

November, 28, 1989.

Dear Aunt Mao,

Hi! How are you doing in Cambodia?

I miss you very much? Are you fine? I live in America and I am never sad. America is a nice country.

I'm so happy. I live in Lowell Massachusetts. There are tall buildings and they have real snow. In America people have cars and go to school to learn how to speak English and learn how to write a letter. I have a T.V and radio.

In America they have many jobs to do. I'm so glad because America is a beautiful country.

Your niece,
Mack Chea

