THE DAISY

EDITED BY THE CLASS OF 1921 OF
KENTUCKY COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

AS AN EXPRESSION OF OUR LOVE AND ADMIRATION FOR ONE WHO HAS AIDED US IN EVERY POSSIBLE WAY AND WHO REPRESENTS THE IDEALS OF K. C. W., WE DEDICATE THIS VOLUME OF THE DAISY TO OUR FRIEND AND CLASS ADVISOR

MISS LILLY LANGHORNE HUNTER

Foreword

Classmates Ever

*Friends I'll meet as I grow older,
But no better friends than these.
Later years mean hearts grown colder,*

*Lacking earlier memories;
Later years mean hearts untruthful,
Filled with thoughts of selfishness;
Here, from souls as frank as youthful*

Comes the love my life shall bless.

*Here between us, no concealment
Lies within the outstretched hand;
Here we give ourselves revelation,
Firmly, truly, do we stand;
Here's no wrong that needs correction.*

*Classmates, every one a friend
In the bonds of firm affection,
Bound together to the end!*

Jane N. Scott.

Our Alma Mater

For the school in the Bluegrass,
The home of our youth,
For all that she's taught us
Of friendship and truth,
Alma Mater, we pledge thee lifelong loyalty;
Honored Mother, we'll ever be faithful to thee.

CHORUS

For we love thy broad campus,
The shade of its trees,
Ever fondly our memories linger 'round these.
To the ideals thou hast given us
We'll ever be true.
All hail, Alma Mater,
Fair K. C. W.

'Tis the torch of knowledge
That burns in thy hall
Shall e'er lead us forward,
Though far be the call.
Undaunted we'll follow
Thy light through all time,
That the praise, Alma Mater, may ever be thine.

Class Poem

From East, from West, from North, from South,          They came to dear K. C.,          The famous Class of Twenty-one,          Who'll soon alumnae be.          Through Junior College strife they come,          With heads up, shoulders squared,          To meet new trials, or work, or fun,          Or problems never dared.          As juniors gay they stepped along,          With joy their way was paved;          Mid-years they conquered with a song,          In triumph their colors waved,          In basketball they won their fame,          And helped the Odd's cause;          For the Endowment Fund they pledged their name          With a spirit that did not pause.          The junior dinner and dance in the gym,          And other things they tried;	They entered all contests with a vim,          Their prowess soon spread wide,          Step exercises soon were o'er,          And then Commencement Day,          And merry juniors they were no more,          But seniors staid and gray.          With dignity they've borne the weight          Of senior responsibility,          And underclassmen's wiles they dodge          With much agility.          For tea room and the senior play          They gave their time and work;          Not a single task that came their way          Did this bunch of seniors shirk.          And when on graduation day          They bid K. C. farewell,          Let each one hasten on the way          Which fates for her foretell.

The Daisy, Nineteen Twenty-One

EVELYN WOODFORD BATES
Louisville, Ky.

Vice-President of Y. W. C. A., '20-'21; Secretary and Treasurer of Dramatic Association, '19-'20; Secretary and Treasurer of Athletic Association, '20-'21; Cast of June Play, '20; Staff of "Ken-Co-Wom," '20-'21; Member of Student Council, '20.

"Fickle as a changeful dream."

"There's a little bit of bad in every good little girl," and Evelyn is no exception. Blessed with a bright mind and attractive personality, she soon became the faculty pet of 1919. Evelyn is a remarkably graceful dancer and possesses a great deal of dramatic talent. Though it's hard to predict her future, we are sure that success awaits her behind the footlights.

MARY CARLISLE BIRD
Shelbyville, Ky.

School Cheer Leader, '18-'19, '19-'20, '20-'21; Cast of June Play, '18; Vice-President of Athletic Association, '19-'20; School Marshal, '20; Red Cheer Leader, '18-'19, '19-'20; President of Junior Class, '19-'20; President of Y. W. C. A., '20-'21; Assistant Nurse; Member of Athletic "K" Club; Member of Glee Club, '20-'21; Basketball, '19-'20; Cast of Senior Play; Franklin D. Roosevelt in K. C. W. Presidential Campaign, '20; Wardrobe Mistress, '20; Sigma Sigma Sigma.

*"It is a good thing to be rich,
It is a good thing to be strong,
But it is a better thing to be loved
By many friends."*

"Ask Birdie" is a byword at K. C. W. There's nothing she's unable to find, no situation she's unable to meet. We don't see how this old place could go on without her. Her shoulders are squared to all responsibilities, even if she does get reckless sometimes and experiment with cowbells. etc. Birdie is an all-round girl, and is especially distinguished as being the first member of the "K" Club. A hard worker, a jolly schoolmate, a loyal friend, Birdie is sure to make her mark in this big world.

REBECCA BREVARD
Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Vice-President of Student Government, '20; Assistant Business Manager of Ken-Co-Wom, '20; Delegate to Des Moines, '20; Cast of June Play, '20; Cast of Senior Play, '21; Glee Club, '20; Black Team, '20; Junior Team, '20; Junior Baseball Leader; Secretary and Treasurer of Senior Class.

"Roses ramble o'er her cheeks, Sunlight has kissed her hair."

Having survived the rigors of French B and French IV, to say nothing of physics and chemistry, Rebecca is surely well prepared to meet the hardships of life. She is full of fun and seldom worries over anything long; but it's safer to keep away if she is worried. She is prominent in athletics, especially basketball, and takes part wherever she is needed in any activity. Being a minister's daughter, she may spend part of her future helping her father pay parochial visits, but we feel safe in saying that she won't spend all her days in this way.

VIRGALEEN BYRON
Owingsville, Ky.

Vice-President of Junior Class, '20; President of Dramatic Association; Cast of June Play, '20; Member of Glee Club, '20-'21; Assistant Business Manager of Annual, '21; Business Manager of Athletic Association; Cast of the Senior Play, '21.

*"A smile for all, a welcome glad,
A jovial coaxing way she had."*

Was there ever a jollier pal or better sport than our Virge? She wears a broad smile for every occasion, and her antics soon bring smiles to other people's faces, too. She has chosen expression for her major subject and bids fair to being very successful in it. She starred in last year's June play, and in "Quality Street" and on other occasions her talent has been demonstrated. However, we fail to see Virgaleen behind the footlights. More likely behind a cookstove in a neat little kitchen—and not such a little kitchen either, or it won't hold Virge.

MARJORIE CARDWELL
Louisville, Ky.

"Men, not marks, have been my aim."

We are not so well acquainted with Marjorie, as she came to us only this year, but it can be safely said that she is one of the most charming members of her class. If she undertakes a thing she is sure to back it to the end, and she is far from being a slacker when it comes to bright ideas. Marjorie is a musician of no little ability, and who could fail to get pep at the sound of her "wonderful jazz"? She also plays basketball and takes an active part in all school activities. Life will be a smooth pathway for her, but it will not spoil her.

ELLEN CLAYTON
Harlan, Ky.

Class Song Leader; School Song Leader; Social Chairman of Student Government, '20-'21; Cast June Play, '19-'20; Glee Club, '19, '20, '21; Basketball, '19-'20; Assistant Voice Instructor in Prep Department; W. W. W.

*"Come and trip it as you go
On the light fantastic toe."*

Of course, everyone knows Ellen, star of May Day frolics and Christmas carols. She is jolly and popular, and also holds the unique position of having discovered the route to Miss Shailer's favor. Ellen possesses decided vocal talent and is song leader of the class and of the school. She has dramatic ability, which has led her to make expression her major subject. She held prominent parts in the June play and in the senior play acquitted herself with fame. She plays basketball and swims as well, and dances beautifully. We see her happily pursuing her heart-smashing career to a successful end.

MARTHA THOMAS DORSEY
Louisville, Ky.

Junior Hiking Leader; Choir Leader of Blacks and Odds, '19-'20; Glee Club, '19-'20; President of Student Government; Chairman Student Council; Senior Tennis Leader, '20-'21; Cast of June Play, '20; Cast of Senior Play, '20.

"One who never turned her back, but marched breastforward."

An ideal college girl is Tom. Always in for work or fun; a leader in academic work and athletics; a general favorite with students and faculty. She has made a place for herself that none can fill. As president of student government, the highest honor any student may attain, she has done her work faithfully and well.

MARY LEWIS EDELEN
Frankfort, Ky.

Student Council; Basketball, '19-'20; Manager Tea Room; Cast Senior Play; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '20-'21.

*"We may live without money, without friendship and books,
But civilized man cannot live without cooks."*

Mary Lewis is about the most versatile member of the class. She is especially domestic and majors in home economics, but at the same time she studies hard, takes part in all school activities, and is a member of the Red basketball team. She is a good conversationalist and is blessed with a keen sense of humor. Never will we forget her famous "pointless jokes," or her ability to tell them. She and Noel have been able managers of the tea room. We see Mary Lewis in the future using all of her home ec. knowledge to care for a modern bungalow.

NELLIE MARGARET LAWRENCE
Danville, Ky.

*"All things come to him who waits.
Therefore why should I hurry?"*

During Margaret's frequent visits to school we have had but slight opportunity to know her. Always quiet and reserved, she puts the noisy chatter of the English class to shame—when she gets there in time. She must be very modest, for it took the entire annual staff, plus the rest of the seniors and Miss Lilly, to prevail upon her to have her picture made for the annual. She will never startle the world, but will do the sort of quiet good which is so greatly needed in this world.

BRUMMAL LEWIS
Greensburg, Ky.

President of Sophomore Class, '16-'17; Treasurer of Tudor Literary Society, '16-'17; Joke Editor of Ken-Co-Wom; Member of Honor Board; Member of Student Council, '17-'18; President of Senior Prep Class; Treasurer of Y. W. C. A.; Member of Honor Board, '18-'19; Business Manager of Athletic Association, '17-'18; Treasurer of Y. W. C. A.; Business Manager of Athletic Association; Attendant to May Queen, Cast of June Play, '19-'20; Business Manager of Annual; Treasurer of Y. W. C. A.; Cast of Senior Play, '20-'21; Vice-President of Athletic Association.

"She hath a heart to resolve, a head to contrive, and a hand to execute."

School life is a song for Brummal, for she surely has a way with her and can't be beat when it comes to putting it over. She is possessed of a mixture of wit and wisdom rarely found in the same person. She has executive ability and leadership, which has made her prominent in all school activities. She excels in dramatics and starred especially in the senior play. When other things fail to interest, K. C. W. has always Brummal's love affairs to fall back on, and each one seems more hopeless than the last. We see her tripping through life without a backward glance, always a social favorite and successful in whatever she undertakes.

ANNE GOGGIN MALTBY
Washington, Ky.

Glee Club; June Play, '20; Ken-Co-Wom Staff; Cast of Senior Play, '21.

"Could I love less, I should be happier."

She's our baby in years, but not in worldly wisdom. Having the temperamental disposition that belongs to talented people, she is always either in the heights of joy or the depths of gloom. She has a never-failing faculty for managing her instructors; in fact, about the only thing she can't manage is her own love affairs. She has demonstrated her histrionic ability upon several occasions, and the stories evolved by her fertile imagination have been a joy to the English class. So, although her ideal life may be to dance all night and sleep all day, fate decrees an even better future for her genius.

DAISY FLORENCE MCLIN
Hazel Green, Ky.

Vice-President of East Hall; Reporter for Ken-Co-Wom, '19-'20; Delegate to Montreal, '20; Sunday School Superintendent; Editor-in-Chief of the Daisy; Member of Student Council, '20-'21.

"Work is my recreation: a delight like that which a bird feels in flying."

"Well, hey-diddle, somebody must be responsible for this; we aren't accomplishing a thing." Such is the theme of Daisy's existence, and she usually ends by being responsible for it herself, and certain it is that she accomplishes much and in more ways than one. In spite of her saint-like disposition, her naughty brown eyes and curling lashes have wounded more than one hero and even placed a few on the casualty list. It's not a bit hard to predict Daisy's future. A little home in her own mountains, maybe, where her genius for homemaking will surely blossom forth and where her love for social work will make her the center of her community.

The Daisy, Nineteen Twenty-One

MARY ALLENE MONTGOMERY Columbia, Ky.

Secretary and Treasurer of Student Government; Cast of June Play, '19-'20; Glee Club; Cast of Senior Play, '20-'21.

*"No one but her and heaven knows
Of what she's thinking."*

Who could think of Allene without thinking of the chemistry class? For two long years now she has been Miss Milroy's special pet. Indeed, the rest of us are quite jealous of the attention shown her. Allene has been prominent in dramatics and as a member of the Honor Board. Faithful to duty and loyal, too, she is one to be trusted with many things. She will walk through life slowly and carefully, but she will be successful in whatever she undertakes.

MARY ELIZABETH NEELY Franklin, Ky.

Ken-Co-Wom Staff; Cast of June Play, '19-'20; Cast of Senior Play; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, President of Senior Class; Member of Student Council, '20-'21.

*"Affection warm and faith sincere,
And soft humanity are there."*

Mary is probably the most capable member of the class. Any movement which she is behind is sure to be a great success, and she never fails to help where help is needed. When Mary gets on a "high" everyone quits work to listen and laugh. With her keen sense of humor and winning smile, Mary is unusually attractive, and who can blame Beanie and Caruso for falling?

CAROLINE VINCENT NOEL
Frankfort, Ky.

Basketball, '19-'20; Manager of Tea Room; Cast of Senior Play; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '20-'21.

"Much study is a weariness of the flesh."

To most people Caroline is a dignified senior, but to those who really know her she is a jolly good pal, with a cloak of dignity to be assumed on occasions. Life for her would be a song were it not for the time she spends in vain effort trying to please a certain member of the faculty who is cruelly unappreciative. So closely linked are the careers of Edelen and Noel that it is impossible to mention one without the other. However, it seems that they are destined to spend the future without each other, else why all the time spent in learning to cook and sew? Here's to the "Hershey Twins," a sure cure for the blues.

VIRGINIA REEVES
Owensboro, Ky.

Ken-Co-Wom Staff, '19-'20; Secretary of Y. W. C. A.; Joke Editor of Annual; Baseball Leader of Senior Class; Property Manager for Senior Play; Cast of Senior Play; Gov. James M. Cox in K. C. W. Presidential Campaign, '20-'21.

"Yours is the charm of calm good sense."

Virginia is the most complicated problem of the Senior Class. How can she sleep all through study hall and walk out every month with a straight A report card? Oh, that the rest of us had the key to the mystery! But she has something besides brains. She has a cheery, sunny disposition that has won for her the sort of friendship that will last. She is always ready and willing to be of service and is the main prop upon which the fate of the weekly Y. W. service rests. She says she expects to teach next year, but who can tell?

The Daisy, Nineteen Twenty-One

Laura Frances Rogers
Covington, Ky.

"Still water runs deep."

Laura Frances is such a dignified young lady that she seems much older than her years. She always stands well in her classes, makes many friends, and has a surprising gift for saying funny things with a solemn face. Laurie's constant repose of manner is her greatest charm, and we can easily imagine her capably presiding over some attractive little suburban home.

Sarah Irene Smith
Danville, Ky.

Glee Club,

"But still her tongue ran on; the less of weight it bore, the greater ease."

Irene is a great talker, but she can also move when the occasion warrants it. That was proved by the haste in which she left the building when West Hall caught fire last spring. She is one of our four "dear little home-bodies," and in home ec. she sees all of her plans for the future. Whether it will be a pastry shop and dressmaking establishment combined, or a home of her own, fate will have to decide.

EUNICE E. STROTHER
Danville, Ky.

Editor of Ken-Co-Wom; Member of Student Council, '20-'21; Vice-President of Senior Class.

"Even her failings lean to virtue's side."

Being a town girl, Eunice is not so very well known to her classmates. The lucky ones who do know her, though, will vouch for anything good said about her. She is especially studious, but, like another virtuous member of our class, she has eyes and eyes are to be used. Eunice is especially literary and as editor of the Ken-Co-Wom she has demonstrated her journalistic ability. We are sure she will further pursue her education, and then who knows what success may be hers?

MARGARET ELIZABETH TURLEY
Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Assistant Editor of the Daisy; Postmistress, '20-'21; Class Poet, '21.

*"Never a gay flirt will she be,
But in fame will have her part."*

Words are hardly adequate to describe Margaret's sterling qualities. She is the shining light of English VI as well as being among the best in the rest of her studies. Duty and responsibility do not slip lightly from Margaret's hands. She lifts her head and says "Excelsior!"—and she always accomplishes. Margaret clearly shows that "genius burns," and in years to come the lamp will be brighter and we will all hear from her.

The Daisy, Nineteen Twenty-One

LUCILLE VICE Owingsville, Ky.

Social Chairman of Y. W. C. A.; Hiking
Leader; Cast Senior Play, '21.

"On with the dance, Let joy be unconfined."

When Chess is dancing all cares forsake her; she is perfectly happy. She needs relief, too, for her friends make her life miserable by constant teasing, which is the favorite indoor sport of most of the East Hall girls. In home ec. she is a star; in fact, she can do most anything from teaching in the primary department down to being a little primary girl herself. May her future be as gay and happy as her present.

Junior College Class Prophecy

*Here's to the Class of Twenty-one,
A glorious future is awaiting you!*

Ruth Hinkson's art will bring her fame,
And all the world will praise her name.
Jane Bowling, with a voice sublime,
An artist will surely be in time.
Horse Lewis, our athletic star,
Will gain a "rep" near and far.
Pauline, with eyes of greyish hue,
Vamps every man, yes, even you.
Margaret Ramsey, 'mid pain and woe,
Makes a good nurse, as we all know.
Mildred Roby, a lawyer witty,
Lives in a distant Eastern city.
Still popular as she can be,
Mildred Upton now we see.
In Washington, not strange to relate,
Ruch Tucker is Secretary of State.
Mrs. Reynolds' place was hard to fill,
But Mary Berry filled the bill.
Elmeta will be a lady fair,
Free from every grief and care.
Kirkman, from the far-off West,
On the stage is considered best.
How proud we'll be of Christine Brown
When she's a missionary of renown.
A popular dean of old K. C.
Lula Edwards surely will be.
Amelia Fox has brains galore,
We surely could not wish her more.
Editor in a country town,
Evelyn Mahin can now be found.
Clara Sutterlin a book will write,
It'll be a masterpiece, all right.
Evelyn Johns many a beau will parry,
At last a farmer she will marry.
Elizabeth Tewmey has met her fate,
She married the latest attorney of state.
Blanche Phillips was an English teacher,
And now I hear she's married a preacher.
Frances Price will teach gym,
For that, I hear, is her latest whim.
In kindergarten work we find
Elizabeth Beasley, of manner kind.
Addie Shewmaker will always studious be,
I hear she's taken her Doctor's Degree.
Dora Crawford will help in relief
Of Europe's sad state of hunger and grief.

Louise Camp, of a school a matron,
Will satisfy both pupil and patron.
In interior decorating doth excel
Mary Agnes, we're glad to tell.
Margaret Huffman will in business engage,
And her judgments be both just and sage.
Of a Bluegrass farmer, loyal wife,
Mary Lawrence will lead a happy life.
Elizabeth Irvine, a doctor of skill,
High positions of honor she will fill.
Most efficient librarian Elizabeth Adams will be,
We hope to see her here in K. C.

Senior Prep Prophecy

SI was wandering through the attic one rainy day in 1930, I came across an old moth-eaten, dog-eared book on the back of which was printed in the hand of my school days, "K. C. W. Notes (Senior Prep Class of Twenty-one)." It had been a number of years since I had left K. C. W., but, having occasionally kept clippings of my old classmates, I decided to spend the morning reviewing what had happened since we parted on graduation day.

On the very first page was a newspaper clipping which ran: "Miss Marvin Ray, of Shelbyville, Ky. (and Marvin was our dear president), makes her first flight around the world, leaving New York July 5, 1926, and returning July 11, a world-breaking record. We regret to say, however, that her career is not likely to continue long on account of her fondness for royalty."

The next thing was a picture of Miss Sara Cardwell, under which was written: "Ziegfeld's Leading Lady." She is taking the leading part in "Southern Seas," which is now being staged for the first time in New York.

I turned a page and a picture of Norma Talmadge, or so I thought, fell out; but, on looking closer, I saw it was our classmate, Gladys Bridges. On the back was written: "Country amazed. The real Talmadge has been dead for three years, and Miss Gladys Bridges, of Kentucky, has gone on with her work."

A penciled note read: "Anna Fox married the owner of her Buick and now lives in Lexington. She is noted for her receptions and dinners."

An advertisement followed: "Massage, instantaneous bleach, shampoo, scalp treatment, hair tinting, eyebrow arching, manicuring, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed. Apply Kathryn McMurty, 394 Fourth Street, Louisville, Ky."

A paper clipping read: "On board the Arcadia, which left San Francisco April 23, was Miss Kathryn Harbison, of Danville, Ky., who is going to China as a medical missionary."

On the next page were many closely-written notes: "Dear little Flo, after a very brilliant debut into Washington society, started straightway to breaking all the hearts of the young Senators and Representatives."

Saw Anne Laurie Atwood in Lexington the other day. The same sweet Anne Laurie of K. C. W., but now the mistress of a Texas ranch.

Jane Wigglesworth met in New York, and married two months later, Count Stuart Saavedra de Cervantes, of Paris, France. They have a chateau in Normandy, and Jane's poise and beauty fit well with her title.

Margaret Eason has made a wonderful reputation for herself as an osteopath, and now lives in Boston, Mass.

Ruth Thompson is athletic instructor of Oberlin University, and her fame is widespread. Each year at the athletic tournaments all over the country Ruth carries away the laurels.

A newspaper clipping was next marked with red lines: "Miss Evelyn Coleman, after a very brilliant season at Newport, is to be married to the youngest foreign minister of the United States." The announcement is a very great surprise to all her friends, as Miss Coleman has spent the last two years as a dancing teacher of the select class of the East, and was making a great success.

In the same paper clipping was a stunning picture of Helen Todd in a bathing suit and holding a contest cup, under which was written: "Beautiful Louisville girl swims the Gulf of Mexico and wins the cup given by International Association of Swimmers." There was a long account of her skill and speed, and also a mention of her as a theatrical dancer.

The next were two clippings from a musical magazine: "Paris, France, June 17, 1925.—Mme. Florence Bassett gave a recital here last night which greatly delighted and charmed all lovers of music. Mme. Bassett has for two years been a pupil of Hans Richard in New York, and had the good fortune of having two months with the world-famed . . ."

"New York.—Miss Sallie McGee made a very successful debut at the Princess Theater last night.

The Daisy, Nineteen Twenty-One

Her future looks very brilliant." The writer went on to mention her voice, its quality, etc.

Farther down the page I read: "Miss Anita Curry of Omaha, Neb., wins the world's championship as an all-around athlete at the Greek Olympic games held in Athens in May." (Aren't we proud of "Neats"?)

On the next page were more penciled notes: Margaret Wells married the year after I left K. C. W., and is now a very popular society and clubwoman of Philadelphia.

Bess Anderson is dean of a girl's school in Pennsylvania (near the home of her favorite school teacher) and is doing splendidly.

Mildred Gatewood, our K. C. W. vampire and best dancer in the state, had a very enjoyable winter in Washington society, but has ended it by marrying the "baby" senator from Arizona. Now she will have to teach the state of Arizona how to dance.

Of course, Nondas Wayne became a great dancer, and is known all over America and Europe, and is considered one of the most graceful toe dancers on the stage.

Helen Roberts is a community worker in New York and is doing great good. She is loved and highly esteemed by all who know her.

Dear old Merle married a widower, but he died the following fall, leaving her a vast fortune. She is known over all America and Europe for her sables and beautiful jewels. There is a hint, however, that Merle will not long remain a widow.

Dorothy Mahan is the owner of a very exclusive shop on Fifth Avenue, New York. She is patronized by all the "Four Hundred," and only carries Paris models of the latest styles.

Anna Steel Taylor is now the dean of K. C. W., and the school is progressing rapidly under her guidance.

Elizabeth Land is an instructor of English in Columbia University, New York.

Mary Wentworth is the greatest crystal gazer, palm interpreter, and clairvoyant of the age.

Nannie Wesley liked  $\Phi K T$  so well that she now owns one. She is very happy and lives in Louisville, Ky.

Emily Vanarsdale is Latin teacher at K. C. W., and only last year Joan Robinson was chosen first Congresswoman from Kentucky.

I was in B. F. Keith's the other night, and Opal Land was at the piano and Evalee Green took the leading part in the vaudeville.

That completed the roll of our class, and I fell asleep thinking of the good times I had had at K. C. W.

E. MARTIN.

Junior Prep. Class History

IN September, 1918, we entered the doors of K. C. W. with a look on our faces that would have made a timid person look bold. What was before us? We soon found out, and there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth when we learned by experience the awful trials of being freshmen.

But after Christmas we gained a little confidence and elected Louise Nichols, class president; Betty Ireys, vice-president; Alice Montgomery, treasurer; and Miss Dorothy Welliver, class teacher.

In 1919 a few of us came back, sophisticated sophomores, and started to work with more determination than we had shown the year before. We elected Mary Lawless Gatewood, president; Elizabeth Walker, vice-president; Sarah E. Johnson, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Welliver, class teacher.

We entered the interclass rivalry contest with a great deal of vim, but the upperclassmen proved to be stronger than we. We, being very sophisticated, took it as a matter of course, but deep down in our hearts we made a resolution to do better next year.

1920! Juniors! Almost at the top of the ladder. A few of the old girls came back, and those who did not come were replaced by new girls.

Since Miss Welliver did not return, we unanimously elected Miss Fell class teacher, and with her help we hope to make a record equalled by no other class.

DANVILLE, KY., November 30, 1930.

Y DEAREST MARJORY:

Here I am back in Danville. Can you realize it has been almost ten years since our class was together? Danville has grown so you would hardly know it. They even have a porter to take your baggage at the train. When I arrived, who should step up and take my bag but Virginia Baker, in the uniform of a red-cap porter. She told me that Erma Woodard had a truck farm in Texas and is raising "cain." Elizabeth Marston left last week as a missionary to Siam.

Sara Shelby married a Presbyterian minister. I didn't catch his last name, but his first was Douglass. As I went on up town a large sign caught my eye. It bore in blazing letters: "Mademoiselle Lillian Hart, Instructor in Dancing." Another just above it read: "Lawyer—Gladys Center; Divorce Cases a Specialty."

On my way to K. C. W. my attention was attracted by a large crowd on the corner of the "Shop Perfect." Much to my amazement I saw Elizabeth King standing on a soap box delivering an oration in the interest of the Salvation Army. She was screaming at the top of her voice. I started, only to be stopped again, this time by a billboard in front of Stout's Theater. It read: "Mademoiselle Fleecia Robinsonelle, Noted Toe Dancer, Here Tonight and Tomorrow Only." Next: "The Famous Moss Sisters, Ruby and Bessie, will appear in 'The Heavenly Twins'."

When I arrived at K. C. W., who should I see coming from the hospital but Rose Lee with an English book under her arm. She told me she had taken Miss Flynn's place as English teacher. I found afterwards that her pupils liked her very much, because she rarely appeared on the scene. On going in, I found that Cecil Byrley was now dean, with Frances Steinberger as her assistant. You would be surprised at the order they keep. They told me that Ernestine Kemper is married and living with her little family in Seattle, Wash. Lucy Johnson has established a "Feeble-Minded Institute" in Harlan, Ky.

Did you know that Mary Phillips is illustrator for Life? Lela Stona Wakefield is the Centre College widow and still as gay as of old.

Scandal, my dear! Mary Walker is divorced again. This must be the fourth time.

When I picked up The Evening Post I saw Martha Allen's picture. She has been elected captain of the life guards at Atlantic City.

Do you still find teaching history at Smith entertaining? Have you heard from Miss Tomlinson lately? I suppose you are still keeping up with her. I had to give up nursing on account of mother's illness and am now staying at home.

I am sending you a copy of Marie Beckner's new book, "Speaking of Angels."

Affectionately, MARY CROMWELL.

Nine little freshmen are we,
 Without any knowledge, you see.
 The first day that we came to school
 We soon, of course, all broke a rule;
 Some of us were then suspended,
 But that we very soon had mended;
 But when we saw the Latin book
 All hopes of graduation forsook.
 Nine little freshmen are we,
 Without any knowledge, you see.

The first day we went down the aisle
 We showed our greenness for a mile;
 When into Miss Kilmer's class we walked,
 Our tongues just talked and talked and talked;
 Not to make a good beginning
 We felt truly would be sinning;
 All tell us we will learn some day;
 Sometimes I think perhaps we may,
 Nine little freshmen are we,
 Without any knowledge, you see.

With hopes for the future very high,
 We'll work that they shall never die;
 One of us will be President,
 Of Washington a resident;
 One will be Secretary of State,
 If lessons are not put off too late;
 And we will cross the ocean wide
 To see where Pericles and Xerxes died.
 Nine little freshmen are we,
 Without any knowledge, you see.

The Athletic Association

OUR Athletic Association has always been one of the most popular organizations at old K. C. W. Each year the membership has increased; in fact, we have solicited the greatest of interest and support from our friends at Centre.

The athletic season opened with much enthusiasm for the many interesting phases of sport life it offered. The interclass contests, which began immediately after the election of officers, differed slightly from last year. A "K" Club was organized, which provided that each girl passing any three of the five sport contests would become a member.

The first fall sport was swimming, the pool being patronized by all. As the days became cooler, the girls preferred that enjoyable outdoor sport—hiking. Practically every morning and afternoon found all pikes leading from Danville dotted with girls, stepping along with much vim and enthusiasm, for each milestone they passed was just that much gain for their class record.

When the cold winter days came no one dared to venture out on the highways, our "ever-bubbling-over pep" was turned to basketball. The season was a most interesting one. Our class games were the first and the senior preps won the much-prized championship.

What would our basketball season be if it were not for the good old games played by the Reds and Blacks? How those snake dances, songs, cheers, and those mascots so significantly costumed spur the players on to a glorious victory. The first of these games occurred February 26, the score being 8 to 7 in favor of the Reds. One week later the Reds were victors for a second time, the score being 3 to 11.

The third and last game was played March 11, and the Reds carried away the laurels. Even though the Blacks didn't win, they fought hard, and their many good plays did not go unnoticed.

Everyone is looking forward to tennis and baseball, for K. C. W. may well boast of some of her excellent players.

Judging from the most enjoyable athletic banquet of 1920, we may be assured that this momentous occasion may even be surpassed by the Athletic Association of 1921.

The "Three K" Club

The K. C. W. girl who is the possessor of the golden Old English "K" can well be proud, for to earn this beautiful letter is not an easy task. To win this prize awarded by the Athletic Association, a girl must earn three K's, which are obtained through proficiency in at least three different sports. K's and numerals are given in swimming, hiking, tennis, basketball and baseball. The "K" is given to any girl who plays at least five halves of the match games in basketball, three-fourths of the total number of innings played in baseball, to the two girls who play in the tennis finals, to all who pass the advanced swimming test, and to all who complete one hundred and seventy-five miles in hiking. The class numeral is granted to all those who play at least five halves of the class games in basketball, one-half of the total number of innings played in baseball, to the class champion in tennis, to those who pass the first swimming test and to all who complete one hundred and twenty-eight miles in hiking.

Although the club was just organized in the fall of the year, one girl has already won her three K's. Mary Carlisle Bird, having earned a "K" in basketball, hiking and swimming, has the distinction and honor of being the first member of this athletic club. But by the close of the baseball season many more will have won the necessary "K's" and the club will be a truly active body of girls.

Such an organization is a great asset to the student life, for not only does it stand for good sportsmanship and interest in women's athletics, but for one worth-while thing in life as well.

Y. W. C. A. Reception

HE annual reception given by the Y. W. C. A. for the new girls of Kentucky College for Women overshadowed all previous receptions of this kind. The awes and thrills of the girls from the time they entered the walls of K. C. W. last September over the expectation of this wondrous event came to a most brilliant climax on the evening of October 2.

On entering the beautifully decorated and dimly candle-lighted reception halls of K. C. W., the girls, simply dressed in their organdies and summer frocks, found themselves immediately besieged by the entertainment committee and the young men of Centre.

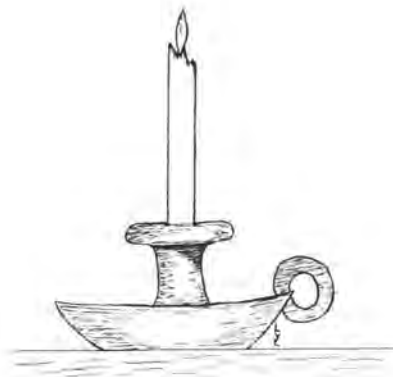

Delicious refreshments were served by the members of the Junior Prep Class, and when the fateful hour of departure came it was with great reluctance that K. C. W. bade Centre good-night.

Y. M. C. A. Reception

One of the most pleasant events of the social calendar this year was the Y. M. C. A. reception given by the young men of Centre for the K. C. W. girls. This event has always been one of pleasure, but this year the entertainment in the halls of old Centre will hold many fond memories in the hearts of K. C. W. girls.

The entertainment committee carried out most significantly the true meaning of their name, and the evening was a most enjoyable one for all. The colors of the two schools were used artistically in the decorations and refreshments.

Had not the chaperons been skilled in the art of reminding the girls to bid the boys good-night, there would probably have been many Cinderellas on this evening reluctant to leave the merriment.

System adopted by the Danville Light Power & Traction Co.

K. C. W.'s Hallowe'en

N Hallowe'en night the gym at K. C. W., decorated in cornstalks and autumn leaves and dimly lighted by jack-o'-lanterns, was thronged with weird masked beings. Each masquerader, accompanied by a college boy, passed through a chamber of horrors. The path led up and downstairs, into the swimming pool, on which horrible objects floated, and through a place filled with icy-fingered ghosts.

After getting back to the more civilized gymnasium there was a general unmasking. Then everyone joined in suitable games and a little Hallowe'en program was carried out. Refreshments of popcorn balls, gingerbread, and cider were served, and everyone had a good time.

CENTRE PLAYERS NEVER LEFT THE FIELD

Centre College, much to the surprise of spectators, remained on the field between the halves. They simply threw their great sides with yellow stockings over their and set about in a stolid white Coach Moran featured them. When asked after the game why they did not go to the locker building to rest, the Centre College men replied: "Why this visiting team at ways remains at the field down in Kentucky. There is never room enough for both teams in any locker building down that way."

Harvard Coaches Outline Instructions in Correlating Observations on Enemies' Work (Louisville Herald)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 20.—Harvard's football strategy in important games for several years has been developed in part over telephone wires while the game was in progress, it was learned today in the game with Yale at Princeton. For the last two years the game with Centre College has fallen with the entire team game with Yale at Princeton. For the last two years the game with Centre College has fallen with the entire team game with Yale at Princeton.

From these outings, information is being built up to determine the nature of equipment play especially in the line, that can be used on the ground, etc. in case of a game.

The game, the telephone instructions were kept up by members of the staff who were all equipped with telephones.

HARVARD LINE IS TOO TOUGH FOR COLONELS

Centre Outclassed in Forwards and That Tells the Story of the Crimson Victory

McMillin a Marvel, but Centre Unable to Hold and Harvard Power Wins

By HOWARD G. REYNOLDS,

Spotting Editor of the Boston Post

Harvard's line told the story. The range, husky Crimson forwards, coached collectively, both on the offense and defense, were able to defeat Centre College yesterday 31 to 14. Harvard's head coach, started out a year ago with a line to win his football games. Victoria Fisher is again working on the same general plan. The Harvard line today is not so three-

CROWD WAS WITH CENTRE TEAM FROM THE START TO FINISH

The crowd could easily have been mistaken for a Harvard-Yale match in their frantic applause for the players. It must have been a great game. The crowd was so dense that the line was not visible. The crowd was so dense that the line was not visible.

At that Centre College should have no regrets. Of course they hoped, and fought for victory. They simply didn't have the class in that line of theirs. Harvard lost, 31-14.

But no eleven ever went down in defeat in that Harvard Stadium in a greater blaze of glory. As they are speeding backwards to Kentucky today they have left behind them an impression in Boston that will long be remembered.

hered. A topic of conversation that is on every one's tongue today.

ONE OF GAME'S BEST BATTLES

No one of the 45,000 people that were there went away with a conviction that they had witnessed one of the greatest football contests ever staged in the Stadium. An inter-collegiate battle will go down in history as one of the most interesting if not the closest ever fought.

They saw an attack on the part of the Kentuckians the like which has not been opened up on the Crimson's grounds since 1872. That was when Jim Thayer led his Catholic Indians to victory over Harvard in the game sandwiched in between the Powers-

Senior Camp

N all probability the seniors would have died of the "homesick blues" this fall if the camp hadn't saved our lives. On the afternoon of Friday, September 27, we packed our sheets, pillows, and middy suits, and piled on the old truck. After a half hour of bumping merrily over country roads we reached our destination, Mr. Logan Caldwell's attractive clubhouse on the Dix River. Of course, there was a wild rush for beds on the porch, and then everyone settled down to having a good time. We explored to our hearts' content until the supper bell rang, when we all flocked in to a bountiful and delicious meal prepared by Aunt Vicey.

There were only five or six callers that night and the evening passed uneventfully, except that Doggy Walden tried to drown himself at Rebecca Brevard's feet. Daisy took her never-to-be-forgotten canoe ride. But Sunday morning just simply capped the climax. Almost all of Centre College came out Sunday morning, bringing ice cream and watermelons with them. Of course, they stayed to help eat it, and after that they spent not only the afternoon with us, but we had to share our supper with them—and then they stayed a little while for politeness sake.

In the evening we wandered off to the dam in couples, or paddled the canoes up and down the moonlit river, or just sat on the porch and listened to Mary's Texas song-bird, who sang for our entertainment.

When Monday morning came it was a tired but happy crowd of girls who scrambled upon the truck with all their baggage.

Lawdy, Lawdy! Senior Camp! How you chased away those "homesick blues."

“Quality Street”

BY J. M. BARRIE

Under the direction of Miss Eleanor Curtin

ACT I

The blue and white room in the home of the Misses Susan and Phœbe Throssel in Quality Street, London.

ACT II

The same, ten years later. (During the act the curtain will be lowered to indicate the passing of two hours' time.)

ACT III

A ball, but not the one to which we have seen Miss Susan and Miss Phœbe rush forth upon their career of crime. This is the third of the series. The scene is a pavilion used as a retiring room.

Jokes

If you laughed over any of these jokes in your youth, remember that we are still young.

* * *

They are all right, but they don't mean anything:

- West Hall door bell.
- Fire alarms.
- Clock over dining room door.
- House phones.
- Clubs.
- Electric lights.
- Frat pins.
- Gas lights in West Hall.
- Nondas Wayne's room.
- Lula's diamond.
- Martha's stories.

Brummal's handbook says "Lights out at ten."

Miss Lilly's dictatorial manner.

* * *

Miss Carlson (in English): "What is local color?"

Marjorie C.: "Rouge."

* * *

Miss Andrus: "What is the matter, dear?"

Brummal: "Don and I have quarreled and have parted forever."

Miss Andrus: "Well, that's good. He'll probably not be here for a week, then, and you can get caught up on your sleep a little."

* * *

Mrs. Kiser (before whom trembles Ruth Thompson, who wants a church excuse): "What seems to be wrong, Ruth?"

Ruth: "I—ah—I—well, I think my honor system's all run down."

* * *

Rebecca B.: "Frank Kenney hit Mildred in the mouth with a taffy kiss at the candy pulling."

Margaret R.: "Another objection to long distance kissing."

* * *

Miss Fell: "What happened in 1777?"

Elizabeth Beasley: "Was it A.D. or B.C.?"

* * *

Hump Tanner (at dance): "Mary, dearest, I know I dance like a camel, but that is because until I met you my life was a desert."

Jokes

A frog, a lamb, a duck and a polecat wanted to attend a big show at Stout's Theater. The admission was one dollar each, and they had only three dollars—who went? The frog went, because it had a green back; the lamb went, because it had four quarters; the duck went, because it had a bill; the polecat couldn't go, because it had only one "cent," and it was a bad one.

* * *

"Goggs" Maltby (in Chemistry Lab): "Miss Milroy, how do you prepare a weak solution of H-2 O?"

* * *

Laura Frances: "Look, only two stars out, and its such a beautiful night."

Jane Bowling: "Well, I think they have all gone in to study for exams."

PERSONALS

Mary Agnes disturbed the neighbors last night by talking in her sleep.

Margaret Thompson is still on the sick list and will be until Mrs. Kiser can get rid of her.

Gladys Bridges and Marie Becknor on time for breakfast ONE morning.

Hortense Lewis is suffering from distorted muscles as a result of "galloping" around the sun parlor with Liz Walker.

Dean Andrus and Miss Thompson had a heated discussion as to which should take them to the Knobs, Jane or Pete. Miss Milroy settled the discussion by suggesting that they all go in "Dr. Franklin."

"Goggs" Matthy and "Galloping" Camp are on the verge of nervous breakdown, due to the fact that they could not go to town the sixth time this week.

Our Sunday afternoon naps are rudely interrupted by Mrs. Reynolds madly shifting gears, also by K. Starling's futile attempts at ragtime.

EXTRACT FROM JIM'S LETTER TO CAROLINE

"O Caroline, thou art divine!
Would that I had you to call mine;
To ease my sorrowst to end my woes;
To cook my victuals, and wash my clothes."

* * *

Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
That we meet again today
All the scraps we had on Monday,
Fixed up in the same old way.

Burton Hays: "I was calling on Evelyn Bates last night when someone threw a brick through the window and hit the poor girl in the side."

Preston Carter: "Did it hurt her?"

Burton: "No, but it mashed three of my fingers."

* * *

Lula: "What would you do if Pat kissed you on the forehead?"

Mary Agnes: "I'd call him down."

WANTED TO KNOW

Why D. Pryor is so interested in "specials."

Why J. Bowling goes to town every afternoon.

Why S. Cardwell gets such good grades in Math and Physics.

Why some girls never come to Sunday night supper.

Why M. Turley likes to go to the post-office.

Why L. Camp is such a dainty eater.

Why Nellie Gaines attracts the boys.

Why some seniors don't have to work in the tea room.

Why Mary Agnes studies so hard.

Why the senior camp was so thrilling.

Jokes

A DEFINITION OF TRIGONOMETRY

Trigonometry is a study invented in ancient times by some insane professor for the punishment of hardened criminals. Later, it was made much more difficult, and is now used for the punishment of innocent youths in the toils of school teachers. In this most interesting study the poor, deluded victim takes a poor, innocent triangle, dissects it, analyzes it, takes it apart, delves into its past, present and future, lays bare the scandals of its life, and the crimes of its ancestors. And in the end, when the last episode of pitiful life and daily actions has been reached, the student knows no more than when she began, but because she has accumulated a mass of figures, she imagines she has proved what she was searching for, the teacher lets it go, because she really knows no more than the student.

No one knows what Trig really is, except the man who invented it, and he has passed away to a warmer climate, and as punishment for his sins, we hope, is roasting merrily in the lowest pit of the lowest part of the lower regions known as Hades and is being fed red-hot triangles to punish him for his misdeeds in life.—MATH V.

Kentucky College for Women

DANVILLE, KENTUCKY

Kentucky College for Women is a standard Junior College. The College Preparatory Course corresponds to the four years' course in an A class high school. By this course a student is prepared for the comprehensive examinations required by Wellesley, Vassar, Mt. Holyoke, and Smith, and from this course any student who has a satisfactory record may enter without examination the Freshman year at Kentucky College for Women, at Chicago University, and other northern college, as well as Kentucky State University, and other colleges in the Southern Association of Women's Colleges.

Excellent work is done in all the special departments, art, music and expression. To the student in music whose work, in the judgment of the department, merits it, a diploma is given after a prescribed course has been completed.

For the student who is a high school graduate and who does not wish to take up college work a domestic science course is given. This is a two-year college course in Home Economics and comprises the same work as that offered in the freshman and sophomore years at Kentucky State University.

In the college course two full years of college work are offered. Graduates from this course may receive, for this work, advance credit, without examination, at various northern colleges, such as the University of Wisconsin, University of Chicago, Oberlin College, also at Kentucky State University and other colleges in the Southern Association of Women's colleges.

To keep up the high standard of work at Kentucky College for Women an excellent faculty is necessary. The faculty at Kentucky College have been trained in the best colleges and universities in the country, and have personality and intellectual ability without which even the fine equipment of the college would be useless.

The broad campus at Kentucky College for Women affords ample opportunity for tennis, field day sports, plays and pageants, while in gymnasium the student may bowl, play basketball, swim, etc.

—For Quality in Foods

When you see a food package bearing Armour's Oval Label, you can rest assured that package contains a food that is safe, convenient and satisfactory—the highest quality on the market.

Armour's Quality Standard is Invariable.

The raw materials used in Oval Label products are the best obtainable. The Armour organization searches out the world's richest food producing districts—and buys their finest. These superior quality foods are then prepared for use under the highest ideals of cleanliness and care by skilled workmen in sanitary plants. Result: Package foods that promote appetite, enjoyment, health.

Armour Oval Label foods are sold in sufficient variety to take a place in every part of the meal. All have the same top-quality that is insured by Armour's facilities for selecting the best foods and preparing and making them in the best way.
