WAS THAT THE FIRST BELL . . .

or the second? Students and teachers flock to school in buses, cars, walking shoes, and two-wheelers. If you happen to arrive early with the first buses at 8:03, you can find some action in the cafeteria, courtyard, parking lots, bathrooms, or the store lobby. And then again maybe you are one of those who . . .

for students to group, gossip, and gather at their lockers. During this time everyone is expected to put up their books, go to the bathroom, socialize before class, and get to their room before the tardy bell. Impossible? No! There are lots of people here at Collins who have been doing that for five years.

MAY I TAKE YOUR ORDER . . .

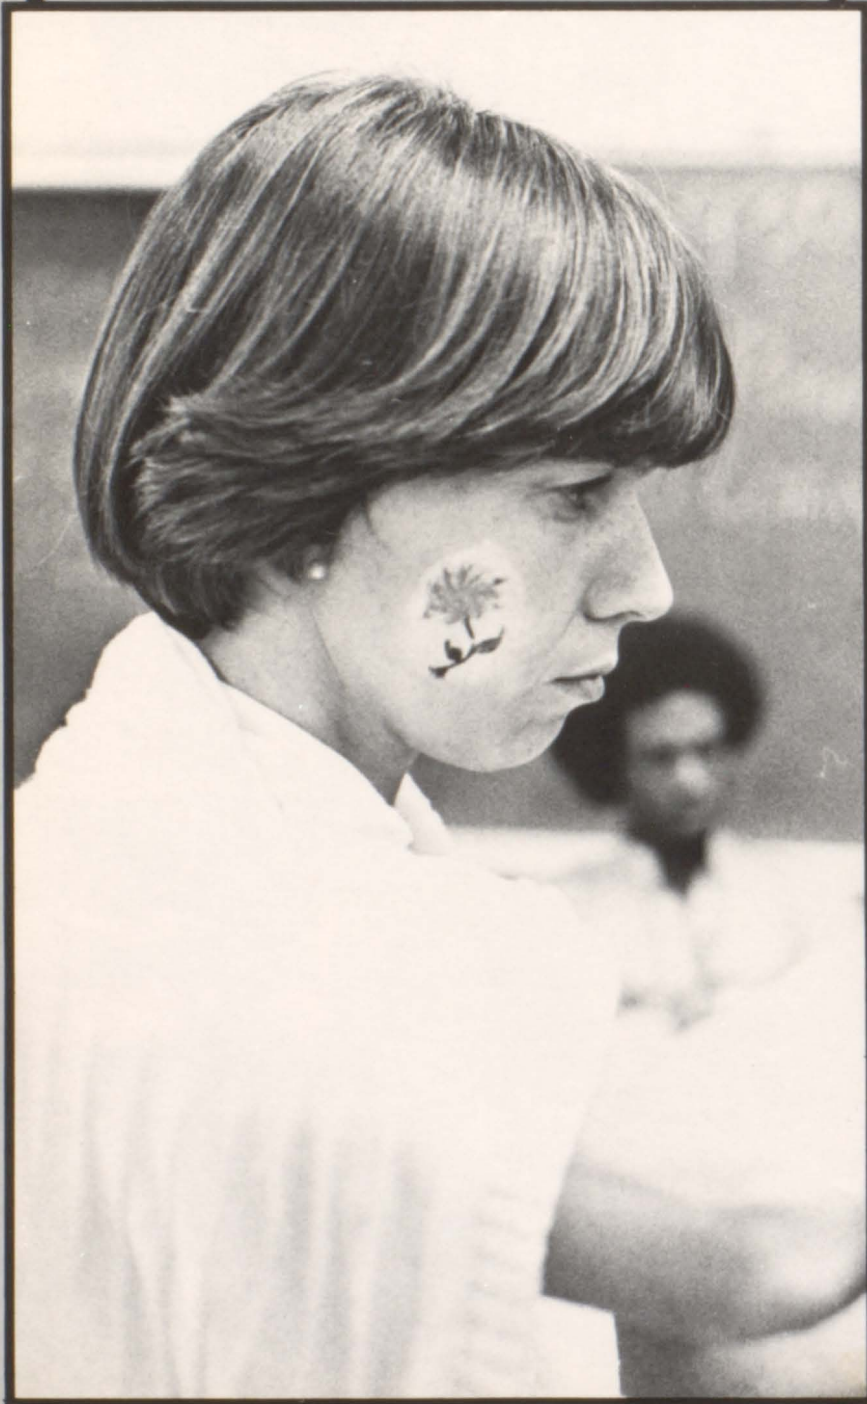

or better yet get in the line that you choose. We have 5 choices — 3 lines in the cafeteria (if you count the nutra), bringing your own, or skipping out to lunch (praying the whole time that you don't get caught). Thirty-two minutes for lunch just doesn't seem enough.

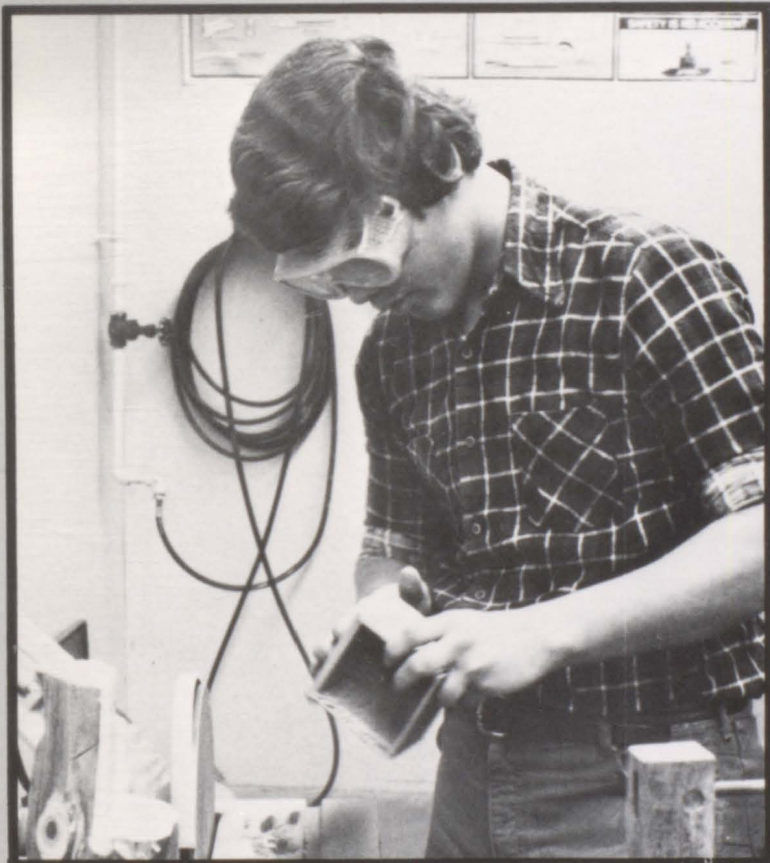

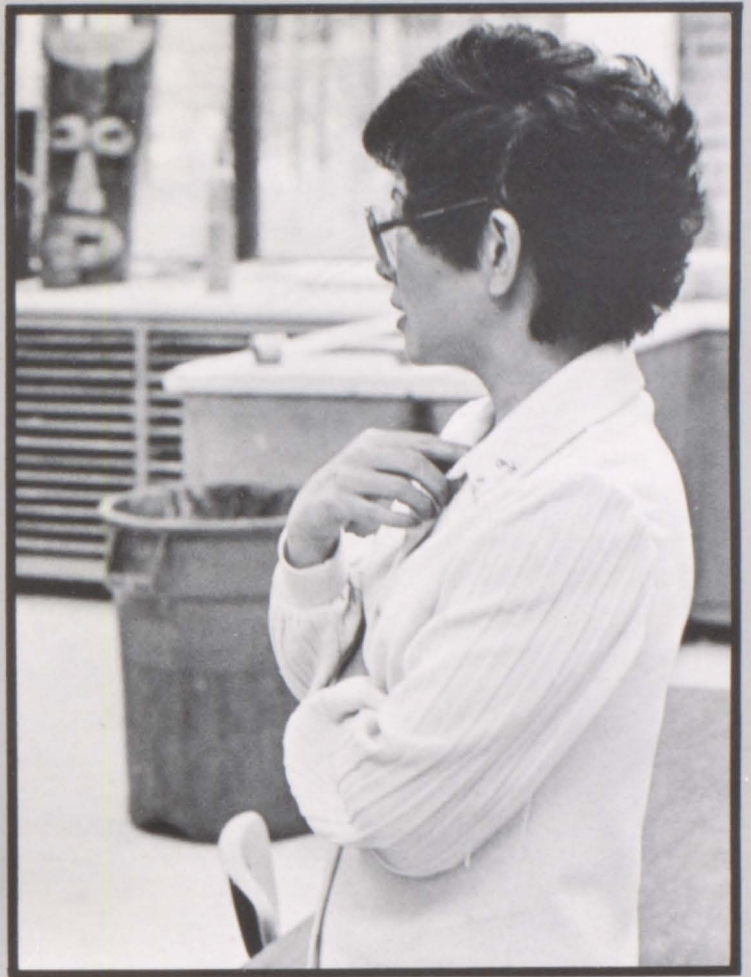

A WRECK, AN EXPLOSION . . .

or a substitute teacher can make a class very interesting. Collin's curriculum helps prepare students to become secretaries, journalists, dietitians, accountants, good parents, actors, and even disco dancers.

FAMOUS WORDS

as most people believe it does. It is surprising to know that many people leave when it is dark outside. Why stay that long? There is always practice, plays, extra help, meetings, games, and work going on.

Where can people go in school to be alone? Not the library — some classes are in there, not the courtyard — a volleyball game is volleying, not the counselors office — schedule changes are being made. It seems wherever a person wanders in school there are at least two other people around . . .

TO MAKE IT A CROWD.

Right now school is the main thing in your life because your classes, activities, and most important — your friends — are here. Start out with becoming aware of things around you at Collins. Then look onward optimistically into YOUR FUTURE.

MEET THE COUGAR

I Wish They Would Call Us
To Attention!

There are no classes yet, but already everybody can see their old friends as well as the new team. It's Meet the Cougar Night, and the band opens with their first Big "C" for the season. The band marches down the field playing their tunes while the auxiliary groups perform their flashy routines. This is their first performance for the year and they are looking forward to many upcoming half-time shows. Then Coach Ledford takes the microphone and introduces in his own special humor the three Collins football teams. After all the introductions the Varsity team runs through some plays for the avid fans. Everyone goes home with high spirits about the upcoming season and half-time shows.

REGISTRATION

Chaos is a word conveying a meaning of mass confusion. It is usually related to natural disasters such as hurricanes, floods, and registration.

At the end of summer vacation there gathers a multitude of restless students in a hot school. Then they are assigned difficult tasks of monotonous paperwork.

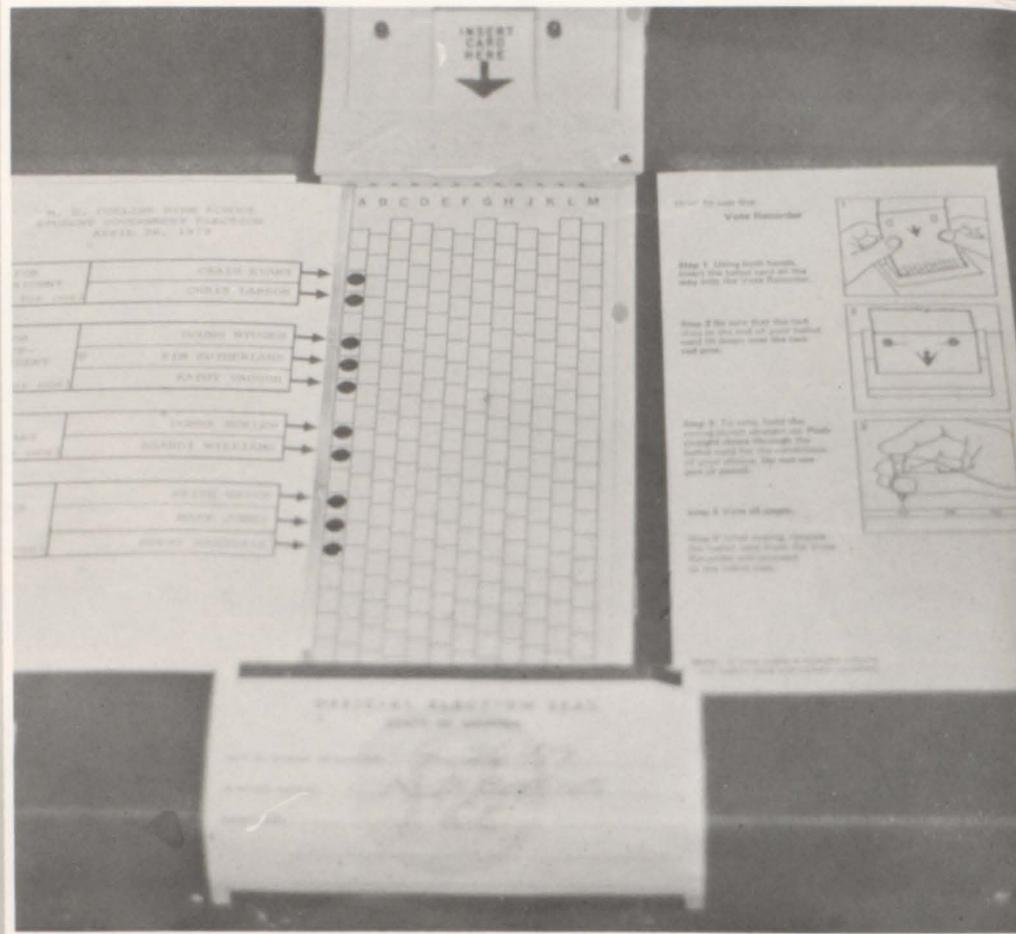

There you have it, the perfect formula for mass confusion. Now if it wasn't for the careful planning of the faculty and administration, that's exactly what we would have — chaos.

Wrong Line!
What Do You Mean This Is
The Wrong Line?

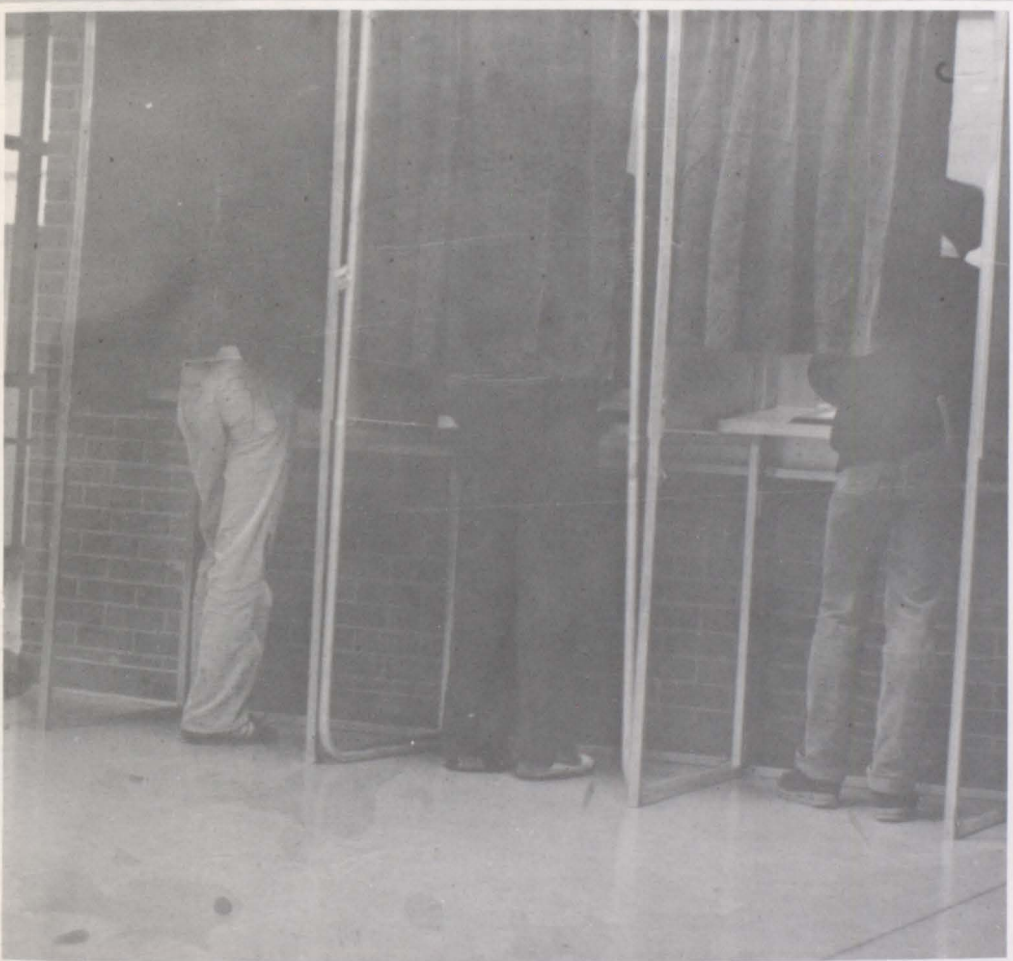

ELECTIONS

I'm Not Going To Make Any Promises, but . . .

Viewing the competition and trying to remember what he is going to say keeps the candidate jumpy during election time.

Early in the year we voted and elected our class officers and Student Council representatives. In the Spring we held another election for the Executive Council officers. This election resembles a real election in the campaigning as well as the registration and voting machines used in the balloting. The Student Council holds the election to find the best person for the job. Their performance and hard work during the year exemplifies this.

HALLOWEEN

O.K., Just Exactly What Are You?

EVENING GOOLIE

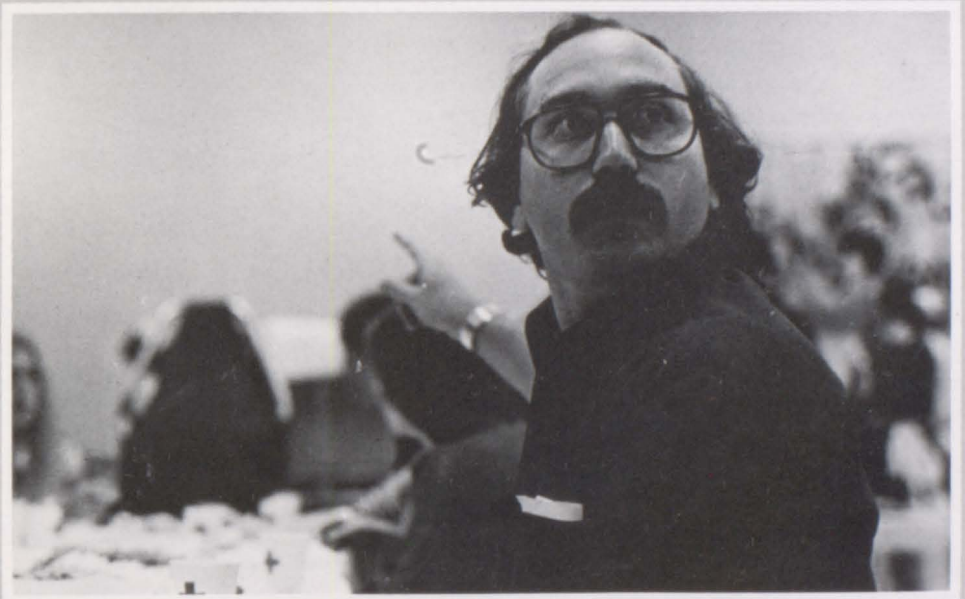

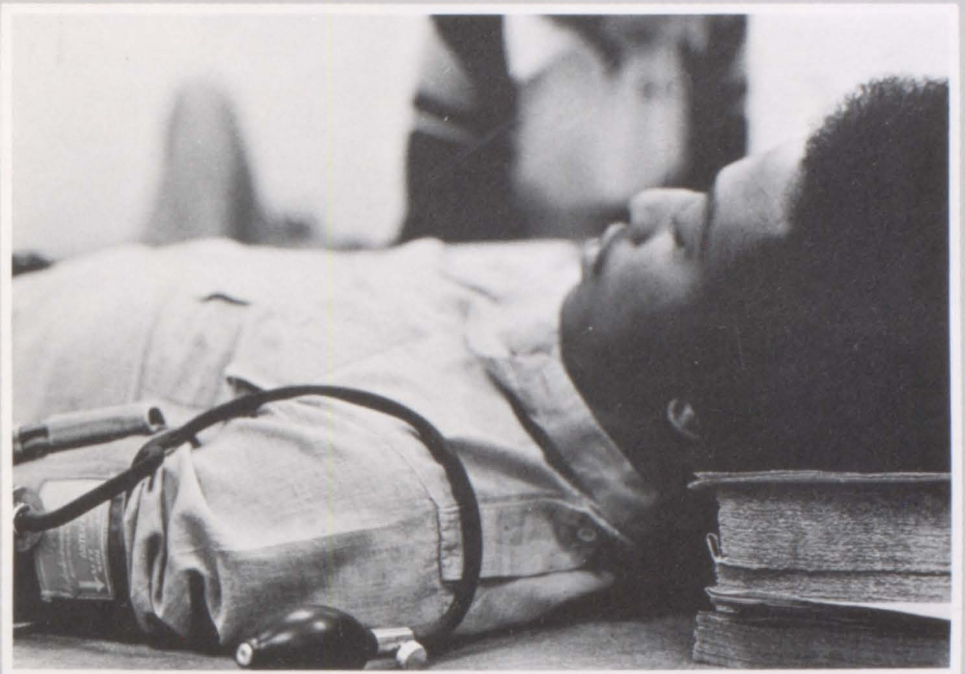

Once a year everybody is encouraged to come to school dressed up in whatever unusual costume they desire. Those people who take the trouble to dress up always seem to surpass the previous year's outfitted participants.

The wide assortment of outlandish facades tends to break the monotony of a routine school, not to mention how it helps to ease the nerves of those giving up their corpuscles. In truth, we know that Halloween is simply a chance to express the subconscious creature that is in all of us.

BLOOD DRIVE

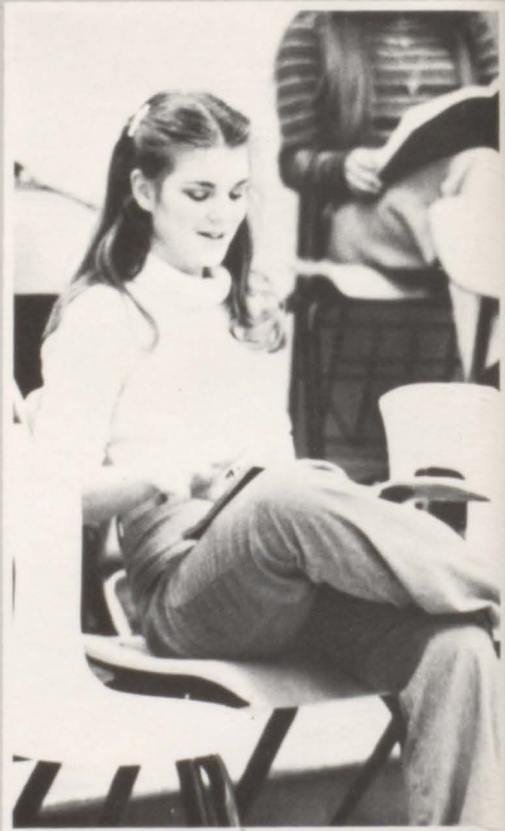

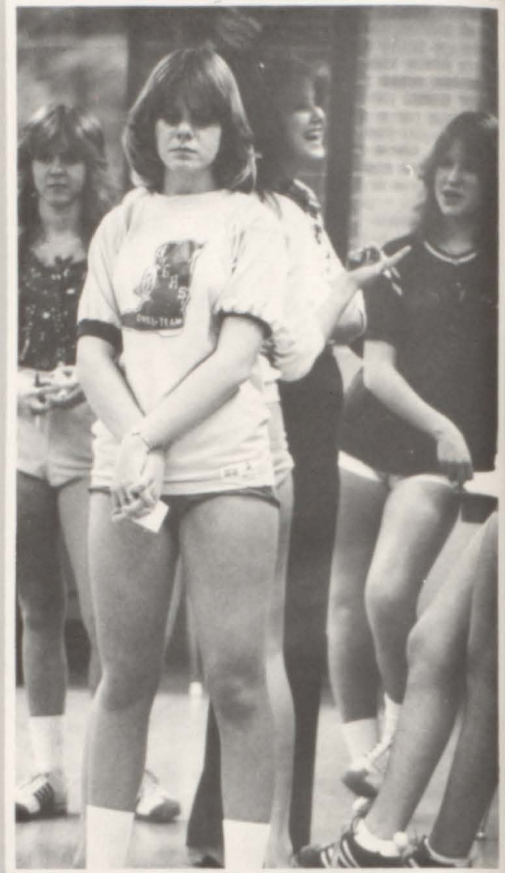

Ouch!

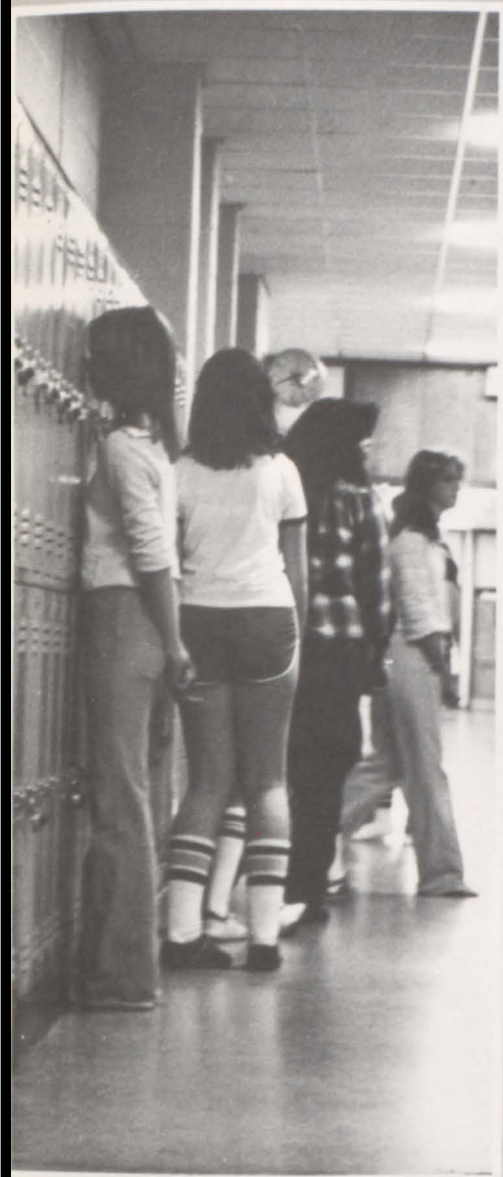

Ghosts, witches, vampires, and BLOOD — yes blood, gallons, and gallons of blood. That's right, its that time of the year again — blood drive time. A humerous twist to our fall blood drive was that it fell on Halloween. The spirit of giving to help supply the daily need even reached a dracula or two.

TRYOUTS

Uou might have stopped and noticed when the month of March rolls around, tryouts begin. You'll hear announcements on the intercom, and posters will be taped to the walls. It seems like everyone has to get into the excitement of it all, the Drill team, Flag Corps, Annual Staff, Rifle Corps, etc. Each group works hard and long during their week of practice until the final day comes. During this week you probably feel like you're going to have a breakdown and worry yourself to death. By the end of tryouts, you are almost over your near collapse and back to normal again. Just think, if you hadn't gone through the stress and strain of tryout pressures, you wouldn't appreciate the hard, tiresome, fulfilling work that goes into all the groups, teams, and staffs in our school.

RETROSPECT

1978 was certainly a year to remember. News making events happened nonstop. Here is a brief list of some of the major events taking place in that year:

- The Shah of Iran was forced to give up his rule and flee the country because of a violent revolt involving the country's massive Islamic population. Exiled Islamic leader, Ayatollah Khomeini, led the uprising from Paris and then returned to Iran as the ruler. The overthrow of the Shah affected the U.S. greatly and eliminated our oil supplies from that country.
- An estimated 900 or more Americans committed mass suicide in Guyana. The people were members of a religious cult called "The People's Temple". The cult was led by Californian, Jim Jones. Jones persuaded these Americans to move to Guyana to permit free communal living. The suicides took place after California Congressman Lee Ryan was murdered by cult members while in Guyana.
- The U.S. and Red China agreed to begin friendly diplomatic relations with each other. These actions brought Taiwanese protests against the U.S.
- The road to peace in the middle east was quickly becoming paved when President Carter held the Camp David Summit. Carter spoke with Egyptian, Anwar Sadat, and Israeli, Menachem Begin, about the possibility of peace between their countries. This would lead to an eventual treaty.
- The Nation shook with a tax revolt with the onslaught of "Proposition 13". This was a proposed tax reform which was led by California legislator, Howard Jarvis.
- Washington, D.C. was invaded by thousands of tractors when farmers decided to protest for more money by forming a "tractorcade".
- Publisher Larry Flynt was found guilty in Fulton County Court of 11 counts of pornography. Flynt was the publisher of the controversial adult magazine, "Hustler". Flynt and others protested that this was in disregard of the first, or the "Freedom of Speech" Amendment.

- California Governor Jerry Brown led a "Balance the Federal Budget" Campaign, virtually foretelling his presidential candidacy.
- Continued protest prevented the construction of several nuclear power plants. Later on, in 1979, an accident at the 3-Mile Island Reactor (Harrisburg, Pennsylvania) led to serious complications and the threat of explosion or meltdown.
- In the Fifth Congressional District Newt Gingrich defeated Virginia Shapard. The campaigns of both were extensive but Gingrich clenched it by a wide margin.
- A NASA satellite cruised closely past the planet Jupiter taking photographs which revealed a yet unknown orbital ring and showed close-ups of Jupiter's many moons.
- The construction of the $300,000,000 midfield terminal at Hartsfield International Airport in Atlanta was begun. This ultra-modern terminal is primarily contained underground with loading and boarding gates for almost 150 Jumbo Aircraft. When completed, Hartsfield will surpass Chicago's O'Hare as the world's busiest airport.
- Some lines of MARTA's advanced subway system are nearing completion. When construction is completed, it will be one of the most modern and efficient rapid transit systems in the world.
- Last, on a more heavenly note, the Papacy of the Roman Catholic Church was changed when Pope Paul VI died and was replaced by a cardinal named Albino Luciani. It was a terrible shock when only 34 days after his election, Pope John Paul I died suddenly. Once again the cardinals were called back to the Vatican, this time selecting Cardinal Woflyta of Poland as Pope. The Papal name which he chose was Pope John Paul II.

While worldly happenings were very important to you, things like music, sports, television, and books seemed more important. This was probably because the aforementioned things more closely touched your life. So here, as best as briefly possible is a short review of the year in music, sports, books, television.

MUSIC

If you were like most students, much of your free time was spent listening to music. The best way to remind you of the tunes you were listening to is to list the year-end album charts from billboard magazine.

The top 100 in order are as follows:

In 1978, the Music World was extremely active. Notable musical events were happening constantly. "Saturday Night Fever" made a record breaking stay at number one on the album charts but was finally toppled from its position by Gerry Rafferty's "City to City." Atlanta Paul Davis broke records by staying in the top 40 singles chart for 28 weeks with his hit "I Go Crazy". Comedians Dan Arroyd and John Belushi took on their musical alter egos and became Elwood and Joliet Jake Blues, the Blues Brothers. Surprisingly, their album "Briefcase Full of Blues" climbed rapidly on the charts. Several famous artists including the Bee-Gee's performed a charity concert for UNICEF.

RETROSPECT

Many new artists hit the scene during the year. Toto, Nicolette Larson, Dire Straits, The Police, The Fabulous Poodles, Livingston Taylor, Ian Matthews, The Boomtown Rats, Trillion, Tycoon, and Devo made up part of the long list of rookie talent. Most likely, this year marked the beginning of some long music careers. On the local music scene things were happening just as fast as they were nationally. In 1978, Atlanta was fast on its way to becoming the music capital of the world. Numerous Georgia-based bands were gaining national fame. The Atlanta Rhythm Section, Stillwater, The Dixie Dregs, The Allman Bros. Band, Sea Level, Paul Davis, Kansas, Wet Willie, Nigel Olson, and Alicia Bridges were the big names playing out of Atlanta. Two more places were opened where Atlantans could hear the best in live music — Cooley's "Capri" in Buckhead, and the "Agora" located right across from the Fox.

On a more solemn note, death claimed three musicians of notareity. Member of the Sex Pistols, Sid Vicious died of a heroin overdose shortly after being arrested for the murder of his girlfriend. Keith Moon, long-time drummer for the "Super Group" The Who, met an untimely death also due to drugs. Surely the most famous musician to die this year was Bing Crosby. The old crooner of "White Christmas" fame died at his California home.

SPORTS

• AUTO RACING — The 1978 Grand

Prix racing season had both triumph and tragedy. Driver Mario Andretti became the first American to clench the world driving championship. The season was marred by the death of driver Ronnie Peterson in the Italian Grand Prix. On the home racing front, Cale Yarborough took his third NASCAR title and Al Unser won the Indianapolis 500 for the third time.

• BASEBALL — The Year in Baseball was very similar to the previous one. The New York Yankees were the world champions defeating Los Angeles in six World Series Games. The most publicized player of the year was Pete Rose making news almost regularly. Rose made his 3,000th hit, signed a 3.2 million dollar contract with the Phils, and broke records hitting 44 games straight. Ironically his hitting streak was stopped by Atlanta pitcher Gene Garber, at Fulton County Municipal Stadium.

• BASKETBALL — The NBA championship was won by the Washington Bullets. Washington center Elvin Hayes led the Bullets to victory as they defeated the powerful Portland Trailblazers. As far as other stars, Walter Davis of Phoenix was chosen rookie of the year and San Antonio's George Gervin led the league scoring an average of 27.2 per game. Veteran Celtic, John Havelcik, retired from the league having scored a career 26,395 points.

• BOXING — As usual the boxing world was dominated by the power house Muhammad Ali. Earlier in the year, 36-year-old Ali was beaten by a young Leon Spinks, but promised to win the world heavy-weight belt for the third time. Ali's promises were fulfilled when he battered Spinks in a championship rematch. Other boxing action saw Mike Rossman winning the WBA light-heavyweight title and Roberto Duran capturing the world lightweight crown.

• FOOTBALL — Football's biggest game pitted the Pittsburgh Steelers against the Dallas Cowboys. Pittsburgh Quarterback Terry Bradshaw shone brightly in the Super Bowl carrying his team to a 35-3 victory. The NFL's honors of leading rusher and rookie of the year were both held by Houston's Earl Cambell. On the local football scene, a much improved Steve Bartkowski and Tim Mazzetti, a walk-on kicker, led the Atlanta Falcons to the playoffs.

• GOLF — Golf's multitude of tournaments were won by a wide array of pro-golfers. The biggest U.S. Tournament, the Masters, was won for a third time by Gary Player. Andy North claimed the U.S. Open while its foreign counterpart, the British Open was seized by perennial champion Jack Nicklaus. In women's golf, Nancy Lopez grasped nine tournaments and Hollis Stacy took the Illustrious U.S. Open. Again the great profitability of golf was shown when Watson won $362,429 and Lopez won $189,814.

• HOCKEY — As in years past, the Montreal Canadiens thoroughly dominated the NHL. The Canadiens were zipped on to the Stanley Cup by Guy Lafleur. Lafleur scored an impressive 60 goals and 72 assists. The only team that put up reasonable resistance was Boston, winning two games in the NHL finals. Guy Lafleur was both leading scorer and MVP for the league.

• HORSE RACING — The year in horse racing was controlled by two horses, Affirmed and Alydar. The two raced closely several times, but Affirmed invariably came out on top. The Triple Crown was captured by Affirmed after three very exciting races. Seattle Slew, 1977's Triple Crown winner, came back to life and beat Affirmed by three lengths in their first meeting.

• SOCCER — The world's most popular sport again provided a season of excitement. When the World Cup game rolled around, Argentina and Holland were left to battle for worldwide soccer supremacy. When the dust had cleared, Argentina had won 3-1. Although soccer is gaining popularity quickly across the U.S., no American team got past zonal competition. The New York Cosmos proved to be the best in domestic soccer beating Tampa Bay 3-1 in the Soccer Bowl.

• TENNIS — Men's Professional tennis was split between tennis greats Bjorn Borg and Jimmy Connors. At Wimbledon, Borg flew past Connors three easy sets to win. A mirror image of Wimbledon occurred for Connors when he defeated Borg three equally easy sets in the U.S. Open. Martina Navratukiva beat Chris Evert in the U.S. Open, her first major title. The public was surprised by two young female players 16-year-old Pam Shriver and 15 year-old Tracy Austin when they continued to beat many veterans.

• TRACK AND FIELD — The year in track & field proved to be one of new records. Possibly the most incredible athlete was a 26-year-old Kenyan, Henry Rono. Rono set four long distance records within 81 days. Russian Vladimir Yashchenko jumped an outdoor record 7'8". Mike Tully, a UCLA senior, set both indoor and outdoor records in the pole vault with an outdoor vault of 18'8 3/4".

TELEVISION

There is no doubt that in 1978 you spent some time watching the "Tube". The Networks gave us their share of winners and losers. A new show called "Mork and Mindy" proved to be one of the bright spots of the season. The show concerned the life of an alien from the planet "Ork" while he is on Earth. The show, starring Robin Williams as Mork, was brilliantly funny.

Another show which had a mass audience was "Saturday Night Live." Although it was not a new show, this comedy was extremely popular. The show was loaded with biting satirical humor which was very often controversial. Who can forget some of the characters SNL gave us. Judy Miller, Rosanna Rosannadanna, Samurai Tailor, Leonaro Pith Garnell, Irving Maimway, Ex-Police, Mr. Mike, Mr.

Bill, Father Guido, Sarducci, The Blues Brothers, Coneheads, The Loud Family, and The Little Veg Girl were just a few of the immortal characters created by the not-ready-for-prime-time players.

Here is a sample of some other shows being watched in 78:

HOMECOMING

Well, At Least
Your Corsage Isn't
Drying Out.

A hazy fog laid itself low over a rainy Garwood Stadium; it was Homecoming Night, and spirits were beginning to dampen. The game was postponed due to the weather, but miraculously the deluge passed on before everyone's good mood was doused beyond repair.

Everything immediately began to look up when halftime arrived with its pomp and ceremony. The band formed a flag-walled corridor through which the parade of beauties proceeded. After the Homecoming Court was announced, the New Queen was revealed and crowned by reigning queen, Theresa Bauer. Now, turn the page, and lift the hazy fog of time from your memory.

BYE BYE BIRDIE

It's opening night and Bye Bye Birdie, the largest of only two musicals ever put on at M.D. Collins, is being held in the gym. Everyone is nervous and excited. As the play begins and progresses, many students reveal their long hidden talents of acting, singing, and dancing. Ms. Brice took virtually unknown students "out of the halls" and created stars. Many of the performers never knew they had a singing voice until practice began. Much effort went into this Broadway type production, and the fantastic performance of the cast combined with the hard, diligent work of the director and the crew made it an overwhelming success. We can't forget the work of Mr. Wucher, the orchestra conductor, Mrs. Rovin, the chorus director, Steve Brodsky, the choreographer and also Mike Anthony for his work with the lights. After all the spotlights dim and finally flicker into darkness, you might wonder if it's really worth the sacrifice that has to be made, the many hours spent studying lines, those numerous after-school rehearsals, the strive for perfection. Then your mind recalls the laughing, smiling faces of the thrilled audience and the vigorous applause given at the finale, and you don't have to wonder any more.

PROM

After This Dance,
Let's Get Some Punch And Macaroni Salad.

As the day ended in Atlanta, the action had just begun. The world renowned Fox Theatre was to be the site of Collins' big social event. Despite rumors of no Jr.-Sr., a small group of dedicated Juniors put on a commendable prom. The majestic walls of the Egyptian Ballroom rocked as formally attired couples ate, danced, and socialized the night away. Some highlights of the evening were the Senior promenade and the announcement of the Senior Superlatives. Combined with extraordinary meals at the city's best restaurants, the evening proved to be an unforgettable evening.

PROM

I'm Going To Miss You!

Unlike years past, seniors had to stay right up until the end. So, instead of the usual Senior Walkout, these seniors did something new.

Although they couldn't actually leave the building, the same spirit as always was evident. The "Ten years from now . . ." were read, the senior homeroom teachers were given their gifts, but the biggest attraction was the senior slide show. Pictures of seniors were shown for the enjoyment of all, while music fitting the mood permeated the gym. After the traditional goodbyes, the seniors started the new tradition of walking back to third period.

BACCALAUREATE

Pilgrim's Feet?

In preparing for graduation, the seniors attend their Baccalaureate service on the preceding Sunday at Bethany Presbyterian Church. A world renowned speaker, Dr. Bill Hogue, brought the message this Sunday on the topic of the future and what it can hold. This august occasion was followed by a reception, provided by the PTSA, where everyone met and mingled.

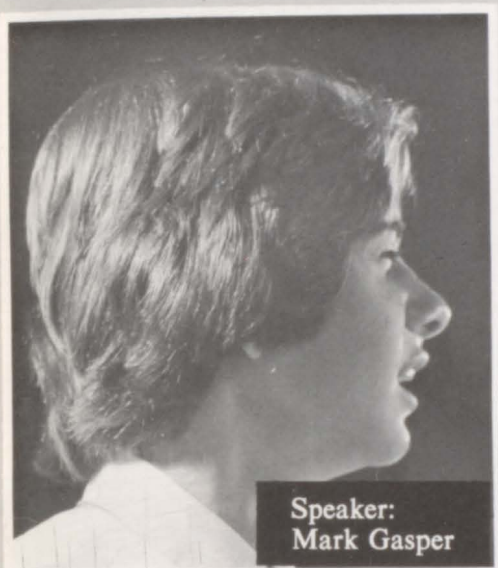

GRADUATION

This Is The End Of A Lot Of Hard Work!

Well, this is it, graduation. The end of twelve years' hard work is finally here and it is time to leave. It was a long, hard climb, wasn't it? It seems that just yesterday you first walked the halls of M.D. Collins, but now you will no longer tread those floors. No more homework, school lunches, deadlines, term papers, or exams, at least until you start college. It's kind of sad.

But the future holds a lot in store for all of us. We can look ahead with optimism. So when you grab that diploma and lovingly fondle it, your sadness is greatly outweighed by infinite happiness.

Participation is the state of being related to the whole. Who participates at Collins? and then Why? Athletes are the most obvious, but not the only ones. Participants are the band members, auxiliary groups, cheerleaders, water boys, managers, coaches, and yes the big one- THE FANS. Everyone can become involved and most do. People get actively involved at sporting events, during pep rallies, while listening to concerts, in the classrooms, and even during lunch in the courtyard. We all have something to express; we all do what we can do best. Why? Why should everyone try to have something in common? It is called school spirit. Collins showed its school spirit the way fans reacted to the sweet Lakeshore victory. Also the way all teams put forth great efforts. We all like the feeling of accomplishment; whether it is winning a game, passing a test, or finally building the pyramid at the pep rally. At any rate we all like to . . .

For the first time in four years the Cougars finished with a losing season. Even though the season didn't go as well as everyone had hoped, it did prove to be one full of interest. Without a doubt the most enlightning part of the season was the long awaited victory over Lakeshore. Since the birth of M.D. Collins the Lancers have always been the victors of gridiron competition.

But this year brought an end to a decade of Lakeshore supremacy and brought elation to the fans of Collins. The Cougars faced a tough schedule throughout the year and every game proved to be an exciting one. The team played hard but they seemed to give up the "big play" that meant the difference between defeat and victory. Still we are proud of the M.D. Collins' Cougars!

Sometimes it is hard to realize the importance of a good J.V. team. This year's kept up with the winning ways of past J.V. teams by going 5-2. There were two new faces added this year to the J.V. coaching staff. They were Coach Langford and Coach Vaughn. The hard aggressive work of the coaches and players throughout the season made this year's team a success. Maybe this is a preview of upcoming varsity seasons!

8TH GRADE 8TH GRADE 8TH GRADE

When people usually think of eight grade football there comes to mind a scene of small boys running around chaotically in old varsity and b-team uniforms. But if one took the time to attend one of the sub-freshman games they saw that the picture in their mind was totally wrong. The eighth grade finished with a great season; they were 4-0-2. The eighth grade team exhibited much maturity and poise throughout the year. Maybe this record indicates something of the varsity team in upcoming years.

This year the term "Cross country" really meant cross country. This season the course was not the usual jog around the football field. Instead, the racers jogged around the fields, made an exit through the gate, and crossed Burdette Road quickly. From this point it was a constant, driving run through the woods with a scenic view of Chinchilla Lakes. The course entails many hills and rugged terrain. Finally, it brought the runners back to the school for a quick sprint to the finish line.

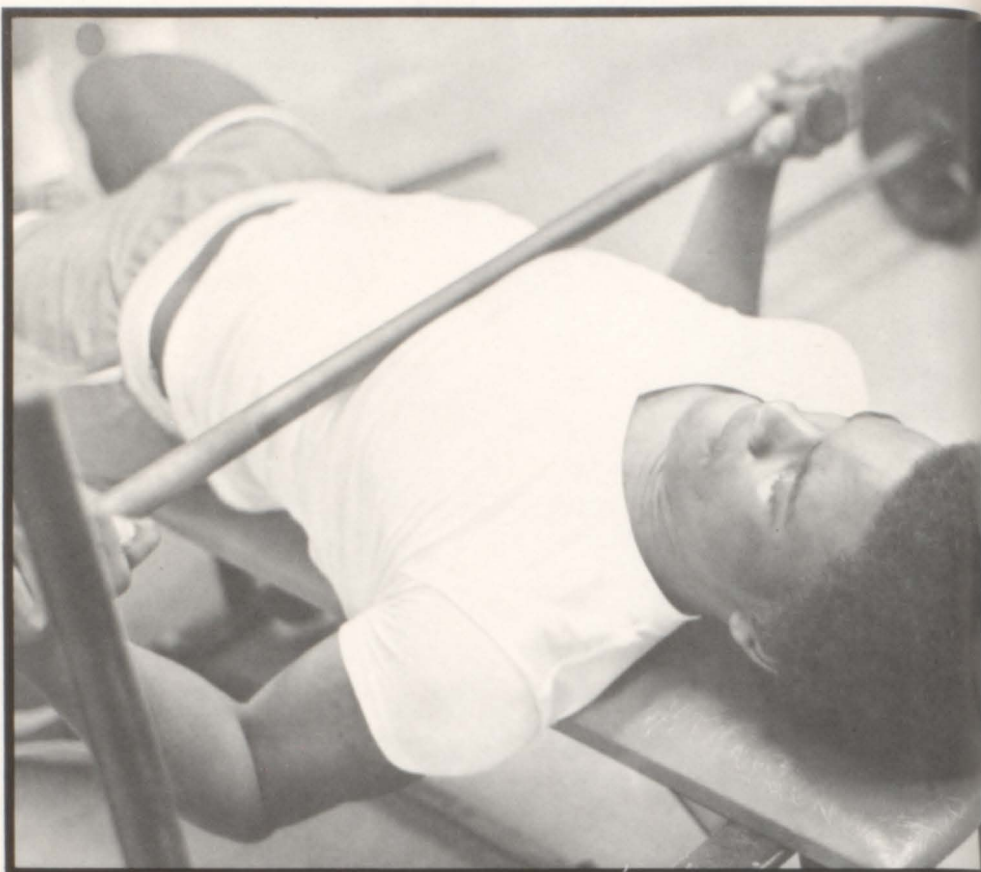

Mark Gasper, who was one of the top runners, set a new course record. Many of the runners were varsity basketball players getting in shape for the upcoming season. Cross country is a sport that requires stamina and much self discipline. These guys and girl should be commended for their participation.

In any sport from football to track an athlete is better prepared and less susceptible to injury if he is stronger than his opponent. Weight training is a major part of off season training which pays off dearly when the regular season rolls around. Not only is there a physical strongness in the athlete, there is a mental toughness when he knows that he is better prepared than the guy he is up against.

The wrestling team was a team stricken with injury and lack of experience. The team had only four seniors with the experience of previous years. Along with inexperience came the usual injuries that go along with most tough sports.

*Ronnie Hood (who placed third in state last year) at the South Metro, Fulton County, and Area Tournaments placed 1st, 2nd, and 3rd respectively — scoring most of the team points.

As for the eighth grade several members of the squad paced in various tournaments in the area. This could be a bright spot in the future of Collins wrestling.

Another sport was added to the many sports that are held at Collins. The sport was Volleyball. Being the premier season for this group of girls, they did remarkably well on the court. With a .500 season under their belt and eight girls returning for next season, they should post an even better record next year.

Again this year the varsity basketball team was plagued with a disease called "lack of height." To make up for the height the Cougars had to out hustle their opponents, but sometimes there is no stopping those big ole boys. Probably the most impressive game was against Palmetto at the Omni. At half time the Cougars were down by 26 points, yet when the buzzer sounded we were ahead by one point. This year's team was probably one of the quickest basketball teams in the school's history. The boys maintained their team spirit even when they found themselves behind. They made up for their lack of experience in the middle with skilled shooting from the outside and with greatly executed drivers to the hoop. Next year will be a fairly young team, but if they play with half the hustle of this year's team — they'll be even better.

The Girls' Varsity Basketball team did exceptionally well this season. They had a 9 game winning streak to make their record 15-6. The team had some new faces — one being Coach Hanson. The team found themselves in the Region tournaments after a sweet victory over Troup County. But during the next game the breaks (fast breaks?) just did not happen, and the Lady Cougars found themselves the defeated when the buzzer sounded. Even though it was a tough game to lose, the team felt they had accomplished something for making it to the Region tournaments. For the Juniors and Sophomores, there is always — Next Year!

The J.V. basketball team didn't have a too impressive record this season; but there is one thing that you have to understand — almost all of the better players on the J.V. were pulled up to play on the varsity squad. The team maintained an eager attitude throughout the season. They always walked onto the court with their heads up, and gave it all they had. It is quite hard to keep going when the chips are down, but these young men should be commended for their poise and sportsmanship.

As the eighth grade basketball season ended, Coach Fussell had led his team to another winning season. In fact, it was the best season ever posted by an eighth grade basketball team in the history of the school. They were 12 and 2.

By attending one of their games, you could tell that this team was an exceptionally talented one. They were well disciplined and well coached.

The team varied quite a lot in size; the variation went from Wade Padgett, a giant, to Boom Boom, a midget.

Could these players possibly be the state championship team of 1983?

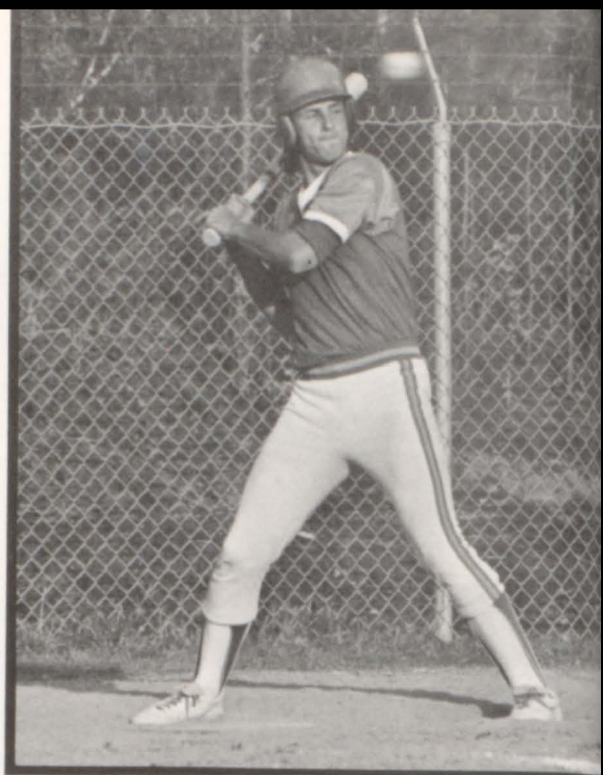

When you see the scores of a JV.. girls' game, you would think that there was no excitement in their games. but you are wrong. Their games were usually very defensive, that is why the scores were not very high. The last game was symbolic of some of the action that took place during the course of the season. It was a hard fought game, but at half time we were behind. As the final seconds ticked off the clock we had won. Coming from behind to win a game shows the kind of action at a girls game.

As the baseball season ended the team found themselves on the short end of the stick. Their overall record was 8 and 14. Donald Boone was the slugger of the team with a batting average of .414. On the defensive side Greg Beshers's pitching, won 4 games and lost 3 as well as a fielding average of .945; Beshers has another year. The team will only graduate five people off the squad. Maybe this is a bright spot in the future of Collins baseball.

Track has never been a very popular sport here at Collins, yet every year there is a group of dedicated men and women who take their time to compete in this grueling and exciting sport. The track team as a whole didn't show too well against area teams, yet did manage to qualify one person, David Rogers, for state in the hurdles.

The Eighth grade team was a different story. This group of young men went to Lakeshore for the Tri-City Relays; they returned with a first place trophy winning by more than 50 points. They also placed second in the Westminster relays which is "the" relay in the State of Georgia. If these boys will stick together for years to come, maybe track will become a talked-about sport at Collins.

Hey, where has soccer gone? Surprise! It was moved to spring this year. This warmer weather was supposed to help the players and draw more fans. Well two out of three ain't bad. There were more fans this year.

The Cougars fell victim although they did have good showings in their 3-1 victory over arch-rival Woodward, and in their disappointing 0-1 loss to last years state champions St. Pius.

Except for the few seniors on the squad there is always next year.

The Varsity Cheerleaders seem to be girls that spend a lot.

They spend hours making the banners that the football players tear-up in a matter of seconds; they spend an even greater amount of time practicing; finally, they spend their own money for candy and for supplies to make name tags.

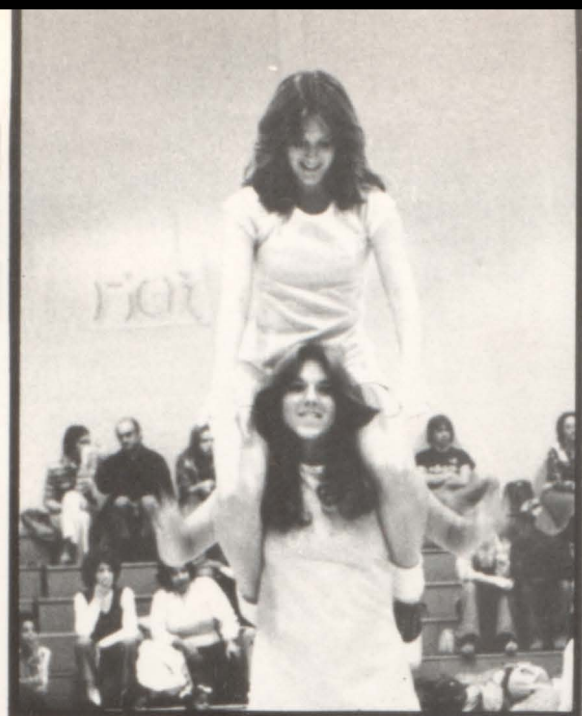

After all of these expenditures they spend many nights doing what they do best — CHEERING.

Take a whole new look

Hiking up the Appalachian Trail, you just might see some familiar faces. To your surprise the M.D. Collins faculty's interests do go beyond the classroom. Both Mr. Brigman and Miss Brice enjoy the scenery of the wild outdoors. Mrs. Melear spends her spare time in the brush looking for exotic cock-a-toos. The local expert on plants here at M.D. Collins is Mrs. Squyres.

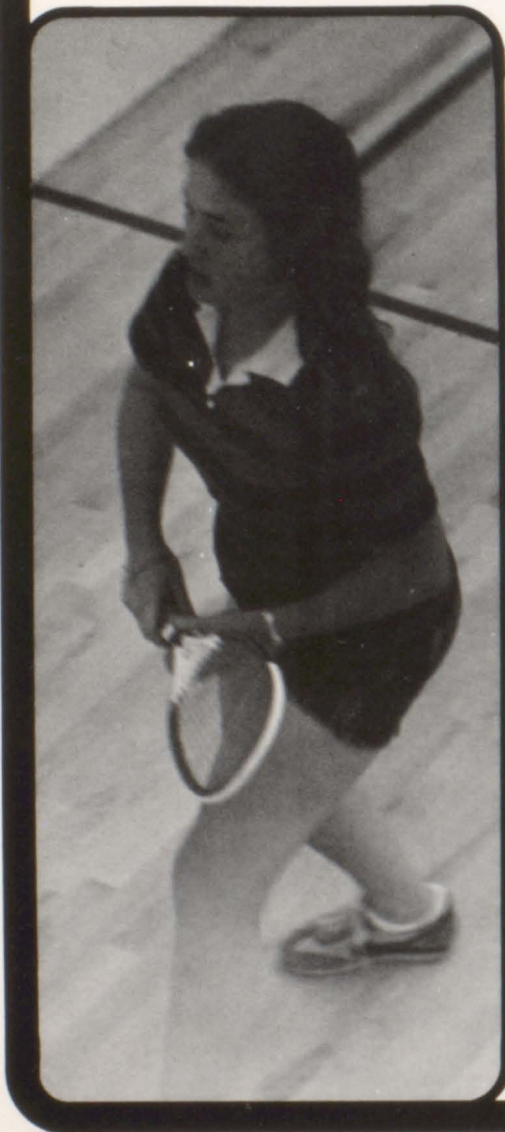

What is the favorite pastime that we all have in common? The All-American hobby of eating! It does have its advantages; right Mrs. Paul?

How many people do you know who can hop on a plane and just take off on a skiing trip? Mrs. Gwin and Mrs. Whitworth are two of them. Both of them ski and both are married to husbands who work for the airlines. They enjoy the challenge of the mountain tops out west.

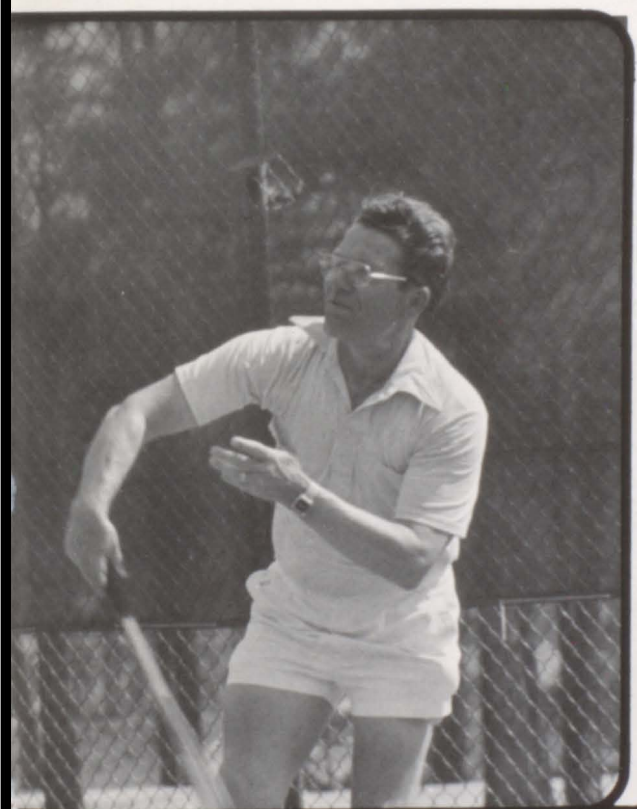

Hey, what's your racket? Well for some teachers here at Collins it involves a racket. Many afternoons you can go out to the tennis courts and see such teachers as Mr. Nichols, Coach Hanson, Mr. Cash, and Mr. Williford playing a game after a hard day's work. The sports realm is not limited just to tennis nor just to males. Miss Duke and Mrs. Smith enjoy spending their free time at the racquetball center.

For two faculty members being and working with people is a favorite leisure time activity. Miss Danford enjoys working with people at her art shows around our town, while Mrs. Zephfennig enjoys working with Student Council. For both of these teachers, it is quite easy to participate in this favorite activity since it is also a part of their job.

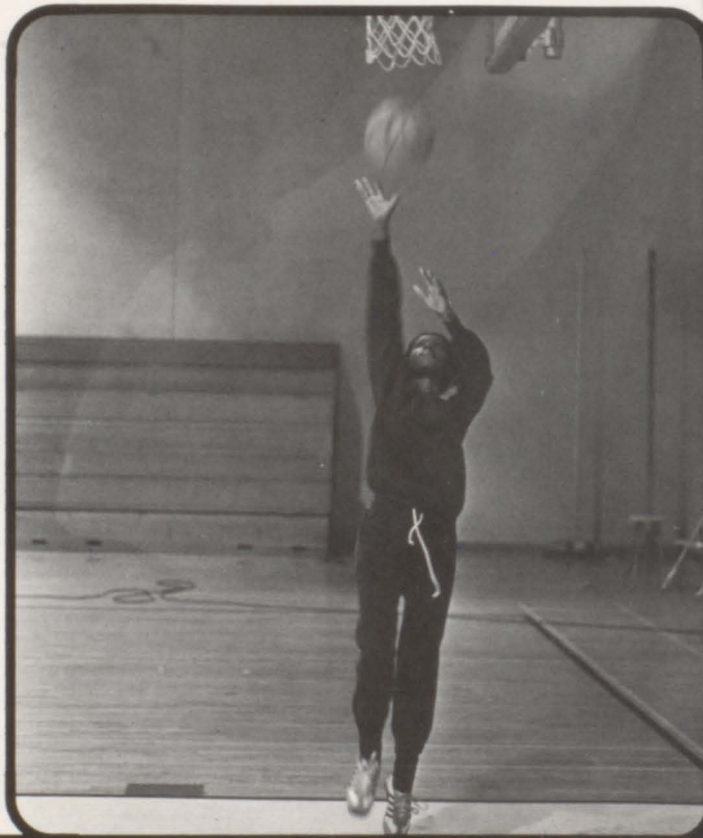

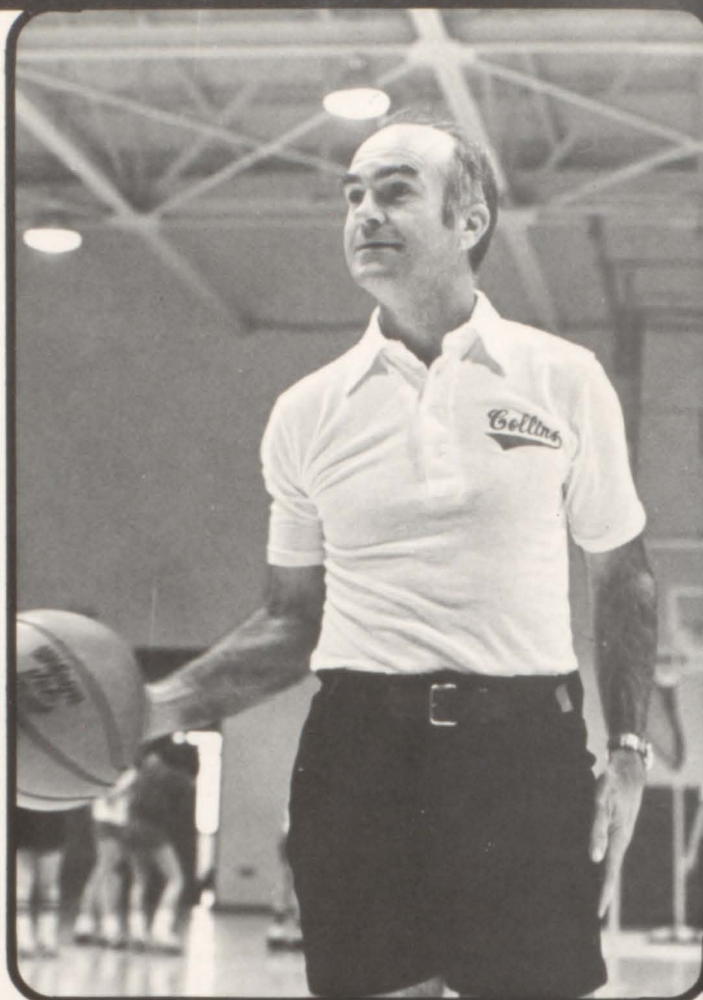

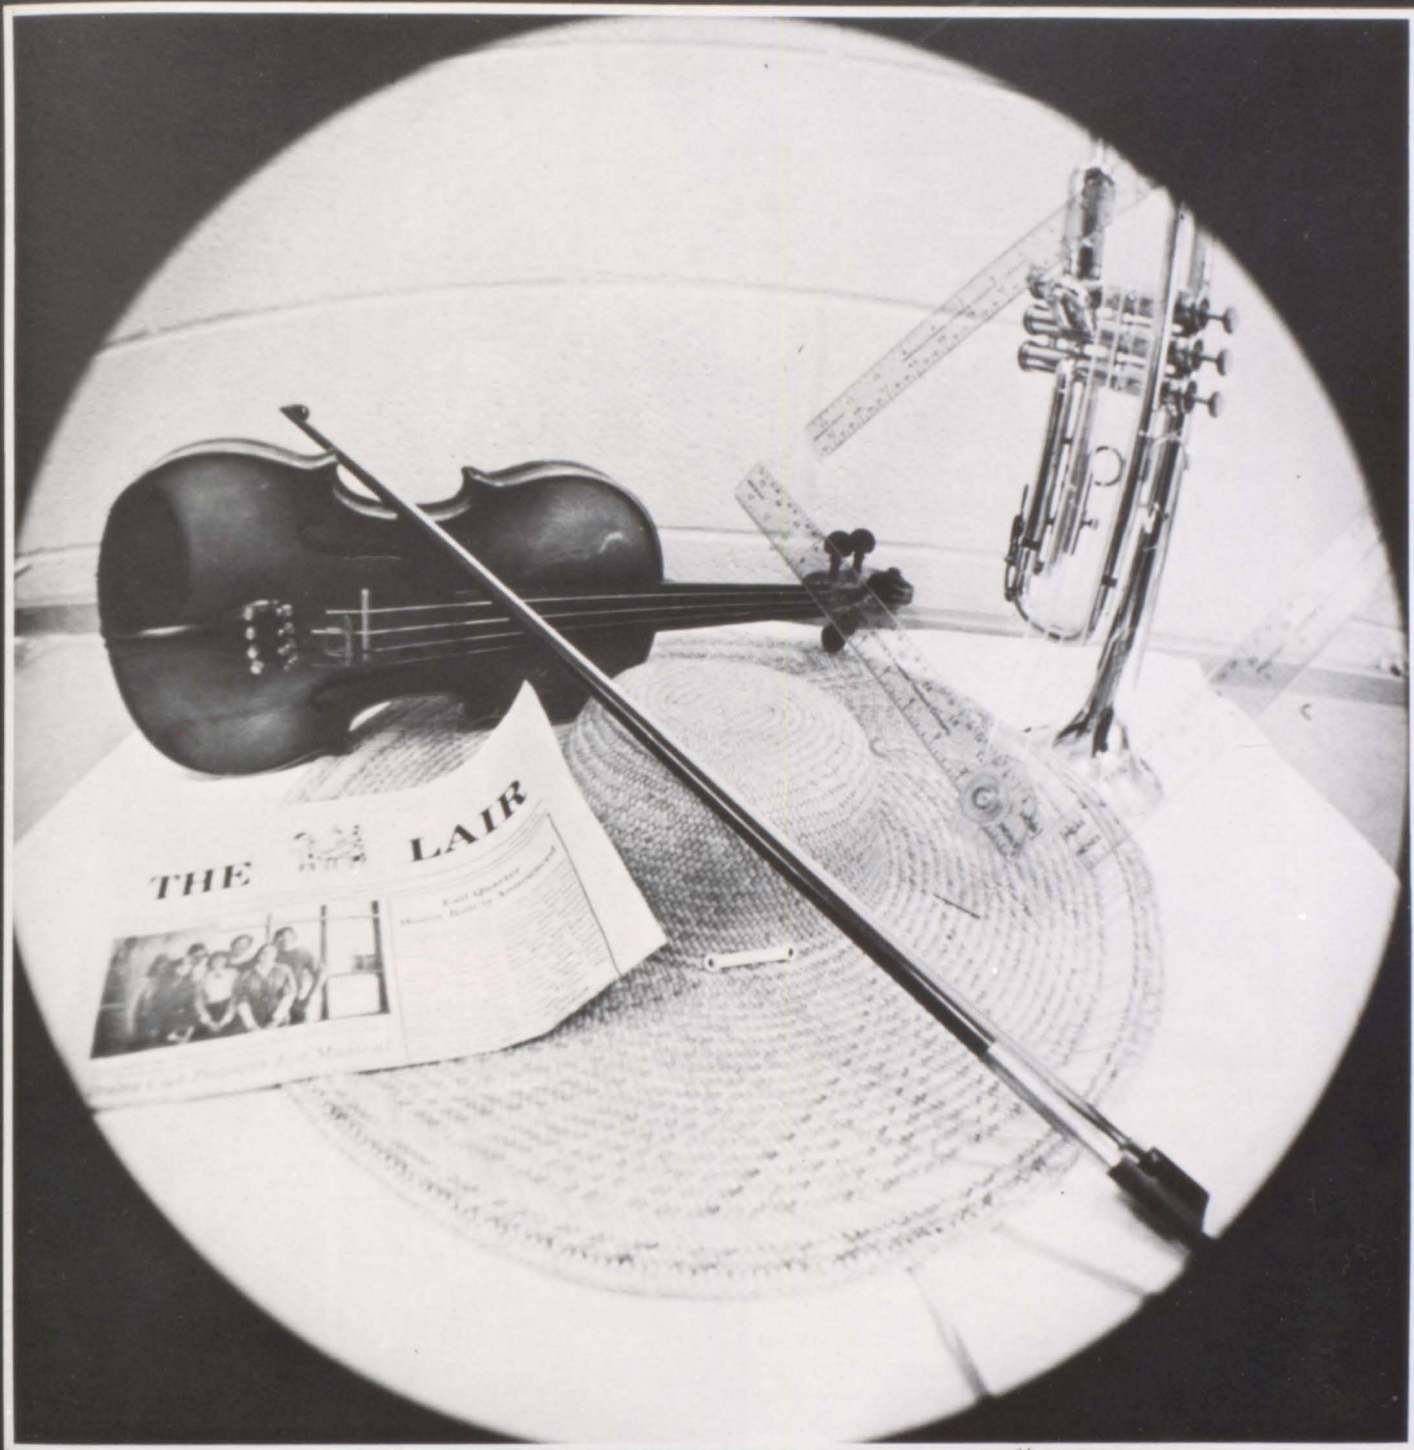

The saying "Home Sweet Home" — agrees so well with Mr. Wucher and with many of our other faculty members because they enjoy most being with their families. Keeping up with one's children is much more of a task than most parents are given credit for. Mrs. Bolte, Mrs. Saunders, and Mr. Lorton, the only man ever to have a baby shower, have just learned what it is like to have a brand new infant in the house, while Coach Leford has just recently made a new addition to his family.

Many of our faculty members, including both sexes enjoy sports. Some you would naturally expect to be physically active, but then there are others who come as a total surprise. Mr. Vaughn and Miss Gary both enjoy dribbling down the court in their spare time. Mrs. Lynch on the other hand, enjoys running 3½ miles five days of the week. It's no wonder Coach Conklin must enjoy sports in general for he spends a lot of his after-school time coaching on many different fields.

KEY CLUB

Sometime during the year, you may have seen several students picking up trash around the campus. No — these people are not boy-scouts because they are girls, and they are all members of the Key Club. The Key club is a service organization and they do many such things to better our school and the surrounding area. With the combined efforts of The Lair Staff and The Catalus Staff, The Key Club sponsored a Christmas party for several needy children.

The National Honor Society is the elite among seniors and spring quarter juniors. Among the rigid standards required is the high overall grade average. A list of students with a 3.5 average or higher is voted on.

In the spring, a meeting is held to induct all new members. After the meeting, a reception is held.

F.B.L.A.

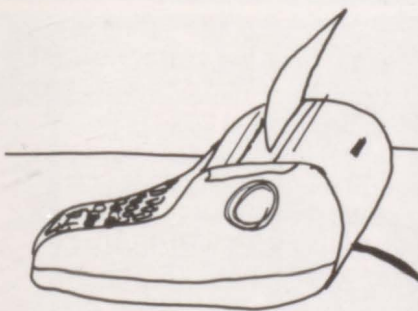

Have you ever wanted to be a big business tycoon? Well, the students in this organization have such dreams and are working very hard to achieve them.

This year, the F.B.L.A. participated in region, county, and state contests for business and secretarial duties. They won first place for shorthand in the county and second place for shorthand in the region.

They also did their civic duties by collecting for Muscular Distrophy.

Expect to see these people succeed in the business world.

As you saunter down the English hall, you might encounter the sounds of those "wild and crazy" Lair Staff members tucked away in their own corner of the school. Along with creating the school newspaper, the daily routine usually consists of quizzing each other on baffling trivia, and trying to avoid having their articles censored by Uncle Dan. Although the Lair Staff had difficulty finding a printer at the first of the year, they seem to have overcome the problem and have put out a super paper.

The chorus is involved in many school and community activities. Among the school performances were the South County Symphony Hall concert (I'll have to talk to Bob about that!), the Elementary School Tour, and the Christmas Concert at Atlanta Christian church were some of the community events the chorus was involved in. In the spring, they took a trip to the beach for a weekend, and were accompanied by the "chorus" — famous entertainment group, The Deadboys!

WATCHERS

Who are all those slim people slinking through the halls of M.D. Collins? A new organization, Weight Watchers, is dedicated to the quest of finding the "New Beautiful You". Although the diet requires the dieter to eat more than he wishes, it is tough to go to Morrison's and watch K.J. eat fried chicken and marcaroni and cheese, isn't it Dr. Martin?

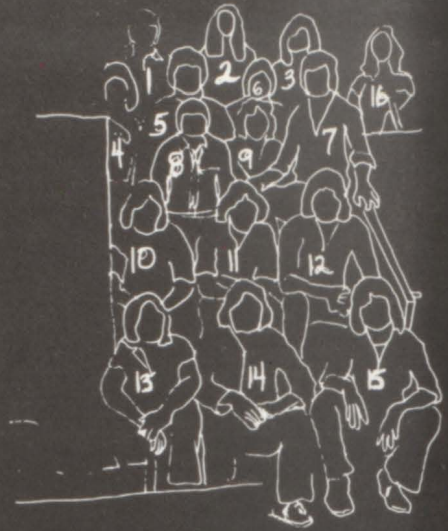

Asked what they disliked most about the diet, the majority said that they did not look forward to liver once a week.

Along with performing at the Christmas and South County Concerts, last Spring they toured elementary schools and rendered their services for the musical, "Bye Bye Birdie".

STAGE BAND

The Stage Band is a group of dedicated musicians working together to create and perform many popular tunes. The tunes themselves and the band's own special touches make for very nice listening enjoyment for all who hear them play. They had many such opportunities at different times during the year. They played at festival, South County Concert and the Christmas concert.

The Marching Band practices long, hard, strenuous hours to entertain the crowds at football games. Later in the year, they board the buses and march on down to Panama City (that is in Florida, folks) to perform in a parade. The slave drivers of the band are Mr. Wucher (with all of his jokes), David Gross, the drum major, and Karen Thompson, the drum majorette. The Pink Panther, one of the band's most outstanding performances, was done this year. Dada. Dada . . .

Where did all those rocking chairs come from!? No, it was the not old folks home. This year in order to raise money and have loads of fun, the band, along with the booster club, held a Rock-a-thon. They ate, slept, drank, smoked, laughed, watched T.V., listened to the radio, talked and oh yes, rocked for twenty-four long hours. Those who lived to talk about it said that it was well worth all the time and effort.

If you think rocking chairs are an odd sight, you should see the mountain of baskets left over from the Thanksgiving fruit sale.

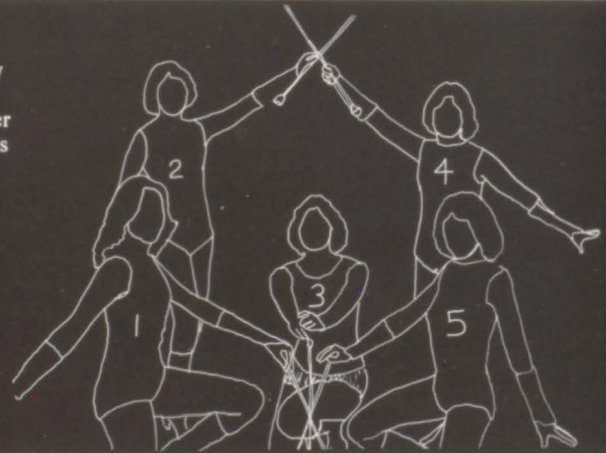

MAJORETTES

Raisins! Raisins! The majorettes sold "Cougar Country" buttons to those of exceptional school spirit. Fat Juicy Raisins! They also held a car wash. All for the benefit of the annual trip to Florida. More Raisins! At camp, they won first place on their original baton routine. Lots More Raisins!

If you are very observant, you will notice that there are "two scoops" of raisins mingled in with this copy. This year the majorettes entertained the student body with their favorite cheer: RAISINS!

"Romeo! Romeo! Where for art thou, Romeo?" The theatre is probably one of our best expressive outlets. Both the stage actors and the behind the stage crew put in many hours of hard work for each production.

This year, the play was a musical called "Bye Bye Birdie." This comedy is the story of teenage idol Conrad Birdie and his untimely induction into the army. In order to save the Almaelou Record Company, he must give "One Last Kiss" to one very lucky girl. The play was filled with many delightful songs and dances.

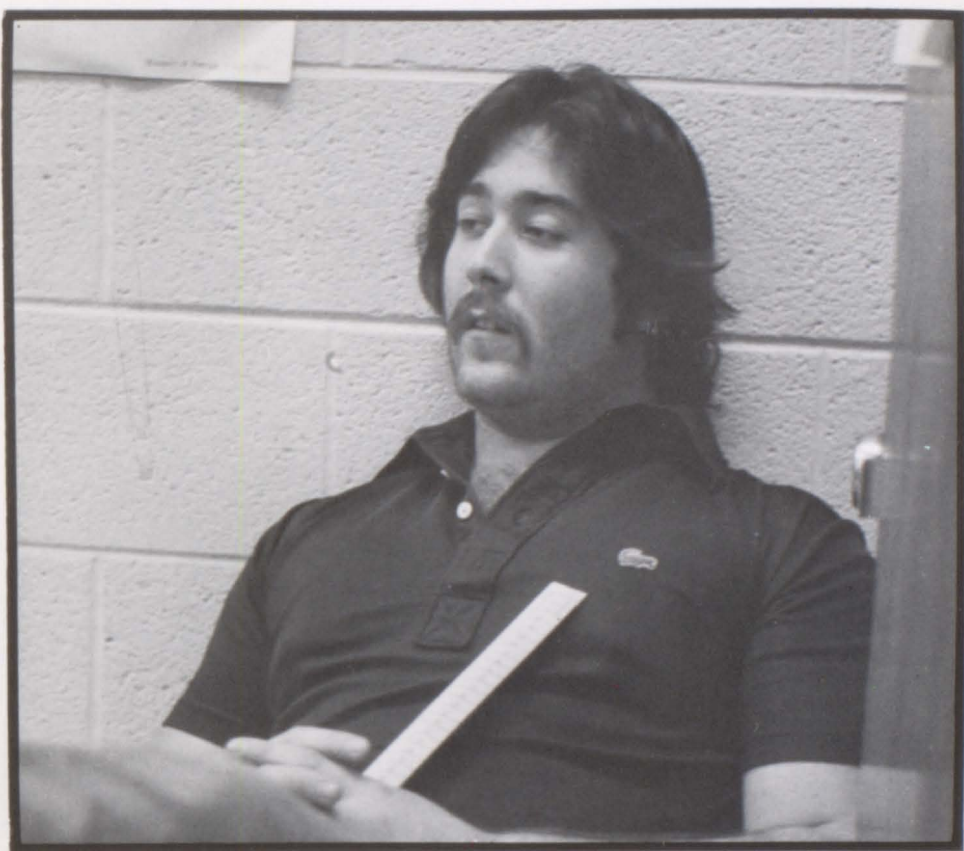

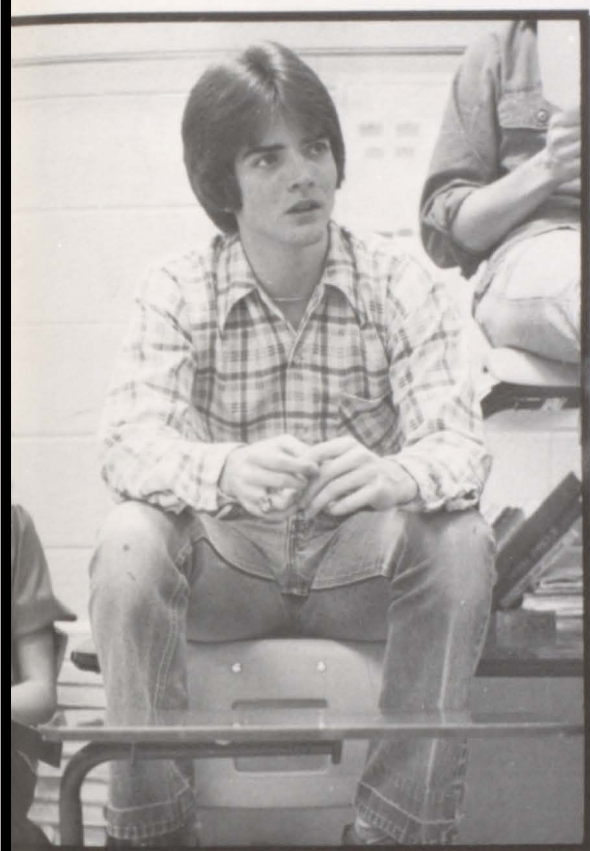

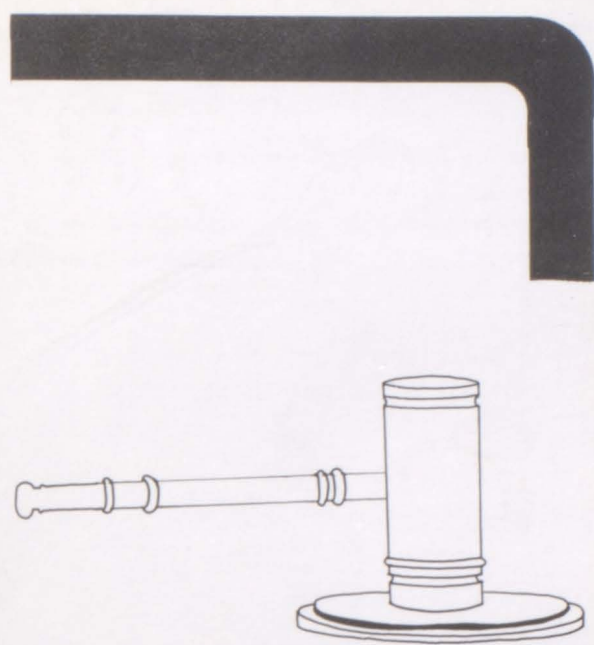

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Executive Council

1. Clip Board
2. Tony Perez — Treasurer
3. Shawn Turk — President
4. Someone's Jacket
5. "Mama Z" Zehnphennig
6. Toilet Paper
7. Craig Evans — Vice President
8. Toilet Cleaner
9. Kathy Cochran — Secretary

One might infer from the word "Executive" that these officers simply sit around their colorful chaotic office and give orders. This is not the case. This hard working little group of four is the backbone of the student body. They organize, plan, raise money for, and develop ideas for most of the things that go on in the school. They often carry out a great deal of these services themselves. For instance, we all take for granted the daily announcements, the newsletter, the student store, and countless other services. These students work diligently to keep things running smoothly around the school.

BETA

The Beta Club was formed to help produce good citizens in the community. Every year the Beta Club members invade the Marriot Hotel for their convention. They do many community services such as collection for UNICEF on Halloween and for the Empty Stocking Fund at Christmas.

If, on Valentine's Day, you found yourself with a little red Heart-a-gram in your homeroom, you may have wondered exactly how it got there. In order to raise money for their French related excursions, the French Club played cupid for many Collins Students.

SPONSORS

These are the teachers who seek a challenge. It is a real venture to try to keep up with kids who are constantly asking questions. They call in the middle of the night to tell their sponsor something that should have been said three days ago! Next time you see one of these teachers be nice to them ... they have had a hard day.

Library

Everything from the parts of speech to Shakespeare — you name it and English has it. This department offers Speech and Drama courses, not to mention a new addition of a Science Fiction, Mystery and Supernatural course. when it comes to that repetitive grammar, sometimes it may not seem like you're learning that much, but, really you are. Just think, everytime you pick-up your pencil and write a letter or even an essay, think about all the adjectives, nouns, and verbs that you are using. Where would you be without knowing where those little fellas went to form a sentence? Next thing you know the boy that sits besides you in English class will be a famous novelist.

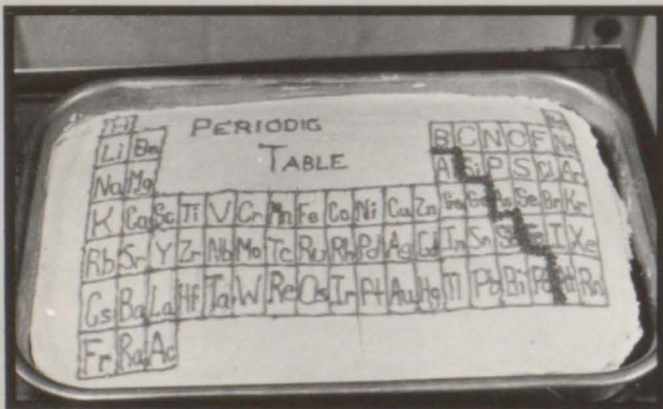

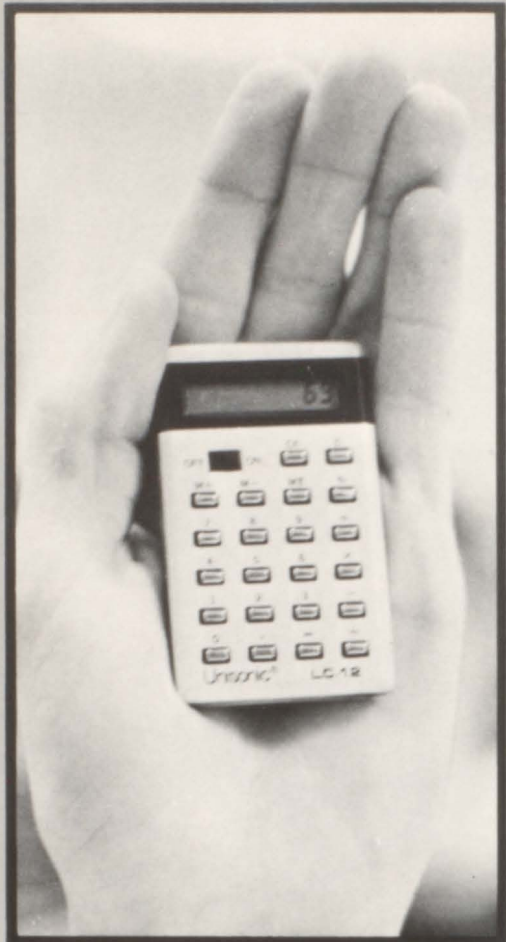

In the library not only do you find bookworms, but actually real students. Students who are writing term papers, research papers and summarizing magazine articles. Total confusion is found in the library on Friday and Monday mornings when students who wait to the last minute are rushing around checking out and returning magazines. Just for a minute think about what the library does for you. All the times you needed to find information on a specific subject who was there to lend you a helping hand, the one and only library team of Hixon and Lee.

Yuk! Have you ever dissected a cat? Well, in Human Physiology that's exactly what you do. In biology you dissect either a frog or a worm, but at least you have a choice. If your interest lies in test tubes and mixing up explosive concoctions, then chemistry is the course for you. There is so much to discover about the unknown. The science department is where you'll find our future chemists, physicists, doctors, dentists, and inventors.

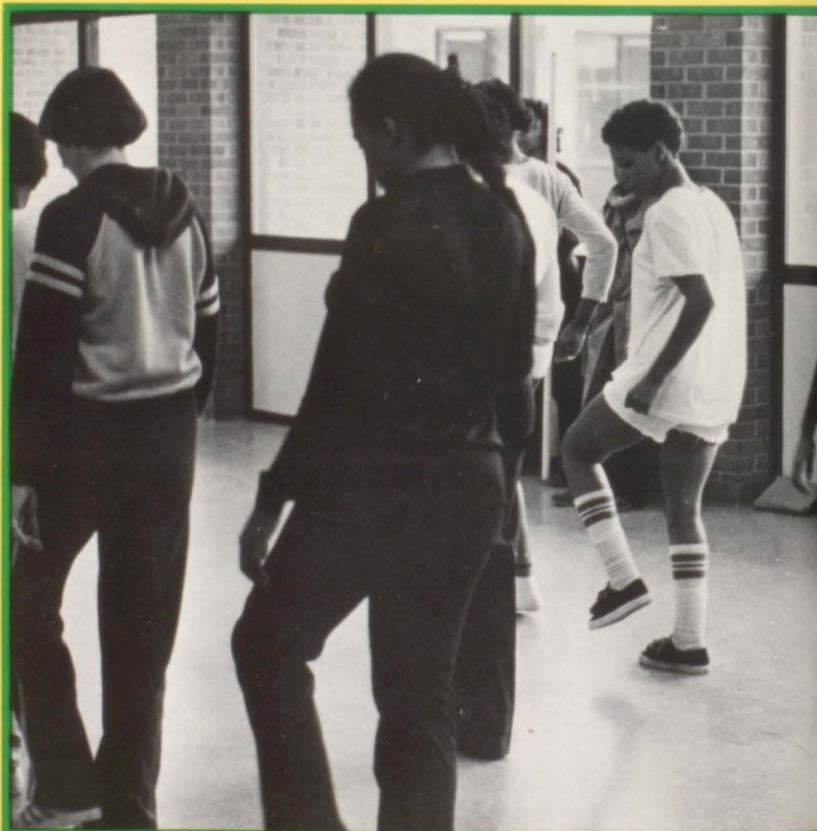

Without Math how would this world survive? If you think about it every part of our life deals with numbers. Sometimes we think that all this work is for nought. But, you'd be surprised to find that math is the foundation for so much of our universe. So the next time you're reflecting a line or solving an equation, remember that mathematical concepts are so important to our future knowledge.

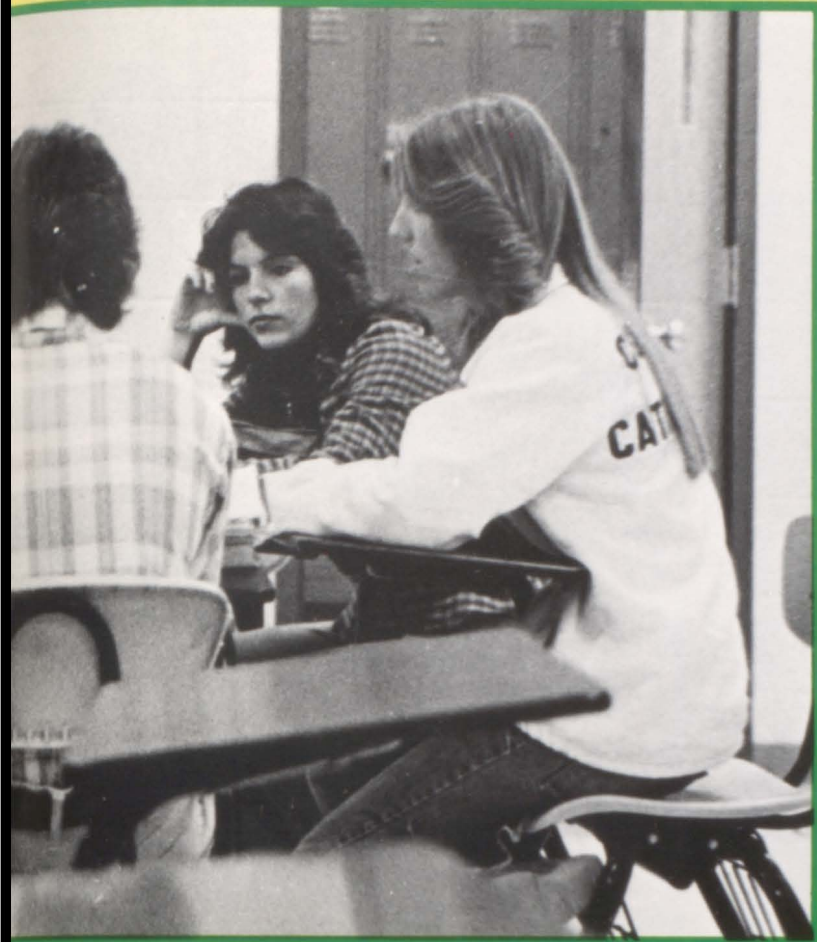

social studies

If you've ever taken a Collins PE course you probably have heard these familiar words: "Throw that tator in their coach;" "Get the lead out son;" "If I've told you once, I've told you a million times, you don't play basketball with a volleyball!" That's just a few examples. In addition to the usual sports, the Collins PE department now also offers Disco Dancing. If you thought you were through with "play time" when you left grade school you were wrong. Playtime in high school is your PE courses only this time it is with bigger kids.

Have you ever been asked that familiar question, "When was the War of 1812 fought?" Most of the time when you think about Social Studies you relate it with the Civil War or George Washington, but that's not always true. In the Social Studies department here at Collins, students have the opportunity to listen to such great speakers as Newt Gingrich and Virginia Shapard discuss politics and such social problems as child abuse, poverty, and suicide. Such relative and pertinent knowledge will hopefully be carried by Collins students into the future to make them better citizens.

For those who get enjoyment out of weaving, sketching or painting, the art department offers hours of pleasure. For some students art is a way of expressing themselves. Using one's hands, mind, and soul to create mini masterpieces really gives students a sense of achievement. Who knows, the "Michaelangelo" of the future might be in your 3rd period Sculpture class.

Is that a spaceman invading our school? No don't get excited it's just a metal shop student welding a down to earth Wrought Iron Table. From the industrial arts shop resounds the buzzing of drills, the hammering of wood. These creative minds just might revolutionize our architectural business in the near future.

Language

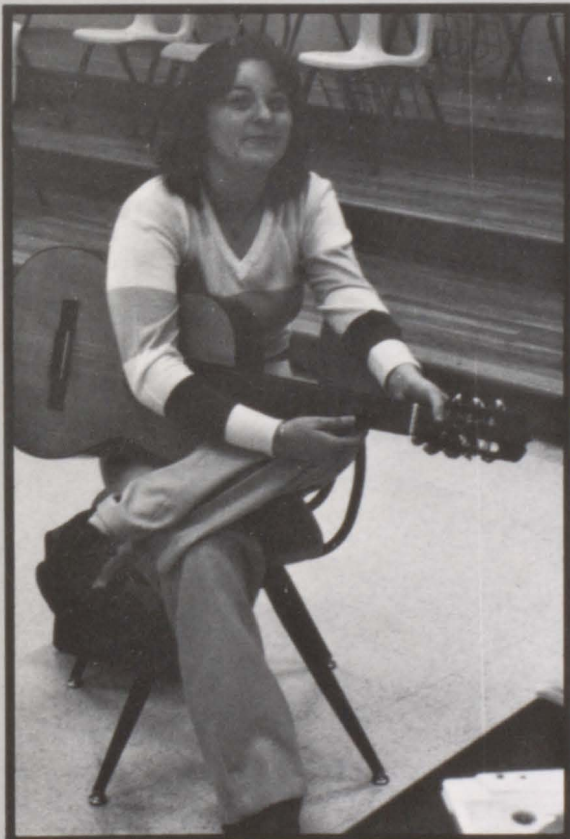

music

The sound of music is what you hear just down the hall in the band and chorus rooms. Intermingled with the sweet voices of talented students, are the vibrant sounds of the brass, woodwinds, percussions, and string sections of the instrumental music department. For those interested in music closer to rock, our music department even offers a guitar class. All their hard work is rewarded at festival time when they receive superior ratings.

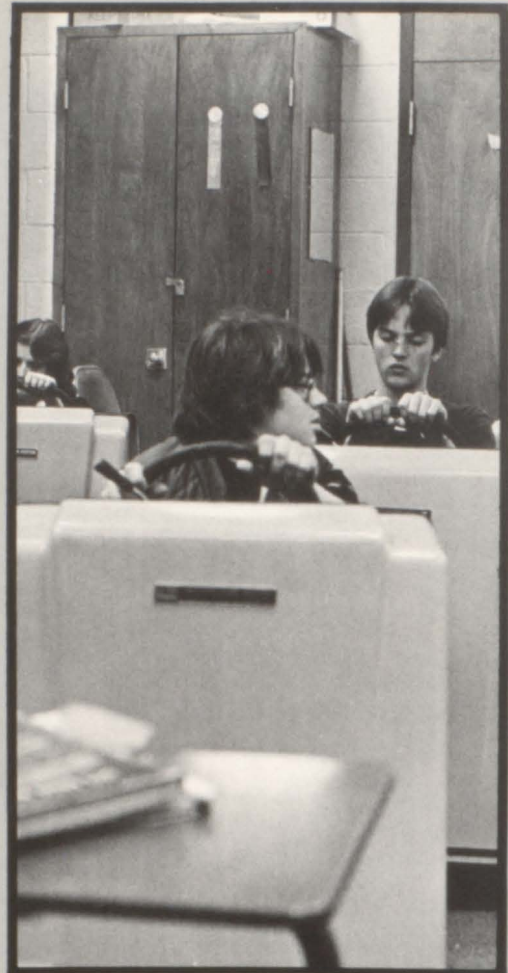

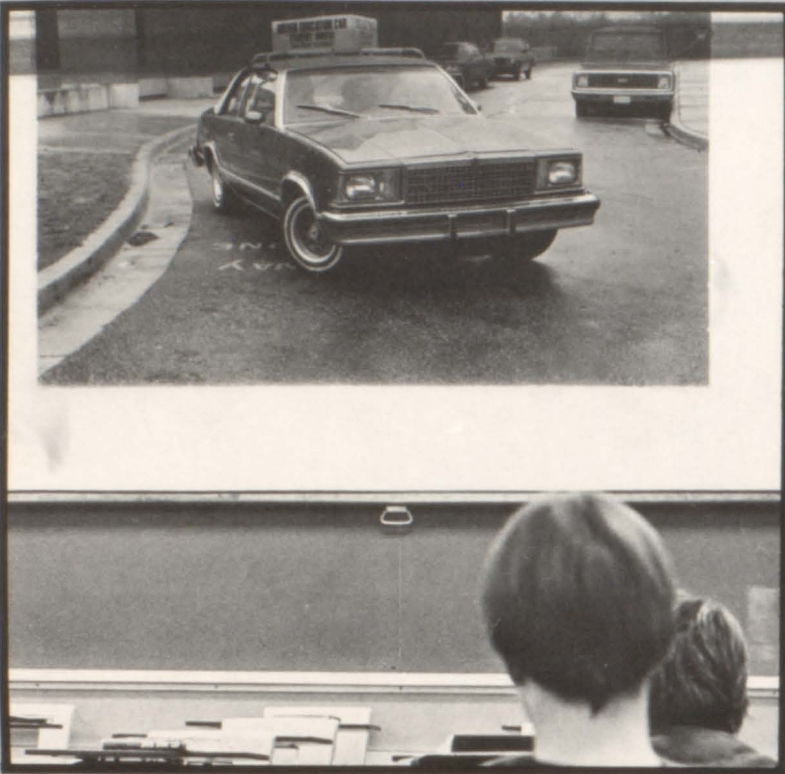

Contrary to popular belief, English is not the only language. There's a whole world going on around us using multitudes of different tongues. There are many different ways of expressing the same idea. Your vocabulary may be increased just by learning different languages such as Spanish or French. Learning the ways that other people speak can help us understand this world we live in.

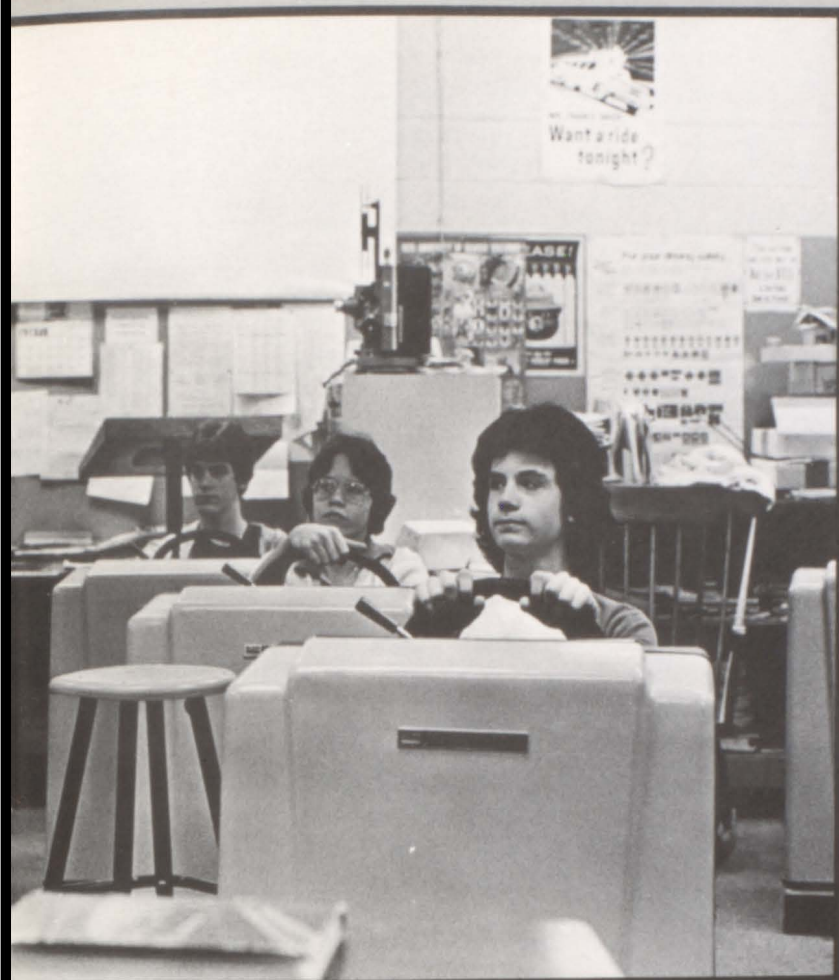

drivers' Ed

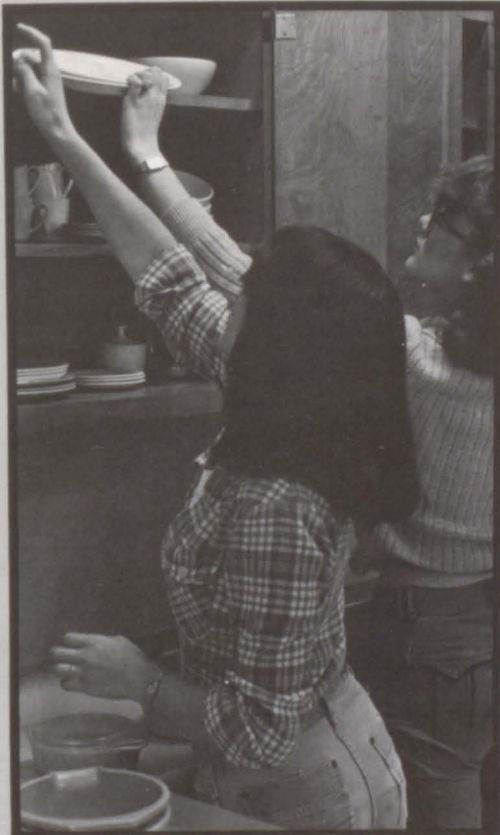

home Ec

Home Ec. has a lot to offer males as well as females. It teaches you everything from sewing a button on a jacket, to whipping up a homecooked meal. Not all of us are born Suzy Homemakers or Betty Crockers, but maybe with a little help from the Home Ec. department we just might be able to at least learn how to boil water and to make a peanut butter & jelly sandwich. Also, if you've been worrying about the kind of adult you're growing into, Personal Health is the answer. Home Ec. can help to mold yourself into a better person.

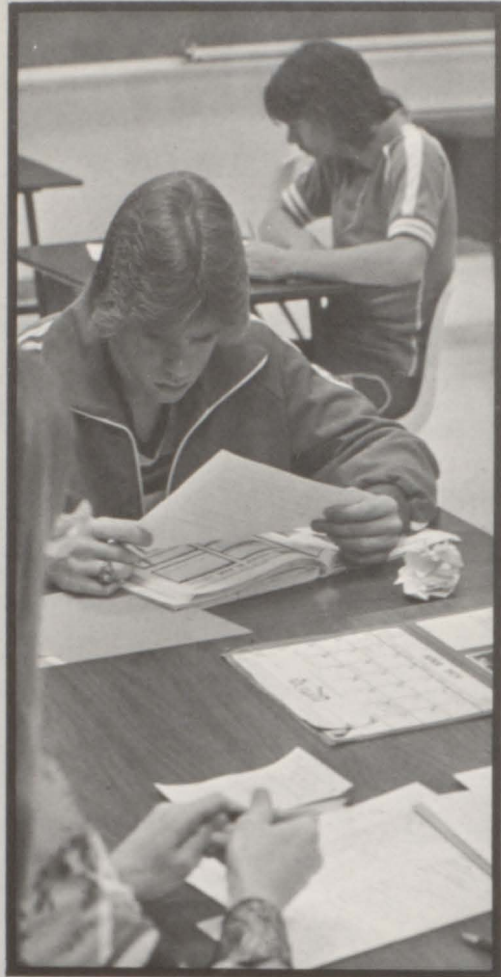

What is the only course offered in high school that can cut down your insurance rates? None other than Driver's Education. This probably teaches us the most valuable lesson of our lives. Not many courses have the advantage of two such excellent teachers such as Coach Hanson and Mr. Jackson. Driver's Education teaches us not only the best techniques of driving, but also the laws, parts of a motor, and proper maintenance of your automobile.

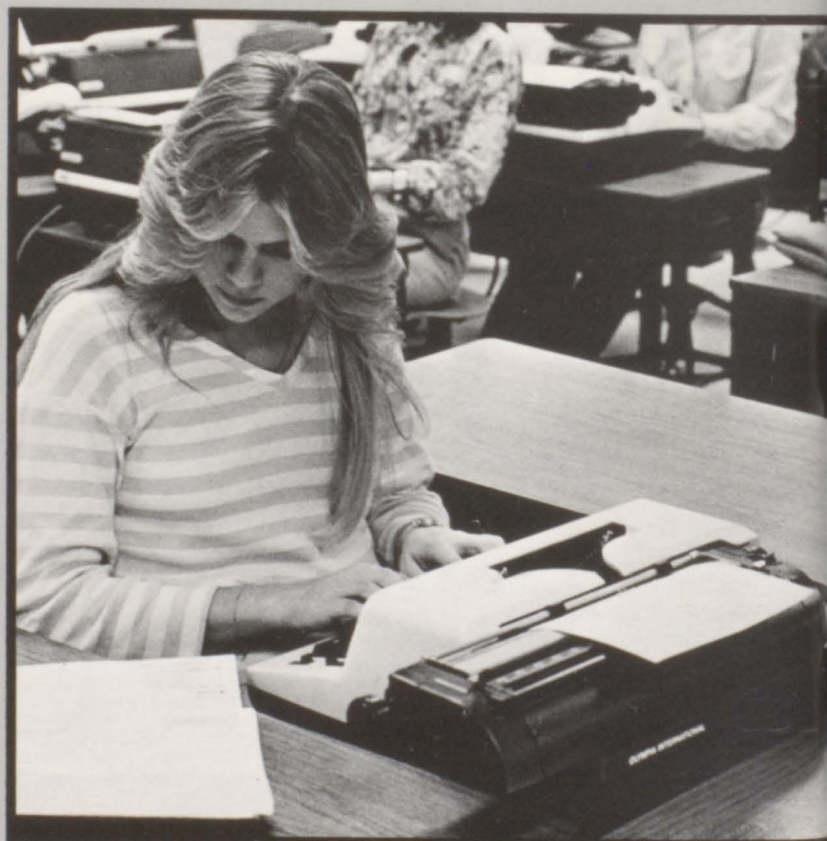

DECA PVT

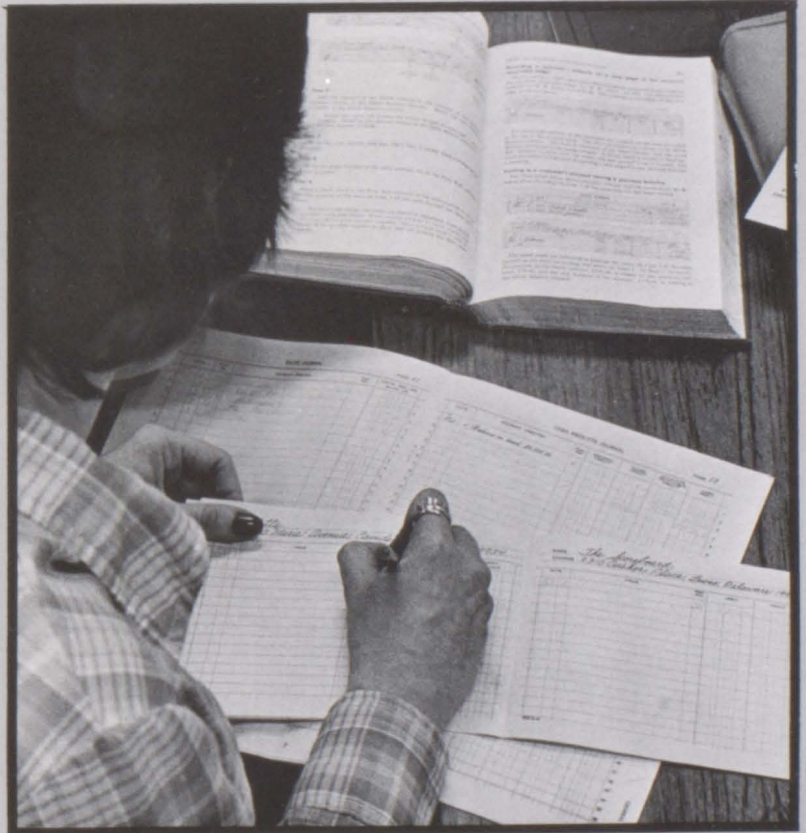

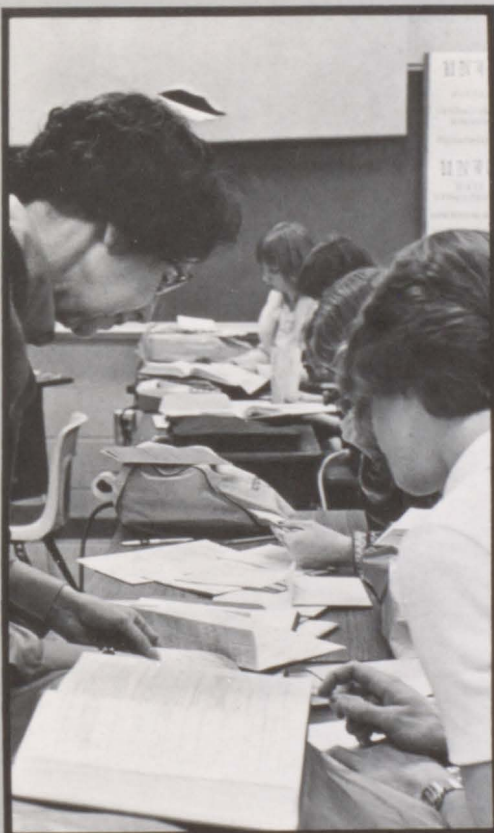

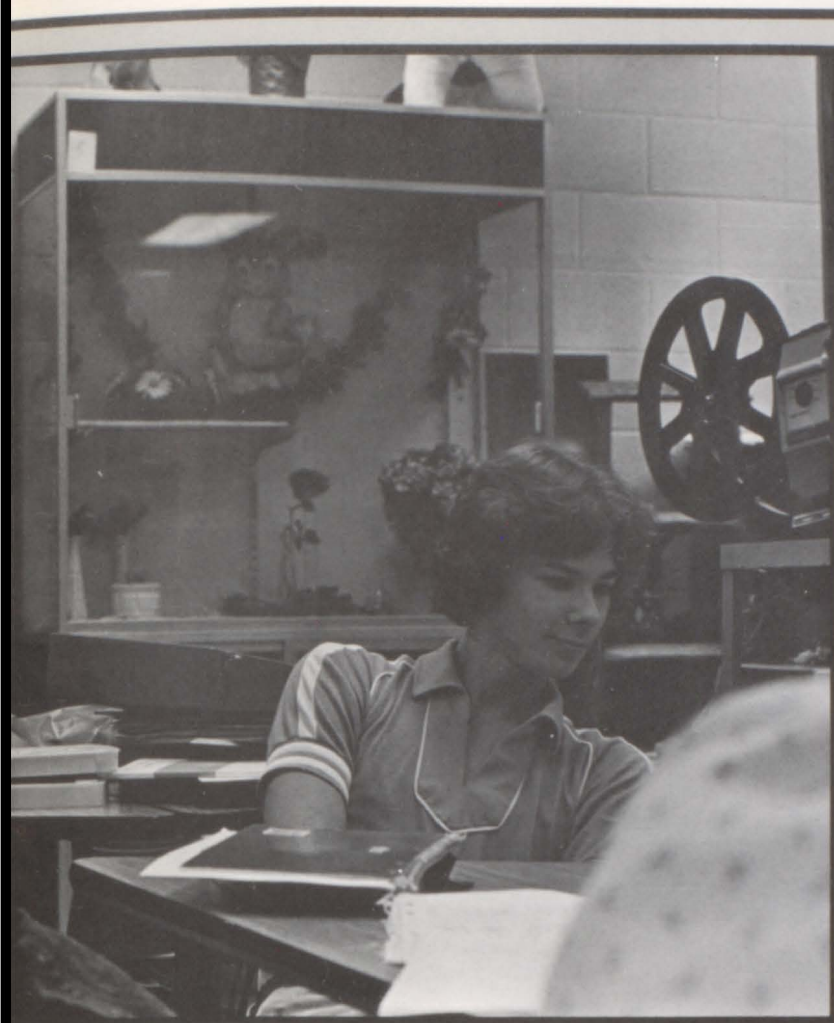

BUSINESS

When you think of the business department your first thoughts are of typewriters. But, the department also works with various machines such as 10-key adding machines and electronic computers. The department goes on to offer such courses as accounting, business law, shorthand, and vocational office training. This year, Mrs. Paul has put in a lot of dedicated hours getting the office assimilation started.

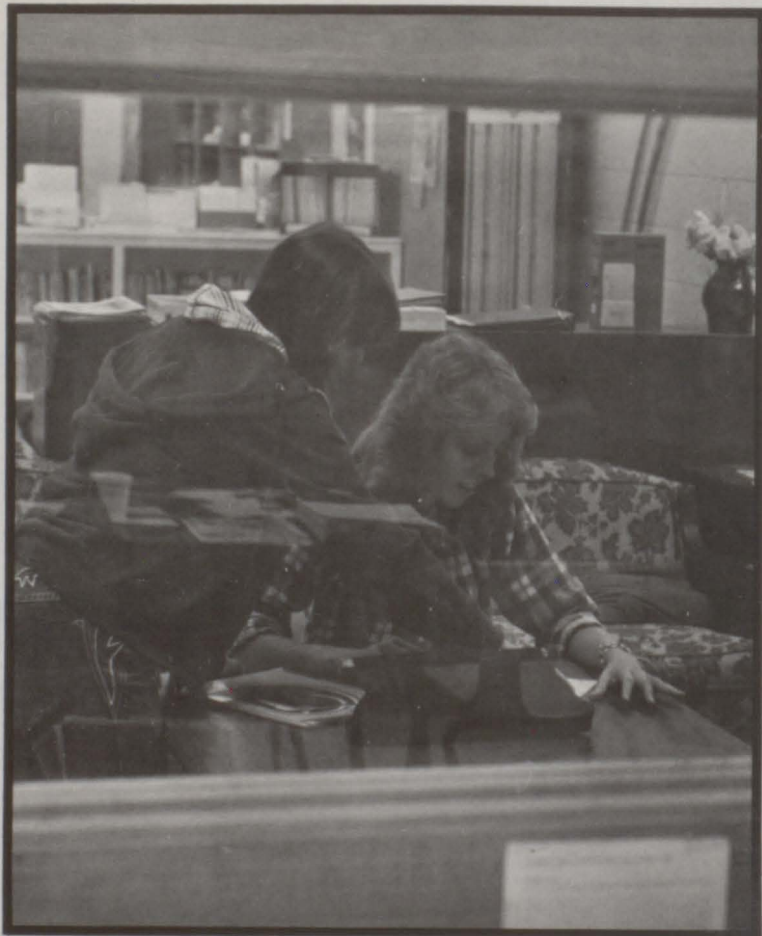

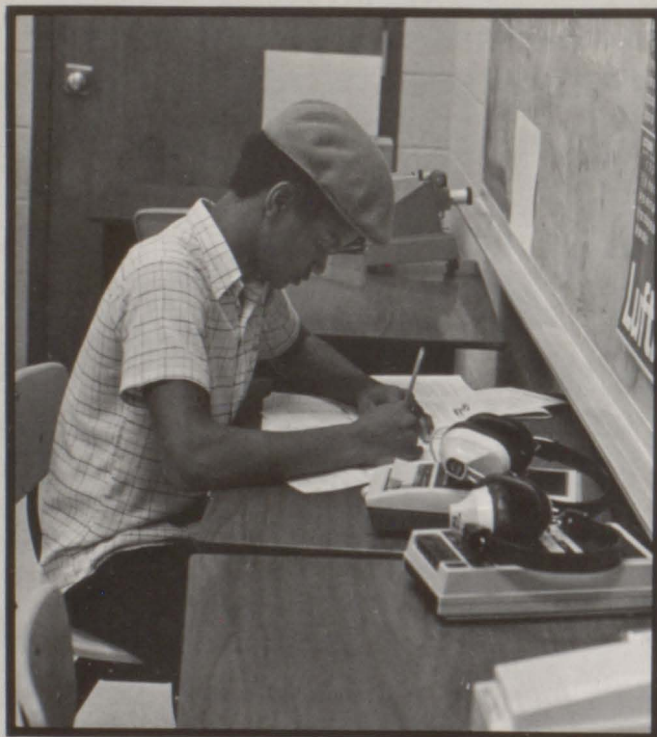

DECA is designed for leadership in the business world. This year they participated in the Jerry Lewis Telethon, assisted in a "Shoplifting Seminar," gave a Valentine's Day tea for the faculty, and, the project that most people are familiar with, they conducted the DECA Christmas Store. They organized and managed the Store themselves.

PVT, or Study Skills, is an individual program for anyone in the 8th through 12th grades. In this course, a student can receive tutoring or special help in a certain subject or area.

READING CENTER

Did you know Collins has a special place you can go to improve your reading skills? Of course, it is the Reading Center. Students come in twice a week to work on skills they have chosen to improve. Two days are spent in the English classroom and one day, "Fabulous Friday" is set aside for Sustained Silent Reading. All in all it is a wonderful addition to our English department.

Do you remember ... Bonfires, Halloween, Dress-up Day, Coach Brown, Spirit Week, Beauty Contest Winners, Pep-rallies?

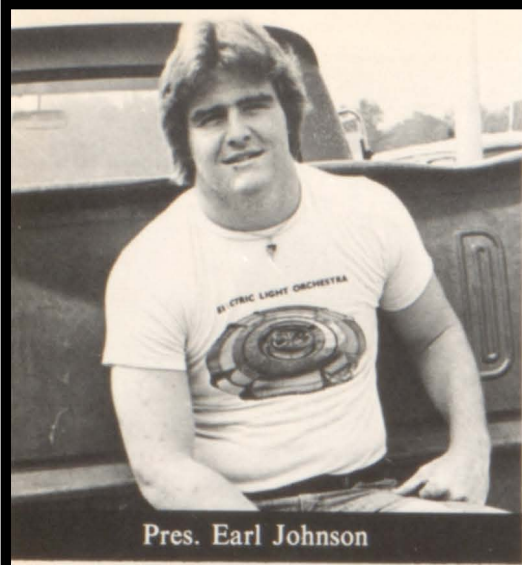

What ever happened to ... Activities Day, the Munchkins, the Pep Club, School Spirit, and past faculty members such as Ricketts, Shafran, Fields, Blanton, and Reynolds.

How about when ... Cindy Seeber was crowned Homecoming Queen. Football players thought they were kissing cheerleaders but were kissing their mothers instead. Girls wore their hair long and straight and their skirts short. The wrestling team was first in the state tournament.

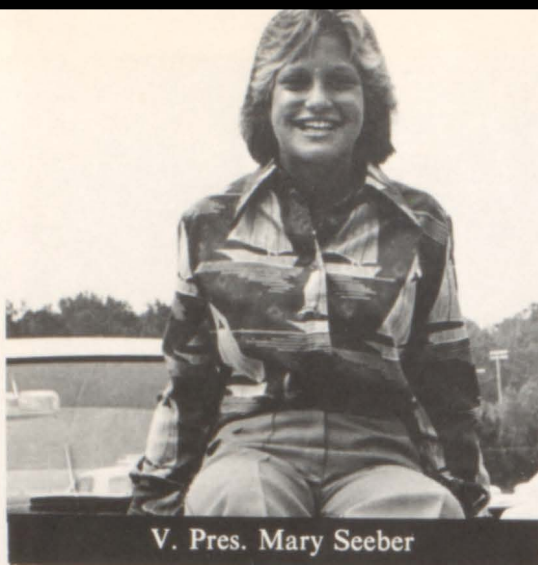

If you have forgotten some of these, peer back over these pages and maybe the memories will come back again.
