

NEW BRISTOL, TENN. SCHOOLS ARE NAMED

Bristol, Tennessee's new school in West Bristol will be called "Rosemont." It has been determined by a joint meeting of the school board and city commission, and the new colored school on Alabama st. and College ave. will be called "Lincoln".

There was a controversy over naming the negro school. Commissioner G. P. Biedleman proposed "Lincoln" and the name was unanimously adopted.