JAMES R. JONES, M.C.
WASHINGTON, D.C.

I have long intended to write to you concerning the current biased reporting. The reporting upon the President's speech (of 11-7-73) was not as objectionable as here to fore except that what the commentators chose to omit gave their biased view. In both, the chosen clips of his speech and in the panel discussions, I heard no mention of the President's former requests to congress (of which he spoke) in regard to action on the Energy crisis. This is a point which could, hopefully, silence those who say that the President is very tardy in his approach to Energy. Let me say, also, that I feel acutely the tragedy of the diabolical habit of pre judging before all of the facts are available. Very Sincerely Frances G. Apitz
(Mrs. A.C. Apitz)

Dear Mrs. Apitz:

Your letter arrived while Congressman Jones is out of the country. As you may know, Mr. Jones was appointed to a special subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee to gather facts about the Middle East with which to report back to the House of Representatives. The Congressman is presently in Egypt and Israel.

I am taking the liberty of acknowledging receipt of your letter, and I will bring your correspondence to Congressman Jones' personal attention immediately upon his return to the United States in late November.

Sincerely yours,

Stephen Kaplan
Legislative Assistant
