

December 19, 1989

Dear Cousin,

I am in America. We have a different car. It goes faster than our Cambodian car. There are a lot of people in Lowell. I live with my mother, father, brothers and sister. We have a lot of clothes. My shoes are different than Cambodian slippers. We wear different clothes and shoes because the seasons change. We do not have a winter in Lowell. We have peace. Last week we had a fire in our house. My dad got hurt and he is in the hospital but he is fine now.

Your cousin,
Rou, Nou

