Olde Centre 1974
Centre College of Kentucky

In the background of such national changes as Watergate and the fuel shortage, Centre felt its own changes in the form of increased enrollment and physical expansion.

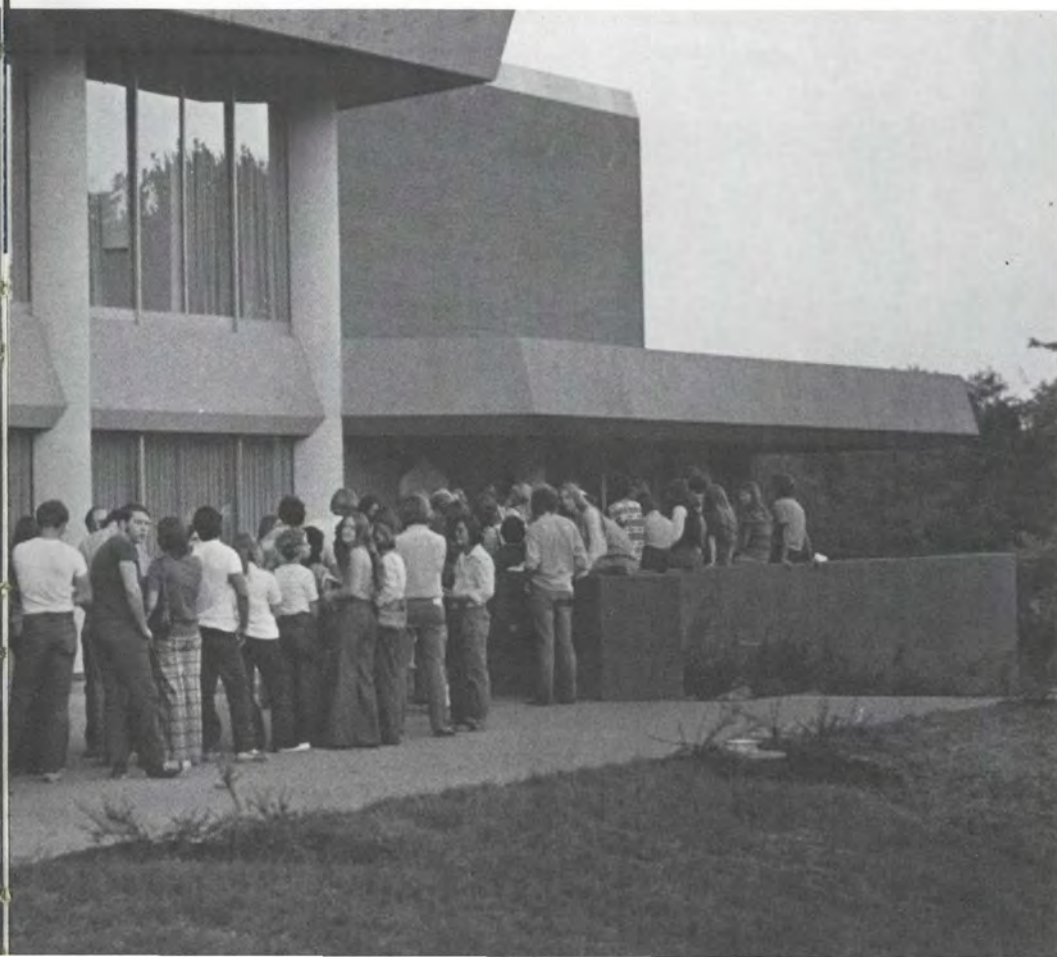

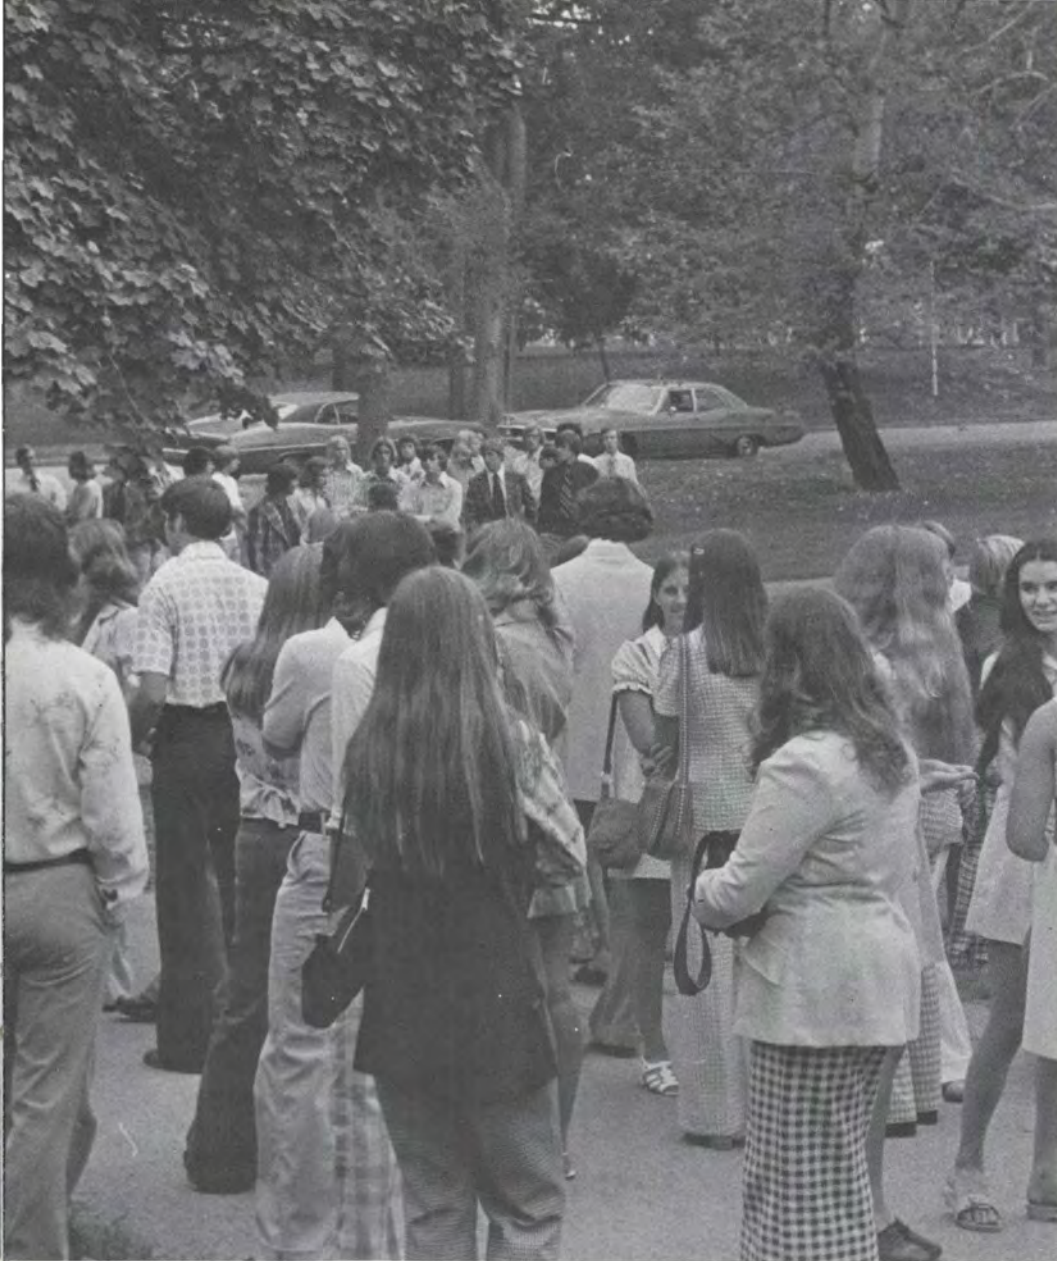

The largest building effort in the college's history, the Regional Arts Center spurred Centre dramatically into the present, while still clinging to its fondly held traditions.

Suddenly there are lines, long lines, for everything; perhaps Centre has jeopardized something important in its expansion.

Yet amidst all the crowds, Centre maintains most of the advantages of a small college and every person has not become a nameless face.

The intimacy and privacy are still there — it just takes a little more effort to find them.

More students made more stringent policy necessary all over campus. Bikes were registered, books checked out with full names, and meal tickets became the fourth necessity of life.

Hovering between the old and the new,
Centre
destroyed and built — always with the future
in mind.

Students also built — not structures, but more intangible things like talents and friendships.

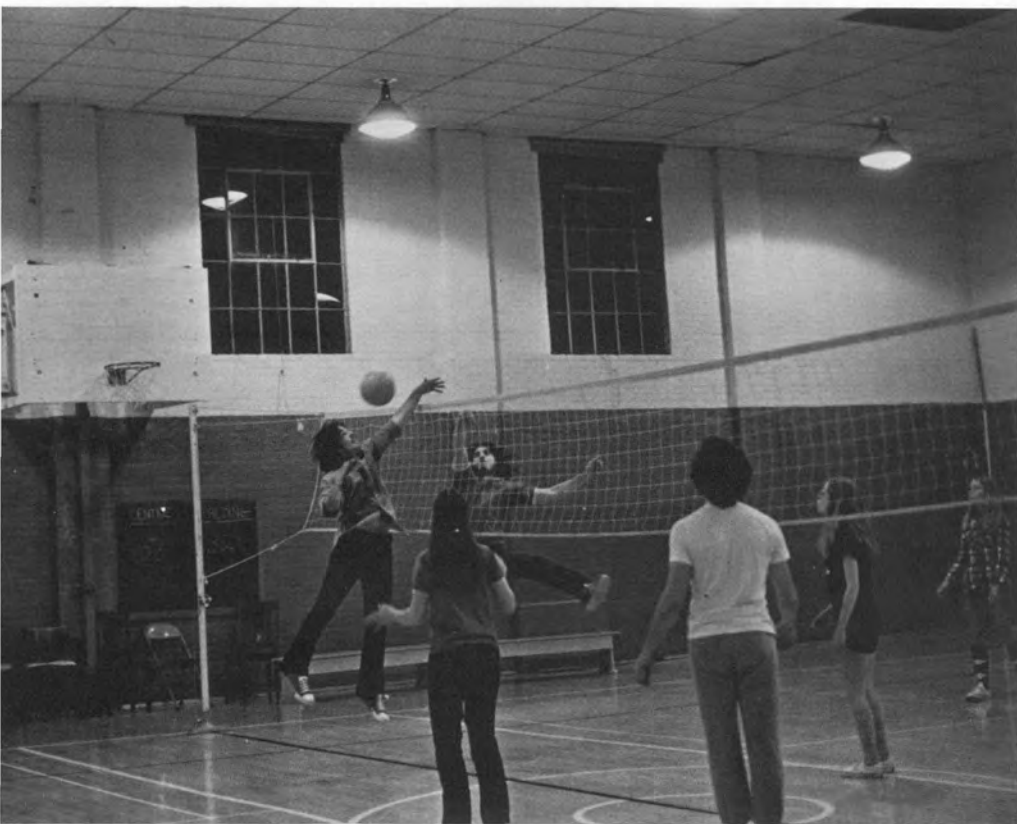

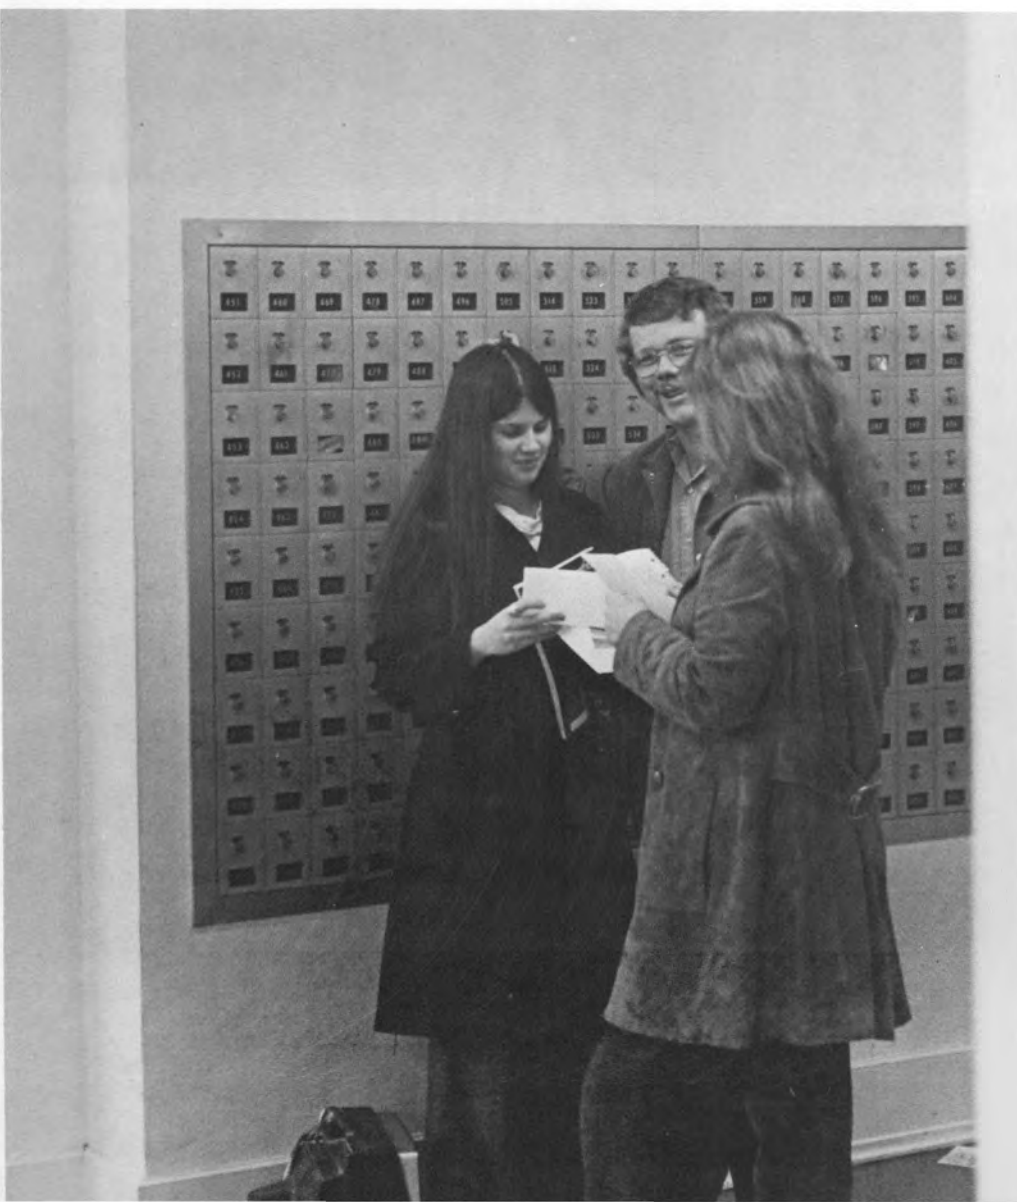

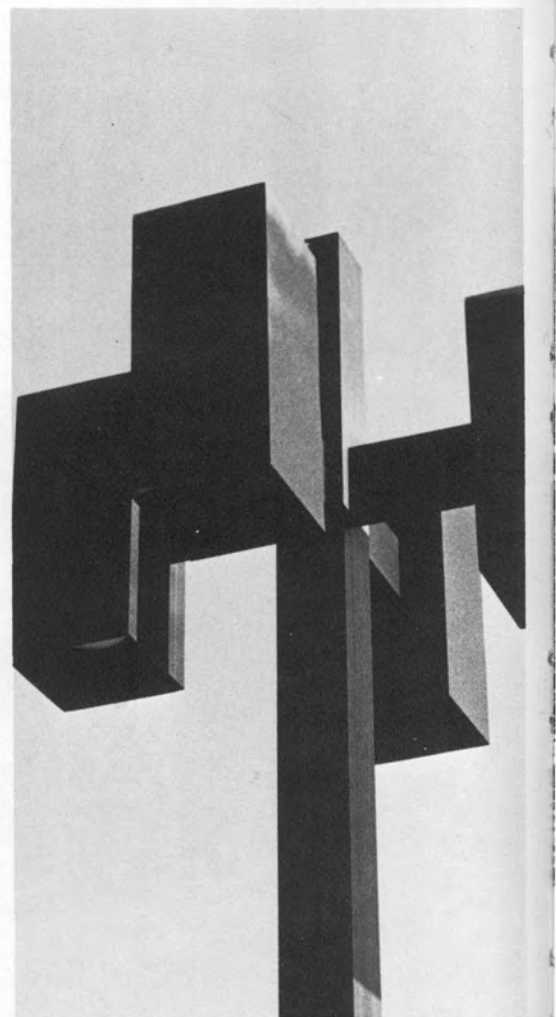

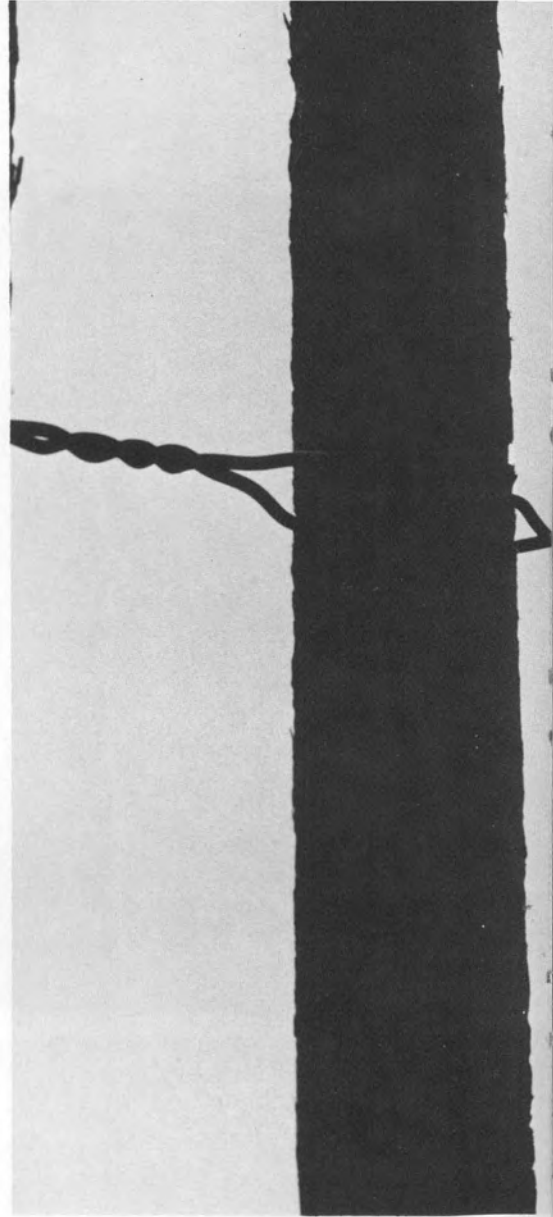

Alone,
in large groups
or small,
there is a sense of unity.

Each student adds something to Centre when he arrives, and invariably takes a little of Centre away when he leaves.

events

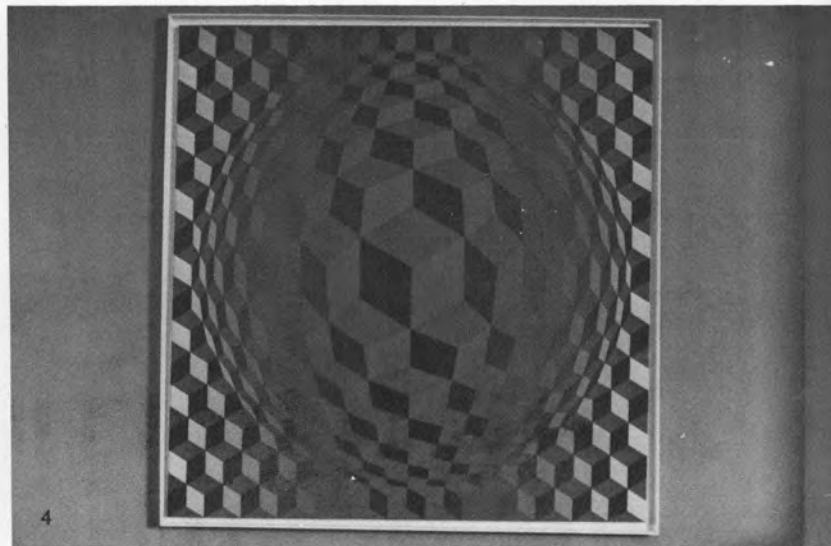

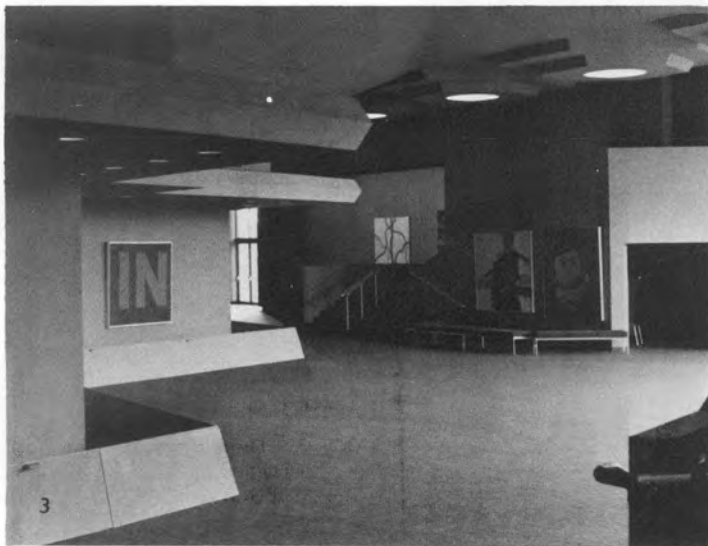

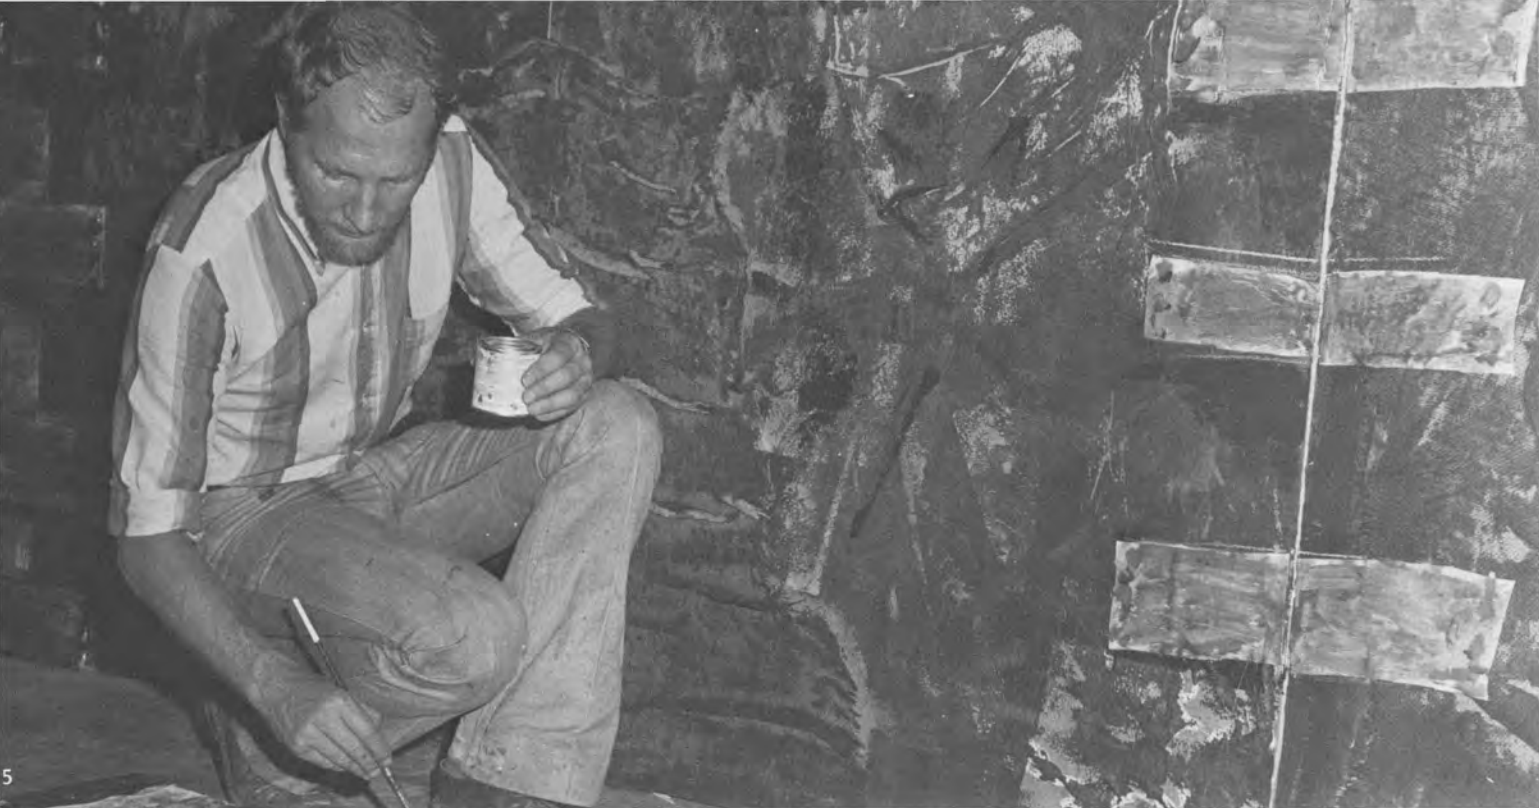

To help celebrate the opening of the Regional Arts Center, the College received a long-range loan of twenty-six canvases from the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum. Part of its permanent collection of Painting, this is the first exhibition in a gallery other than a major museum.

Postwar

1/Thomas R. Messer, director of the Guggenheim, examines Jan Muller's JACOB'S LADDER 1958. 2/ The collection includes works by: L-R, Sam Francis, Pierre Soulages, Maria Helena Vieira da Silva, William Baziotes and Martin Barre. 3/IN by Roy Lichtenstein, 1962, catches the visitor's eye upon entering the Grand Foyer, along with works by Alejandro Obregon and Fernando Botero. 4/ CHEYT-M, 1970 by Victor de Vasarely. 5/ Reinhard Heinrich works backstage painting the set. 6/Luralyn Lahr and Matt Reckard help construct the scaffolding, which, Heinrich commented, gives "the audience an impression of a huge cage."

The Kentucky Opera Association opened the Regional Arts Center with Verdi's "Otello," one of the world's most honored operas.

Maestro Moritz Bomhard conducted, and Reinhard Heinrich, Head of the Costume Department for Germany's famed Beyreuth Opera Festival, designed the set and costumes.

Centre College celebrated the Dedication of the Regional Arts Center on November 2 with a dedicatory convocation and gala. A. Chauncey Newlin declared in the Dedication that the center was like a baby

—“easy to conceive but hard to deliver.”

Honorary degrees were awarded by the College to Nancy Hanks, Carl Dewey Perkins and William Wesley Peters. The Detroit Symphony Orchestra performed at the gala.

1/At intermission guests filled the gallery to enjoy the Guggenheim collection. 2/Nancy Hanks, Chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts, is greeted by A. Chauncey Newlin, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the College, after she delivered the dedicatory address. 3/The Detroit Symphony Orchestra. 4/Rafael Fruhbeck de Burgos, Musical Director of the National Orchestra of Madrid, conducts the Detroit Symphony. 5/Brazilian pianist, Christina Ortiz.

The subscription series of events began with the colorful

Krasnayarsk Dance Company
of Siberia.

Rod McKuen presented the World Premiere

of his symphonic work,
"The City," with
the Louisville Orchestra,
and E. Power Biggs,
despite rumors of illness,
performed on the new Casavant organ.

Power Biggs, internationally renowned organist.

With his head and clarinet
glistening,

Pete Fountain dazzled
the audience with
New Orleans jazz.
Vivian Blaine
displayed her versatility

in "Twigs," while Cincinnati provided two excellent performances —
one by the Symphony Orchestra
and one by the Ballet Company, which closed the highly successful
Subscription Series.

1/ Pete Fountain and his ensemble pose after the performance with Dr. Herzog. 2/ Thomas R. Schippers conducting the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. 3/ Vivian Blaine is seen playing one of four diverse roles in George Furth's comedy "Twigs". 4/ The region's most honored dance company, the Cincinnati Ballet Company, entertained with a repertoire of ballets in classical and contemporary styles.

On an October day
threatening rain,
Centre students gave a

Salute

to Danville. The traditional parade, game, concert and dance were part of festivities

of Homecoming.
At halftime of the game against Sewanee, Shelby Geist was also saluted as queen.

1/Shelby Geist waves to the crowd along the parade route. 2/Homecoming queen candidates, L-R, Rita Kiricenkov, Terry Wingfield, Shelby Geist, Ketah Gaillard, Susan Neal, Debby Ely. 3/Senior women salute Danville. 4/Centre defensive linemen Derek Wade (78) and Joe Fisher (89) converge for a tackle on a Sewanee ball carrier. 5/Taurus provides music at the dance Saturday night.

1/The Dixon dart game was a favorite at the fair. 2/A pledge helps George Guerrant operate the Sigma Chi booth. 3/Tom Norton and Mark Yeager feed information into the handwriting analysis computer. 4/Raven provided music at the Friday night dance. 5/Louise and the Breezettes entertain with a rendition of "My Boyfriend's Back." 6/ Nancy Breeze as Louise. 7/"Oh wow!" First place winners Robert Kingsolver, Rick Roberts and Noble Noel.

As winter term drew to a close, students enjoyed the activities of weekend. A dance with Raven and coffeehouse movies highlighted Friday night. Saturday saw Sutcliffe change from a fairgrounds to the site of the talent show, which drew a large crowd of interested and involved spectators. The weekend wound up with a movie and refreshments in Sutcliffe.

The freshmen decided to turn back the clock to the 50's for a dance Friday night, and return to the 70's for a formal dance on Saturday of

Gardenia

Weekend. The recently-founded tradition of "turnabout" was continued this year, so the men sat by the phone awaiting a call for a date.

1/ The activities of the weekend were ably coordinated by Bron G. Schmit. 2/ The sale of freshmen women to earn money for Gardenia drew a large crowd of interested buyers. 3/ The Court, chosen by the freshmen men to reign over the weekend, includes Pam Gibson (Queen), Suzanne Ernst, Carole Howard, and Jane Joplin. 4/ Winners of the 50's dance contest.

Instead of a Carnival

Queen, apathy

reigned over the Spring Weekend.
The long-standing tradition of pageantry and regal courts disappeared
from Centre.
The only reminder that it was Carnival
was the Spring
Sing on a sunny
Sunday afternoon.

1/ A dance was held Friday night in the Sutcliffe Ballroom. 2/ The Spring CAC tournament added more activity to Carnival weekend. 3/ The Sigma Chi fraternity took first place in the annual Spring Sing. 4/ The men from Cotton House placed second in the Spring Sing event.

After final examinations had been completed, a number of social activities were held prior to graduation. The 151st took place in the Concert Hall of the Regional Arts Center on Sunday, June 2.

Commencement

1/ Valedictorians of the 1974 graduating class were Sally Lou Paulson and James L. Lindle. 2/ Led by Charles G. Vahlkamp, Faculty Marshal, the 1974 graduating class makes its way to the Concert Hall for Commencement exercises.

academics

Centre has grown as a college community in terms of new facilities and increased enrollment, as the Administration

tries to remedy challenges presented by such expansion. Meanwhile, back at the solutions to all problems have not been found, but communication between students and administrative members remains open.

As a smaller college, Centre administrative members face student demands for increased services. Unknown to the prospective students who tour Doherty daily, the library has undergone serious self-study.

Volumes in the library and audio-visual services are increasing, along with everything else.

1/Clayton E. Stoess, James B. Evans, and Mary Anne Martin, Admissions Counselors, decide who will give the next student tour. Rob Partin, missing from the picture, was elected. 2/When he's not in Doherty, Director of Libraries John R. May enjoys sitting where he can look out, on the Doherty fire escape. 3/Pausing between aid request forms, Financial Aid Officer Violetta Shearer relaxes from her duties. 4/Director of Housing, Food Services, and Professor of Fine Arts, Katherine Nichols returns to Danville's unpredictable weather from a winter trip to Florida. 5/Talmadge Warren, Director of Residence and Counseling, watches for troublemakers outside the Post Office. 6/It's not easy to follow in George Benson's footsteps as Audio-Visual Director. 7/Harold H. Smith, Dean of Admissions and Instructor of Economics and Management, makes a last-minute call before a prospective meeting in Louisville. 8/Thomas L. Hensley, Director of Alumni Affairs, escapes the Nevin crew during office hours. 9/Margaret M. Frisbie, Director of Information Services, chops the informational barrier surrounding Centre.

Organized team sports have been bolstered by the popularity of

and intramural sports this year. Shouts of volleyball teams and badminton duos fill East Hall, as individual dorms and fraternities compete for first prize. Regardless of sports ability, everyone from "crank" to Colonel saw some action on the courts.

1/Herbert McGuire, Assistant Professor of Physical Education and Football Coach, awaits a bigger and better season. 2/Sig Lawson, Swim Coach and Instructor in Physical Education, demonstrates life-saving techniques to Elizabeth Stablein. 3/Steele Harmon, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, enjoys racketball during off-season. 4/Briscoe Inman, Associate Professor of Physical Education and Wrestling Coach, anxiously watches a close match. 5/Kitty Baird, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, packs her dog and casuals for a camping trip. 6/Thomas Bryant, Chairman of the Physical Education program and Athletics Director, exhibits his displeasure at a referee's call. 7/Sally Bunnell, Associate Director of Residence and Counseling and Physical Education Instructor, congratulates Barbie Reed and Sharon Hartmann after a victory. 8/Annette Caruso, Director of Sutcliffe Hall and Instructor in Physical Education, chats with Nancy Merrill between volleyball games.

1/Conrad Shiba, Instructor in Physical Science, alternates between banjo and guitar playing after office hours. 2/Caught before noon in his office, David A. Murphy, Instructor of Chemistry, relaxes before his next class. 3/William C. Sagar, Chairman of the Science and Math Division and Professor of Chemistry, takes a short break from his lab at Young Hall. 4/John H. Walkup, Professor of Chemistry, and Roy Ellis, Professor of Physics, return from lunch for their 12:30 classes. 5/P. Marshall Wilt, Associate Professor of Chemical Physics, rolls his Cessna out of the hanger for a Sunday flight. 6/Otis K. Wolfe, Jr., Associate Professor of Physics, assists senior Ron Cassell. 7/Charles A. Girard, Associate Professor of Chemistry, shows his musical ability on the Steinway at the Regional Arts Center.

Perhaps the new integrative studies course,

Creative Man

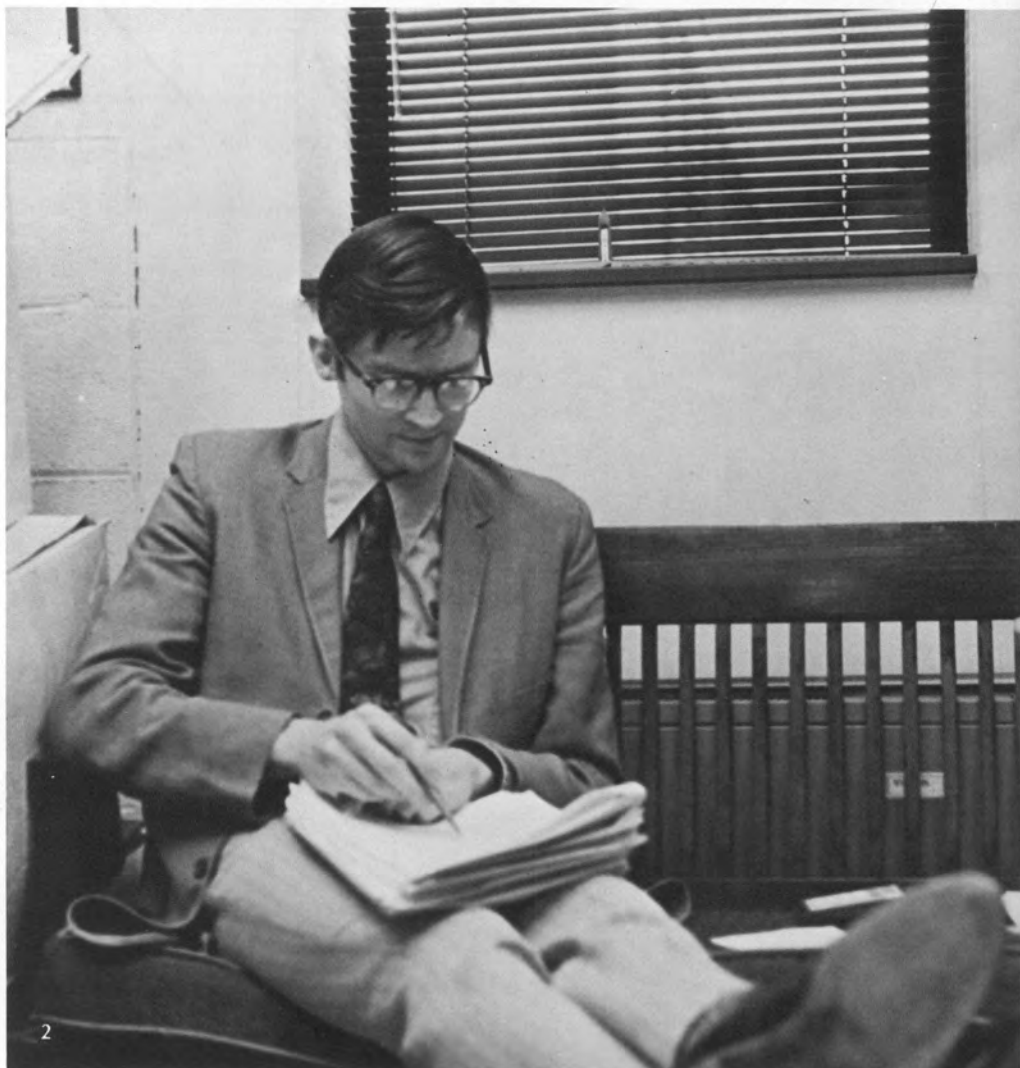

in the Sciences, best describes Centre's Physical Science Program. Dr. Ellis engineered the acquisition of a teletype machine that prints weather maps, while Dr. Girard assisted the Pre-Med Society in setting up a volunteer program at Ephraim McDowell Hospital. Conrad Shiba joined the faculty this year.

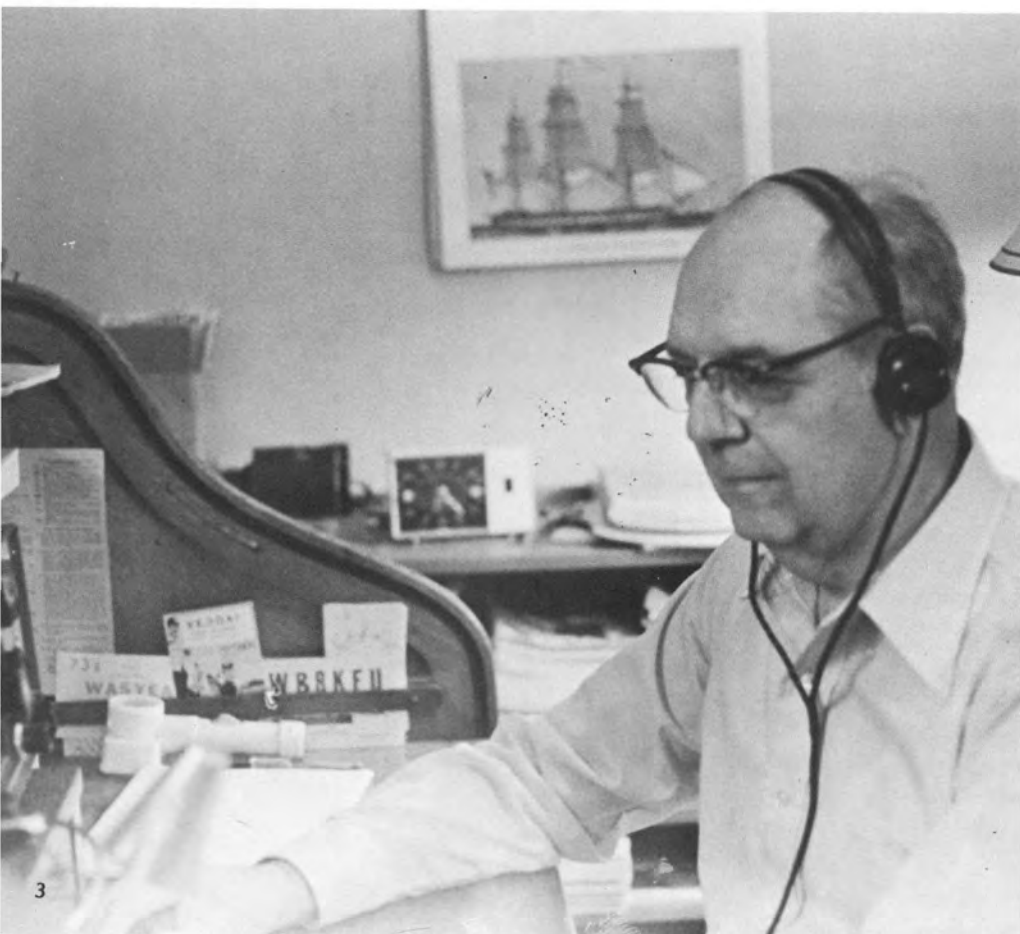

The Mathematics program and faithful 8:30 a.m. math students will miss who is retiring this year after a long teaching career at Centre. The department was joined this year by Robert Piziak, who helped handle increased enrollment in the statistics program. Charles E. Whittle, Professor of Physics and Applied Mathematics, spent winter and spring terms at Oak Ridge National Laboratory along with three Centre students.

1/William H. Owens (Center), Associate Professor of Applied Mathematics, watches the Colonels as they hold a one point lead. 2/Robert Piziak, Visiting Assistant Professor of Mathematics, clears a spot in his office to grade statistics tests. 3/Wilbur J. Robinson, Professor of Mathematics, shows his expertise as an amateur ham radio operator. 4/ Andre Brousseau, Assistant Professor of Mathematics, demonstrates his skill at the pottery wheel. 5/Dorothy Nelms, Associate Professor of Mathematics, takes time out for coffee in the Hangout.

In recent years Centre has been exceptional in the number of entering freshmen interested in careers. Possible plans include teaching Life Science 11-12 in the summer preceding freshman year, with emphasis on the laboratory program. Also planned are a spring historical archaeology course at Shakertown, and a summer field school headed by Dr. Janzen.

1/Brent C. White, Assistant Professor of Psychology, briefs students before exams. 2/Frederick M. Brown, Assistant Professor of Psychology, freezes in Centre's first snow of '74. 3/Ben T. Feese, Assistant Professor of Biology, spends a full Wednesday afternoon experimenting in Young Laboratory. 4/Frederick Loetscher, Professor of Biology, supervises cat dissection in Young Hall. 5/Away from the Young greenhouse, Craig Zimmerman, Assistant Professor of Biology, enjoys playing the drums. 6/Donald Janzen, Associate Professor of Anthropology, examines the days' dig with Mary Hutchins. 7/Donald H. Brown, Assistant Professor of Psychology, is an avid soccer coach and fan. 8/Ray K. Hammond, Assistant Professor of Biology and Biochemistry, spends a Saturday afternoon on the hunt.

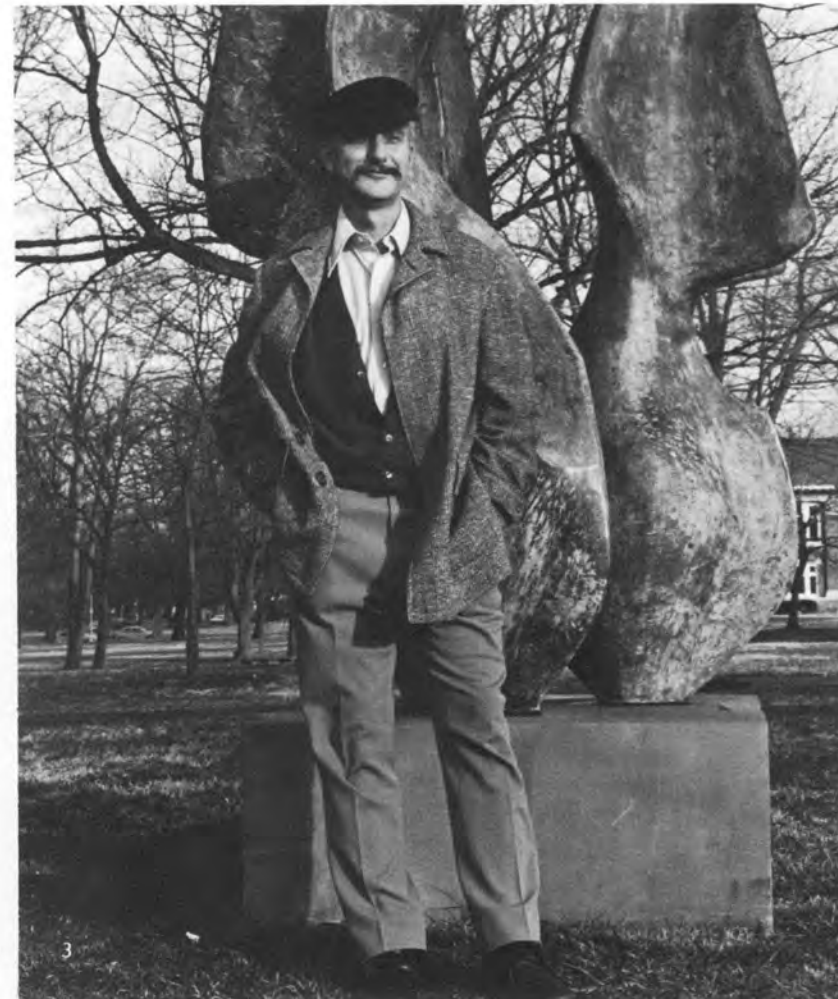

The Literature and Philosophy program continues to be a well-established

one at Centre. Shortly after leaving Centre, Maxine Kumin (Writer-in-Residence 1972-73) received the Pulitzer Prize. Plans for next year include the Writer-in-Residence program.

1/Energy-minded Milton Reigelman, Assistant Professor of English, bikes to classes. 2/Reva Wells Chrisman, Assistant Professor of English, is led by her dalmation across campus. 3/Paul L. Cantrell, Professor of English, pauses before the "Flame" after Integrative Studies. 4/R. Bruce White, Assistant Professor of English, spends an afternoon at home with his wife Roberta, Associate Professor of English, and their three cats. 5/Mary Sweeney, Professor of English, hurries to her class in the McClure Room. 6/Centre students know it's the last day of classes when Charles T. Hazelrigg, Professor of English and Chairman of Humanities, dons his Christmas vest. 7/Helen Carey, Assistant Professor of Philosophy, ponders "the nature of man."

Special events, trips abroad,
and tentative plans for Language Houses add up to success

for the Language Program this year. Spanish students, under the direction of Dr. Brodey, spent winter term in Spain. Back on campus, Egils Macs joined the faculty.

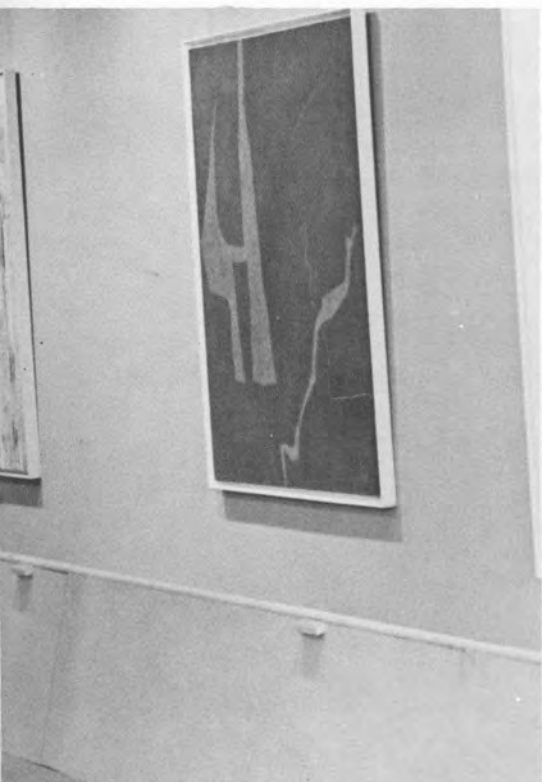

1/Shirley Walker, Instructor in French, strikes a familiar silhouette as she clears the halls of Evans. 2/Joseph P. Elias, Assistant Professor of Classics and German, gestures to his scholars. 3/Leonard DiLillo, Associate Professor of Spanish, leaves his "office" in the Hangout for a break in the language lab. 4/Jacqueline C. Freeman, Assistant Professor of French, pauses before tackling a briefcase of evening studies. 5/Egils Macs, Instructor in Spanish, reviews Latin American Literature before class. 6/Vivana Brodey, Assistant Professor of Spanish, returns in the spring from off-campus study. 7/Charles G. Vahlkamp, Associate Professor of French, keeps his eye open for team mistakes during the basketball season.

Innovation

is the key to success of the Fine Arts Program this year. The Regional Arts Center is a center for galas and internationally renowned performers, but also serves to spotlight college talent. Set design and dramatic variety have been noteworthy. The Music program has an added acquisition, the new Casavant organ.

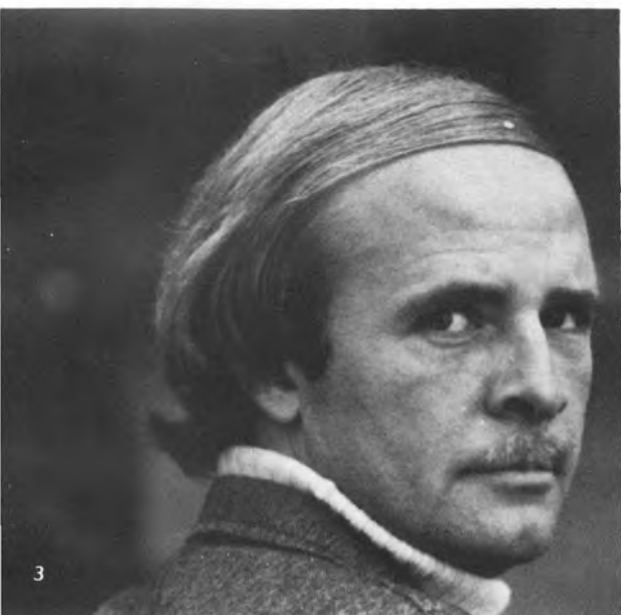

1/West T. Hill, Professor of Dramatic Art, returns from winter term in England to catch up on theatre news in the workshop. 2/Christopher F. Wilson, Instructor in Dramatic Art, views the stage area in the concert hall before finalizing plans for a concert. 3/Floyd Herzog, Director of the Regional Arts Center, views the Guggenheim Exhibit. 4/Marilyn Somville, Associate Professor of Music, gazes through the window of her new office in the Arts Center. 5/J. Michael Calitri, Assistant Professor of Dramatic Art and Technical Director of the RAC, squeezes in a student interview as he stops for a quick meal. 6/Robert L. Weaver, Assistant Professor of Music, demonstrates the acoustics in the Concert Hall on the Casavant Organ. 7/Gaylord W. French, Assistant Professor of Music, ponders a choral arrangement of "Mary Poppins" as he is caught by a frequent Danville shower.

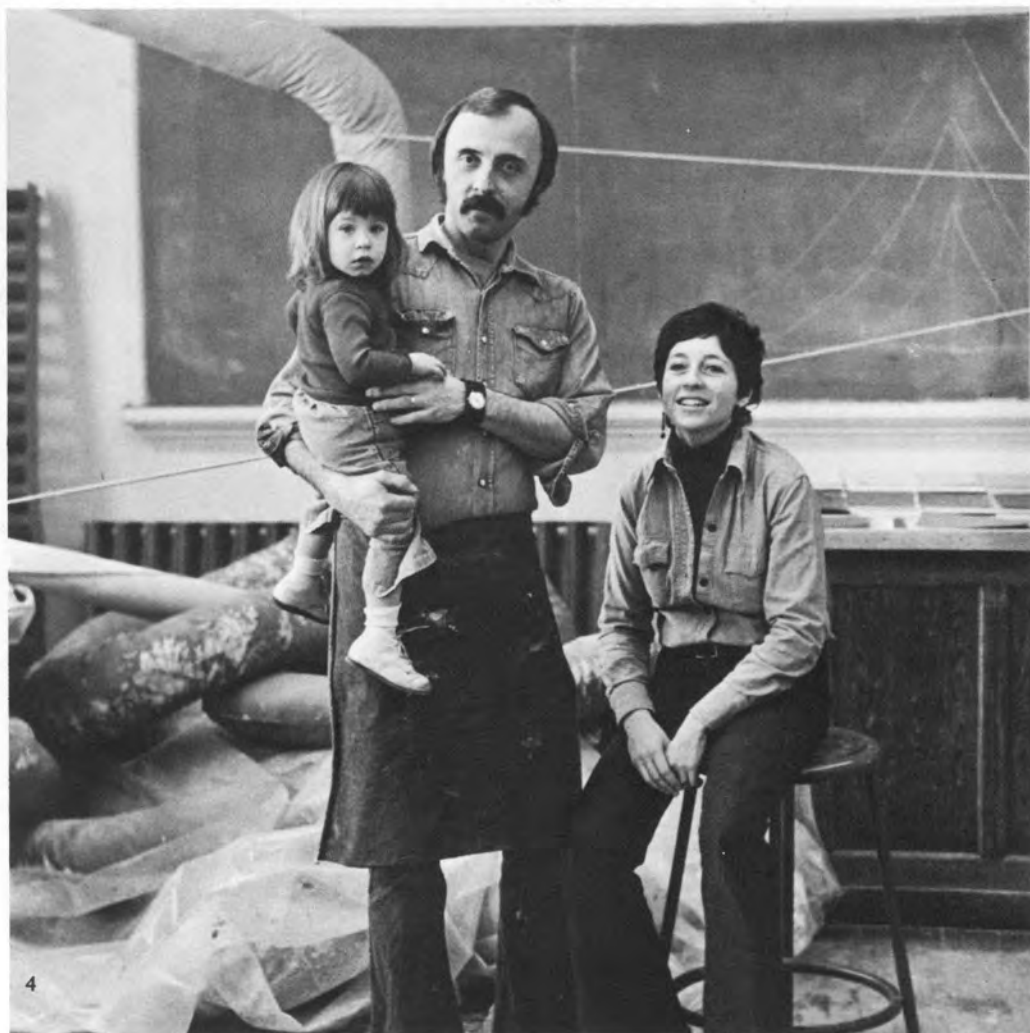

Art students work long hours on the fifth floor of the Regional Arts Center, under the auspices of the program. Individualized instruction, along with an informal classroom setting, enable artistic talents to develop.

1/Jack B. Kellam, Professor of Art, puts things into perspective for winter term students. 2/Evany Zirul, Instructor in Art, comments on student projects. 3/William W. Wolf, Instructor in Art History, is caught in thought at a football game. 4/Thomas R. Gaines, Assistant Professor of Visual Art, interrupts work at the East Hall studio for a picture with his wife and daughter.

In the realm of

Social Studies

the Education Program has been joined by Tal Warren and Bradley Nystrom. Special thanks go to George Benson for arranging video-taping of student teachers in classrooms.

1/Emily Reeves, Associate Professor of Education, prepares for her seniors to escape the confines of Cowan. 2/Larry Matheny, Associate Professor of Government, heads for Doherty Library before his 2:30 class. 3/Bradley Nystrom, Assistant Professor in Teacher Education, strolls with his son Brent. 4/Alice A. Shrock, Visiting Assistant Professor of History, has shown Centre students that it is not a "man's world." 5/After classes, Charles R. Lee, Professor of History, prepares to leave for home.

The emerging role of the woman

has provided an extension to the History Department's program; however, the department will lose one of its most respected members, Dr. Frank Heck, who will retire next year.

Ronald Sanders has joined the Economics and Management Program, and is serving as Student Congress Financial Advisor. Plans are under way for a trip to

Brussels

to study the Common Market. Economics students going to Europe will be able to visit

Dr. Mount,

who plans a sabbatical leave in France beginning this summer.

1/Michael F. Hamm, Assistant Professor of History, relaxes with Igor in his living room. 2/Richard P. Heitzenrater, Assistant Professor of History and Religion, demonstrates an unusual hobby — a miniature printing press. 3/Ronald L. Sanders, Assistant Professor of Economics and Management, confers with Jon Ohlman about Student Congress budgetary matters. 4/George St. Pierre, Assistant Professor of Economics, pauses while grading student papers. 5/College Pastor and Associate Professor of Religion Charles Eric Mount, Jr., joins his family on an outing. 6/Charles Campbell, Associate Professor of Economics, makes a pre-flight inspection before take-off at the Junction City Airport. 7/William C. Garriott, Assistant Professor of Government, eyes the score as seconds elapse in a close game. 8/Walter B. Nimocks, Professor of History, pauses at a summer faculty gathering. 9/Milton Scarborough, Assistant Professor of Philosophy and Religion, plays a good deal of tennis in his spare time. 10/Gordon C. Winsor, Professor of Religion, spends Sunday afternoons with faculty and students in a recorder ensemble.

The Government program has maintained the traditional standards of being a strong

department, and remains a large program in terms of the total number of majors.

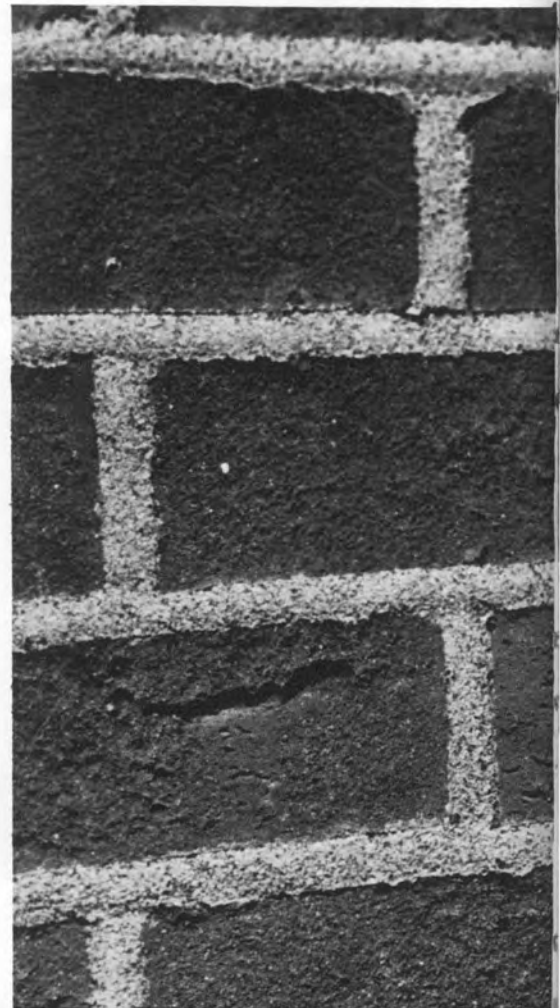

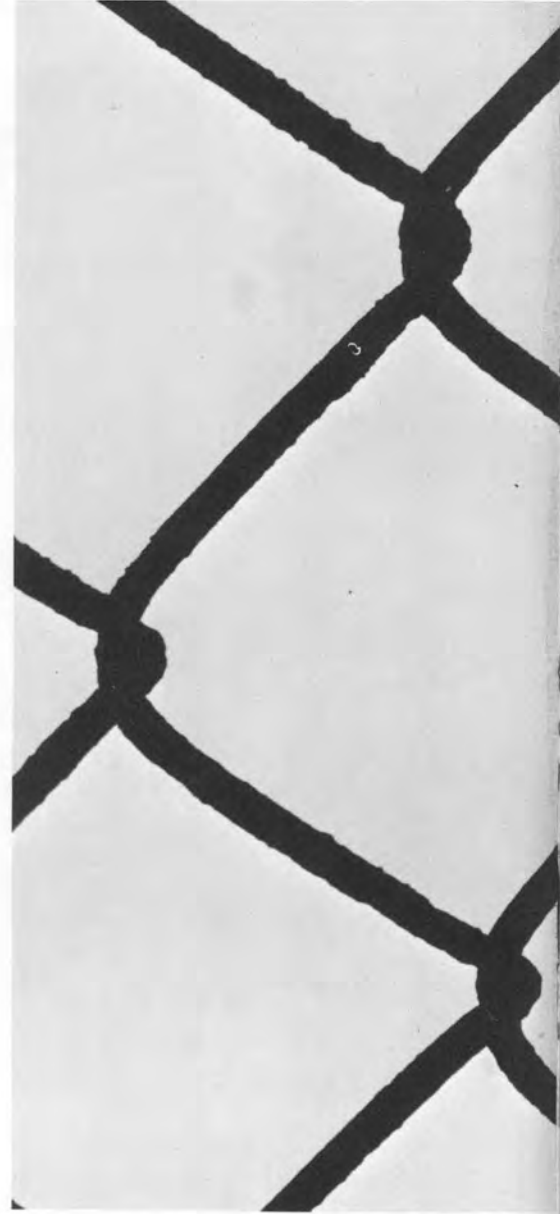

1/David S. Newhall, Chairman of the Social Studies Division and Professor of History, strikes a familiar pose as he stops for a leisurely smoke. 2/Frank H. Heck, Professor of History, spends his weekends bird-watching. 3/William H. Bowker, Assistant Professor of Government, heads for the Hangout with Milton Scarborough for coffee before class. 4/Max Cavnes, Professor of History on sabbatical leave this year, relaxes with "Happy."

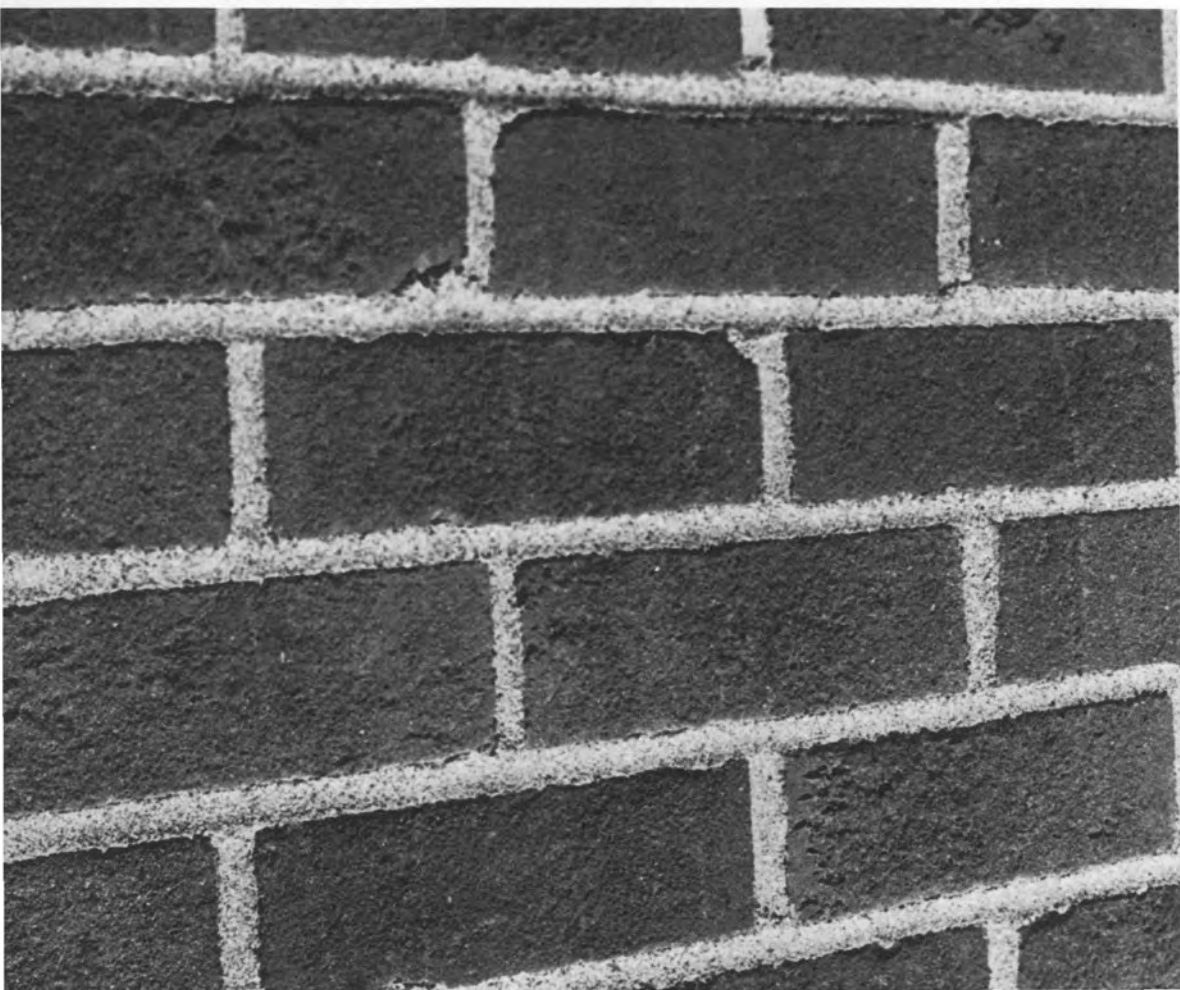

David Franklin Hughes 1936-1974

Mine is not to run this train;
The whistle I can't blow.
Mine is not to say
How far this train can go.
I'm not allowed to blow off steam
Or even ring the bell.
But let this train run off the track
And see who catches hell!

organizations

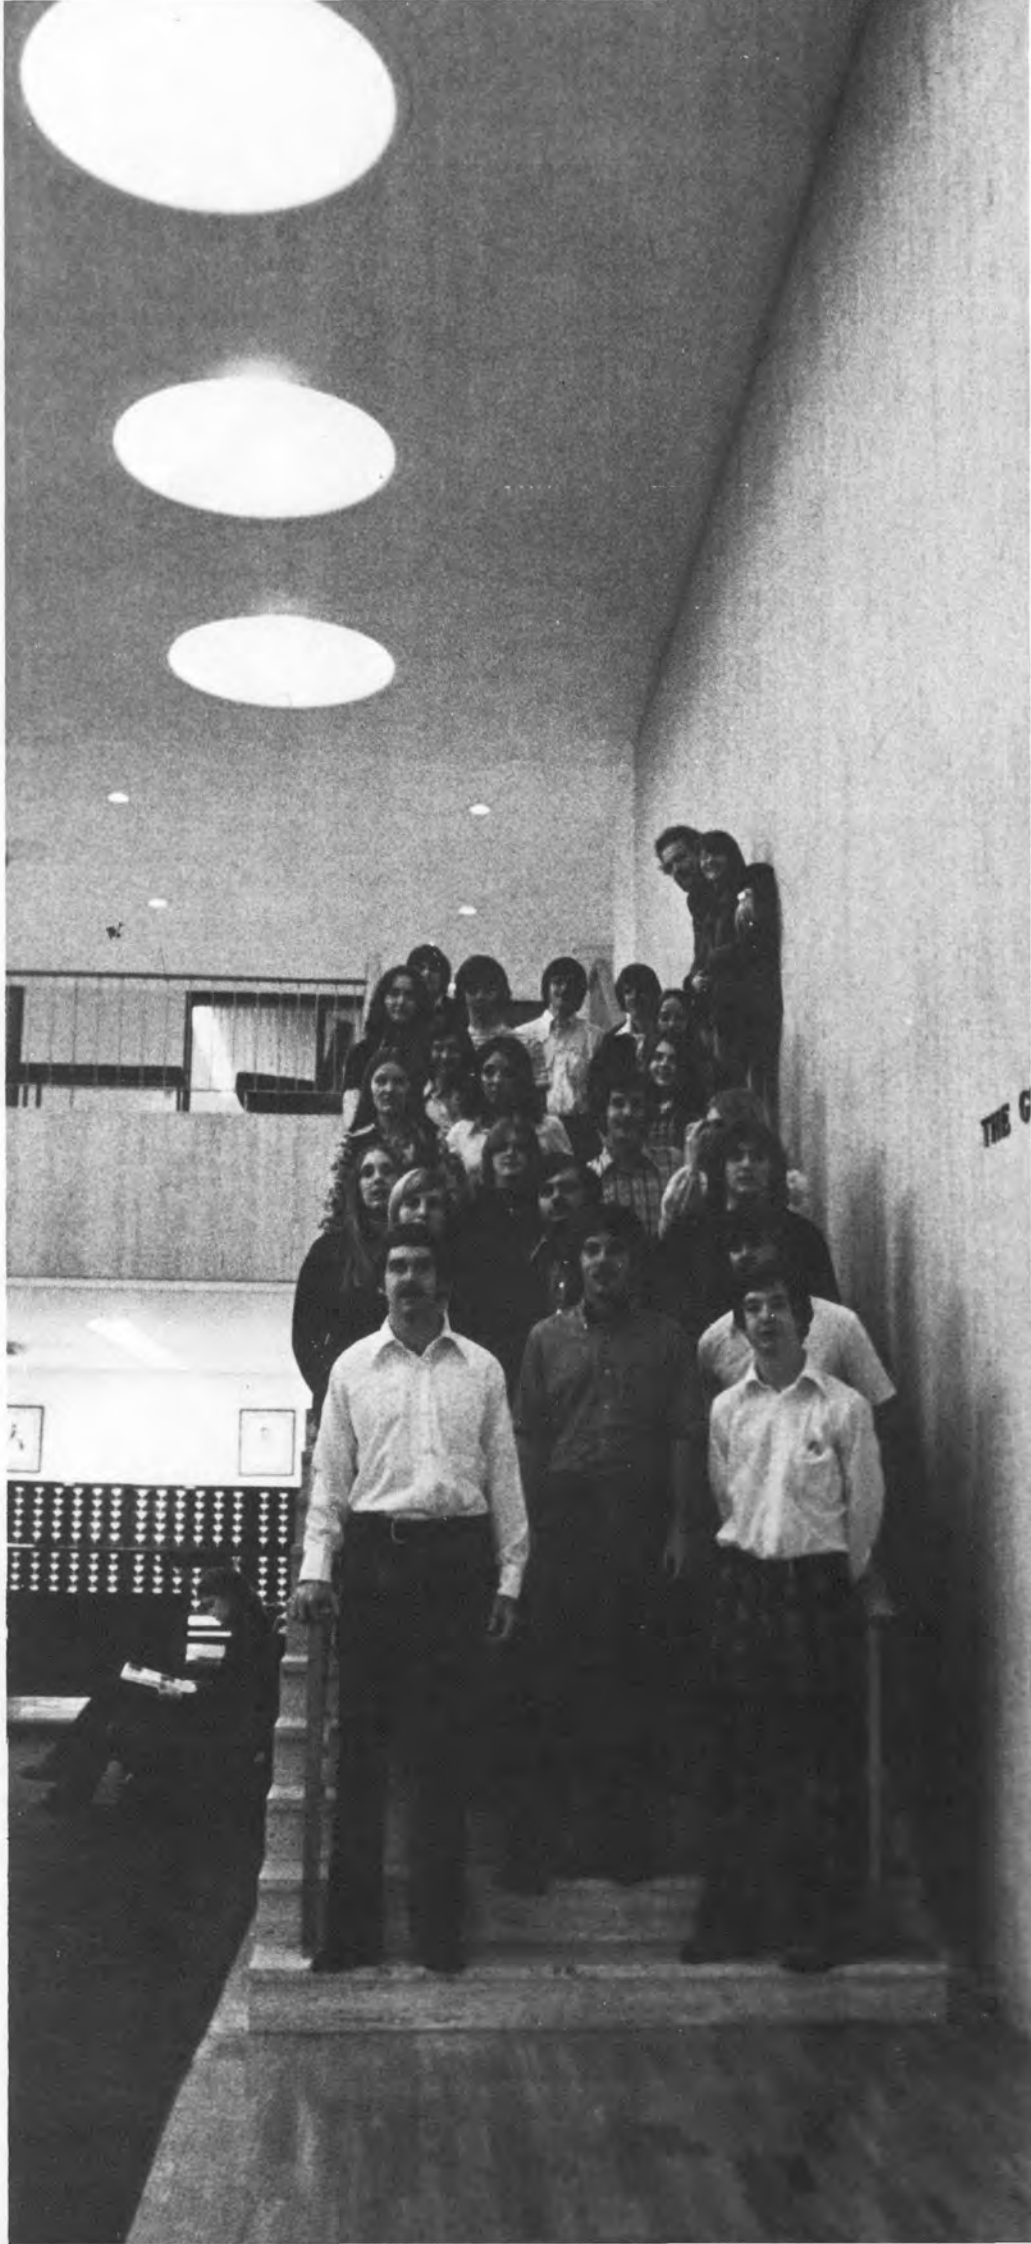

Student Congress,

the forum for student debate and discussion, passed a multitude of resolutions and formed numerous committees in order to cope with the everyday problems of the Centre student.

Some problems were solved — yet this body continued to be ineffective in the areas in which students had the most objections. The administration continued to enforce its prerogatives in housing policy upon the students. Students did have a voice, but it was often of a “token” nature.

Positive achievements of the Congress included donations to the needy in Third World areas, encouragement of student participation in the blood drive, a shuttlebus service to the airport, and a fair and effective allocation of funds to student organizations.

Vantage Point,

Centre's student publication for literary and graphic arts, published several issues during the 1973-74 academic year. The quality of this publication has increased notably over the past few years. A good indicator of this is the relatively small number of issues scattered on the Post Office floor.

VANTAGE POINT: L-R, Liz Perkins, Joanne Kellar, Kay Betts, Beth Greene NOT PICTURED: Steve Moss, Pat Murphy, Sally Paulson

The very fact that a small group of students can publish a newspaper once each week at a school like Centre is an accomplishment in itself.

The Cento

is continually improving, despite occasional misinformation and typographical errors. Nancye Kirk and Laura Hacquard deserve much credit for their efforts in making the CEN TO an important sounding-board for student opinion.

The newly organized pre-med and pre-law Societies existed mainly to help those who wished to enter law or medical school after completion of undergraduate work. Both groups listened to speakers and gathered information on professional schools, which could aid them in entering these two disciplines. The pre-med society volunteered their services and time to the Ephraim McDowell Memorial Hospital, while the pre-law society members played lawyer by volunteering to defend those individuals brought before the Higher Judiciary. Both organizations promoted interest in law and medicine at Centre.

The production of THE ROYAL HUNT OF THE SUN opened the College Theatre of the Regional Arts Center. The cast included Bill Hannah, John Pryor, David Massie, Chris Hensley, Mike Yoder, John Van Volkenburgh, Kevin Block, Frank Hecker, Jim McLaughlin, Randy Wilson, Jon Overbey, David Waller, Dennis Beatty, Nelson Thomas, Todd Hall, Rusty Martin, Don Newquist, Jim Maxwell, Richard Elliott, John Kaseberg, Bob Bone, Greg Christensen, Rocky Day, Jeff Giuliano, Mike Mallory, Charles Hill, John Meyer, Mike Moynihan, Emory Smith, Connie Varner, Dale Wrenn, Tom Seggie, Kevin Risley, Kathy Evert, and Janice Macke

1/The fantasy world of Lewis Carroll's ALICE IN WONDERLAND became a reality for Danville children as Jo Ellen Powell signed autographs after an afternoon performance. 2/'Twas brillig, and the slithy toves did gyre and jimble in the wabe ..." Linda Pell, Rusty Martin, Richard Elliott and Susan Johnson collectively create a monstrous "jabberwocky." 3/Bill Hannah positions himself on the steel pipe set during rehearsal. 4/Linda Pell (Right) and Jo Ellen Powell rehearse Alice's wondrous adventures. 5/Mother and daughter duo Luralyn Lahr (Right) and Raney Van Eiszner arrive at Madame Desmortes. 6/David Massie, doubling as Hugo and his twin brother Frederic, charms Reecee Clements and her meddling maid Capulet, played by Ginny Hayes. 7/Butler Bob Bone humorously schemes with David Massie. The cast also includes Harriet Ford, Todd Hall, Karen Jones, Nelson Thomas and Bill Hannah.

1/The Choir held its annual Christmas Concert in the Regional Arts Center. 2/Mrs. Somville directs the Pep Band at a basketball game. Although it is not pictured, a symphonic band was organized at Centre, including members of the Pep Band.

At the spring

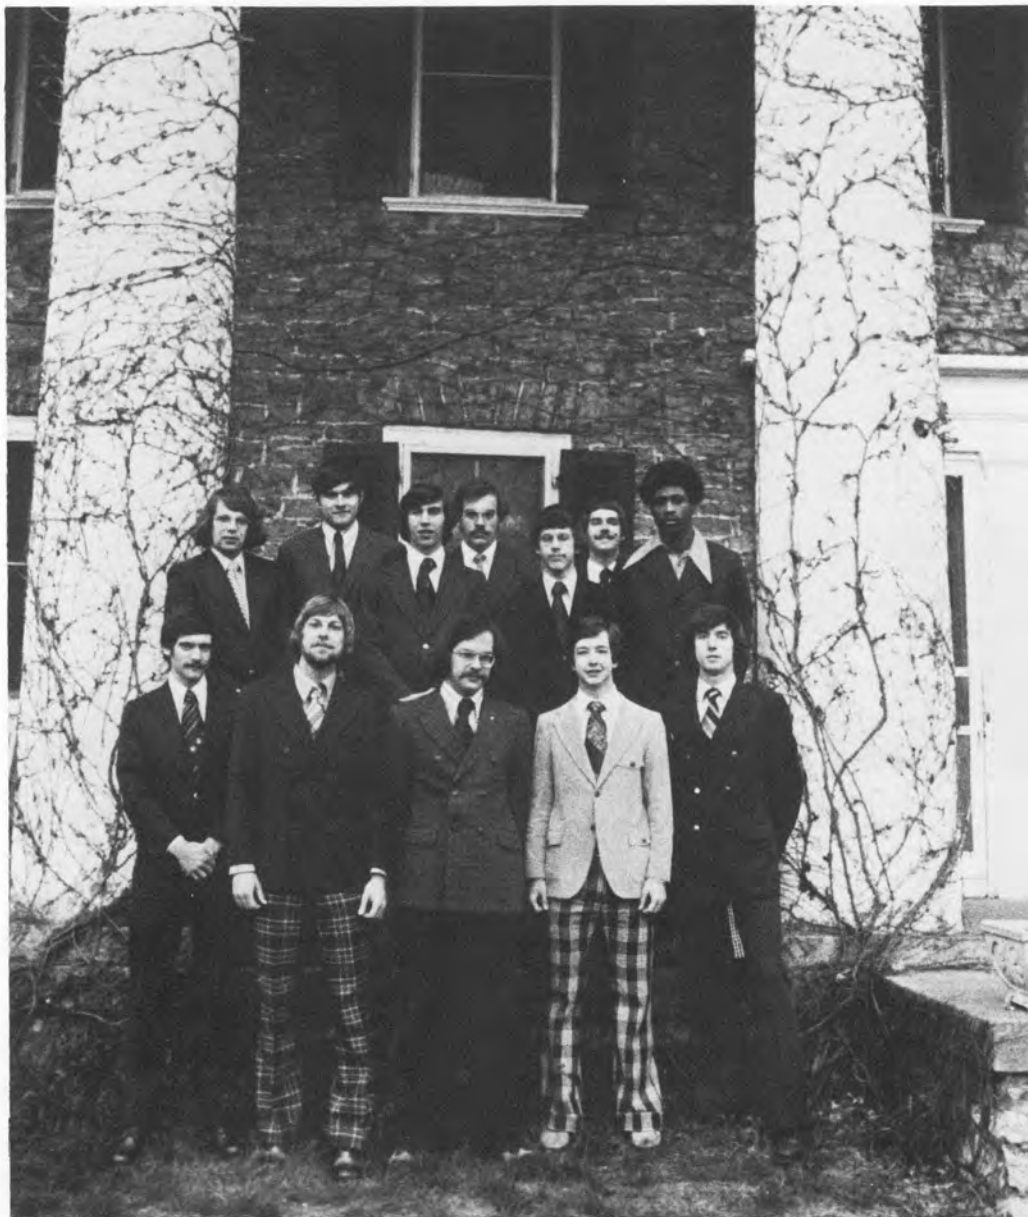

Honors Convocation

Centre students received academic honors and were initiated into clubs for both academic achievement and college and community service.

To the relief of many convo-credit seekers, the ceremony moved to the Regional Arts Center, eliminating the long tapping ordeal for several honorary societies.

This year the

has been active promoting black student life at Centre, sponsoring a Black Weekend, complete with an all-campus dance and invited prospective students, a memorial program for Martin Luther King, and a B.S.U. choir. The Black Student Union is becoming an increasingly effective organization.

The newly organized

Human Liberation

group has planned informative meetings — so far with college speakers — but with plans to bring in outside speakers. Membership varies and is informal. The Human Liberationists are also responsible for publication of the

Flame,

Centre's women's newsletter, and for emphasizing women's rights.

Meanwhile, the Social Board

is also trying to build human relations, by bringing entertainment to the small Danville community. Despite efforts in planning "big" weekends and in enlarging facilities in Sutcliffe, students still seem to feel that social activities at Centre are less than adequate.

The Higher Judiciary

faced increasing responsibilities as the result of a new system of discipline imposed by the Dean of Student Affairs.

HIGHER JUDICIARY: L-R: Mark Lucas, Jackie Calvert, Rick Reed, Dean Kotheimer, John Godbold, Wynn Radford

The regulatory agency of Centre's six fraternities,

The I.F.C.,

also saw increased responsibilities.

An Interfraternity Judiciary was formed in order to deal with matters within the Green community.

Due to changing conditions
at Centre, fraternity cooperation was much greater this past year.

The Brothers of

began the year by winning the intramural football championship for the third consecutive season. Activities of the year included a reception at Homecoming, a Christmas party, a pajama party, South Seas Weekend, several dances, and traditional outings at Old Crow. Epsilon Chapter pledged twelve new members who added to the strength and vitality of this select group.

The brothers of

Delta Kappa Epsilon

moved back to the fraternity quadrangle after several years of residence in the Cotton House.

A large redecoration project of the inside of the house was undertaken.

Deke

activities of the year included the Beat Oberlin Party, Training Breaker, and St. Patty's Day.

Seven new members were pledged, giving the chapter a total active membership of 27.

Efforts are being made to increase the number of members in the chapter.

The Dekes have broadened their appeal to freshmen by placing less emphasis on athletics as a requisite for membership.

MEMBERS OF DELTA KAPPA EPSILON: Duncan Baker, Buddy Barnett, Keith Black, Eddie Brents, Rick Caton, Bryan Davey, Jack Frost, Steve Gowers, secretary Jim Horan, Tom Hagerman, (president) Dean Kotheimer, Mike Leising, Mike Miller, (vice-president) Reggie Mudd, Steve Nethery, Louis Pritchard, John Smith, Greg Stevens, (treasurer) Keith Swigert, John Wallace, Larry Wenstrup, Jim Worten, Bill Wilder, Dan Young, Greg Young; SOCIAL MEMBERS: Bob Beck, Guy Cassell, Dave Fowler, Dick Heaton, Rick McKay, Hank Phillips

1/Members and guests of Delta Kappa Epsilon posed for this shot on St. Patty's Day. 2/The Dekes await their new pledges on Pledge Sunday. 3/An added attraction at one Deke party was the smashing and burning of this old car.

Phi Delta Theta

became the largest fraternity on campus, due to the large number of pledges taken this year.

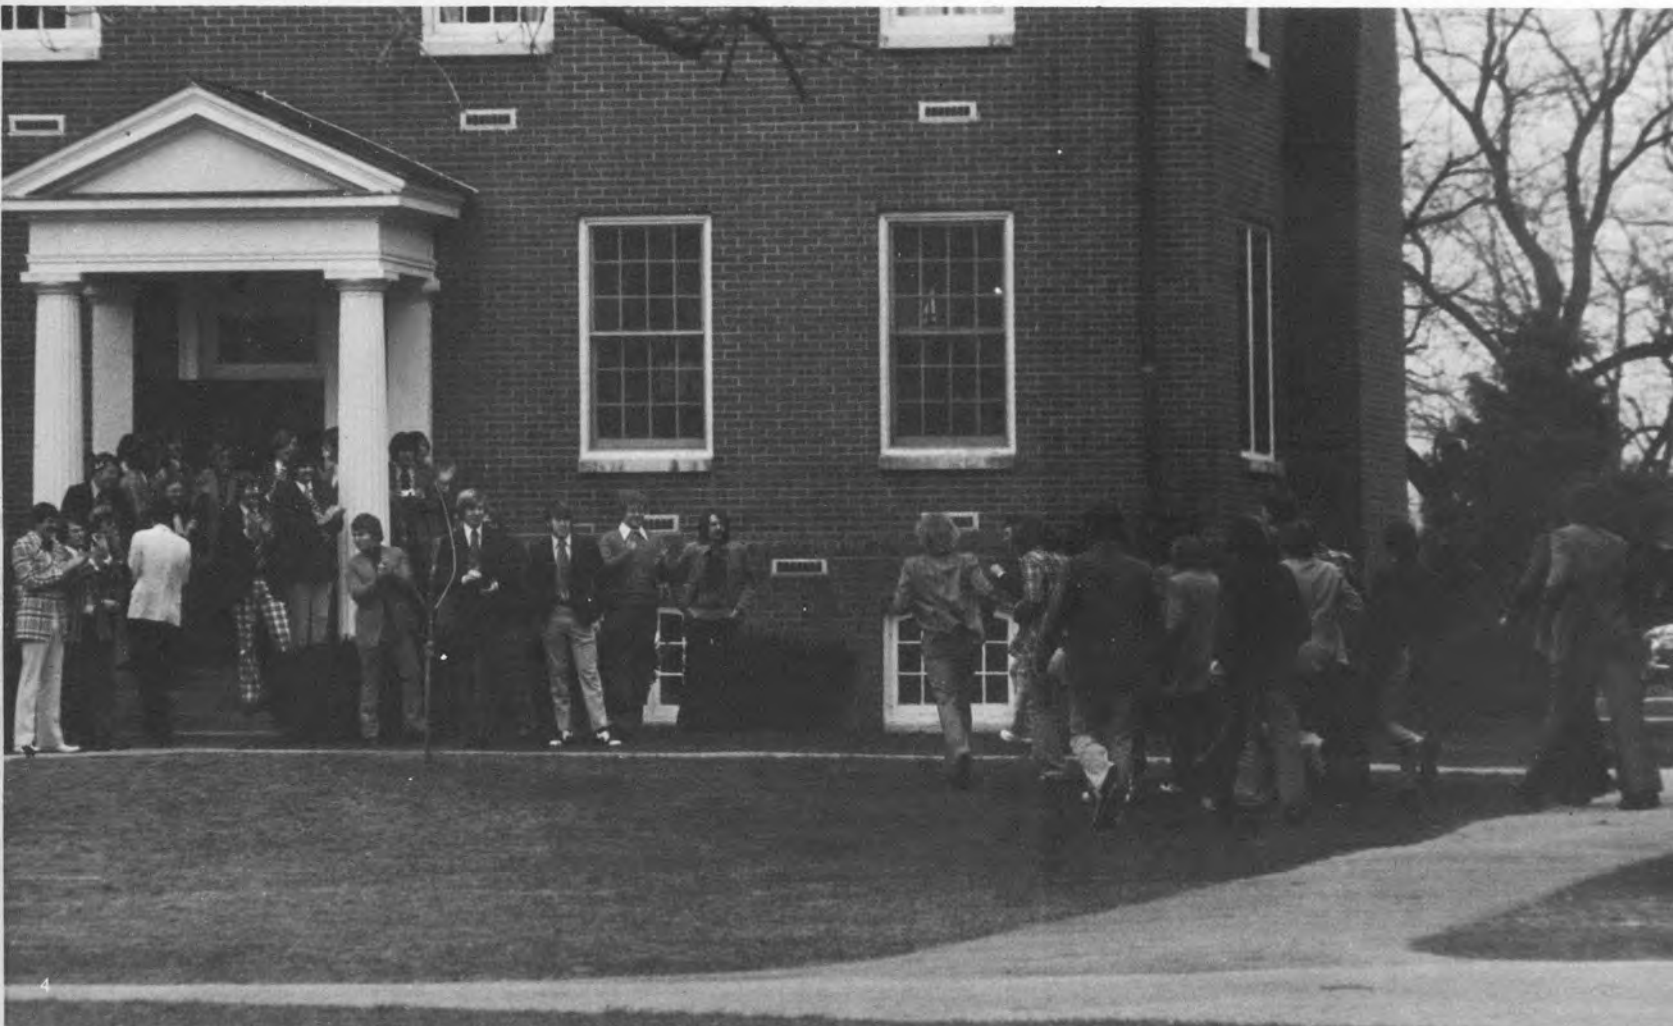

The Delts had very strong intramural teams, and were well represented on varsity swimming, basketball, and baseball teams.

Activities of the year included Founders Day, Wild West Weekend, and many rush parties and dances. The brothers of Phi Delta Theta also gave a great deal of their time to the victims of the April tornado which devastated many homes.

Phi Kappa Tau

has seen a decline in membership over the past few years; however, spirit and brotherhood have not diminished. The Taus still have the distinction of being the only fraternity on campus with black members. Activities of the chapter have been off-campus social events and rush parties. The brothers of Phi Tau also aided the tornado victims in Junction City. Eleven new members were pledged during the winter semester.

The initiation of fourteen new members increased the size of

However, by the end of the year, only twenty members were left, due to a large graduating class. The brothers of SAE worked on house improvement this year, besides engaging in many social functions such as Hairy Buffalo and SAE Weekend at Old Crow.

had another very active year. The Sigs won the Yerkes Cup, the Homecoming Float contest, Spring Sing, and the intramural softball championship. The main social events of the year included the Bluegrass Festival, and Sweethearts Weekend at Hueston Woods, Ohio. A Halloween party was also held for the Christian Children's Home. The chapter pledged the second largest number of new members, and maintained its position of campus leadership.

1/ Sigma Chi Sweetheart, Jennifer Gunn. 2/ Members participate in the annual Spring Sing during Carnival Weekend. 3/ The Sweethearts Banquet was held near Miami of Ohio, the location of the founding of Sigma Chi.

Describing the Centre College football team takes only one word:

Spirit.

While most of us were still home enjoying our summer break, the football Colonels were working hard in the hot summer sun. While we complain about the heavy academic load at Centre, the football players add daily practice and games to an already heavy schedule.

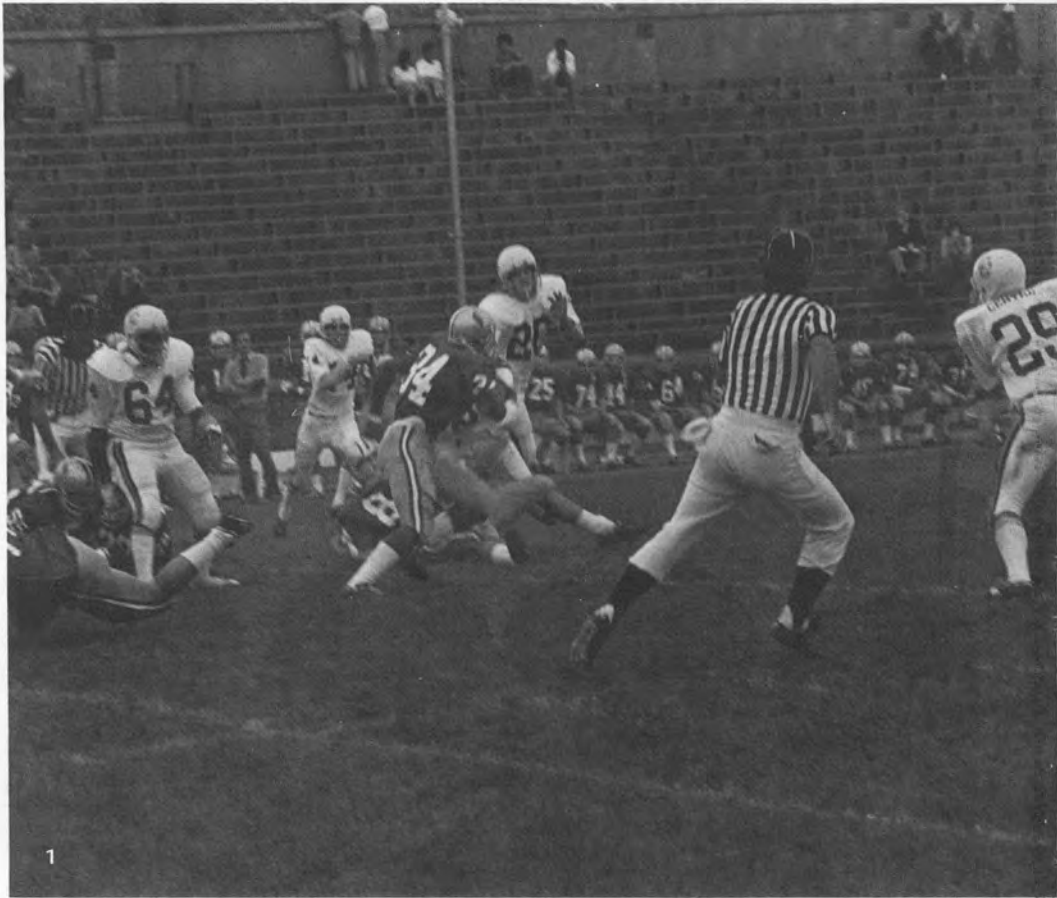

1/Quarterback Bob Whitmer flips a short pass into the flat as Alan Foster (76) and Clyde Poignard provide protection. 2/Centre players John Dooley (50) and David Simpson (60) watch the play from the sidelines. 3/Centre's Defensive Line of John Garner (80), Larry Wenstrup (63), Keith Mathis (64), Joe Fisher (89), Derek Wade (78), and Don Brown (23) prepares for action. 4/Wingback Bob Beck (27) moves into position as quarterback Bob Whitmer calls the Centre team to the line of scrimmage.

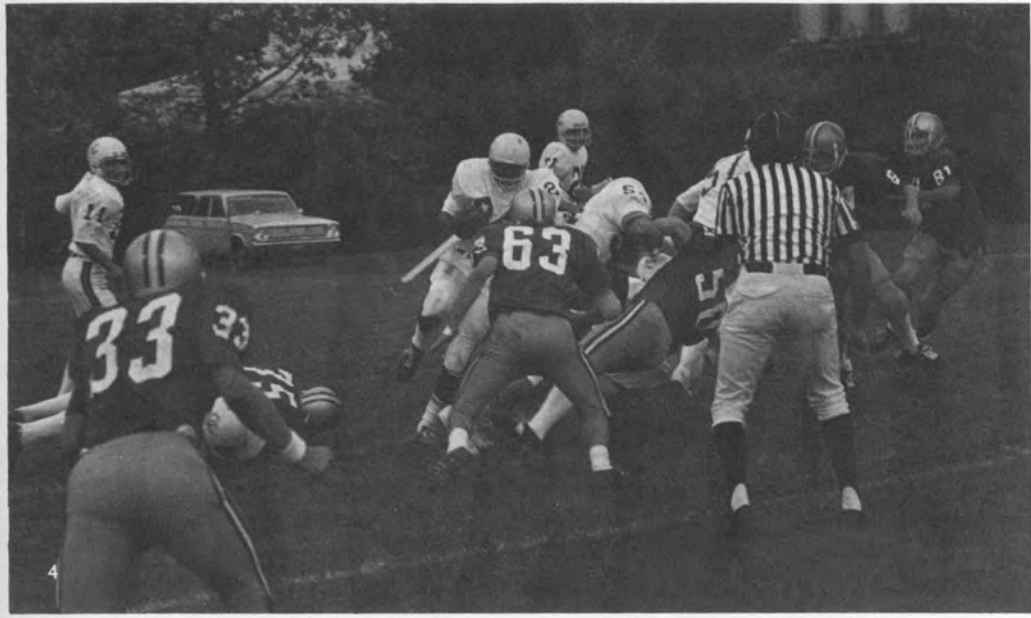

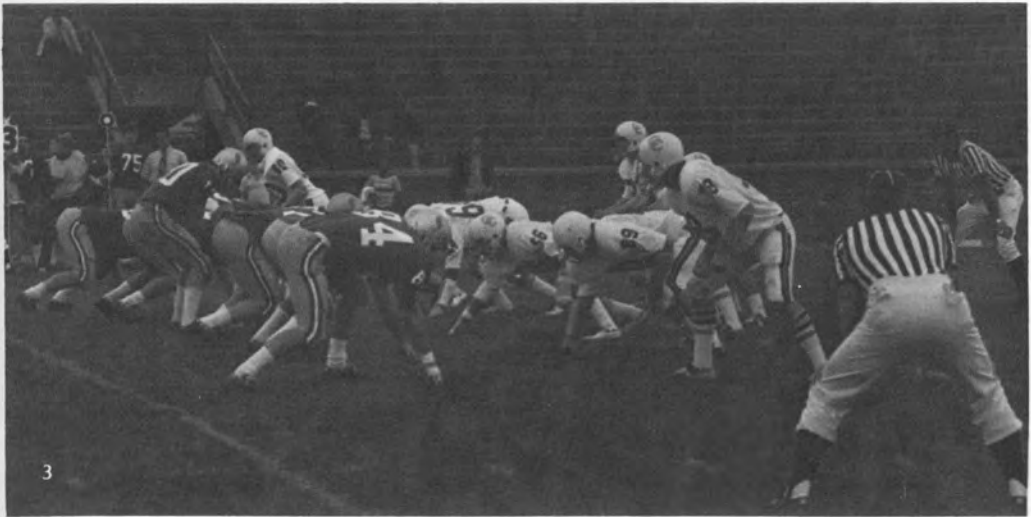

Although the Colonels struggled through a disappointing 0-9 season, team spirit remained high. Every Saturday afternoon on the grid-iron, they gave all they had in the true tradition of the Prayin' Colonels of Centre College. Simply, they were proud to be known as Centre College Colonels.

1/Hank Phillips (20) and Mickey Bannon (29) prepare to make a hit during the Homecoming game against Sewanee. 2/Clyde Poignard enjoys a much needed break from the action on the field. 3/Centre's defense prepares for the charge of Sewanee's offensive unit during the Homecoming game. 4/Running back Clyde Poignard (24) hits a hole behind a solid block by John Dooley (50).

The 1973-74 Basketball Team compiled the best record in the last twenty years with a 15-9 worksheet. They captured the championship crown in both the Christmas Invitational Tourney and the College Athletic Conference.

The Colonels combined hustle and teamwork to overcome their lack of physical size. They didn't have an individual standout, but blended the talents of all the players to provide a winning combination.

1/Joe Burks cans two with his deadly jumper. 2/ Mike Pharris (30) passes underneath the basket to Rick Bingham (44). 3/Coach Tom Bryant shouts instructions from the sidelines. 4/Mike Pharris flies down the lane for two against Bryan College. 5/Al Williams goes high for the opening tip-off against CAC rival Sewanee. 6/Al Williams rests before re-entering the game.

Coached by Bob Piziak and Don Brown, the

Kicking

Colonels were little more successful in their season (1-11-2) than they were in obtaining a field to play on. Last year's state runnerups, this year the soccer team placed fifth in tournament play. Jerseys supplied by the Student Congress and oranges supplied by two coeds were among the brighter spots of the season.

1/Graduating senior John Boardman displays winning form, style, and spirit. 2/Frustrated by the score, Andre Brousseau corners Wright Smith for a quick lesson on strategy. 3/A misplaced soccer ball has the right idea but the wrong goalposts. 4/Centre booter Keith Wilhelmi (13) dashes to meet his opponent's kick.

1/ Junior Rick Roberts positions himself on the starting block in the outside lane. 2/ A Centre track member takes the lead in the high hurdles. 3/ Freshman standout Preston Young takes the lead at the turn ahead of Centre's Mike Warner. 4/ Centre meets Sewanee before a small but loyal group of fans. 5/ Rick Roberts tensely awaits the score in a close meet. 6/ Junior Wynn Radford makes an unsuccessful attempt to clear the bar. 7/ Freshman Larry Stuart watches as Coach Harmon gets ready to evaluate the jump.

In addition to traditional team sports at Centre, intramural competition was high this year.

From co-ed volleyball, basketball, football, softball and swimming, everyone at least had the chance to participate.

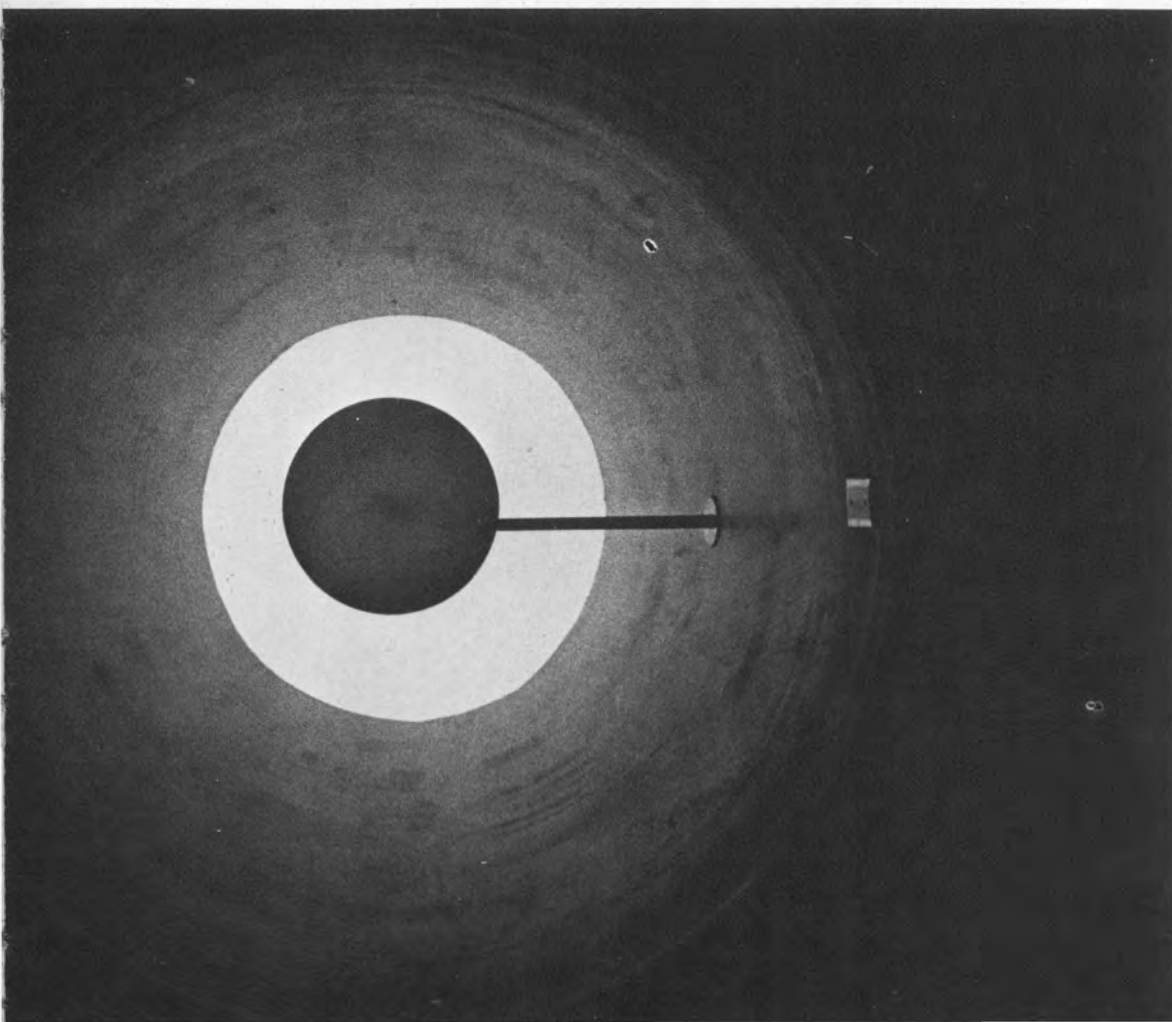

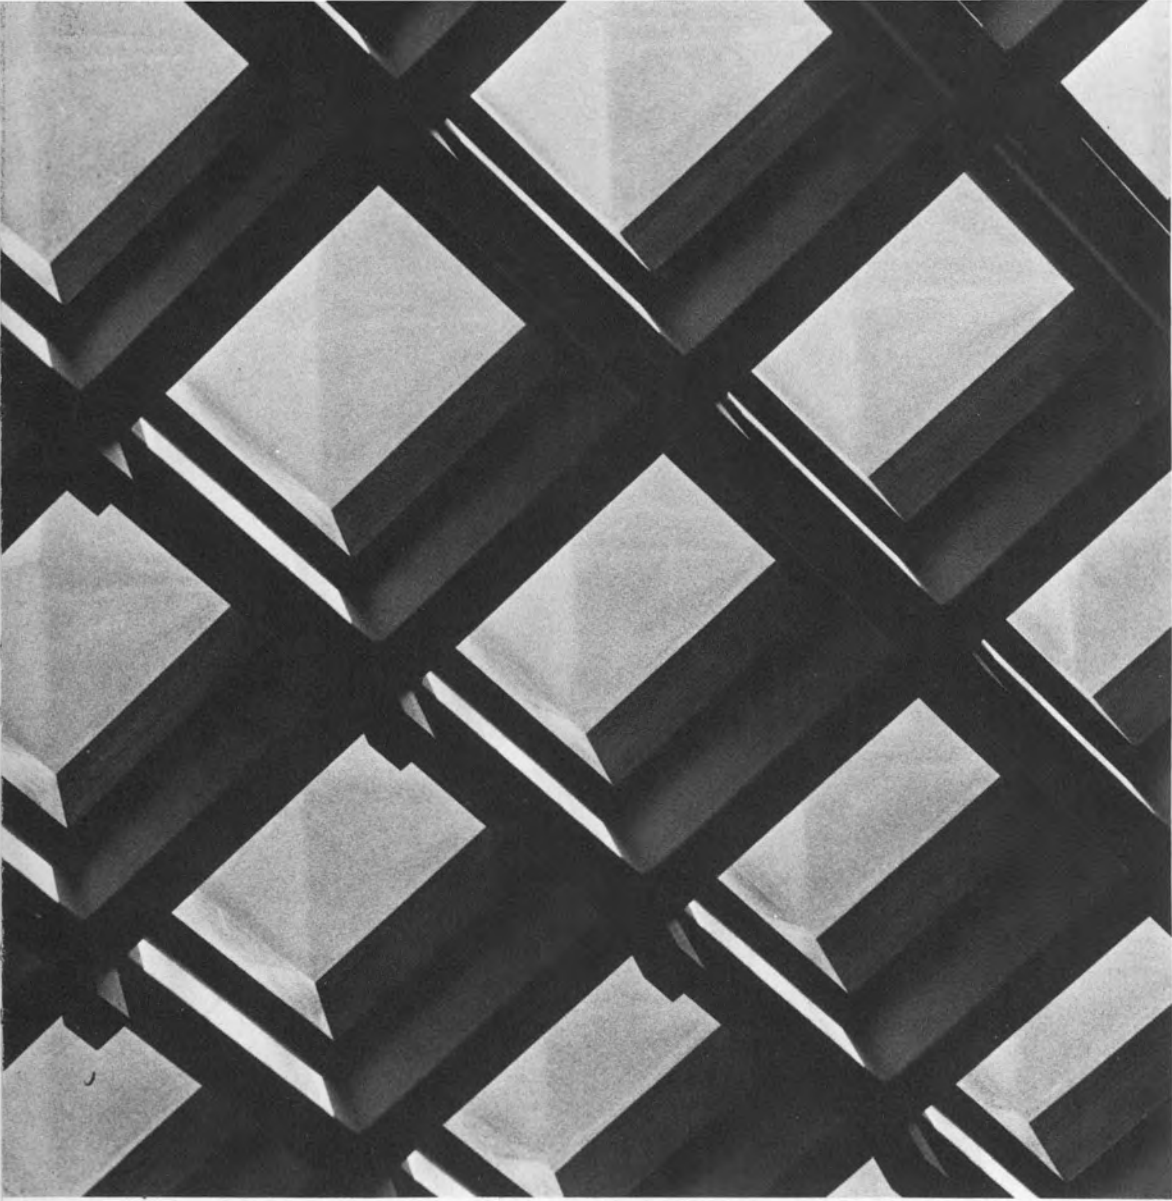

Cowan's own "doorknobs" met fraternities on the courts, while faculty members challenged opponents on the softball diamond. Unlike many Centre sports, intramural events drew large crowds.

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way . . . in short, the period was so far like the present period, that some of its noisiest authorities insisted on its being received, for good or for evil, in the superlative degree of comparison only."
