DEDICATION

To

DR. HENRY MEIER

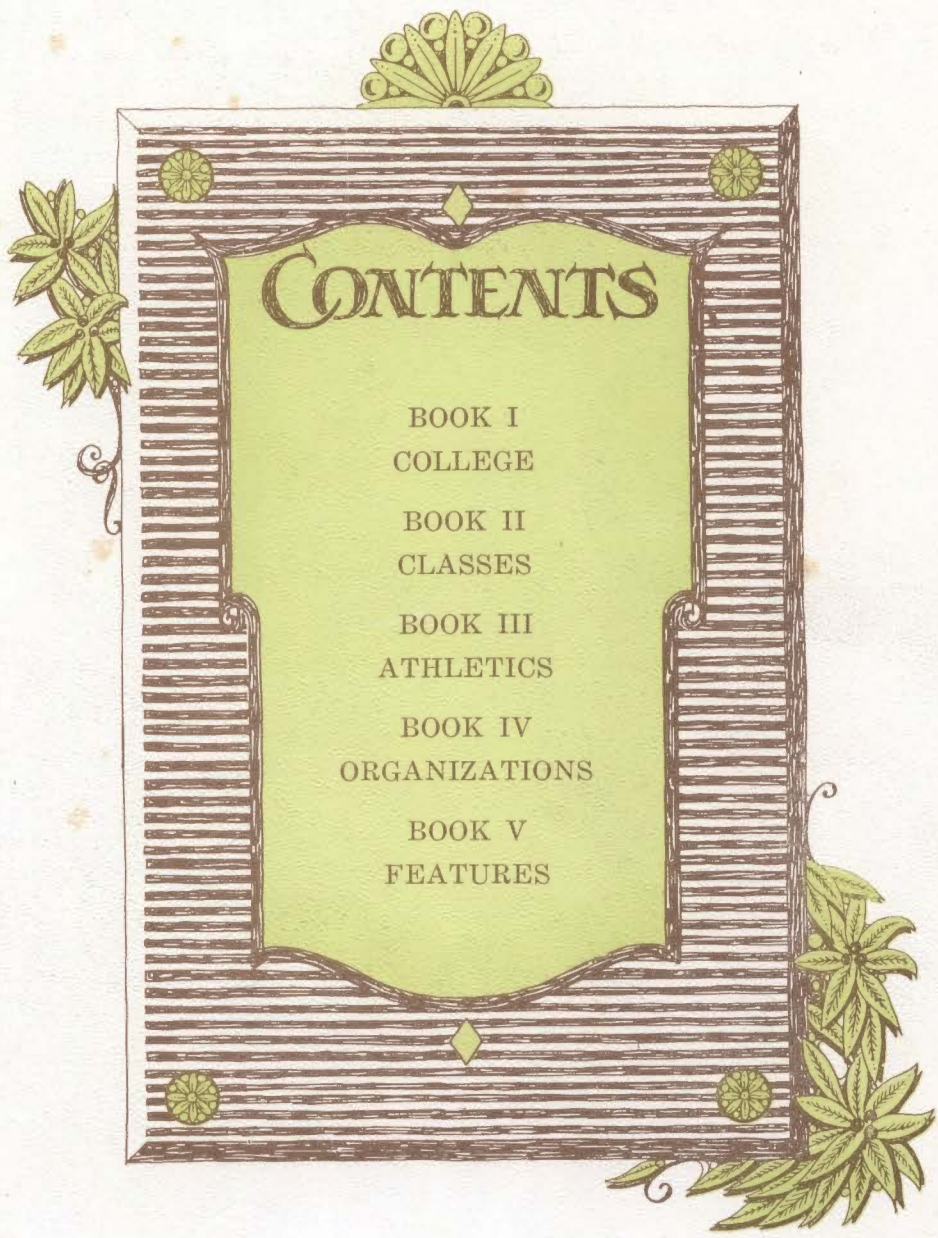

who this year leaves Centre College after having faithfully served it for twelve years. As this is his last year with Centre, and as he has always striven to make of Centre College a school of the highest educational and moral advancement, it is only proper that this volume should be dedicated to him. As a man, as an instructor, and as the Chairman of the Honor Committee, he has always worked for the best of the College and for the best of the student; consequently to him do we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Seven, respectfully dedicate this Annual.

FOREWORD

In publishing this book, our purpose has been to bring to the students and alumni of Centre College a permanent record of the history of the College for the year nineteen hundred and twenty-six. We have endeavored to include all phases of college activities in such a way that in the years to come a person looking over the pages of this book will realize the glory that is Centre's and will be once more wafted back to the time that he spent here in a wave of pleasant remembrances. If this is accomplished, then our hopes for the present volume will be realized.

OLD CENTRE

A central graphic for the 1926 staff of 'Old Centre'. It features eight oval portraits of young men arranged around a central illustration of a classical building with columns, possibly a school or government building, viewed through a tree-lined path. The portraits are arranged in two columns of four. The central illustration is flanked by the word 'STAFF' above and '1926' below. Each portrait has a handwritten caption below it.

JOHN MARK ADAMS
FRANKLIN, KENTUCKY
 Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

John has spent four good years at Centre, and agrees that it isn't such a bad place after all. During his stay here he has won many friends, both on the campus and around Danville. He believes in doing things right, and that's the reason you never see him except at class time. The rest of his time he is in his room studying, and would probably be valedictorian of his class—if there were not thirty other men in the class.

DUDLEY EDWARD BRYANT
DANVILLE, KENTUCKY

Sigma Chi; Centre Colonel, '23, '24, '26; Social Committee, '25, '26; University of Virginia, '24.

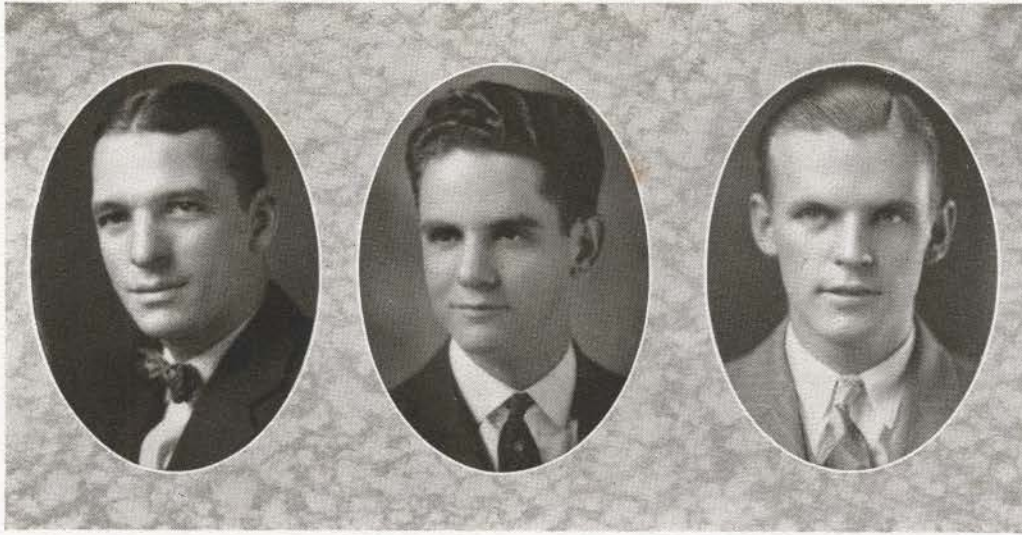

"Dud" left us for a while in '24, but ere many months rolled around he found out that there was "no place like home and good old Centre." He is one of those quiet fellows who never worries, but gets there all right. "Dud" and his car are familiar sights on the campus, and will be greatly missed.

JOHN M. BULL, JR.
FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY

Phi Kappa Tau; Omicron Delta Kappa; National Council Phi Kappa Delta; President of Kentucky Intercollegiate Debating Association, '25-'26; Winner in Ernst Debate, '25, '26; Vice President of Senior Class; Colonel Staff, '24, '25; Annual Staff, '25; College Debating Team, '23, '24, '25, '26; Deinologian Literary Society.

His activities have taken so much space that there is little left to say about him, but something must be said. John is a little fellow, but he surely shoots a big gun, and this is a case where size doesn't count. He has been one of Centre's strongest men in debating, and has won many contests for his school. As a lawyer, we know he will be a great success, and we wish him good luck.

SAMUEL BURBANK, JR.
ANCHORAGE, KENTUCKY

Phi Delta Theta; Baseball Squad, '23; 'Varsity, '25, '26; Vice President of Y. M. C. A., '23-'24; Deinologian Literary Society; English Club; Sock and Buskin; President of Glee Club; Centre Minstrels, '23, '24, '25.

How could we ever get along without Sam? He's always in for some fun, and often at the expense of his favorite Professor. His winning ways have made him many friends at Centre, and he is well known about Danville. "In the box" he is hard to beat, and has given his opponents a lot of trouble in touching his curves. We hate to lose such a man, but we give him up proudly.

FRANK HILL CALDWELL
CORINTH, MISSISSIPPI

United States Military Academy, '19-'20; University of Mississippi, '20, '21, '22; DeMolay Club; Hermean Literary Society; Alpha Phi Epsilon Honorary Literary Fraternity; Greek Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Quartet; University of Louisville Summer School, '22; Kentucky Presbyterian Theological Seminary, '23, '24, '25; Quartet, '23, '24, '25; Friendship Council, '24, '25; President of Student Body, '24, '25; B.D. Degree and Honorary Fellowship, '25; Centre College, '25, '26; English Club; Glee Club; Deinologian Literary Society.

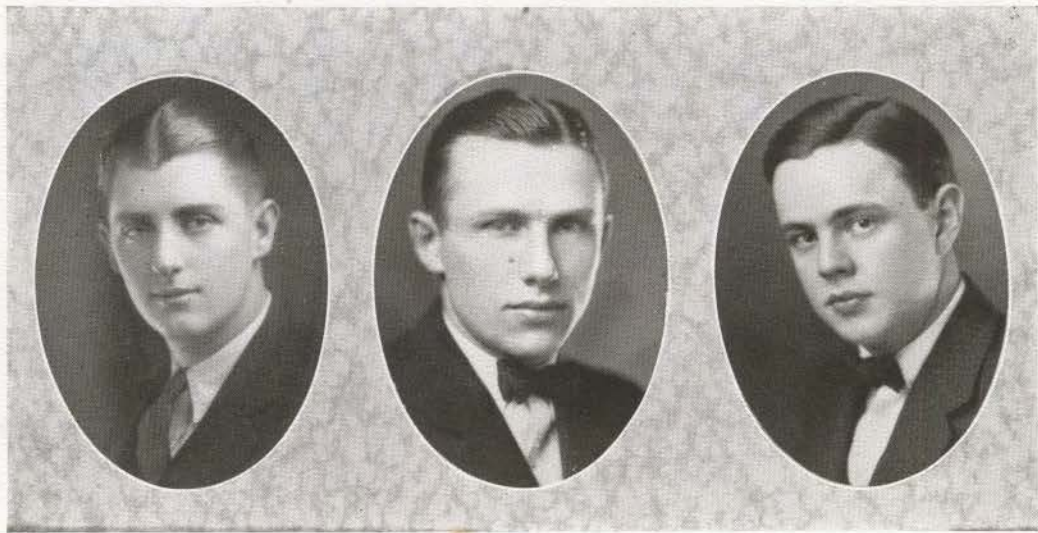

After spending three years at "Ole Miss," Frank went to the Seminary at Louisville and took his B.D. work. He graduated there, and decided to come to Centre for his A.B. degree. We feel that he has missed a lot by not being with us more than one year, but it is our gain in having him on our campus. His life work is the ministry, and we know that he will be a success there. After returning from a week-end trip to E'town, he was asked if he had been there to fill a pulpit. His reply was: "No, I have just been doing some personal work." He was not questioned further, for we knew it was a matter of personal interest with Frank.

WILLIAM DUFFIELD COCHRAN
MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY

Beta Theta Pi; Omicron Delta Kappa; Ye Rounde Table; Manager of 'Varsity Athletics, '25; Class President, '25; Athletic Editor of Annual, '25; Financial Secretary of Y. M. C. A., '25, '26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25, '26; Vice President of French Club, '24; Deinologian Literary Society, '22-'23.

Bill has taken a lively interest in all college activities and served as Manager of one of our best teams. He is well liked here, and his many Danville friends hate to see him leave. In scholarship he rates high, and in sending him out we feel that the world is getting a real man. Our best wishes go with you, Bill.

JACK ELLSWORTH DEVORSS

WICHITA, KANSAS

Fairmount College; Phi Lambda Psi; Centre College; Centre Colonel Staff; Press Club, '26.

Another Kansas boy has followed the long trail to Centre. He tried Fairmount, but after coming to Centre he wouldn't go back there. We're mighty glad to have had you as a student, Jack, and hope that more will come who are like you.

LESLIE GERMAN

BELLVUE, KENTUCKY

Phi Kappa Tau; Friendship Council, Y. M. C. A., '22; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25, '26; Secretary and Treasurer of Junior Class, '25; Football Squad, '22, '23, '24, '25; Freshman Basket Ball, '23; Varsity Basket Ball, '25, '26; Phi Beta Chi; Assistant in Chemistry, '26; Varsity Baseball, '25, '26.

Here we have one of Centre's most loyal men and a fighter till the last in every game. He has the old "stick-to-it-iveness" that will put him across; and whatever his ambition may be, he is sure to come out ahead. "Les" is a friend to all, and we will miss him.

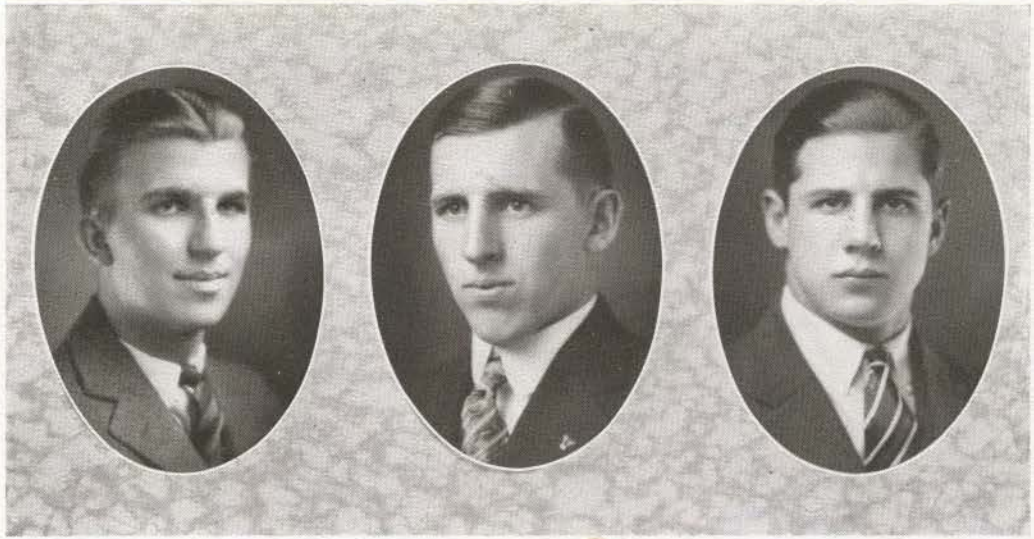

ROBERT EDWARDS GLORE

DANVILLE, KENTUCKY

Sigma Chi; Honor Roll, '22, '23; University of Virginia, '24.

"Bob" finished his work at Centre at the end of the first semester, and is taking things easy until June, when he will receive his "sheepskin." He and his big Texas hat will be greatly missed from Centre's campus.

RALPH IRVINE GRAVES

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY

Beta Theta Pi; Y. M. C. A. Vice President, '24, '25; Glee Club, '23-'26; Deinologian Literary Society President, '24; Treasurer, '23; Centre Minstrel, '24; Louisville Club, '24; Annual Staff, '25; Delegate to National Student Volunteer Convention, '23; French Club Secretary, '24.

Another of Louisville's sons is about to leave us, but we know that his home town will be glad to have him back again. Ralph and his violin have always been wanted on many occasions here in Danville, and he has pleased many audiences elsewhere. It goes without saying that he is a real artist with this instrument. One of his most striking characteristics is that of whole-heartedness in all he does.

STEPHEN HUNTER HAYWARD

DANVILLE, KENTUCKY

Student Assistant in Chemistry, '24, '25, '26; Phi Beta Chi (Scientific).

"Steve" has spent so much of his time in Young Hall that he has become almost a part of the building. Always interested in his work, he is a man that never shirks his task. Engineering is his chosen field, and at the rate he has been going here in Centre we know that he will make a success.

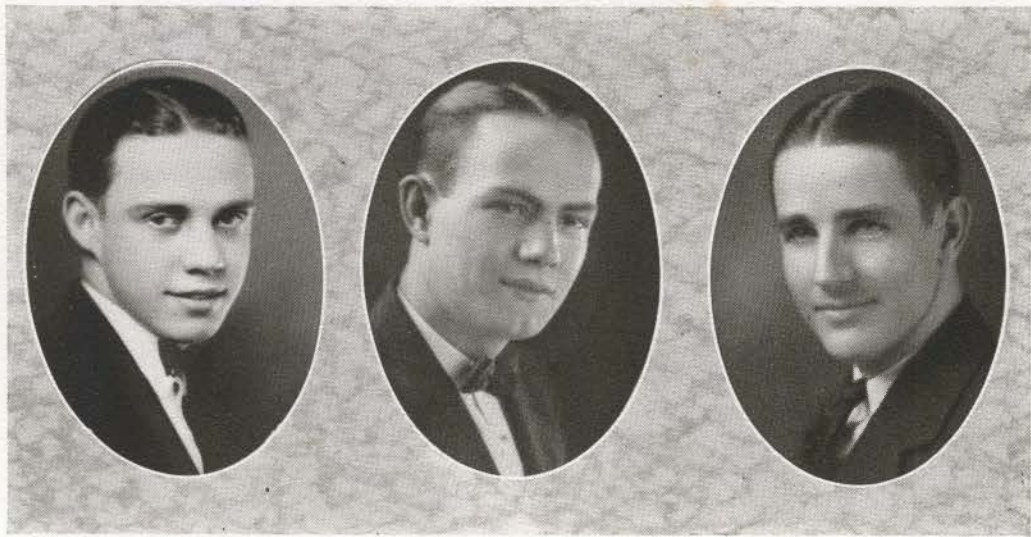

CARL F. HILKER

FORT MITCHELL, KENTUCKY

Sigma Chi; Freshman Football, '22; Varsity Football, '23, '24, '25; Keys Fraternity; Deinologian Literary Society; Golf Club.

Carl and his "Lincoln" have been familiar sights around Centre for four years, and it won't seem natural without them. Earnest and friendly, he has made many friends here. In athletics he has made a record by his hard and willing work, and in his life's work we predict a bright future for him.

FELIX B. HENRY
EL DORADO, ARKANSAS

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Keys Fraternity.

Felix left us at the end of the first semester, as his work at Centre was finished. We have not known him so well, but well enough to know that he is a jolly good fellow and always ready to help you if he can.

HARRY C. HOLDER, JR.
CALHOUN, KENTUCKY

Phi Delta Theta; Ye Rounde Table President, '25, '26; French Club, '25; Science Club, '25; Deinologian Literary Society; Assistant in Biology, '24, '25; Assistant in Chemistry, '25, '26.

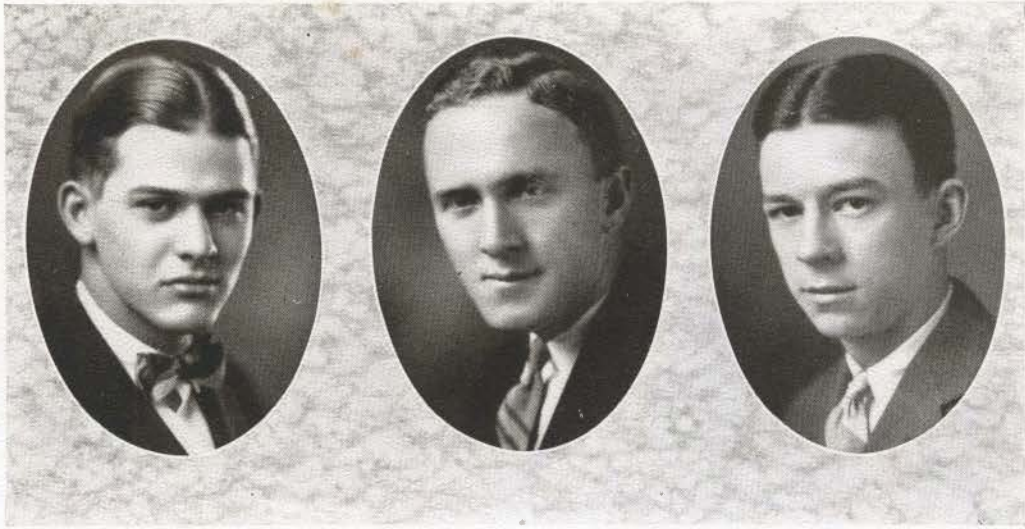

Holder is one of Centre's best students, and he has a permanent place on the Honor Roll. As President of the Rounde Table, he is unusually popular, as he is always the first man to think of adjourning to the Park.

RICHARD C. HOPPER
MAY'S LICK, KENTUCKY

Sigma Chi; Phi Beta Chi; Cento Staff, '26.

ROBERT H. MCNAIR
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; Ye Rounde Table; Keys Fraternity; Track Squad, '23; Assistant in Mathematics, '25, '26; Y. M. C. A. Friendship Council, '23; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '24; Social Committee, '24, '25, '26; Editor of Annual, '25; Centre College Minstrel, '23, '24; Glee Club, '26; President of Senior Class.

McNair is a little fellow who does big things, as his record at Centre plainly shows. He has more honors than a dog has fleas, and, to cap the climax, was overwhelmingly elected President of the Senior Class. We know from his personality that the future will be just as bright as his career has been here at Centre.

POWELL A. MOORE
MILAN, TENNESSEE

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; transfer from Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn.

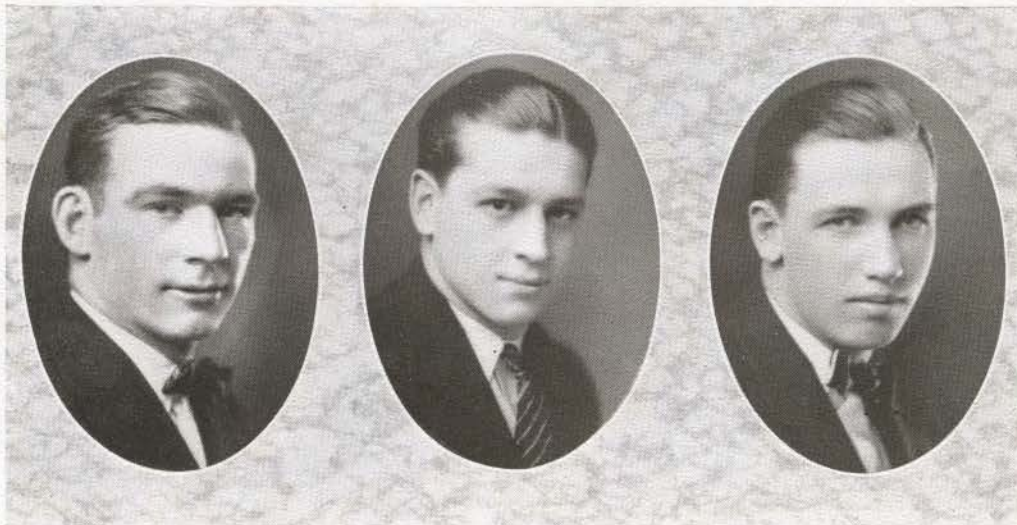

Powell realized what it meant to have a degree from Old Centre, so his fourth college year found him here. He is a straight A student, and will probably be another of Centre's famous alumni in the near future.

ALEXANDER ROSS MURPHY
PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS

Delta Kappa Epsilon; Y. M. C. A. Council; Spanish Club; University of Virginia Summer Session, '25.

Murphy is another man who finished his work at the end of the first semester. He is a quiet fellow, who is very friendly and easy to get along with, and will undoubtedly continue to make many more friends in the future. He is one of the few Centre students to really master Logic, and is consequently a favorite of Dr. McMullen.

JOHN ELMO PACE
GROVE, OKLAHOMA

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Freshman Football, Baseball, and Track; 'Varsity Football, '23, '24, '25; Baseball, '24, '25, '26; Captain of Baseball, '26; Basket-Ball Squad, '25; Senator from Junior Class to Student Forum; Omicron Delta Kappa; President of Student Forum, '26; Vice President of Junior Class; Secretary and Treasurer of Senior Class; English Club; Ye Rounde Table.

"Rabbit" is one of Centre's most popular men. He has taken part in every branch of athletics, and is excellent in them all. He has established a precedent in being a successful athlete and a member of Ye Rounde Table at the same time. His election as President of the Student Forum is a testimony of his great popularity at Centre.

ELMER W. RABENSTEIN
LOCKLAND, OHIO

Beta Theta Pi; Social Committee; Student Forum; Keys Fraternity; President of Sophomore Class; Baseball, '23, '24; Basket Ball, '24; Captain of Freshman Football, '22; 'Varsity Football, '23, '24, '25.

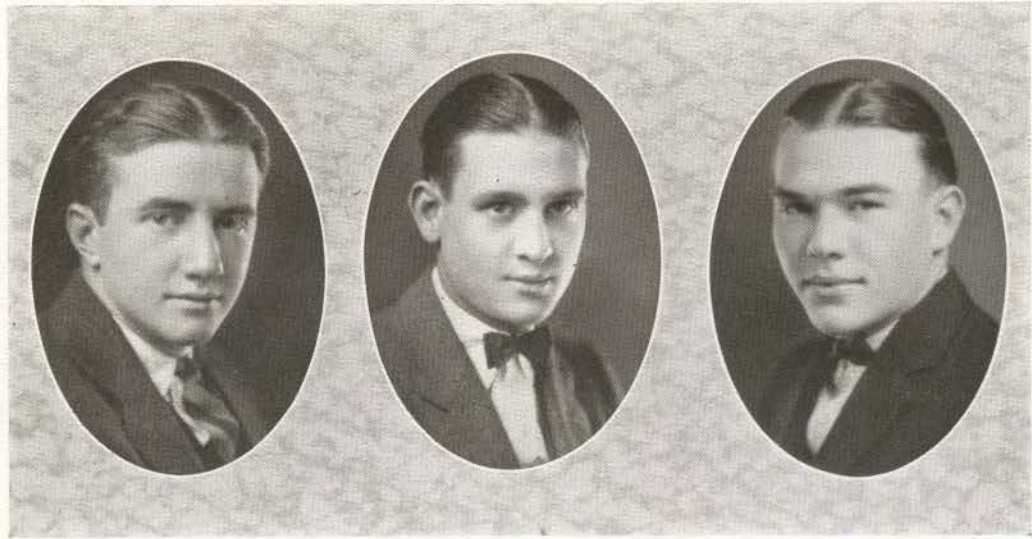

"Roundy" has done his part in helping to keep up our high standing in the athletic world. He is one of the most popular men on the campus, and in sending him out Centre is giving a man that she can always be proud of. We all join in wishing him the best of luck in the future.

CORWIN C. REEVES
FORT THOMAS, KENTUCKY

Phi Kappa Tau.

Reeves is another man who finished at the end of the first semester, and as soon as his duties here were ended he was at once on the job somewhere else. His days at Centre have been well spent, and may his whole life be as successful as have been his years at Centre.

RALPH P. RICH
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY

Phi Kappa Tau; Spanish Club, '25; Deinologian Literary Society, '22, '23; Y. M. C. A. Friendship Council; Business Manager of Annual, '25; Basket-Ball Squad, '26; Assistants' Union, '25.

"Red" is a fighter in whatever he goes into, and you can generally bank on him winning out in the long run. Perhaps he was a terror to the Freshmen who entered in the fall of '23, but that was soon forgotten, and we like him better for it. It's mighty hard to live up to the example and approach the record that an older brother has established, but "Red" won't miss it far.

EUGENE C. "DOC" ROEMELE
FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY

Phi Delta Theta; Assistant Manager of Football, '23; Freshman Manager, '23; Courier-Journal Correspondent, '25, '26; Sports Editor of Cento, '23, '24, '25, '26; Publication Board, '22, '23; Associate Editor of Colonel, '25, '26.

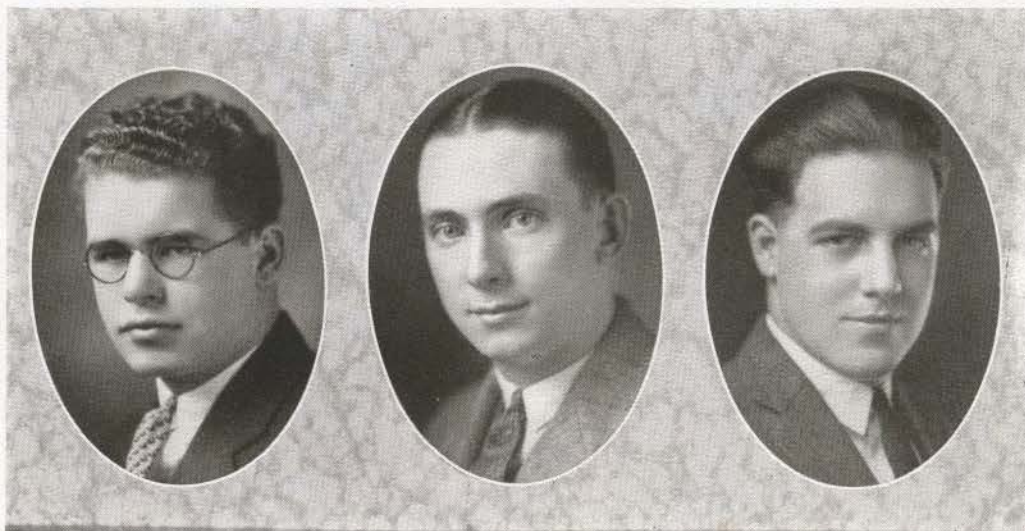

"Doc" is one of Centre's best supporters, and always gives us a good write-up in the newspapers that he is connected with. His chief interest is in athletics, but he has given us publicity along other lines. Few college men can beat him as a sport writer, and, with a little more experience, we do not hesitate to put him against the best.

WALTER DENNIS SKIDMORE
HARLAN, KENTUCKY

Phi Kappa Tau; Freshman Football, Basket Ball, and Baseball; 'Varsity Football, '23, '24; Captain, '25; 'Varsity Baseball, '25, '26; Omicron Delta Kappa; Keys Fraternity.

Time and space do not permit us to say all we would like to about "Skid." On many fields he has helped to represent the Gold and White, and on every occasion he has kept the banner high. On the campus he is very popular, and is a man that every Centre student admires. He deserves a world of success, and, with that old fight that never leaves him, we do not doubt his future.

Ye Rounde Table Treasurer, '25, '26; Honor Student, '24, '25, '26; Spanish Club, '25, '26; Secretary, '25; Assistant Instructor in Spanish, '25, '26; French Club, '25, '26; Basket Ball, '25, '26; Baseball, '25, '26.

Here is another Danville boy that the town can be proud of. "Bob" has a record at Centre that is far above the average. He is especially good in French and Spanish, and has been Dr. Meier's right-hand man for the last two years. We are just wondering how that department can run without him. We couldn't have an Honor Roll unless "Bob" was on it, and he holds a high place on that list.

GABE B. SUMMERS

SHEPHERDSVILLE, KENTUCKY

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Freshman Football, '22; Freshman Basket Ball; Captain, '23; Baseball, '23; Varsity Basket Ball, '24, '25, '26; Captain, '26; Social Committee, '25, '26.

Every man has something that he is especially good in, and Gabe's choice is basket ball. For four years he has held a place on Centre's team, and it will take a mighty good man to fill the place that he has left. He has many friends at Centre and about Danville, who will never forget him and who wish him the greatest success in his chosen field of work.

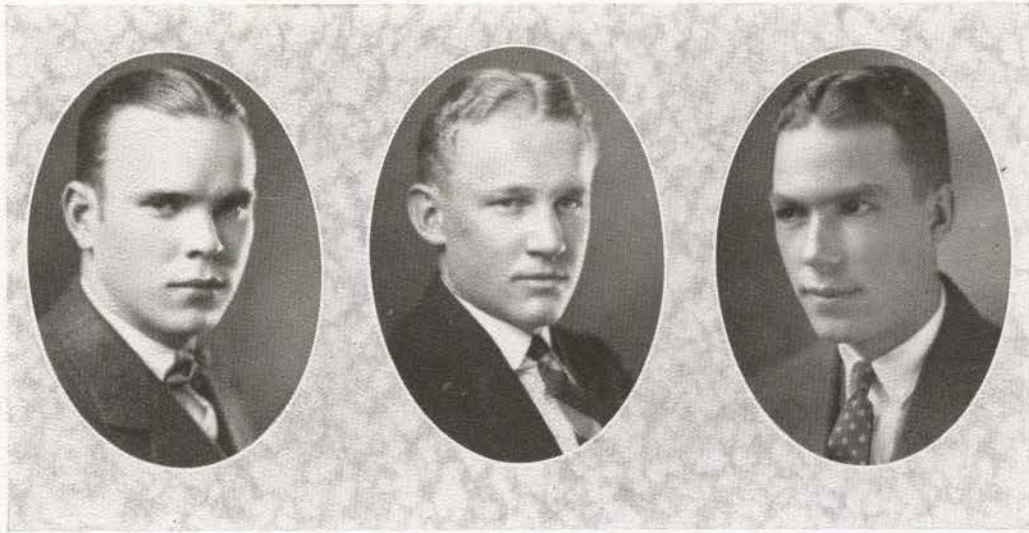

WALTER TAYLOR TUCKER

CAVE CITY, KENTUCKY

Chamberlain Literary Society, '24, '25, '26; French Club, '25, '26; Science Club, '25, '26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '26; Social Committee, '26.

As Chief of the Police Department of Breck Hall, Tucker has been a great leader. If one of the boys wants to study, all he has to do is to call the monitor, who soon has everything quiet and peaceable. We know it takes a mighty good man to keep things straight in Breck, and Walter has shown that he can do that. His chosen profession is medicine, and we know that he will succeed.

JAMES DOUGLAS TURNER

PAINTSVILLE, KENTUCKY

Kappa Alpha; Science Club, '25, '26; Assistants' Union, '25, '26; Chamberlain Literary Society.

"Doug" is one of the finest fellows we have known. He has the true Centre spirit, and that is shown in all of his work. In his stay here he has taken an active interest in all student activities, and will soon be added to the list of Centre's honored alumni.

EDWARD BALDWIN UDLOCK

DENVER, COLORADO

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Chamberlain Literary Society; Track; Basket-Ball Squad.

"Whitey" is about as well known about the campus and around Danville as any man who has ever attended Centre. As the trainer for our athletic teams, he has been a valuable man, and the coaches will have a hard time to find another as good and as ready to help. He is a fine man to have in a college, and it is Centre's loss when he leaves.

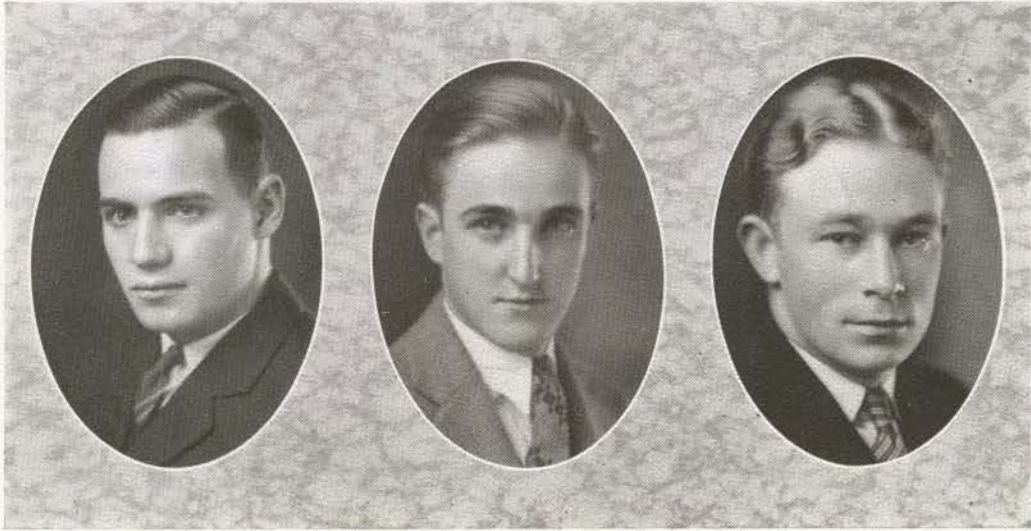

JOHN WALTER URMSTOM

CYNTHIANA, KENTUCKY

Phi Kappa Tau; Historian of Junior Class, '26.

"Jay" is one of the best-liked fellows on the campus, and his pleasing personality will always win friends. From all that we can learn, "Jay" is going on the farm. Some might say that he will be a "gentleman farmer," but we know him too well to believe that, and there is too much life about him for him to be still very long at a time. He puts all he has into every activity, and when a man does that, he is sure to be a success.

ROBERT EDGAR WALLACE
BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Phi Delta Theta; Keys Fraternity; Omicron Delta Kappa; Freshman Football, Baseball, and Track; Varsity Football, '23, '24, '25; Varsity Baseball, '25, '26; Track, '23; Senator to Student Forum from Junior Class; Secretary and Treasurer of Student Forum, '25, '26; President of Y. M. C. A., '24, '25; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25, '26; Delegate to International Student Volunteer Convention at Indianapolis, '23; Chamberlain Literary Society; Oratorical Contest, '26.

"Bob" has taken part in every branch of college activities, as his record plainly shows. He has taken special interest in "Y" work, and has been an excellent leader in all that the organization has attempted to do. He is a man of the highest character, and one who is deeply interested in his fellow men. We lose when such a man leaves us, but our loss is the gain of those with whom he will associate in the future.

GEORGE FINIS WEAKS
WATER VALLEY, KENTUCKY

Honor Student, '24, '25, '26; Omicron Delta Kappa; Ye Rounde Table; Editor in Chief of Centre Colonel, '25; Cento Staff, '25.

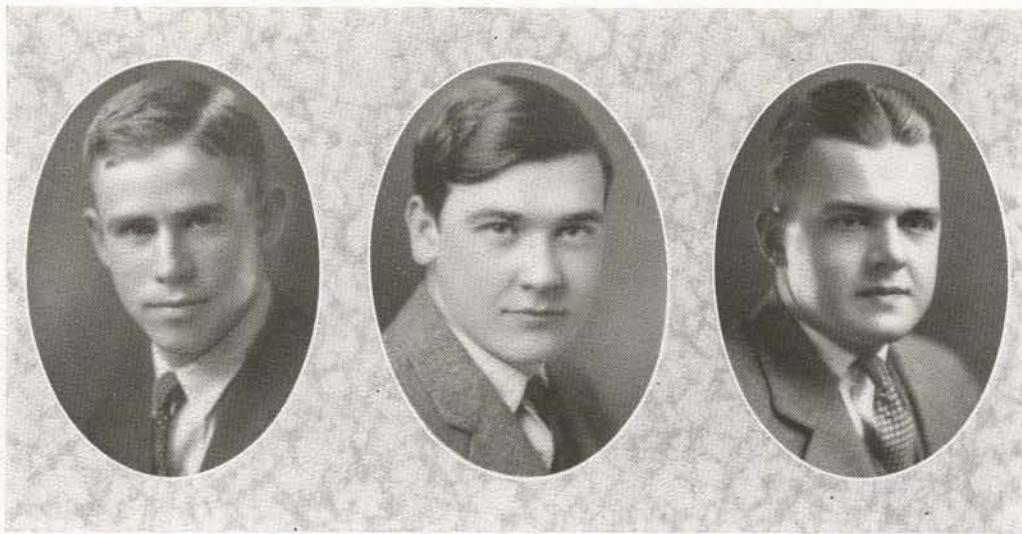

George is one of the best students that has ever entered Centre College, and he has made a most excellent record while here. Besides the regular curriculum, he takes a great interest in other campus activities. His work on the Cento and Colonel Staffs has been of the best, and his contributions to these publications have helped greatly in making them a success. He is a writer of ability, and we predict a bright and successful future for him.

ARVILLE WHEELER
WINIFRED, KENTUCKY

French Club; English Club; Ye Rounde Table; Assistant in English Department; Press Club, '26; Historian of Freshman Class, '23.

Wheeler has always been a leader in student activities, and has exhibited all those qualities of character and leadership. His entire college career has been successful, and in the field of education we know that he will make a good man.

ERNEST P. WOFORD
DANVILLE, KENTUCKY

Ye Rounde Table; Honor Student, '24, '25; Basket Ball, '25, '26; Track, '25; Phi Beta Chi (Scientific). Ernest has made an admirable record, both in the classroom and in athletics. He is a little man, but he can certainly cover the best part of a basket-ball floor and take care of his man, too. Centre is proud to turn out a man of his caliber, and whatever he goes into he puts all he has in it, and that kind of a man has no end of success.

DAVID BAKER WOOD
MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY

Beta Theta Pi; Science Club; Assistant in Department of Mathematics. Dave is liked by all, and is a mighty fine fellow. He has been a great help to Dr. Fehn in the Math. Department, and it will be almost broken up when he leaves. We know some good ones on Dave, but have promised not to write them on condition that he will come to Greek Class just one time with all the sentences read.

WALTER GARLAND YOUNG

Sigma Chi; President of Freshman Class, '23; Editor of Cento, '24, '25; Centre Colonel Staff, '24; English Club, '25; Senior Class Historian, '26; President of Press Club, '26.

Garland has spent much of his time trying to fool the profs., and to a certain extent he has been successful, for he is now ready to get his diploma. He has done some good work for our college papers, and in the journalistic field he is certain to attract attention. May his future be bright and successful, and may he and the others, too, never forget the days at "Old Centre" and that "Old Centre marches ever on."

Exeunt

POETS have told us repeatedly, in one form or another, that the "old order changeth" and that "there is nothing new under the sun." Now, as we brush by each other clad in our togas signifying Learning—signifying the end of our Collegiate Road—their rustle speaks a strange language to us, each and every one. The blackness of the graduation gowns, the radiant countenances of the wearers, the tear-stained eyes of happy parents, brothers, sisters, sweethearts, and friends who have come from far and wide to look on and observe our day of triumph, our swan song—all will drive home to us the realization that the old order has really changed and that our places are being usurped by younger orders, who, shortly enough, will have their place in the sun. There is something new under the sun! It is the fact of four classes which crowd closely upon our heels. To look backward over one shoulder at the past four years at Centre is, in a way, a duty. We must do so to point the way to other future classes. And in every duty there is a joy hidden somewhere. If our mistakes, our triumphs may beacon light the way for others, Old Centre has profited much by our presence.

Four years ago, on the eleventh of September, nineteen hundred and twenty-two, twenty-one States intrusted to Old Centre the care and welfare of one hundred and thirty-five youthful sons. Of that number, a scant thirty remain to come forward at the call of their name to receive diplomas this June. Many have fallen by the way. An obligation falls heavily on this tried and tested band of thirty. They must uphold a collegiate trust in later life which one hundred and thirty-five originally took upon themselves four years ago.

The entering class, replete with almost every known type of picked high-school product, was duly made to feel its place by virtue of a well-planned initiation fostered by the Sophomore Class. After the sting of humiliation had slightly abated, a group of select "parlor bolsheviks" took things into their own hands and organized for the avowed purpose of controlling the Freshman Class. This they did by sweeping all offices of the class to their side. But such leadership was not of the lasting type, and the flag rush in the spring was a total rout for the yearlings. That first year saw Centre produce one of the greatest scoring machines ever to wear the Gold and White on the gridiron. It scored two hundred and ninety-one points against a meager forty-seven for the opponents!

The next fall of '23 saw our class whittled down to but a shadow of its former self. The greatest decrease between a Freshman and Sophomore class in the history of the institution was experienced. Work upon the new stadium was begun at this time. The Class of '26 had much to do with the success of the cement drive and gathering of funds which made this monument to the prowess of Centre on the field of sport possible. Elmer Rabenstein, an able leader, was chosen to guide the Class of '26 through its Sophomore difficulties. The manner in which he led the avenging hosts of the Sophomores against the Freshmen in the last flag rush seen on the campus will never be forgotten. The victory was ours.

Again in the fall of '24 the Class of '26 was depleted still more by men not returning to the stately and aristocratic halls of our College. The professions, private life, and transfers accounted for many. William Cochran was elected President to carry on the work of Elmer Rabenstein before him. The class prospered as very few classes before or since have done. Its members were among the leaders in the scholastic, athletic, and social advances of the College.

This last fall the Class of '26 chose Robert McNair as the logical man for its President. Undisputed leadership was enjoyed by the Seniors this year in every branch and walk of college life. Wallace, German, Skidmore, Rabenstein, Hilker, and Pace are our lasting offer of names who have tried to keep the football star at Centre ever twinkling and undimmed.

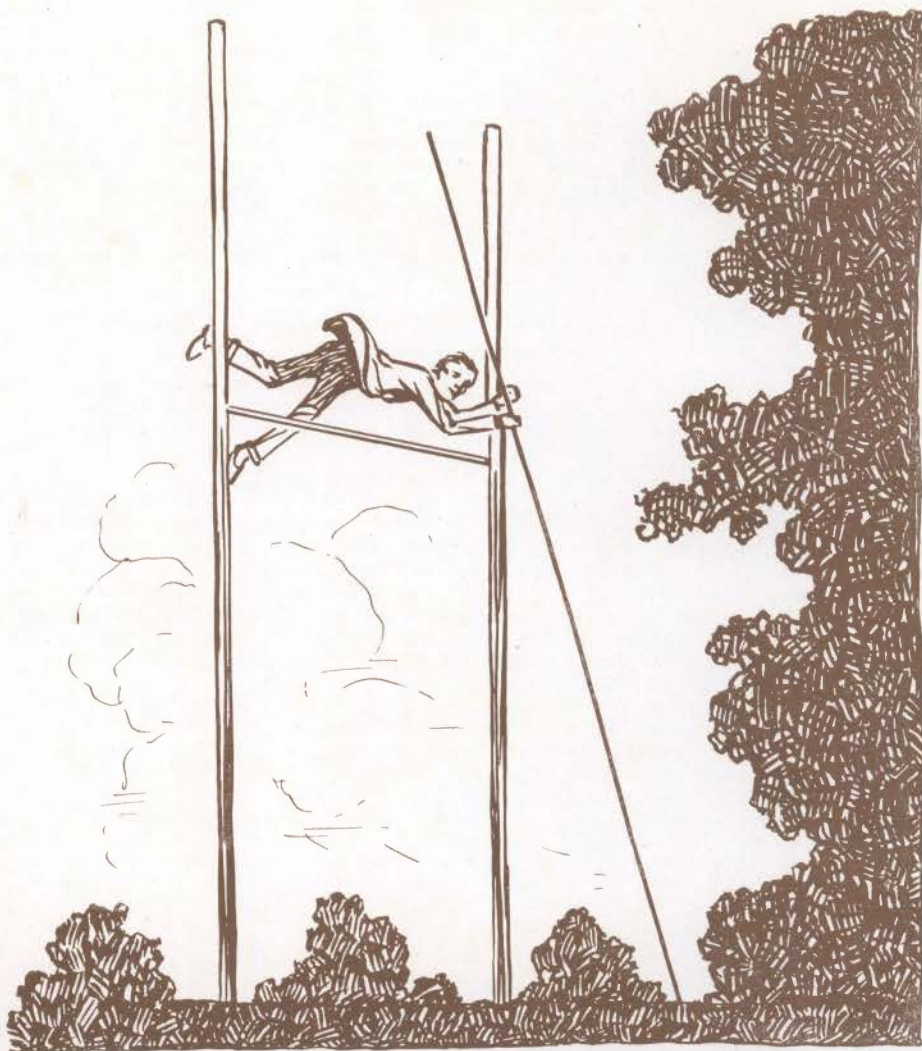

Comes now that hurried moment of farewell. The Class of '26 joins hands in a mixed promise and oath that, in weal and woe, they have striven to keep Old Centre on the right track and headed the right way. We find the familiar outlines of the buildings, the rambling paths, blur into a gray twilight caused by both a tear and a sigh. "Old Centre marches ever on"—without us.

Junior Class History

O MIN, look! We have here the history of the Class of '27, and it is a pippin, too! This is the history, Min:

Back yonder in the autumn of 1923 a green bunch of young yaps entered College for the first time. Well, for most of them it was their first visit to such a high-class institution as Centre College. Some came because they had heard of "Bo," "Matty," "Red," and other men of football fame, and a score of others came because they were striving to attain the heights so many who had graduated from Centre had attained in previous years.

It was not long before we heard, "Get off that grass, you Freshman!" or, "Where is that green tie, you bonehead?" and many other such gentlemanly expressions. Pledge buttons were being seen more and more—some more in number than others.

As the days rolled by and our Football Team got under way, we found our team to be a splendid organization, and it came through the year with two wins over the "Kittens," from State, the only Freshman team to accomplish such a feat in football history here.

The "Sophs." got rather hard and paddled us one night, and made us sing bad songs before the nice little girls of K. C. W.; but this was so much fun that they played another little game of "See if You Can Keep from Getting Hit." Well, many of the Freshmen got hit, and for some time they were taking their meals off of mantels.

One day along in the spring a few "Sophs." got hold of a little rag and called it a "flag," and then dared us to get it. Of course we thought that it would be a great deal of fun; but they had arranged all the details and traps long before, so we were all tied up, and they hid that little rag in such a way that we had to be content to let it stay put.

"Big boys"—yes, that's what we felt like, but still rather young, though we made the poor "Frosh" think he was next to nothing the way we'd bawl him out.

Mutt Wilson and Sandy Bush played as regulars on the great team that licked the tar out of Alabama, Georgia, and State. Bill Kagin, Skeet McClure, and Norman Durham made their letters the same season.

We began our first year with an enrollment of one hundred and twenty-six, and we have now dwindled down to about thirty-six; but from these men who are still with us because they want to graduate under Centre's colors, we have many to be proud of and many who are to be looked up to and respected.

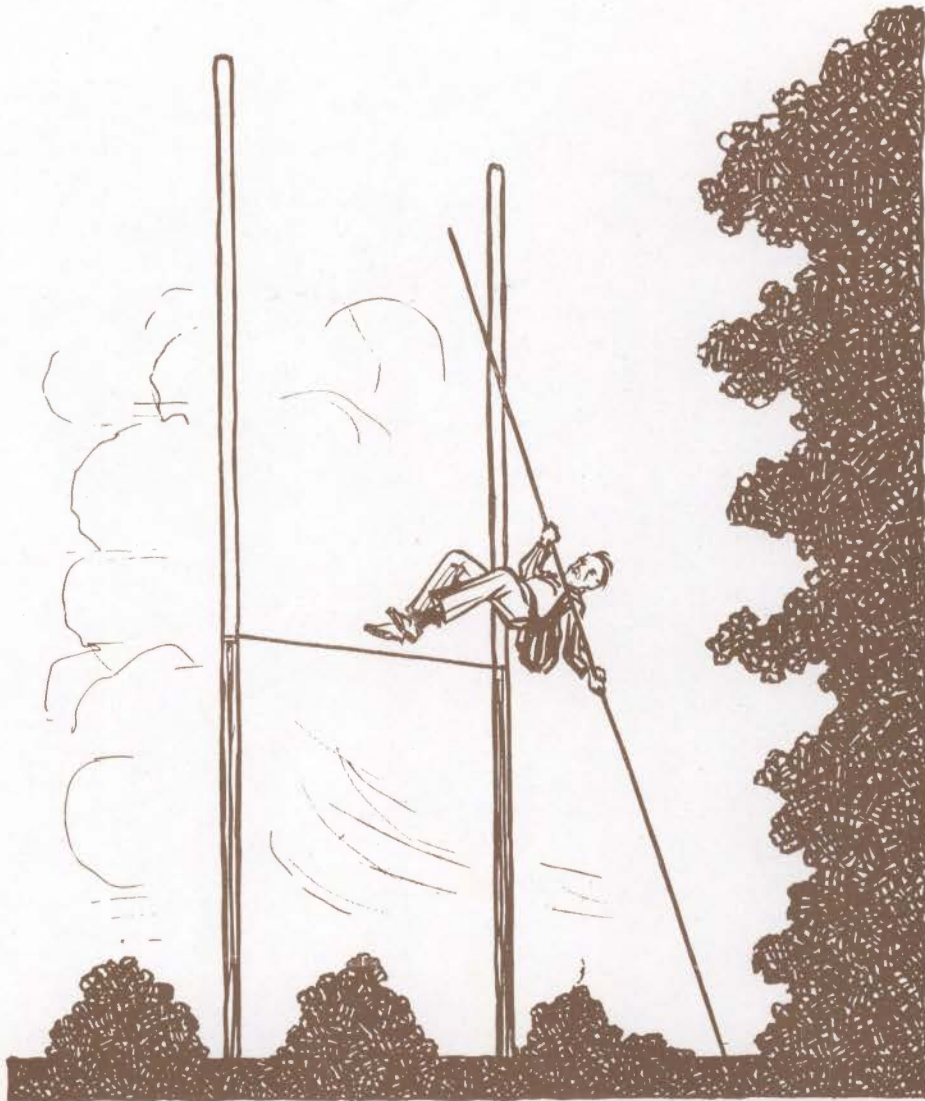

In forensics we have taken our place. Many have won laurels along these lines. Who can tell but from the Halls of Deinologian and Chamberlain may come some boy to rise to greater heights than Webster, Lincoln, or Clay?

Our papers and other publications have been edited by men of our own class. Our men on these editorial staffs have been the leaders and have kept us and the rest of the world informed of many things through their publications.

Sophomore Class History

FATHER TIME has continued to swing his scythe, and another year has been thrown over the Great Divide, never to return except in our minds as fond memories of our first year at Old Centre. We will never be able to forget the Freshman costume of yellow skull caps, red socks, and green Windsor ties, along with the "paddled dashes" and our vaudeville show for the benefit of the K. C. W. girls.

After this slaughter, we were branded as regular Centre men, and followed in the footsteps of the 'Varsity in putting out winning combinations in football, basket ball, and track. Willard Igleheart was elected to preside and lead us over the rocky roads of our Freshman career. Then came Christmas vacation, exams., the fraternity dances, some more exams., carnival, and homeward-bound, full-fledged Sophomores.

With a much-needed rest, we returned to school in September, 1925, rough, ready, and anxious to try our paddles and ingenuities out on the incoming Freshmen. We decorated the newly registered "shining lights" in yellow caps and green ties, and forced them to "walk in the paths of righteousness" until after the close of the football season. Then we decided to abandon the "running of the gauntlet;" and since there was no K. C. W., we eliminated the annual tryouts of the Freshman Class for the Glee Club, much to the displeasure of the upper classmen.

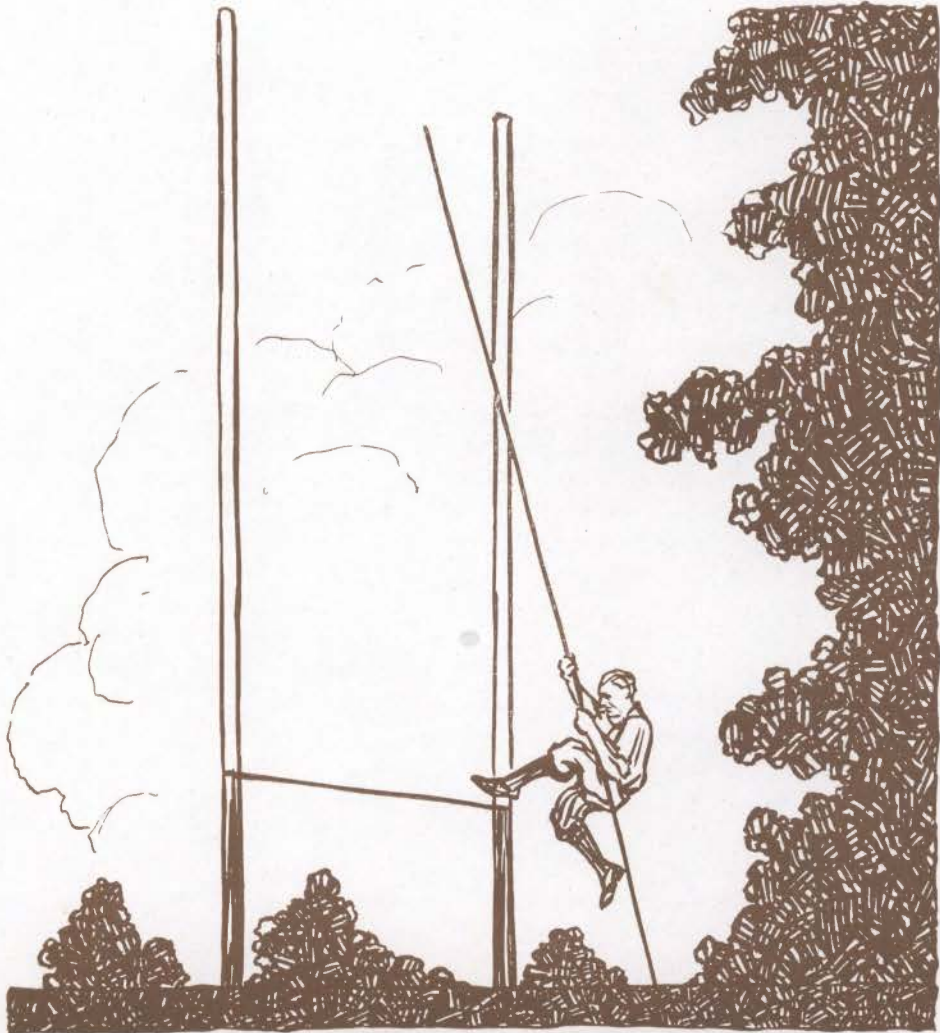

Christmas vacation over, we organized and selected Paul O'Neil, from Pittsburgh, Pa., as President.

During the year our class has been well represented in all branches of athletics, with ten men on the 'Varsity Football Squad and five on the Basket-Ball Team. Our members have proved loyal to each other, to the Faculty, and to the College. We have genuine scholars, well-known athletes, editors on both student publications, and popular social leaders.

Although we have greatly decreased in numbers since our first registration, we hope to remain intact from now to graduation, and look forward to the next two years as being as pleasant and as profitable as the two just passed.

Freshman Class History

LEAVING a short and narrow road of prep. school days, the Class of '29 has embarked on its long journey over that broad road of college life.

Dazed and confused, the Freshmen poured into Danville from afar and wide to combine into the largest Freshman Class that ever entered the portals of Old Centre.

After the first week of confusion that always marks the opening of school, we began to think how unappreciative this college world was to its new men. Here were representatives from schools all over the country—boys that had been leaders in their school back home, others that had been big stars in various branches of sports; but instead of being stricken with awe at this august assemblage of men, the upper classmen looked down on us as something insignificant; and, with the hearty coöperation of the Sophomores, we were given bright gold caps and big green ties to mark our class distinction. Next the rules for the Freshmen were posted, and these were enforced by the "Board of Education" wielded in no tender-hearted manner by the Sophomores. To climax it all, we were the added attraction at the opening football game, when between halves we amused the spectators with the annual snake-dance and shirt-tail parade.

However, every cloud has its silver lining, and this was especially true of the Freshman Class of this year. After much debate and arguing between the Sophomores and Freshmen, the gauntlet was eliminated as part of the initiation, for which the Class of '29 is exceedingly grateful.

As our initiation came to a close and the green tint that was so characteristic of Freshmen began to wear off, we became more familiar with each other, and friendships began to form and grow, and the class became organized, and there existed in that body of men a spirit of fraternalism and loyalty that has always been a dominant factor in the make-up of a Centre man.

The Freshman Class possesses men of outstanding ability in practically all college activities. Not alone did its members excel in football, basket ball, track, and baseball, but also in the Glee Club, Dramatic Club, and literary societies. Athletics, campus activities, and various other collegiate organizations have all played a prominent part in molding together this body of young men into a class that we hope will continue to bring honor and glory to Old Centre.

So with the first year of our college career drawing to a close and a realization of what college life means coming to us, we bring our first history to a close and look forward with great anticipation to the remainder of our college life, when the ties of friendship will become even more stronger and our future goal will loom up brighter through that intellectual scope that we are now endeavoring to acquire.

JAMES ROY PARKER, '29,
Class Historian.

ATHLETICS

1926

ROBERT L. MEYERS
HEAD COACH

ROBERT L. MEYERS, HEAD COACH

Last year, when Centre had the best team in the entire South, much credit was given to "Chief" Meyers. No less should be given him this year, even if the winning column did register few games. At all times the very heart of "Chief" was with the boys. He regarded them as his own; their victories were his victories, their defeats were his defeats. Centre has indeed been fortunate in having "Chief" on its campus, and the boys who have known him have gained much from that association. In speaking of "Chief," one cannot but think of the man that he is. Too much cannot be said of "Chief," but to express ourselves we say: "He's the best friend a boy could have."

WILLIAM P. SHADOAN, ASSISTANT COACH

"Shad" came back to Centre this year to coach the team that he had played on so successfully in previous years. It was "Shad's" team from "Valpo" that gave Centre such a battle last year, when we possessed the best team in the South and probably the best ever turned out from Centre. "Shad" is not now well known as a coach, but it will not be long before he should be famous as a coach, because he has real ability along that line.

WILLIAM "RED" MAHER, FRESHMAN COACH

"Red" turned out the fightin'est bunch of Lieutenants that has been seen on our field for several years. He instilled a real fighting spirit in them, mainly by the way in which he handled them. Being a wonderful football player himself, he could understand his men and get out of them all that they had. Centre would act wisely and would have a sure asset should she sign "Red" up for life.

STUDENT MANAGERS

BILL COCHRAN

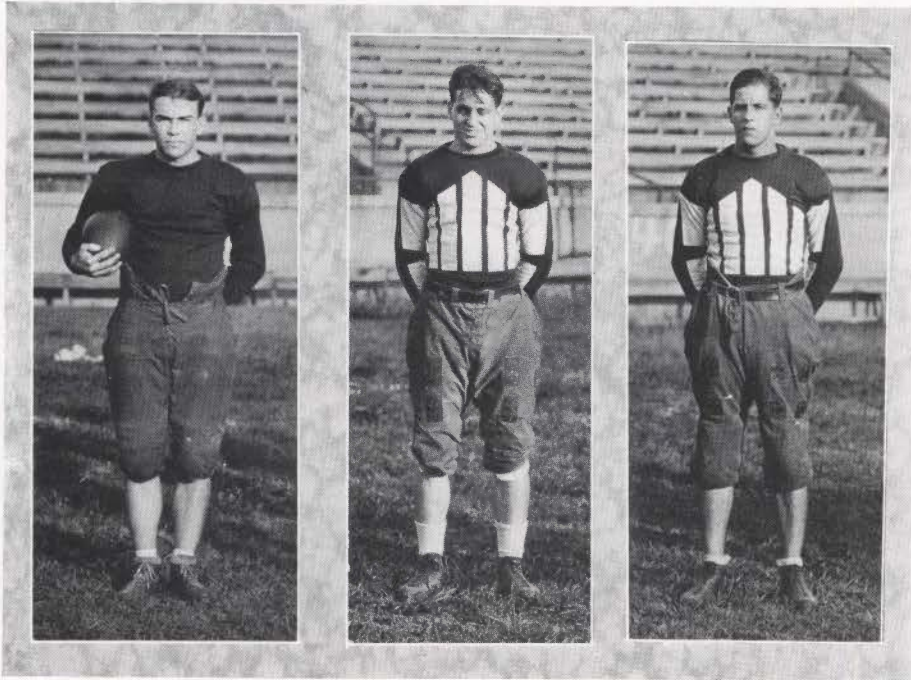

On trips and before the games people may wonder how all the equipment is taken care of and in what sort of way do the uniforms reach the place of the game. They get there through the work of the Manager, and it was through the energies and labors of Bill Cochran that the team this year went on its travels. As in every other line, Bill was on hand to work—not for himself, but for the school. He possesses real ability and handled his job in the best fashion.

WILLIAM COLVIN

As Assistant Manager of Football and Head Manager of Basket Ball, Bill Colvin showed himself to be an earnest and painstaking worker. He was at all times courteous and efficient in his duties, and we are next year expecting him to make one of the best student Managers of Football that Centre has ever had.

OLD CENTRE

SKIDMORE (CAPTAIN), TACKLE

Too much credit cannot be given to "Skid." With a spirit and love he captained the team as best it could be captained. As for his individual playing, we sincerely believe him to be the best man of his size in the country and the best player of his position in the South. Not one game was played that "Skid" was not in the midst of the fray playing remarkable football. This boy leaves Old Centre this year. He carries with him many laurels of the highest type, but he leaves a name to be remembered as belonging to one of the fightin'est of all Colonels.

RABENSTEIN, QUARTERBACK

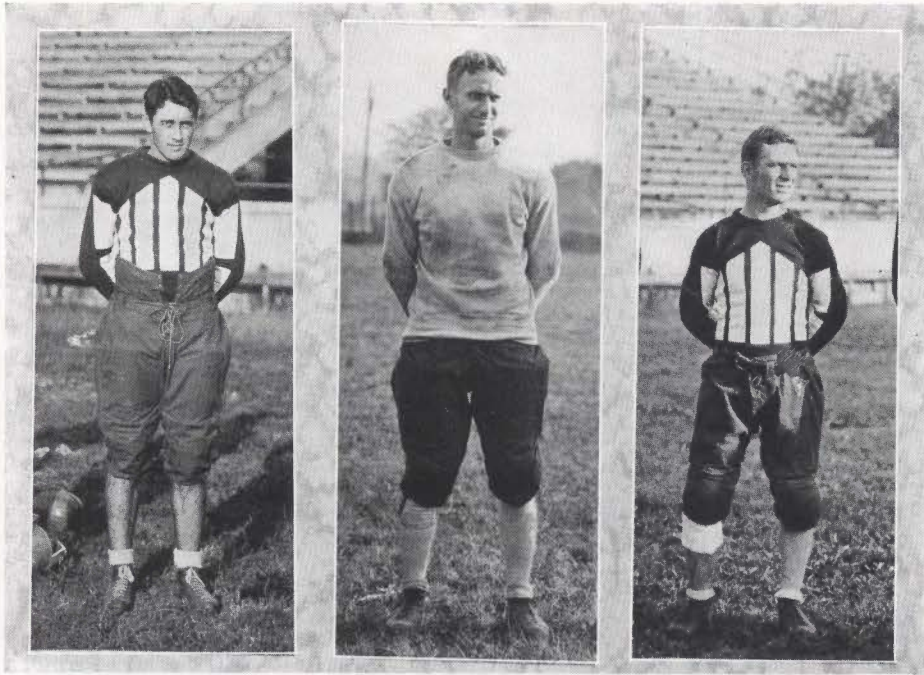

"Roundy" is a football player of superior merit, and that is putting it mildly. Possessing an uncanny ability to size up his opponent and directing his attack to meet it, he was the mainspring of Centre's offense. His broken field running, passing, and defensive work were the shining lights of the season. Time after time a dark day was turned to light when "Roundy" started his passing attack. Wesleyan and Michigan State can vouch for this. "Roundy's" loss will be greatly felt next year, and some boy will have a tremendous task in filling this post.

HILKER, END

The entire season was marked by Hilker's brilliant playing at the wing position. With weight and speed coupled with energy and a willingness to fight to the end, he went into the game with his whole heart. Very few runs were made around the end that Hilker was watching, and many times it was he that was on the receiving end of Rabenstein's passes. This is his third and last year of battling for the glory of Old Centre on the gridiron. May he do as well in other fields.

WILSON, HALFBACK

"Mutt" is the eligible man to step into Rabenstein's shoes next year, and from the performance he has made for the past two years we expect much from him in that position. His kicking and broken field running make him a man that is spotted by all opponents. At receiving passes "Mutt" is a "whizz," and hope springs eternal in the hearts of Centre backers when he starts down the field. In the Georgetown College game "Mutt" returned a kick-off that had all aspects of being a touchdown. In dodging the last man he was slowed up enough to be caught from behind, but the spectators saw a real run.

PRIEST, END

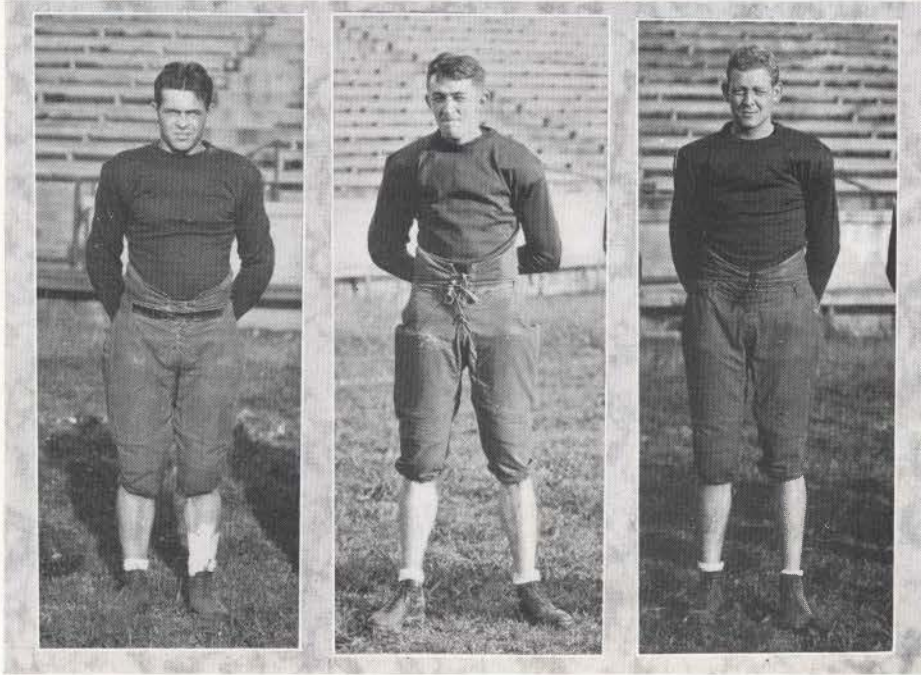

Priest says: "Where there is union, there is strength." We say: "Where Priest is, there is union and also a wonderful fighting spirit." "Judas" is a football player of the old school, and even in moments of defeat he has a way of arousing the last bit of energy in his teammates. His playing throughout the season is to be commended, but the work he did in the State game should be looked on as his best. Whenever he carried the ball, it was a touchdown too. In the Tennessee game he pulled the Grange act—it was easy.

PACE, END

If the Centre spirit was ever typified by one man, we would say that the man was none other than "Rabbit" Pace. "Rabbit" stands for clean play, teamwork, and those things which go to make the man. Being small and, we might say, rather stilted in stature, "Rabbit" does not look the part of a football player; but we all know that a certain element called "intestinal fortitude" can make up for those other things. In his case they did. "Rabbit" leaves us this year. He is another to whom we hate to say good-by.

DURHAM, GUARD

This was "Bull's" last year with the team, of which for the past two years he has been a valuable member. He possesses everything that goes to make a football player. His fighting spirit was an inspiration, and it gave one pleasure to see what energy "Bull" was exerting in the game. "Bull" is another whose services will not be had next year, and they will be greatly missed.

BUSH, GUARD

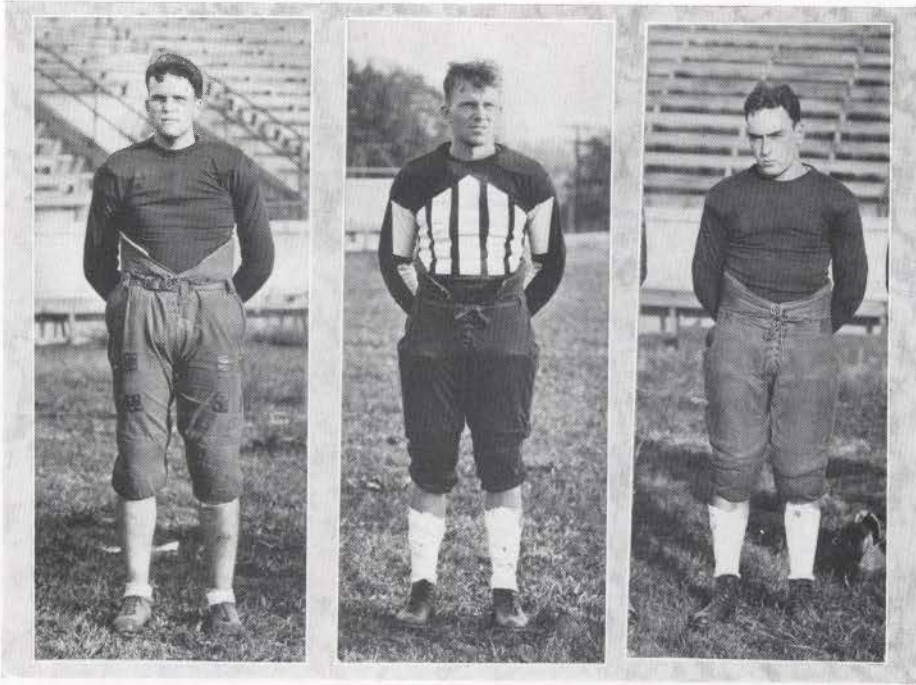

Bush caught a bad shoulder and a twisted knee early in the season, which caused him to be handicapped in almost every game. But Bush is a battler. Injuries did not stop him until the coaches thought it best to order him out. We think that Bush has the making of one of the best guards in the South, and believe that next year will make that thought authentic. It would be a real man that could outplay Bush.

McCLURE (CAPTAIN-ELECT), CENTER

McClure came into the pivot position, so long held by Kubale, looking like a veteran. This was a tremendous job to handle, but he did it gloriously. "Skeet" is a good passer, has an indomitable spirit, and will fight till the end comes, whatever the outcome may be. Next year "Skeet" should develop quickly into one of the best centers, and when he does—lookout, opponents! As a leader, we have confidence that he will be an example to the team and will inspire them to give their all for Old Centre.

MCNEIL, TACKLE

"Mac" returned this year after a year's absence, and his return was a marked addition to the strength of the line. His size makes him no easy man to move, even if he is not trying; but no one has ever seen the time when "Mac" was not battling. He was a bulwark on the defense, and could make holes for the back at times when the holes were needed. Besides these qualities, "Mac" possessed an educated toe, and could be counted on for a place kick. On the kick-off, too, we could expect the ball to be fifty yards down the field.

CHEZ, HALFBACK

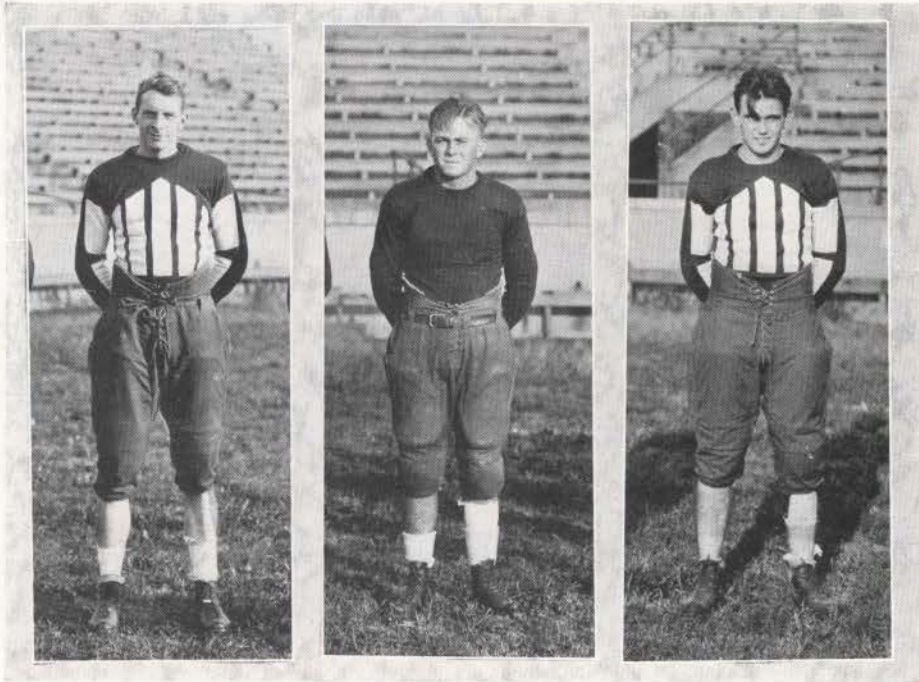

A football player in the making, Chez possesses all of those things that go to show the man on the grid-iron. This year was not a good one for him, however, as he never quite got into form. In the Western Normal game he showed what he could really do, and made big yardage on every attempt. He is a triple-threat man, since he is adept at kicking and passing. When carrying the ball, although not fast, he is a good dodger and a wily runner. If this boy develops as he should, Centre has a future all-Southern half-back.

KAGIN, GUARD

"Bill" is a stone wall when it comes to blocking up the opposing team's offense, as he is big and rangy, but quick on his feet. He rendered veteran service throughout the entire season, and we are certainly glad that he will be back with us next year. He will undoubtedly be the nucleus about which one side of the 1926 line will be formed.

THOMPSON, END

"Red" is another of last year's Freshmen who lived up to expectations when given a chance on the 'Varsity. He is a good defensive man, and is a pass receiver without a peer. He turned the tide of the Wesleyan game by getting in the air to catch Rabenstein's pass in the last minutes of play. "Red" plays a clean, hard game, and is always mentally awake. We are hoping to see "Red" carrying on for Old Centre next year.

WARREN, GUARD

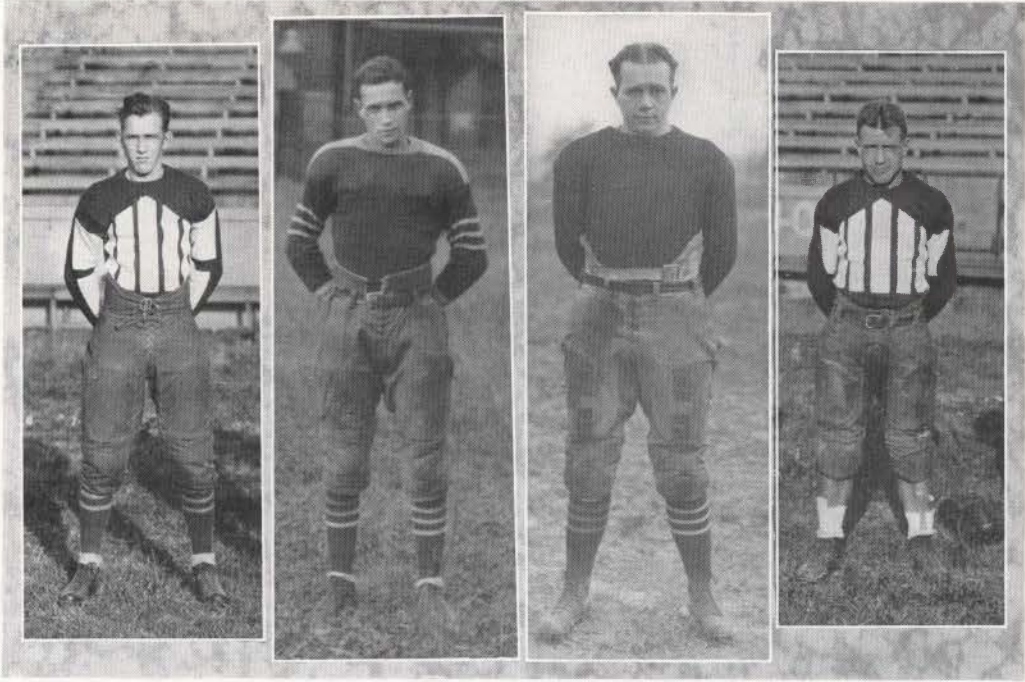

Warren is a real football player, and, despite his lightness, he has something else which makes up for weight—that substance called "grit," the stuff that makes you keep on when you are down and out. We expect to have him with us for two more wears, though he was unexpectedly forced to leave school for the second semester. With the development of two years' playing, "Wes" is predicted to be one of Centre's best guards.

SMITH, FULLBACK

For his first year on the 'Varsity, Smith did remarkably well at fullback. He is one of those proverbial battering rams, and can be counted on to make some ground in a pinch. On the defense, whether at backing up the line or at half, he shows an uncanny ability for diagnosing the opponents' attack. His best game was turned in at Michigan State, he proving an important factor in the offense as well as a power on the defense.

MORROW, HALFBACK

One thing that has always been an element in the making of a Centre team is the small, fast backfield man. This year the job was given to "Charlie Bob," who proved to be one of the best. "Chick" was ready at all times to go into the game; and when the time came, how he did fight! The Wesleyan game ended with Morrow intercepting a pass and fighting like a tiger to annex another touchdown.

WALLACE, QUARTERBACK

This is another boy that was heard from with most favorable results during the entire season. There were many times that "Bob" was called upon to run the team, and in answering the calls he always did it in a most pleasing fashion. Many pretty plays have been made on Cheek Field, but never has there been a prettier tackle than one in the Tennessee game. "Bob," playing safety, evaded two interferences to stop Elmore from a sure touchdown.

ALEXANDER, GUARD

"Alex" had tough luck this year, in that he received an injured shoulder early in the season, which kept him out of many of the games. When he did play, however, he did it well, and was a real credit to Centre's team. While in the game, "Alex" was in every play; and when a pile was huddled up in the center of the line, you could well expect "Alex" to be under the whole thing.

LAUER, HALFBACK

"Half Pint" was always ready to go into the game when called on and give an excellent account of his ability at playing half. He is an aggressive little player, carrying a punch and energy that keeps him always on the alert. At place kicking "Half Pint" was an accurate man, and it was due to his toe that the Wesleyan game ended with Centre carrying a three-point lead.

Resume of the Season

IN scoring points and winning games, Centre experienced a most unsuccessful season; but in showing fight and winning honor, it compares favorably with the great teams of the past. Possessing few experienced men and composed to a great extent of green material, Centre put on the field a team that, win or lose, demanded the respect of all its opponents.

The loss of seven men, all of whom at some time during their college career had been selected or mentioned as all-Southern, was too great a handicap to be overcome in one year.

The season opened with a hard-fought game with Kentucky Wesleyan. Defeated until the last few minutes of play, the proverbial "never-say-die" spirit of Old Centre snatched victory from what seemed to be inevitable defeat. Brilliant passes, Rabenstein to Thompson, and a last-minute place kick by Lauer, turned the tide in Centre's favor.

On October 10 Centre journeyed to Atlanta, and there met the Petrels of Oglethorpe University, who presented an experienced and well-molded team, which forced Centre to bow 20 to 0. The returning of punts by Quarterback Campbell and the line plunging of Kilgore stood out in Oglethorpe's offense. For Centre, long runs by Lauer and Rabenstein furnished thrills for the spectators, and Captain Skidmore was a stalwart on the defense.

The next game necessitated another long trip. Having scarcely returned from Atlanta, the team left for Lansing, Mich., where it played its best game. Entering the second half trailing by 12 to 0, Centre amassed two touchdowns to gain the lead, which was held until the last minute of play. After signaling for a fair catch on Centre's 46-yard line, the Michigan Aggies chose to try for a field goal. With the wind against him and from a difficult angle, Smith kicked a beautiful and seemingly impossible goal. A few seconds later the game ended—15-13 in favor of the Michigan Aggies.

Centre's second victory came with the defeat of Western State Normal in Bowling Green. But for costly fumbles when in scoring position, Centre should have won by a greater margin. Chez and Wilson were best for Centre.

The heart-breaking period of the season came with the defeat from Kentucky State. The team, considerably weakened by the absence of Rabenstein, out because of injuries, put up a game fight, but the experience of the State team was too much for them to overcome. The line play of Skidmore, Priest, and Warren was the outstanding feature for Centre.

Following the State game, Tennessee invaded Centre's territory, and, after a hard-fought game on a muddy field, came out victorious. Although the mud greatly impeded the strength of both teams, it did not prevent Wilson from making the most scintillating run of the year.

On November 14 the Centre boys journeyed to Washington, D. C. There they met and were defeated by the strong Georgetown eleven, which was Centre's strongest opponent, having several men of all-American caliber. Haggerty, of Georgetown, proved to be the greatest ball-carrying back that Centre faced during the year. Rabenstein and Thompson were best for Centre.

The following week Centre showed flashes of old form by a decisive victory over Georgetown College. Dazzling runs by Rabenstein, Chez, and Wilson and a deadly air attack were the shining lights of Centre's offensive drive.

For the closing game Centre traveled to South Carolina, and there played a great, though unsuccessful, game. Rabenstein again turned in one of his brilliant performances, and was proclaimed one of the greatest backs ever seen on the South Carolina gridiron.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM

Freshman Football

 HIS year we saw a group of real fighters playing on the Freshman team; and when they went on the field, they certainly dealt out misery to the opposing team. Using the same form as the great Notre Dame teams on which Red Maher had played, they had an aspect rare on any Freshman team. There were several elements which went to make them what they were; and even though the scores played against them, we can look forward with pleasure to the time when these boys will wear the Gold and White.

In Littrel we believe that Centre has the best ground gainer of any Freshman team in the South, and we also think Suttle ranks high among the list of kickers. Other stars of the team were Clarkson, who was Captain as well as one of the best centers; Cook, a heavy boy that proved he could use his weight in playing tackle; and Thorne, named after the Tennessee game as "Five-Yard Thorne."

The first game of the season proved successful after traveling southward to meet the strong Sewanee eleven. The field was muddy, but Littrel cavorted around like a mud horse. Few were the times when he failed to make at least ten yards with the ball.

From that time on, however, the scores seemed to be against them, and they came from the remaining games carrying the small end.

After the Sewanee game, the "Frosh" invaded the battling ground of the Georgetown Cubs, claimants to the Southern title and undisputed State champions. The absence of Suttle proved fatal, as some of the scoring was caused by blocked punts.

When Tennessee came to our field, they had no idea of going back in such bad condition as they did. The game ended with Tennessee holding the score and many bruised-up players. They paid for what they got in full. The line plunging of Thorne brought pictures of Gordy to the eyes of the spectators and spelled death to the Tennessee tacklers.

On Thanksgiving Day the Freshmen went to Lexington, and there met our age-old rivals, State. The team had been in school only a short while, but it had been long enough to give them that spirit of fighting this "game of games." The second team started, but the start proved unsuccessful. When the first string was sent in a few minutes later, the score had mounted; and while they held, it seemed that State did, too, and Centre was unable to score.

VARSIITY BASKET-BALL SQUAD

Basket Ball, 1926

HORTLY after their return from the Christmas vacation, aspirants for the 'Varsity Basket-Ball Team took the floor, and each afternoon Coach Maher and his men were working for the first game of the season.

With only six days of practice, the Centre team met the strong Wesleyan team on the local court. The game was a fast one, and the team played in good fashion; but Wesleyan walked out with a 27-21 victory. O'Neil and Kagin turned in good performances for Centre, while Glenn was the main-spring in the opponents' offense.

The second game proved to be the best of the season and one of the fastest ever seen on the home floor. St. Xavier furnished a stiff opposition, but were beaten by the Colonels—34-33.

On January 18 the Centre boosters again got to see the boys in action. For one half the team battled Ogden's quintette, the score at this stage being 11-10, with the visitors leading. In the second period the opponents opened up, and were able to amass 37 points while Centre was making 19. The game ended in favor of the visitors—48-29.

The following week the Centre squad, consisting of fifteen men, traveled to Lexington, and there met Kentucky. O'Neil played a good game for Centre, but the floor was large and Kentucky's play baffled the team. Kentucky won—45-25.

On January 23 Centre again left home to play a return game with Wesleyan. In this game Wesleyan seemed to have improved, and were able to take the game with a 26-15 count.

A squad of eight men went to Bowling Green on January 29, and there enjoyed the most successful trip of the season. In a hard-fought game with Western Normal, Centre came out victorious.

With this 22-18 triumph still on their minds, the team met Ogden on their own floor and were bent on revenge. Thompson stuck on Smith, Ogden star, like a shadow, and allowed him only three baskets during the contest. While Thompson was guarding, the rest of the team were scoring; and when the final whistle blew, Centre had won—15-14.

The next game played was with Western Normal in a return game on the local floor. It was another game that was lost in the second half. At the half the visitors were leading by a scant point; but in the next session, Denning, Glenn, and Thornback had run the score to 54-19.

On February 4 Kentucky came to Danville and took the game easily. Mahoney and Jenkins scored point after point for the visitors; and as the game ended, the score counted 46-19.

In the next game, which was played with the College of the City of Detroit, Centre played in better form and lost by a small margin.

After gaining back their confidence, Captain Summers and his team won a decisive victory over Georgetown College. It was due to Summer's shooting that the score was 39-25.

On the Southern trip, which included games with Tennessee, Mercer, and Albany Y, Centre was most unsuccessful, losing to each of these teams by a large margin.

A second game with Tennessee, which was played on the home floor, was little better than the first, and Centre lost again—24-22.

On February 18 Centre traveled to Georgetown for a return game with the Tigers. In this game the team did not play the ball that they did in the first one, and Georgetown won by a 31-19 score.

Centre's next victory came when the Pioneers, of Transylvania, came to Danville. Woford led an offensive drive that put the Colonels in possession of the large end of a 28-21 tally.

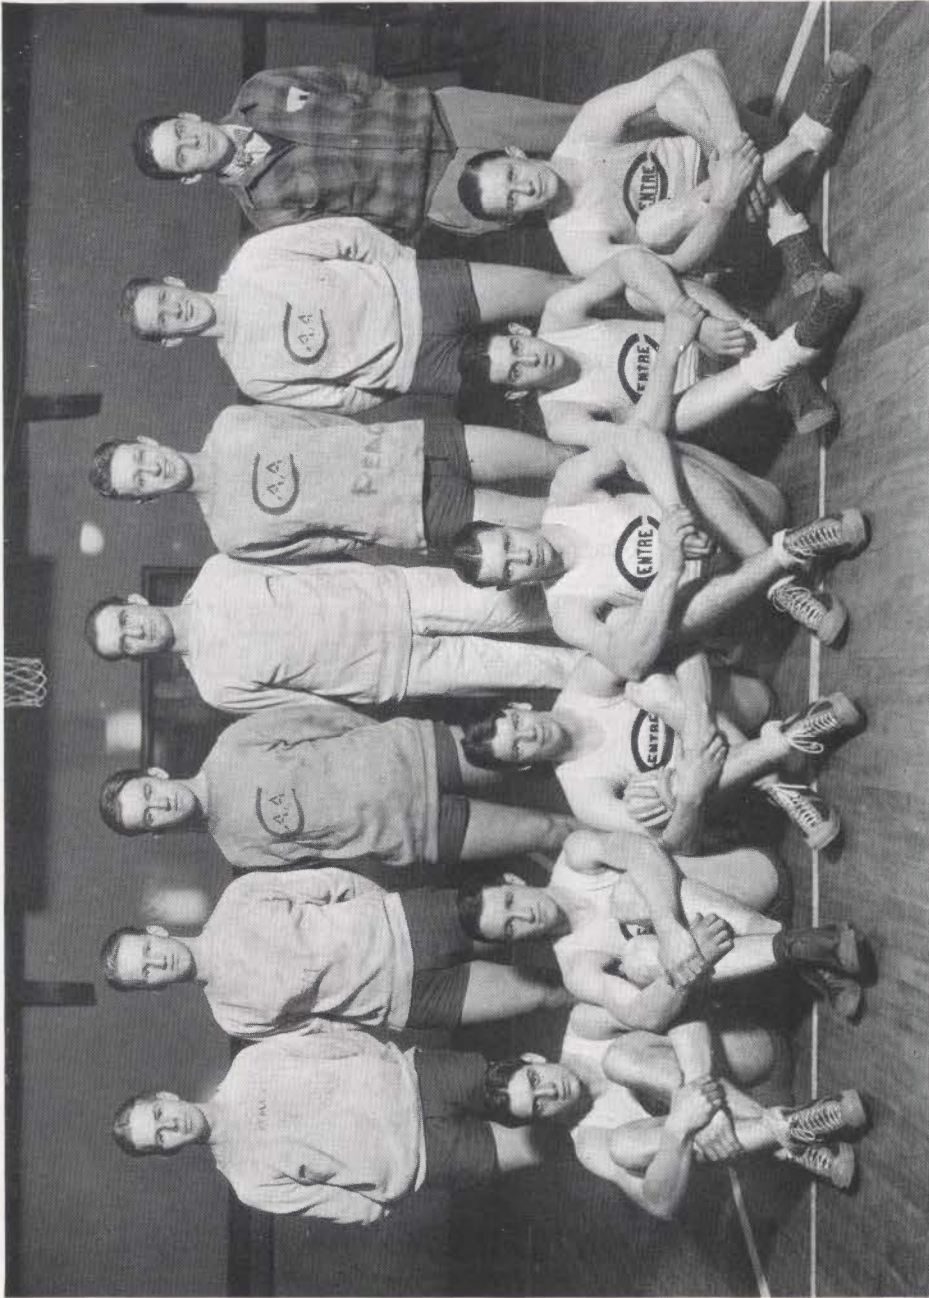

In the State tournament, which was held in Winchester, Centre drew Berea, and was eliminated by the tournament winners on the first day.

The curtain of this erratic season was rung down when the squad traveled to Cincinnati and played St. Xavier on their own floor. The opponents played the best ball of their season, and won over the Colonels—49-19.

The Freshman Basket-Ball Team had a very good season, although not many games were played. One game was won and one lost with Kentucky Wesleyan, two games lost to Georgetown, one won and one lost to Kentucky, and two won from Kavanaugh. The Freshman schedule was closed with a decisive victory over Kentucky State Freshmen. The Freshman squad was composed of Captain Staley, center; Mowry, Knuckles, and Groff, forwards; Byers, Going, Littrell, and Gatterel, guards.

1925 BASEBALL TEAM

Baseball, 1925

WITH the advent of the baseball season, prospects for a successful year looked poor, because there was no coach. This did not set well with "Doc" Biles, so he and Captain Leathers immediately began work on the diamond. Too much praise cannot be given "Doc" for the work he did in turning out Centre's 1925 Baseball Team. He bent every effort to get the best team possible, and, under his coaching and management, Centre was able to have a successful season.

Eastern Normal was our first opponent, and only after a hard struggle were they able to hold the score to 2-0. In this game Lemon, third baseman, suffered a broken leg, and was consequently forced out for the rest of the season.

The second game proved to be the best of the season. With Barkley pitching at his best and with good fielding, Centre won over Transylvania—5-4. This victory was especially notable, since it was the only game lost by Transylvania during their entire season.

Another game was marked on Centre's winning column, with a 5-3 victory over Georgetown. Burbank started his first game of the season, and throughout the contest he held the upper hand.

In Centre's second chance at Eastern Normal there were three games' experience to her credit, which enabled a better showing to be put up. The pitching of Barkley and the crack fielding of the entire team brought another win to the tune of 5-2.

Centre then journeyed to Winchester, and met defeat at the hands of Kentucky Wesleyan. Leathers relieved Burbank on the mound in the fifth inning, but the Wesleyan boys were on a hitting rampage, and the delivery of Leathers was not effective against them. The fielding of Skidmore was one of the features of the game, even though the diamond was inclined to be a bit mountainous.

When Centre went to Lexington to play Transylvania for the second time, the outcome was not as good as the first. Leathers pitched a good game, but Transylvania edged out with a 3-0 victory.

Centre again played on foreign soil, and, after a fast game, were defeated by Georgetown—3-2. Burbank pitched a good game, and a home run by Wallace helped Centre a great deal, but errors were numerous.

When Centre played Kentucky, the team was in a thoroughly demoralized condition. Casualties of different kinds kept many of the regulars from the field, and Centre lost a poorly played game. Riffe, for Kentucky, held the team to one hit, and during that time State was busy running in eight scores.

After the defeat at the hands of our old enemies, the team was out for blood. The blood was drawn from Kentucky Wesleyan, with a 6-4 victory. During the game almost every man of the opposing team was at some time or other on the mound, but to no avail. Captain Leathers ended his college career with a neat home run and an excellent bit of fielding.

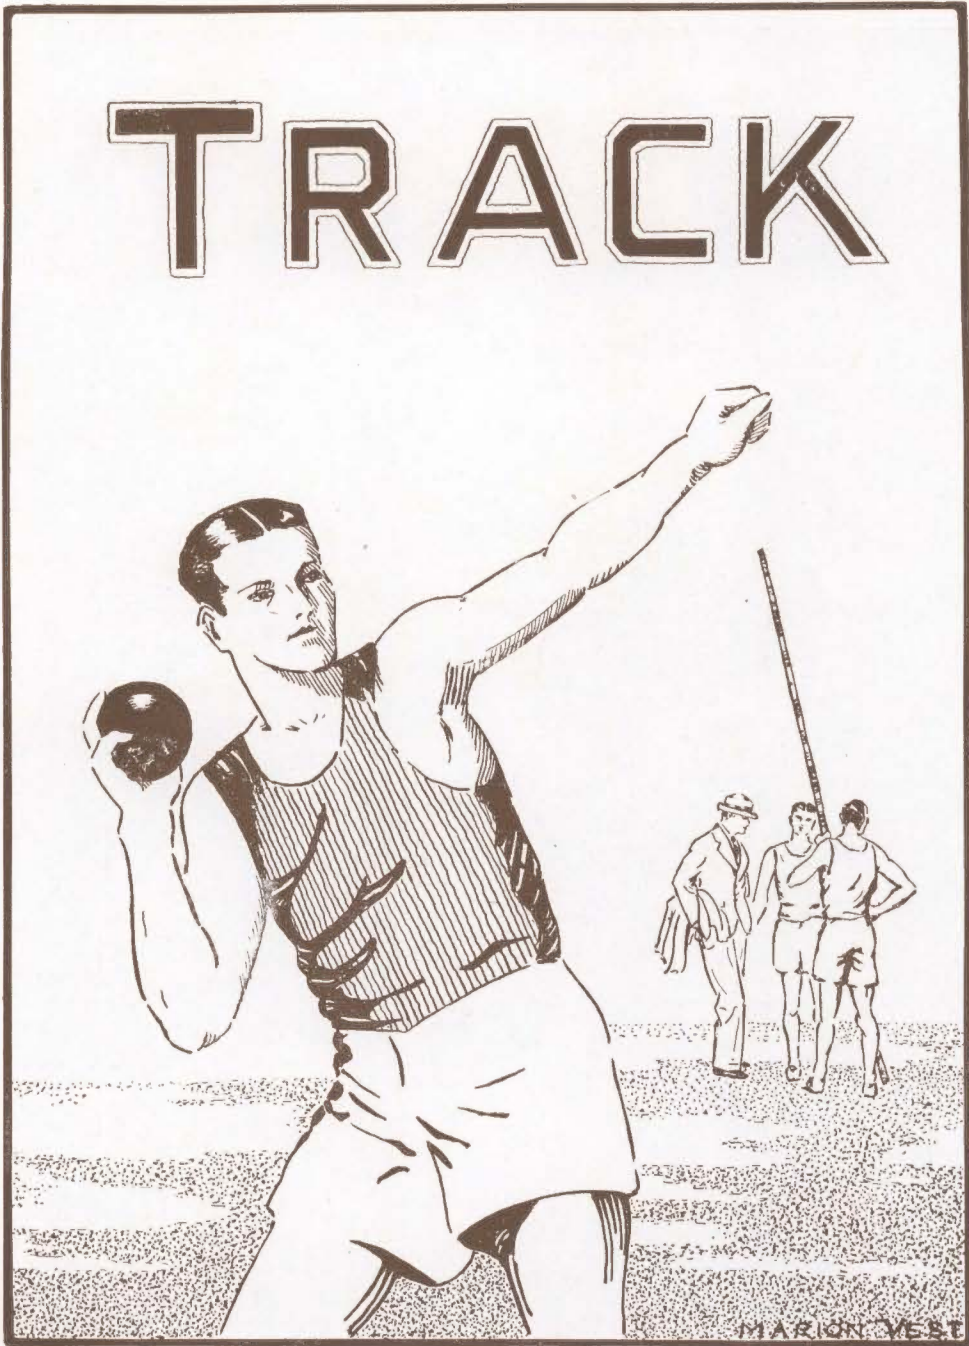

Taken all in all, the season was a glorious one. Several games were lost, it is true, but only because of accidents suffered by the first-string players. The season, as a whole, was featured by the fielding and hitting of the outfielders—Skidmore, Rabenstein, and Wilson—and by the general all-around playing of "Rabbit" Pace as catcher. As Captain this year, Pace is sure to be a popular and successful leader, and we expect him to figure in many victories that Centre will turn in this spring.

1925 TRACK TEAM

Track, 1925

IN the spring of 1925, Centre, although she had only four aspirants, put a team on the field that would grace any cinder path of the South. Coach Ofstie had material of the highest ability, and he handled it in a way which developed the best possible results. With but one more man, we believe that Centre could have walked out of any track meet in the South with a decisive first place.

As it was, these boys took second place in every meet which they attended. On the first trip of the season the team was divided, because the Southern relays were held on the same day as the S. I. A. A. meet, and it was necessary that Centre be represented in both events. Berryman journeyed to Florida for the relays, and there captured second place in the field. By winning for the third consecutive time the 100-yard dash he became the possessor of the silver cup for the event. While Berryman was bringing honor to Old Centre in Florida, Gordy, Goben, and Woford were doing equally as much in Atlanta. They, too, were the winners of the second position on the score card. Gordy was entered in the weights, while Goben and Woford raced around the path on long distances. It would have been an agreeable thing should the entire team have been able to compete in both of these meets.

Only one more chance was open for these men to show their mettle, that being the State meet at Lexington. Again Centre acquired second place, taking anywhere from first to third places in dashes, distances, broad jump, and field events.

This was the last appearance of two of Centre's greatest athletes. During their respective college careers both have set records which should be long-lived. Berryman is easily the fastest dash man in the South, and only last year he made a most creditable showing in the try-outs for the Olympics. Gordy can heave weights for striking distances, and is the holder of the State record for the shot. Throughout the season he captained the team in a most creditable fashion, and was a leader to be admired.

Both Goben and Woford will carry Old Centre's colors for the 1926 season, and, with the incoming material, another successful year seems just ahead.

CARNIVAL PLANS ARE DEVELOPING

Plans for the coming year are being developed by the executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. The committee is now in the process of selecting a site for the carnival and is also planning to have a series of games and contests. The carnival is expected to be held in the latter part of the year.

THE HERITAGE OF KENT

The heritage of Kent is a rich one. It is a land of beauty and of history. The people of Kent are proud of their heritage and are determined to preserve it for the future.

THE ROOSTER

The rooster is a symbol of courage and strength. It is a bird that is always ready to fight for its rights. The rooster is a true hero and a true leader.

AGROUS JRES

Agrobus jres is a type of bird that is found in the mountains. It is a bird that is very beautiful and very rare. It is a bird that is loved by many people.

STADIUM FIELD IS VIEWED BY NEW MENTOR

The new mentor has just arrived in town and has immediately taken an interest in the stadium field. He has been seen walking through the field and talking to the players.

13 CONTESTANTS IN ORATORICAL

Thirteen contestants are taking part in the oratorical contest. The contestants are from various schools and are all very talented. The contest is expected to be a very interesting one.

WELL ATTENDED

The meeting was well attended and was a very successful one. Many people came to the meeting and were very interested in the program.

The Centre College Carnival

THE Centre College Carnival is the outward expression of the spirit of joyousness that always attends the closing of the school year. During the carnival all cares and worries are put aside, and the great thing is to thoroughly enjoy oneself. Alumni and friends from all over the country gather in Danville in order to make of the occasion an event that will long be remembered, not only by the men who are graduating, but by all who participate in the frolic. It might be called the "swan song" of the graduating class, as it is the last and undoubtedly the most beautiful performance that the leaving men take part in.

The carnival lasts about five days, and includes dances, baseball games, the commencement exercises, a play by the Sock and Buskin, and the grand finale—the crowning of the King and Queen of the carnival. The King is selected from the famous athletes of Old Centre by the popular vote of the entire student body, while the Queen is chosen from among the girls of Danville by the letter men of the College. It is needless to say that no higher honor can be bestowed upon a Centre man or a Danville girl than election as King and Queen of the carnival. The royalty this year bids fair to be the most popular of any ever selected, and it is certain that they will so rule the carnival that the end of the present school year will truly be a blaze of glory.

The Calendar

- September 6, 1925—The Southern Railroad Company sidetracks five cattle cars of Freshmen consigned to Dean Crooks.
- September 7—All the grass on the Centre College campus dies of shock on seeing so much imported green matter.
- September 8—Dean Crooks reserves a padded cell at Frankfort after registering the Freshmen.
- September 9—Dr. Rainey for the first time shows signs of drooping shoulders. The upper classmen have registered. Prexy expounds.
- September 10—Classes start on the regular schedule. Large sale of lanterns to students who have seventy-three classes.
- September 11—Students begin to realize that "crip" subjects are a thing of the past. "Old Centre ain't what she used to be."
- September 12—We find that we have a Freshman football coach and parrot combined.
- September 14—A "Bear" enters the Education Department. Football players transfer to Greek.
- September 16—Dr. Crooks starts out to win the chapel prayer championship, but falls short of last year's record by three seconds.
- September 17—There seems to be some grumbling among the football men about the roughness of the trainer's hands. We suggest that they get a lady rubber.
- September 19—The absence of K. C. W. is beginning to be felt, especially by our ladies' men.
- September 21—"Ham" Suttle finds that the hand that swings the paddle rules the world.
- September 23—The Freshmen display gold and green.
- September 25—"Frosh" and "Varsity" tie up. Dr. May not needed, but the undertaker does a thriving business.
- September 28—"Goats" find fraternity life warm.
- September 29—Albrecht elected Cheer Leader, with Jones and Van Arsdale as helpers. It's three of a kind.
- September 30—Bush takes the championship liar's belt in Psychology. Fifteen minutes and ten seconds' duration.
- October 2—One Centre College student pays to see Danville High football game.
- October 3—First game. Kentucky Wesleyan tastes the fruits of victory for a few seconds only. Centre, 10; Wesleyan, 7.
- October 5—R. A. M. gives his annual talk on "Know Your Stuff." By the time we are Seniors we hope to know it by heart.
- October 7—Students start bringing lunch to fifth-hour classes.
- October 8—Football Team departs for the South. Students depart for Lexington.
- October 10—Centre, 0; Oglethorpe, 24. Tough, but it's fair.
- October 11—Knuckles gets back from Lexington much worn from battle, but with a State Freshman cap.
- October 12—First Cento out. Priest kicked on his shin in football practice, and consequently more out of his head than usual.
- October 13—Dr. Meier entertains at chapel with a solo.
- October 14—A visitor in chapel who admits that it took him six years to graduate from Centre and then stood at the bottom of the class. Everybody laughs but the faculty; they seem to be English.
- October 15—Team leaves for Lansing, Mich.; also part of the student body.
- October 17—Centre, 13; Michigan Aggies, 15. Student body witnesses State's defeat by Washington and Lee.
- October 18—A few Freshmen caught going to Sunday school. They were severely reprimanded.
- October 19—"Zev" Reid missing from in front of the Park. It is reported that he is critically ill.
- October 20—Dr. Cheek sets a new prayer record for endurance—6:15.
- October 21—Dr. Montgomery is attacked by the disease known as "wanderlust."
- October 24—Centre, 13; Western Normal, 0. Diddle goes down.
- October 26—Owl Club gives a hoot party in chapel. Cochran discovered to have a voice.
- October 28—Centre-Kentucky game is heavily discussed. It is rumored that State would like to paint the town red.
- October 30—All bets have been placed.
- October 31—Centre, 0; Kentucky, 16. We hang our heads in shame.
- November 2—Financially we are a wreck. Everybody resolves not to bet any more on football games.
- November 7—Centre, 0; Tennessee, 12. Another one.
- November 9—Newbern made homesick by some one reciting "The Slow Train Through Arkansas."
- November 10—School wrapped in mystery. It is said that a petition is circulating.
- November 11—Tom Clarkson discovers that there is a library in Centre College.
- November 13—Football men enjoying themselves in Washington. Priest gives "Cal" some sound advice.

Centre College

Danville, Kentucky

This nationally-known institution enters its ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTH YEAR of usefulness with greater confidence than ever before.

Situated in a healthful climate in the "Heart of the Bluegrass," it offers advantages that few schools in the land can equal.

It boasts a faculty who are specialists in their individual tasks.

In almost every state of the Union, CENTRE COLLEGE men are recognized leaders.

Paramount stress is here laid upon the training of the mind; but there are ample facilities for the development of the body.

"Mens sana in sano corpore." As with the ancients, mind comes first at CENTRE COLLEGE.

For catalog and full information, address either the President or the Dean.
