ARCHIVES AND MUSEUM

Headquarters
1st Field Artillery Brigade,
A. E. F., France, March 14, 1918.

My precious son,
Your nice letter of Feb. 17 and the fine pictures of my handsome boy came to day and pleased me increasably. I have no fear of you not passing your subject and I am proud to have such a smart child. Thank you for the pictures and the letter.

Since I wrote you about how I lived, we have been doing some lively work. There is much firing every day on both sides. Batteries, trenches working parties, dumps and trains are constant targets.
Three times lately we have covered raiding parties who went out and returned without loss. The spirit of the batteries is fine and their shooting is excellent. I hated to leave the 67th but this Brigade is now the best command that I can had.

I am so glad that you can go around with Bernice. She is the nicest little girl I know and you are lucky to have her so near.

There are many French children in all these towns living in sound of the guns. I wonder if they will remember the great war.

I am so glad that you are there to take care of our little mother. I send you both lots of love and kisses.
your loving
Dad.
