DEDICATION

Sarah McDaniel

When the principal is absent, who is there to take his place? Mrs. Sarah McDaniel. She assumes full responsibility for the operation of the school in the absence of the principal.

Her jobs at Ridgeview are many, and because of the love for her work, she does her job well and to its fullest.

In being at Ridgeview for seven years, she has gained the respect and confidence of everyone, always going out of her way to help someone with a problem.

To express our great appreciation for a job well done, the 1975 Viewpoint Staff dedicates this year's book to Mrs. Sarah McDaniel, Assistant Principal of Ridgeview High School.

RIDGEVIEW

Seven years ago, a reservation was set aside as Redskin Country. Through this land a rough path has been beaten.

The trail which leads thru' the Redskin Year is long and tiring, but the injun' who reaches the end of the trail is a far more experienced and educated person than the one who first undertook the walk.

For there are many trees and branches which fall in the path as the Redskin makes his way.

Bear claws,
signs of good fortune,
may be collected along the trail and worn for protection as the Redskin prepares to become an Indian chief.

Feathers are also collected while going down the path and may be saved to use in the chief's headdress.

The scorching heat and frigid cold along the Redskin trail perpare the injun' to weather all aspects of a chief's life.

IN MEMORY

During the summer, Ridgeview suffered a great loss in the death of Mrs. Geraldine Persells. In her six years as Head Librarian, Mrs. Persells' dedication and hard work were highly valued. Her enthusiasm and willingness to help was a great asset to the students of Ridgeview. With reverence, we at Ridgeview honor her memory.

VIEWPOINT

Nineteen determined Ridgeview students combine their efforts to create our school annual. Each morning photographers try to go unnoticed as they snap pictures of everyday happenings. Meanwhile, other members of the Viewpoint staff struggle with green pencils and croppers, trying to meet each deadline. The outcome of the work is the memory of the year 1974-75.

AFS

What do decorations for Homecoming and a student from Finland have in common? And what are the similarities between an international Christmas party and the Miss RHS pageant? All of these seemingly unrelated activities are sponsored by Ridgeview's American Field Service. This club represents a primary effort in promoting good will among people. One of their best efforts this year brought to Ridgeview Olavi Luotonen, an exchange student from Finland.

FCA

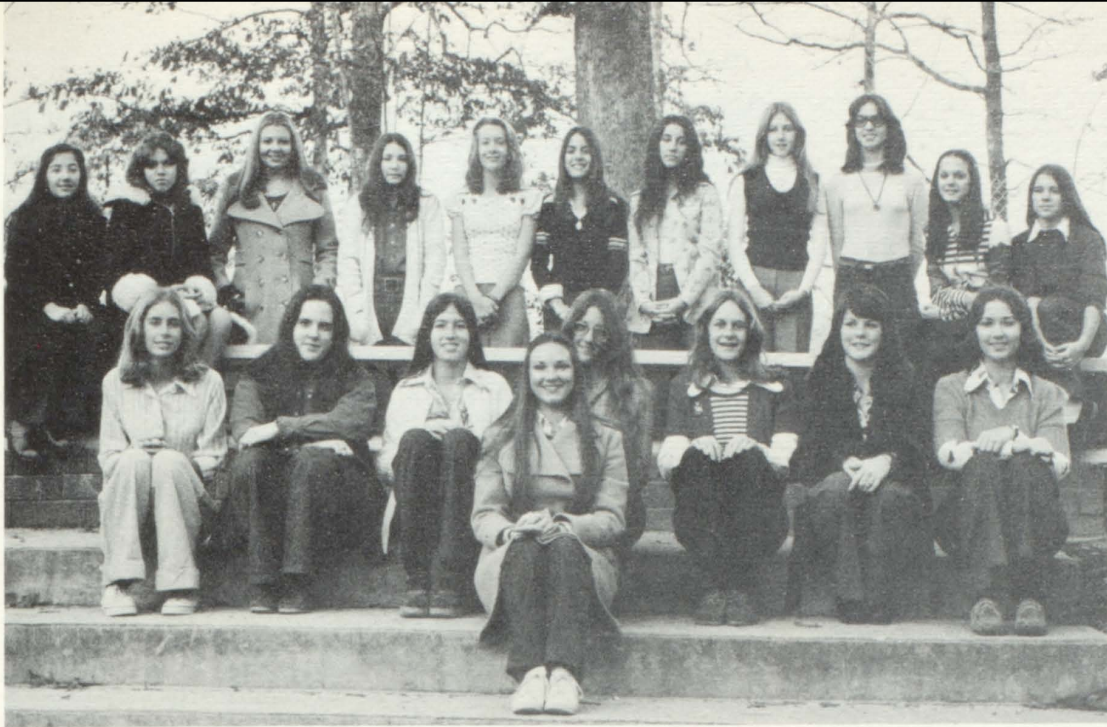

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes has contributed a spirit of pride here at Ridgeview. At the Homecoming game, spirit chains, sponsored by the Pep Club, decorated the fences. To round off the club's many activities, they collect for the Empty Stocking Fund, bring noise makers for pep rallies, and have parties at Farrell's.

SMOKER'S SOCIETY

This year was the first that Ridgeview has had a Smoker's Society. The organization was formed to give a feeling of responsibility to smokers in order to keep their new area well kept. MARCHING BAND

The shortest distance between two points is a straight line, but to look at Ridgeview's marching band you'd never know it. They march all over the field — in about seventeen and a half different directions at the same time. What probably seems like a lot of chaos at 7:00 A.M., turns out to be a parade of precision for spectators at half-time. The Ridgeview band may not know their geometry, but they sure know their marching.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

From September through March, nine girls spend abundant time cheering the football and basketball teams through numerous encounters. After each game, these girls have usually lost their voices and are very exhausted. Giving of their time and energy, the cheerleaders are a big boost to the spirit at RHS throughout the year.

B-TEAM CHEERLEADERS

Ninth and tenth grade girls add to the Pep Rallies by contributing several cheers. These nine girls can get "fired-up" and catch the spirit of the underclassmen. The B-team cheerleaders are a big boost to the ninth and tenth grade athletes.

KACHINA DOLLS

The spirit of Ridgeview is alive and kicking in twenty eight lively, hardworking, footstomping, cheer yelling, locker decorating girls who seem to never run out of energy or talent. Early morning practice, wet tennis shoes, and tight curlers on the field are a common part of a Kachina Doll's life. But glittering headbands, long fringe, and trophies resulting from their excellence make an even greater part of a Doll.

STUDENT LIFE

HOMECOMING '74

"America" was chosen as this years theme for Homecoming. The student body at Ridgeview really put forth all their effort to show people what it is like to live and be an American.

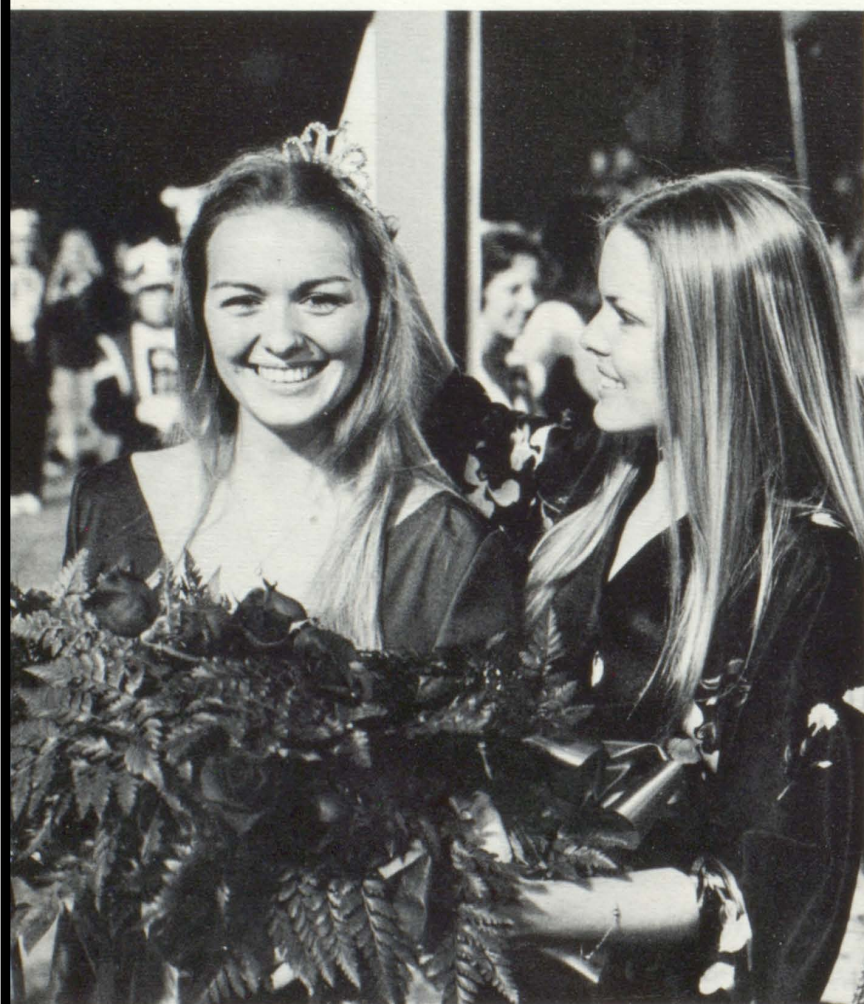

We had everything from mismatches, to ghosts and goblins, to a discussion where the students talk to Mr. Boyd and the faculty.

Stars and stripes filled the halls with colors of red, white, and blue, and silver stars galore.

Picking girls from each grade, the students chose their Homecoming Queen.

The greatest amount of spirit was shown at the hour long Pep rally on the day of the game and then the team on to victory that night.

America, stand up and cheer for Ridgeview High is here!

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

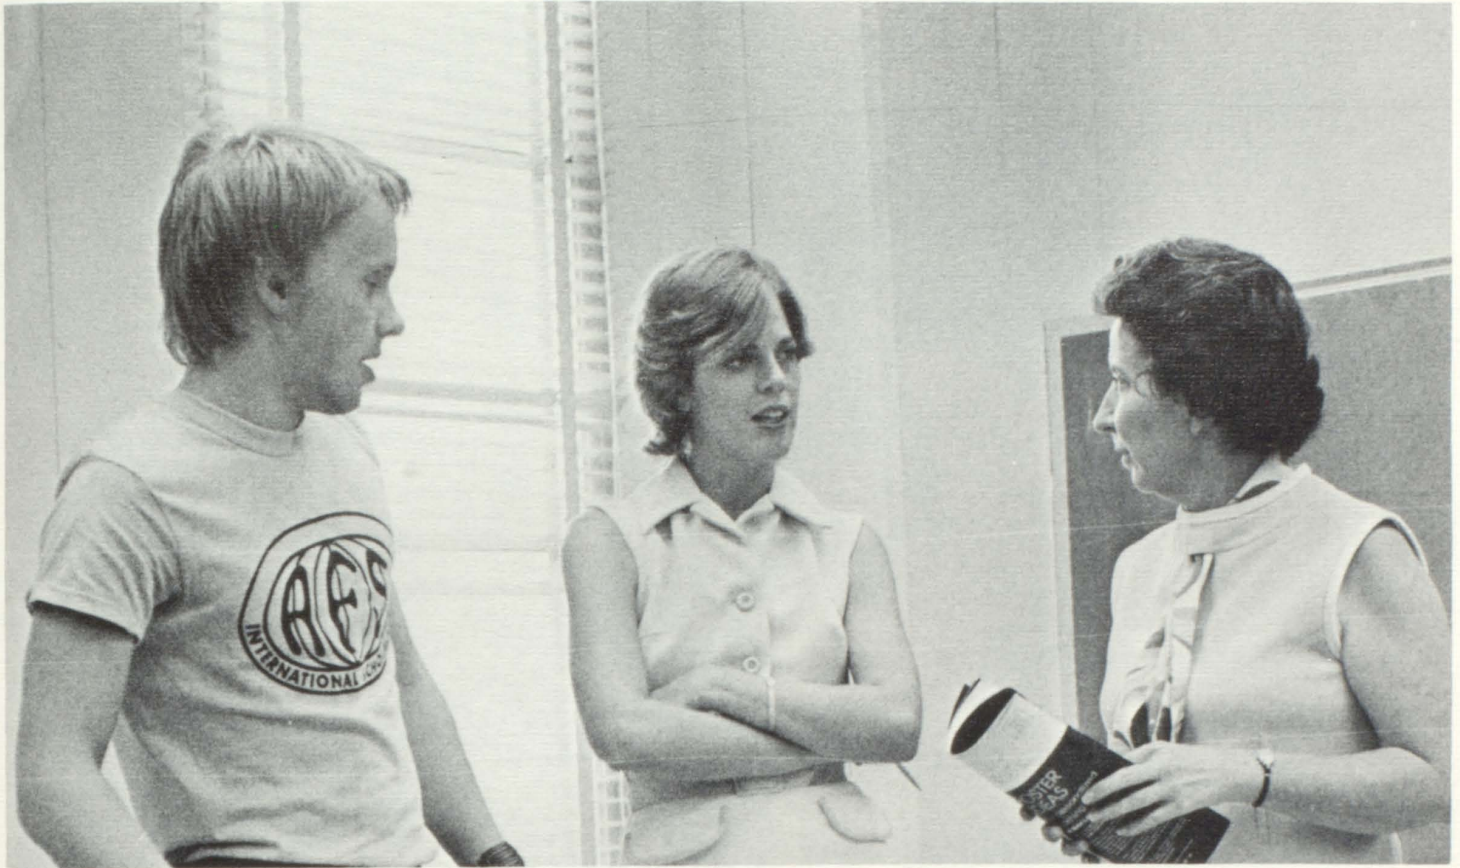

CHANGE OF SCENERY

Each day has its bright new changes; the sun to rain, the waters to dust, and the grass from bright green to brown.

This year the AFS has made its own contribution to the change in scenery with Ridgeview's first male exchange student, Olavi Luotnen from Turku, Finland.

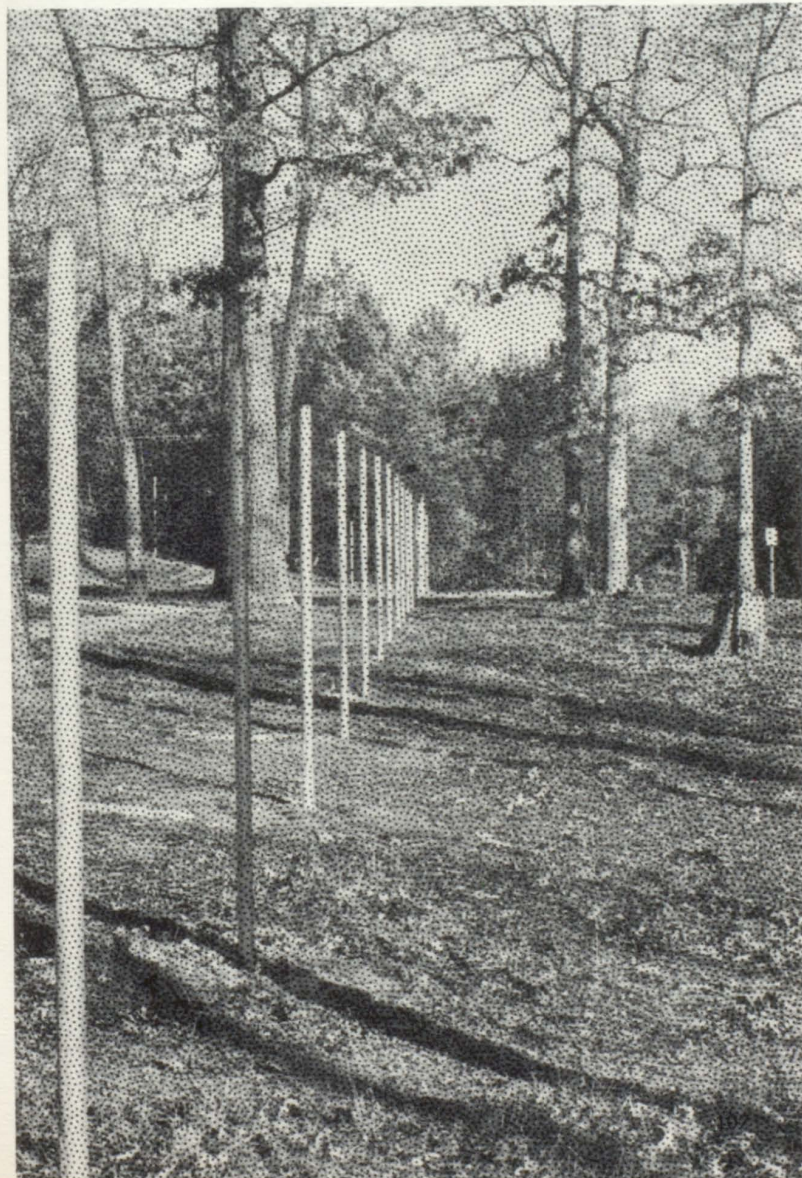

With blonde hair, blue eyes, and a smile to begin the day, Olavi has been one of Ridgeview's favorite scenery changes.

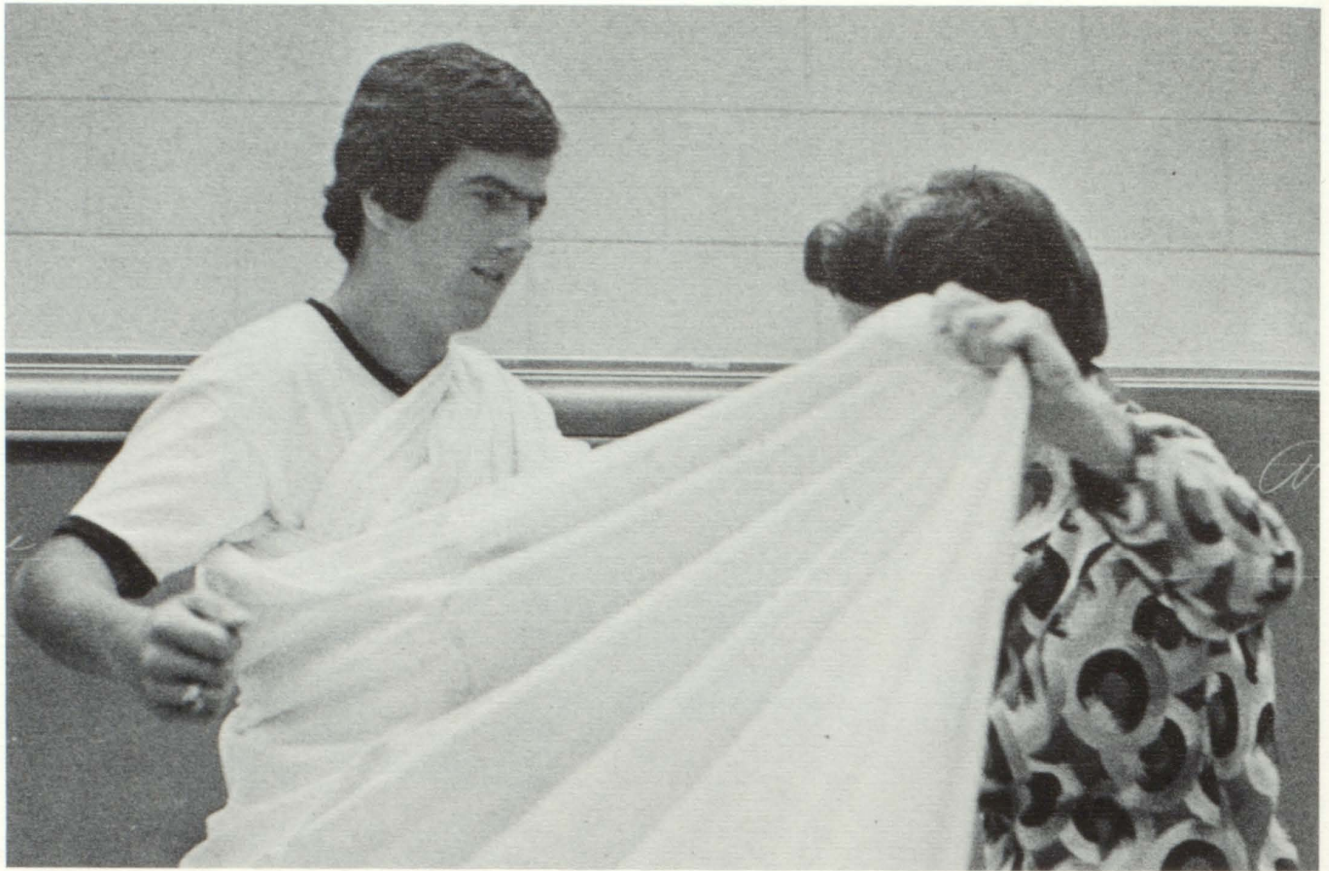

MISS RHS

Tip your hat and tap your cane, America's Vaudeville has returned. With the task of old Vaudville the Miss R.H.S. contestants brought talent unending to Ridgeview. Choreography, old slap stick comedy, singing, and just plain fun packed people into the gym for an all American show. Excitement filled the air as the five finalists were announced. The biggest moment was the crowning of Elizabeth Hill, Miss R.H.S., 1974.

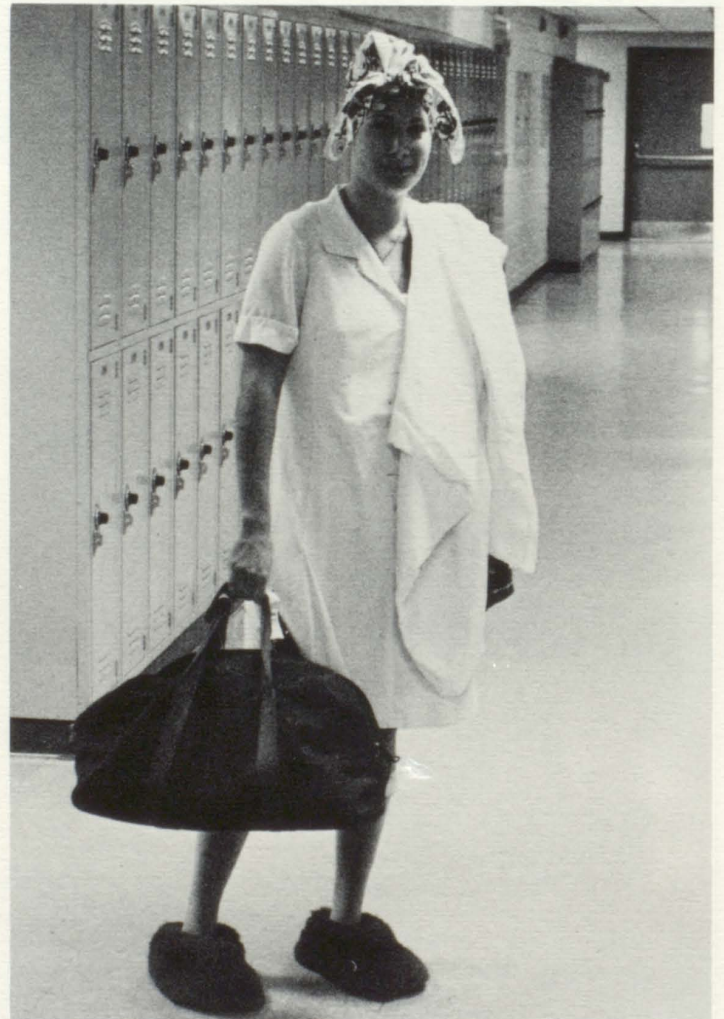

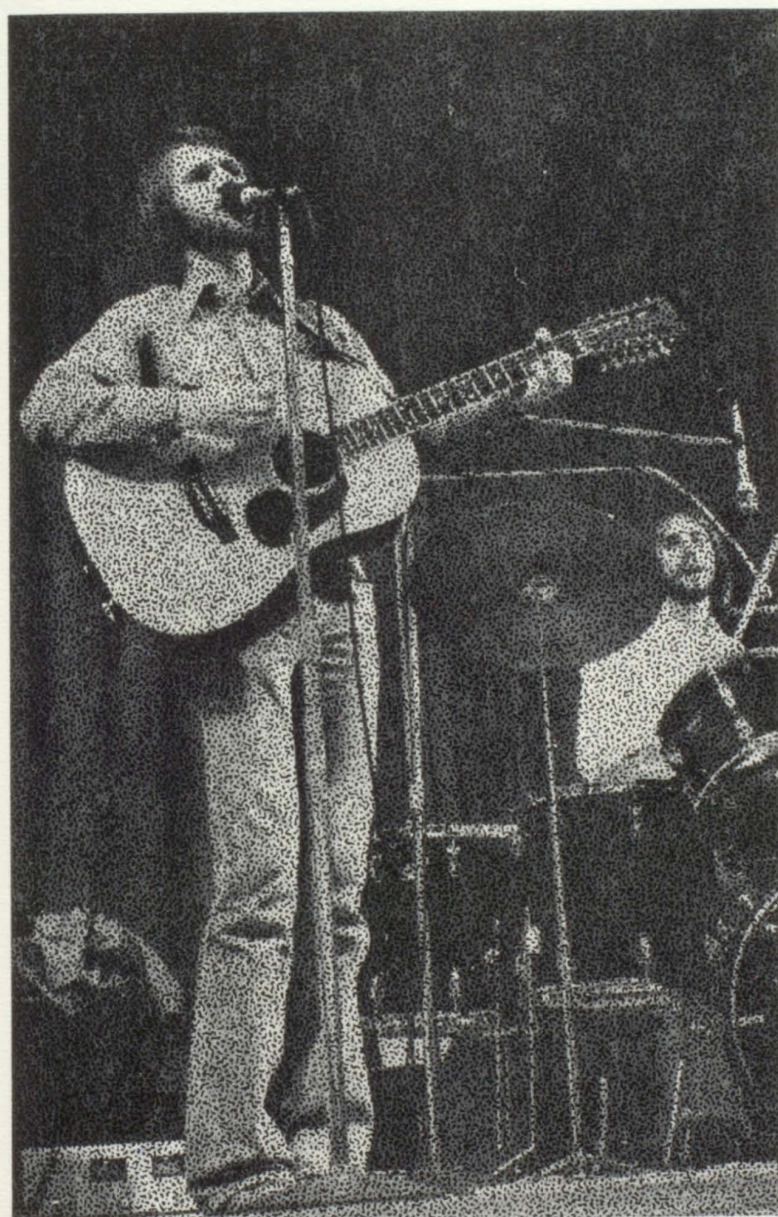

I may not find the clover
But at least I'll have
A try, and who knows,
Maybe one day soon
I'll catch the Wave and ride, from Here to way out yonder,
Somewhere beyond somewhere.

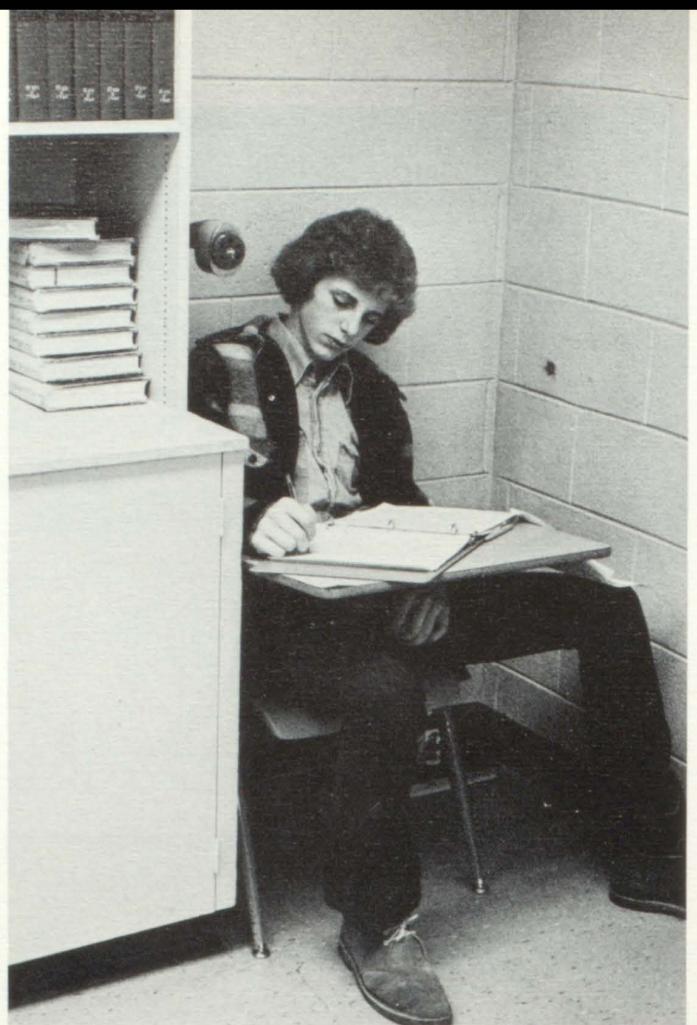

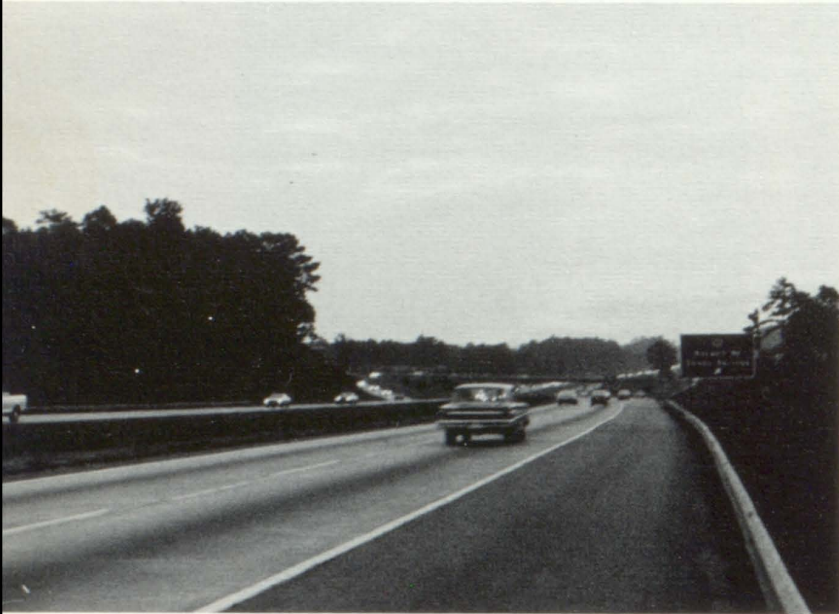

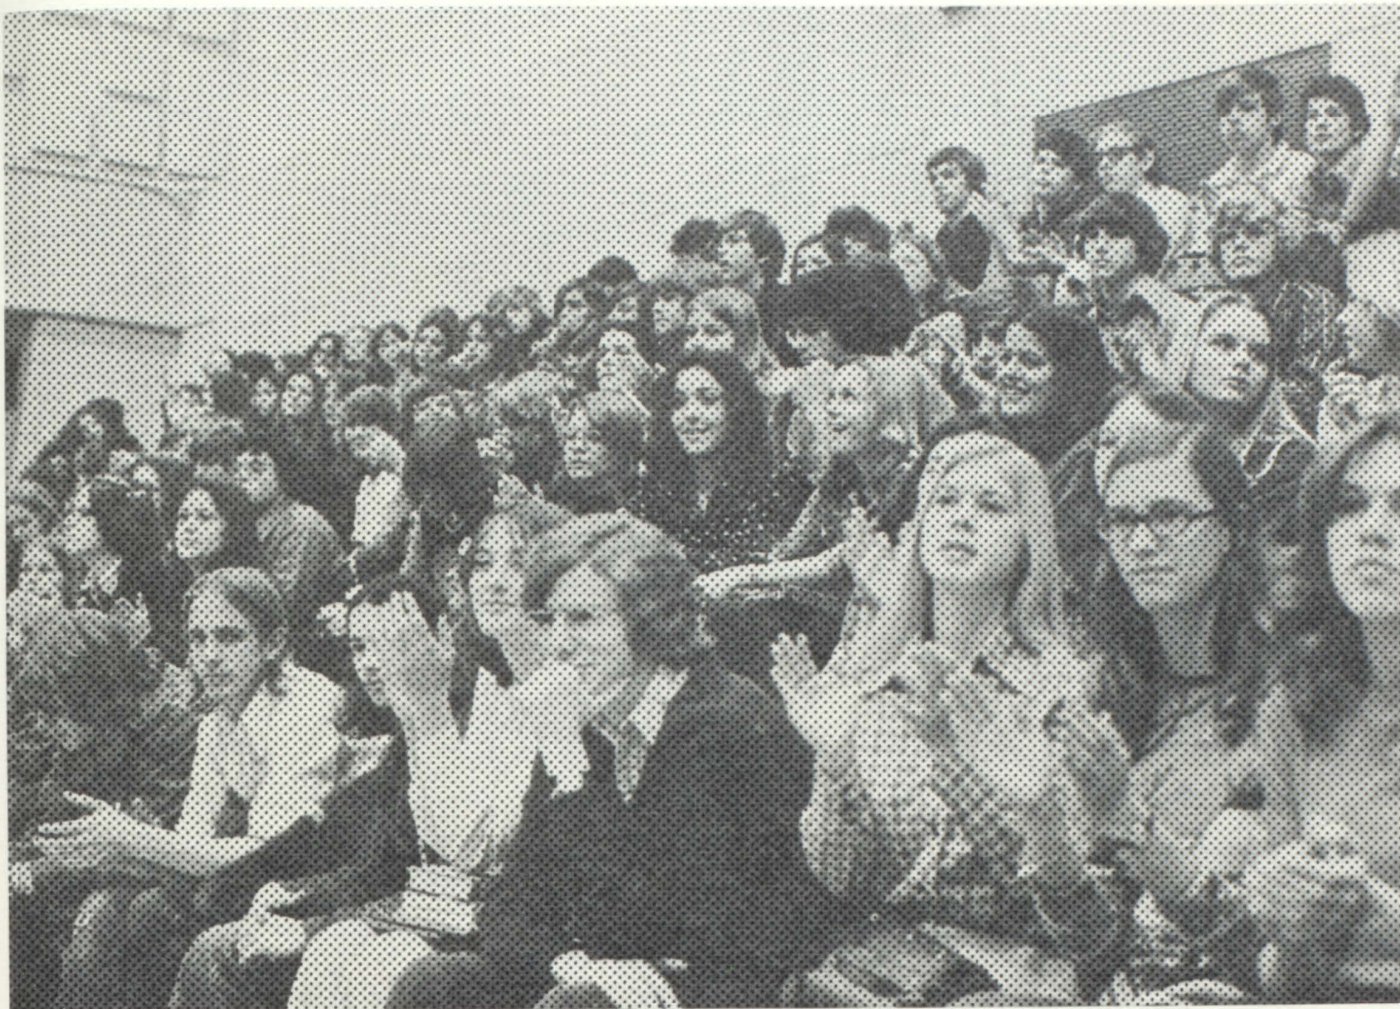

I may not find a rainbow
but at least I'll have a try.
And who knows, maybe one day soon
I'll tell the town goodbye and start off on my journey to find what I must find

I've seen a hundred sunsets that crowned a thousand days and I guess that there must easily be fifteen hundred ways to get to where you're goin',

the corner or the moon.
Well I don't know where I'm goin'
but I'll get there one day soon.

"One Day Soon"

PEOPLE

ADMINISTRATION

Many games are played under protest in the Department of Referees. Students protest such calls as "holding" (cigarettes without permits), "clipping" (the windows with bullets), and "personal fouls" (burning toilet seats). Students hope for shorter penalties as the longer marches often lead them too far into "home territory."

COUNSELORS

The Basketball Player-Coach Association is concerned with training young beginners the skills necessary to compete in basketball. The two coaches give basic teachings. These cover the rules of the court and help players to decide in which goal he wants to score. Professionals assist players who have trouble making two points by "stuffing" the ball through the goal. But alas, the day comes when young players are drafted into another league. In a spirit of dedication, the two coaches help the players adjust to this new league.

Miss Bettie McLemore

Mr. Virgil Herndon

OFFICE

In the Volleyball Division, younger students must quickly learn the proper methods of volleying in order to play the game with the experienced opposition. Rules maintained by the Volleyball Division are that all matches start on time, that each player plays in every game of the match, and that violations of the rules result in suitable penalties.

PERSONNEL

The Ground Crew maintains the facilities for all sports events. With a long list of services, including temperature control in the facilities, and condition of the grounds, the crew is continually busy. Were it not for the efficient Ground Crew, many of the sporting events might have to be cancelled.

SPECIAL EDUCATION AND LANGUAGE

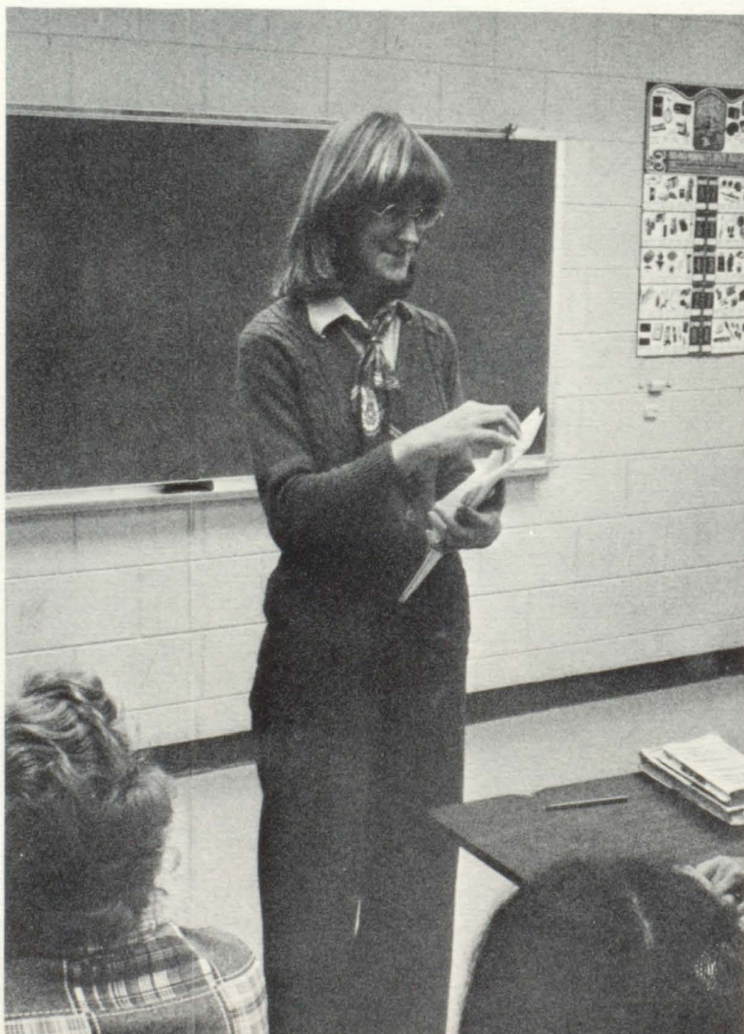

The Track Runners Association gets athletes in shape for other sports activities. By helping sportsmen to take the sprints and hurdles of everyday athletics, the Track Runners Association is a valuable asset to the sports departments.

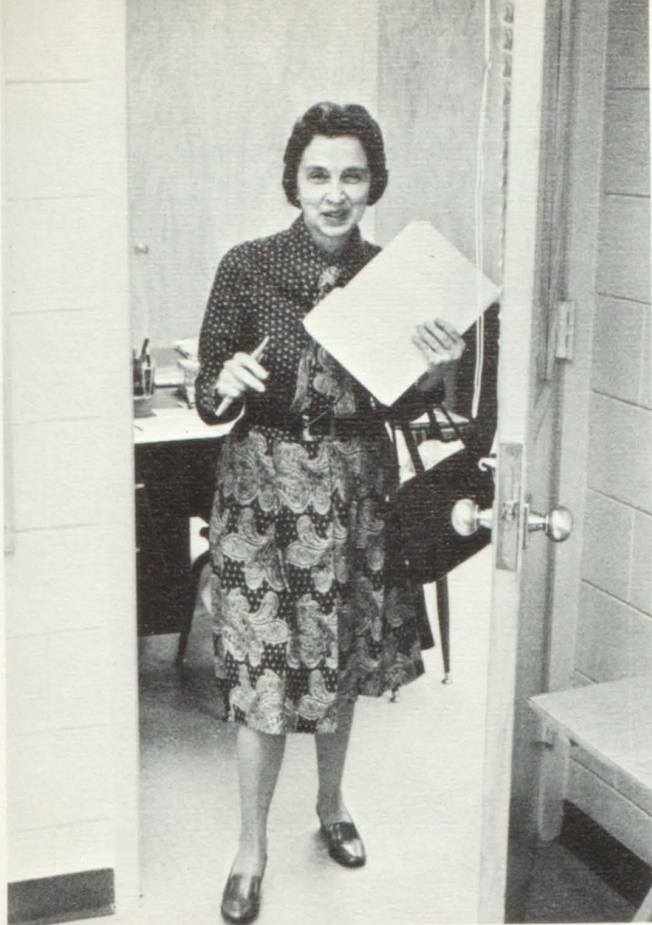

Mrs. Alison Scott

Mrs. Lula Culbreath

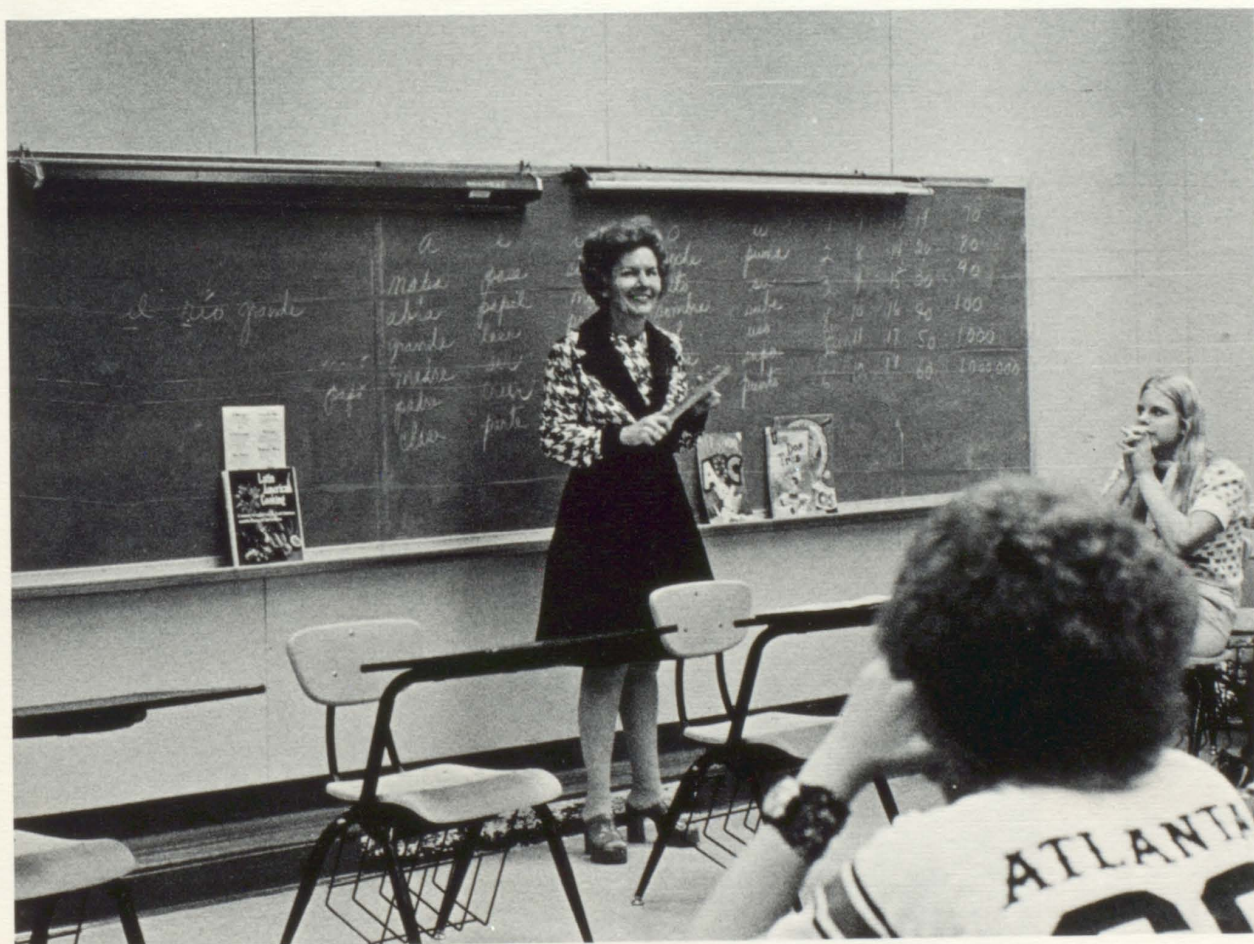

Miss Shirley J. Spears

Mrs. Anna Lee Tyler

The Alpine Mountain Climbers are skilled to train reluctant climbers the sport of mountain climbing. Beginning students take the shorter cliffs of beginning French, Spanish, and Latin. As the students become more advanced, they're taught the finer points of this dangerous sport. Those who advance past the two year minimum requirement venture into the icy cliffs of independent study, conversation, and literature. It is highly recommended that everyone join the Alpine Mountain Climbers, for as students attempt to reach the heights of Mt. Everest University, many fail due to a lack of coordination in the finer aspects of these sports.

Mrs. Gladys Rozar

LIBRARY

Everything comes into focus in the pages of Sports Illustrated. Here, busy journalists and their staff are continually working on layouts of articles in a systematic pattern such that they might be found easily by the reader. The Sportsman's Bibles are in the front of the magazine, Football articles fall in the middle of the magazine, and articles on specific athletes fall at the end of the magazine. Magazine layouts are a tedious task, but the end product is a valuable asset to the sports departments at Ridgeview High School.

On the football practice field, many drills are carried out. In one corner of the field, exercises are conducted by skilled leaders. Other players run sprints, practice pass patterns, or work on new formations. All of these practices make the player more agile, better prepared for the game, and a more adequate player overall.

Mrs. Pat Collum

The Stunt-Flying Divisions train young pilots the fine art of stunt flying. Both sexes are allowed to enroll in the courses, although, opposite sexes tend to focus their interests in different forms of aerobatics. Girls seem to be more interested in loops and weaving, while boys find excitement in formations, wingovers, and spins. The end product is a group of pilots who are able to exhibit their stunt-flying abilities at air shows around the nation.

Mr. Richard Marion

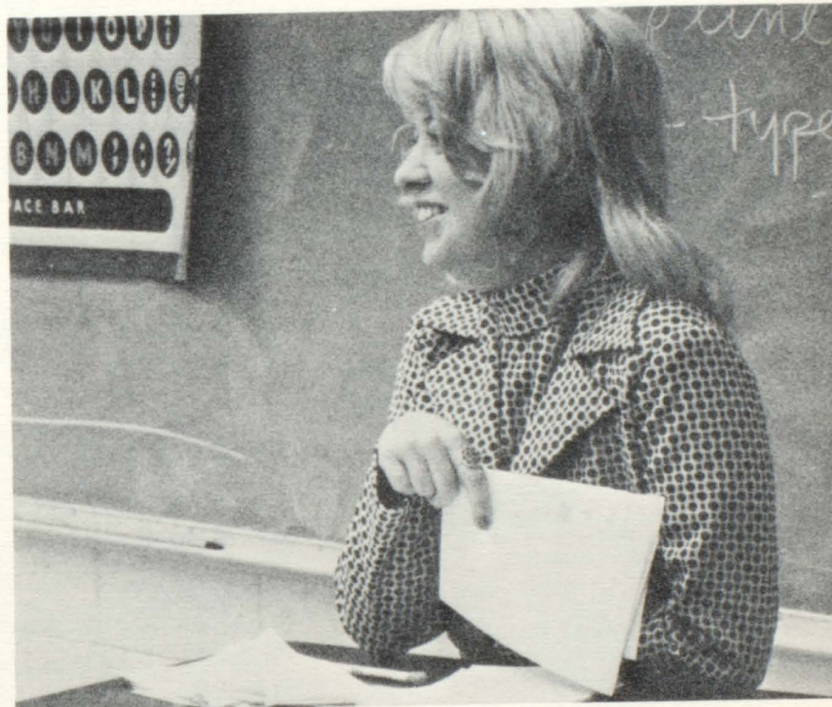

BUSINESS AND DRIVER EDUCATION

Skill in business law, business math, typing, clerical procedures, and record-keeping are necessary for today's Racing Spectators. Once fans gain proficiency in these areas, they are ready for the exciting days spent at the races.

At the Trimble 500, daring racers put on their helmets, strap themselves in, and fly off the lot in a cloud of exhaust left by their sleek Montego. They're off, whipping around the sharp curves of the Trimble 500 at a brisk 20 m.p.h. After setting their record time of 4 minutes and 59 seconds, the speed demons pull past the Ridgeview Finish Line (a yellow bump in the raceway) and prepare to accept their trophy, or grade, as the case may be.

ENGLISH

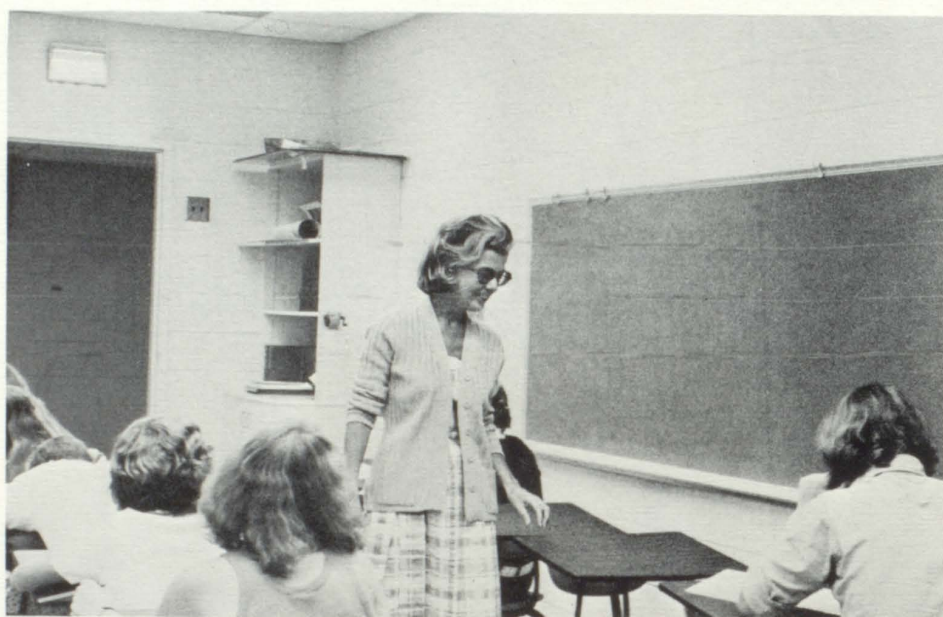

Students in the Skiing Division must be prepared for a long, hard climb up the cold, slippery mountain. After slipping and sliding across the icy lakes of Literary Types, Language Skills, and Changing Trends, it is necessary to ride Cliff's Notes Ski Lift through the slopes of English Literature. The day is growing old as the students in the Skiing Division reach the starting point. If they are lucky enough to cross the Advanced Composition snowdrifts, they will undoubtedly survive the trip without injury.

SCIENCE

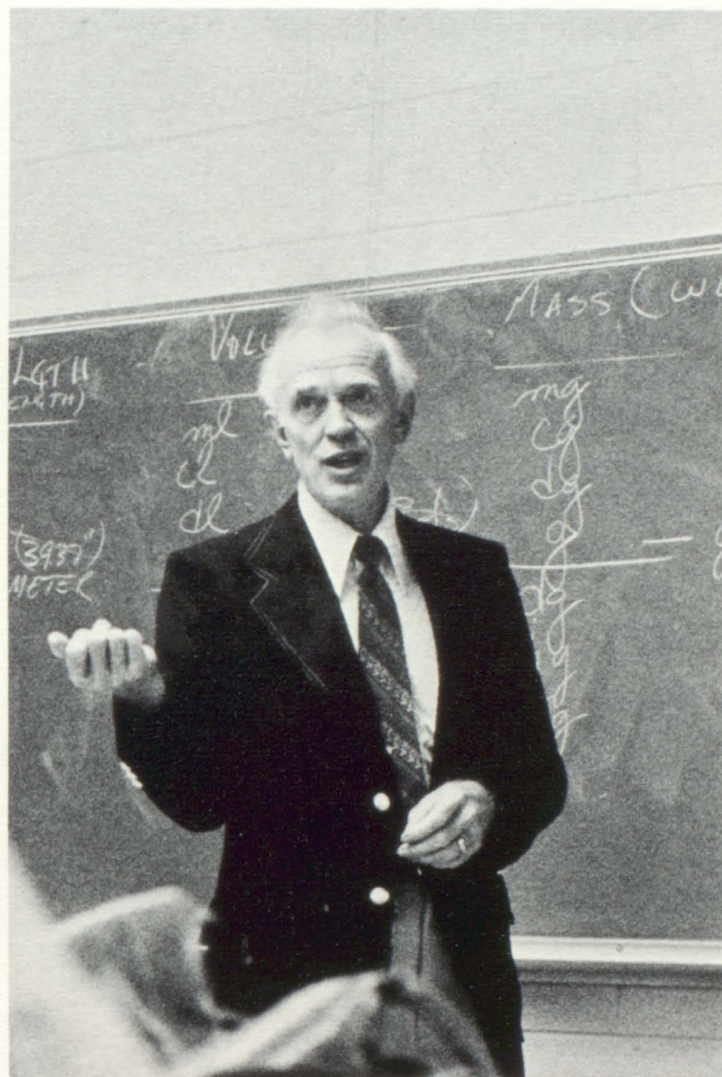

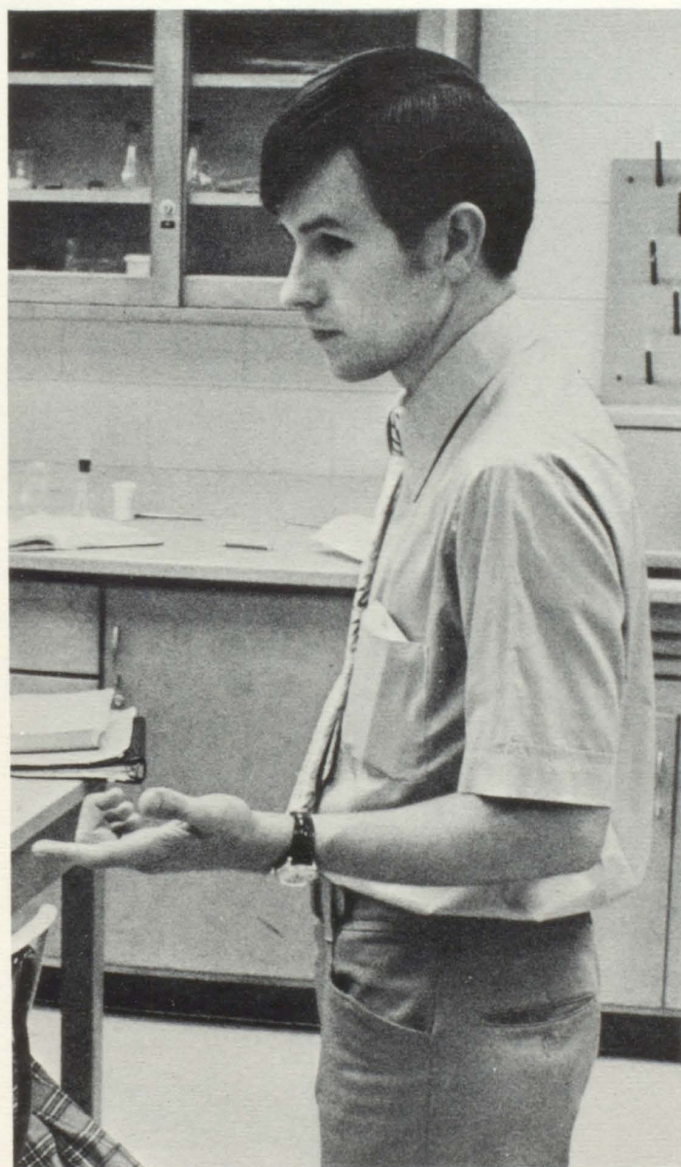

At the Ridgeview Derby, horses are prepared for the race by a General or Physical grooming. The gun fires, the gates open, and they're off and running through the opening yards of Biology. Horses who take an early lead in the race and maintain their energy usually take on the Chemistry hurdles. Those tireless horses may choose to remain on the track through the entire race by passing through Physics, Human Physiology, or both. Those who have placed bets on the horses may pick up their bets after the races, but the betting is low as winners are few.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mrs. Suzanne Atkins

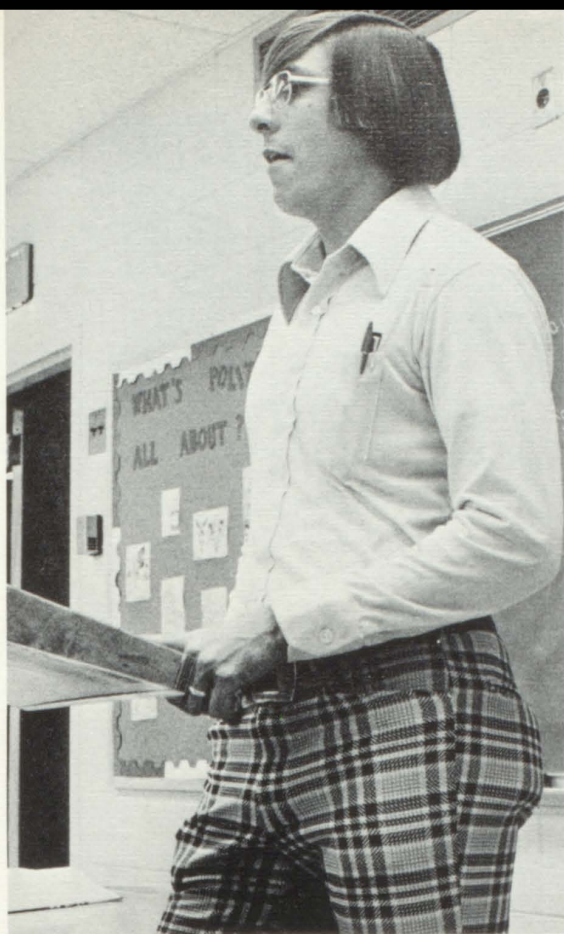

The Swimming Association holds many different types of swim meets for their students. After swimmers are splashed with Georgia History, Anthropology, and Political Science, they are doused with World History. In the eleventh grade, swimming students are drowned in a flood of American History. Should a lucky swimmer survive this exhaustion, he has the choice of quitting the Swimming Association or treading water in the relatively calm ocean of Senior History Electives.

MATH

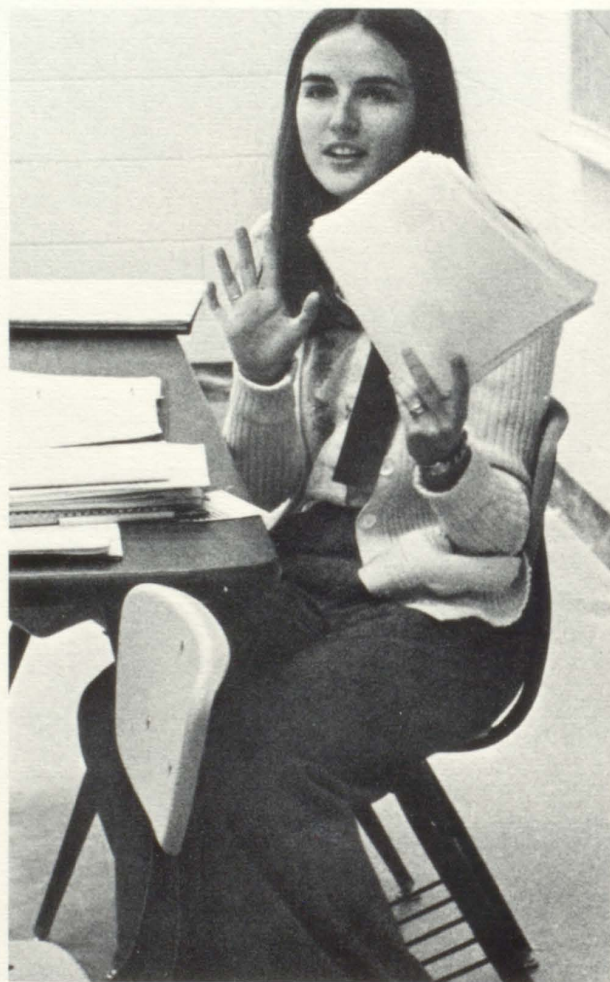

In the Bull's-eye Archery School, skilled Indians train students in the fine art of archery. Younger students usually hit the white outer ring for 1 point in 8th grade math. Math becomes more specialized as students advance toward the center ring, hitting the black ring for 3 points in Algebra I, the blue ring for 5 points in Geometry, and the red ring for 7 points in Algebra II. Those students who have reasonable accuracy in archery are then taught Algebra III or Analysis, the gold ring worth 9 points. The Bull's-eye Archery school also offers Calculus for those students who continually hit bull's-eye.

The Department of Intramurals supplies athletes with a variety of sports which they may choose to play. After a basic introductory background in physical fitness and health, participants may choose from a wide variety of sports, ranging from camping to basketball or from flag football to modern dance. Although there is a minimum time which an athlete must remain in this department, many choose to continue in this invigorating program.

ABOUT MY LIFE'S TIME,
ALL THE THINGS I'VE DONE AND HOW IT'S BEEN,
AND I CAN'T HELP BELIEVIN'
IN MY OWN MIND
I KNOW I'M GONNA HATE TO SEE IT END.

THE DAYS THEY PASS SO QUICKLY NOW NIGHTS ARE SELDOM LONG, TIME AROUND ME WHISPERS
WHEN IT'S COLD, CHANGES SOMEHOW FRIGHTEN ME
STILL I HAVE TO SMILE,
IT TURNS ME ON TO THINK OF GROWING OLD.

AND TALK OF POEMS, PRAYERS, AND PROMISES AND THINGS, THAT WE BELIEVE IN.
HOW SWEET IT IS TO LOVE SOMEONE
HOW RIGHT IT IS TO CARE.
HOW LONG IT'S BEEN SINCE YESTERDAY AND WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?
AND WHAT ABOUT OUR DREAMS AND ALL THE MEMORIES WE SHARED?

Injuns
complete another day as dusk falls on Redskin country.

Gathering round the fire, some indians prepare to journey to other lands.
Other Redskins anticipate the dawning of a new day.

As the moon rises,
Redskin country falls silent.

The long path which runs through the land is scattered with indians. The path has survived another day.
