The President
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

May I add my support to your position as other friends here in Oklahoma have already done. I am proud to have voted for you; and the professional manner in which you have met the television media and their unfounded attacks has only served to strengthen my support for you.

Our Nation cannot survive without the true American ideals that you have followed in preserving the constitutional separation of the office of the President from its attackers. With each passing day, one can detect the beginning of a new grass roots movement which will spread and grow and turn the tide of truth against the "big media" and their "instant biased reviews".

Having served in the jungles of Southeast Asia as a battalion surgeon with the 1st Marine Division; having watched with grief and despair as close friends died in combat; having stood at close range and observed the ancient citadel of Hue fall; having had children thank me with their whole hearts for being patched up when they became the innocent victims of war; and to then come home and be faced with the pathetic cries of "bring the deserters home" and "leave our prisoners to their own fates" at first made me sick. My trust in the American system was again lifted when you, Richard Nixon, stood strong — spoke out against these cries — and ended our participation with an honor that so many of our citizens have never grasped the full significance of — to have so soon forgotten!!

Therefore, to you, Mr. President, I pledge my continued support, my belief in your integrity, and my assurance in any way possible. May God continue to give you and your family the strength to weather this storm.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Dr. Drumwright:

Your communication arrived while Congressman Jones is out of the country. As you may know, Mr. Jones was appointed to a special subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee to gather facts about the Middle East with which to report back to the House of Representatives. The Congressman is presently in Egypt and Israel.

I am taking the liberty of acknowledging receipt of your communication, and I will bring your correspondence to Congressman Jones' personal attention immediately upon his return to the United States in late November.

Sincerely yours,

Stephen Kaplan
Legislative Assistant
