who were graduated in the last few months, but she has left a nucleus, around which will float the banner of victory in the near future. Deinologian has a group of men who, though young in age, are made of material well suited to carry on and sustain her past glories. She was unfortunate in being so infantile in experienced men this year, for hard and disappointing was the fight of the recruits against the "Old Chamberlain Gladiators," who compelled them to wave the flag of truce in the Ernst Debate, but in the February Oratorical Deinologian managed to repel the charge which had formerly been so destructive, and placed Mr. Hamilton Barber in second place. Mr. Barber is a first year man and has already shown that our sister society must reckon strongly with him in the future. Deinologian will place a number of strong men in the June Oratorical Contest and our adversaries will indeed have to wield a great deal of eloquence to overcome them. Deinologian has a great history in the past, and will ever strive to retain her glory in the future.

"Her sombre walls with echos sound, of men long gone before;
The phantom voices rise again to urge her more and more,
And still she fights with untiring zeal to reach the cherished goal,
And with eloquence of Demosthenes her sons her truth unfold;
But should her royal sons be doomed, on earth or heaven slain,
She'll rise again her vows to take, to beat "Old Chamberlain."

REVERIES

'Tis now the spring time when skies are clearest,
'Tis now that memory of the ELEVENTH is dearest;
O, that we are back with our gals so true,
Funneling and drinking our 'Mountain Brew.'

We uns have been in the settlements many long days,
And missed our mountains in a million ways;
At night lonely and melancholy we enter our gate,
With no music of hound-howl or crack of thirty-eight.

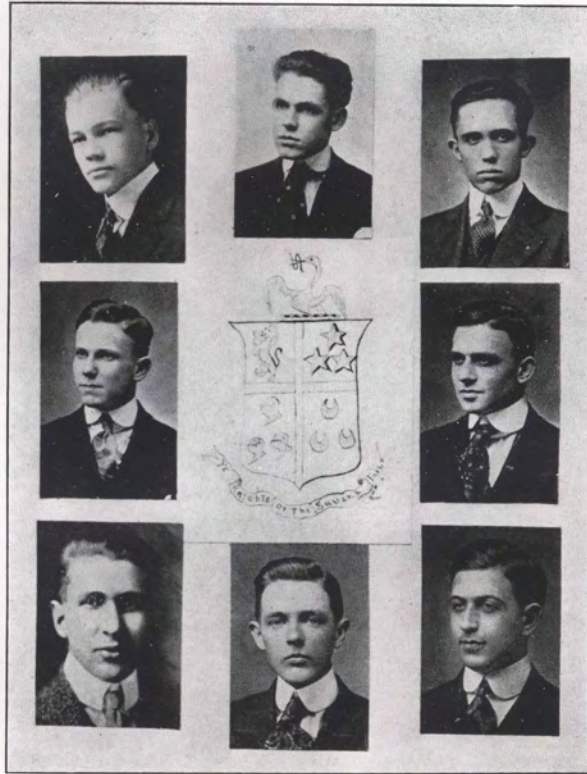

We do not love this ground of dust and mud.
We want our own, dark-stained with blood;
We hain't had no fun n'ary a night,
Hain't had nuthin,' not even a fight.

Nuthin' doin' here, hain't never a chance,
To spark with our gals at a Big Ridge dance;
This high-brow education may be the right stuff,
But we're all cured and have had enough.

We don't like this and we never will,
Hain't seed a sot nor even a still;
These furieners say their fountain drinks are fine,
Huh! They hain't nuthin' like our thick moonshine.

But, Pards, there's nary-a-bit o' use any more to say,
We'll be free in June, which hain't far away;
Then we'll hit that mountain trail and yell, yell, yell,
For we'll be in the ELEVENTH where we can raise hell, hell, hell.

COACH LITTICK

CAPT. JOHNSON

Football History

THE fall of '15 saw the return of eight letter men to the gridiron of "Old Centre." These, together with a good bunch of recruits, were taken in hand by Coach Littick to turn out a team that would do credit to the college in the many games that were scheduled. Captain Cromwell failed to return and Clem D. Johnston was elected to fill this vacancy.

In the first game against University of Louisville our team showed up in fairly good form and held the Cardinals to a scoreless tie on their own field.

The following week our annual practice game was played with K. M. I. which was unusually strong. However, Centre was victorious. Next our warriors had to face one of the strongest teams in the south in that of the University of Tennessee, and it was at Knoxville that we met our first and most complete defeat of the season. However, our team never ceased for one moment to fight, and, in the very last part of the fourth quarter, Centre put up her greatest game. It showed that our fellows had the "old time" fight.

On Oct. 22, not quite a week after our hard game at Knoxville, our plucky team met Marshall College on our home field. Here Centre put up the greatest game of the season and carried off the laurels from a heavier and more experienced team.

that true sportsmanship does not consist in the battling of the sidelines but of the clean strife of the men on the field.

Nov. 5 saw our great game of the season with Georgetown. Although Georgetown left our field with victory on their side, we feel that it was the goddess of fortune rather than Mars that gave the laurels. In fact our team played a great game, and it was not due to superior playing that they were beaten.

At Lexington our team once more suffered defeat at the hands of the Transylvania eleven. Several of our best men were out of the game due to the hard game with Georgetown the week before.

Thanksgiving we ended our season by playing University of Chattanooga at Chattanooga. Here, again, due to the injury of several of our men, we lost a hard fought game.

Although our team was not often crowned with victory during the season of '15, yet they put up the clean, hard, persistent fight that has always characterized the teams of "Old Centre."

Baseball

THE baseball history of Centre College during the years of 1912 to 1915 inclusive, has been one of untiring interest. Coach O'Brien in the year of 1912-13 managed to whip into shape a team that, after battling unceasingly against odds, managed to finish second in the race for the baseball championship of Kentucky. He, however, with untiring zeal, starting with this team as a nucleus and with Lassing as captain and twirler, successfully brought the championship banner to Centre in the following spring of 1914. The remarkable game Lassing pitched against Georgetown, at Georgetown, during the month of May, 1915, in which the championship was at stake, and from which he emerged by completely humiliating Georgetown by the score of 2-0, will long be remembered in the hearts of college baseball fans. Transylvania had previously forfeited a game to Centre, which ended that season's work very successfully.

In the spring of 1915 Turley was elected captain of the Centre College baseball squad with Mr. Lassing as coach. Captain Turley lead a group of battling warriors through the season with a goodly share of victories to their credit, yet Centre lost the championship by a very narrow margin. The spring of 1916 is drawing near with a brilliant ray of hope. With our new coach, Mr. Littick, on the job, and the nucleus of last year's team back to serve as a foundation, and assisted by a group of prospective material from which to draw, Centre's hopes are running high for a championship team. The captain of this year's team has not been elected, but whoever he is, we predict for him and for Centre College a great and glorious victory at the close of this year's baseball season.

Basketball

THE basketball season, while it does not show many victories won, was by no means an unsatisfactory one. Every game was fought to a finish, and when a victory was won our opponents knew that they had had to work for it. It was the first season in the new gymnasium, and quite a number turned out to try for the team. Captain Turley, Tate, Montgomery, and Johnston remained over from last year's squad, while Puryear, Diddle, Veath, Bryant, Schaaf and Reid were the chief contenders among the Freshmen. Coach Littick was handicapped by a lack of experienced men but by hard work whipped together an aggregation which was up to the notch in every respect.

The interscholastic basket ball tournament which was held on March 3rd and 4th was the first event of its kind in Kentucky, and was a great success. The eight best teams in the state participated, and every one of the twelve games played was interesting in the extreme. The Henderson High School team won the tournament and the Kentucky championship.

Cloyd—Did you ever determine the stresses in an egg?
Prof. Nash—I did once. I found that the inside was much stronger than the outside. We'll take that up later.

Young lady in train stands upon Bole's foot, then—Oh, I beg your pardon; I thought I was standing upon a suit case.

St. Peter—Have you ever kissed a girl?

Ogden—No, sir.

St. Peter—Has a girl ever kissed you?

Ogden—No, sir.

St. Peter—What are you doing here?

Ogden—I'm dead.

St. Peter—Dead? You haven't ever lived yet.

Dr. Flippin—Where is consciousness?

Powell—In the brain.

Dr. Flippin—Where is space?

Vaught—In consciousness.

Dr. Smith—Whitehead, are you going to remain in this class all year?

Whitehead—Not if I can help it.

Barbee, translating—In order to escape death, Hannibal took his own life.

White—I say, old boozier, how are you going to get home?

Renick—Never fear, old top, use brains as I do. I unscrewed the number of our house and all we have to do is to find the house where it belongs.

Dr. Redd—Give me the name of an Epic poet.

Hoss—Epicurus.

If a jitney runs thirty miles an hour, can a grasshopper? No, but a kadydid and you ought to have heard how the locust when he missed it.

Barbee's ambition—to be janitor in an air castle.

Barber—If the French soldiers wore Paris garters, they would never be shot.

McWhorter—Advance, friend.

Barber—No metal can touch the skin.

Dickson—Harbeson, why have you quit "Camels?"

Harbeson—They give me the humps.

Bond in Modern European History:

"In 1815, the English government forced all Dissenters to be married by the Pope."

Barbee, giving an oral theme—When we first came we felt awkward and out of place, but it was not long until we were just as homely as the Sophomores."

Dr. Flippin—What is incense?

Bright—Holy smoke.

Boles—Why are you staring at me so?

Tyler—I'm Locals Editor and I am simply looking at your nose.

Boles—Is that necessary?

Tyler—Oh, yes. I have to keep me eye on everything that turns up.

Teddy—I thought you took French last year, Winse.

Legs—I did but Dr. Meier encored me.

Dr. Flippin—Ever study Chemistry, Mr. Prewitt?

Prewitt—No, sir, but I have taken it.

Bracken—Have you ever loved before?

Margaret—Not enough to affect my amaetur status, dearest.

Glory—I burned my fingers when I tried to put that light out.

John—Well, I'll try the old fashioned remedy of kissing it and making it well.

Glory—I tried to blow it out, too.

Lipps—Something is preying on my mind.

Arbery—You should worry. It will soon starve.

Cloyd—What would you think if I threw you a kiss?

She—That you were awfully lazy.

Lowe—Why is Newman's head like a Ford?

Boles—I give it up.

Lowe—Thy both rattle.

Dr. Smith—What sort of conveniences for traveling have the present day aeroplanes

Dunn—Oh, they have berths just like a dining car.

Turley—Do you believe in every man for himself?

She—Oh, no! believe in every man for some woman.

A woodpecker lit on a Junior's head
On a very auspicious occasion,
But from the hot air that issued below
He died of quick suffocation.

Prof. Crooks—What are the three words you use most?

Browning—I don't know.

Prof. Crooks—Correct.

Tyler—Dr. Redd, why does Homer always speak of the well-greaved Achaians? Is it because they were always sorrowful?

Gibbs—What is the most nervous thing in the world, next to a girl?

Marsh—Me—next to a girl.

Boles—What is the difference between an old man, a young man, and a worm?

Redmond—Search me. What is it?

Boles—There ain't none. A chicken comes along and gets them all.

Hill—I don't deserve a zero this morning, professor.

Dr. Meier—Correct, sir, correct, but that is the lowest mark we give.

Dr. Thomas—Define embrace.

Ogden—It's a round about way of expressing affection.

Lowe—Hieatt, have you a chemical reaction there?

Hieatt—No, but I'll go to the store-room and get one.

Douthitt—Professor, don't you think it is a little cold in this room?

Prof. Meier—Douthitt, you have enough zeros to make it cold anywhere.

Powell (to Garrison in Curry's store)—I want some penny pencils.

Garrison—How many?

Powell—How much are they?

Redmond—Well, old man, what are you doing here?

Hoss—Merely admiring the beauties of nature.

Redmond—Have many gone by?

The Centre College Carnival

“There was a sound of revelry by night;
The Blue Grass capital had gathered then
Her beauty and her chivalry, and bright
The lamps shone o'er fair women and brave men;
A thousand hearts beat happily and when
Music arose with its voluptuous swell,
Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spake again,
And all went merry as a marriage bell.”

N eventful week, unique of its kind, and one which has been forever filled with dearest memories for all those fortunate young men whom the star of destiny has led to the pursuit of an elusive higher education at Centre College, is the great Carnival week, the round of merriment and festivities with which Centre College has been wont to greet the full flower of radiant spring, and the sweet loving kiss with which she sends forth her enthusiastic and favored sons to fight their battles in the arena of life. No Centre man can ever forget his Carnival weeks, days and hours entwined like tender garlands with his very heartstrings, where perhaps he spent his last carefree days of pleasure unalloyed with pain or with responsibility, or even maybe where he first fell under the enchanting spell and tender sway of the queenly beauty of the Blue Grass who won his heart, and who afterwards poured forth for him, as his wife, all those beauties and social graces—and, not to be joking, some soul-quickenings samples of that famous cookery of the Kentucky reared girl—all of which he learned to appreciate first and forever at Centre's Carnival. For this reason alone, as well as other charming associations, one does not wonder that at Carnival times, Centre alumni pour into Danville like pilgrims to Mecca and display their culture and learning and social poise and other graces before the aspiring young undergraduates, whose hearts become enflamed with the burning desire to become like unto these models of men, successful in learning and, in one word, like them, worthy representatives of Centre College.

All through the year on the athletic field Centre's athletes fight nobly for the honor of their Alma Mater, until in the spring-time, as a hard-earned reward of courage and valor, there comes to them the coveted privilege of choosing from among the beauties of Danville one who will reign supreme over the hearts of the men of Centre for that year, the radiant, glorious, gracious Queen of Love and Beauty, a queen above all other queens, for to her the proud heads of Kentucky's chivalry bow in adoration and to her the fearless hearts of Kentucky's manhood yields unquestioned dominion.

The round of festivities starts with the Carnival play in which the best amateur talent of Centre has a chance to shine forth, possibly foreshadowing distinction and laurels on the trodden boards, either with the sad, fierce melancholy of the Attic buskin or the broad laughter of the comic mask. Then throughout the following days the Knights of Centre contend for the smiles of their ladies fair in tennis, track, and finally in the great Carnival baseball game, which often decides the championship of Kentucky.

On the second night of Carnival the Queen of Love and Beauty crowns her consort with a wreath of immortal laurel and, throned together, the royal pair preside over the jocund festivities that, lasting into the wee small hours, celebrate the joyous occasion. The magnificent float in which the Queen is drawn to her royal abode, the gaily decorated booths that surround the floor of Carnival Hall, the torch-light procession, the gaily-clad beauties of Kentucky, the floating confetti, the merry laughter, all go to form a kaleidoscopic scene of brilliancy and beauty that can never be forgotten.

And then on the last night of Carnival the festivities rise to a splendid finale, the far-famed Carnival dance, renowned throughout Kentucky as the gayest and most brilliant social affair of the year. There, to the sound of voluptuous music, all of grace and feminine beauty and strength and noble manhood that our grand old state affords, sway in the mazy whirls of dreamy waltzes, or trip lightly to the syncopated beat of joyous one-steps until, as the grand epitaph of the Carnival gone by, one is tempted to cry out with Byron,

“On with the dance! let joy be unconfined;
No sleep till morn, when Youth and Pleasure meet
To chase the glowing hours with flying feet.”

- 16th—Surveying class in evidence on the campus.
- 17th—Dr. Meier sings solo in Y. M. C. A. Otherwise the meeting a success.
- 18th—Boyd and Johnston leave to visit their wives. Annual work suffers.
- 19th—Sunday. Walking parties give country lasses treat.
- 20th—Danny cuts Senior English. Rumor that he had been arrested unfounded.
- 22nd—Fox, the photographer, very busy.
- 23rd—Vandals break Charlie's pet level.
- 24th—J. Rogers goes to Chicago to tell them how to filter Lake Michigan.
- 25th—First practice game. Not stars in sight.
- 26th—Sunday.
- 27th—Editor-in-chief demands calendar.
- 28th—Snooper and Boyd reported calling on the Harrodsburg pike.
- 29th—Chebithes defends Benedict Arnold before Ye Rounde Table.
- 30th—Philological review of simplified spelling in chapel.
- 31st—Dr. Meier cuts Y. M. C. A. New cabinet approves.

APRIL

- 1st-3rd—Students greatly enjoy Robins and Childs.
- 4th—College songs in chapel. No one knows why. Back to eight o'clock classes.
- 5th—All annual work in but this. Calendar editor gets a cussing. Editor-in-chief will cuss worse when he sees this.
- 6th—Here it is and almighty poor at that.

How About This?

Why is it an advantage to give preference to clothes with a known reputation? There is but one answer: "Clothes can gain a good reputation only through excellence and merit." Levy's clothes are that kind. Here, you have the choice of the world's most advanced makers, Hart, Shaffner & Marx, Fashion Park clothes and others equally notable. They offer the proper style and perfect fit, at prices consistent with your preference. When in Louisville do not fail to visit "The Bright Spot."
