The Honorable Paul Tsongas, Senator
Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C.

Dear Senator Tsongas:

I appreciated the chance to discuss the CO₂ problem with you in your office on November 2. While the action of the Senate on the synthetic fuels program does not appear to me to be appropriate from any standpoint, I appreciated your own interest in interjecting some further elements of restraint.

I want to renew my invitation to you to visit Woods Hole some time soon and to join us in a more leisurely series of discussions of the CO₂ problem and how it bears on policy in the development of energy, other points where science intersects the business of government, and any other topics you may wish to raise.

I appreciate your willingness to see me on a very busy afternoon and your steady pursuit of wisdom in the management of the Nation's affairs.

Hoping to see you in Woods Hole sometime within the next weeks, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

G. M. Woodwell
