More Than a Building, College Park

Walking through the halls of College Park High, we sense that this school has a certain unity which draws everyone together. The students laughingly call to each other as they walk down the halls. The faculty members smile and nod at the students and at one another.

What is it that gives our school such unity? Perhaps the three words of our school motto—Virtue, Honor, and Knowledge—express it perfectly. Virtue, or integrity, or whatever it is called, is that attitude of wanting to do the right thing. Because we at College Park have this quality, we take more pride in ourselves, our fellow students, and our whole school. Always striving to do even better, College Park students seek Honor in all areas of school life. Not content with excelling in sports, we also work for academic attainment. Finally, the search for Knowledge is a unifying factor in our school. Students and teachers not only seek more academic Knowledge but also seek Knowledge and understanding of themselves and of others. Virtue, Honor, Knowledge—these qualities we see in the students at College Park High School.

The Individual Is Important

Our school enjoys a good reputation because its students have made a name for themselves. Each person, important as an individual, contributes to the whole group. The student body is enriched by the presence of each person.

Mr. Scott Earns

We appreciate all the extra time you give, not only to your own work but also to us.

We respect you for your knowledge of and interest in your subject.

We admire your high ideals and your belief in the principles of College Park High School—Virtue, Honor, and Knowledge.

We love you for your keen wit and ready smile.

We honor you by dedicating the 1965 ARIES to you, Mr. Harold Scott.

The Basis of Communication

Language skills are among the most important skills that a student must learn to master. Communication, not only among those who speak the same language but also among those whose languages are different, is becoming vitally important in our modern age. Besides the required five years of English, College Park offers for advanced students a special "13th year" English course. Another course available to advanced students is the class for the improvement of reading skills. Students seeking a background in foreign languages may study three years of Spanish and as much as four years of Latin.

Mrs. Simpson reads a play with her class.

Miss Whitaker, a student teacher, teaches the calculus class.

College Park gives every student an excellent opportunity to build a strong foundation in knowledge of mathematics. Whether a student is on the academic, business, or general course, classes in mathematics are provided. Advanced students may go as far as calculus in their study of math. College Park students have been recognized by scholarships and other honors for outstanding ability in mathematics. Six calculus students attended the Georgia Mathematics Convention held in Atlanta.

Variety of Math and Science Courses

To keep pace with the scientific age in which we live, the youth of today must include scientific knowledge in their scholastic backgrounds. Courses in natural science, general science, biology, chemistry, human biology, and physics are offered at College Park. Chemistry and physics classes are provided with a laboratory and modern lab equipment. Members of the science classes are encouraged to take the annual field trip in February to the nuclear reactor at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Mr. Freeland helps a student in physics.

Mrs. Summerhill uses a map as a teaching aid.

The rapidly changing and increasingly tense world situation requires that the students of today, in order to become the leaders of tomorrow, learn as much as possible about world cultures, the evolution of man, and the development of civilization. College Park students can feel prepared to face the complex problems of our world. The social studies department includes courses in American history, world culture, world history, American and world government and economic systems, and logic. Students from College Park have been recognized for outstanding work in the field of social studies. This past fall, Mrs. Summerhill sponsored a bus trip to Nashville, where forty students visited the Hermitage and other places of interest.

Business Skills Are Developed at College Park

Daily practice enables students to master the skills of typing.

Students who look forward to a career in the business world receive encouragement because of the foundation in business skills offered them by College Park's business course. Business students gain useful knowledge in business arithmetic, bookkeeping, business English, industrial arts, office training, and cafeteria management. This training enables any student to become a better business leader.

Sgt. Sievwright works in his office.

MR. FRANK MARSHALL
Diversified Cooperative Training

Diversified co-operative training is a program at College Park High School in which a student may attend classes in the morning and work in the afternoon. Under this program a student can acquire a scholastic background while earning money and serving his community in a useful capacity at the same time.

College Park's military battalion includes two companies of four platoons each. The schedule calls for drill three days each week and classroom instruction in military science two days each week.

Military students snap to attention for inspection.

The main purpose of the Student Council is the improvement of our school. It strives to promote school pride and to improve the physical condition of the school. The beanies and buttons sold by the Council have contributed noticeably to school spirit. The variety show, sponsored by the Council, was a source of delight and entertainment. The Council added to its list of school improvements eight new water fountains and an air conditioner for the school library.

Honor Society Inspires Study

The National Honor Society's high qualifications of Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service inspire students to study and serve. During the spring and fall, Juniors and Seniors who meet these qualifications are inducted into this honorary club. The Honor Society serves the school and promotes good character by presenting devotionals every Wednesday. The members of the Honor Society also serve by preparing Christmas baskets for the staffs and janitors.

FHA Promotes Community Projects

The Future Homemakers of America sent representatives to the leadership workshop at G.M.A. this fall. These leaders planned several interesting programs and projects. For one program a model from Patricia Stevens spoke to the Club about charm and personality. The F.H.A.'s two main projects were purchasing a piece of equipment for the Home Ec. Dept. and presenting gifts to the children at Aidmore Hospital.

Romans Celebrate Vergil's Birthday

During this year's Latin Week posters and bulletin boards proclaimed the importance of Latin in everyday life. Another feature of Latin Week was the slave sale in which upperclassmen bought the first-year students. The Roman Banquet celebrating the birthday of the famous Roman poet, Vergil, climaxed the week's activities. In addition to the club's projects at school, our chapter of the Jr. Classical League has participated in state and nation-wide activities. Several delegates attended the State Convention at Rock Eagle, where Jack Hutcheson won the State Mythology Contest. He and Diane Conley went on to the National Convention at Indiana State University, where he won the National Contest. As an outstanding member of the Latin Club, Claris Elliott received the Calloway Leadership Award and a week's vacation to Ida Cason Gardens for her and her family.

Students Learn to Appreciate Spanish Culture

The Spanish Club's two main projects this year have been a program in November and the observance of Pan American Week in April. The program in November, an effort to inspire more interest in Spanish, featured a dance by several first year students, a guitar solo by Ricky Littlefield, and a performance by la Senora Ruby Sewell. In April the Spanish Club celebrated Pan American Week by displaying Spanish products and reports on Spanish speaking countries.

Our Hero on Bill Curry Day, December 11.

One of the biggest projects the Fellowship of Christian Athletes undertook this year was to promote Bill Curry Day on December 11. The Fellowship has also been able to increase the number of girl members and, under the supervision of Mr. Wheeler, has had a very active year. The FCA has also worked with two other organizations to improve school conduct at Pep Rallies and ball games.

Eventful 1964 Ends: 1965 Promises Much

The year 1964 has been an eventful one, full of major world changes, and, just around the corner, 1965 appears to have many more important events in store.

1964 has seen many changes in leadership of major countries. Alec Douglas Home's Conservative government in England has been replaced by Harold Wilson's Labor leadership. Americans were surprised by the ousting of Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his replacement by Leonid I. Brezhnev and Aleksei Kosygin. India's Prime Minister Nehru died.

Reverend C. Hoke Sewell, pastor of the College Park Methodist Church, wrote this special Christmas edition for the "Ram's Horn" of Christmas. Christmas means many things. Each of us have our own special idea about what it means to us. For some it means going places. For others it is doing things that we do not get to do very often. For almost all of us it means seeing people that we rarely ever see at any other time. There is nothing wrong with any of this.

What about basketball season? What happens to student attendance then? The games, we have our excuses—the ones often take place on weekday nights, and we "just have to study," or the games are sometimes too far away from home. Of course, at times, these are valid excuses, but they are also used as evasions of our responsibility as supporters of College Park High School.

The basketball forwards and guards are just as much representatives of C. P. H. S. as are the football linemen and backs. If one needs to have basketball's advantages enumerated, we need only remember that the admission price is less, a mere thirty-five cents which entitles one to, not one, but two games, and inside a basketball gymnasium one is sheltered from the elements. However, most important of all to remem-

The question "Whose is this?" refers to a cat. Two or three cats are skinned and used in the dissection of a cat the entire year. After each cat has been skinned in preparation for dissecting, it is very difficult to tell whose cat is whose. Although somewhat grotesque, some students have given their specimens names such as "Flora," "Maggie," or "Gertrude."

"Don't cut too deep" refers to what is happening in the area of dissection. A senior's shaky mit (sometimes referred to as the "surgeon's skillful hand") often does not cut the section properly or goes too deep. Many times when

In order that more seniors may be offered this course, it is only a semester subject. Students learn how the life process works, how their bodies function in life, and most important—how to live their lives more properly through their understanding of the life process.

Faculty Squeezes by Seniors

Aren't the Beatles just great!?

Fun and riotous antics caused much laughter on the sidelines during the Senior-Faculty basketball game on January 28. "Hookin' She" Hipsher's scoring stunned the seniors at first, but senior girls soon placed points on the scoreboard. However, the faculty came out front with a final score of 46-29. In the men's game "Hoss" Ross, "Apple Jack" Cunningham, and "Molecule" Freeland, with their scoring, ball stealing, and help from other faculty members, edged past the senior boys with a score of 42-36.

"Just march down to the office; I'll deal with you personally."

Proof that the faculty had to commit fouls to win.

Our answer to "Shindig."

Excitement Reigns at

CPH'ers worked hard on Homecoming Eve trying to finish the floats in time for the parade.

In high spirits and under clear skies, College Park students pranced down Main Street to the tune of the marching band and the chattering crowd.

A day full of glamor and excitement, Homecoming was especially enjoyable this year. The beautiful floats in the parade represented many hours of hard work. Many hours, too, were spent in worrying. Who would the lucky girls be? Friday night brought the answer—Suzi Hart, our new queen. To top it off, we beat Henry County 47-0.

Our boys fought hard and beat Henry County by a comfortable margin.

"You say the jerk isn't popular in Arabia, huh?"

Beaux-Arts

On February 13 the Art Club sponsored a masquerade ball at the recreation center. Entertainment was provided by a five piece band—the Kommotions—and a fortune teller.

Nashville

On December 12, forty members of the Social Studies Department chartered a bus and took a trip to Nashville, Tennessee. Among the places visited were The Hermitage and Vanderbilt University.

Our alert crew set out excitedly at three o'clock in the morning.

Chaperons keep a watchful eye on mischievous students.

Range of Activities

Most queens get a prince to do it but . . .

"Say, is this the bus to Fairburn?"

Homecoming

Then students race to the cafeteria for the high spot of the day.

Lunch

"Tommy, your heartbeat's so romantic."

Teen Board

Peggy Day (Davison's), Caroline Vason (Rich's), and Jane Rodefeld (Davison's) represent C.P.H.S. on the department store teen boards.

College Park High School's Creed

We believe in truth. We believe in honesty. These qualities, in our opinion, mean living squarely and playing fairly.

In our daily associations at school, at home, and in the community, we shall strive to be truthful and honest in our every thought, word, and deed.

We abhor cheating, lying, and stealing. Realizing that the knowledge acquired is more important than the grade, we do not believe in taking credit for work which is not our own. We will not approve dishonesty.

We believe that all should be treated with equal respect until they prove themselves unworthy of this respect. We feel that dependability is a vital trait of honor.

We believe in truth. We believe in honesty. These we have set to be our goal.

Thank You, Mrs. Tingle

For the past five years Mrs. Miriam Tingle has been the faculty advisor for the ARIES Staff. In producing our annual, she has worked devotedly and diligently. Her aid has been invaluable. We, the members of the ARIES STAFF for 1965, would like to take this opportunity to say, "Thank you, Mrs. Tingle, for making this yearbook possible."
