Dear Sirs,

As a result of listening to the Broadcast on the Home Service at 8.0 p.m., on Tuesday March 13th. 1951, entitled "The Women's Rebellion", I am prompted to seek your advice regarding the matter broadcast.

Firstly, the portrayal of myself was quite inaccurate, Secondly, the words used in the conversation (in the early part of the broadcast) between Mrs Pethick Lawrence and myself were not correct and failed to present the true purport of that conversation, Thirdly, my permission (nor comments) concerning the script was not obtained nor even asked by the Author or Producer.

I should be grateful for your comments on my legal standing with regard to any protests which I feel it necessary to make.

Yours faithfully,
