

The Cambodian people bring these cones to the monks in the temple. Inside the cones are candles, flowers, food and money. Sometimes the food is wrapped in big banana leaves.