

TEACHING CHILDREN

IN THE FULTON COUNTY SCHOOLS

THE FULTON COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION
500 COUNTY ADMINISTRATION BUILDING
165 CENTRAL AVENUE, SOUTHWEST
ATLANTA, GEORGIA, 30303

FOREWORD

Good schools are the right of every American girl and boy. The Fulton County Schools are dedicated to this principle and are providing for children and youth those learning experiences which will enable each student to attain the maximum of his physical, mental, moral, social and creative potential.

Paul D. West, Superintendent,
Fulton County School System

W. L. Robinson, President
Fulton County Board of Education

SCHOOLS

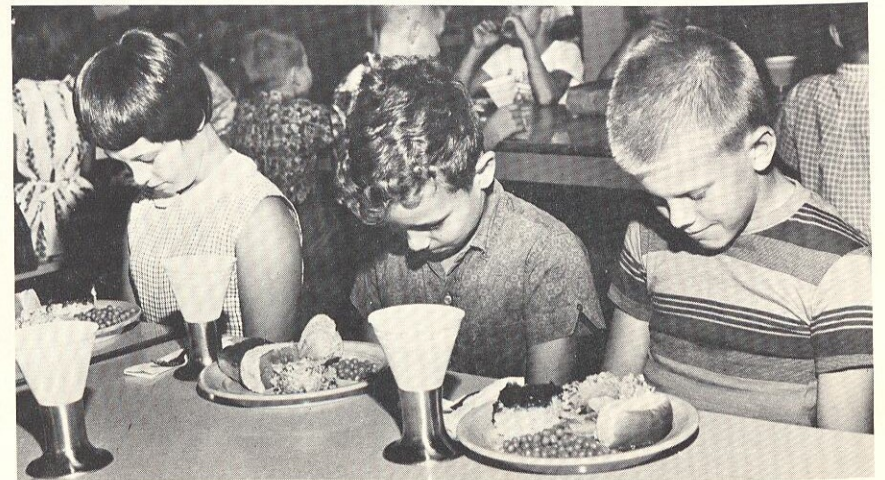

The educational program is planned to meet the needs of all children. Schools are planned and built to meet the needs of the educational program.

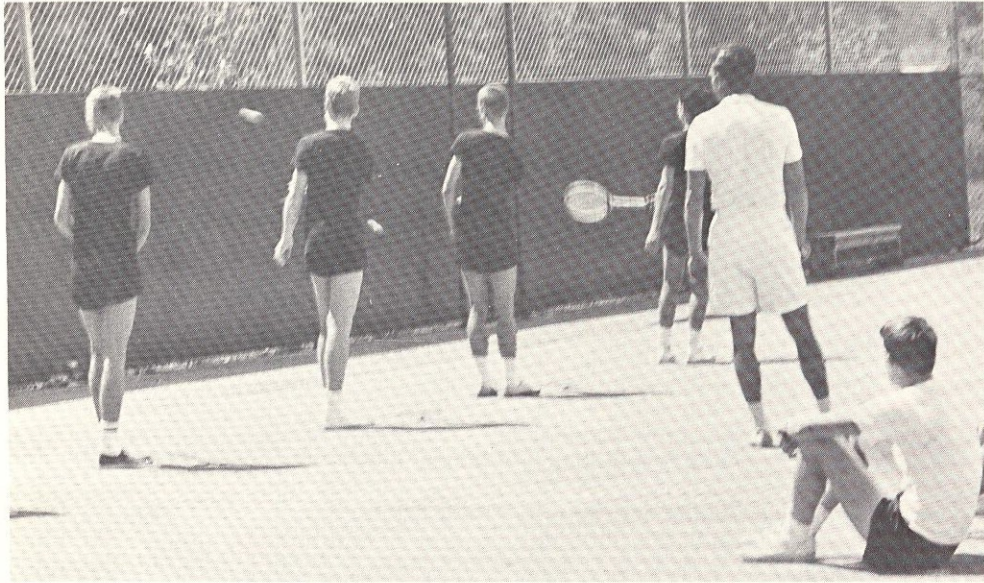

PHYSICAL GROWTH

Children must be well fed and healthy physically and emotionally. The curriculum in the Fulton County Schools provides activities and experiences which are planned to promote strong, healthy, secure, well-adjusted girls and boys.

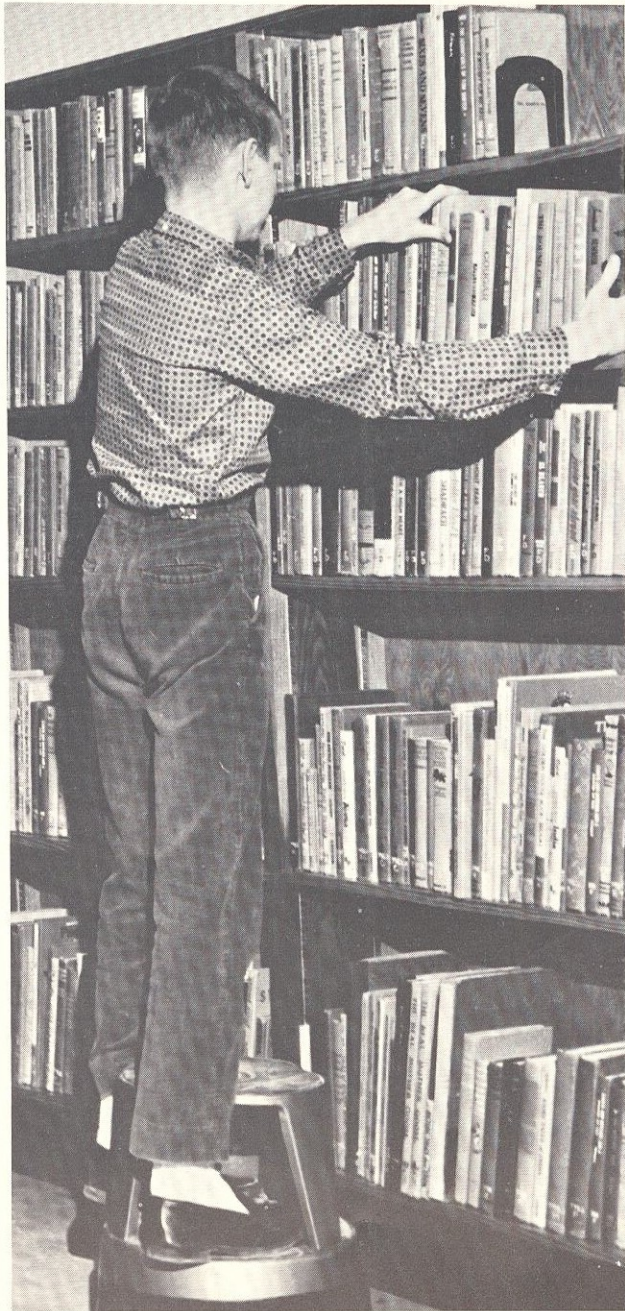

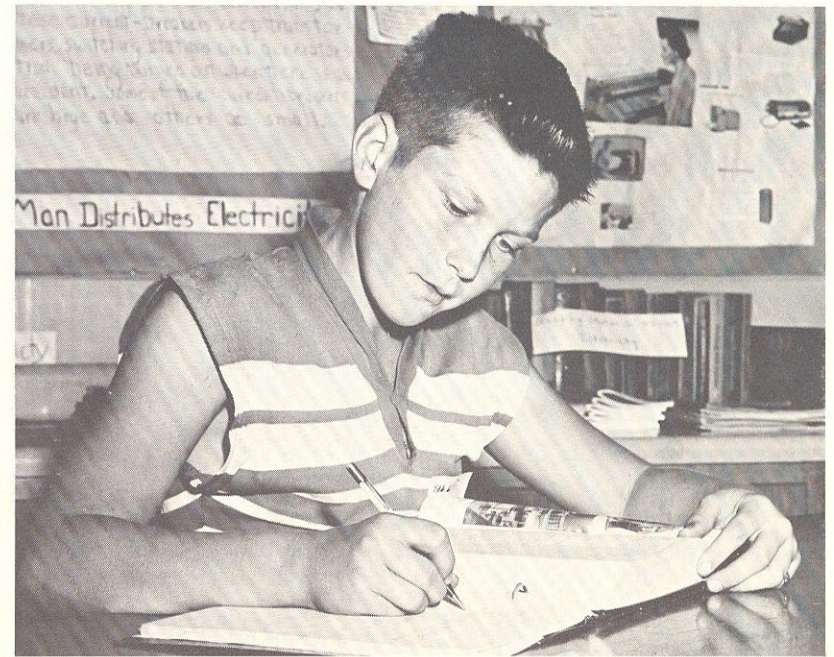

MENTAL GROWTH

The complexity of society and the explosion of knowledge today make it imperative that every child have an opportunity to learn as much as he can in a multitude of educational areas. The school provides for the mastery of fundamental skills commensurate with each individual's ability.

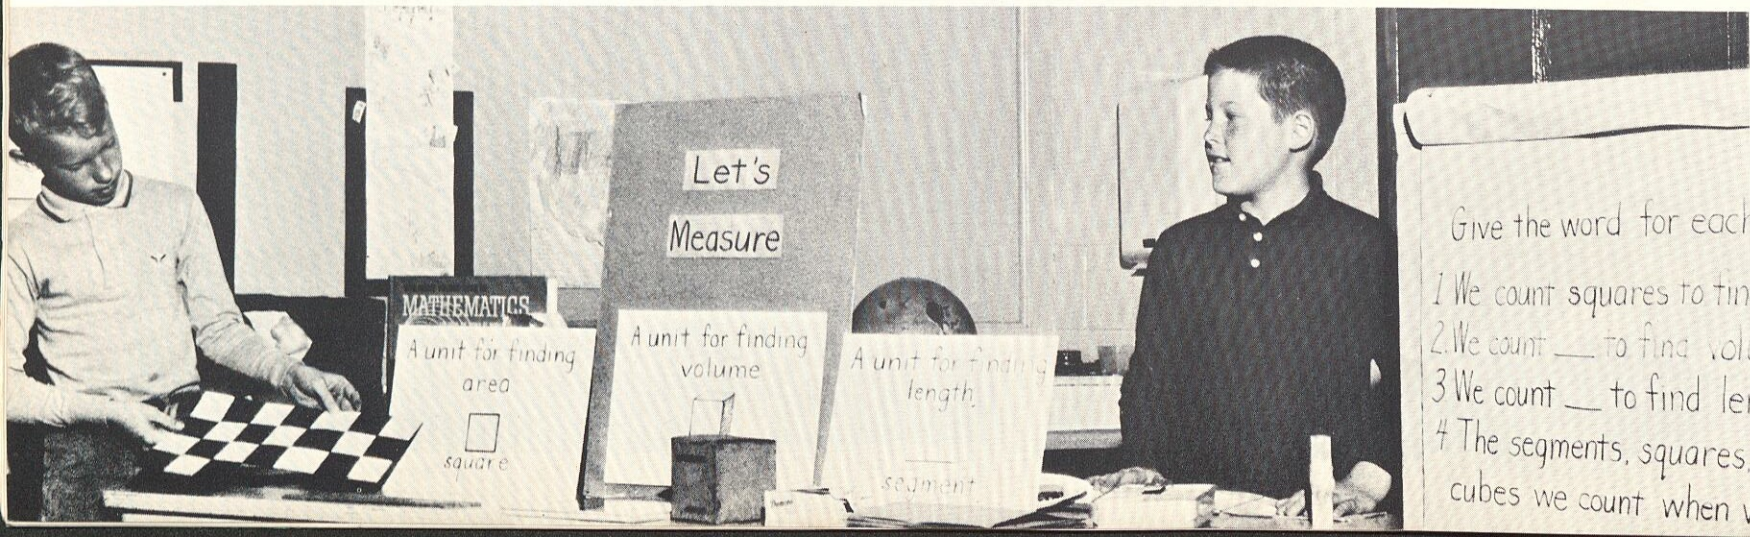

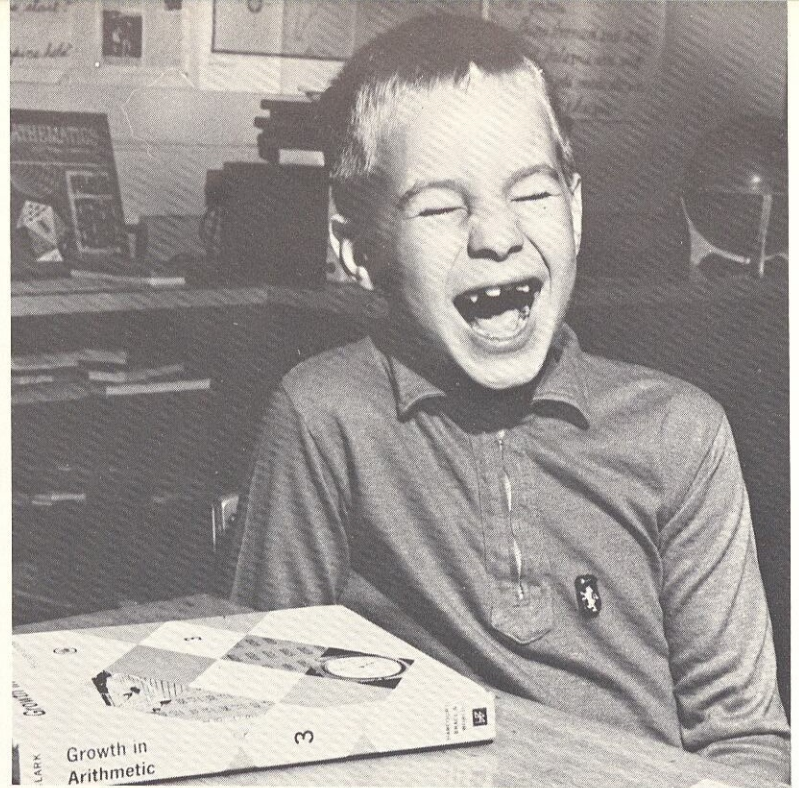

The National Education Association chose a Fulton County School in which to produce the film, "Skippy and the Three R's"

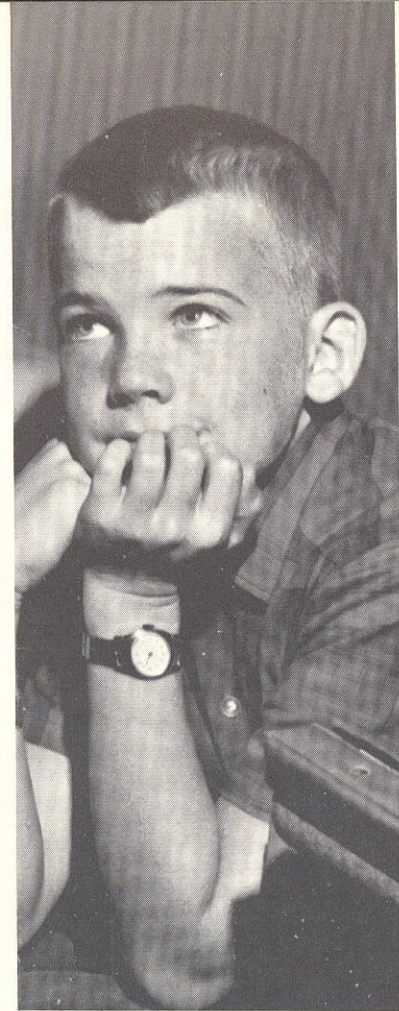

Some educational areas have taken on new meaning and new method.

MORAL GROWTH

One must be able to live with oneself with honor before he can live satisfactorily with others. The values he holds determine the way he behaves. The school assumes its rightful share of responsibility in helping children and youth develop moral values which will guide their quest in life.

The Central School Library is a Source of Inspiration and Information

SOCIAL GROWTH

Learning to understand and to live amicably with others is a need in our society. The school provides opportunities for children to engage in purposeful group activities which will help them to develop skills, wholesome attitudes, social values and beliefs which will satisfy this need.

CREATIVE GROWTH

Every individual possesses creative potential. The school seeks to find, to nurture, and to develop this innate creativity through dance, drama, music, writing, the visual arts, and other areas.

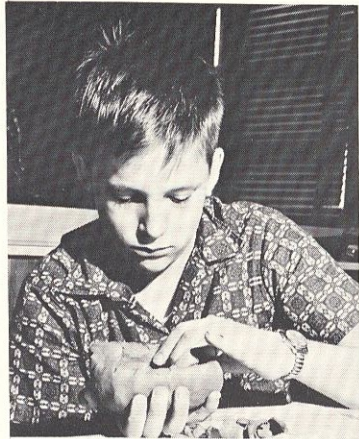

Children Learn and Play at Grady Hospital

The Fulton County and Atlanta Boards of Education cooperate in offering instructional services at some special schools and hospitals.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Mayor Willy Brandt View Student Art Work

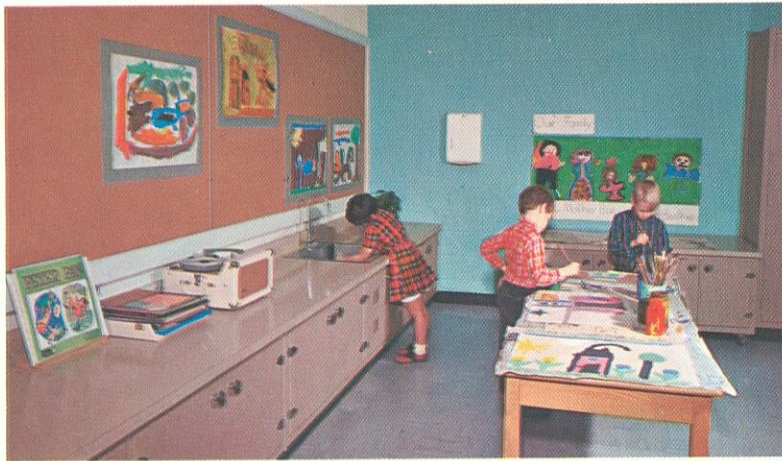

The Art Department of the Fulton County Schools was one of six throughout the United States to be invited by the U. S. Information Agency to send art work of high school students to the Berlin Youth Festival in 1960. The wood sculpture to the right was one of the works from Fulton County exhibited in Germany. The art exhibit toured West Germany for an entire year.

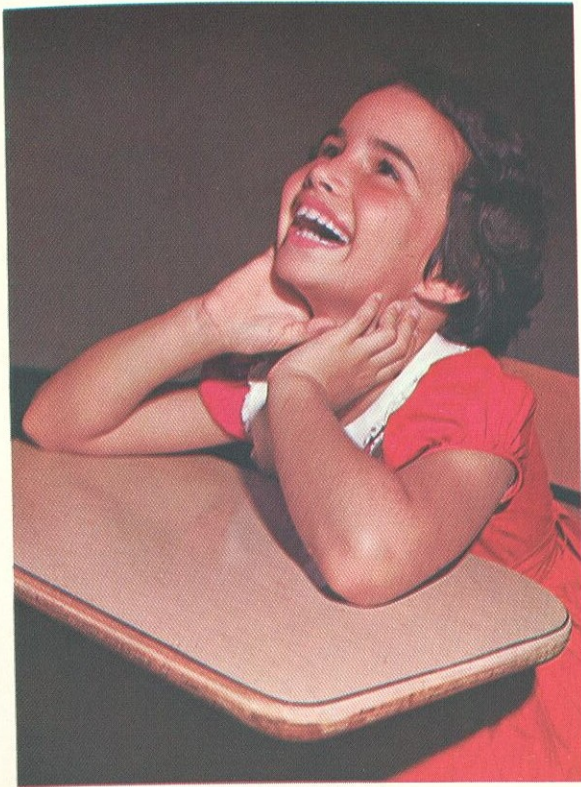

A RICH ENVIRONMENT

The kind of life children will live is influenced by the quality of the environment which is created for them throughout the school.
