The Colonel

FOREWORD

It has been the aim of the yearbook staff of Centre College for 1957 to publish a book that would contain the essence of life at Centre. To accomplish this end, we have revised and changed where necessary and retained where feasible. Probably the most significant change is in the title. To us the name, The Colonel, seemed more appropriate and descriptive than the somewhat tired and traditional Olde Centre. We hope that this edition of The Colonel will be rewarded with your approval.

THE STUDENT-FACULTY CONGRESS

It is difficult to judge the success of any organization accurately after a trial of only two years. But if the smooth operation and the numerous accomplishments of the Student-Faculty Congress is any indication, Centre's two year-old co-ordinating government body has been a real success. Fred Travis took over as president this year, with the excellent co-operation of Secretary Shirley Barber, Treasurer Dirk Van Allen, and Social Chairman Ann Davis.

In sponsoring the Homecoming Dance, the group experienced band troubles, but the Student-Faculty-Alumni Buffet Supper was a fine contribution to the Homecoming weekend. Assuming the responsibility for co-ordinating activities on both campuses, the Congress sponsored joint orientation activities in the fall with encouraging results.

The suggestion boxes placed on campus brought helpful ideas from students. A Committee headed by Billy Jean Potter evaluated these suggestions, and several were acted upon favorably by the Congress and the administration. Mothers' Day on campus was also successfully sponsored by the Congress.

A constitution revision, initiated by student concern over the method of election of Carnival royalty was voted upon and passed in the spring. Entire responsibility for production of the Carnival, including election of the king and queen was delegated in the constitution to the "C" Club.

Student government elections this year were carried out with much enthusiasm. A convocation was held in which candidates for office were presented to the student body. Elected to head the 1957-58 Congress was Dirk Van Allen.

WOMEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL

This year was a unique one for the Women's Student Council. Under the capable leadership of President Sarah Jo Huff, the women's student body witnessed the introduction of hall committees, a significant revision of the Constitution, the weekly posting and publication of the minutes, and other moves to assure closer co-operation and more interest between the council and the student body. Pajama parties, the annual Christmas dinner, and an Open House were among the numerous events sponsored by the group which contributed to a most successful year.

WOMEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

The organ on the women's campus for enforcing the Honor Code is the Women's Honor Council, successfully headed this year by President Billy Jean Potter. The council plays a vital part in the orientation of freshmen and in informing students and faculty of the standards set forth in the Honor System.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Living up to its expressed purpose of contributing to the social life of the college and co-ordinating fraternity affairs, the I.F.C. this year is proud to have brought Buddy Morrow and his orchestra to play for the highly successful Christmas Dance. The Spring Formal, another highlight of the social year, was also sponsored by the group. Headed first semester by President Fred Stern, and second semester by Roland Kimberlin, the I.F.C. brought under its direction the men's intramural sports activities, and handled the complaints and discipline in the men's dining room.

WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

One of the highest honors on the campus is that of being chosen by a student-faculty committee to represent Centre in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Those seniors outstanding in leadership, ability, and participation in campus affairs deserving recognition in the 1957 edition are pictured above.

YE ROUNDE TABLE

In recognizing students from the junior and senior classes who have outstanding scholastic records, Ye Rounde taps new members at the fall and spring Honors convocations. Members meet to exchange ideas through papers prepared for this purpose. This year's president was Shirley Barber.

CHAIN CLUB

Each year six outstanding freshman women are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and extracurricular activities to become members of Chain Club. Elected this year were Kathy Adams, Susan Edwards, Fan Kitchen, Frances Lambert, Judy McMacon, and Betty Bean Robinson. A girl remains a member during her four years at Centre.

CENTRE CHOIR

Though the choir, under the direction of Mr. Dwight Steere, was unable to go on tour this Spring because of a lack of experienced returnees and soloists, the Centre community witnessed several impressive performances by the vocalists. The annual Christmas program highlighted a season in which the choir sang for weekly chapel programs and at graduation. In April, faculty members, their wives, and others lent talent to the group's pleasing presentation of Handel's "Messiah," directed by Bertram Kelso and accompanied by Mr. Steere. This year's president was Billy Jean Potter; Bill Peterson served as business manager.

THE TUDOR SINGERS

The extensive madrigal singing during the reign of the Tudors of England inspired the name of the newly formed extracurricular vocal group on campus, the Tudor Singers. Directed by Bertram Kelso, the singers took part in the annual Christmas program, presented a program in Lancaster, at a Danville Alumni Dinner, and for the Student Organists' Guild.

THE WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The tremendous success of the W.A.A. this year is reflected in the organization and smooth functioning of the W.A.A. Board, a revision of the constitution, and the decoration of the old women's gym to provide a comfortable and attractive student lounge. Under the leadership of President Marilyn Haan, the W.A.A. has come to be one of the most vital and active organizations on the campus. Intramural sports sponsored by the group included basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, and archery. An awards banquet was held at Old Crow Inn in the spring, at which time the sports trophies and letters were awarded.

THE CENTO

Harrassed at first by printing difficulties, the co-editors Lanny Gregory and Thad Cowan moulded the Cent into a reliable publication reflective of student opinion and impressive in keeping the student body well-informed in affairs of the campus. Through spirited editorials and helpful criticism, the paper played a large role in summarizing campus events and thought for the year.

SENIOR PITKIN

Under the leadership of President Don Kennedy, Vice President John Spears, and Secretary Nancy Johnson, Pitkin members enjoyed a year of semi-monthly luncheon meetings at Second Presbyterian Church. Following the general theme, "Christianity in Vocations," the group heard speakers in the fields of journalism, government, education, and business.

JUNIOR PITKIN

Choosing its members from interested members of the freshman and sophomore classes, Junior Pitkin meets twice a month for luncheon and discussion of subjects dealing with the pertinency of Christianity. Under the advisorship of Dr. Alden Vaughan and Mrs. Katherine Nichols, the group sponsored the film, "Prior Claim," as a project. It was felt that this year Jr. Pitkin incorporated a group spirit and unity unknown in former years. Other officers were Vice Presidents Hugh Coomer and Libby Bishop, Secretary Allan Schweitzer, and Treasurer Jim Higgs. Those students who have completed intermediate Spanish are invited to join the group.

PHI BETA CHI

The science honorary organization which recognizes students with high standings who are majoring in biology, chemistry, and physics, or math majors who are minoring in one of the sciences, Phi Beta Chi meets twice monthly to hear speakers in some field of science. This year's president was Dick Schmalz, Vice President was Joe Hiller, and Secretary was Joy Bartz. Advisors Paul Cantrell and Charles Hazelrigg graciously open their homes two nights a week to informal invasions by this small group of literary aspirants who meet to read and discuss their own manuscripts. Membership in Obiter Scripta is limited to six men and six women and is by invitation. A publication is issued each year in the fall, containing choice selections by members from both the men's and women's groups which meet separately. The club has no officers; a scribe is appointed at each meeting to keep minutes, which often are humorous and somewhat creative.

POLITAN CLUB

Beginning the year's activities with an Open House at the home of Elizabeth Myers in honor of the freshman women, Politan, composed of women students who live in Danville, was successful in bringing about a closer relationship between dormitory and town students. The group initiated the practice of holding its luncheon meetings in the women's dining room. Martha Donahue capably served as president and represented the town girls on the Women's Student Council.

Under the leadership of President Don Jobe, the "C" Club was active in campus affairs this year. The Student Body voted in the spring to grant official power to the club through the Student Congress constitution to help nominate cheerleaders and to take the responsibility of planning and financing the Carnival. Other officers were Vice President Malcolm Roessler, Secretary Herb McGuire, and Treasurer Frank Yeager.

DEBATE

Though few members returned to debate from last year, the group, under the direction of Dr. West Hill and Mr. David Walker sent a representative to the national Pi Kappa Delta speech tournament in South Dakota. Marlene Jones returned with ratings of "excellent" and "good" on extemporaneous and other speeches. Topics for the year were related to the problem of integration.

The 1956-57 school year was another big and encouraging step in the continuing progress Epsilon chapter has made in the past few years. Once again pledging, good pledging, proved to be the key. The end of formal rush saw Beta pledge buttons on 12 of the top men of this year's freshman class. Epsilon has been led this year by three fine presidents, Graham Egerton, Bill Landis, and Bill Kienast. Epsilon's scholastic average has begun to rise and is effecting a strong bid for leadership on campus. In other phases of campus life, Betas contributed to practically every governmental, religious, and athletic organization. Besides the multitude of parties during rush, the high point of Epsilon's social year came in its annual South Sea Island party. All in all, the year was very rewarding for all of us here at the Beta house, for it holds memories of fellowship in the genuine Beta spirit, memories which can never be forgotten.

Delta Kappa Epsilon feels that it has completed a very successful year, ending May, 1957, under the leadership of presidents Thad Cowan and Joe Gormley. In the field of athletics, the Dekes were extremely well represented in all varsity sports, and won the intramural basketball, softball, and handball championships. The Dekes finished second in volleyball and tied for third in football.

While negotiations for a new fraternity house were under way the Dekes completely redecorated the interior of "The Little Barn." The plans for a new house have not been realized as yet, but hope to be in the near future.

Phi Delta Theta has enjoyed another year of congenial friendship and public service. The Chapter enjoyed instructing the patients at the Kentucky State Hospital in the rudiments of basketball during the first semester. At Christmas, a party was given for the children at the Christian Church Orphans Home, and in the Spring, the members painted and cleaned the Home's swimming pool.

On the campus, the Chapter won the intramural trophy for the third consecutive year. Once again, we led the school in scholarship and were fortunate in supplying several of the school leaders, i.e., the President of the Student-Faculty Congress, the editor of The Colonel, and the business manager of the "Cento." Fraternity parties were not infrequent and the well planned Mardi Gras party was the social success of the year. The culminating event of the year was the Carnival, when the Chapter was awarded the much coveted School Spirit Cup.

1956-57 has been an eventful year for Delta Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau. Our parties and other activities have been quite successful. Pictured here are two examples: Quo Vadis, one of our annual events, and our W.A.A. booth. The combo party we had in March turned out to be a great success. Just about everybody on campus was there with their dates.

More improvements have been made on the house this year. The most noticeable is the addition of new shutters on the front of the house. New shrubs have also been added to top off the appearance of the property.

Our membership was increased by a pledge class of thirteen men. Among our upperclassmen, W. G. Begley and Joe Hiller joined the ranks of O.D.K. along with Pete Janicki who was already a member. Joe Hiller also won the Phi Beta Chi Science Fraternity scholarship. David Widmer, Glenn Spalding, Tom Walston, and W. G. Begley are all members in Phi Beta Chi. Under the leadership of presidents Joe Hiller and David Widmer, Delta has completed another memorable year.

Dancing at the SAE Mardi Gras Party.

This has been a good year for SAE. Not only did we celebrate our seventy-fifth year on Centre's campus, but during the past year our brothers have held the presidencies of such organizations as Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Beta Chi, Rounde Table, "C" Club, I.F.C., and Pi Kappa Delta. In keeping with what is fast becoming a Centre tradition, SAE again won the Homecoming Decoration Trophy. Also during the year we re-decorated our house and made needed improvements on the grounds. Although we are quite proud of our record this year, we are looking forward to an even more successful year in 1958.

"Mad Scramble"

year started and coaches Inman and Brumett continued their efforts to mold the few returning lettermen and many freshmen into a good, hard working unit. The season's opener was with Wilmington of Ohio, and although Centre won 13-0, they did so only on the ability of the seniors and juniors on the squad. Frank Yeager, Malcolm Roessler, and H. G. Reed played well to finally defeat the Ohio team. But still if Centre were to have a successful year, our freshmen would have to be called upon, and as yet their ultimate response had not been determined. After downing Maryville of Tennessee 20-13, Centre's next test was with Washington and Lee, a good team that considered the Centre game the highlight of their football year. Again, Centre won and again only by the excellent playing and field generalmanship of the older, more experienced players.

can. The Colonels, on the other hand, seemed to be in for trouble as their own candidate for Little All-American and the work horse of their backfield, H. G. Reed, was going to have to sit this game out because of a leg injury. This game played at the Tennessee school was the most exciting of the year, as the Colonels won 23-17 only by scoring three touchdowns in the final five minutes. It was this game that our freshmen came into their own. Linemen Jack McGuire and Charles Mulloy and halfback Jim Gay were standouts. Although the game was a win for Centre, it was a pyrrhic victory as Frank Yeager broke his foot, promising his retirement for the season, and H. G. Reed again hurt his leg, ending his playing days at Centre. After defeating Georgetown 26-7, Centre now faced Hanover of Indiana, October 27, for the Homecoming Day game. Hanover, a good, rough team, were more than ready to stop the Colonels in their glory.

Hanover's line stops Kimberlin

In front of the largest crowd of the year, the Colonels just couldn't seem to get started. Their timing was off and our defensive unit couldn't stop the line-thrusts of the Indianinas. The brunt of the Colonel attack was carried by halfback Keith Myers and end Malcolm Roessler. Hanover, capitalizing on our mistakes, and playing under a distinct psychological advantage, could do little wrong. The Colonels finally fell 27-13, as proud losing as they had been winning. After making it two straight losses by losing to the University of the South 26-0, we were ready again to start another winning streak. Our final game was to be against Bluffton of Ohio. Bluffton was one of the best small college teams in the nation. They had won their conference, and were riding high in the midst of a twelve game winning streak, which made them two to three touchdown favorites over us. Centre's victory in this game 26-12 was the product of excellent team co-ordination and months of hard work. In winning this final game of the season, Centre College again had a successful year on the gridiron.

In viewing the season as a whole, it would be far from fair to omit our fine coaching staff and athletic department for their obvious part in the forming of this team. The seniors on this team also deserve a great deal of credit for their leadership and ability which were so important in the earlier part of the season. Also a brief look into the future is called for. Centre will have few football worries in the future. The graceful transition from high school athletes into college football players, made by some of our men in the freshman class, is enough to give any season a successful flavor.

COACH JOE BRUMMETT

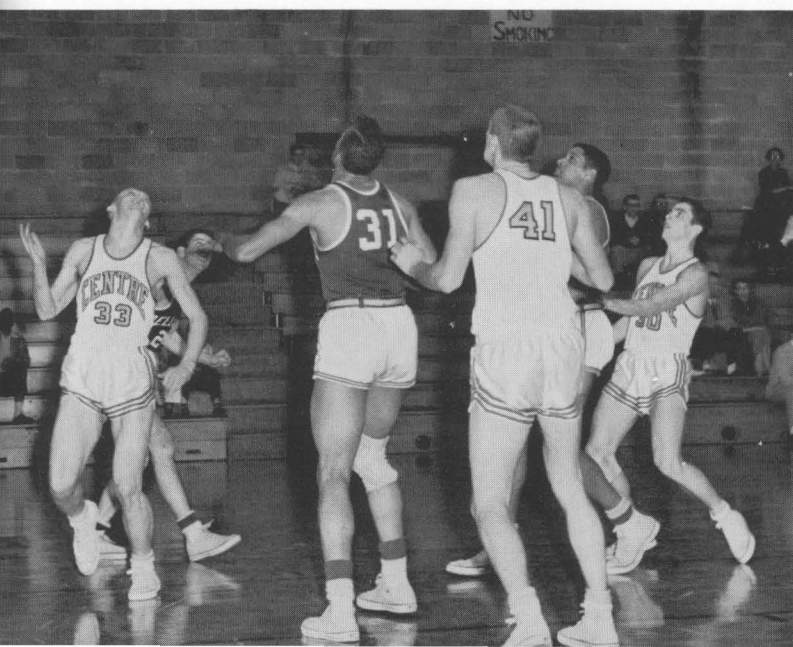

Tully lays up a crisp against Bellarmine

To begin the basketball season at Centre, Coach Brummett had as returning lettermen such outstanding veterans as "Skip" Connell, Phil Fritz, Don Jobe, Pat Tully, and last year's freshman star, Bill Kazee. Supplementing this powerhouse was the provising freshman Steve McMurry. Also lending helping hands were John Grubbs, Jim Thompson and Jim Vermillion. However, Centre showed its full strength only twice at the beginning of the season when it defeated an experienced Transylvania Team by one point, and two games later, achieved a win over Maryville, 79-77. The Colonels got off to a fast start against the seasoned Pioneers of Transy, but fell off midway through the half and trailed Transy until the last four minutes of the half. With seven minutes left to play in the game the score was tied. Gum, Kazee, and McMurry kept the Colonels in the game by bouncing back after many Transylvania efforts to pull ahead. Kazee, in one of his most brilliant performances, tied the game with 40 seconds left to play. The Pioneers scored at the 22-second mark; then, Kazee, the fans roaring and the coaches sweating, pumped the ball through the net for its final trip to win the game for the Colonels, 79-78. Kazee led the scoring against Transylvania with 29 points, followed by Gum and McMurtry, with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

After a loss to Sewanee and a thrilling victory over Maryville, the men on the hardwood fell into a losing swing which they did not recover from until their first game in the K.I.A.C. tournament. They never gave up as was evidenced in the many one and two point losses that the Colonels suffered throughout season.

The formidable strength of the Centre Colonels was displayed to its fullest in the K.I.A.C. tournament at Transylvania in Lexington. Underdogs all the way, the team proved itself a force to be feared in the first round of play by trouncing Berea, 81-69. With the winning spirit restored in them, the Colonels advanced to the finals of the tournament by ousting Union, 73-66 in the semi-final playoffs. Although hindered by the absence of senior Captain Gum, the Centre five fought Conference winners Georgetown to the wire, losing the K.I.A.C. championship game by only one point in the last seconds of play, 89-88. Sophomore Kazee led the Colonels in their outstanding performance in the tourney and was rewarded with a position on the all-K.I.A.C. Selections.

Tully shoots under the basket as Connell and McMurtry follow up.

The final record showed 4 wins and 18 losses. Kazee, for his second year led the team in the scoring column with 427 points followed by Gum with 300, Tully with 193, Jobe with 163, Fritz and Connell with 155 each and McMurtry with 125. Total points scored by the Colonels were 1585.

Yeager watches Stern swing against Union.

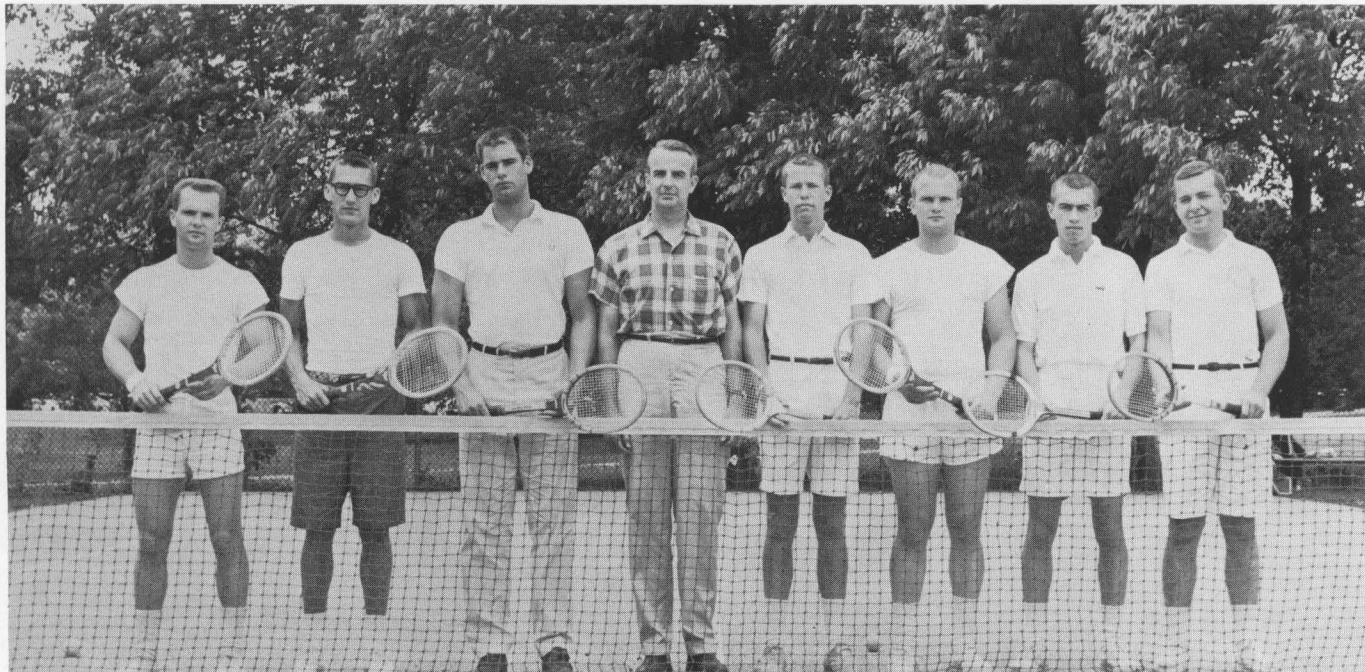

This year's baseball team, hounded by bad weather, had most of their trouble in not being able to practice. For this reason, they had difficulty in finding the peak that has been so typical of Centre baseball teams of the past. Coached by Frank Yeager, the team was short of manpower, a fact which often called for makeshift lineups. The pitching was this year's high spot with Dan Howk, Don Simmons, Jeff Loane, and Dick Schmaltz all doing excellent jobs on the mound. In the batting department, Jack Evans and Norman Youtsey added much strength to our lineup. The prospects for next year look excellent with very few members of this year's team leaving. Also a special word should be said for Coach Yeager who led his team well and did a creditable job catching at the same time.

One of the largest groups in past years reported to Coach Hazelrigg in 1957. The team that he finally molded gave Centre our only winning season in Spring sports. The season ended most successfully as Centre's first man, Fred Travis, became the new K.I.A.C. singles champion. Since only two members of this year's squad were seniors, Fred Travis and Les Long, the future obviously holds many successful seasons for the Centre net men.

Our track team seems to suffer under the excellent participation in the other Spring sports. Although Centre failed to win a single meet in 1957, there were some definite bright spots in the season. Centre boasted probably the best all-round track man in the Conference in David Grissom, who alone picked up 14 points in the conference meet. Also significant on this year's team were dash men David Ray and Roland Kimberlin and distance man Captain Carlos Sasse.

THE YEAR ACTIVITIES

September saw students flocking to Centre—returning upperclassmen and arriving freshmen. At KCW, girls arrive by car, train, bus, and plane to be welcomed by Junior Sponsors and members of the WSC.

During the hectic days of orientation week we covered a lot of ground. A coke party, handbook classes, the pajama party, the SFC picnic for the students.

And back to the "hangout" — to meet old friends and make new ones. Most cherished of Centre traditions is the "hangout" hour in the well-rounded student's curriculum.

At fraternity houses, actives welcomed prospective rushees as activities resumed and rush season opened. About a month later freshmen pledged membership in the six national fraternities on campus.

BEGINS: EVERYWHERE

Standing in line becomes an occupational disease at the first of school, but registration progresses. As newcomers arrive conversation enlivens and discussing classes and hours (I have no first hour classes this semester!) pass the time quickly. Signing for courses, passing a battery of professors and being approved by assorted Deans and councilors we emerge—clutching a receipt, a schedule card, and a triumphant, if weary grin. School has officially started!

The freshman mixer was a highlight of orientation week. The Community room on the Women's Campus was the scene, as incoming freshmen met, chatted and danced.

"The Freshman Serenade" is one of the time-honored events of Hell Week. Reversing usual campus customs, the freshman women, herded by sophomores, serenade the men's residence halls and fraternity houses with school and fraternity songs—only to receive the usual enthusiastic response of eggs, buckets of water, etc. Notice the beanies—the picture was taken after the official "capping ceremony" at the beginning of school.

WELCOME 1957 HOMECOMING

Holiday spirit reigned as Saturday, October 27, dawned — no classes! Freshmen made last minute trips for decorations as old grads arrived. Before the game was the Homecoming Parade. The queen and her attendants, Fraternity Sweethearts, bands, and the ever-present mounted "Colonel" waved to crowds of school and townspeople lining the street as bands played "For the Gold and White."

During the half-time was the annual pajama race by the freshman boys. The last five boys to cross the finish line were to receive public haircuts by "C" Club members — and a mangy-looking crew they were for a few weeks. Victims here are Mark Pilly, Jim Blocksom, and Pete Blaisdell.

Also, Feature Entertainment was a tug-of-war on the football field by more freshman boys.

ALUMNI! WEEKEND

A huge crowd of Centre supporters watched anxiously and cheered frantically as the game progressed. Centre's Colonels lost a well-played game to Hanover, but remained undefeated in spirit. Losing by only one touchdown, the Colonels kept up with the Hanover team to the end—bringing to a close the winning streak we began with Hanover. Now to start a new one!

Homecoming Dance held in Boyle-Humphry gym was obviously an occasion of gaiety—object of the game is to locate a Centre student among all the alums!

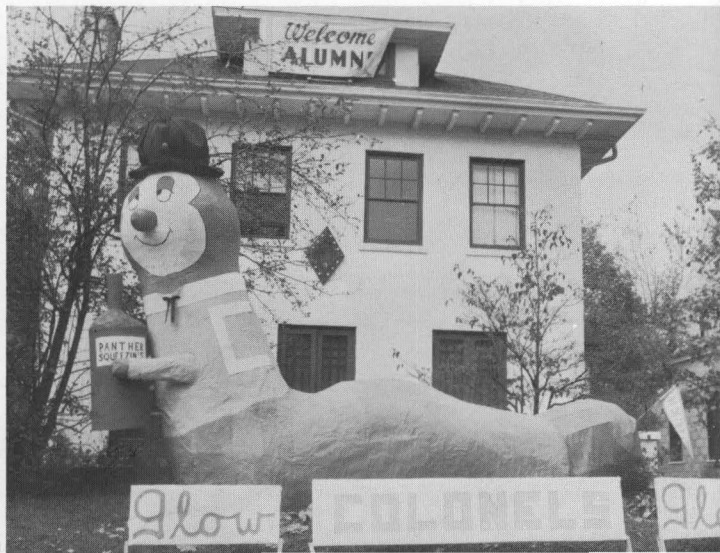

FRATERNITIES GO ALL OUT FOR DECORATIONS AND OPEN HOUSES

After the game were fraternity open houses where everyone was welcome. At the Phi Kappa Tau and Phi Delta Theta houses, shown respectively, students, parents, and friends enjoy refreshments.

Part of halftime activities was the awarding of prizes for the best decorated fraternity houses. Cento editors, Lanny Gregory and Thad Cowen, presented first prize to Fred Stern, Sigma Alpha Epsilon president, for their unusual "Glow-worm," and second prize to Bobby Lewis, Sigma Chi president in recognition of its clever "Dampen the Spirits of Hanover" theme.

SOME HAVE WORKED — AND THERE ARE SOME . . .

Here is the group of thespians whose versatility this year ranged all the way from the rollicking comedy of "My Sister Eileen" to the tragic Shakespearean drama, "Macbeth." Students who are members of The Players assist in play production either in lighting, box office, costume, properties, or acting. Members this year were Frances Lambert, Susan Ball, Lanny Gregory, Susan Habern, Susan Treadway, Thad Cowan, Jim Clarkson, Joan Ditto, Tom Holinshead, Ann Lucas, Bob Uhlhorn, Judy Woodrow, Bob MacDonald, Katherine Williams, Elizabeth Barbour, Mayr Edmonson, Fred Drogula, Katherine Adams, West T. Hill, director; Elizabeth Cooley, Paul Harper, Bob Jaclin, Jim Stewart, Mike Carnicelli, Dirk Van Allen.

"Centre, 138 year old liberal arts college in the heart of the Bluegrass maintains separate campuses for both men . . . and women."

CHRISTIAN EMPHASIS WEEK

Lanny Gregory and Jack Fish, Co-Chairmen of C.E.W. at Centre, confer with Dr. Bartlett and Dr. McKay, speaker of the week. The theme for the week "Faith and Confusion" was carried out in morning chapel services, informal discussions with Dr. McKay, talks at Junior and Senior Pitkin and faculty groups, and bull sessions. Climax of the week was a voluntary Communion Service at the First Presbyterian Church. As the week closed a great many students emerged with a deepened faith.

FALL ACTIVITIES VARIED

Convocation speakers were candidates for Senator from Kentucky, Democrat Earl C. Clements and Republican Thruston Morton.

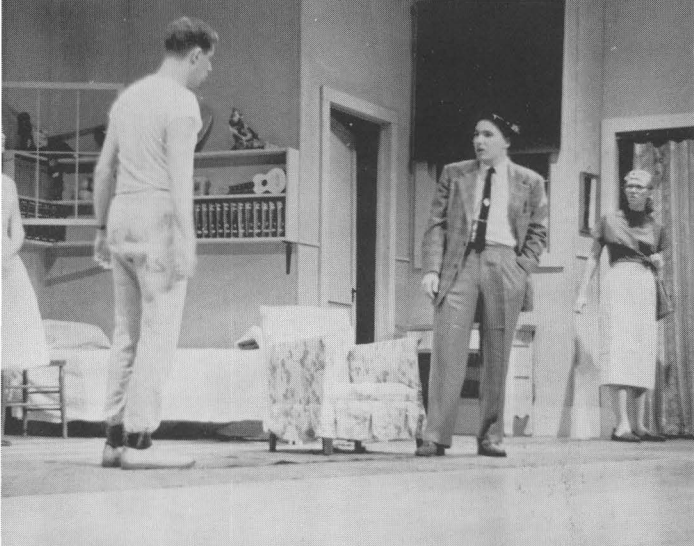

Townspople were invited and political feelings ran high as the debate progressed. Enthusiastic applause greeted each speaker at his first appearance.

Football season drew to a close as we defeated Bluffton 26 to 12. Fooling the expert predictors and perhaps to start another winning streak, the triumphant team carried Coach Brisco Inman off the field.

The annual Freshman Tea held this year at the home of Mrs. Herbert Acton was an occasion enjoyed by all who attended.

... AND MORE ACTIVITIES

"My Sister Eileen" was the year's first production of the Centre Players under the direction of Dr. West T. Hill. Ann Lucas played the fabulous, if brainless, Eileen of the title; Sarah Jo Huff, her older, if not more experienced, sister, Ruth; and Bob Jaclin, Paul Harper, Bob McDonald had key roles in this hilarious presentation of the Broadway hit.

A big event was the Junior Banquet given in honor of the freshman women following the ceremony of "signing the books." The juniors entertained the women's student body royally. In an unusual floor show, the theme of which was Walt Disney's Fantasyland, the spotlighted girls leaped and cavorted against a background of a fairy tale castle.

A regular part of Centre's program is "Centre College Day" at the bloodmobile. Here fraternities and dormitories compete to see who can have the largest percentage of members giving blood.

HAPPY

Christmas Comes! Buddy Morrow was feature orchestra of the 1957 Christmas Dance sponsored by the I.F.C. and S.F.C. The dance held in the Boyle-Humphry gym was a memorable one.

HOLIDAY

The First Presbyterian Church made an impressive background for the annual Christmas Chapel service. The service was a reading of "The Fourth Wise Man" by Professors Paul Cantrell and Gordon Winsor, accompanied by five speech students and directed by Dr. West T. Hill. Effective background music helped to make this an unforgettable occasion.

ANOTHER SEMESTER

In February the Centre Players delighted college and town audiences with the skillfully acted and moving performance of "Anastasia." The title role of Anastasia was played by Joan Ditto and the dowager empress was portrayed by Sarah Jo Huff. Thad Cowen, Paul Harper, Bob Jaclin, and Jim Stewart had other important roles.

Eliza Hundley and Ollie Spenser were crowned Valentine Queen and King by Dr. Charles T. Hazelrigg at the annual Valentine Dance held at K.C.W. These two, representing the Sigma Chi Fraternity and Third Floor West, received the most penny-votes, the proceeds going to Sharit. Looking on are Mary Jo Settle representing the DKE Fraternity and Skippy Sasse Co-chairman of Sharit.

BIG DOINGS AT KCW

A gala event was the opening of the long-awaited recreation centre in the renovated women's gym. An all-school event, dinner was served cafeteria style and eaten upstairs in the redecorated rooms. A group of students, club and fraternity booths, music and laughter, made the W.A.A. Carnival a big success.

Here an unusually attentive Centre audience sits spellbound during an informal convocation program. The "spellbinder," Mr. Paul Cantrell, demonstrated with innate poise and complete naturalness the beauty of folk ballads.

SPRING ARRIVES

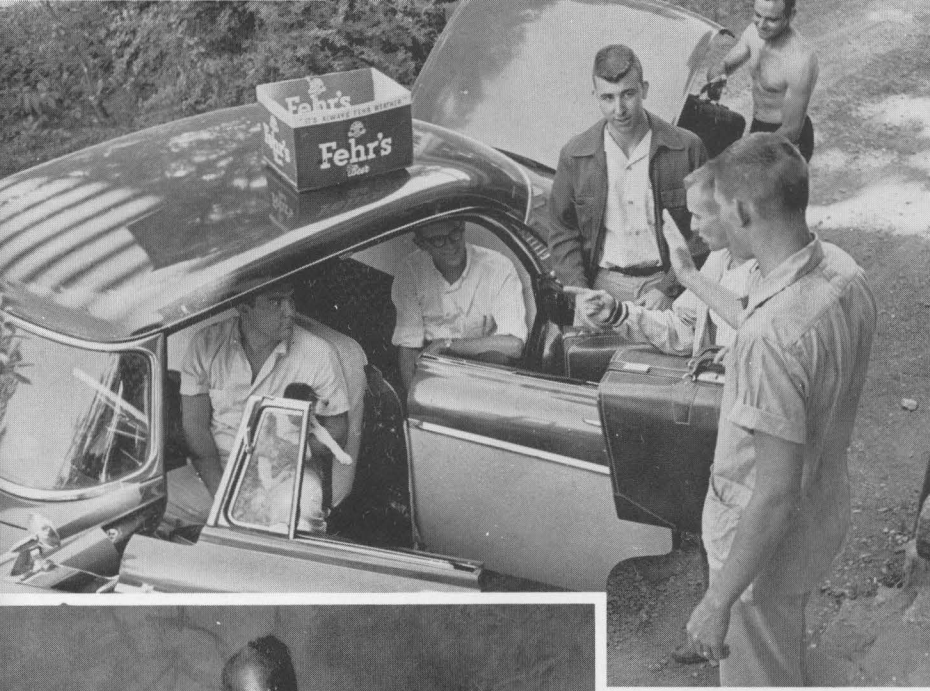

The Pre-Easter Season was a frenzy of activity. Preparing for the Florida migration, we took time out for tests, dances, sun bathing and talent shows. Shown above is part of the Senior Women's Variety Show. On the left West Hall Calender Girls and on the right are the Beta Beauties—truly a vision of delight.

Following the Sigma Chi Sweetheart Dance and the freshman girls' backwards dance was the I.F.C. Spring Formal. Shown here are fraternity sweethearts and dates: Miss Judy McMakin and Al Prewitt, Sigma Chi; Mr. and Mrs. David Ray, DKE; Miss Elizabeth Meyers and Bill Peterson, SAE; Mr. and Mrs. Gra Egerton, Beta; Miss Pat Bales and Kenny Jaegers, Phi Delt; Miss Mary McKenzie and Mal Keiller, Phi Tau. They danced to the music of Cliff Butler until twelve, then went home to wait the few hours left before vacation.

MOTHER'S DAY WEEKEND

Coming back from vacation we immediately rushed into the activities of Mothers' Day. The outstanding event of this weekend was the performance of "Macbeth" produced by The Centre Players. Joan Ditto and Fred Drogula were great in their roles of Lord and Lady Macbeth.

The main performers were ably assisted by a talented supporting cast.

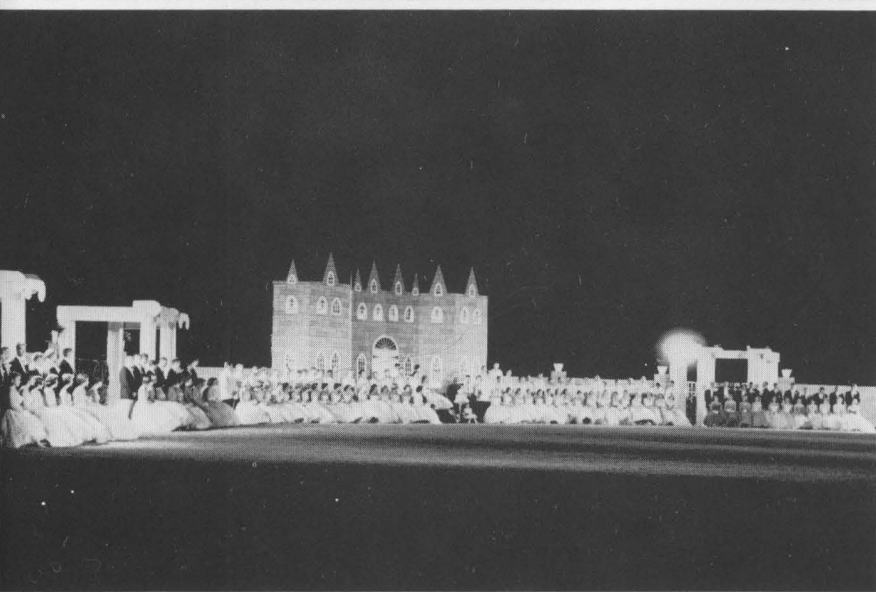

On Saturday following events in golf, track, tennis and baseball, a buffet supper was served to students and their parents in the Boyle-Humphry gym.

END OF THE YEAR

A tea at Evans House in May was given by the Juniors in honor of the Senior Women.

At the Gardenia Dance, sponsored each year by the freshman boys, Miss Judy McMakin was crowned queen by John Sturgis.

Outstanding students are recognized each year at the spring Honors Convocation. Dr. Walter Groves returned to Centre, after recently announcing his resignation as President, to be speaker of the day and present the awards. Following a speech of farewell and congratulations to students, faculty and friends, he received a standing ovation of tribute for his interest and service for the college.

CARNIVAL TIME ONCE AGAIN . . .

Beautiful weather favored the campus on May 30 as the football field at Farris Stadium was transformed suddenly into the scene of a medieval castle, complete with knights and their ladies in flowing gowns, and of course . . . a King and Queen. Sarah Delozier and Steele Harmon returned as the 1956 royalty to crown Joy Bartz and Frank Yeager as deserving monarchs of the Carnival Festivities. Dr. Charles Hazelrigg served capably as master of ceremonies, as the school spirit cup was awarded and athletes received their letters. It was Charlie Blair's music at the Carnival Dance, which was based on the theme of "Centre Knight Life." A social committee headed by Ann Kavanaugh was in charge of decorations and arrangements for the dance.

A medieval castle, a King and Queen and their royal inner court . . .

Bob Manchester and Russell Travis proudly accept for the Phi Delts.

Here are more glimpses of the Carnival to remind us of the big final weekend. The coveted school Spirit Cup was awarded to Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and presented by the President of the Student Body for 1957, Dirk Van Allen.

With exams over, we all relaxed, underclassmen left for home, and Seniors eagerly awaited

. . . GRADUATION

Even at the dance, we hardly noticed that we were tired . . .

The college marshals.

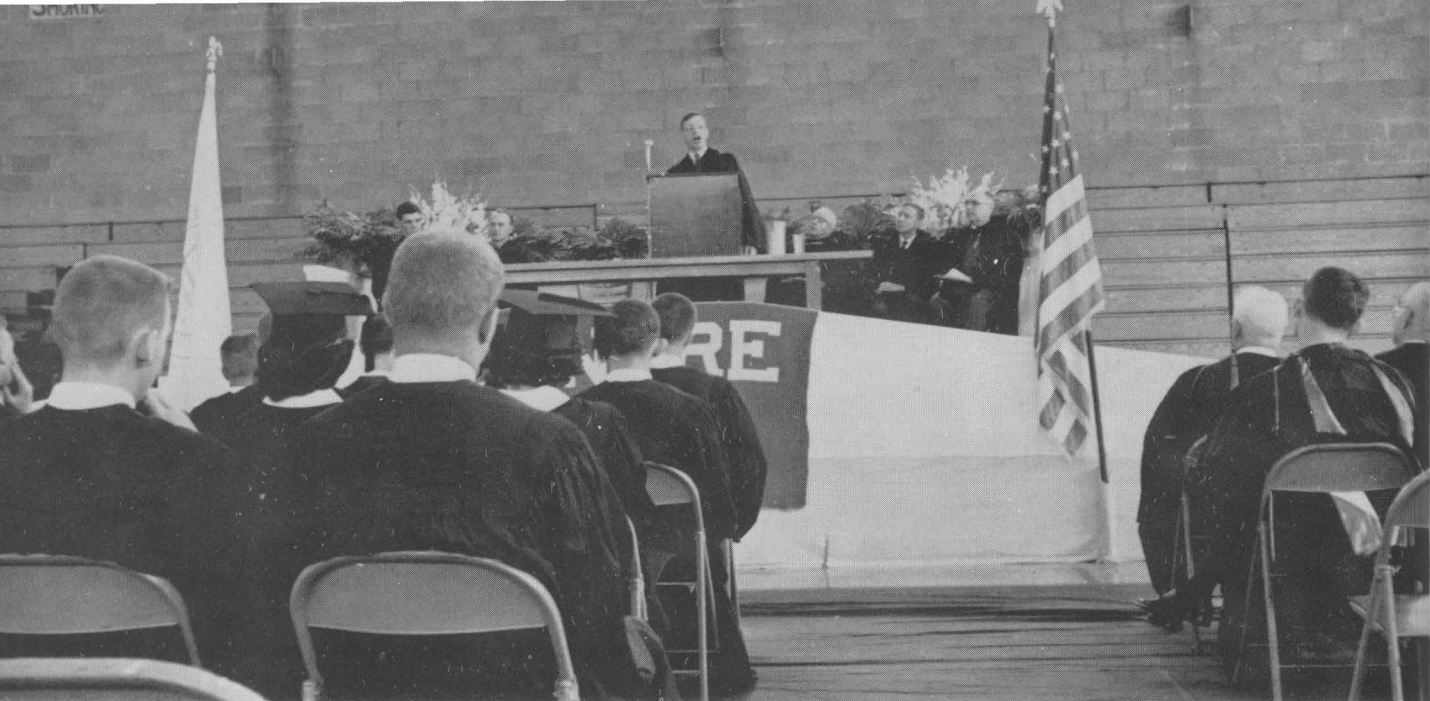

AT LAST . . .

Along the sidewalk toward the stadium, Seniors, the choir, Faculty, and Trustees marched toward baccalaureate in the morning and graduation in the evening of Sunday, June 2. Dr. Walter Groves presented diplomas for the last time as president of the college. There were eighty-seven graduates.

The twelve top-ranking Junior men and women serving as college marshals for the occasion were: W. G. Begley, Burns Brady, Jim Pierce, Jim Russell, Glenn Spalding, Dirk Van Allen, Emily Carpenter, Ann Davis, Nancy Ray, Ann Parker, Sally Rogers, and Patricia Vincent.

The commencement speaker, Sherman Adams, with Sen. Cooper.

The Baccalaureate Service.

Seniors knew that at the Baccalaureate Service and the commencement exercises they were to be together as a class for the last time. But it was a time long awaited. The future was ahead.
