Westwood . . .

The Fulton County Board of Education has invented an exciting new game. To keep you interested, an obstacle course of bricked up walls, dirt-filled stairs, and strategically placed boards and poles has been included.

Instructions: Roll dice; move allotted number. There are no other instructions with this game. Continue to play until you find yourself "out".

"Hey what's wrong?"

"Nothing."

"I know you well enough to know something's wrong; now what is it?"

"Naw, nothing's wrong."

"You can tell me; I'm your friend."

"Yeah, well, o.k. Do you remember what I told you about"

.....
"Thanks."

"I don't think I was much help."

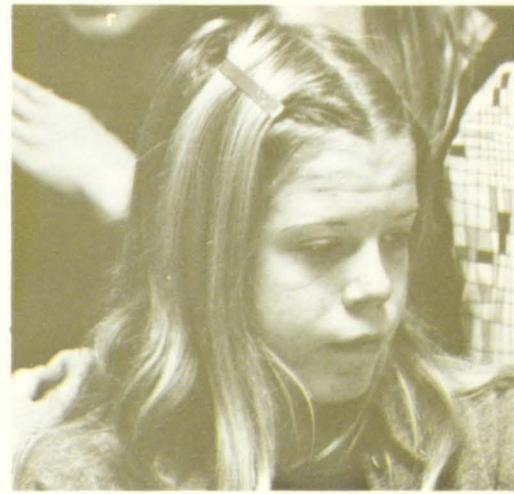

"Yeah you were. It helps just to tell somebody."

"Well, remember anytime you need to talk, I'm here; I'll listen."

"Thanks."

A single football season prepared for by weeks of sprints, drills, scrimmages, and whompers put Westwood before the public. In the place of "Where's that?" there emerges an occasional "Oh, yeah, I've heard of ya'll. It took a season of 10-0 to accomplish this feat, but such a season would not have happened without the players who blocked, tackled, ran, caught, kicked, and passed. These individuals were molded into one team by a renovated coaching staff which helped the Westwood Vikings end the season fifth in Class A.

PREP SPOTLIGHT

Westwood Heads Team of Week List

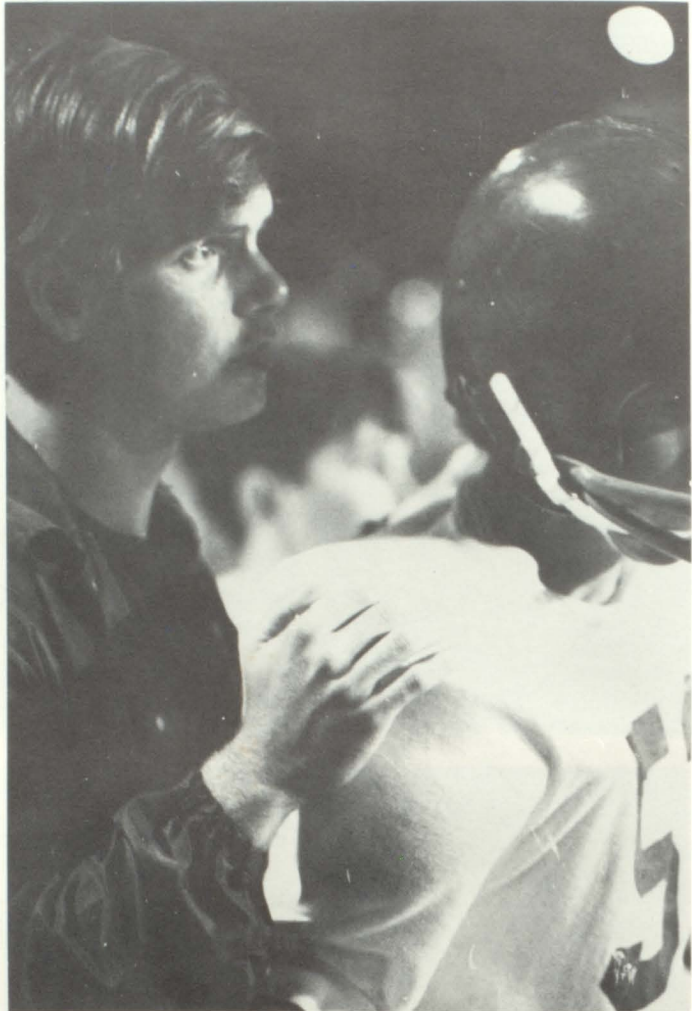

Working under a handicap when some players are promoted to varsity...playing for an audience of cheerleaders and parents . . . in spite of these hinderances still giving all.

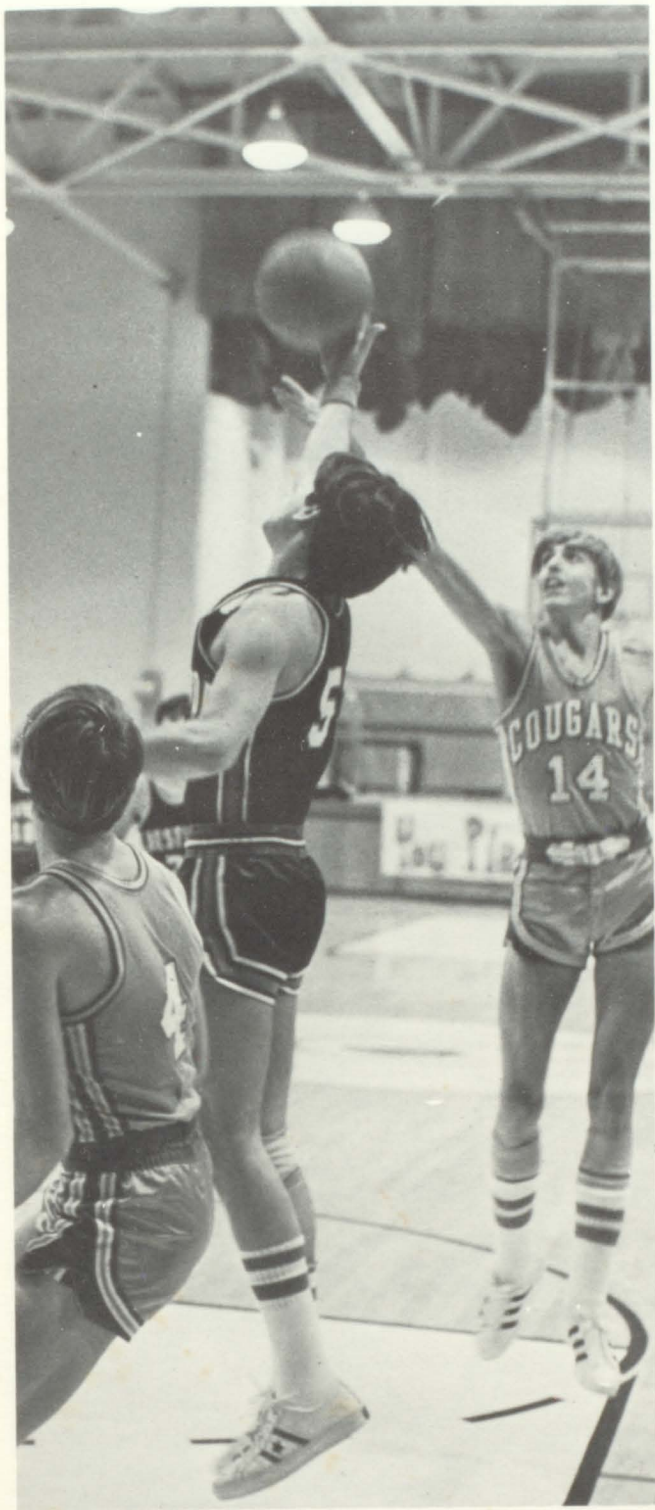

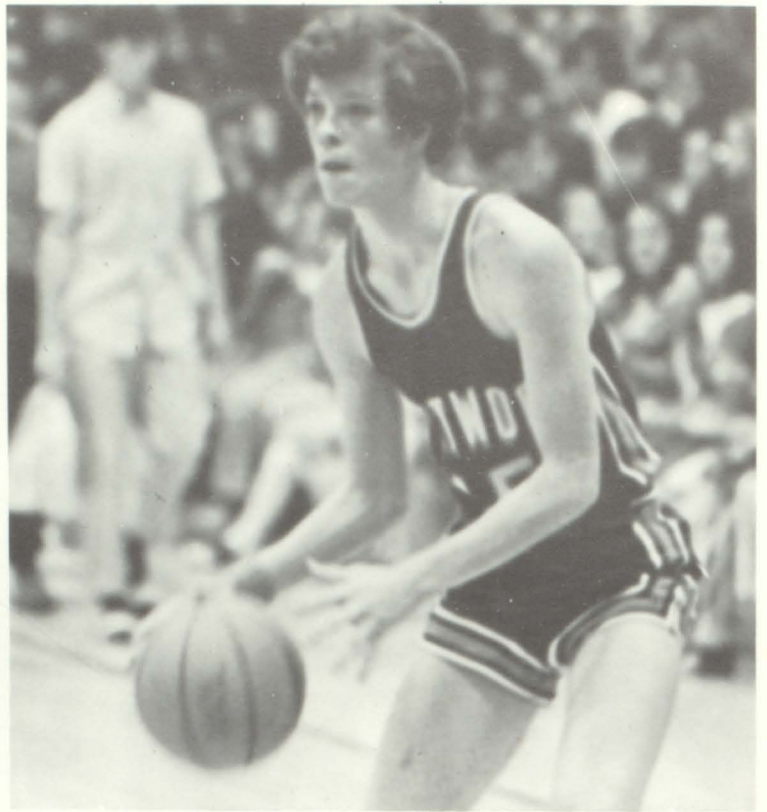

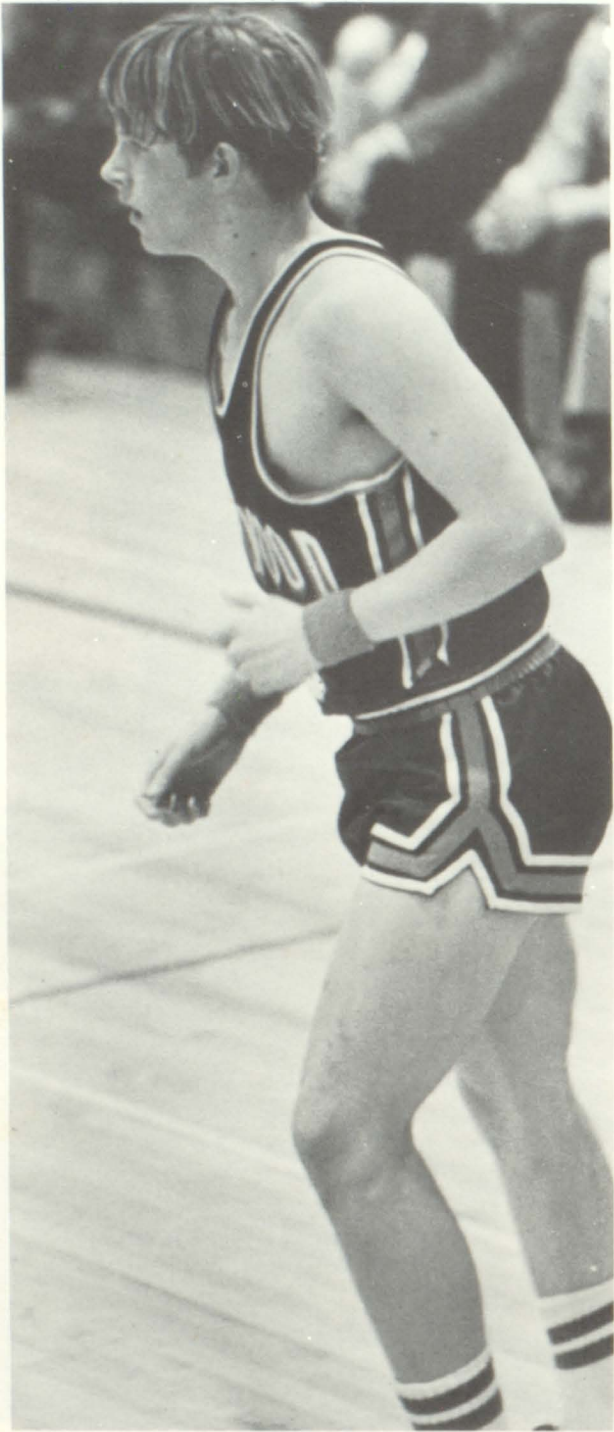

A beginning—from here to varsity and perhaps even higher ...discovering discipline and teamwork...learning that football is not just glory but also practice.

WESTWOOD

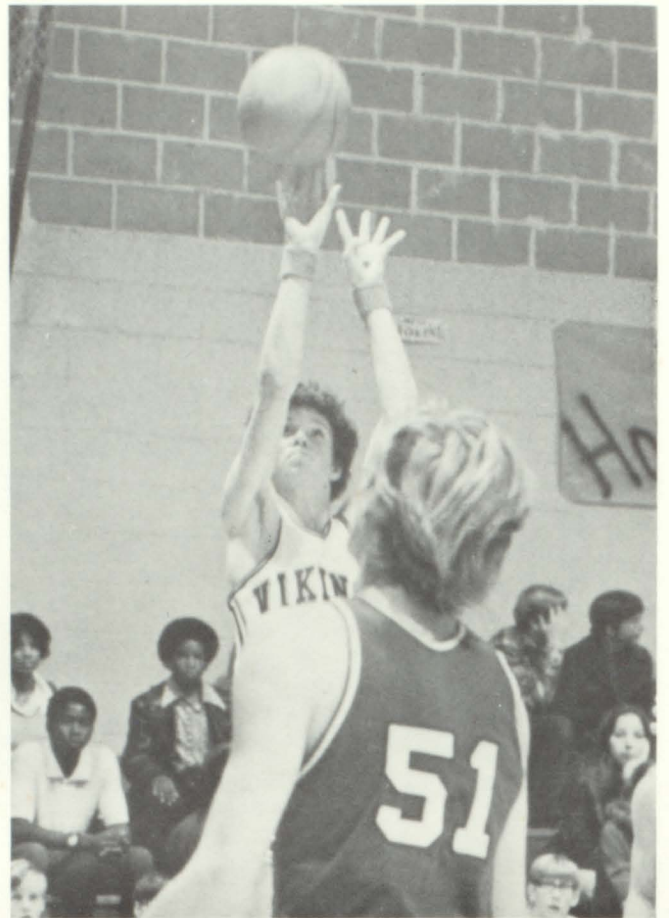

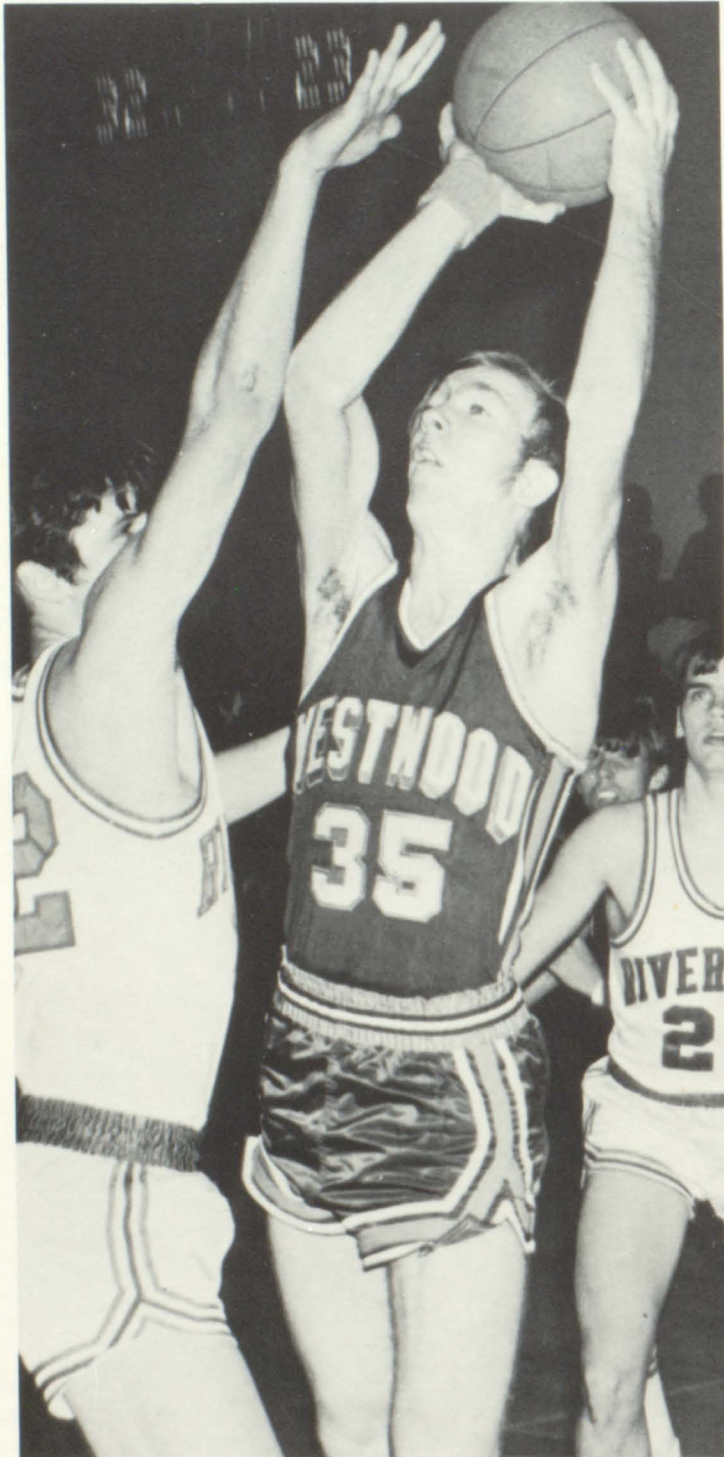

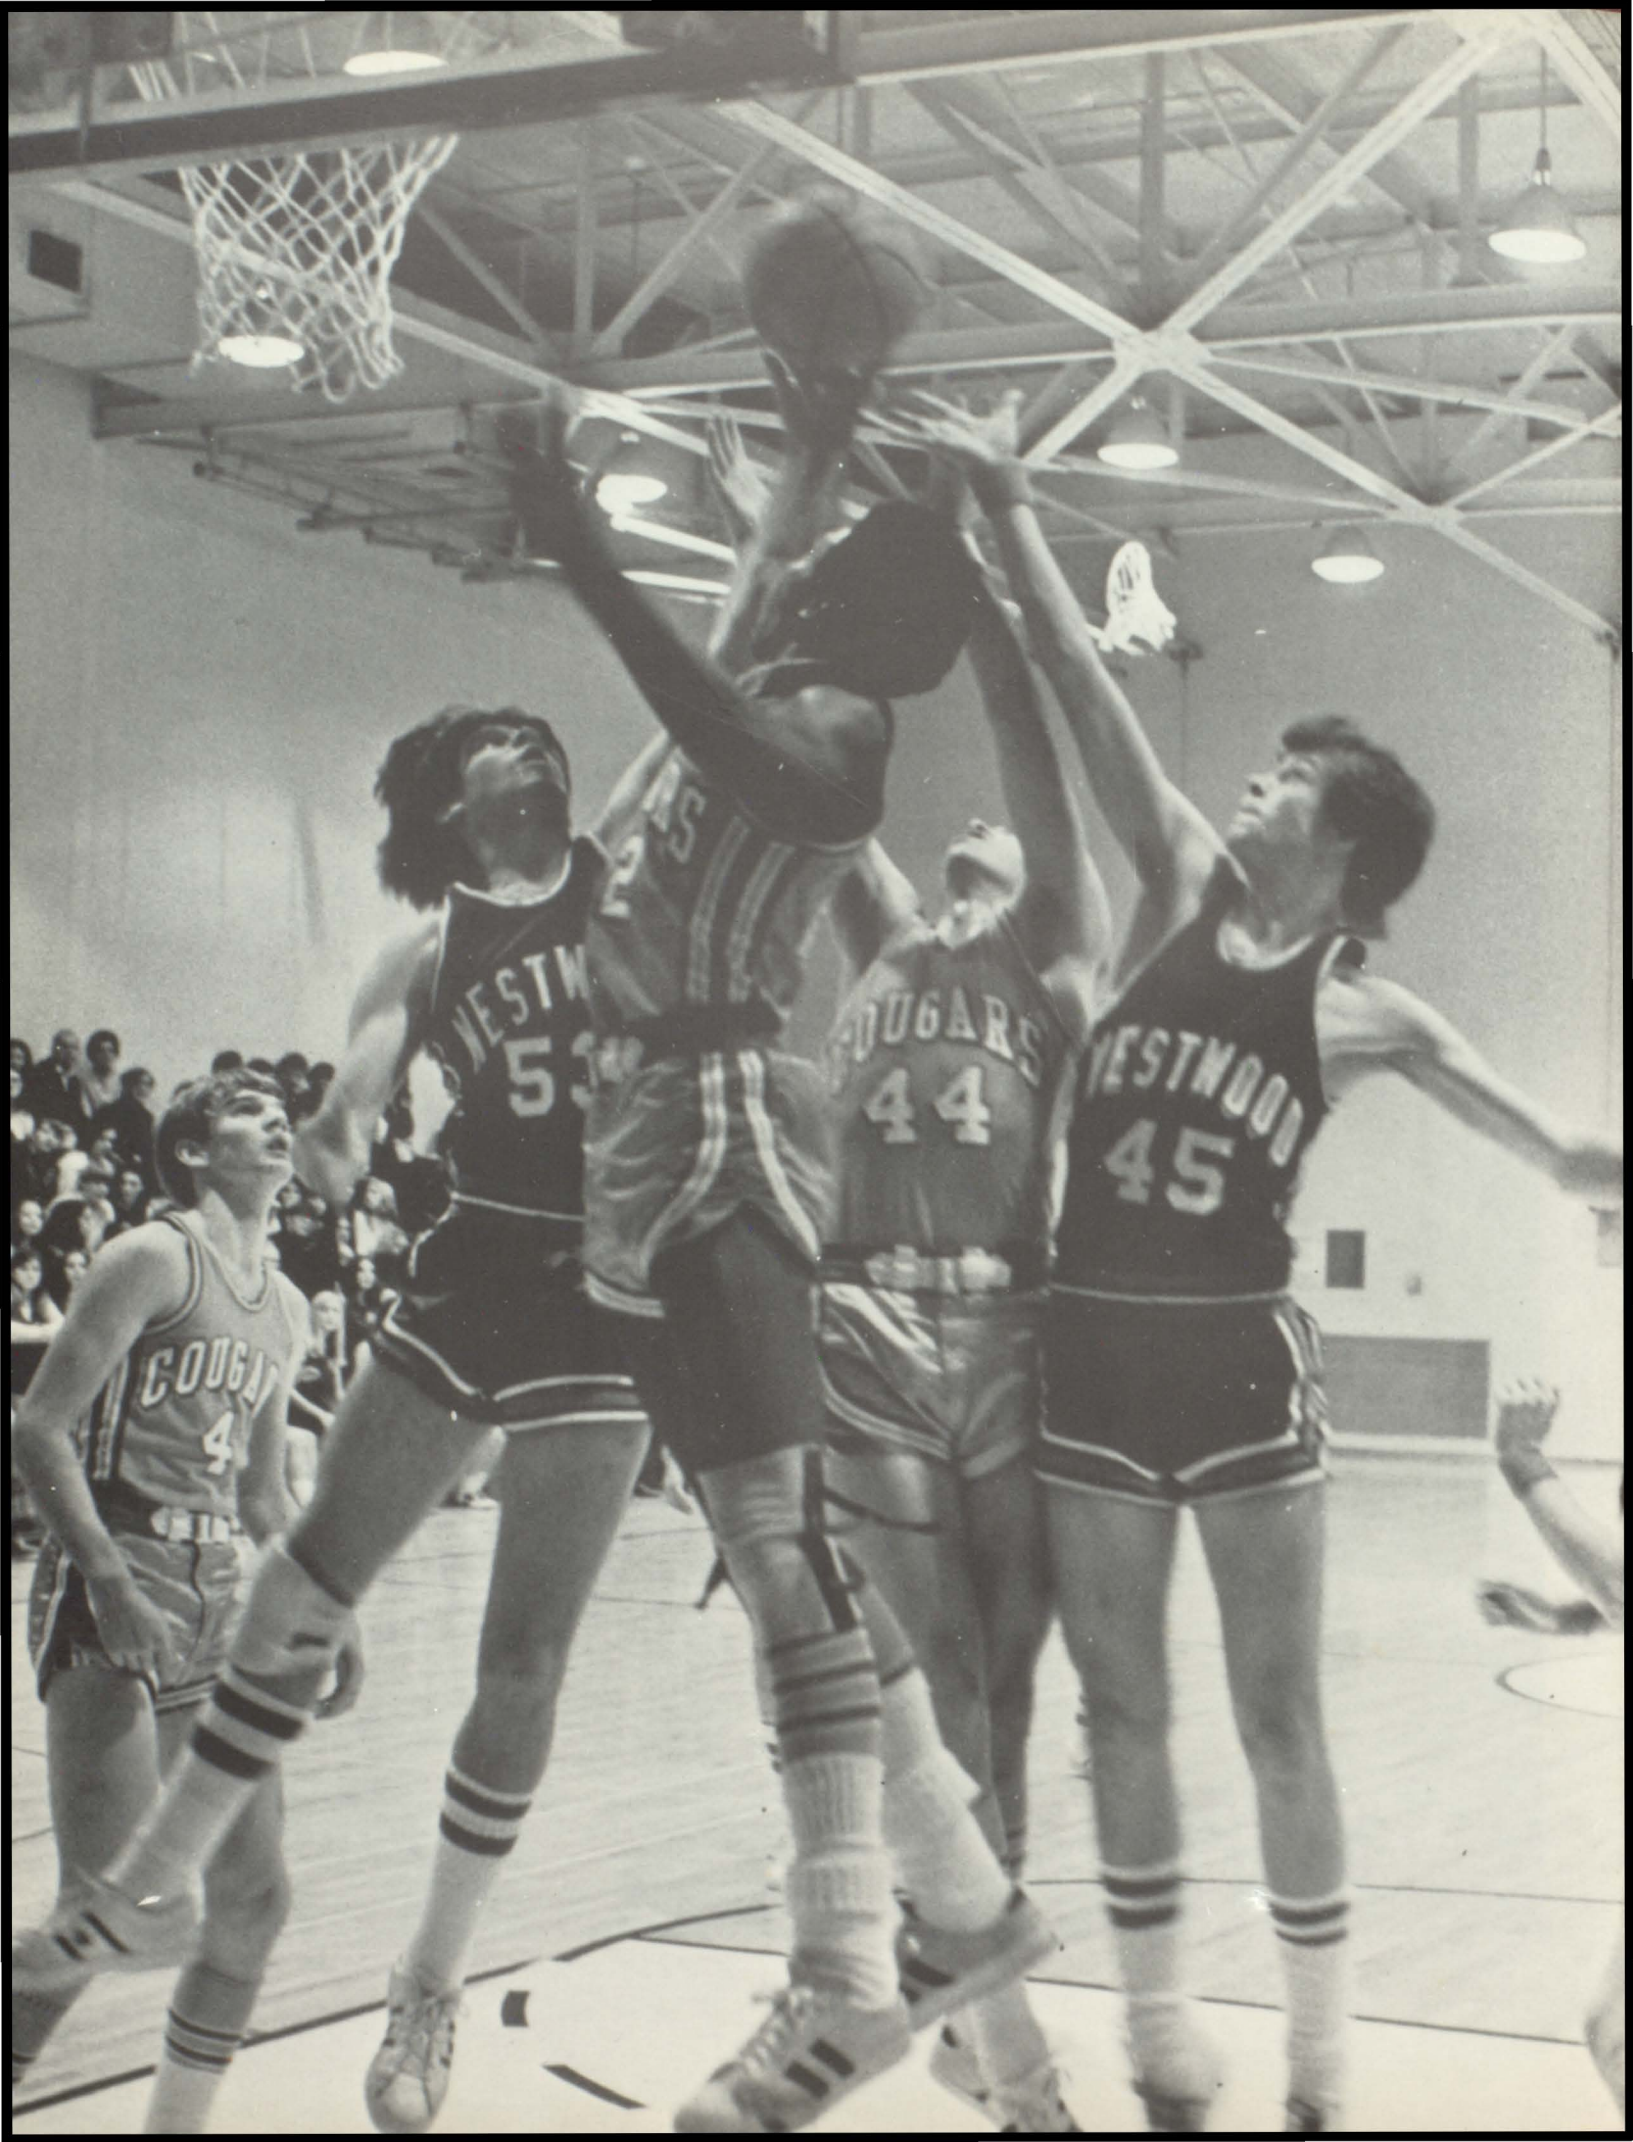

A season of questioning ... "If we had been together would we have won?" ... talent without the results of a record ... a rut of losing, but by how much? ... dissension, tension, apathy? ... a winning start but a losing season.

... a reflection of Varsity... a prediction of things to come and a history of things that were...

winning . . . placing second in the Milton Invitational Tournament . . a glimmer of hope for a future varsity

There is no ball to pass, pitch, or shoot; only wrestler against wrestler. The mind to think, the quickness to act and the strength to hold make the winning wrestler. Billy Carnes won State in the 167 pound weight class. Jerome Harris placed third in the 155 pound weight class. Larry Heaton came in fourth in the 112 pound weight class.

A sport without one on one or a zone . . . the runner, jumper, or thrower against numbers . . . each individual record a win by itself yet combining for a team win
. . . straining faster, higher, longer, being better than the clock.

A first year baseball team beating one and two, Roswell and Lithonia . . . having errors printed for all to see . . . playing on an outfield of infield dirt . . . finishing a season of 4 and 7.

Spirit Week

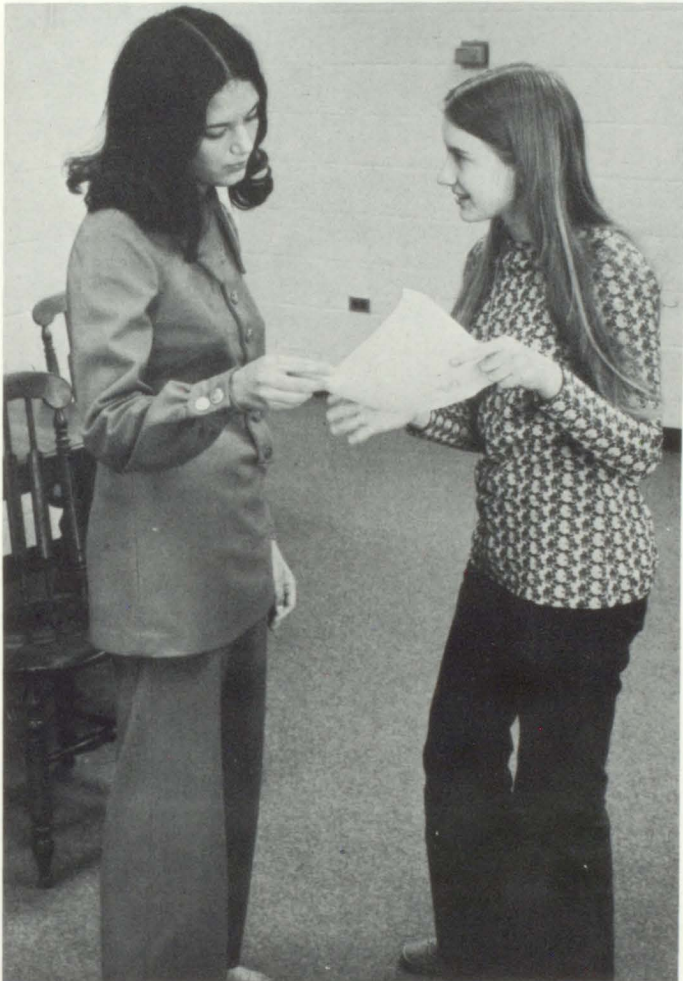

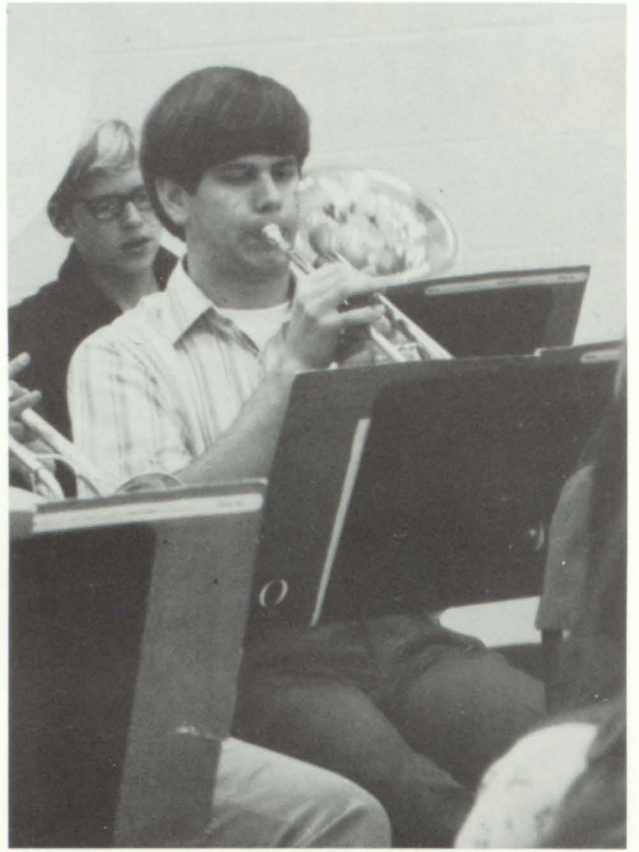

A new approach was added to Spirit Week this year, the point system. Hall decorations, homeroom doors, spirit stick winner, game signs, and game attendance all counted toward the selection of Spirit Week winner, this year the seniors. Yet Spirit Week was more than points and winners. It was working till eleven on a sign, laughing with friends, hanging crepe paper, and admiring a finished product with "You know, that looks pretty good."

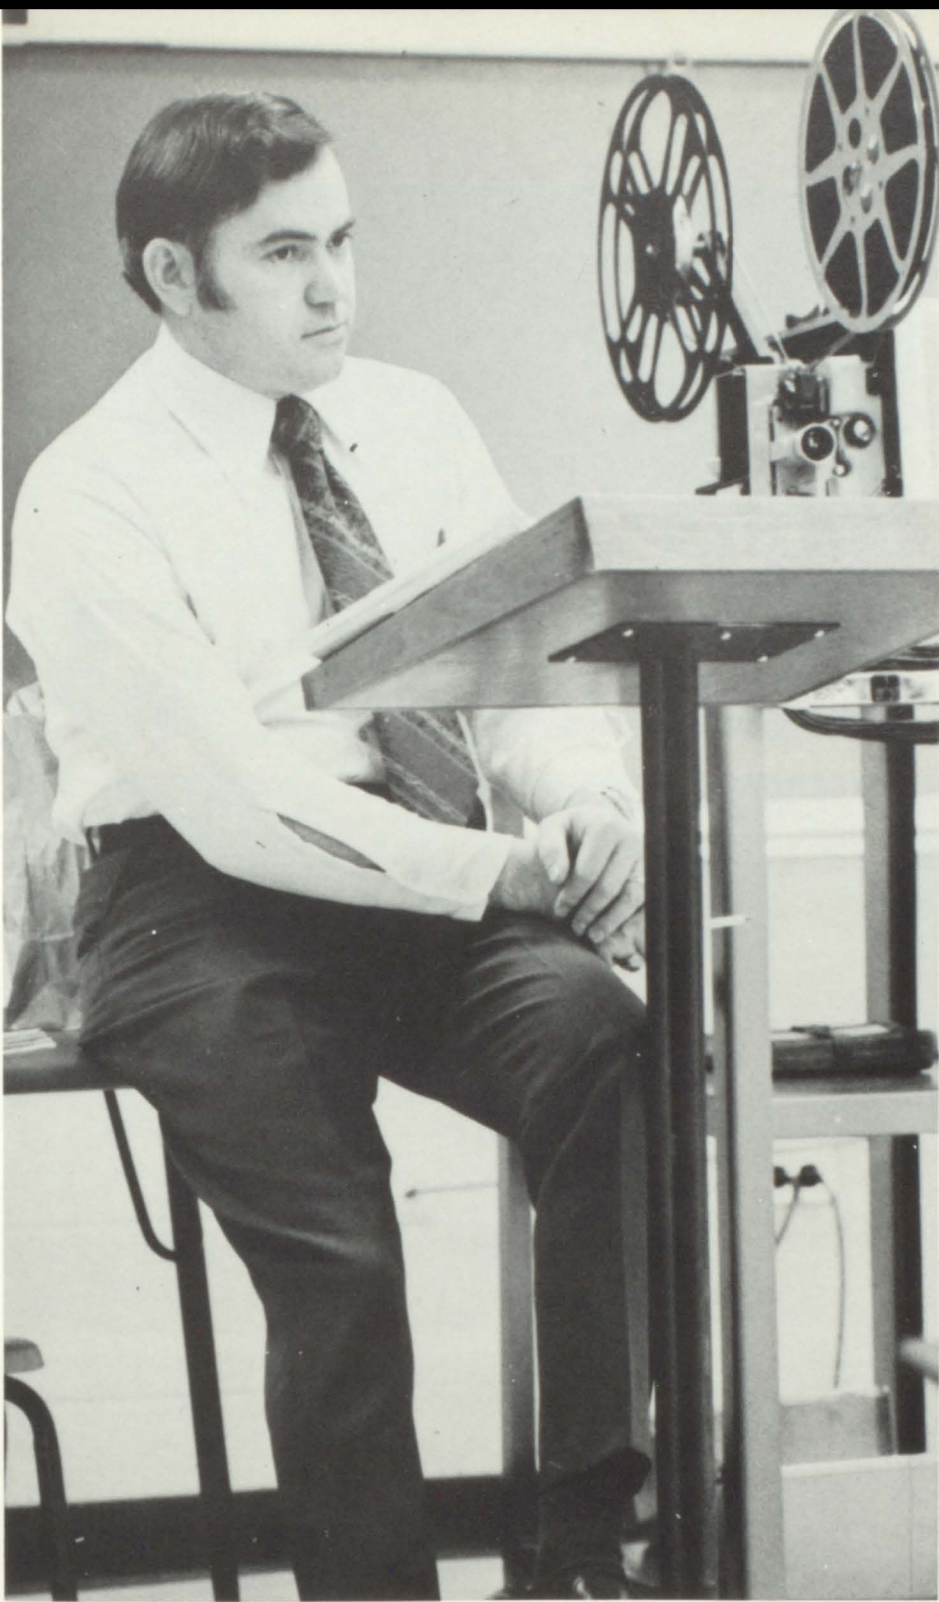

An honor is earned by the combination of desire, practice, and ability. A scholastic honor is earned by the absorption of years of knowledge and the transforming of it into ability. Vivian Bankston and Valeria Suttles became National Merit finalists. Jean Blalock, Beth Cochran, Gary Jackson, Rusty Reynolds, Judge Tankersley, and Lynette Simmons competed in the Governor's Honors program. Seniors and juniors excelling in scholarship, leadership, and citizenship were selected to join the National Honor Society.

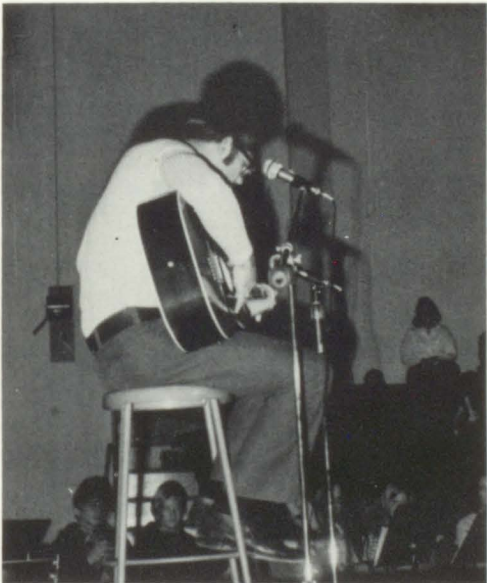

Honors may be earned by an individual who is outstanding in his particular field. Keith Hubbard earned a spot in the All-City Band. Suzana Lareto from Brazil is Westwood's first exchange student. Coach Camp and Mike Otwell were selected for the Atlanta Journal All-State team. Mr. Sloan was recognized by the student body as Teacher of the Year.

Susan Hawkins, Ed Jones, Jim

judged Gayla Hudson, Diane Jones, Aven Frese, Kim Copeland, and Donna Green as the first Miss Westwood and her court.

Oustanding Seniors

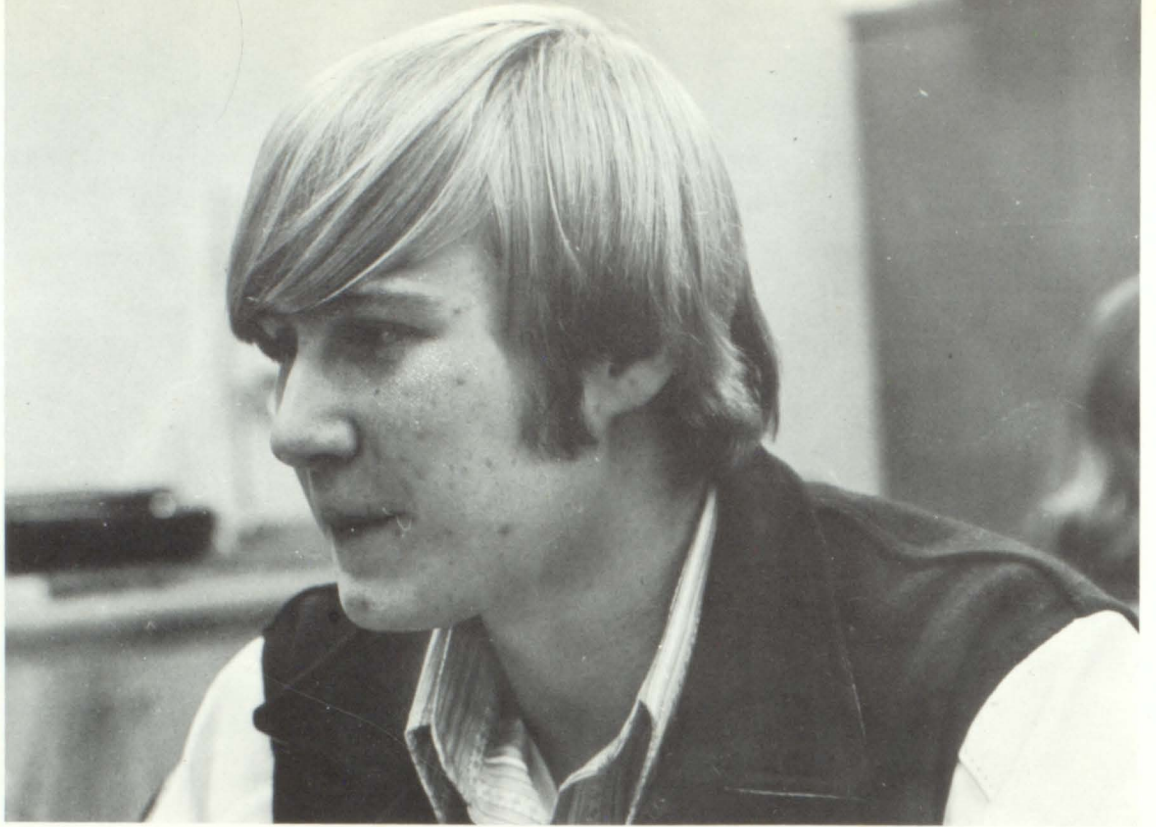

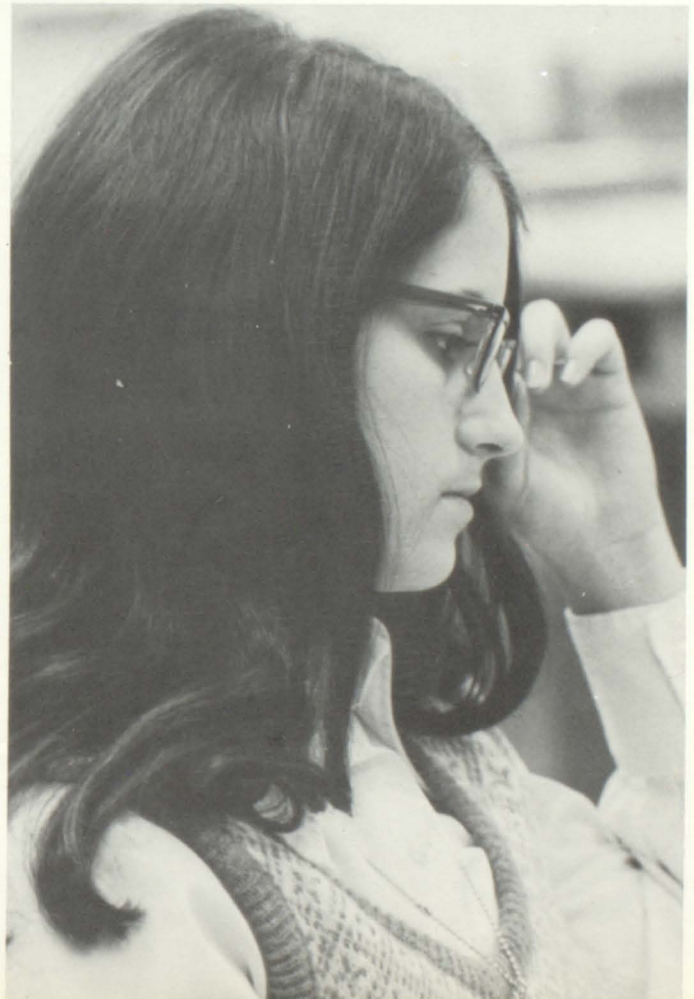

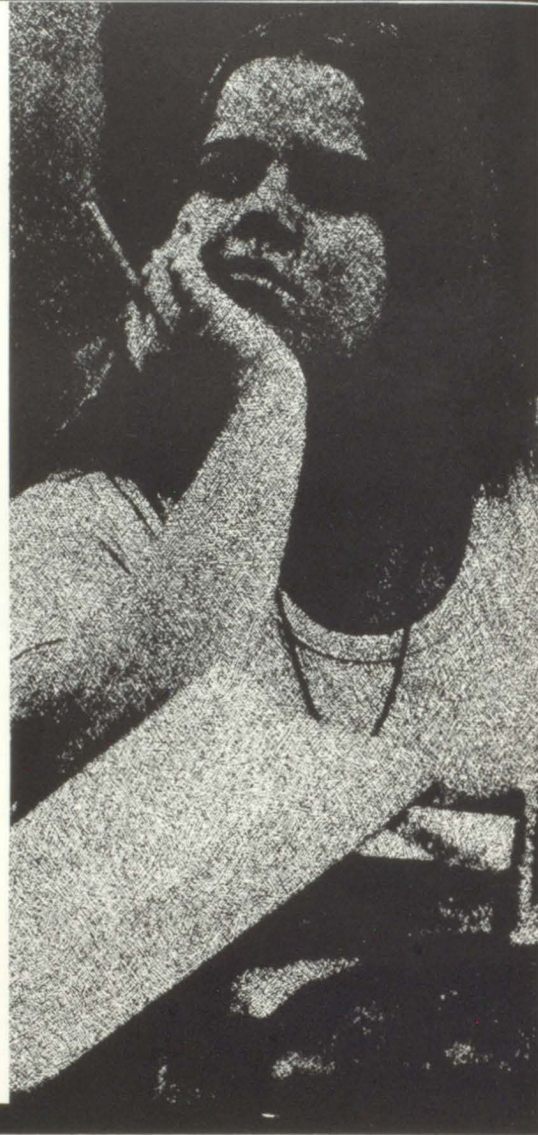

These ten people have the honor of being the Outstanding Seniors of the first graduating class, the class of '72, of Westwood High School. These people all share the common trait, involvement, which is essential for them to obtain this honor. Their involvement is shown by their leadership, scholastic achievement, athletic achievement, and popularity with their fellow students.

The Outstanding Seniors are: Pam Phillips, Debbie Johnson, Bill Trainer, Keith Hubbard, Anne Carney, Mike Barnette, Paul Danforth, Valeria Suttles, Bobby Brown, Elaine Forsythe.

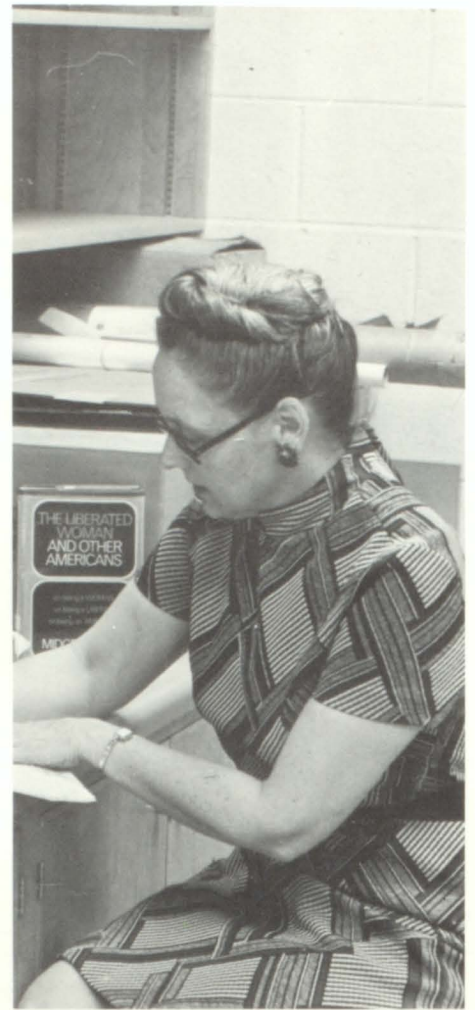

Teaching is all too often an occupation instead of an objective. A person who has earned his degree must combine his knowledge with a desire to guide. To succeed in realizing the difference between dictating and guiding is a beginning, but to succeed in guiding is to obtain the objective of teaching.
