

Kim Soeun Veth

Monday 89

How I Felt Being a Cambodian Immigrant in the United States

I was 6 year old when I came to a United States. I felt excited because I saw snow. I was afraid of the black people. I thought they were Indians. Nobody had ever told me about people being different colors and I had never seen any pictures. I thought the weather would be hot all the time like in Cambodia. Before when I lived in North Carolina. I didn't know how to speak English. When I was 8 years old my father taught me some English.

