Know them thyself, presume not good to scan,
The proper study of mankind is man.

Born on this isthmus of a middle state
A being darkly wise and rudely great.
With too much knowledge for the sceptic's <sup>side</sup>
And too much weakness for the Stoic's <sup>pride</sup>
He hangs between, in doubt to act or rest
In doubt to deem himself a god or beast.
Alike in error is his reason such,
Whether he thinks too little or too much.
Sole judge of truth, in endless error hurled,
The glory, just and riddle of the world -
