Morning and mist
and autumn,
and a tan on our noses,
alone,
one in the midst of many,
still one,
a silhouette against a backdrop
of an expectant people.
A year begins.

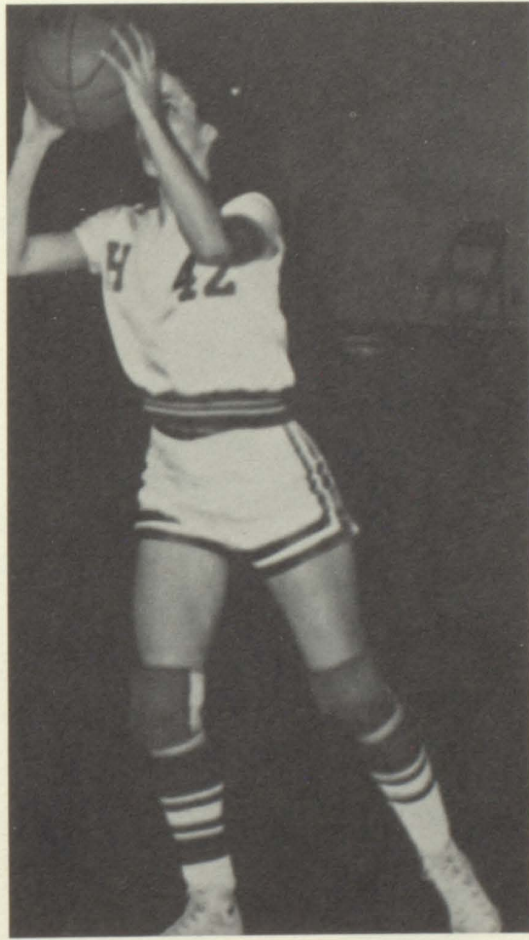

A bleak, gray sky
and cold,
and runny noses,
brief daylight
and long classes,
the joyous fascination
of un-monotony
with a blur of faces—
enemies and friends,
rushing along the halls
in the contest to get ahead.

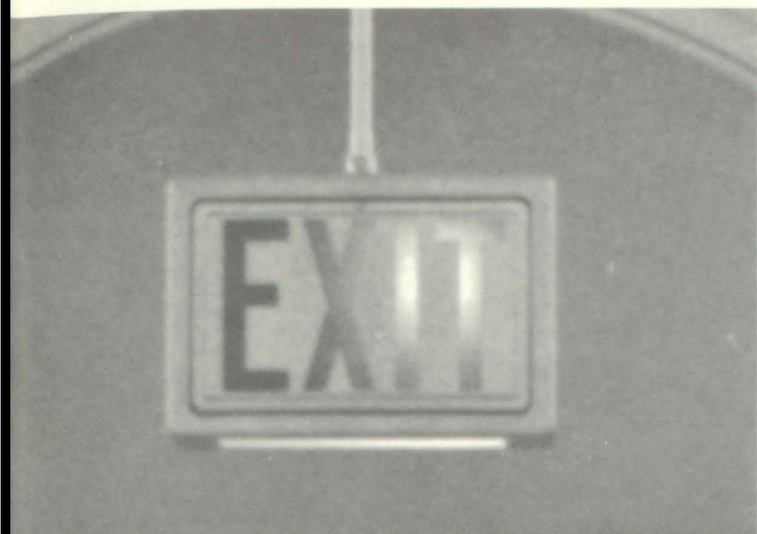

Competition,
mind and body in union,
engaged in preserving honor and promoting the strength of our school,
the body straining, yet
presenting a delusion of ease, the happy roar of the crowd,
the sweat and the sweet,
salt tears,
jubilant in victory or silent in defeat.

Make your choice.
With all the facets
of life at school,
you can find
a thing to grin at
or to be solemn about,
to puzzle your mind
and wrinkle your brow,
analyze your desires,
find what you want,
and make for yourself
a perfect day
or year.

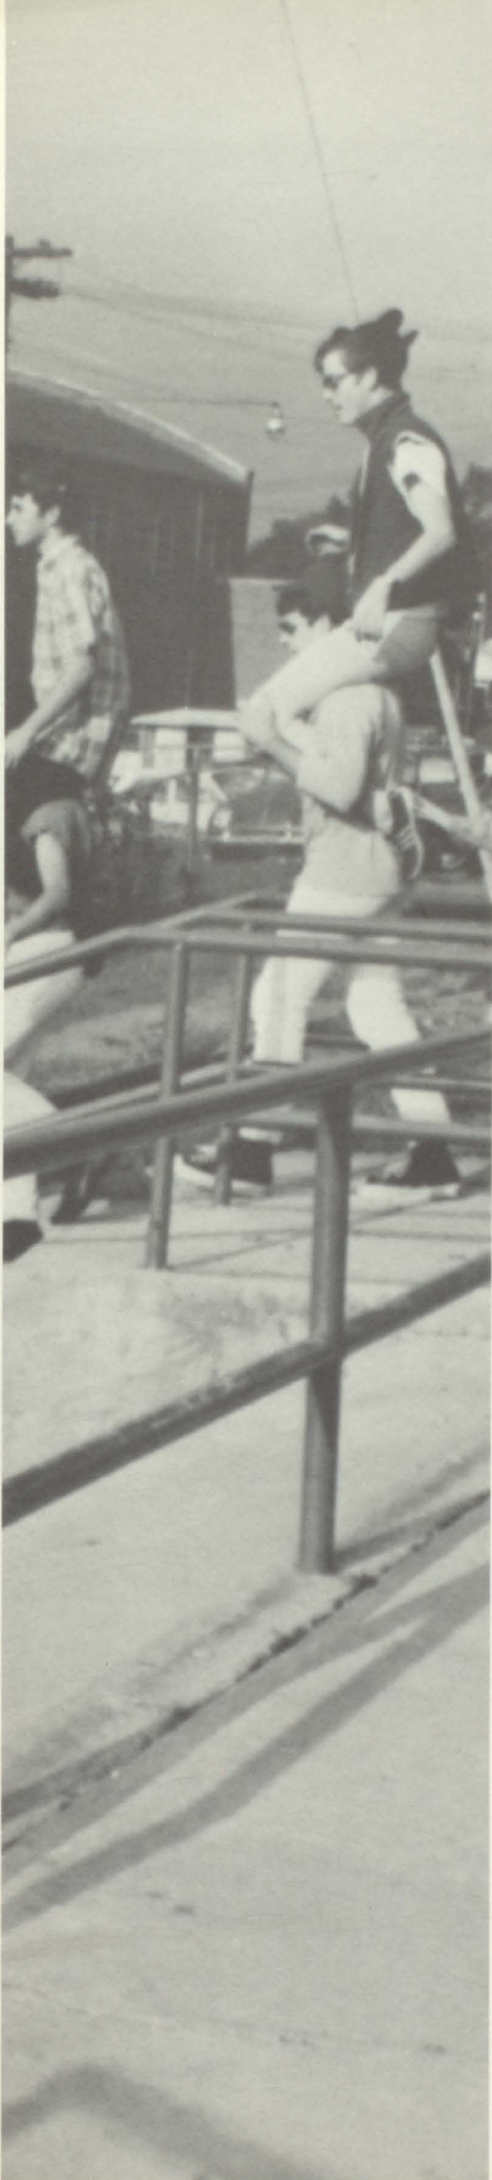

Magic moments,
the fleeting seconds
of those happenings
which we never forget
but will remember
with a chuckle
or a sigh,
remaining as mirages
amidst the cobwebs of memories.

Recognition,
having the right number
on the wheel of fortune,
a perfect day
or year
when nothing goes wrong, and the sun lights your face and the heads all turn
to gaze,
envied by the envious
and loving the feeling.

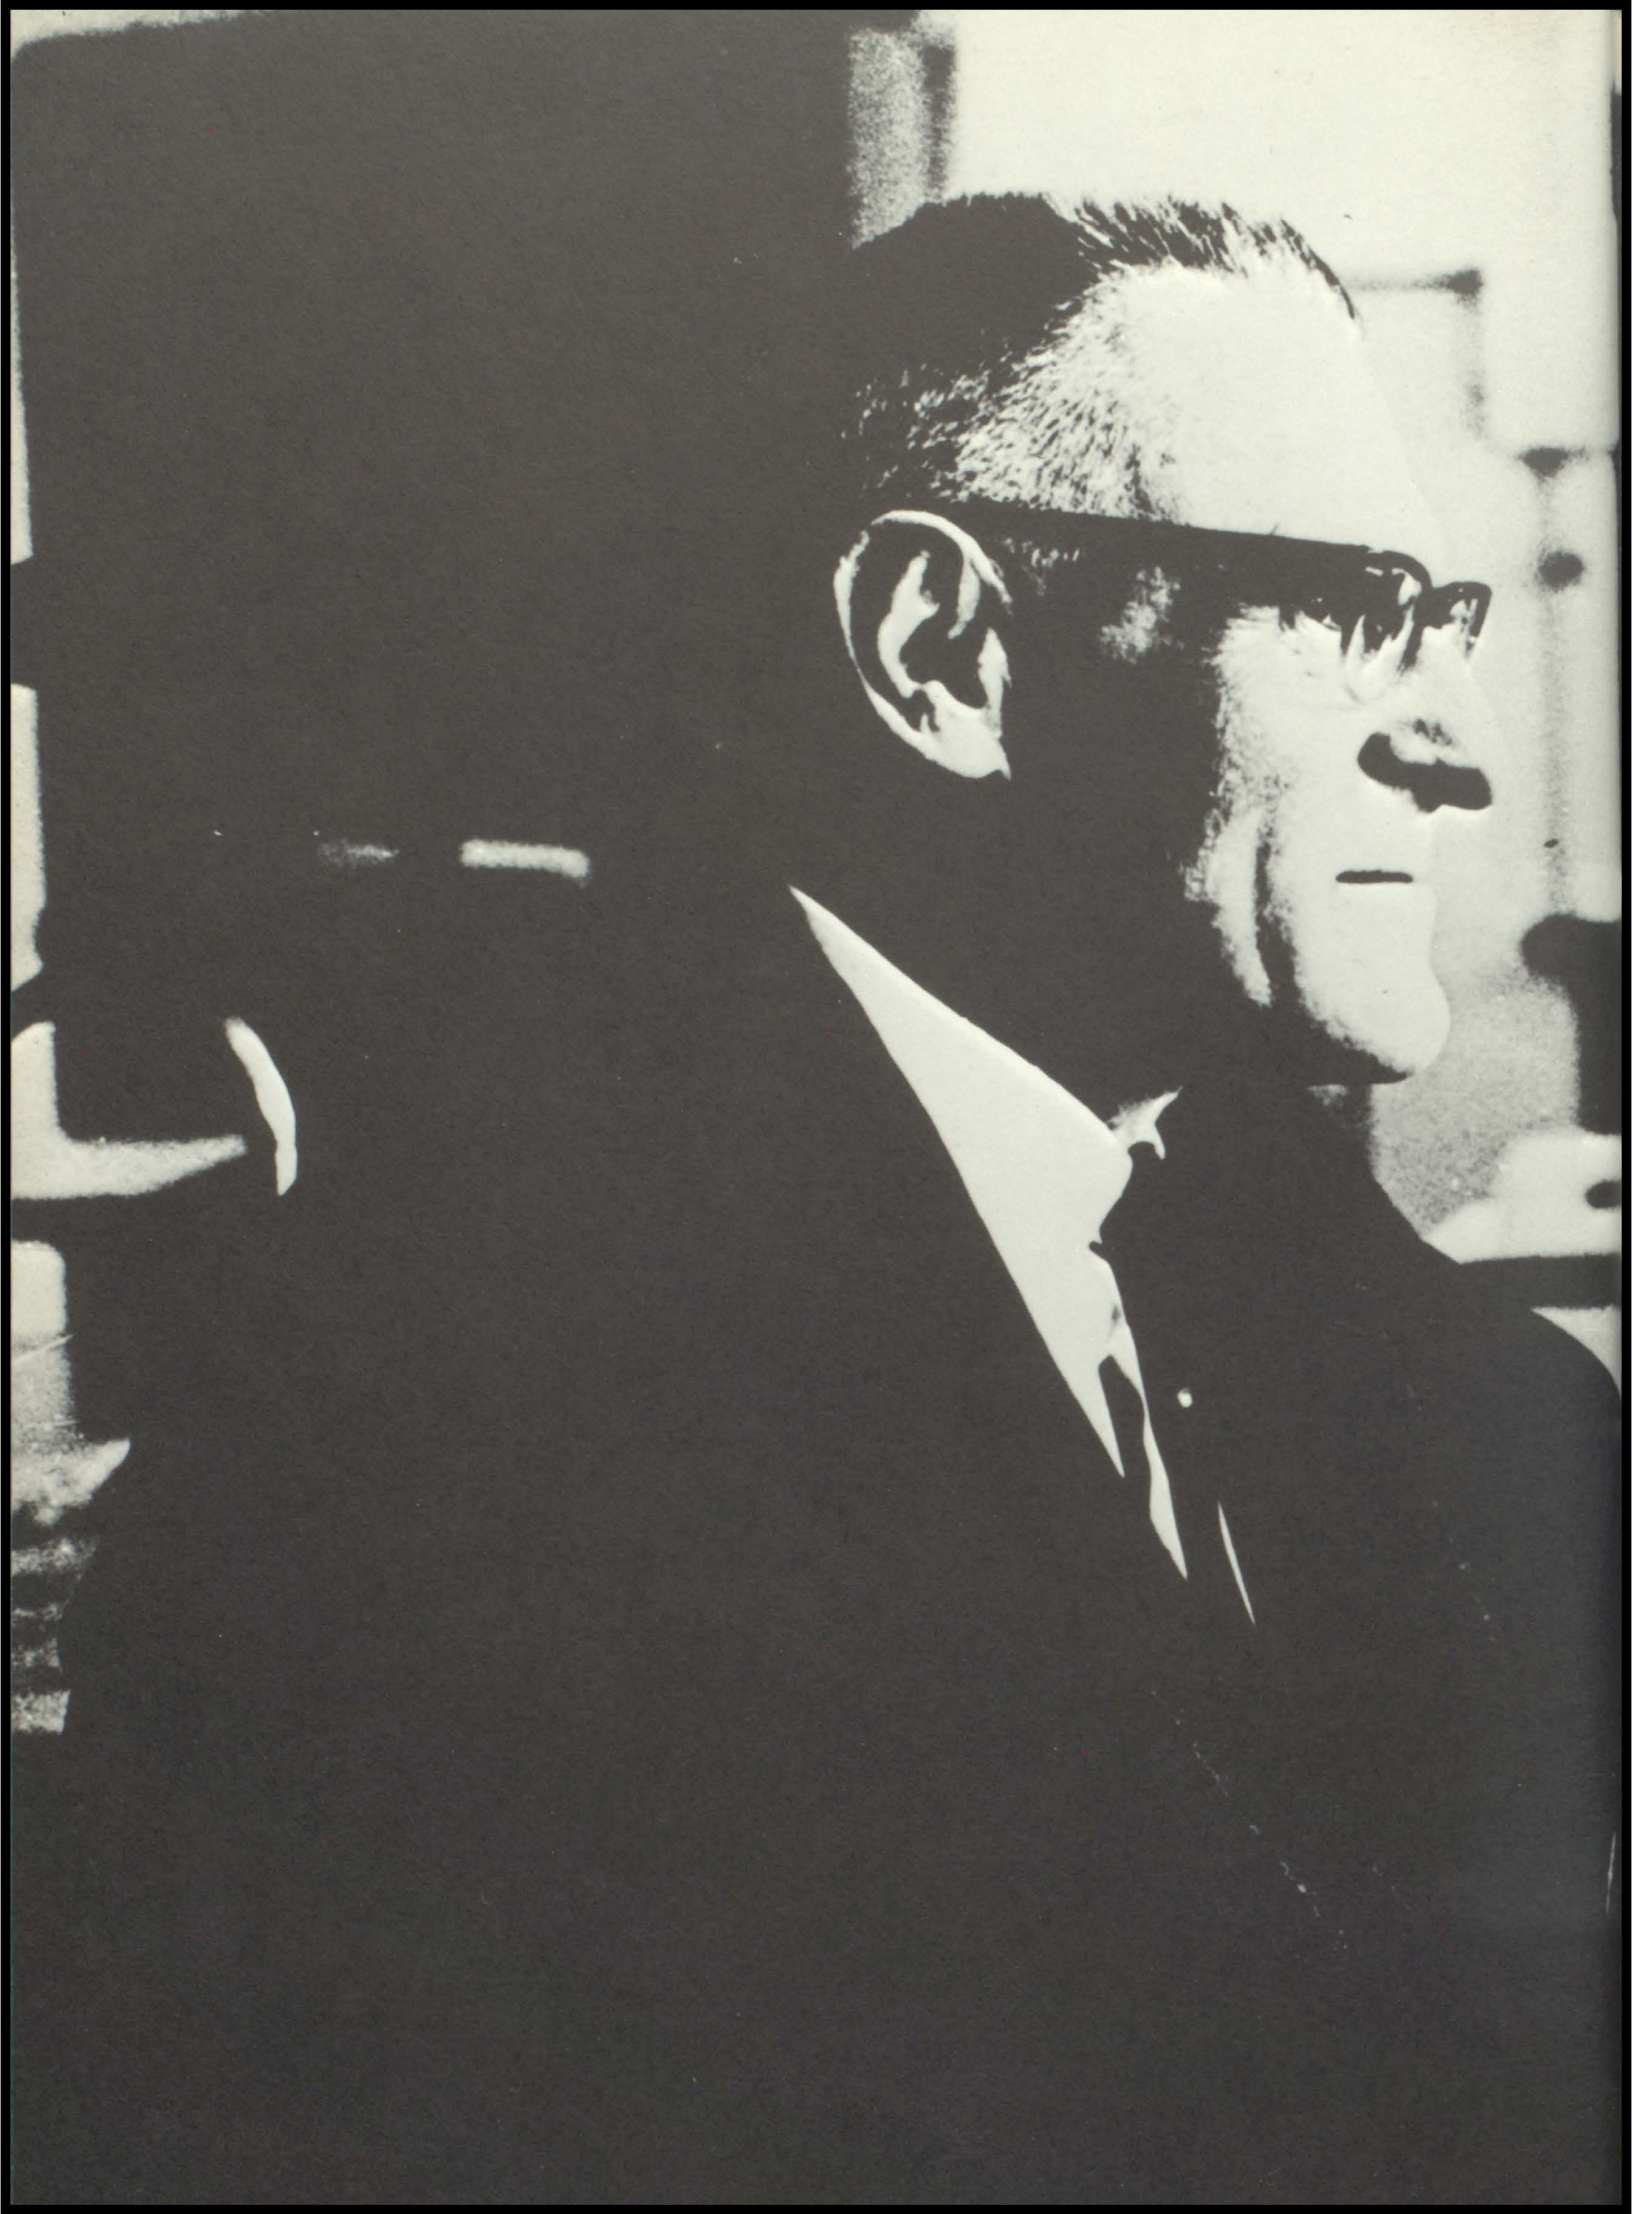

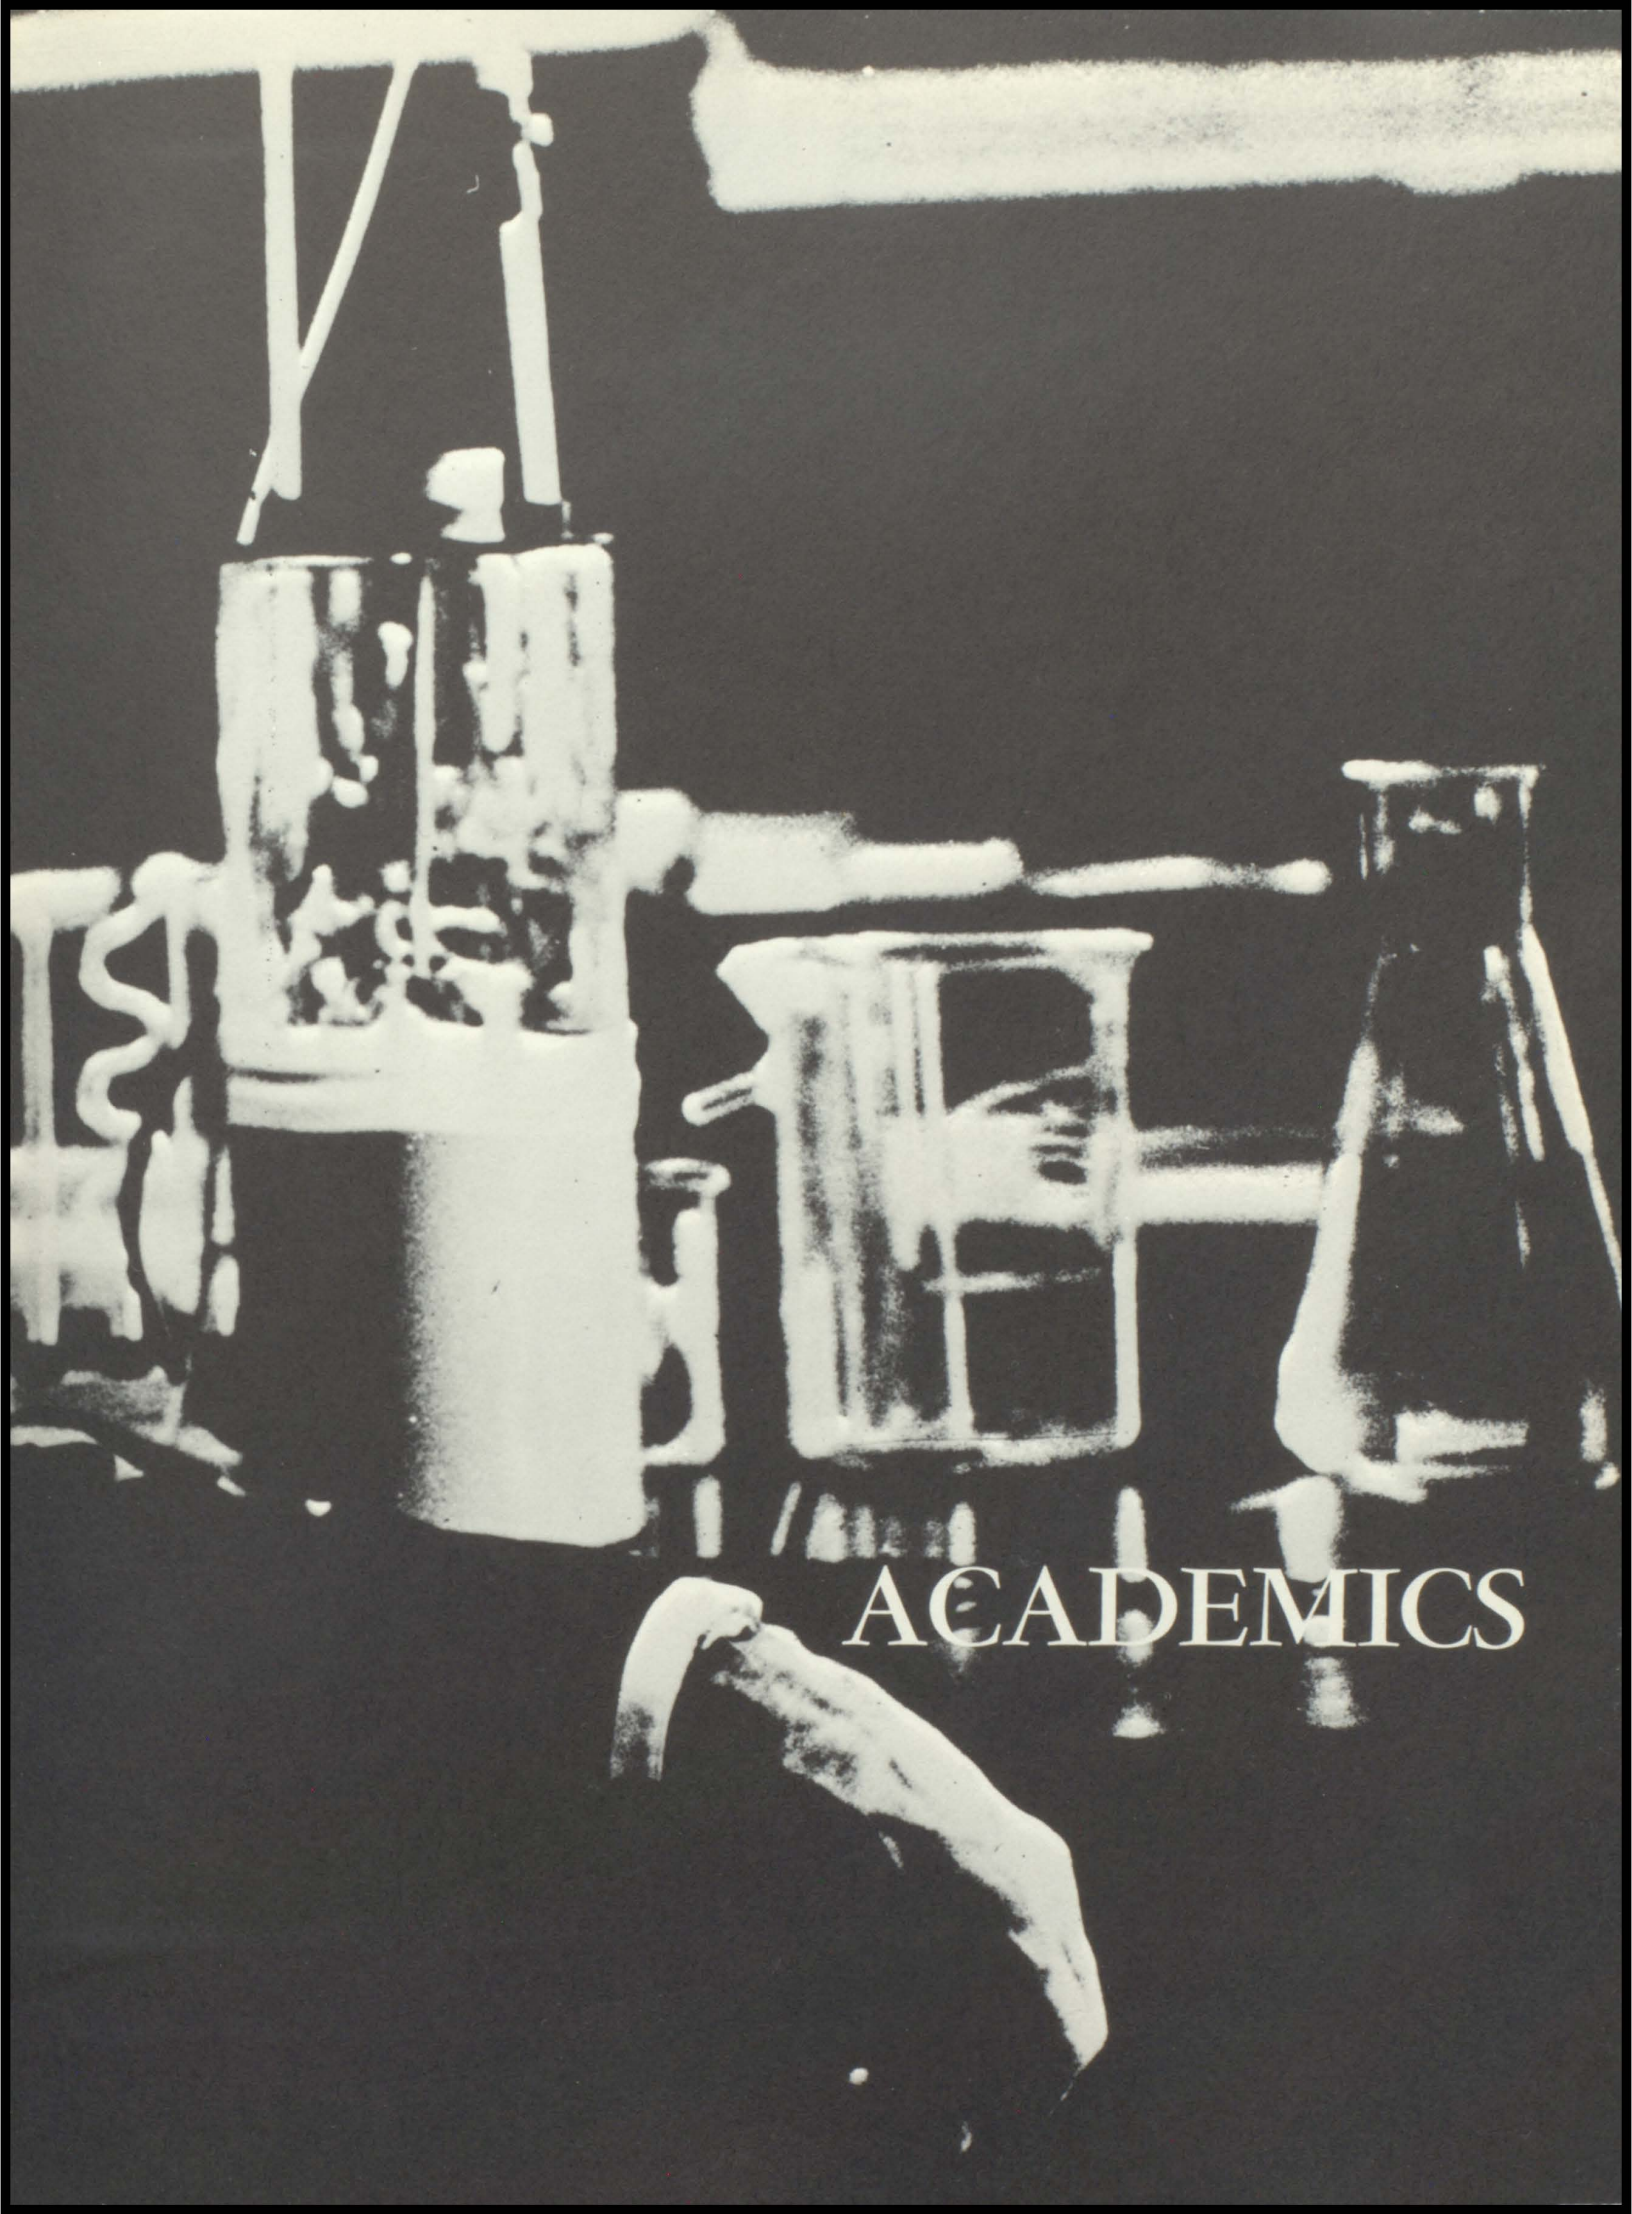

A pinpoint in a sea of faces,
with your own ideas
and your thing,
those funny little habits
and actions
that make you . . . you.

Individualism,
alone in society,
walking barefoot
in the rain,
holding pop bottles
and blowing bubbles,
tiny spheres of thought
called mine and yours.
We must contribute
or pop our bubble.

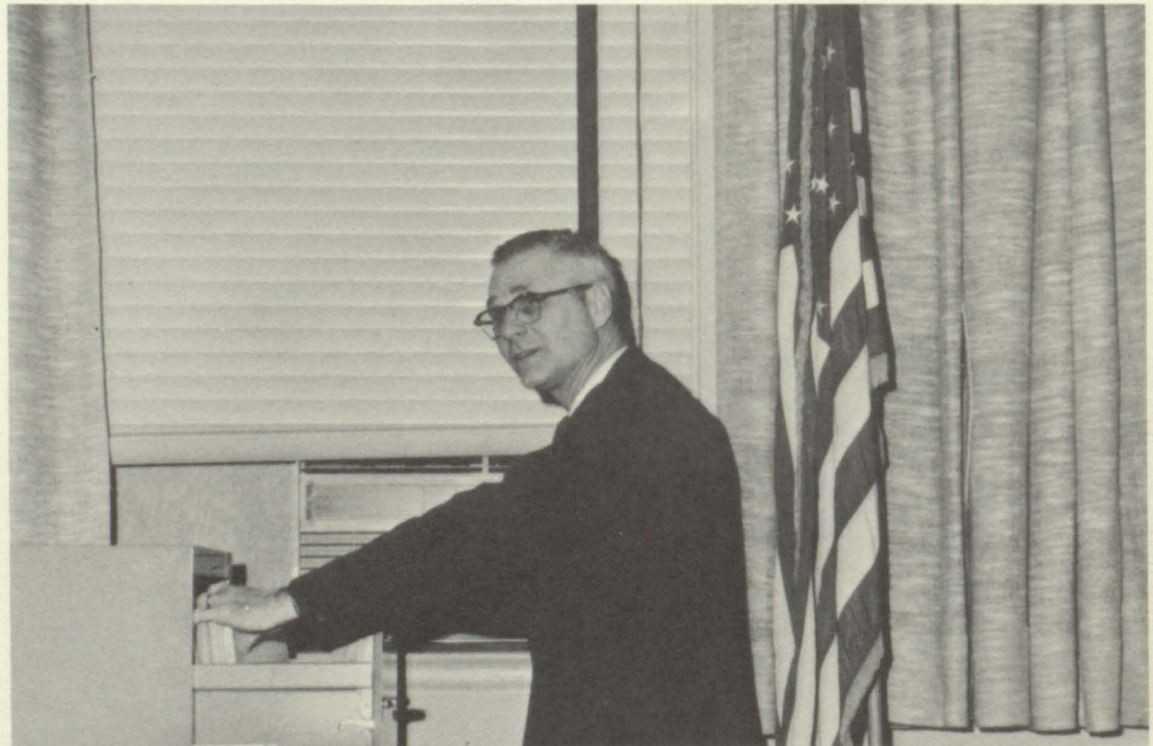

ACADEMICS

Mr. Douglas Purdie

stayed busier than ever—making executive decisions,
guiding HHS
through a year
of curriculum change,
accepting challenges
of new ideas and
new problems,
keeping a cool head
during a crisis.

Mr. Douglas Purdie shows deep concern over the rising difficulties of the new curriculum change.

Principal Purdie searches for facts in order to solve student problems.

Mrs. McDavid, Assistant Principal

continually labored at her important job—students and their problems. Completing schedules, entering new students, accepting excuses kept the assistant principal in a maze of activities.

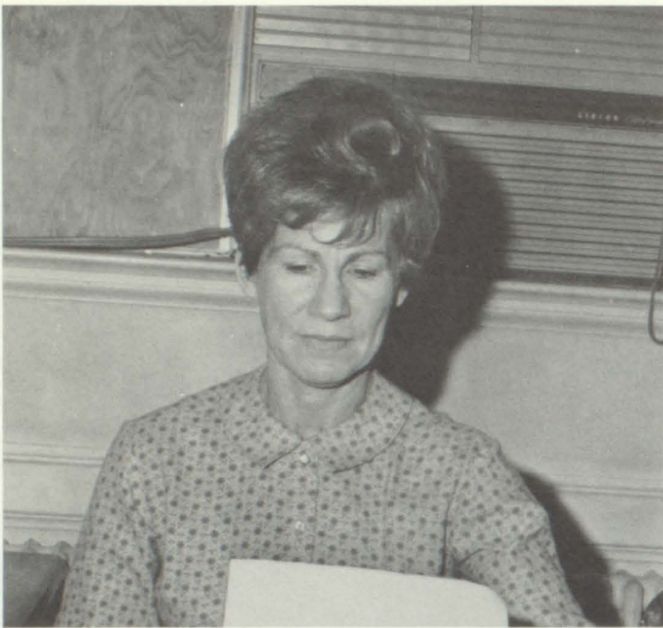

Mrs. Marie McDavid, Assistant Principal

Mrs. McDavid checks accuracy of schedule cards during quarter change.

Efficiency—plus is the key

for the office staff who tirelessly
types records,
prepares transcripts,
balances accounts, and keeps the center of activity functioning smoothly.

Mrs. Battles types a letter consulting the Board of Education on problems concerning curriculum change.

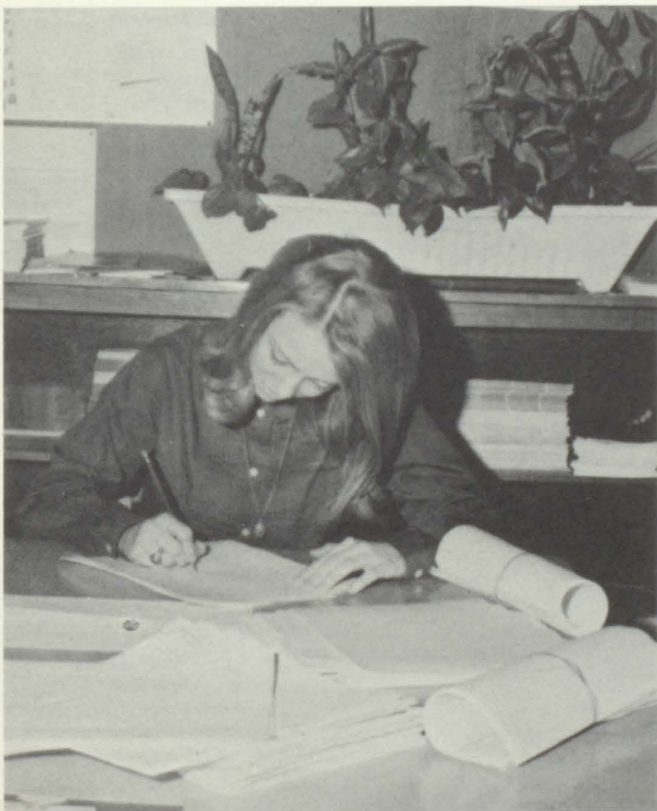

Supplying information to inquisitive callers is only one of the many jobs which Mrs. Powers performs in the school office.

A daily activity of office aide, Marty Bone, is the distribution of memos to teachers.

Among her many duties, Mrs. Washington helps students to work toward valuable scholarships and awards.

Loretta Tucker finds the privacy of the counselor's office perfect for making important decisions concerning her future.

With complete understanding our new counselor, Mrs. Alice Washington, efficiently executed her duties—discussing students' career choices, helping students select a college, interpreting standardized test scores, providing students with proper schedules. During her first year at HHS, Mrs. Washington lent a helping hand, gave an encouraging smile, and gained the confidence of students.

Reliable librarians keep an up-to-date library. Addition of new shelves and purchase of new books uphold excellent service offered to both students and faculty.

Mrs. Williams searches through the card catalogue to find enjoyable reading material for English students.

While taking a much-needed coffee break, Mrs. Morgan ponders over problems of students' late rush to library.

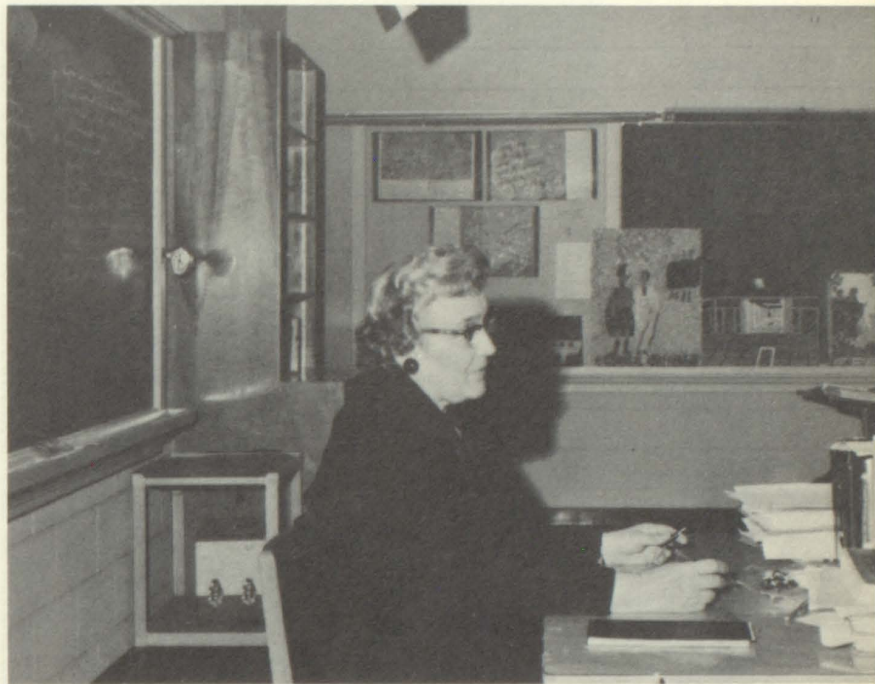

Mrs. Satterthwaite scans recently acquired book to assure quality before issuing it to students.

Language Department

enables students to familiarize themselves with the customs and languages of foreign countries. Students perfect their reading and speaking abilities by conjugating verbs, enlarging their vocabularies, and studying sentence structures.

Miss Lovell does her own thing as she applies her new method of teaching.

To check on students' progress, Miss Espy begins with an oral drill on vocabulary.

James Ervin and Denise Joiner take part in Mrs. Whiting's dramatization of The Miracle Worker.

English Students

study all aspects
of grammar and literature
to gain knowledge
about our native language.

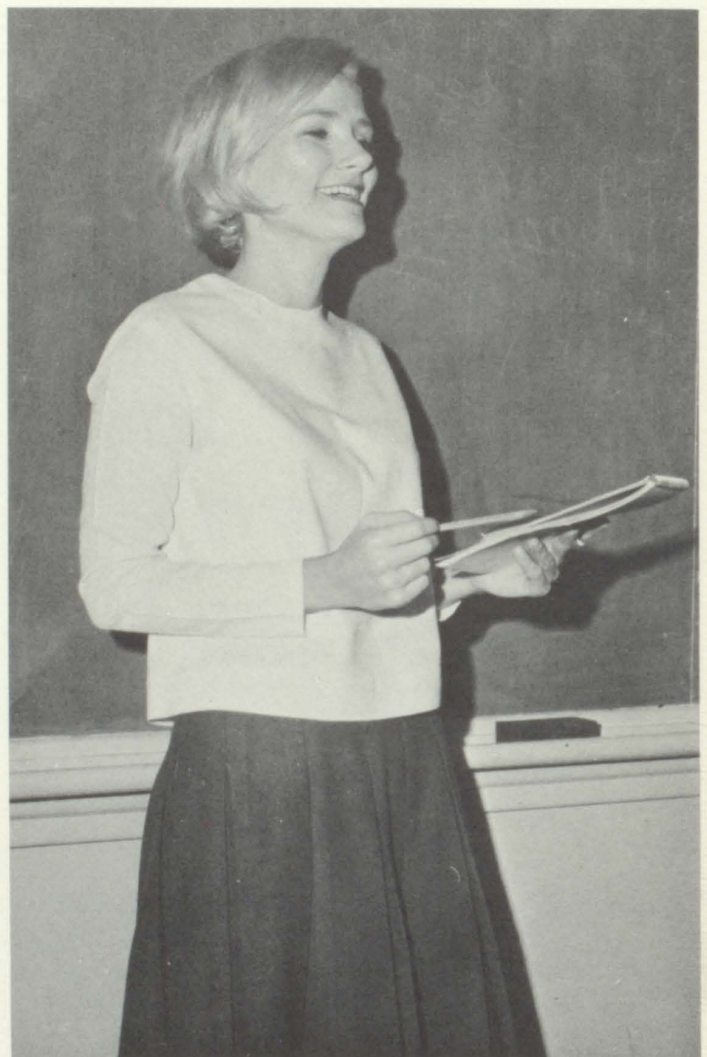

For five years
students follow
a well-rounded program including composition,
vocabulary,
and mythology.

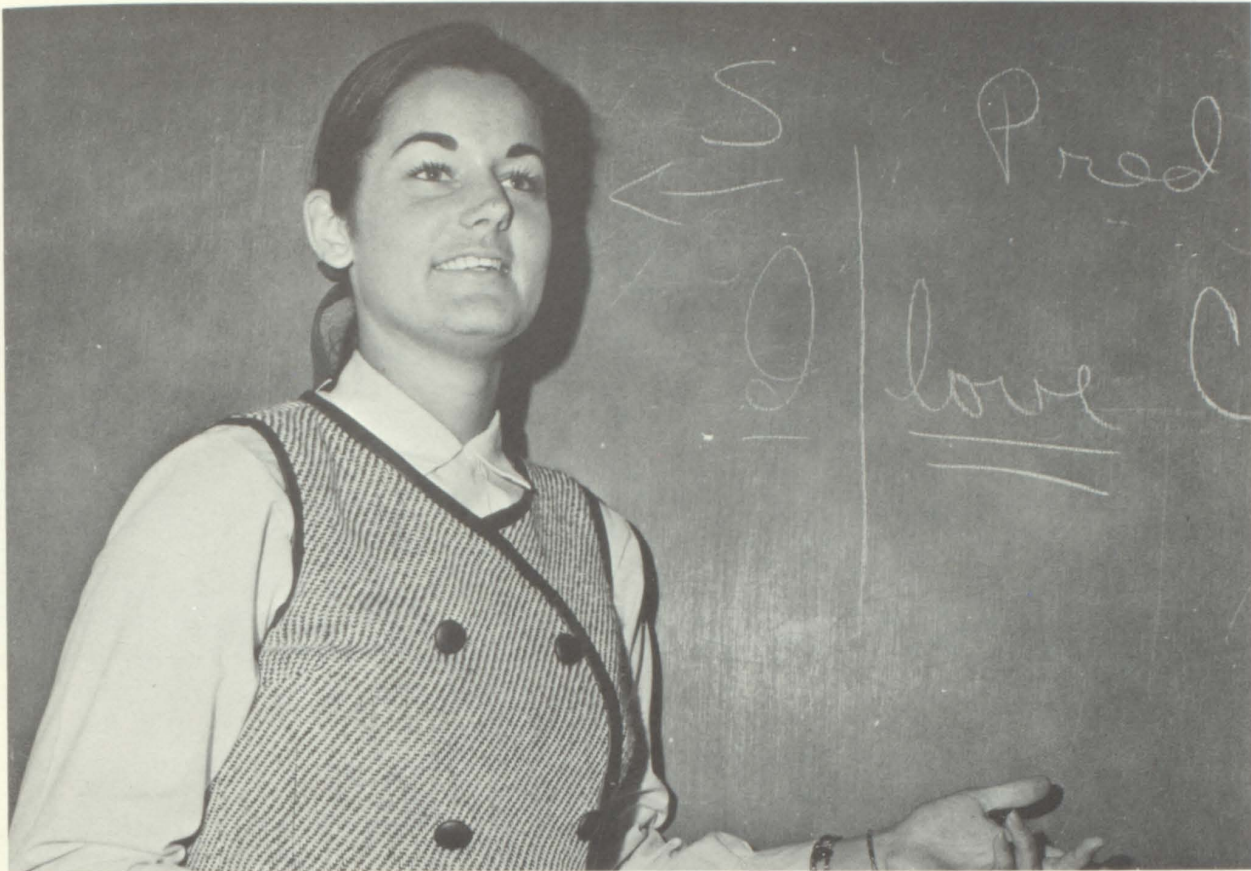

Miss Wells displays her never-tiring smile as she works on senior records.

Mrs. Parramore plays records to enhance usual teaching methods.

Miss Montgomery laughs as a student makes a humorous remark.

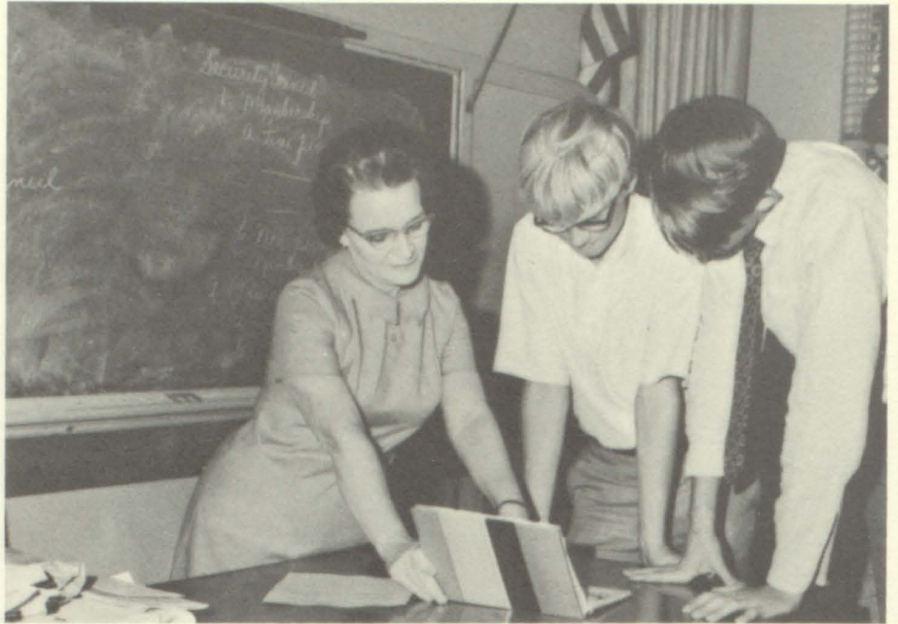

Mrs. Foster explains basic sentence structure with her original sentence, "I Love Coach".

Answers received from his English students stun Coach Foster.

Miss Moore eagerly answers the questions of her junior English class concerning upcoming term papers.

Mrs. Agnew points out some interesting facts to Eddie Truluck and Eddie Hill.

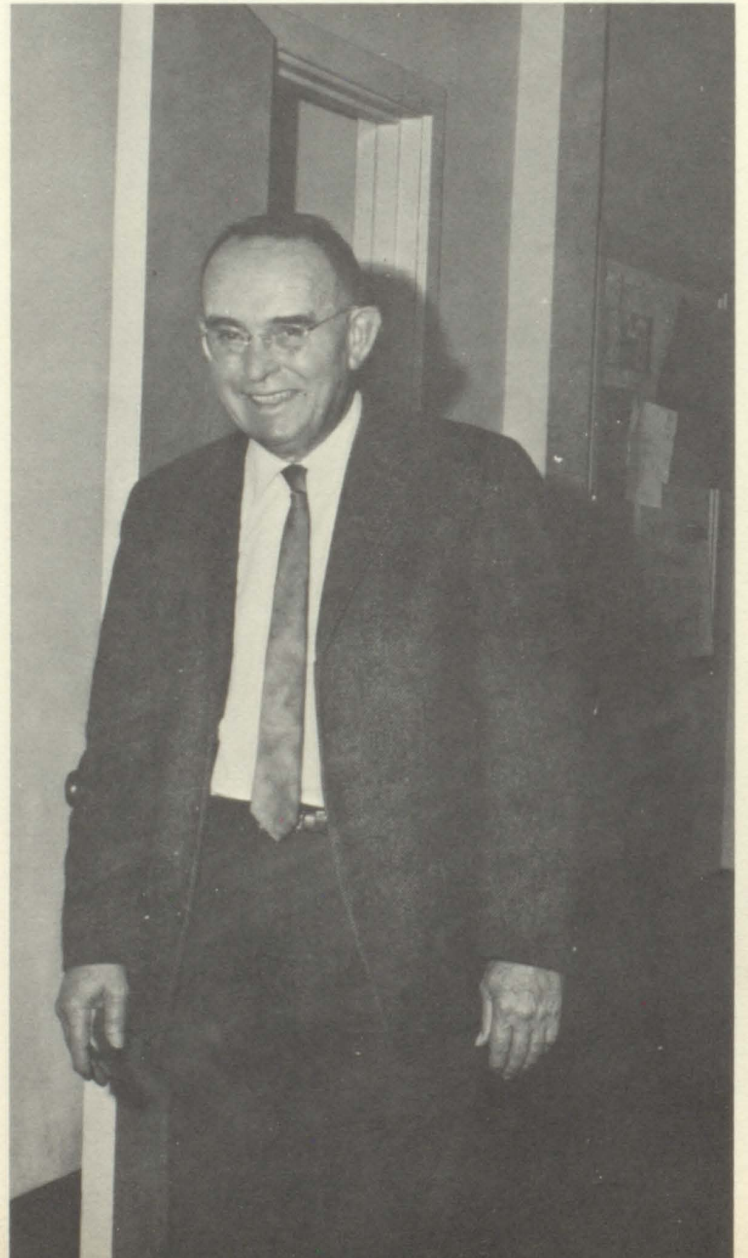

Topical approach

has replaced chronological approach in the Social Science Department.
International Affairs,
United States Reforms,
Russian History,
Political Behavior,
Economics—
new subjects offer HHS students preparation for an ever-changing world.

Mrs. Phillips assists her eighth-grade students with their study of Georgia history.

The camera catches Coach Campbell in one of his humorous moods as he hurries to his next class.

Mr. Harden attacks his endless mound of paperwork which accumulates after giving a series of tests.

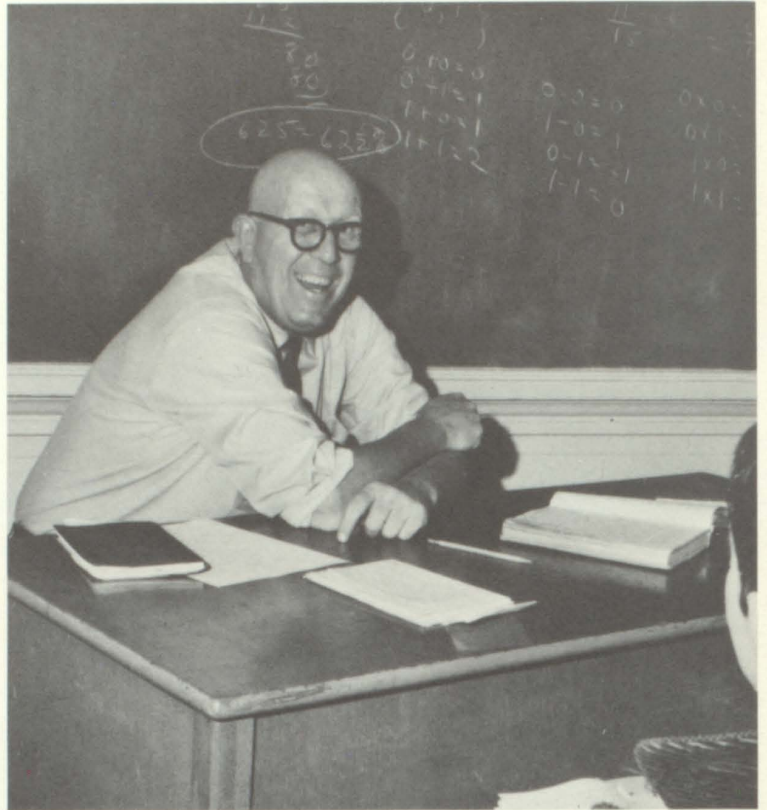

Mrs. Wilson's smile breaks through as she disciplines her active students.

Social Sciences

From Arithmetic to Analysis

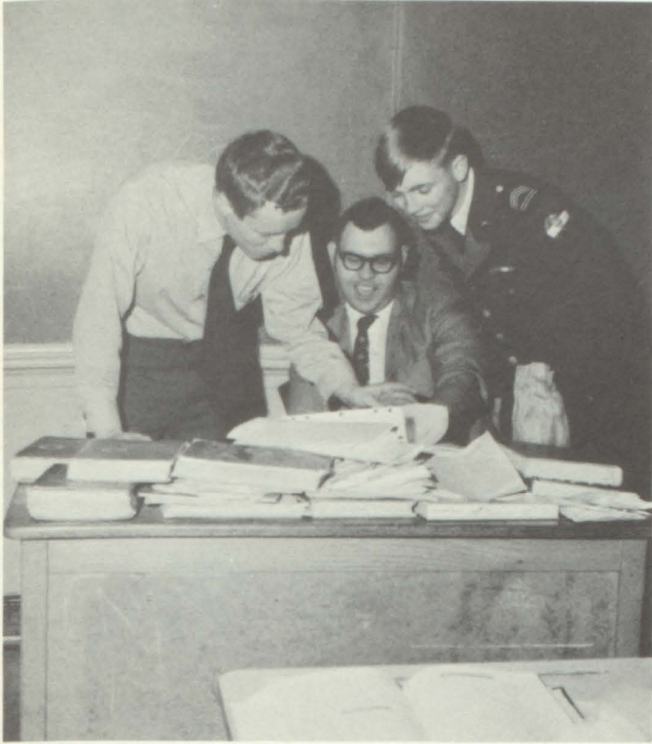

Hapeville students benefit from a varied math program. Solving equations, drawing polygons, proving theorems, plotting points enhance each student's understanding of higher mathematics.

"Take it there" says Mr. Stevenson as he seeks response to problems.

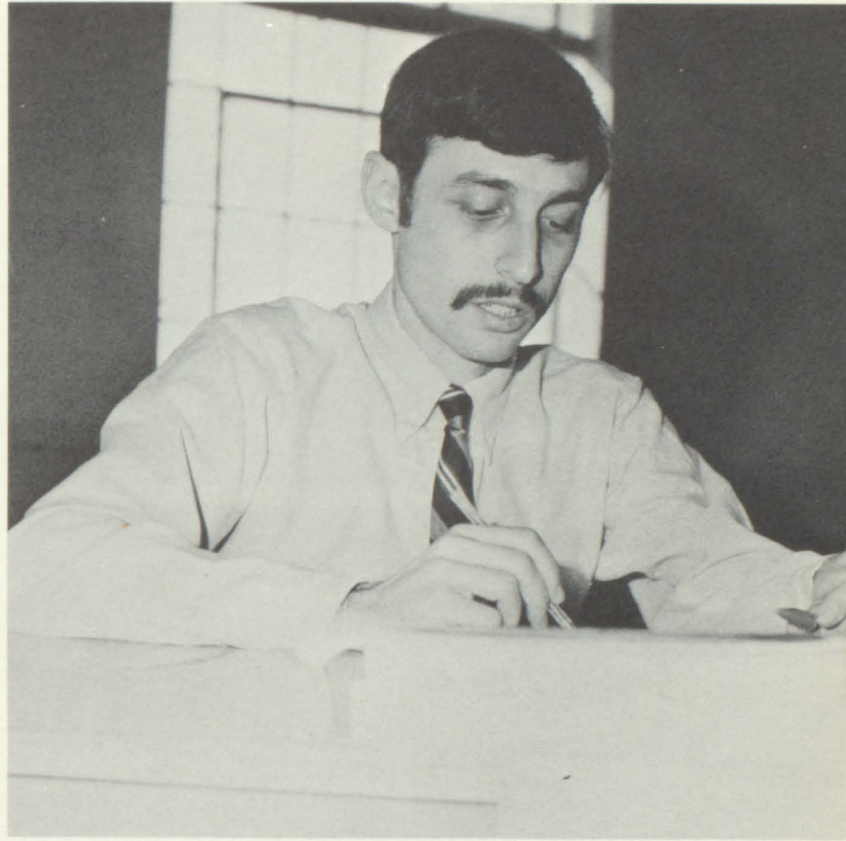

Being head of the math department keeps Mr. Ellinas busy organizing new courses offered to all students.

Mr. Thompson takes time to point out an amusing aspect of math to Jay Clay and Raymond Ledford.

Math

Mr. Jacobson finds the variety of students on his registration list fascinating. Mr. Jacobson ponders what he will teach next quarter as he scans the registration list.

A few remarks from Mrs. Picklesimer is enough to start Sharon Kramer's solution of an algebraic equation.

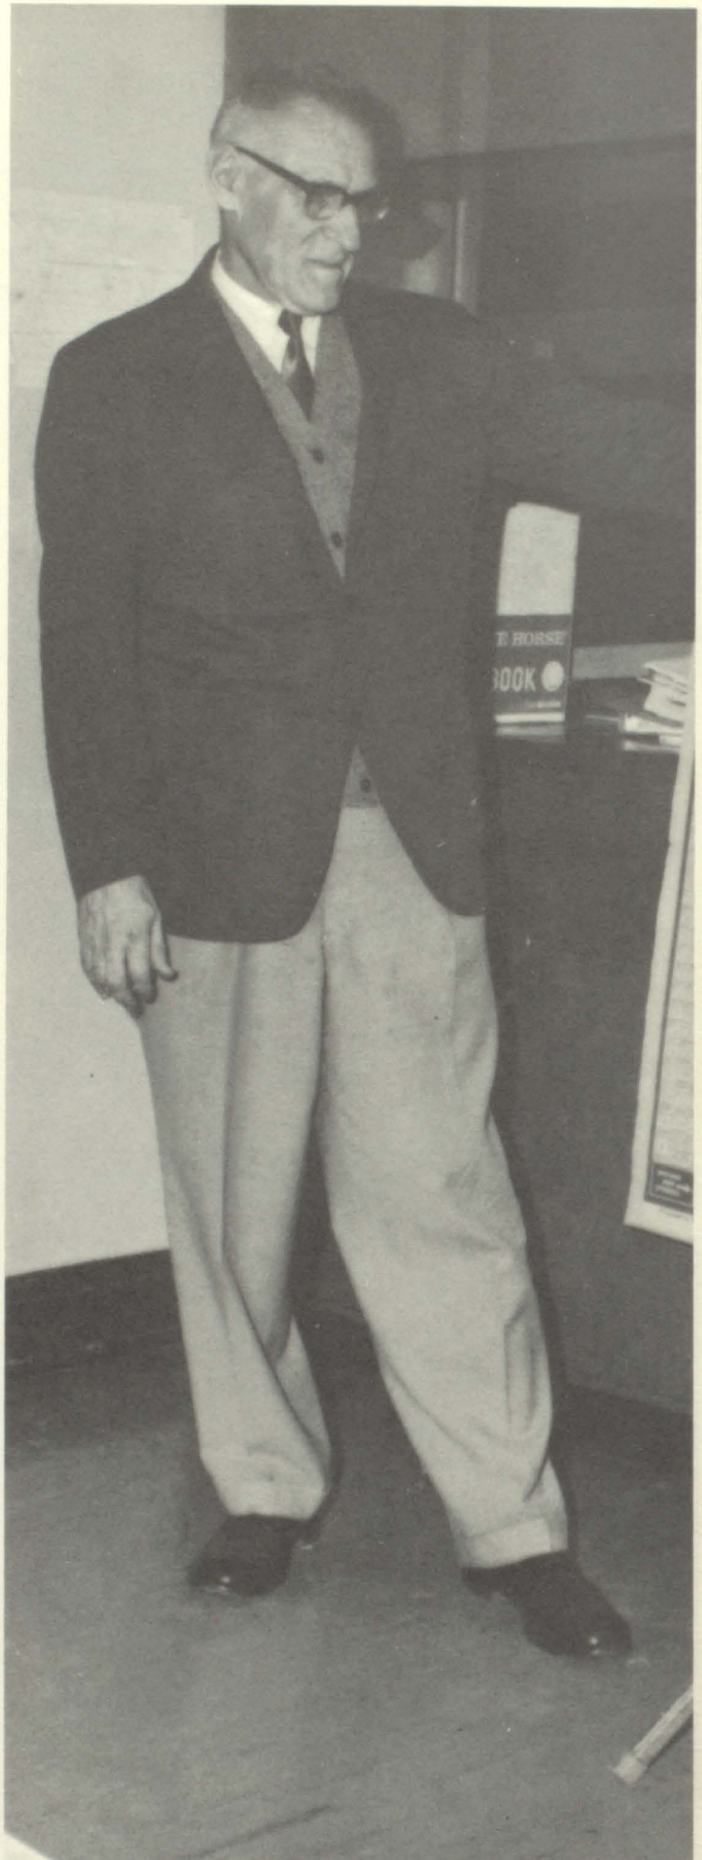

The science department

prepares inquisitive scientists to face the challenges of exploration.

Experiments,
dissection,
oxidation,
analysis
permit students to explore hows and whys of science.

While on hall duty, Miss Gardner greets early arrivals.

Coach Brewer lectures students on fundamentals of meteorology.

Science

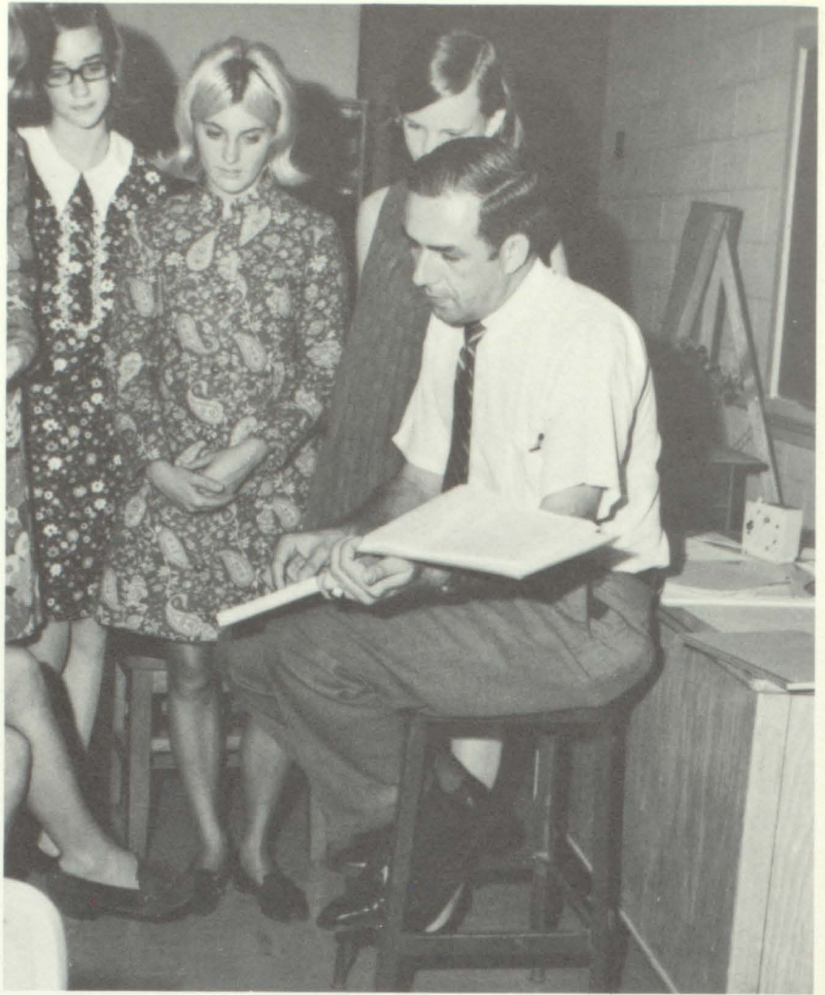

Coach Daniel orders fish and frogs for dissection in his tenth grade biology class.

Mr. Williams intelligently explains one of the more difficult processes used in the formation of chemical solutions.

Business Department

trains students
for many useful skills—
balancing records
in bookkeeping,
transcribing shorthand
at top speed,
typing letters
with absolute accuracy, practicing office procedures for work experience.

Dr. Lovern points out typing fundamentals to Diane Whiteley.

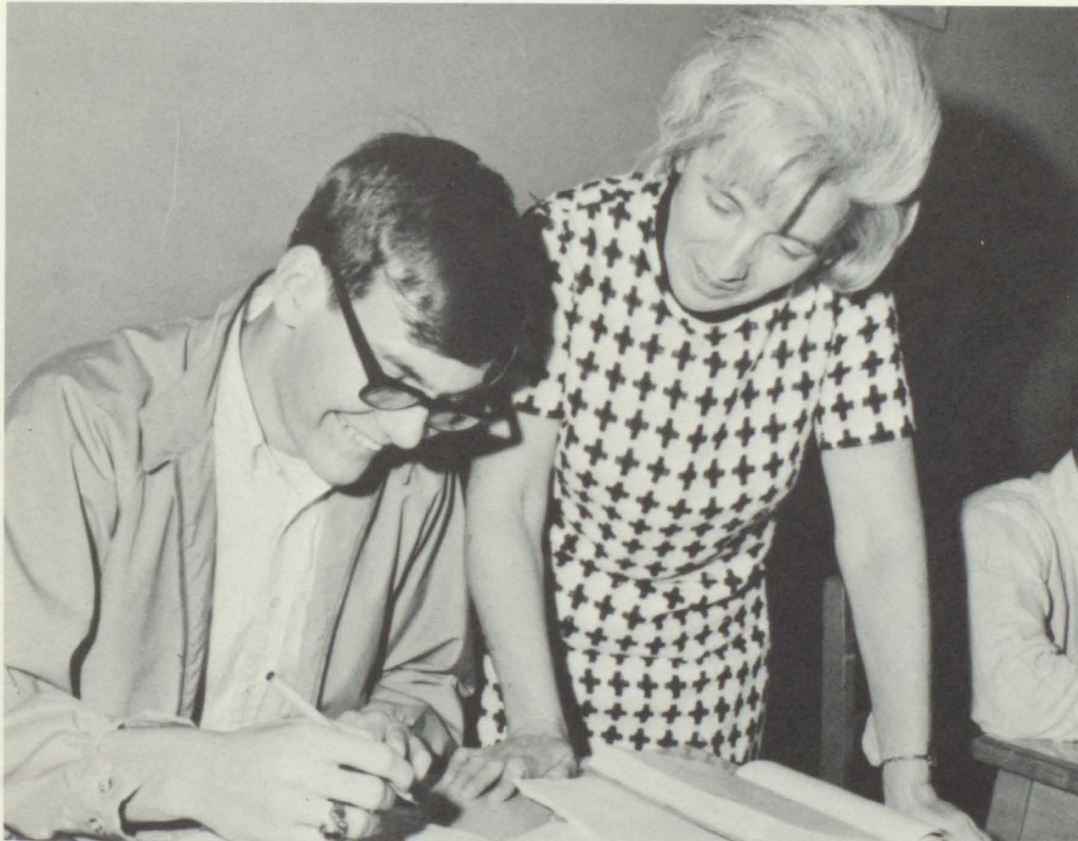

Miss Taylor supervises her business education class as they increase their typing speed.

Business Education

Through the teaching of Business Principles, Mrs. Thomas gives her students a valuable head start in the business world.

The thoroughness and accuracy of Larry Kincaid's bookkeeping fascinates Mrs. Chamberlain.

Physical Education emphasizes importance of participation in fitness classes

of various areas—
in field sports,
in gymnastics,
in self-defense.

All new, Co-ed PE, encourages
student participation
in new activities—
camping,
fishing,
and archery.

Mrs. Teer beams with happiness as she records winning results of a varsity girls' basketball game.

Mrs. Davis shows her skill as she demonstrates the correct form used on the un-even parallel bars.

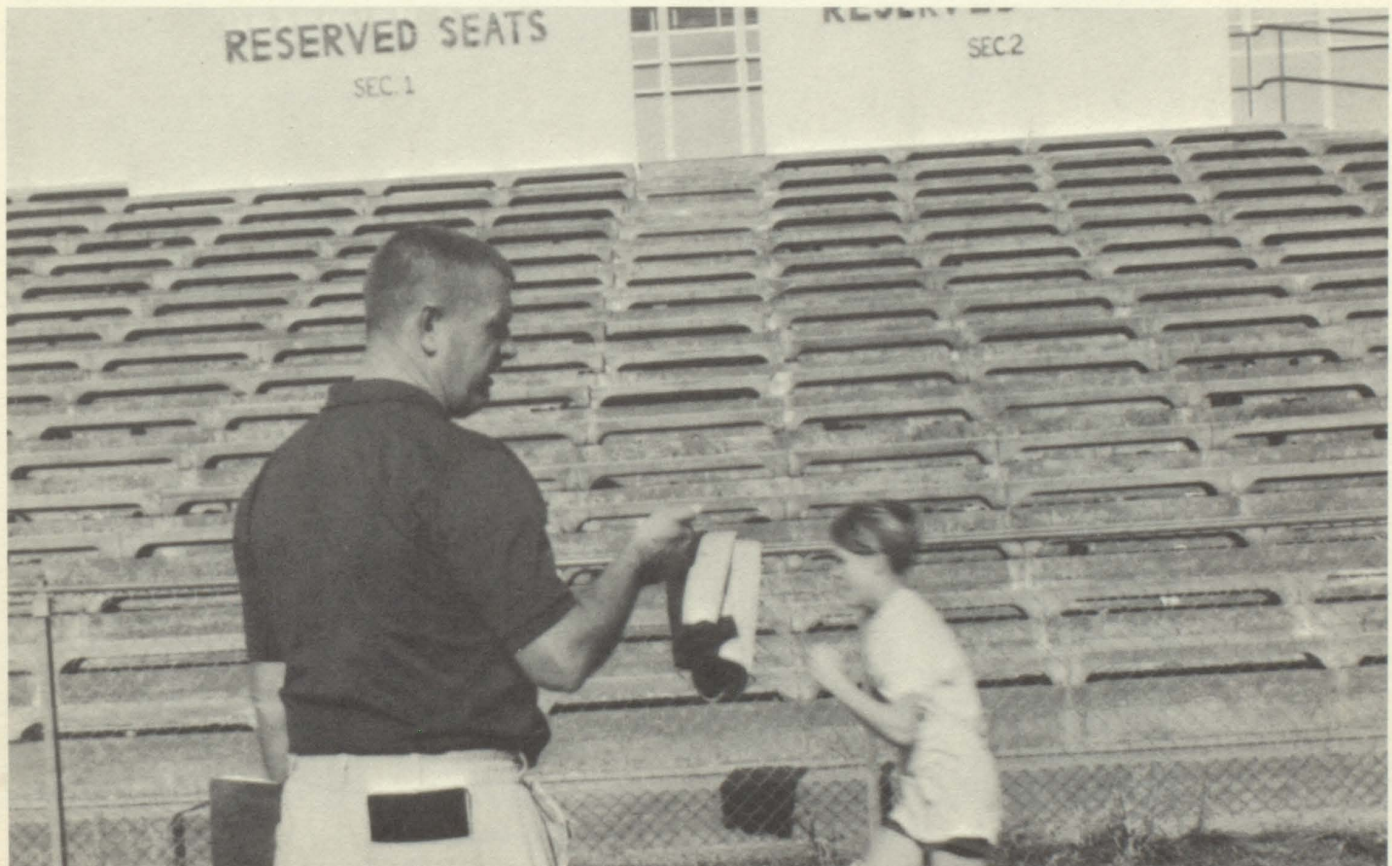

P. E. and Health

Coach Howard stresses the importance of proper health habits to his eight grade health class.

Mike Lunsford crosses the finish line as Coach Brown accurately checks his timing in the fifty-yard dash.

Two new courses—

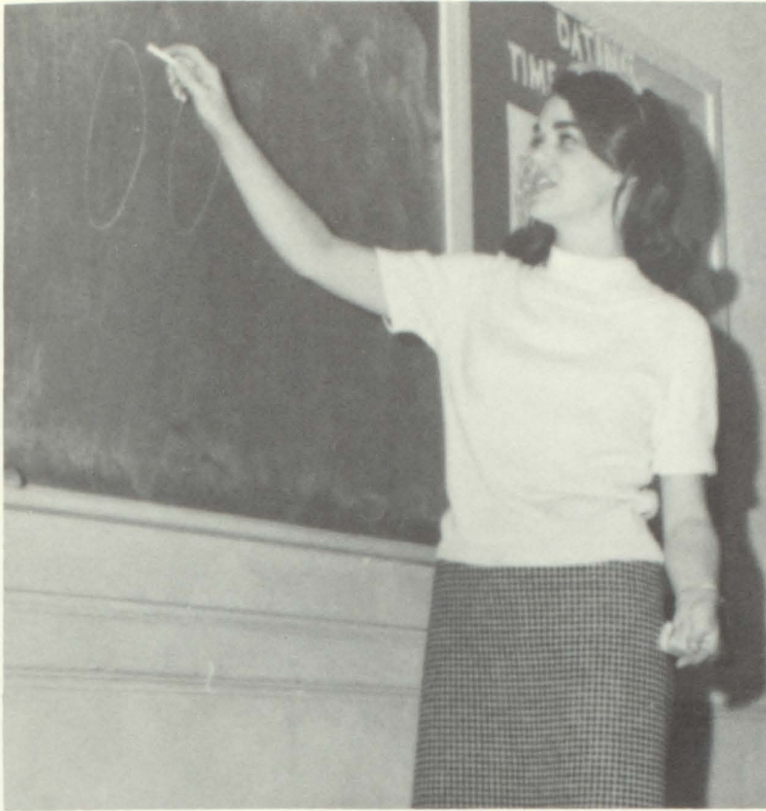

Bachelor Foods
and Housing—
create opportunities for boys
to express themselves
in home economics.
Cooking,
sewing,
budgeting,
decorating
complete co-ed instruction concerning the modern home.

Miss Hammett sets her young students on the right track as she gives a few helpful hints about homemaking.

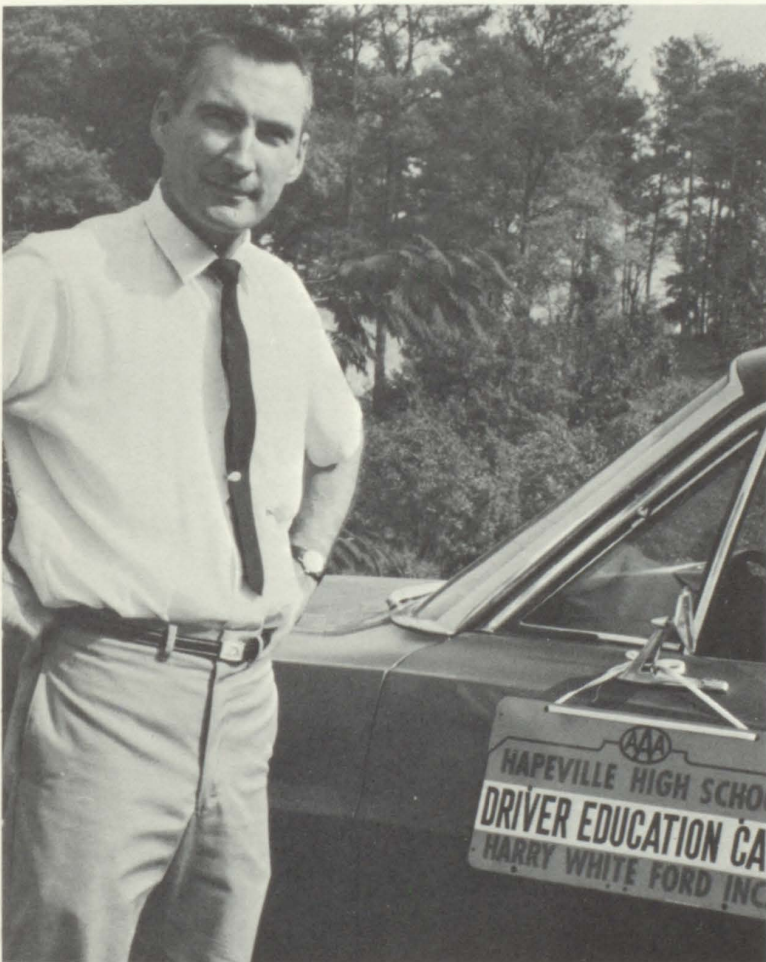

"Do I have to?" asks Dicky Adams as Miss Hammett instructs male students in washing dishes.

Miss Weaver's diagram proves useful in explaining life's basic problems.

Human Development

provides students with a better understanding of themselves and others. "Psychologists" prepare for adult roles by studying personal needs, family relations, social dilemmas, and marriage.

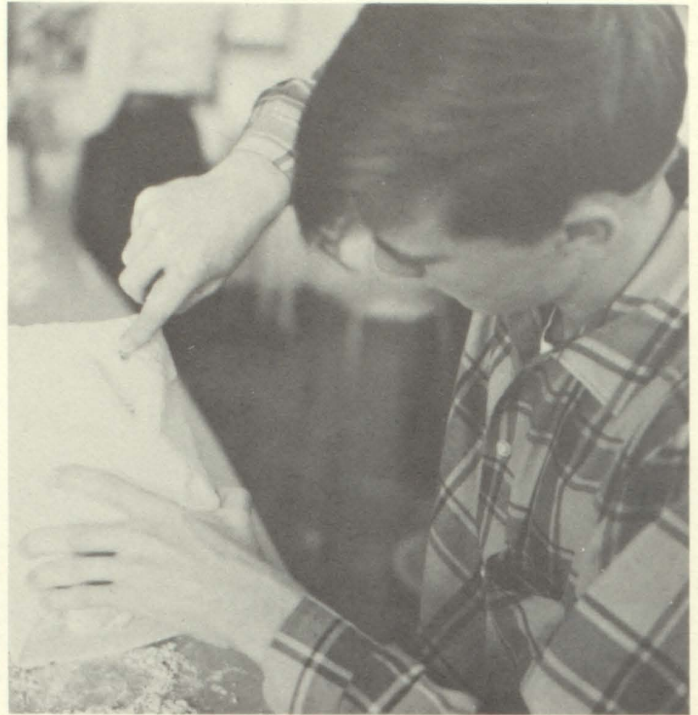

Coach Daniel shows confidence in young drivers before getting into car.

Driver's Training

prepares ex-pedestrians for the responsibility of that important piece of paper—a driver's license. In order to develop skill behind the wheel, student drivers weave through cones, practice parking techniques, learn traffic laws, interpret road signs.

Expression is the key word

in today's art classes.
Paints,
ceramics,
sculptures—
many fields
challenge students
to express themselves
in artistic creations.

Stanley Coffee transforms applied thought into an original sculpture.

The combination of paint rolling skills of Miss Croft and Roy Hendrix bring eye-pleasing results.

Coach Watts shows Sonny Adams some fundamental techniques used in modern designing.

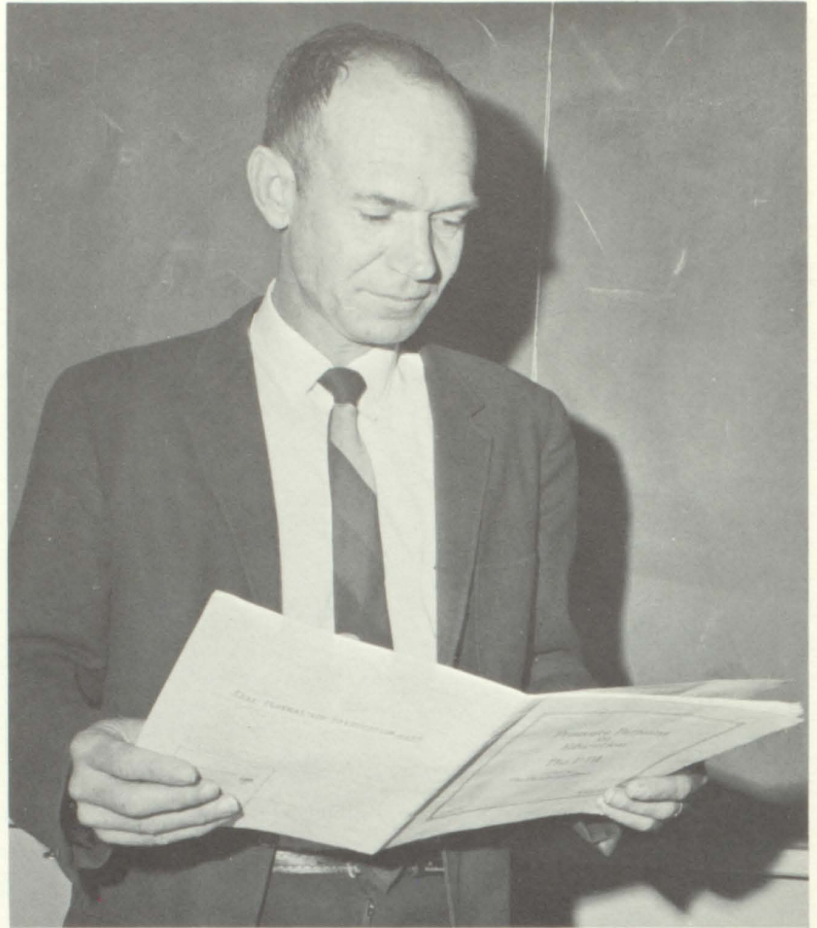

Coach Haney demonstrates the proper use of the table saw.

Tools offer means

of perfection
in industrial arts—
drills,
compasses,
saws,
sandpaper.
In a whirl of
triangles,
planes and
isometric drawings,
young industrialists
perfect their creations.

Proficiency

on the job and in the classroom
prepares vocational students to compete
in the working world.
Applying the knowledge
of years past,
DCT students work
in order to gain experience for years to come.

Mr. Barnes takes time to catch up on his reading in order to give proper instruction to his DCT classes in the fundamentals of employment.

DCT students find that it takes much classroom study to excell on the job.

Mr. Lowry assists Becky Wright in sightreading class.

Practice

leads to perfection
in both fields
of music—
instrumental
and choral.
Music students must master
notes,
rhythm,
dynamics,
precision
in order to present
the best performance
possible.

Mr. Miller expertly prepares his many talented musicians for the annual music festival.

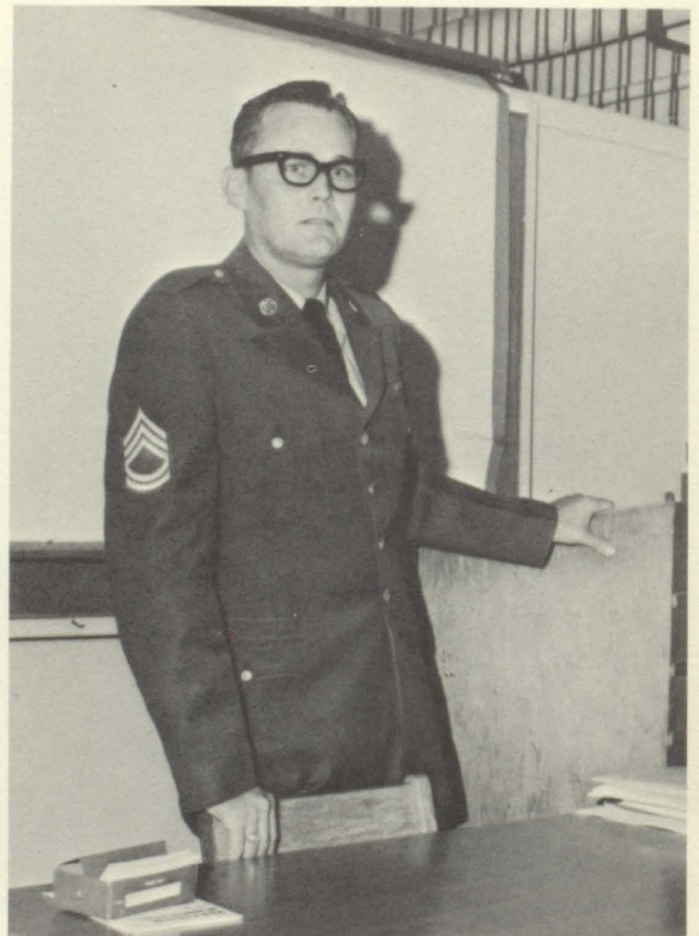

Sergeant Major Martin keeps the ROTC program functioning smoothly.

Military trains boys

for their future duties in service to our country.

Drilling and more drilling
conditions cadets
in the art of discipline,
leadership,
and obedience.

Sergeant First Class Davis poses an everyday problem in small unit tactics to his Military II class.

Señora Cera cheerfully serves the day's specialty to privileged seniors.

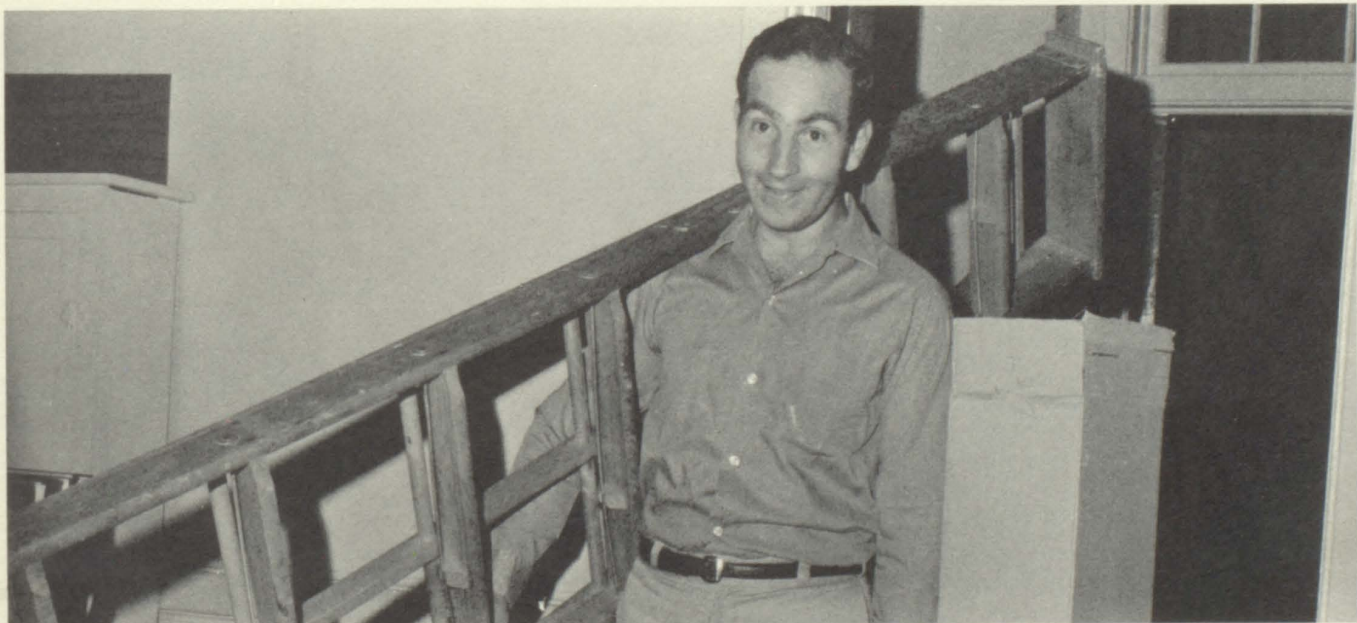

During flu epidemic, Nancy Nurse takes Mike Clayton's temperature.

An essential part of life at HHS is the healthful service rendered by custodians, Red Cross volunteers, and cafeteria staff.

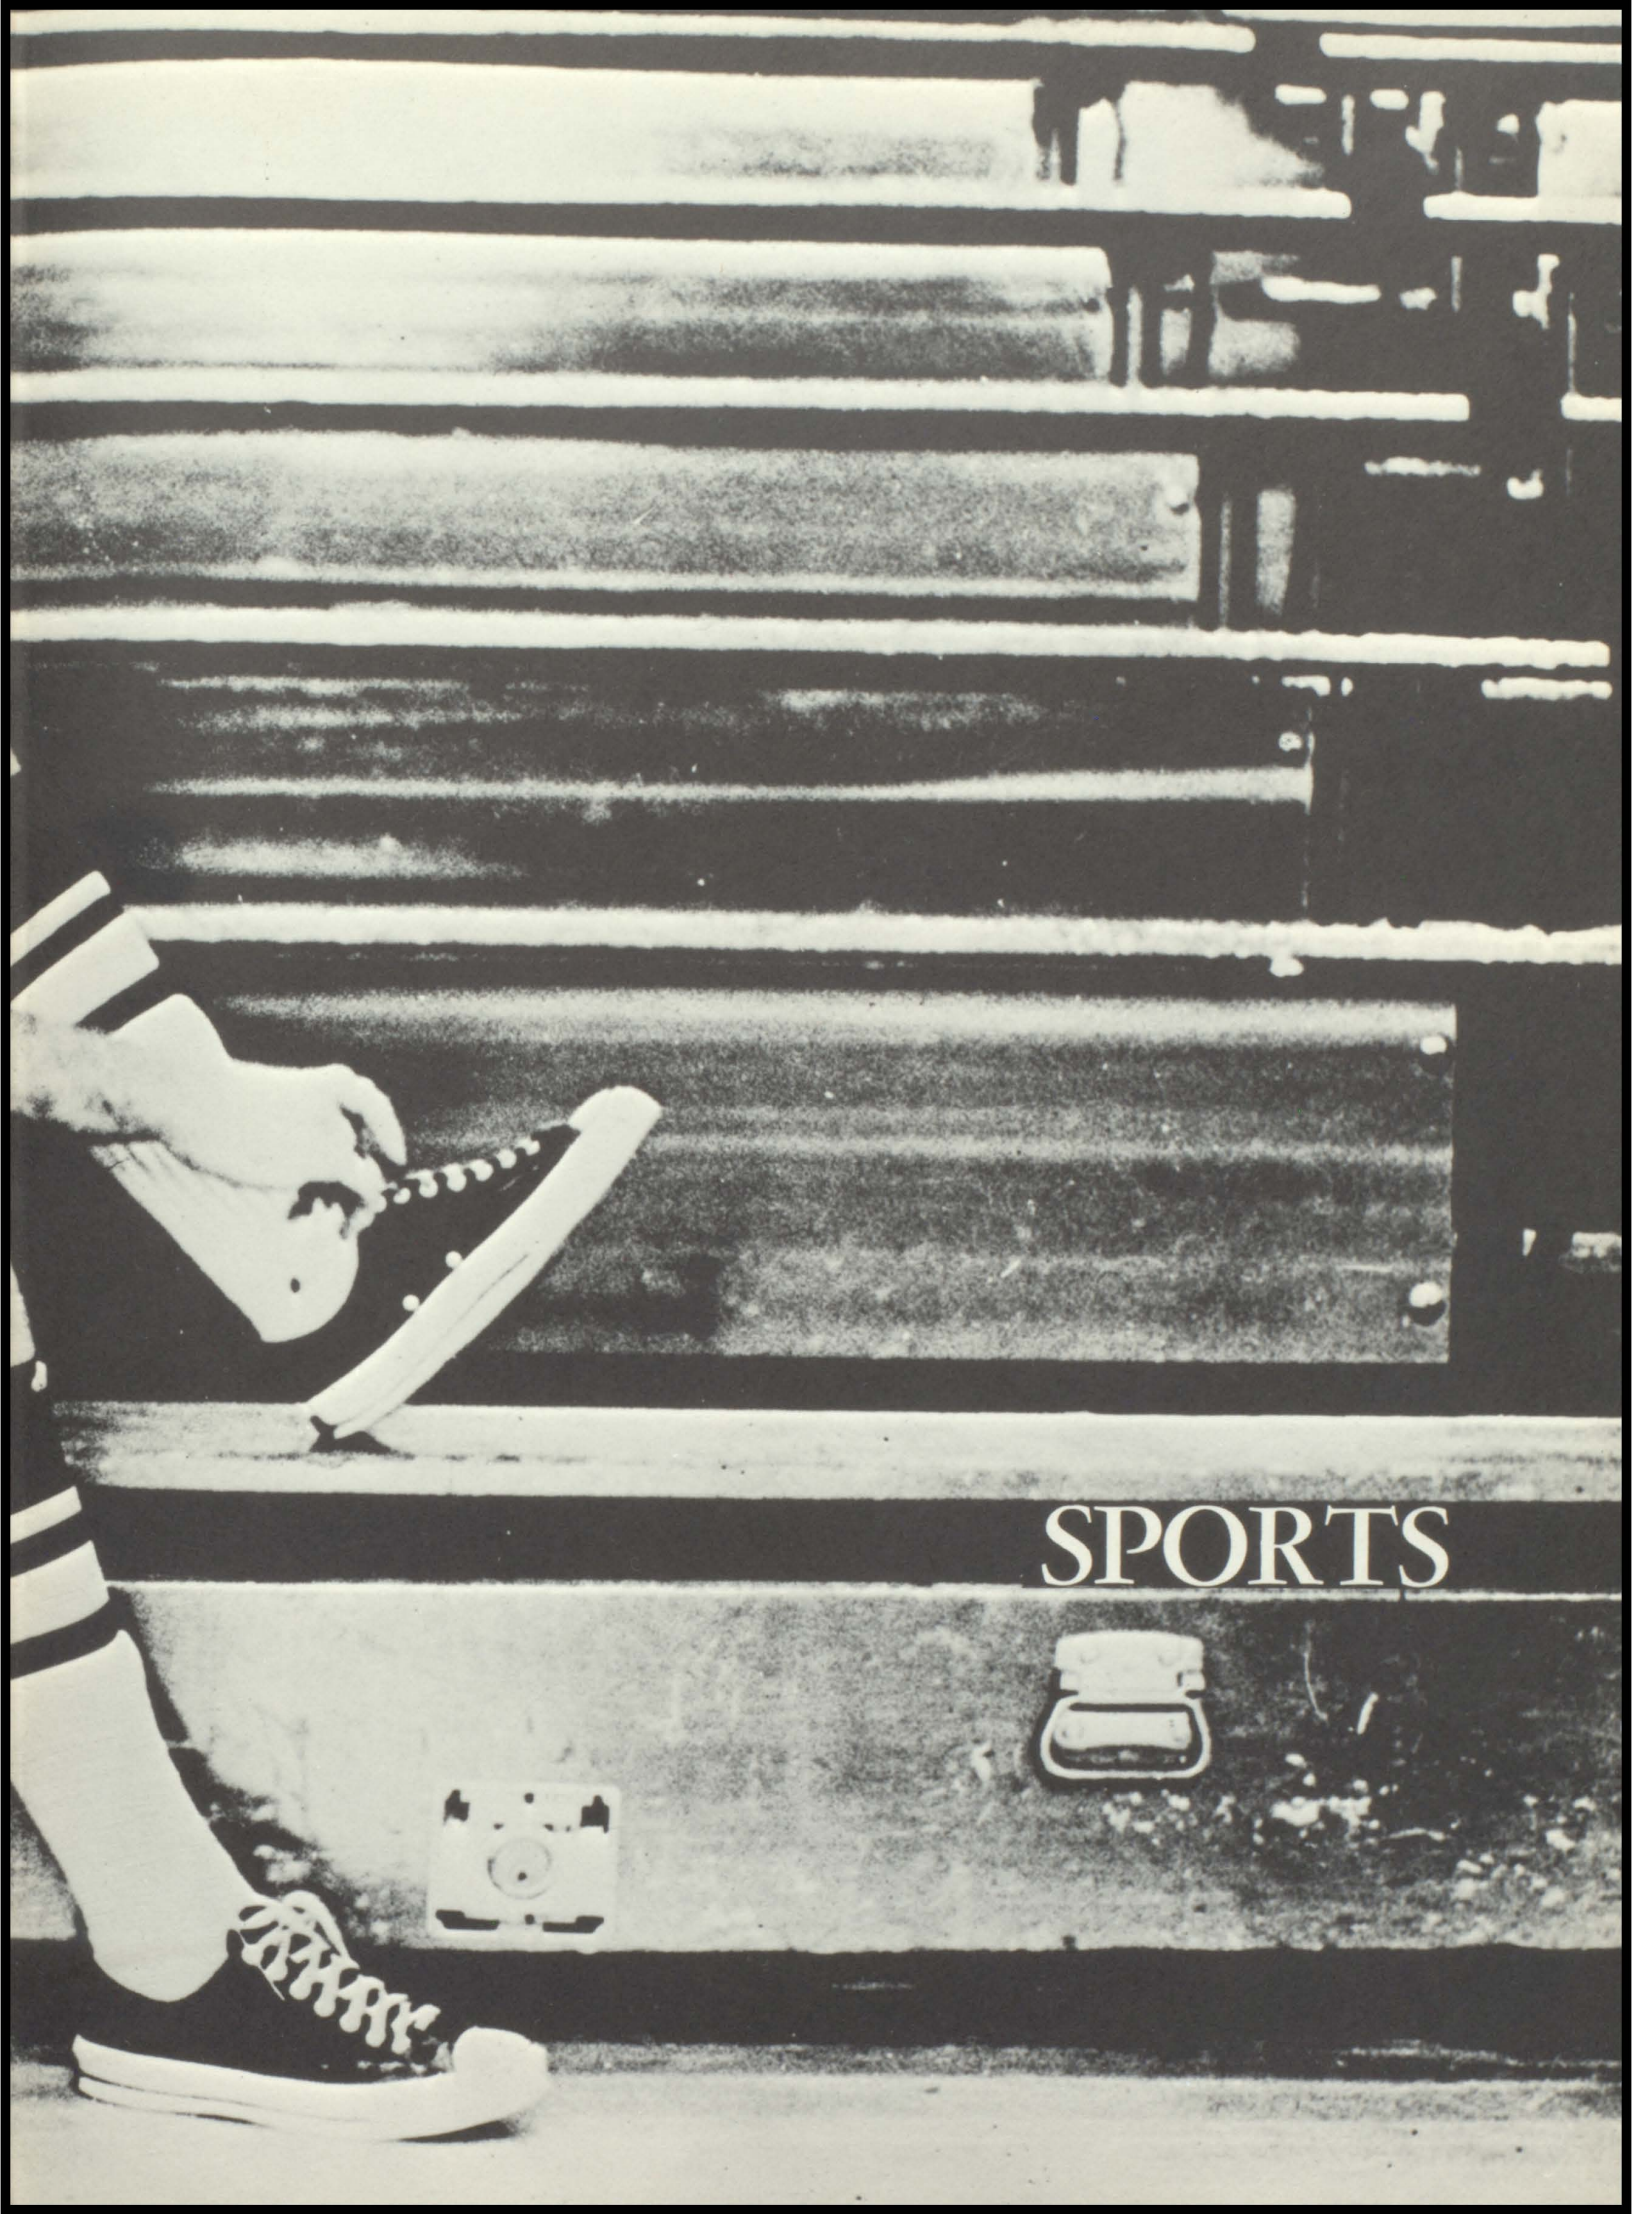

Mrs. Martin "says love 'em with something from the oven" as she and her assistant plan the menu.

During heat failure, Mr. Thompson grabs ladder as he rushes to scrape ice from high windows in Miss Wells's room.

SPORTS

Practice . . . practice . . . practice

All of the hard work paid off when the season began. Henry County fell to the Hornets. Hapeville lost to Fairburn's Bears but bounced back with a sterling performance against South Fulton. Trailing 6-19 in the first quarter, the Hornets exploded for a convincing 40-19 triumph.

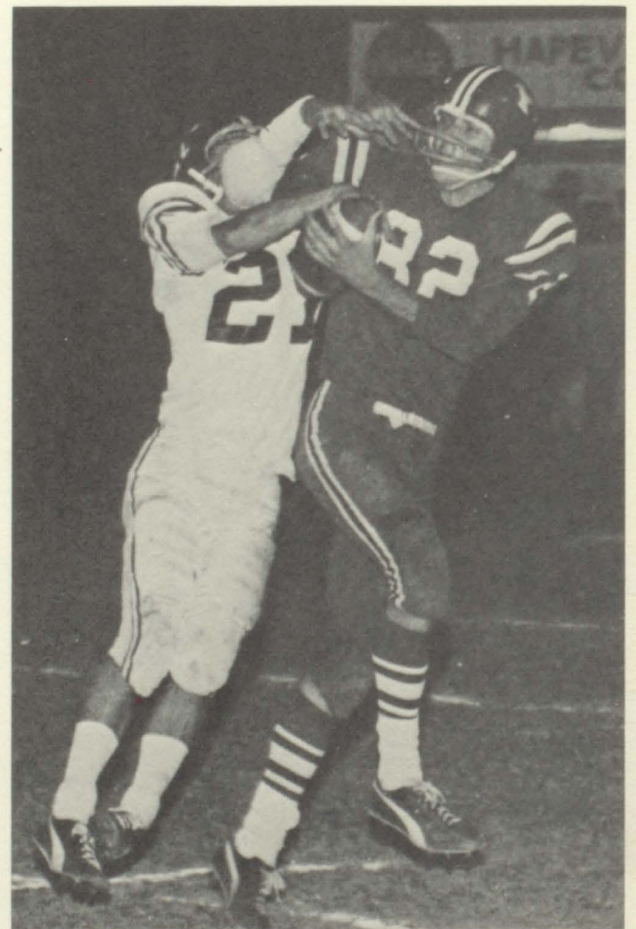

Larry Kincaid makes last-minute changes as daily practice draws near.

Don Thompson leads Hornets onto the gridiron as opening game excitement builds.

George Callaway grabs pass despite excellent coverage.

Don Thompson makes desperate attempt to tackle Headland quarterback.

Headland tacklers swarm upon Steve Dewberry after his short gain.

A mid-season slump, in which the Hornets lost four consecutive games, dashed hopes for a championship in 2-AA North.

To start the downswing, undefeated Lovett downed Hapeville 14-0.

Arch-rivals—

Headland and College Park—thumped Hapeville for the Hornets' only sub-region losses, and the Lakeshore Lancers powered past the Hornets 41-13.

The Russell game

marked a turnabout in Hapeville's football fortunes.

Brilliant line play and precise timing resulted in a 20-0 victory.

Hapeville treated an appreciative Homecoming crowd to a 70-6 rout of Briarwood, then closed out the season with a 35-0 victory over Pebblebrook.

The 1968 Hapeville football team finished 3-2 in the region and 5-5 overall, their best record in five seasons.

Hornet co-captains, Curtis Jordan and Dennis Goss, carefully eye the toss of the coin before the Homecoming game with Briarwood.

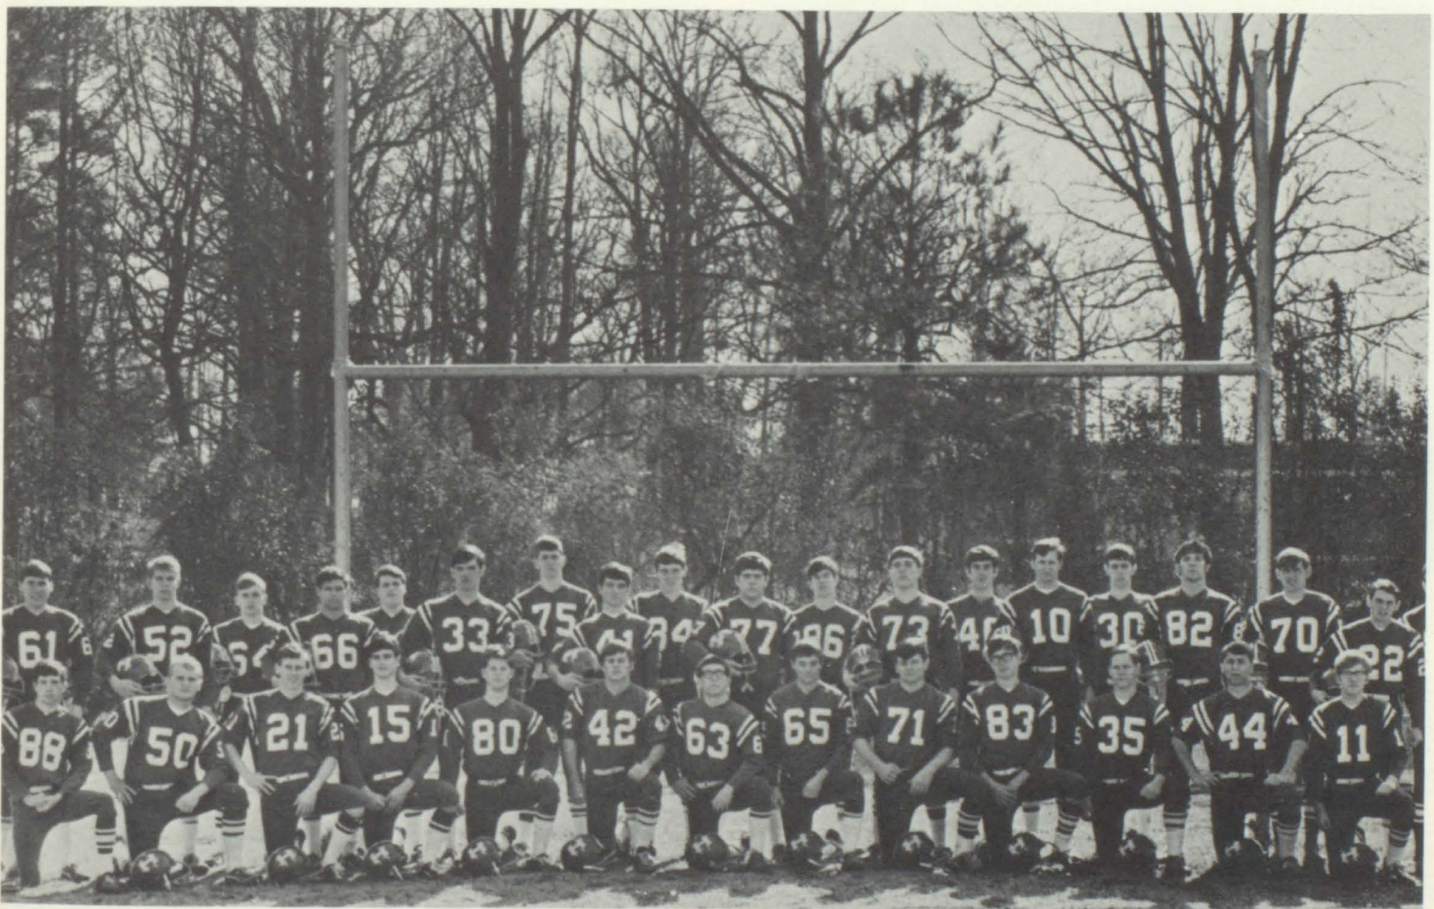

Randy Kinsey streaks to touchdown on punt return behind crisp wall of Hornet blocking.

Defensive back Ray Pickett descends on cornered Buccaneer ball carrier.

Scoreboard reflects superiority of hornet gridiron performance.

Homecoming 1968—

football sponsors,
the queen and her court,
and a half-time show—
all added to the excitement of Homecoming
as Hapeville stampeded
to a 70-6 victory
over Briarwood.

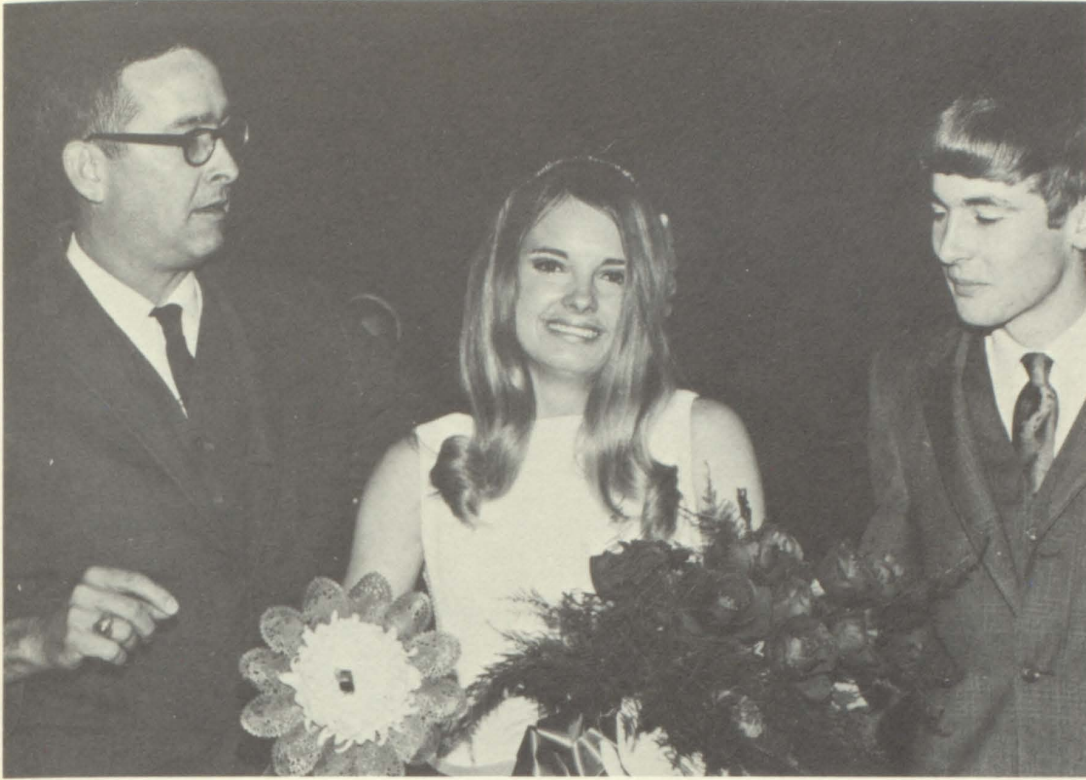

Sallie Carroll calls for a Hornet touchdown as Hapeville drives goalward.

Hornet cheerleaders Frances Berggren and Debbie Pope admire winning Homecoming float.

The action gets close as Dennis Goss struggles through the Briarwood line.

Joyce Oglesby cries sudden tears of joy as she is crowned the Homecoming Queen of 1968.

Football sponsors, Rita Lawson and Kay Bourke, glow with excitement as the Hornets fight for victory in Homecoming game.

Spirited cheerleaders led football fans through a successful season. By sponsoring pep rallies, honoring our boys, and arousing school spirit, cheerleaders cheered the '68 football team on to victory.

Pep rallies become amusing and spirited when cheerleaders present original skits.

Varsity cheerleaders lead students in rousing cheer at bonfire.

J. Kirkland, D. Pope, D. Purcell, P. Chancey, E. McCord, S. Carroll, J. Oglesby, F. Berggren, K. Holt, C. Morrow.

At homecoming, Marsha Bishop displays the enthusiastic spirit characteristic of all of the B-Team cheerleaders.

B-Team cheerleaders

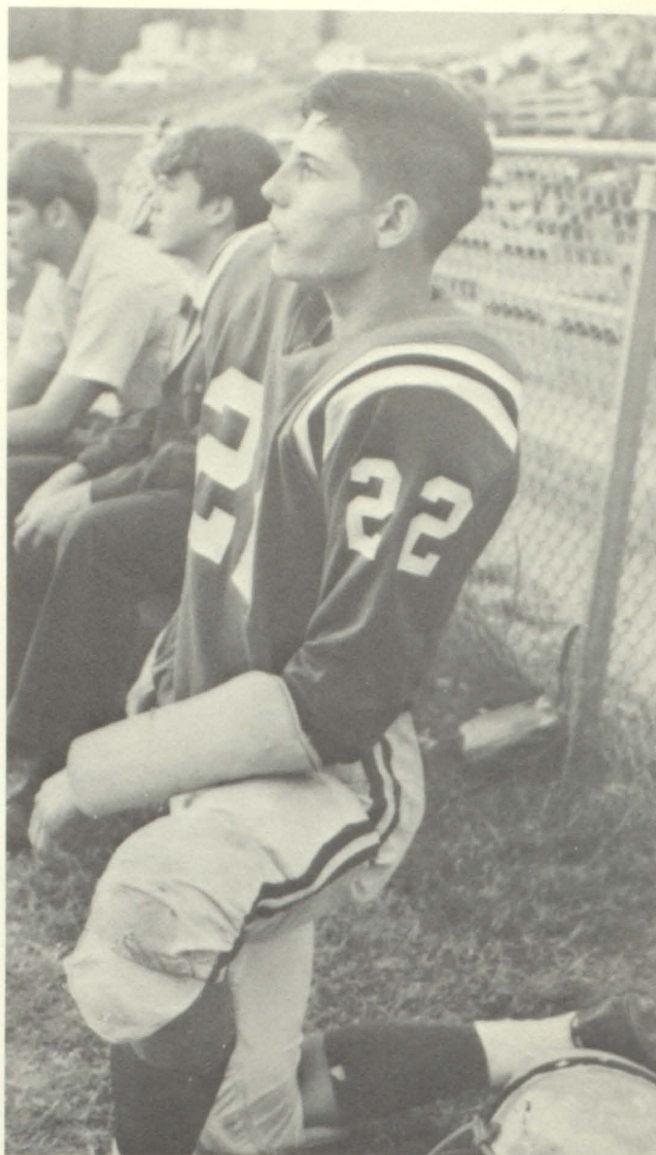

practiced diligently to perfect their routines which support the hard-working B-Team sportsmen. Dressed in new uniforms, B-Team cheerleaders shouted their spirit and enthusiasm.

First Row: K. Keller, M. Cummings, L. Crawford, M. Bishop. Second Row: P. Lea, H. Smith, A. Beck, T. Ferrell.

A sturdy defense was the trademark of the '69 B-Team squad. The young Hornets blanked Headland and Russell and held Fairburn to seven points. A somewhat inconsistent offense prevented Hapeville from having a banner season. The high point of the season was a 12-0 victory over Headland.

Andy St. John keeps an eye on the action as he waits to return to the game.

James Gay goes up for a jump shot as the Hornets get two on the fast break.

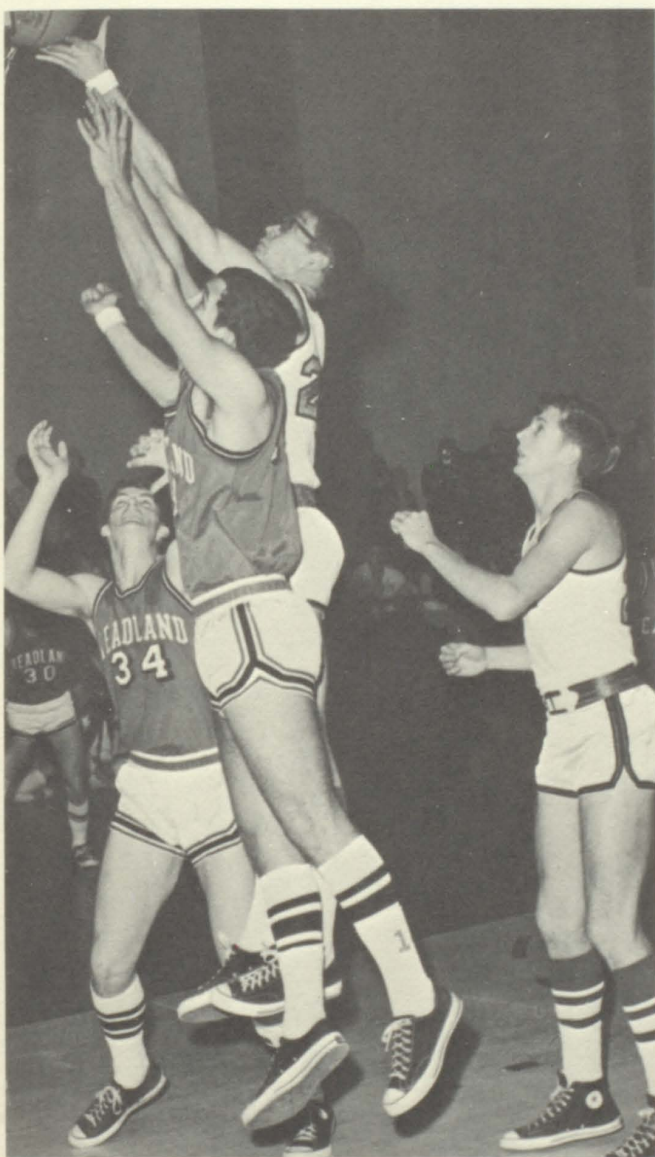

Dennis Goss gets off a jumper from the corner as a defender moves in.

Randy Kinsey beats the defense for another Hapeville field goal.

First row: G. Callaway, D. Goss, J. Gay, R. Kinsey. Second row: T. Hasty, W. Day, J. Cera, R. Saxon, E. Hill, E. Samra, D. Suddeth, R. Ledford.

Richard Saxon's tip-in turns an errant Hapeville shot into another Hornet basket.

From the Russell loss on, the Hornets had only a mediocre record. Inconsistent shooting was a key factor. As the Hornets' percentages varied from 20% to 55%.

The region tournament was a bitter disappointment and typified what had promised to be a brilliant year.

In the first round Hapeville avenged an earlier loss to Headland.

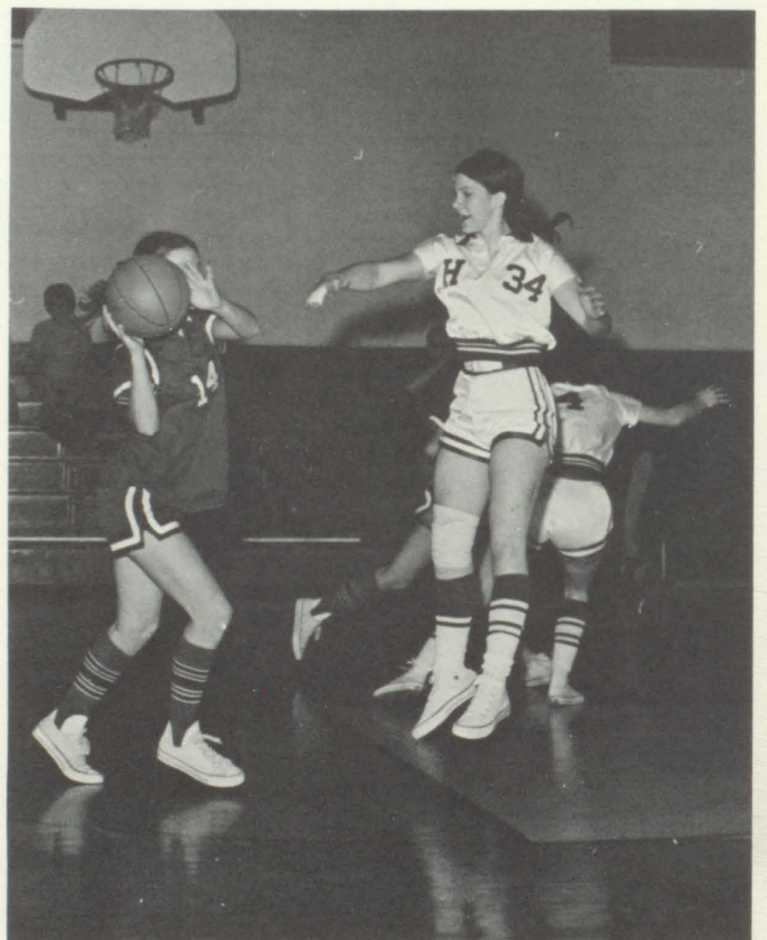

The Troup Tigers, 2-AA champions, ended the Hornets' championship aspirations by blitzing Hapeville 57-41.

First Row: S. Carroll, G. Harrison, J. Lathum, K. Holt, D. Pope, E. McCord. Second Row: L. Johnson, J. Kirkland, D. Lovern, P. Tittle, H. Smith. Third Row: N. Billings, Miss Teer, B. Wright.

The Hapeville Hornettes

showed marked improvement in all areas.
Although their season's record was not a great deal better, the girls' performance
was consistently sharp.
Defeating the Hornettes four times, Briarwood proved to be a thorn in Hapeville's side.
Two of these losses
were in the regular season, and the other two setbacks eliminated Hapeville's girls in the Christmas Tournament and the 2-AA Region Tournament.

Jan Lathum springs up to block Headland pass.

High-scoring Elaine McCord demonstrates her deadly hook shot.

The development of the B-team basketball squad was never quite so important as in 1969.

Although they won only five of their games, the B-teamers picked up their offensive and defensive systems and showed a marked ability for making sustained comebacks.

With only one of this year's varsity cagers returning next year, this year's B-team squad will carry most of the burden for the '69-'70 season.

The Girls' B-Team

a youthful, eager group, worked feverishly
for improvement and victory.

The improvement was steady and obvious as the season progressed, although victory eluded the 1969 squad.
Heart breaking losses
to Logansville
and North Clayton
kept the B-Team
from lasting victory.

One of the trademarks of this year's Baby Hornets was inconsistency, a factor which caused the eighth graders to finish with a 3-10 record. Wins over College Park and Lakeshore were the highlights of the season. Throughout the year the Baby Hornets showed much desire and potential for future varsity participation.

First Row: D. Self, D. Barnett, B. Bailey, M. Lunsfor, T. Blair. Second Row: Coach Watts, R. Jordan, P. Cox, K. Wade, F. Clay, B. Gillis, G. Edwards, Mgr. M. Randman.

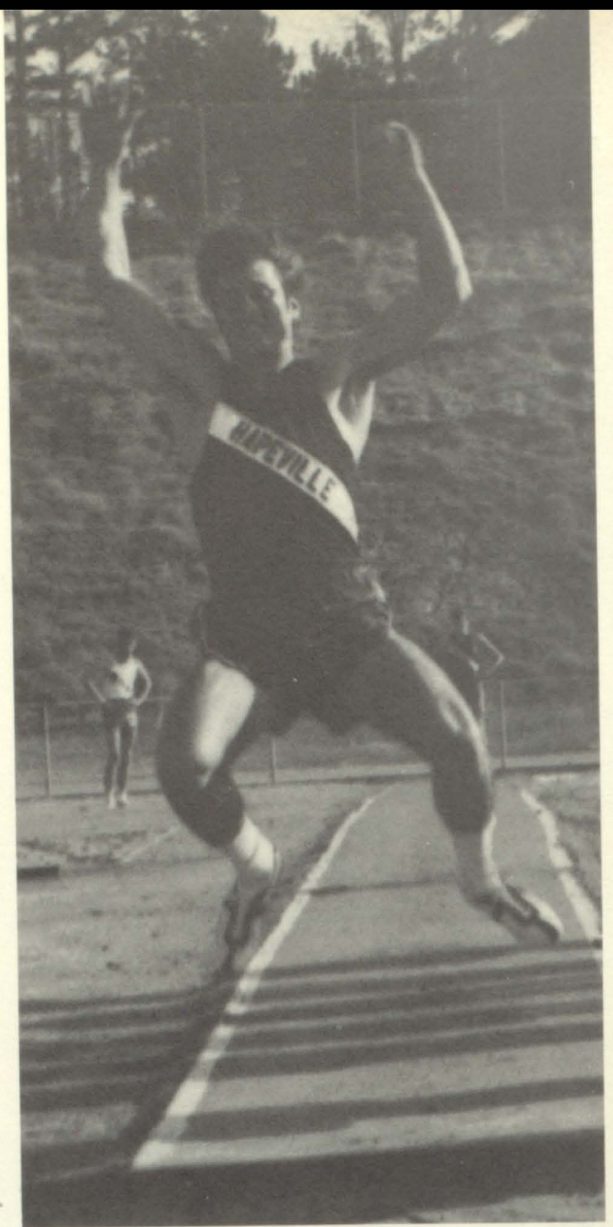

Randy Kinsey takes the baton from Steve Dewberry as Hapeville scores a victory in the mile relay.

Determination

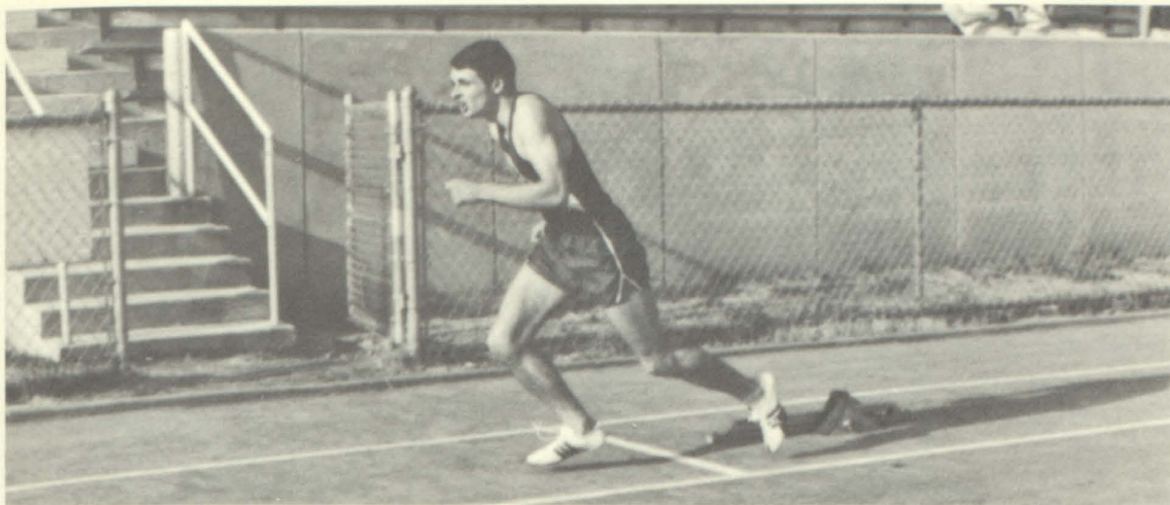

and desire to win characterized the '69 track team. Representing the school well, individuals recorded excellent times in some events, but a lack of overall team depth prevented the cindermen from becoming a power. With many sophomores and juniors returning, the team showed great promise for the future.

Speedster Allen Hicks breaks from the blocks at the start of the 440 yard dash.

Conditioning pays off as John Brasfield places high in the two-mile run.

Randy Kinsey's 41' 3" effort in the triple jump scores five points for Hapeville.

Andy St. John takes his stand as he prepares to lead off for Hapeville's 440 yard relay team.

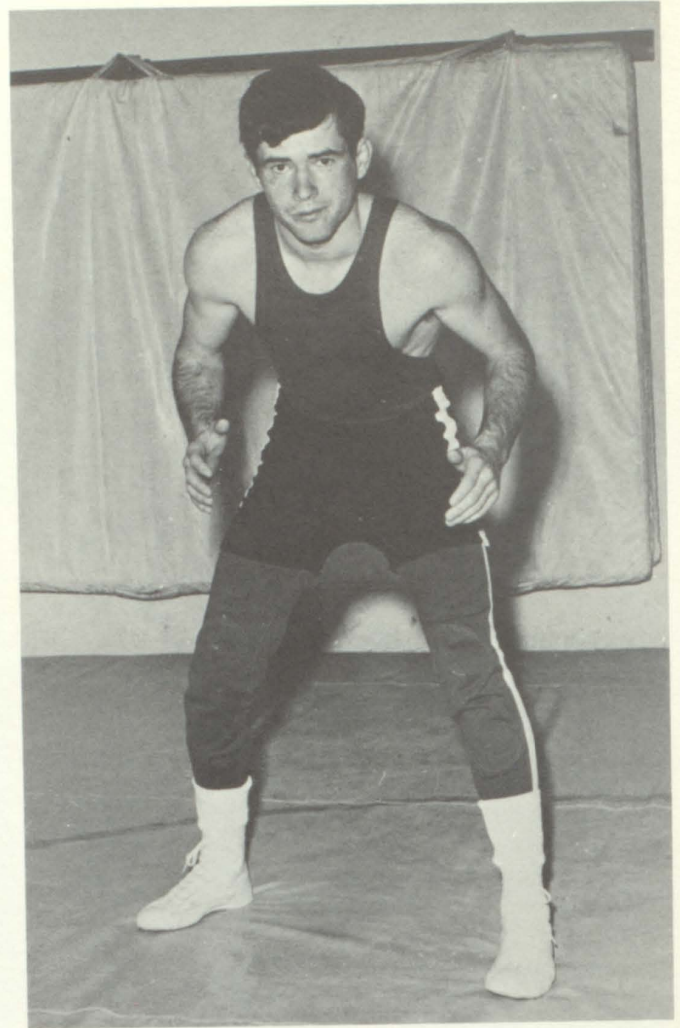

The Wrestling Team

enjoyed another successful season, but the campaign ended
on a bitter note
when the squad finished seventh in a field of twenty-four in the State Wrestling Tournament.

Tim McGinnis
and Curtis Jordan
went to the state finals.

Curtis Jordan wins a 7 to 1 decision, enabling him to move to the state finals.

Joe Cera lines out a single to start a Hornet rally.

The baseball team performed well in all games. Strong hitting, coupled with good pitching, brought wins to the Hornets. Lack of steady defensive play brought the team the grief of defeat. Despite the setbacks, the members of the team consistently worked hard and strove for perfection.

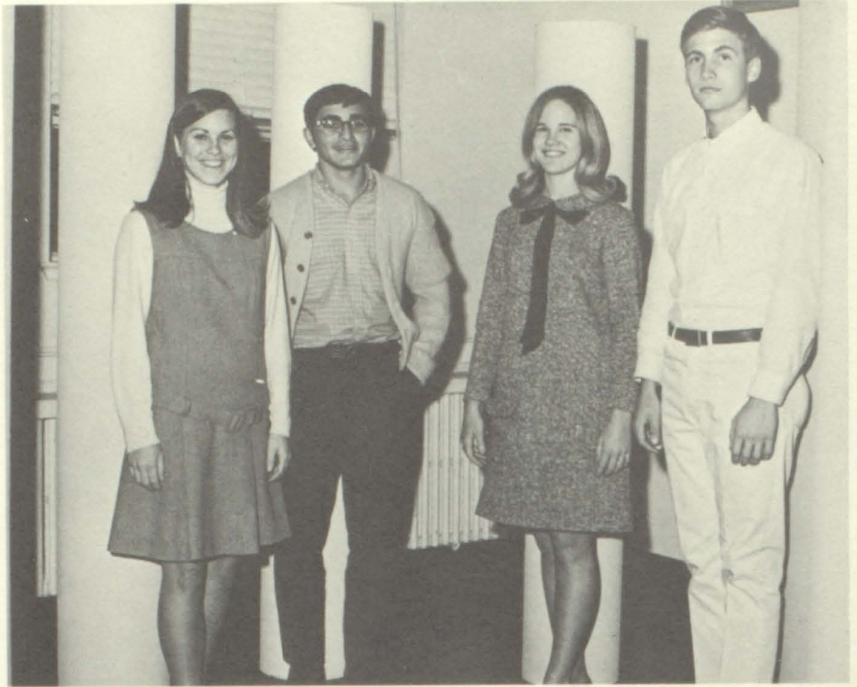

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council, student power,

the voice of the student body,
serves the school,
fosters ideals of leadership, brings students and faculty closer together.

The Student Council
kept school spirit throbbing
by sponsoring various activities—

FTA members gained experience by
aiding teachers,
conducting an assembly
during American Education Week, giving a tea for teachers, sponsoring a canned goods collection.

Future Homemakers of America

promote an appreciation of homemaking.
FHA members involved themselves in several worthwhile activities—
selling Stanley products, giving a Christmas party for children,
filling a Thanksgiving basket, serving at a tea honoring seventh-grade students.

At their half-way point

tenth graders found
new opportunities awaiting them—
living through the tragedy of Julius Caesar, proving theorems in Geometry, experiencing the wonders of dissection.

Chuck Pierce and Mark Richardson solve math problems.

For the jolly, jolly Juniors nineteen sixty-nine was winning the spirit skit, playing Varsity sports, cheering at pep rallies and ball games, entering into Beta Club and National Honor Society, selling magazines, and sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Senior Class officers, President Shelia Foster, Secretary Sandy Ivey, Vice President Joyce Oglesby, and Treasurer Dennis Goss lead the Class of '69 toward graduation.

Seniors led the student body

in a year
of change, decision, and success—in all phases of student life—
in spirit,
in extra-curriculum,
in scholarship,
in government.

FEATURES

David Duffy

ranks second
in his class.
David is a member of National Honor Society, Beta Club,
Band, and Varsity Chorus, and serves as President of
the Student Council.
Meriting high honors,
David is the Exchange Club
Boy of the Year
and has received the Rotary Distinguished Service Award.

Determination And Diligence Create Academic Excellence

Cheryl King,

having maintained
a high scholastic average throughout her
high school career,
ranks first in the Class of '69.

As Secretary of Beta Club,
Treasurer of National Honor Society,

a member of Quill and Scroll and Spanish National Honor Society, Copy Editor of the HILLTOP, and First Lieutenant in band,

Cheryl has proved to be a leader
among her classmates.

Linda Hilton

is this year's Miss DAR.

As President of Beta Club, Editor of the HILLTOP,
a member of Youth Jury,
First Lieutenant in band,
and a delegate to
the Leadership Conference, Linda has earned
this honor
for her service
at HHS.

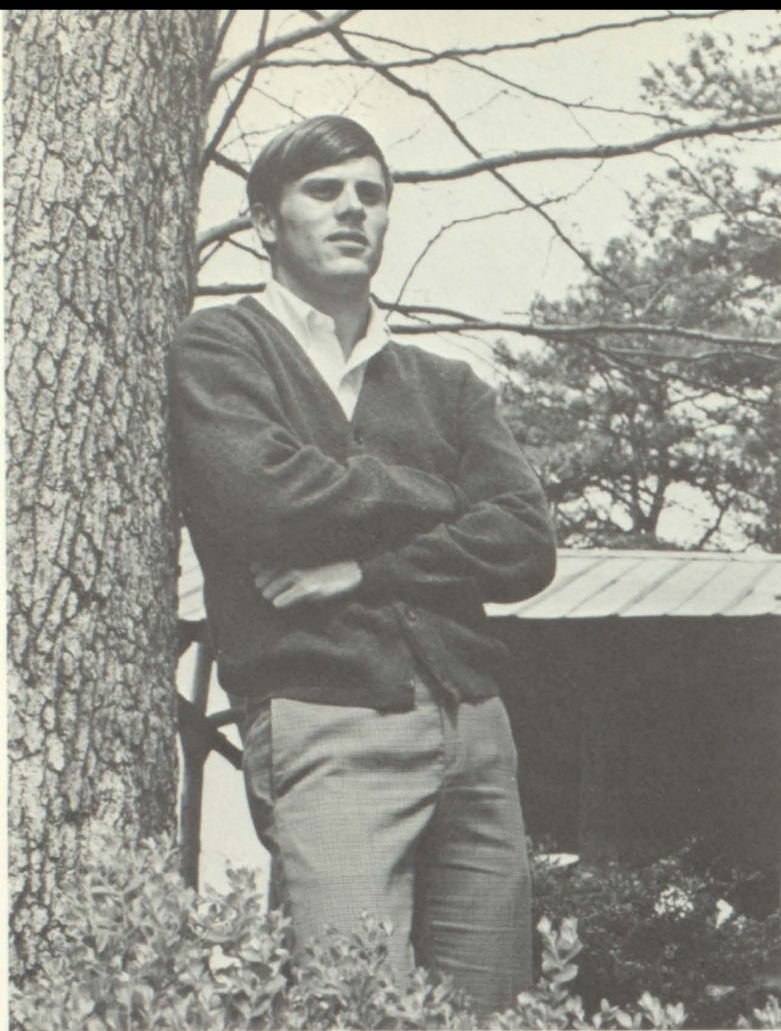

Determination And Diligence Create Academic Excellence

Ruth Arwood

is Hapeville's
Miss Betty Crocker
Homemaker of Tomorrow.

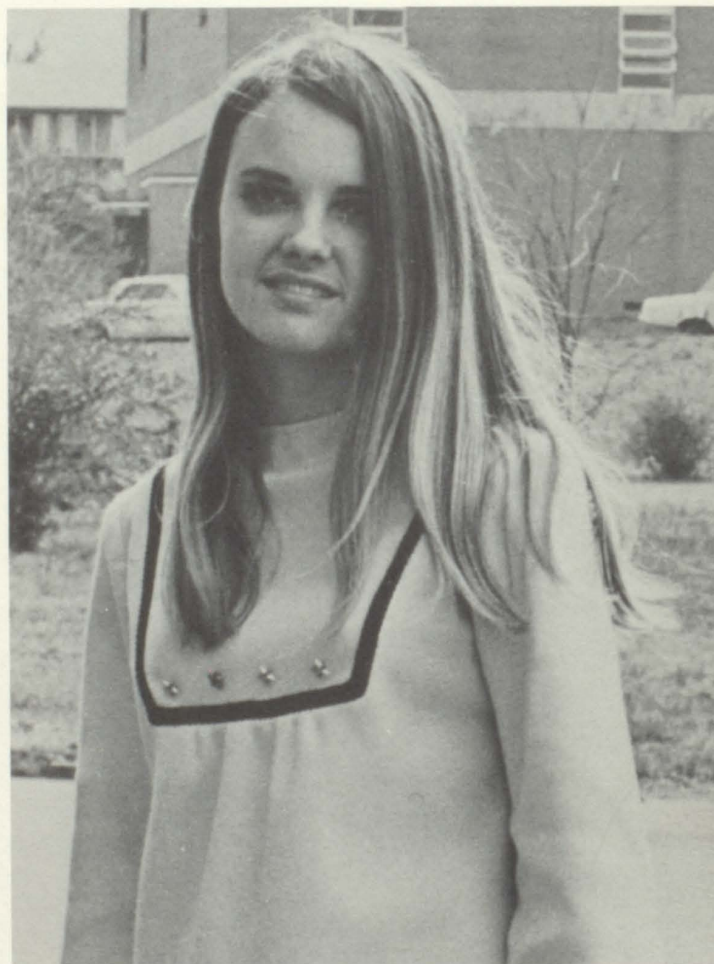

Ruth is a member
of Beta Club, President of National Honor Society, and Secretary of the Fifth District SLA.

Seniors Recognize Winning

Dennis Goss,
a participant
in all major sports,
is Hapeville's
Most Outstanding Athlete.
His skill in sports
has brought him
a long list
of awards, including Best Back in
the Tri-City Area, Greater Atlanta All-Star, Outstanding Player at HHS,
and All-State Football Team.

Joyce Oglesby,
a member of
the Queen's court
for four previous years,
went on to reign
as Hapeville's 1968-69
Homecoming Queen.
An outstanding
girl on campus, Joyce is Co-captain of the Cheerleaders, Vice-President of the Senior Class, Drill Team Sponsor,
and Miss Congeniality
of the Senior Class.

Attributes And Attitudes

Randy Kinsey, Hapeville's
Most Popular Senior Boy, participates in all areas
of school activities.
Being Battalion Commander, President of FCA,
a member of Beta Club
and the HILLTOP Staff,
a class officer
for three years,
and a participant
in all major sports
has made Randy
the most versatile
man on campus.

Sandy Ivey,
enthusiastic,
friendly,
and helpful,
is the Most Popular Senior Girl.
Being Vice-President
of the Student Council, Secretary of the Senior Class, Picture Editor of the HILLTOP,
a member of the chorus, Quill and Scroll,
and various clubs,
contribute to Sandy's
well-rounded personality.

Outstanding Talent And Academic Success Characterize Seniors

Jan Brown, superbly demonstrating her musical abilities, is Hapeville's Most Talented Senior. Leading her section in the HHS Band and singing leading roles in "Sister Angelica" and the "Sound of Music" have provided Jan with the experience necessary for her selection as a participant in the Governor's Honors Program for music and as WSB's Young American of the Day.

Beth Howard won the honor of being denoted 1969 Star Student. Due to her high scholastic average, Beth is a member of Beta Club and National Honor Society, a participant in the Governor's Honors Program, a winner of the National Council of Teachers of English Award, and the Exchange Club Girl of the Year.

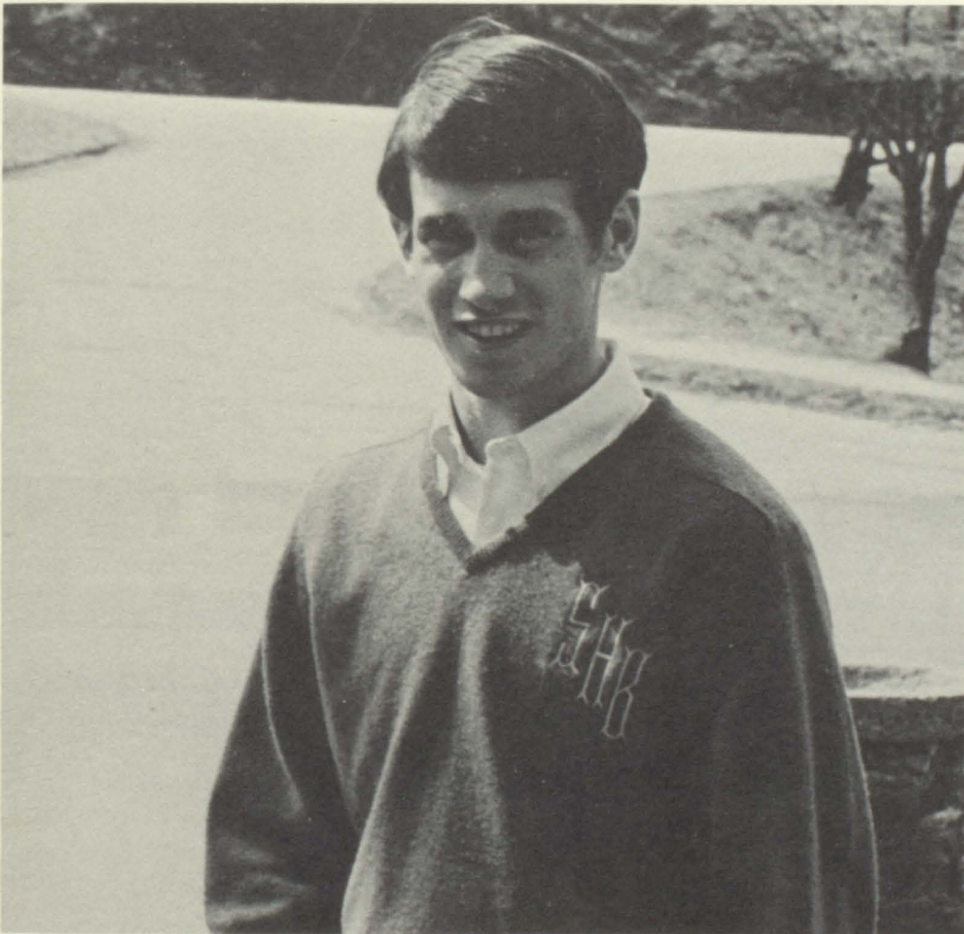

Beauty And Personality Merit Seniors Coveted Titles

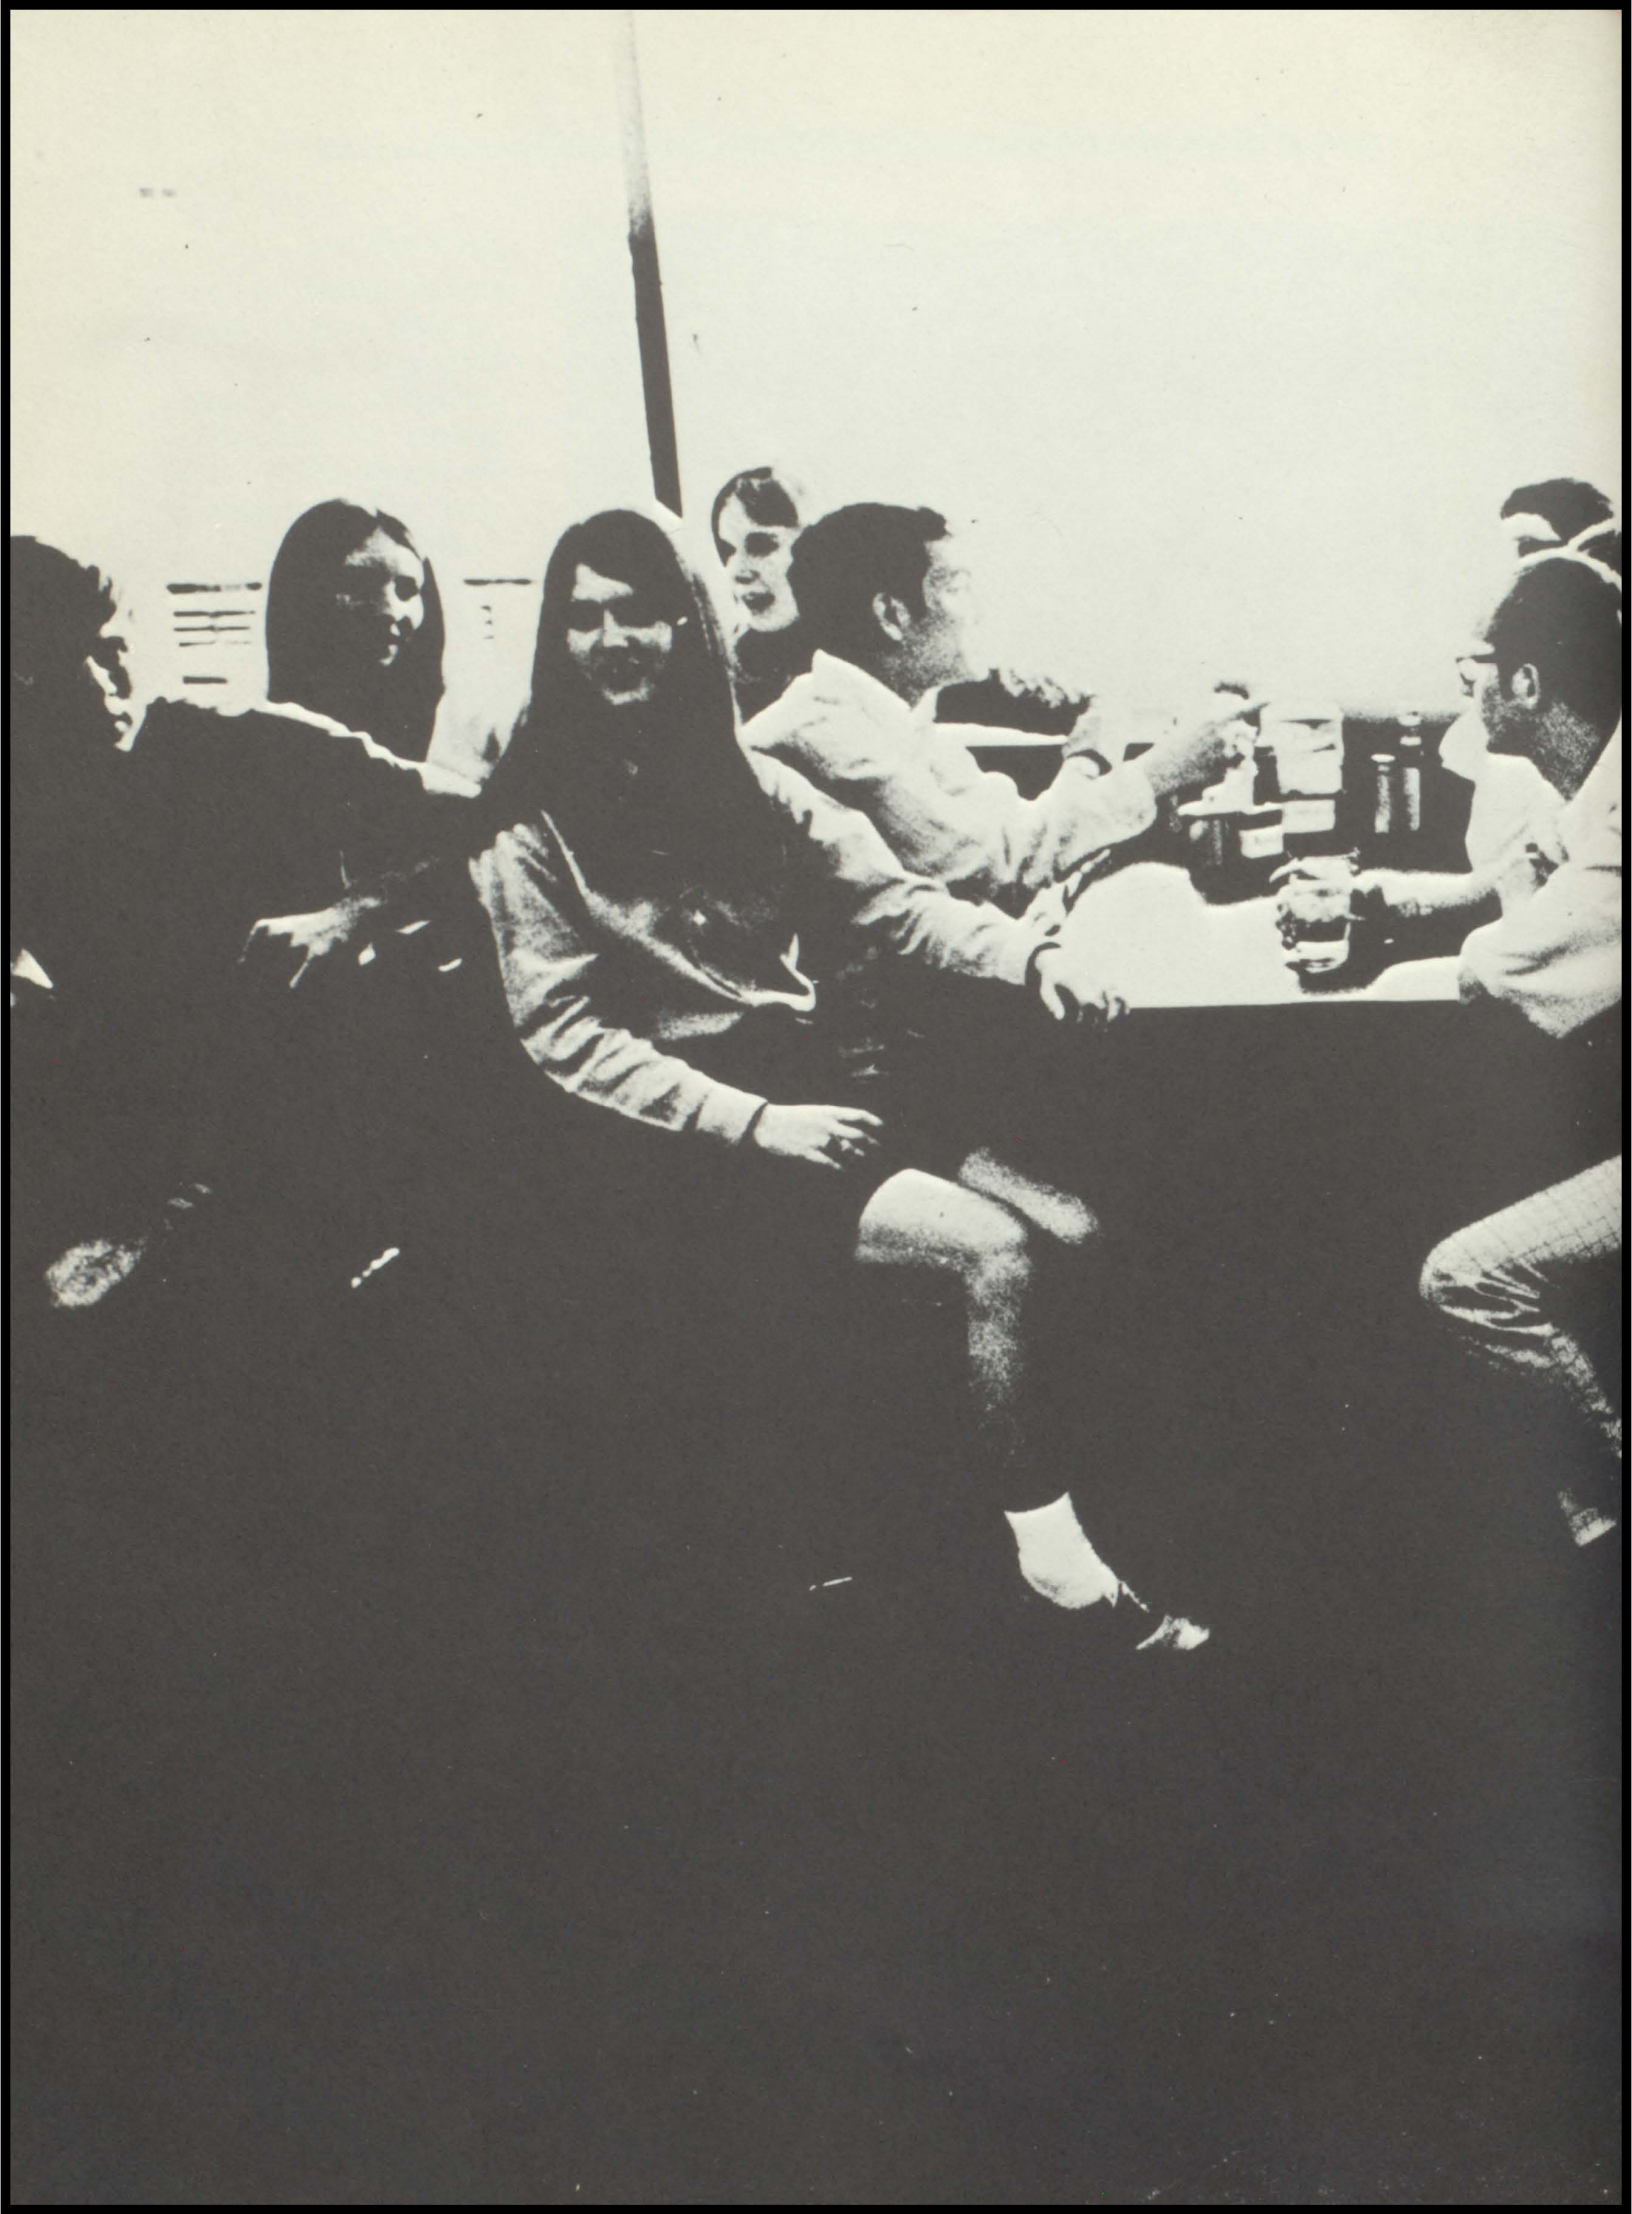

Ellen Folk

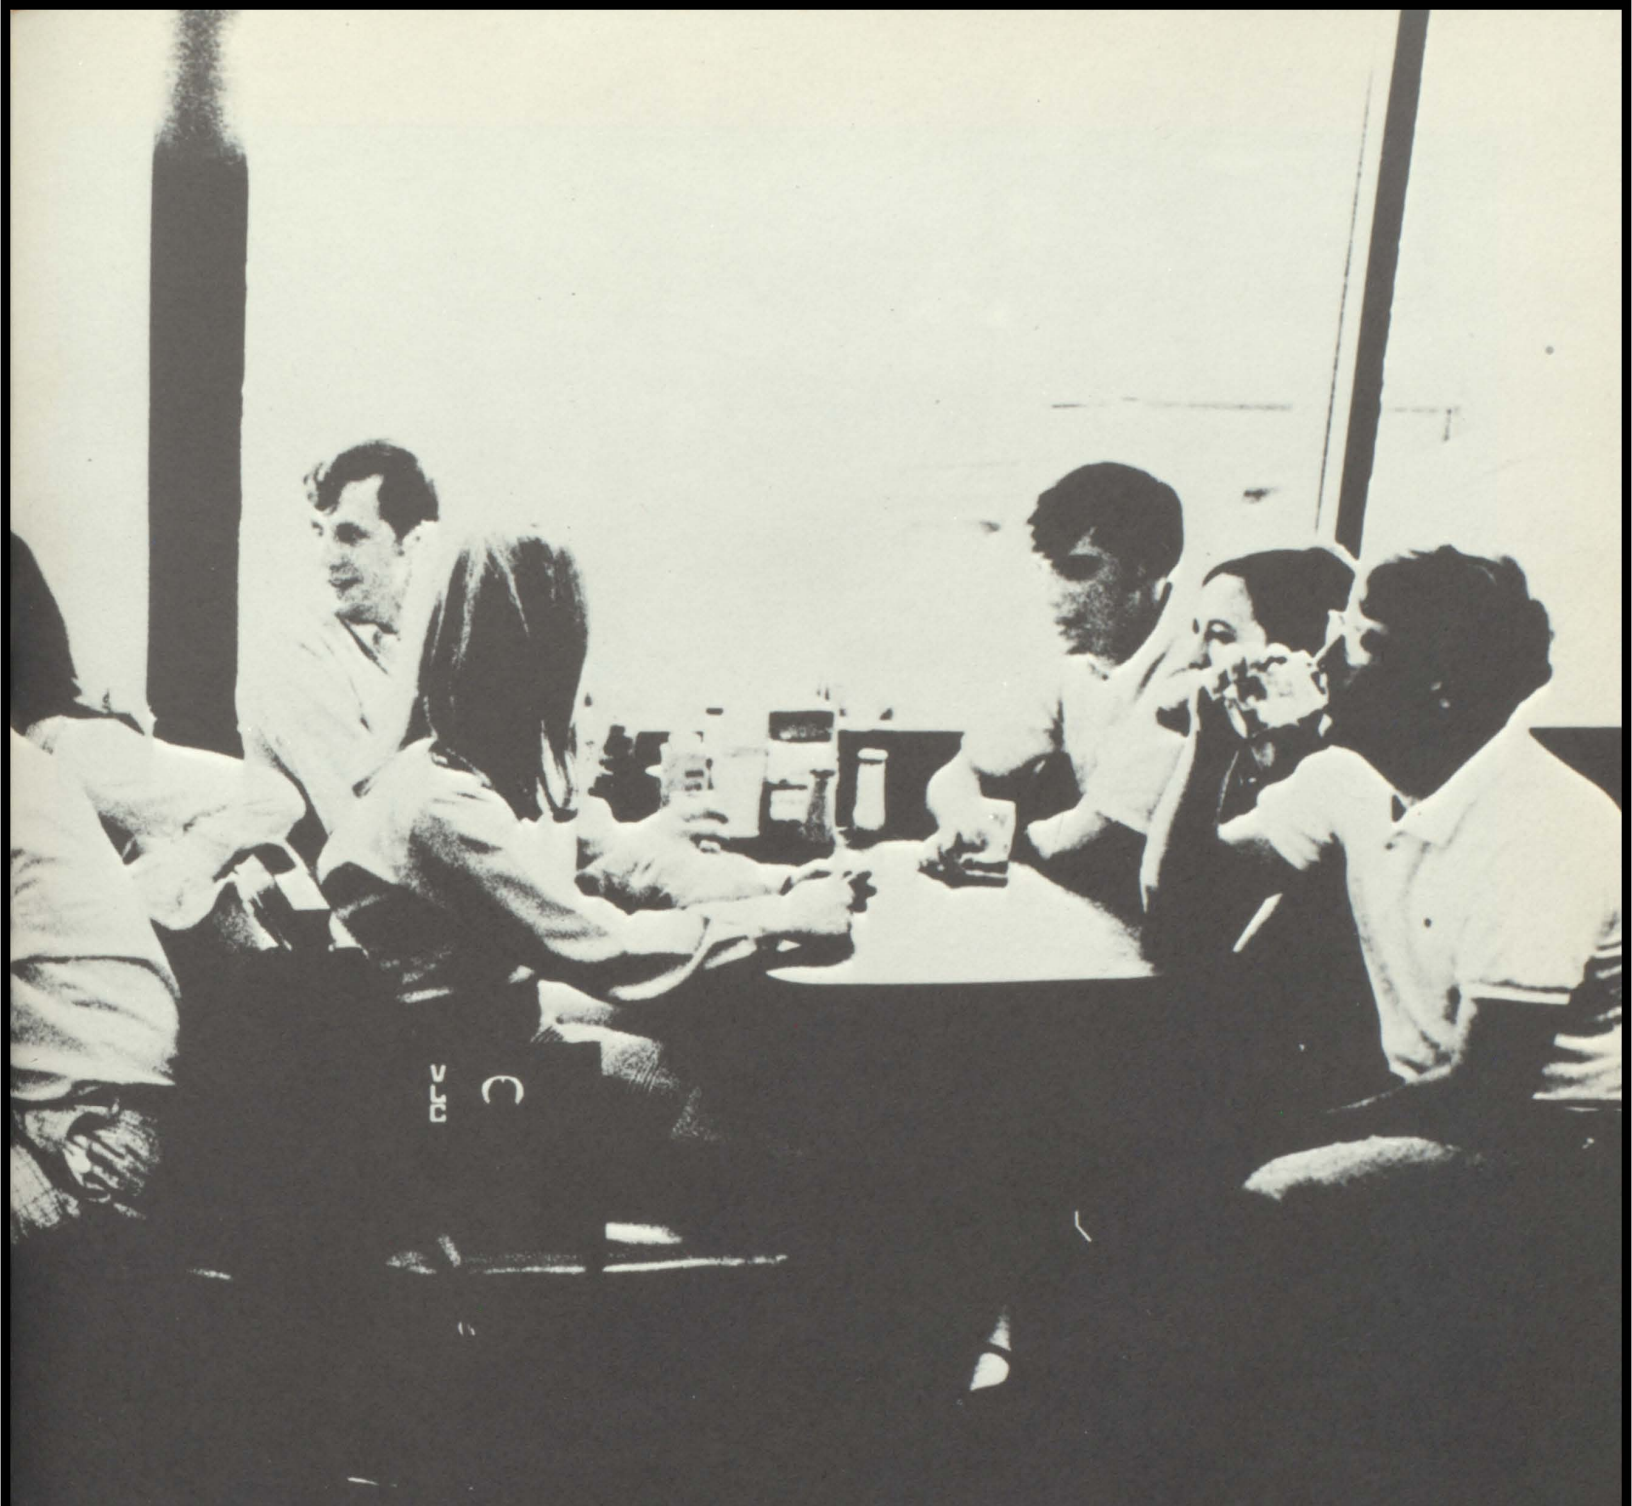

is the 1969
Band Beauty Revue Winner.
A member of the band
for nine years,
Ellen is a majorette
for Hapeville High and
the Atlanta All-Stars.
Ellen is also a member of Beta Club and Spanish Honor Society
and is secretary for the basketball and track teams.

Sidney Bryant,

congenial
and courteous,
took the throne as King of Hearts at HHS.
As a participant in football, baseball,
tennis, and track,
and as the State Boxing Champion
for two years,
Sidney has won
the hearts of
those at HHS.

LET'S ALL ROAR FOR E-4!

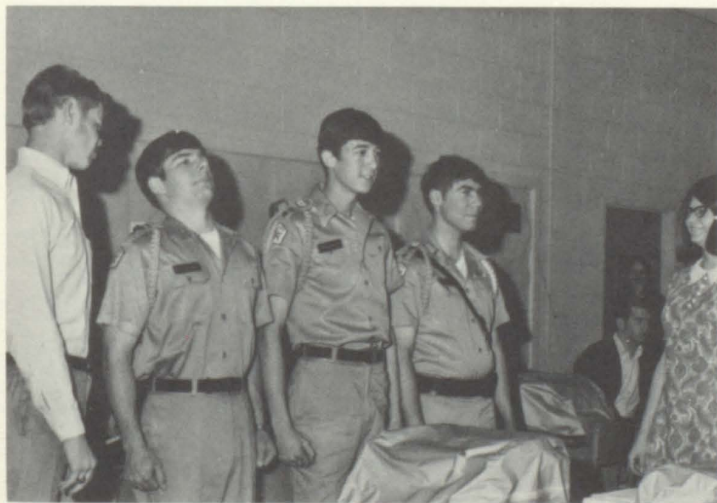

The clowns, Patsy Myers, Neal Clark, Brenda Holbrook, David Lea, and Carol Mitchell, turn to flower-power to enhance the homeroom atmosphere.

Donna Burdette, Debbie Smith, Jan Brown, and Hal Watkins make good use of time to keep up their good grades.

"Maw Taylor" and all her kids gather 'round for an important homeroom conference.

The protectors of E-4, Kenny Brockman, John Brasfield, and Mike Peavy, do their duty as Grey Smith and Virginia Waters look on admiringly.

Cheerleader, Joyce Oglesby, takes pride in three of Hapeville's finest athletes, Curtis Jordon, James Gay, and Eddie Samra.

AMERICA

When we speak of the "Capitalistic" system we generally mean that it is the system evolved from Greek and Roman civilizations in which society entrusts its economic processes to the vitality of private competitive enterprise. In other systems of government business enterprise is largely in the hands of the state or of ruling families whose wealth and status are largely inherited.

At the heart of America's capitalistic system is the belief that nearly everyone would like to live better—and that he can do so by his own efforts! Man's needs are few—but his wants are many.

At Owens-Illinois we believe in the competitive enterprise system. We produce and sell, in the competitive markets we serve, quality products of glass, paper and plastic to meet the needs and wants of man in his modern world.

E-2—The Best Yet!

E-2 homeroom, noted for its get-up-and-go, took the honor of first place for the Christmas door decoration. The Seniors of E-2, consisting of athletes, scholars, musicians, and majorettes, took part in every phase of school life. The hard work and earnest efforts of this group proved that E-2 definitely was the best.

Janet Wynn, Gail Tolbert, Shelia Foster, Gail Howell and Donna Ellington, members of FBLA, take care of business matters in E-1.

Some Seniors have the spirit—E-1 that is!

William Rivers, Loujean Johnson, Ruth Arwood and June Norris read HHS news in "The Hornet."

Seniors of E-1, lead by Patsy Chancy, cheer Tim McGinnis and Don Thompson on to victory.

Vicky Coggin leads Terry Snead, Sarah Fries, and Richard Saxon in a swinging number.

Sandy Ivey points to date that Seniors "almost" went to Maggie Vally while Loujean Johnson, Vicky Coggin, and Tim McGinnis look on in disappointment.

D-3—A Top Junior Homeroom

The Juniors of D-3 have been a very outstanding homeroom. Participation in class projects and extra-curricular activities is very characteristic of this group. The serious concern of each D-3 student for his school is what it will take for them to be "mighty Seniors."

Former Presidents of the PTA, Mrs. Agnes Beck, Mr. O. P. Haxton, Mrs. Frances Battles, Mrs. Betty Barnett, Mrs. Martha Stone, Mr. Hoyt Smith, Mr. Max Holt, Mrs. Sue Pope, are invited each year to the Founder's Day Program honoring the founders of the organization.

Hapeville High School Parent-Teachers Association

"To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community. To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child."

During the 1968-69 school year, the PTA has made contributions in some way to each school function. This worthwhile organization has proved that it has a "special" concern for every student at Hapeville High School.

During a fashion show, sponsored by the Home Economics Department, Elaine McCord displays graceful movements for the PTA.

The 1968-1969 school year
now draws to a close.
For the anxious but tearful seniors
this memorable year
ends their high school career.
For the underclassmen who will return to Hapeville a giant step has been made The '69 HILLTOP Staff presents the 28th edition of the HILLTOP to the student body
with the hope of establishing a permanent record
for the people
who have lived this year
at HHS.
