

How my Family celebrates Cambodian New year when it is cambodian New year my mother and my father go to the temple. They bring rice, foods, flowers, and candles for Buddha. When we go inside the temple we have to take off our shoes first.

Then we pray to Buddha and a monk. My family eats special foods I like to eat Rambutan fruit. It is sweet and it tastes good. Rambutan fruit grows in cambodia but the cambodian markets sell them. When I go outside to play I see my friends and they want to play games with me. So I play with them for a while. We play tug-o'-war game, and we play hide and seek and we play catch. When the games are over I go into the temple and I see my Aunt sitting near my mother. I go to
