

CAMPISI AND SANFILIPPO RESIDENCE HALLS FOR WOMEN

Program

Dr. Salvador V. Campisi and Philip S. Sanfilippo, after whom the two new women's residences are named, are both native San Joseans, members of the Alumni Association and Regents of the University. Along with their great generosity, they have given of their time and experience in extraordinary degree. The University honors their years of devoted service.

Campisi Hall and Sanfilippo Hall complete the Graham Center. With six buildings in all, the Center, furnished, cost $3,100,000 and houses 692 women students and six housemothers. The Center also includes an outdoor pool and extensive garden areas enclosed by a decorative adobe wall.
