Dear Paul NEW YORK, N.Y. 10022

I was really pleased to see in the Globe how you have maintained your interest in the Sakharov family. It is certainly good to have Liza in this country, but the plight of his in-laws needs to be aired constantly.

Did you see 60 Minutes a week ago yesterday? It was the story of how a Justice Dept. lawyer discovered that certain U.S. agencies had brought Nazis into this country during the late 1940s and early 50s. The lawyer, John Loftus, who is one of your constituents, has been writing a book on the subject for the past year--I hope we will publish it in October.

I hope you and your family are well and happy in your new place. Let me know if there is anything
I can do.

Best,
