

BRILLIANT AND HAPPY AFFAIR.

MARRIAGE OF MR. SAM. W. JACK AND MISS M. LIDA KYLE.

"How welcome was the call
And sweet the festal day,
When Jesus deigned in Cana's hall
To bless the marriage day."

As was announced in last week's GAZETTE, by an invitation previously received, the marriage of Mr. Sam. W. Jack and Miss M. Lida Kyle took place last Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's father, Gen. Wm. C. Kyle, at Whitesburg. It was the fortune and pleasure of a representative of the GAZETTE to be present and participate in the pleasures and festivities of the happy event. The nuptial ceremony was administered by Rev. John W. Bachman, of Chattanooga, after the style of the beautiful and impressive ritual of the Presbyterian church. A large number of invited friends of the family were present, and bright lights, glowing faces, rich toilets and sparkling jewels blended to make up a rare and beautiful picture.

The bride appeared in becoming and exquisite taste dressed in a cream-colored, brocade satin that draped in graceful folds from her well moulded form. The front of the corsage was cut square and filled in with puffings of tulle fastened with water lilies. The front of the skirt was of plain satin, covered with platings and puffings, of tulle, separated by fringes of lilies of the valley and marguerites. The back was Princesse style with paniers on the sides. The bridal veil that draped from her hair was caught low on the train with a bunch of marguerites and pond lilies.

The trousseau was a marvel of elegant taste and beauty, and surely a sweeter bride ne'er wore bridal costume. The attendants were: R. S. Hazen and Miss Maggie Mitchell; Frank Wright and Miss Mary Hale; W. B. Robinson and Miss Annie Riley; C. B. Mims and Miss Louise Kyle. Miss Maggie Mitchell wore brocaded blue satin, trimmed in pond lilies and lilies of the valley; Miss Mary Hale, white dotted swiss, trimmed in daisies; Miss Anna Riley, white tarleton lavender, satin sacque; Miss Louise Kyle, white dotted swiss over pink silicia veil. The groom and groomsmen wore black cloth suits, white gloves and cravats.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, and after congratulations had been extended, the invited guests with the newly-wedded couple, were conducted into the dining room, where an elegantly arranged and bounteously supplied table greeted them. Indeed, it was a sumptuous feast—the choicest viands of the land were before us, and—well, we were not alone in discharging our christian duty to the "inner-man." The table was very gracefully and efficiently presided over by Mrs. Frank A. Moses, of Knoxville, and Mrs. George A. McNutt, of Hawkins county, and there was nothing left undone to make all who surrounded it happy.

During the evening, sparkling musical gems were rendered on the piano by Miss Mary Hale, of Rogersville, whose highly successful efforts to entertain her listeners won many encomiums.

The bridal presents were quite handsome, as follows: Black marble clock, by Perez Dickinson, Knoxville; silver fruit spoon, by Jas. D. Cowan, Knoxville; set of silver forks in elegant case, by C. M. McGhee, Knoxville; Bohemian toilette set, by Mr. and Mrs. Jos. B. Mitchell, Knoxville; set of mosaic jewelry, by Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Kyle, Hawkins county; gold thimble, by little Miss Alice Kyle; silver cup, by Jas. and Lida Moses, Knoxville; silver butter dish, by bride's mother; set of cut glass goblets, by Frank Wright, Knoxville; china tea set, by Rush Hazen, Knoxville; poems of Byron, by W. B. Robinson, Newport; book of poetry, by A. J. Thomas, Newport; silver napkin ring, by Chas. B. Mims, Newport; carving knife and fork, by W. J. McNutt, Knoxville.

The event was one of more than usual interest, and has been looked forward to with pleasure by the host of friends of both contracting parties. The charming bride has been no less the ruling centre of home affection than a marked favorite in the social circle of this section, to whose enjoyment her bright, piquant mind and sunny nature have largely contributed. The groom is among the most genial, courteous and popular young men of our acquaintance—generous and kind-hearted to a fault.

In tendering congratulations with legions of other friends, the GAZETTE, in all sincerity, wishes them a bright future. May no storm threaten their joy laden barque, and when the fantastic frock of youth has vanished and faded, and they stand out more fully on reality's mountain peaks and behold the stern entities of life sweeping by them "thick as the autumnal leaves that strew the brooks in Vallambrosa," and return when they have passed that land of fancy, may all the bright hopes that now flush the horizon of the morning of their wedded life be reaped in golden fruition.

MORRISTOWN SEMINARY.

Unintentionally we have omitted to mention the location in our town of Rev. J. S. Hill and family, late of Johnson county. From our acquaintance with them we do not hesitate to welcome them as valuable acquisitions to the intelligence and christian refinement of our town. Mr. Hill has charge of the Morristown Seminary, an institution located in our midst, for the higher education of the colored people, and, although under the control of the Freedman's Aid Society of the M. E. Church, is open to all denominations. It may be news to many of our home readers, as it was to us, that the number of students now enrolled and in daily attendance is one hundred, and it is confidently expected that more than two hundred will be enrolled by Christmas. The tuition is free, but each student pays an incidental fee of fifty cents per month. Morristown Seminary is the new name for the old Regan High School in the northern suburbs of our town, and Mrs. Stearns, who has been teaching in this place for several years, is retained as an assistant, and other teachers will be added as the necessities of the school may require. We sincerely hope that the young men and women who want to qualify themselves for teaching, will avail themselves of the opportunity offered them by Morristown Seminary, and we doubt not the principal and his assistants, would cordially welcome visits from our citizens to the school. Its influences for the good of society are incalculable, and it should be encouraged by all.

PERSONAL.

W. S. Dickson, Esq., made a brief trip to Knoxville Saturday.

H. W. Shields and J. A. Rice returned from the East last week.

Miss Mattie Carmichael and Mrs. F. E. Newcomb spent Saturday in Knoxville shopping.

We are glad to see our friend Mr. Abe Gammon back from his duties at the Warm Springs.

Mrs. Andrew Johnson, of Warm Springs, spent a day in our town last week.

Robt. H. Harle, our irreproachable and popular friend of Leadvale, spent Saturday with his father's family in this place.

Col. Jordan Stokes, of Lebanon, and wife, passed through this place en route to Warm Springs, N. C., last Wednesday.

Mr. J. H. Silsby, formerly of the Knoxville Index-News, now of the Chronicle, gave us a pleasant call last week.

We regret to hear that there is very little improvement in the condition of Dr. Marion Wilmeth. He is dangerously ill.

Miss Lucy Moore, the accomplished and estimable daughter of Col. Wm. A. Moore, of Jefferson county, visited our town last week and spent a night.

Miss Addie Williams, sister of Mr. Williams, of this place, we regret to hear, is dangerously ill with malarial fever at the family residence in this county.

Mrs. T. F. Leach and daughter, and Mrs. M. K. Johnson, who have been visiting relatives at Blacksburg, Va., returned home last week accompanied by Miss Ella Cambridge.

Capt. A. F. Ickes, of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department, who has made this town his headquarters for some months, has been ordered to another field and left last Friday. The Captain is an efficient, unpretentious officer and has a host of friends in this section.

Alex. Summers, Esq., one of the editors of the Tribune, gave our office a welcome call during his visit to our town last week. The boys are making a capital newspaper out of the Tribune, and, in addition to its other attractions, lawyers will be particularly interested in its reports of the decisions of the Supreme Court, which are to be commenced soon.

Nelson Acuff, a deaf and dumb young man, formerly a pupil of the school for that unfortunate class at Knoxville, is canvassing this county for subscribers to a very interesting and elegantly printed volume, entitled, "The Story of the Bible." Mr. Acuff has the highest testimonial from Prof. Ijams of his intellectual and moral worth, and we hope his mission in Hamblen will be successful.

Mr. J. H. Seals, one of the proprietors of the Sunny South and the Boys and Girls of the South, spent a day in our town last week, canvassing for subscribers to his two journals—both weekly,—and both worthy of general patronage. Especially do we recommend to our boys and girls that they subscribe for their namesake. It is an excellent paper for their entertainment and instruction.

Troublesome Children, that are always wetting their beds ought not to be scolded and punished for what they cannot help. They need a medicine having a tonic effect on the kidneys and the urinary organs. Such a medicine is Kidney-Wort. It has specific action. Do not fail to get it for them—Exchange.

A shocking accident occurred last Saturday evening, near Panther Springs. A little son of Benjamin Smith, about six years of age, fell into a molasses evaporator, and was so frightfully burned that he died Saturday night after a few hours of intense suffering.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a VIOLENT BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS, followed by a severe cough. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have in the past three years.

"I write this hoping every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED." Sold by druggists. 1

Notice.

HEREBY NOTIFY THE PUBLIC that I have left my wife and will not be responsible for any debts she may contract. I left her for a cause best known to myself.
