DEDICATION

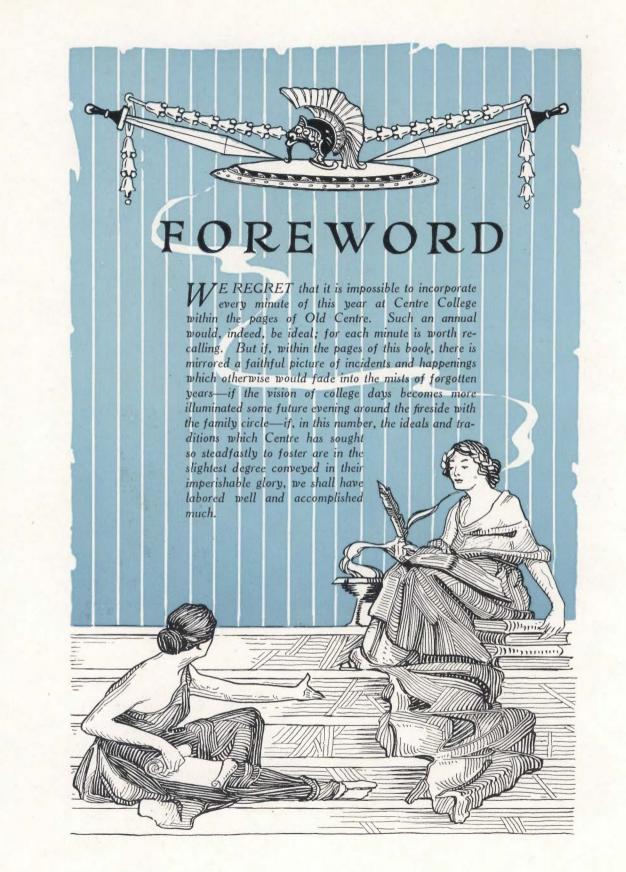

President Charles Joseph Turck

Whom we admire as a leader and respect as a man. Whose rich personality, vital inspiration, deep sympathy, and commanding intellect has won for him a big place in the heart of every Centre man. Whose ambition has always been constructive and whose ideals transcendant. Although he has been with us but a short time, President Turck is typical of the spirit of Centre, and because of the qualities he possesses as a friend, instructor, and leader, this volume of Old Centre is respectfully dedicated.

WALTER SKILLMAN ALLEN, JR. Chattanooga, Tennessee

Sigma Chi; Deinologian Literary Society, Treasurer, '25, Vice-President, '26, '27, President, '28; English Club, Secretary, '25; "Cento" Staff, '25; "Colonel" Staff, '24, '25, '26; French Club, '24, '25, '26; Y. M. C. A., '24, '25; Ye Rounde Table.

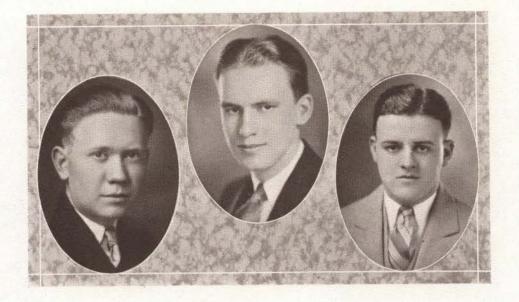

Allen is one of our star English "studes," taking great pleasure in delving into the numerous volumes of old "Bill," and George Bernard. We may expect to see a book some day written by Mr. Allen on "Shakespeare As He Is," or "A View of Bernard Shaw."

Ake is new to Centre this year, and our short acquaintance with him has made us regret that he waited so long before coming here. A quiet industrious student, Ake has made many friends during his short stay with us.

HENRY C. BALDWIN Jackson Heights, New York

Baldwin rode a sleeper all the way from Gotham to spend four years at Centre. He has spent those four years in diligent study and is well prepared to embark on the cruise of life. He expects to ally himself with the Standard Oil Company of New York next year and enter the field of foreign service. His dependability should carry him far in such service. We wish him luck and feel certain of his success.

George is one of those Ashland Tomcats that takes great delight in signing up for history courses under Dr. Allen. George will be missed around Old Centre next year, and not because he always was late to first hours.

NEWMAN BAUGHMAN BIRK Danville, Kentucky

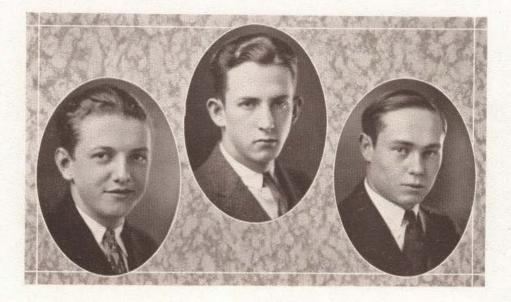

Beta Theta Pi; Omicron Delta Kappa; Pi Kappa Delta, President; Ye Rounde Table; Press Club; Dienologian Literary Society, Vice-President, '26; English Club, Vice-President, '26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, Secretary and Vice-President, '26; Assistant in English, '26-'27; Business Manager of 1927 "Old Centre"; "Colonel" Staff; "Cento" Staff, Assistant Business Manager; Honor Roll.

Birk is another of Centre's honor students. Being a local boy, Baughman didn't have to have someone write home about his achievements, though they were many. His work on the Annual last year, and his speech at the Alumni banquet were outstanding. Oratory is Baugh's "long suit."

Beta Theta Pl; Freshman Football, '24; Varsity Football Squad, '25, '26; Varsity '27; Varsity Baseball, '26.

"Buck" is one of the Colonels that we're going to miss next year. A big, strong, willing tackle, Buck was always found where the fray was thickest, and his loss will be keenly felt in the line in September. Football wasn't Buck's only ace last year, for as a Bible student he shone brightly.

AUDRAIN HAROLD COLYER Danville, Kentucky Chamberlain Literary Society; Math Club; French Club, President, '26; Freshman Football Manager, '27.

Colyer has been prominent around the campus this past year in the capacity of Freshman Football Manager. The efficient way in which he handled the budget allowed, gave promise that another "successful" business manager might soon be available at the office. Audrain tried his hand at salesmanship during his Sophomore year, but later decided Old Centre needed him more than his customers needed his goods.

GEORGE WILLIAM COLVIN Louisville, Kentucky

Beta Theta Pi; Assistant Manager of Football, '25; Manager of Basketball, '26; "Centre Colonel" Staff, '26; Annual Staff, '26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26; Deinologian Literary Society; University of Louisville, '27.

Colvin showed good sense when he preferred Old Centre to the University of Louisville, where his father is President. That is, we think he did, and feel sure his presence here these last few years is going to add another name to an already famous alumni.

SAMUEL NOEL CRAMER Louisville, Kentucky

Ye Rounde Table; Deinologian Literary Society, President, '27; Robert Powell Jacob Greek Prize, '26; English Club, '26; Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, '27, '28, Secretary-Treasurer, '27; Honor Student, '27; Oratorical Contest, '27; Robert Cheek Bible Prize, '27; "Centre Magazine" Staff, '28.

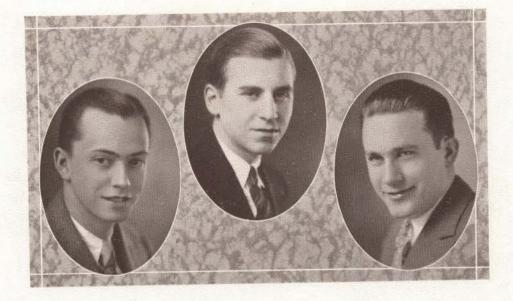

"Sam" is the poet of the Class of 1928, and his many contributions to the Cento and Colonel in the past four years, have given us an inkling that fame may some day be his. Sam says he writes better when inspired—well, we'd like to meet the inspiration. Sam expects to enter the clergy and will enroll at University of Louisville Theological Seminary next fall. Good luck, Sam.

. . . . Grove, Oklahoma HAROLD HOUSTON CRAIG

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; English Club, Secretary and Treasurer, '26, '27; Business Manager of "Cento," '27, '28; Press Club; Sock and Buskin; "Old Centre" Staff, '27; "Colonel" Staff.

"Hal" is the boy with the striking personality. Always cheerful and willing to lend a hand,--that's Hal. As an actor, Hal has few equals in amateur ranks in this section, and as a lover, on Lexington Avenue, none. Hal was business manager of the Cento this year, and it was the best Cento we have seen in years.

JOHN CARLILE CRUTCHER Muskogee, Oklahoma

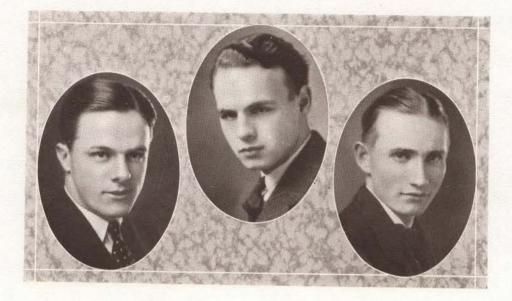

Sigma Chi; "Colonel" Staff, '24, '25, Circulation Manager, '25, '26; English Club, Vice-Presi-dent, '26, '27, President, '27, '28; Deinologian Literary Society, Secretary, '25, '26, Treasurer, '24, '25, President, '26, '27; "Centre Magazine" Staff.

"Crutch" is another of our English hounds, and if there be anything that happened in literature between 1600-1800 that Car ile doesn't know about,- then it just didn't happen, that's all. Crutcher has been English assistant to Prof. Sterrett for the past two years, and has given Prof. Sterrett some valuable points on horsemanship. Wouldn't be surprised to see "Crutch" teaching freshman English soon.

"Don" bids fair to become a professor of Education or Superintendent of School, or some public officer. He could always be found in any one of three places while at Centre,-in an Education class, at the New York Restaurant, or on the football field, "Don" made his "C" on the gridiron this past fall and it will take a mighty good end to replace him.

HENRY SWEETS FAUREST . Elizabethtown, Kentucky Phi Delta Theta; Omicron Delta Kappa, President, '27, '28; Ye Rounde Table; Historian Freshman Class; Freshman Football, '24; Freshman Basketball Squad, '25; Senator to Student Forum, '24, '25; Varsity Baseball, '26, '27; Varsity Football, '26, '27; President Math Club, '26; Mathematics Assistant, '26, '27; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Honor Roll, '26, '27.

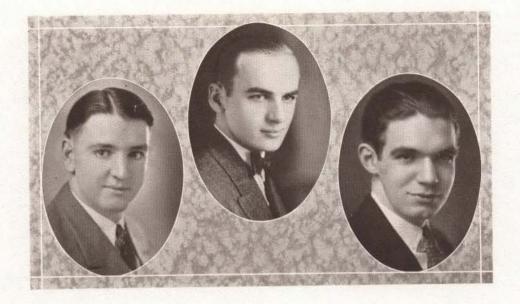

"Heinie" is one of the pony backs that Centre has been proud of these last two seasons. Although weighing but 145 pounds, "Heinie" was one of the niftiest broken-field runners in these parts. He was without doubt the headiest field general in the State. That seems only natural though, for he too is an honor student. His many long jaunts with the pigskin tucked safely away will long be remembered by Centre's gridiron enthusiasts.

"Nuts" came all the way down from New York to see the Home of the Praying Colonels. He saw it, saw them, and has been here four years now. It is even rumored that "Nuts" may take up his abode permanently down here in June. One thing is sure, "Nuts" is and has been one of the best-liked and most popular boys at Centre in many years. Even the girls liked "Nuts" impersonation of one of their number in "The Whole Town's Talking."

Frank came to Centre for the first time in September. His striking personality immediately won him a host of friends, and now we regret that he is leaving us. He is one of the most able writers at Centre, and a journalistic career is predicted for him, if he chooses to stay out of politics.

French is commonly known as the Radio King, or "Centre's Silent Ad." What this lad doesn't know about radio, Marconi hasn't found out yet. With an amateur station located at Breck, Jim has aided materially in keeping Centre's name before the world. He has been one of the aces of the Physics and Math departments during his stay here and a great future in the world of Science is predicted for him.

Kappa Alpha; Phi Beta Chi; Student Council; Assistant in Chemistry; President Senior Class.

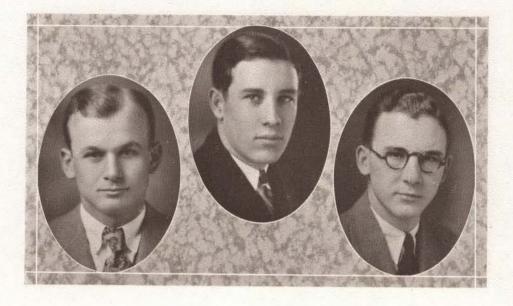

"Davis" came down from Ashland to see that George Bell got along all right, and it looks like he did a good job. Although that took a good deal of his time, he took time enough off to accept the presidency of his class this year. We would like an explanation, however, of the special delivery letters he gets every day, and the weekly trip to Ashland.

WILLIAM D. GILLIAM, JR. Scottsville, Kentucky

Kappa Phi Kappa, President, '27, '28; Honor Student, '27; Winner of Breckenridge Jones Prize, '27; Assistant Editor of Annual, '27; President of Student Body, '28; Assistant in History, '27, '28; Historian of Junior Class; "Cento" Staff, '25, '26, '27; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '28.

"Bill" is one of the most popular boys in the entire student body, as was manifested by his election as president of the Student Body in January. Bill is all set for some professor's job next year and judging from the way he "absorbs" that Education, he should end up in the Superintendent's chair before many years have passed. Bill is another of the honor students.

"Tommy" is the second member of the famous Bartholomew-Goben team that put Centre's colors on the track, higher than they have been in years. "Tommy" is one of the finest milers or half-milers that Centre has ever had, and we'll miss him this spring when the State boys pay us a visit. We hate to see Tommy go, but feel it is much safer for him now that Birger is out of the way. Be careful, Tommy.

WILLIAM COWAN GOSE Danville, Kentucky

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Phi Beta Chi.

"Bill" didn't have to come far when he came to Centre, but that is well for neither will he have to go far when he leaves her. We expect "Bill" to take rank among Centre's local alumni, and be as actively interested in her as an alumnus as he was while a student.

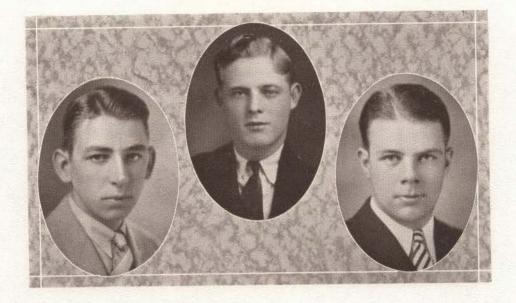

GASTON B. HANNAH Covington, Kentucky

Sigma Chi; Sock and Buskin, '26, '27, '28; Phi Beta Chi, '27, '28; Chamberlain Literary Society, '26, '27, '28; Press Club, '26, '27, '28; English Club, '26, '27; "Centre Colonel" Staff, '25, '26, '27.

Gaston is probably the Adonis of the Class of '28. At any rate he made such an imposing figure as the parson in Shaw's "Candida" that townspeople expressed their regret that he was going to be a doctor and not a clergyman. If Gaston can handle patients as well as he can stir audiences, Centre will boast of a great surgeon alumnus some day.

Descrite Mind Miller

Huffman is the student of Economics so rarely found in Centre College. When Morris isn't figuring out some law procedure, he's busy with someone's income tax report. He intends entering the business world and nothing but success can accompany such persistent pursuit of study.

MEREDITH ROBARDS HYATT Johnson City, Tennessee

Beta Theta Pi; King of Carnival, '27; President Junior Class, '27; Social Committee, '26, '27; Freshman Football, '23; Varsity Football, '25, '26, '27; Varsity Baseball, '26, '27; Track Squad, '27; Ohio University, '24, '25; "C" Club, Vice-President, '26, '27; Deinologian Literary Society, '23, '24; Pan-Hellenic Council, '27.

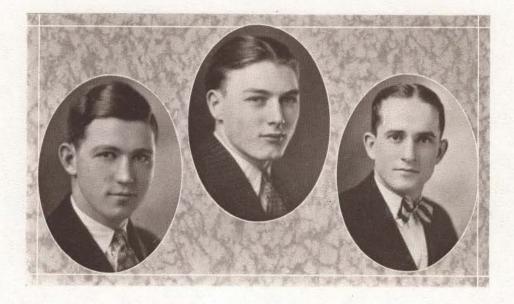

"Hite" will always be remembered as the boy who scored the touchdown that beat State in 1926, and as one of the "fightenest" ends that ever wore a Colonel jersey. One of the most popular of all Colonels, Hyatt was given the greatest honor that can come to a Centre man when he was chosen King of Carnival in 1927. An end like "Hite" doesn't happen along often, and whoever fills his shoes will be a "big" man.

WILLARD SPURGEON IGLEHEART Elizabethtown, Kentucky

Phi Delta Theta; Omicron Delta Kappa; Keys Fraternity; President Freshman Class, '24; Varsity Football, '25, '27; Freshman Football, '24; Social Committee, '26, '27; Phi Beta Chi; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '27, '28; English Club, '26, '27; Sock and Buskin, President, '28; Secretary Senior Class, '28; Student Council.

"Igle" has been one of the most popular men on the campus for four years now. There are few activities that he has not been affiliated with during that time. Everything he has done has reflected credit upon himself, as a worker, as a student, and as a man. In dramatics he has been a leader, in the class room a student, and on the campus a man. His loss will be keenly felt, for we need men like "Igle" here at Centre.

CHIL

GRANT ROBINSON JACKSON Danville, Kentucky Chamberlain Literary Society; French Club.

Grant is one of those quiet lads who does things in the way least likely to attract attention. A hard worker is Grant, and such earnest endeavor will reap its reward. More men like Grant would find a welcome at Centre.

Mark had the misfortune to see the passing of our Glee Club last year, and since then his fine tenor voice has favored the students of old Breck. Mark is a student of Education, and we expect to see him Superintendent up in Grayson some day. His visit to see "May" comes back to us in familiar scenes, and causes us to regret that he did not try his hand at track.

EARL REIDE JOHNSON Campbellsville, Kentucky

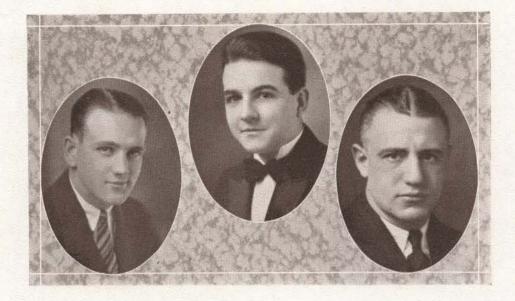

Kappa Phi Kappa, '26, '27, '28; Chamberlain Literary Society; Secretary Junior Class. '26; Assistant in Biology, '25, '26; Henry Barrett Boyle Latin Prize, '26; Ye Rounde Table, '27, '28, Steward, '27; Vice-President Kappa Phi Kappa, '27.

Earl is a biological student, and most of his activity has centered around the Science Building. Not content with having been Biology Assistant, he may return again in the capacity of professor in that department. One thing is certain, however, he will be heard from again.

Social Committee, '26, '27, '28; Cheer Leader, '25, '26, '27, '28; Baseball, '25, '27, '28; Basketball, '26, '27; Math Club, Vice-President; Senator Junior Class.

"Jimmy" enjoys the dictinction of being the only cheer leader that Centre has had in recent years that could really make the boys cheer. When Jimmy said "fifteen for the team" that was what he meant. He hasn't decided yet what work he will undertake in life, yet with such a ready smile and willing hands, he cannot but enjoy success.

ALEXANDER MCKEE KINNAIRD, JR. Johnson City, Tennessee Phi Delta Theta; French Club.

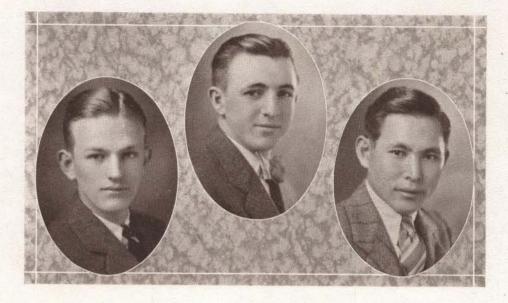

Kinnaird has only been with us for two years, but during that time he has made us realize that we missed the other two. We can not hold the derby that he wears, against him, it really sets him off as a "Southern gentleman."

CHARLES DEWEY LAUER Brooklyn, New York

Phi Delta Theta; Freshman Football, Basketball and Baseball; Varsity Basketball, '25; Baseball, '26, '27; Varsity Football, '25, '26, '27; Official at Centre Track Meet; Historian Senior Class.

"Peach Orchard," "Half Pint," "Chuck," or what you will. "Chuck" is the "Little Giant" of the Colonel backfield. Small of stature but moulded like a giant, he was the hardest hitting back Centre has had in many a day, and his line smashing was the only feature of many of the Colonel's games. "Chuck" hails from "New Yoik" and we're hoping some more like him will be pointing for Centre from Brooklyn.

WILLIAM USSERY LUTES Danville, Kentucky

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '27, Secretary '28; "Cento" Staff, '28; Chamberlain Literary Society; French Club.

Lutes takes particular delight in the courses of history and Political Science which may bespeak a political career of merit. We wish him the best of luck and feel that whatever he may undertake will be worth while.

"Mag" has starred for the past two years as a forward on the Colonel quintet. His "dead eye" and famous "push-shooting" earned All-State mention for him the last two years. "Mag" is one of the finest types of fellows on our campus, and needless to say one of the most popular; we'll miss him, too.

SAKAYE NAKAGAMA Province of Kagashima, Japan Math Club; Summer Session University of Cincinnati, '26; Summer Session University of Kentucky, '27.

"Nak" is the only Japanese student at Centre, but if he be an example of the average, we wish to pay tribute to the Japanese. Nakagama entered Centre as a freshman three years ago, and has now completed his course. He is a student of remarkable ability, and one of the finest Math students ever to attend this college. "Nak" was born near Tokio, and has been in this country only eight years. He has a command of three languages, including English, that makes most of us feel ashamed of ourselves. A fine example of his race.

CLARENCE F. NEWLAND Perryville, Kentucky

Chamberlain Literary Society; University of Chicago; Union Theological Seminary, B.D.; President Theological Seminary, LL.M.; Berea College, B.Litt.; Centre Student, '19, '20.

Newland is a returner to Centre this year and we regret that he did not spend his whole four years with us. He has been engaged in the work of the clergy previous to reentering Centre as a candidate for a degree. Our short acquaintance with him has been an impressive one, and we wish him the greatest success in his chosen work, that of the clergy.

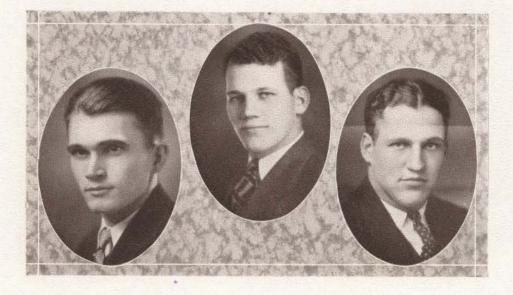

"Pudge" is another of our all-around athletes. Football, basketball and track have the strongest call on Pudge, although he is a baseball player of no mean ability. The only reason Pudge is not a four-letter man is that the baseball and track seasons come at the same time. His election as president of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity vouches for his popularity.

Penick is the dashing young halfback of the scrubs that used to cause the varsity such consternation out on Cheek Field each afternoon of the grid season. The trip to Lansing was the big date in Ed's life, even Louisville held no thrill for him after that. For sincerity and hard work, Penick was admired by every Colonel on the squad. He played the game with his whole heart, serving three years on the scrubs to aid in priming the varsity for other opponents.

"Jimmie" has always been known as the "Sheik" of the class. Out on the gridiron, however, he is a symbol of courage and determination. None played the game harder than Jimmie, and if he plays the "Big Game" the way he has played football these last three years, he is bound to succeed.

Varsity Football, '26, '27.

Lee was sent to Centre, it is said, to keep a watchful eye on his brother, Jimmie. He has done a good job, even making the football team so that Jimmie might not stray from his watchful eye on the trips. Lee also has quite a bit of weight with the ladies.

"Pete" threatens to gain fame as an attorney some day. He is an Economic student, and if there are any such courses he missed here, we wonder what they are. His activity in the classroom was not his only one, as he made a rather nifty keystone sacker on the Colonel nine last spring.

JUNE SPAULDING · · · · . Louisville, Kentucky Delta Kappa Epsilon; Keys Fraternity; Editor of "Old Centre," '27; Social Committee; Staff of "Centre College Magazine," '27.

June is one of the "fair" members of our class. By that we mean June is a social whiz. He might at any time be heard of at Hollywood courting Clara, and don't think he couldn't get away with it. Spaulding has been a busy man on the publications of Centre for three years, serving on the Colonel, Annual and Cento staffs. His immediate plans after graduation are not definite, but a fellow with a personality like his hardly needs plans.

Tom has served as assistant and manager of the Varsity football squad for the past two years, and no one has questioned his efficiency. The team of "Parish and Talbot" was hard to "beat" from any angle. Tom should go far in the business world with his fine sense of management.

Hail the King! "Red" is one of Centre's finest athletes and most popular men. This has just been proven by his election to the kingship of this year's Carnival. "Red" was elected by an overwhelming majority. He has won his varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball, being captain of this year's nine. "Red" is highly deserving of the honor of King, the greatest honor that can come to a Centre athlete.

"Charlie," during his four years at Centre, has been one of the busiest men on the campus. As business manager of the Cento in '25 and editor of the Colonel in '26, '27, he was foremost in work upon publications. As president of the Press Club and Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association, he led the way in founding for Kentucky colleges an effective Press Association. At the Science Club, French Club, or Sock and Buskin, not to mention teaching a course at K. C. W., Charlie was kept busy. It will indeed be hard to fill the shoes of such a gifted man as Charles Walker.

Senior Class History

September 6, 1924, were fortunate enough to become sons of our famous institution in a year that brought great glory to their newly acquired Alma Mater. That year the Praying Colonels were Southern Champions by virtue of their phenomenal victories over Alabama and Georgia. Maybe it was the gallant stand of the Colonels in the game with Georgia that inspired our "Looies" to the noble efforts that secured for them a 7-7 tie with the greatest frosh team ever developed at State. The glory and glamor of these first few months cast all the other campus activities into a shadowy background.

With the return of a large percentage of our class the next year, another event in the history of our college took place. The far-famed and much-dreaded "Gauntlet" was abolished upon the granting of an additional two days' vacation by the administration. Six of the Lieutenants of the last year's team fulfilled the promise shown in their freshman competition and made regular berths on the varsity. The gridiron was not the only sport in which our class was represented, as two of our number played on the basketball team and six won letters for their work on the diamond.

The return of our class in September, 1926, found our ranks sadly depleted. Less than fifty per cent of the number enrolled as freshmen were back to carry on at Old Centre. It must be admitted, however, that those returning constituted the select. From among this small group we contributed five of the eleven that scored for Old Centre one of her greatest gridiron victories when it trampled under foot the top-heavy favorite Wildcats to the tune of 7-0. On the basketball court four of the class of '28 won their coveted "C."

With the dawning of September 12, 1927, we began the final lap of our college life. Of the one hundred odd that entered as freshies four years ago, but forty-eight now remain as candidates for their degree. Within this small group, however, have been leaders in every phase of activity found on our campus. We feel that we have contributed much to the life and glory of our Alma Mater, but it in no way compares with what Old Centre has contributed to our lives. The knowledge and inspiration that we have received here during our four years, and the love which has grown so deep in our hearts is certain to achieve for us higher and greater things than have heretofore been attained.

Junior Class History

and there one was a start of the contract of the famous halls of Centre College, one hundred and twenty-six of the greenest of freshmen. After a terrifying period of nine weeks-living in silent dread of the terrible "Gauntlet," these poor, timid freshies were given a new lease on life when the chesty Sophs "considerately" abolished this so-called brutal form of freshman initiation. Shortly after the Christmas recess, the class was organized with Raymond Lester, of Danville, as president. The activity of the group as freshmen was limited both in the extra-curricula circle, and on the athletic field, and the year passed quite rapidly.

From the date of the class organization as Sophomores, the Class of '29 assumed the lead in activities upon the campus of Centre College. Comprised of men of marked ability in every phase of college activity, our class was not long in asserting itself. Of the 1926 eleven that chalked up one of Centre's greatst achievements in conquering the Wildcats, 7-0, were seven members of the Class of '29. These same seven were regulars on the varsity team of 1927, and one of the seven, Sutton Alexander, was captain. The basketball team for the last two seasons has been comprised largely of "twenty-niners," and this past season our class may claim the captaincy of our other major sport in Kelly Deaton. Captains of the two major sports, and the majority of the regular players must be awarded to the Class of 1929.

The realm of sport, however, was not the only channel in which our class members showed their prowess. The editorships and business manager offices of the only two remaining student publications, The Cento and the Annual, were held this year by Juniors. The winner of the Ernst Debate, Clyde Hale, is just another example of the "class" of the Class of 1929.

When September of 1926 rolled around, our already depleted group totaled a little more than one-half of the number we enjoyed as Freshmen. The class as a whole, or rather, those who had returned, immediately busied themselves with some worthy activity already mentioned. At the annual election of class officers, Mason Knuckles, of Hazard, was elected president. Under his able leadership the Class of 1929 conitnued its merry way.

We entered this fall as Juniors and undertook to establish ourselves for the purpose of preparing for the duties which would be ours next year. Almost immediatley after the opening of school a great tragedy occurred which took from us one of our most popular and best-loved classmates,-Dale Holmes. Dale entered Centre with us as Freshmen and though he did not return to school last year, he will always be a member of the Class of 1929. A fine, clean, popular lad, well-known and admired everywhere, his tragic, untimely death struck sorrow to the hearts of all who knew him. Words can hardly express the regret in our hearts.

At the election of officers for 1927-28, Robert Harris, of Elizabethtown, was elected as the third president of our class. Throughout the year the class has been the dominating influence upon the campus of Centre College, and we feel that the promise of a year ago has been fulfilled.

Sophomore Class History

YEAR has passed on its way since the Class of 1930 put in its appearance on the campus, and what a big difference one little year can bring. On September 6, one year ago we came one hundred and ten strong, but with matriculation this year we found that many of our number had deserted us, leaving us to carry on the work so well begun.

As Freshmen we were fortunate in coming just late enough to enjoy the fruits of the action taken by the Sophomore Class of the previous year when they abolished the "Gauntlet" as a form of Freshman initiation. And yet many were the wild tales told by some sleepy-eyed freshmen the morning after his encounter with the vicious Sophs about the time he was returning from the home of a fair one dreaming only of her and little expecting such a warm attack from the rear. But Freshmen Rules were torn up shortly after Centre's fighting Colonels startled the State by trouncing a confident bunch of Wildcats on the afternoon of November 19.

But times have changed. Instead of being on the receiving end, we are directing the use of the illustrious paddle. We are enjoying a mountain-top experience as Sophomores and are teaching the lowly Freshman how to conduct himself since now he is become a college man.

Shortly after we came back to the Old Campus as Sophomores, we elected William H. Martin, of Carlisle, as our president. From the very start of the year, our class showed a keen interest in campus activities both as individuals and as a group. While there remained from the freshmen team few candidates for the varsity of this year, those members of '30 who did try for the team gave the varsity men of Junior and Senior standing a good race for places on the first eleven. They gave the best they had and as a result we boast of a few wearers of the coveted "C." In basketball and track are to be found again some of our number; and here, too, the will to do and to give their best characterized the members of our class. Thus it is our earnest effort, that though we be few in number we shall add to the glory of Centre and to the lustre of her name.

In other phases of college activity, we are not lacking in representation. In journalism and forensics we have taken our part. On the staff of the Cento is to be found the names of several of our number who are doing commendable work contributing largely to the success of that publication. In inter-collegiate debate and oratory, the Class of '30 adds its part in helping Old Centre to be a feared opponent on the speaking platform. We are proud again that we have a number of men with straight "A" records for the freshman year, and these same men are well on their way toward duplicating the feat during their sophomore year.

Thus have the members of the Class of 1930 conducted themselves through nearly one-half of their college careers. Imbued with a goodly portion of that intangible something termed "Centre Spirit" we press on to higher and better things conscious always that there is no pinnacle to which we might not aspire and that in attainment we benefit not only ourselves and our class, but the school we have come to cherish as a part of our lives. Two more years of this history are yet to be made and when we have come to the end, its pages will be worthy testimonies of the sincerity of the Class of 1930.

EGISTRATION and then hot, lazy days of going aimlessly to classes. There was more talk of the glories of the past summer than of the glories of class honors; there was more talk of where we had all come from than where we were going. We studied others, and were studied by them, far more than school assignments.

The green-caps went out for football. They went out with a vim and a determination, and they made for us a freshman team of which we are more than proud. We are anxiously looking forward to football in '28, and with the addition of our material in the fall, Centre should have a team unequaled in many a year.

Nor does our worth lie in athletics alone. In other school activities we have been well represented. We have actors among us who have become members of the Sock and Buskin Dramatic Club. We have debaters upon the debating team, and we boost of several silver-tongued orators; our numbers are also distinguishing themselves in the literary societies and the college publications.

About the middle of the first semester we chose Robert Bruce Waddle as our president, and as time has passed we have found him an interested and efficient leader in every way.

Day after day we have been brought closer together by the forming of friendships; day after day we have become truer sons of Old Centre by appreciating the school spirit of the upper classmen, until now we have passed our first year well-disciplined, well organized, well represented in school activities; now when we have selected caps for the coming men who will be our under-classmen, we feel that we may justly say that the Class of '31 has been, as a freshman group, one to which our college may point with pride.

What of the future? We have made the foundation large enough to support a mighty structure. We have the men to design it, the men to direct it, and, certainly, the men who can unify it. We have three years in which to plan and to execute our plans. And then in '31, when we have completed, we shall hoist the banner of Old Centre high above it that others may see it and be inspired.

Football Resume of 1927

On September 31, 1927, Hod Ofstie's Colonels officially opened their schedule with the Teachers of Eastern Normal as their opponents. The Colonels came through with a 7 to 0 win, but were very lucky. Eastern roughed the Colonels up considerably, and Hyatt and Clarkson were both carried from the field to be lost to the team for six weeks. A good beginning but a costly one.

October 7, at Nashville, will long be remembered. The flashy Bill Spears put the Colonels to rout almost before the echo of the opening whistle had died away. The final score was 53 to 7. And after the 80-yard jaunt of Spears for a touchdown in the opening minute of play, Centre collapsed. Lauer and Littrell starred for the Gold and White, but the Commodores were too many.

October 14 found the Colonels facing a new team, Birmingham-Southern of Alabama. The Ofstiemen continued to play sluggish and lifeless football, and were soundly trounced by a markedly inferior team, 20 to 0. Lauer again was the star for the Colonels, making over one-half of the tackles and two-thirds of the yardage gained.

Against Wesleyan the Colonels took a decided brace, and showed a flash of the football they were really capable of playing. Wesleyan scored first and then the Colonels came back strong, scoring two touchdowns in rapid succession. The final score was 13 to 7. The return to form of Going was largely responsible for the victory, although Lee Robinson was the bulwark in the line.

On October 29, the Colonels journeyed to Louisville, where they met the Cardinals of Tom King. The victory over Wesleyan was thought to have put the Colonels right for this game, but Louisville lost no time in demonstrating otherwise. The final score was Louisville 40, Centre 7.

Following the crushing defeat by Louisville the Colonels were in a mood to offer little opposition to the weak Hampden-Sidney team in their next game. The game was played at Charleston, West Virginia, and resulted in a 20 to 0 win for Hampden-Sidney.

Little hope was held for the Colonels facing Transylvania the next week at Lexington. They surprised again, however, and vanquished Transy, 7 to 6, in a slow, uninteresting game. Next week was the big game with State, so the Colonels were content to play straight football and win by a solitary point.

November 19 dawned clear and cold. The Wildcats came to town determined to avenge. They did. The final score of the slaughter was, State, 53, Centre, 0. State sadly outclassed the Colonels from the start, but the boys in Gold and White fought hard. Centre made but one first down.

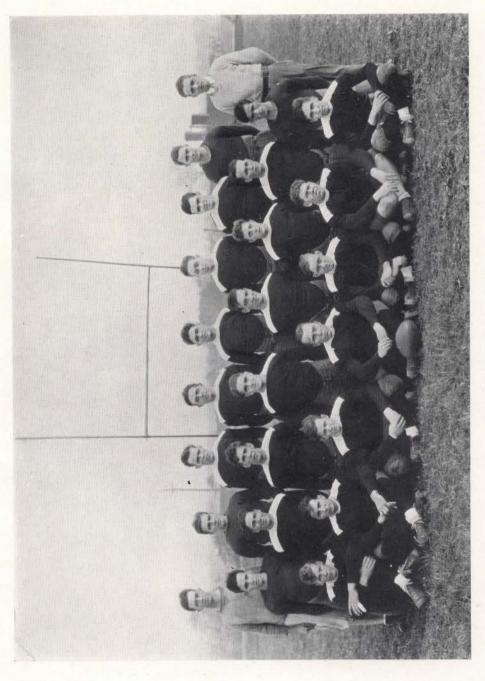

The close of a disastrous season came with a 20 to 0 defeat at the hands of Stetson University at Deland, Florida. The Colonels were a badly bruised and battered lot, but it was only their stubborn resistance that kept the score from going higher. Thus ended the worst season in Centres' history.

Freshman Football

Centre College this year boasted one of the strongest first year teams in several years. Although the team failed to make a clean sweep of its schedule, it shone brightly and gives all indications of furnishing a wealth of material for next fall's varsity.

Under the coaching of "Happy" Chandler, the Lieutenants developed into a large speedy eleven that had little trouble in vanquishing the first year team of Transylvania by a top heavy score, and in taking into camp the University of Louisville Freshmen and the strong Sewanee yearlings. The two defeats of the season were at the hands of the Wesleyan Cubs and the Kittens of State.

The most sensational ground gaining play of the season was the "May to Saracco" pass. The passing of "Bob" May was the greatest seen in the Centre stadium since the halcyon days of "Bo,"; many of his heaves were over fifty yards, and they always found a place to land when Saracco was in the game. The punting of Ches. Shearer and the line smashing of Noe was also pleasing to watch, and much is expected of these lads next season. In Boyle we believe we have as good a center as can be found in the South. Other men who are expected to graduate into the varsity ranks next season are: Wurts, a two hundred pound tackle from Ashland, Ky.; Baggiore and Grabruck, two real football players from Illinois.

The greatest game played by our frosh during the past year was the one with Sewanee, when the Looies went into the game the underdog and overcame a lead to win out in the second half. It is this indomitable spirit of our freshmen, as well as their weight and speed, that is being welcomed into the varsity next season.

Thus we can say our prospects for next year look exceedingly bright when we have the above-mentioned men ready and anxious to work into varsity ranks. With these glistening prospects coming up from our scrappy freshman team, Centre can look towards her difficult schedule with quite a bit of optimism.

Basketball Resume of 1928

The basketball season of '27, '28, was perhaps the most successful one enjoyed by the Colonels in the last five years. From a stiff schedule of fifteen games against this section's finest teams, the Colonels marked up six wins against nine losses.

The season opened when the Louisville Cardinals invaded the local gym and snared a 33-10. verdict. The Colonels were hardly organized but put up a fair game against the team destined to be the State Champions. Weber for Louisville and Deaton for Centre looked best.

Kentucky Wesleyan's Panthers found the Colonels in a revengeful mood a few nights later and themselves on the short end of a 35-31 score. Captain Deaton's shooting and Jimmie Going's guarding spelled victory for Pothoff's men. In the next game Eastern Normal was given a similar dose, and the Colonels chalked up their second win of the season. Outclassing the Teachers from the start, the Colonels finished out in front by nine points, 33-24. Staley and Deaton turned in fine games for the home boys.

The following week our Colonels ran into the annual squall, in the form of the State five, and were defeated, 36-23. Undaunted by defeat at the hands of their ancient rivals the Colonels proceeded to hand the classy Earlham College team of Indiana a lacing, 43-37. This was the outstanding triumph of the season. Deaton and O'Neil starred.

Lombard caught the local boys without Dame Fortune on the following night and gave them the worst drubbing in years, 64-25.

Loyola came next and being the strongest team on the entire schedule, their 38-15 win was expected. Ohio University was very lucky the following night and defeated a sleepless Centre five 33-23. St. Xavier's Musketeers found the Colonels still recuperating the next night, and had little trouble in registering a 33-13 win.

Back home and fully rested, a week later, the Colonels took the strong Western State Teachers College into camp 31-27. It marked a return to form of the entire squad. Two nights later in Lexington the Transy Pioneers proved easy prey to the fast stepping Colonels, 33-21. Captain Deaton and Maggard shone for Centre.

In the midst of their mid-season spurt, the Louisville Cardinals returned in the form of a jinx to register their second victory over the Gold and White, 36-21. Fast breaking forwards and the crip shot artist, Weber, were too much for the Colonels. Deaton again led his mates in scoring.

The Colonels found Transy to their liking at the local gym on the next evening and buried them under a 51-23 score. Eerea scored one of the season's upsets the following week by nosing the Colonels out in an overtime game, 33-31. Deaton starred despite an injury that kept him out of part of the game.

The Wildcats met a stubborn Centre five on the night of February 18 and were extended to the limit to win 30-20. The score does not accurately indicate the closeness of the play. Deaton, Maggard and Going played well for Centre in this final game on the schedule.

As fortune would have it, Pothoff's men drew the Cardinal jinx in the first round of the State Tournament and were eliminated 39-19. Staley and O'Neil played well but were unable to stop the flashy Weber.

Paired with the Berea team in the consolation tournament the Colonels staged a comeback to win decisively. Eastern Normal afforded a little opposition in the final round of this tourney but the Colonels came through, winning 24-21. Paul O'Neil was awarded the trophy for being judged the most valuable player to his team. With the loss of only one man off the entire squad Centre may look to a successful season next year.

Intramural Basketball

The Intramural Basketball Tournament, which always follows immediately after the close of the regular varsity season, enjoyed one of its best years in history. The purpose of the tournament is to develop new basketball material for the coming year, and to determine the best team in school, exclusive of the varsity and freshman fives.

The players as a whole displayed real sportsmanship, and better material was prevalent this season than has been seen in recent years.

The Phi Delts, winners of the tourney, were far superior in team work; although small of stature and minus any individual stars, the diminutive team swept through the early games to play the Betas in the final. The game was hard fought throughout, but the team work and passing of the Phi Delts won them the cup for the second consecutive year. Outstanding players of the tournament were: Shelton, Johnson, Browner, Lauer, McKinney, Rodman, Faurest, Wickens, Waddle, and Harris.

Track Resume, 1927

Under the tutelage of Rice Mountjoy, the Centre College track team of 1927 enjoyed one of the finest seasons in our history. The squad entered no less than four meets, one of which was won. In the State meet, Centre won third place. Due to the severity and the high calibre of the competition the team did not place in either the S. I. A. A. meet at Birmingham, or the Georgia Tech Relays at Atlanta.

In the first meet of the year, the Georgia Tech Relays, Centre team, in the medley relay comprised of Harris, Davis, Goben and Bartholomew, took fourth place. Bass, Centre's star pole vaulter, placed second in his event, clearing the bar at 12 feet.

The second event of the season was the Dual Meet with Berea, held at Berea. Both varsity and freshman teams competed and Centre took both ends of the meet without much trouble.

At the S. I. A. A. meet held at Birmingham, the proteges of Mountjoy made a creditable showing. Bass tied for first place in the pole vault at 12 feet, and took fourth place in the discus throw. Captain Goben ran second in a fast field of 880-yard men, and Bartholomew copped second place in the mile. Goben finished behind his team mate for third place in the mile run. Bob Harris took fourth place in the 220 in a field of the South's leading sprinters.

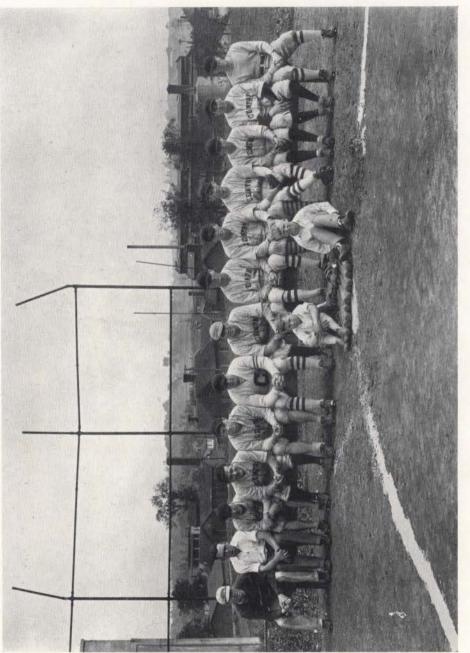

The close of the season came with the much-heralded State meet. The Louisville Cardinals swooped down upon us that day and took first place in the meet by a safe margin over Kentucky State, who finished second. Mountjoy's boys had to be content with third place. Captain Goben walked off with the mile, and his running mate, Bartholomew, found little competition in the two-mile run. Hugh Bass proved himself to be Centre's greatest pole vaulter when he tied the State record at 11 feet and 6 inches with a lame back. Lindenberger took third place in the half-mile after a spirited race. In the closing event of the day the local relay team ran third in the mile relay.

The season of '27 brought out the finest array of track talent seen at Centre in years. With a comparatively green squad, Mountjoy worked wonders, and could be depended upon for at least one first place in any meet. The work of last season's team has given impetus to the sport at Centre this year, and we are looking forward to the achievement of even greater things in the next few years.

The Centre Carnival

สมาราชสายเมืองการสายสายสายเป็นสายสายเกิดสายสายสายเสียงการสายเรา

HE famous Centre College Carnival is the foremost and final social event of the school year. It is the culmination of all the joys that so delight the young heart in verdant springtime. Fair maidens of our historical state come from far and wide in gowns and costumes of every hue of the rainbow—gray, brown, blue, orange, red, purple, silver—each contributing its part to the marvelous expanse of kaleidoscopic coloring, fading into a background of a June night of soft, mellow lights and the faint music of a gentle waltz wafted upon the zephyr of a summer evening.

It is Carnival night! the last of those unforgetable scenes that include the Sock and Buskin's play, dinners, alumni night and gala night. The King is selected from the athletes of Old Centre by the popular vote of the entire student body, while the Queen is chosen from among the girls of Danville by the "C" Club.

It is the final farewell of the school year, the joy for many before parting, and the dawning of a new day for some.

As the twilight of the past year sinks slowly behind the hills of tomorrow, we pause in our hour of festivity to pay tribute to King Thompson, a stalwart son of the Gold and White, and Queen Arnold, a real Kentucky belle.

- 14-Mountaineers begin to pull out so as to get home by Christmas, and consequently the Phi Taus close up their house.
- 17-Pre-Christmas dance. Plenty of holiday spirits.
- 21-Christmas vacation begins. The four remaining students go home.

Communication of Communication

JANUARY

2-Basketball team returns early in order to get ready for State. Captain Deaton swings down from home on some grapevines.

- 5-School opens with "full" attendance. Poor "Wes" takes on a sparring partner for life. First basketball game. The new president shows his stand on the wet and dry issue. One student missing.
- 14-Basketball team takes out life insurance policy and leaves for Chicago and other centers of crime.
- 19-Boise Potthoff signed as new head coach. The riddle has finally been answered.

20-Beta dance. Nuf sed.

25-Centre 33; Western Normal 27. Some game brother.

30-Final exams. New locks placed on main building. "Sut" and Clarkson start going to school at night.

FEBRUARY

2-Exams over. Several old faces missing, but Clarkson weathers the storm.

- 10-K. A. Formal. Everything went off O. K. George Bell was there for all the dance.
- 17—Freshmen realize what is meant by "Hell Week." Many "weak ends" are burnt up by the old men.
- 24—Team leaves for the S. I. A. A. tournament at Winchester. Good luck, Colonels. 24—O'Neil grabs trophy and Colonels cop consolation prize.

MARCH

- 2-Phi Tau dance. Nothing exciting happened. President is offered position on the prohibition force, but refuses and is made an honorary member.
- 5-Howard Van Arsdale demonstrates the benefits of the literary society by demonstrating his ability to speak without touching the subject.
- 8-Spring football practice starts and it looks as if "Noisy" Popoff means business.
- 9-O. D. K. announces the pledging of five new members. Usual fuss from those that failed to make it.

10-High school tournament held at Centre. Potthoff makes a killing.

- 20-King and Queen of the Carnival elected in spite of politics. Long live King "Red" Thompson and Queen "Knuck" Arnold.
- 24-S. A. E. dance. President Turck raids Monte Carlo. Three boys called before the discipline committee and get the usual "works." Three empty seats in chapel next day. Old Centre ain't what it used to be.

27-Walkout threatened, but that is as far as it got.

31-Spring football practice ends after four weeks of work.

APRIL

- 2-Track and baseball get going in earnest. First game of the year. Eastern shows Centre that they can play baseball, and HOW.
- 3-Spring just around the corner; tennis team gets into action. Notre Dame gives our tennis team a sound thrashing.
- 13—Friday the thirteenth, and the Deke dance. Things look blue for somebody. Dance is a hummer. Students hold "spirits" like real Centre men. But don't do so well at the after dance.
- 14-State and Centre meet once again on the diamond and State walks off with another win.

APRIL

- I-April Fool Day and no Paris Green? Spaulding and Walker have to graduate, and Parker too busy with the Annual.
- 17—The very much delayed Easter vacation starts and we'll have to say "adieu" now, as the Annual goes to press—and just think, only a few more weeks till the worry of lessons and the such will be over. In the words of Briggs—"What a grand and glorious feeling."

EVEN. THE . PROFS . HAVE . A . LINE WALLACE KELLY

Can You Imagine

Anyone flunking Evolution, or passing Bible. "Red" Wurts wearing knickers, or "Dick" Foley in boxing trunks. Van Arsdale keeping quiet, or Henry Faurest "blowing off." "Dusty" Rhoades making Olympic track team, or Eddie Flaig putting the shot. Baldwin in a full dress, or Craig in overalls. Sam Cramer on a wild party, or Dick Busch studying for the ministry.
