Nineteen Sixty Five

East high

Cheyenne, Wyoming

1965

WAHINA - 1965

This has been a year of many firsts for East High. We defeated Central in Basketball for the first time in the history of our school. East also defeated Laramie, the first loss the Plainsmen had suffered all year. Our school's spirit hit a high peak, and we really got East off the ground.

The output of our school this year has never before been equaled. The Senior Class play was really tremendous and our Musical was the best ever - and that's saying a good deal. The band and orchestra presented several fine concerts, as did the vocal music department. The club-sponsored dances were a lot of fun and the themes were all beautiful.

Our wrestling team also set a standard for us to follow by winning the State Championship. We seem to have set a very high goal for future classes to equal or better, and we hope that this year's annual is no different. We have made several changes, we hope for the better, and we hope that you will be able to look at this year's annual in later years and think of East in '65.

The Fine Arts Department consists of all the Musical Departments and the Art Department. Our Fine Arts Department was very busy this year working on many activities. The entire Department worked together on the Musical for this year, the Art Department building the sets and making the back-drop, the band and orchestra departments suppling the music, and the vocal music department suppling the leads and the supporting roles. The Musical proved to be a great success and the department is to be congratulated.

The Art department was responsible for the interesting showcase of students work, which was available for the student body to see. Many various paintings and sculptures were discussed and enjoyed.

The vocal music department and the band and orchestras put on several good programs, including the Christmas Concerts, the Faure Requiem, and the Bob Lowery Concert.

SENIOR CLASS OF '65

The Class of '65 : Profiles In Cowardice And Failure

We grew from rowdy Sophomores to rushing Seniors. Confusion gave way to confidence, anxious anticipation to meaningful memories. We went through three years of changes - the last class to remember when everyone attended the same assembly and most everyone was required to stay at school for lunch. We can still remember two riotous trips to Casper and the very first basketball triumph over Central!

Our class was one of tradition-making ideas. Ours was the first of the Junior Variety Shows, we won the 1963 poster contest, and our "Around the World in 80 Days" was among the most beautiful Junior-Senior Proms in the history of our school. Our Senior Class play was matched by none in hilarity or quality of performance. The musicals presented during our three years at East were brilliant examples of the type of traditions that were begun and continued.

Under our leadership, East held the first U.S. Presidential election. The winner? Why LBJ, by a historically significant margin! During our last year at East another new idea was added to the list of others - the current events board. This board was a wonderful addition to our school and it kept all of us notified as to our many and varied senior activities. Also, the best addition of all was when the work on the new wing began. Although we won't be around next year to enjoy uncrowded classrooms and a cafeteria again, the following classes will be able to stretch out and return to the way East was run in our Sophomore year.

Yes, our class has been a wonderful one - rock painting, totem-pole protecting, Laramie beating and all!

Officers: President - Vicki Peterson, Vice-President - Russell Judy, Sec. -Treas. - Marty Groh

On September 7, 1963, 440 bewildered sophomores were herded into the locker-lined corridors of East High School and promptly told where to go by the seniors. Surviving the usual trials of sophomores, we came through our first year destined to the greatest class ever.

As the next year rolled around we saw that our friends were no longer wide-eyed and bashful, but dashing here and there with a bit of that know-their-way-around look. Once we established ourselves nothing could stop us. We started the ball rolling by capturing first prize in the homecoming parade for our class float. Showing our enthusiasm throughout the year, we later won the poster contest during school spirit week. Our Junior Variety Show and Junior-Senior Prom also proved to be very successful.

The Junior Class has been progressing so fast that our momentum alone should carry us far up the ladder of success.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Silly but Serious
 "Onward" as our aim
 Participation in projects
 Homework and headaches
 Obligations to be fulfilled
 More mature-yet still to young
 Obnoxious at times
 But ready and willing
 To make our class the best class ever.
 This is what being Sophomores meant to us.
 Now we have come to know and be proud of East High.
 We have contributed to our school spirit by winning second place with our Homecoming Float. We have many pleasant memories of our first year at East, and we are looking forward to two more memorable ones.
 During those two future years we vow to contribute everything we can to the growing heritage of East High.

EHS VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

East cheerleaders worked very hard this year to support our teams. Under their leadership East's school spirit hit an all time high - especially at the Laramie - East Game

Come on T-Birds - BEAT LARAMIE!

Terry Currence

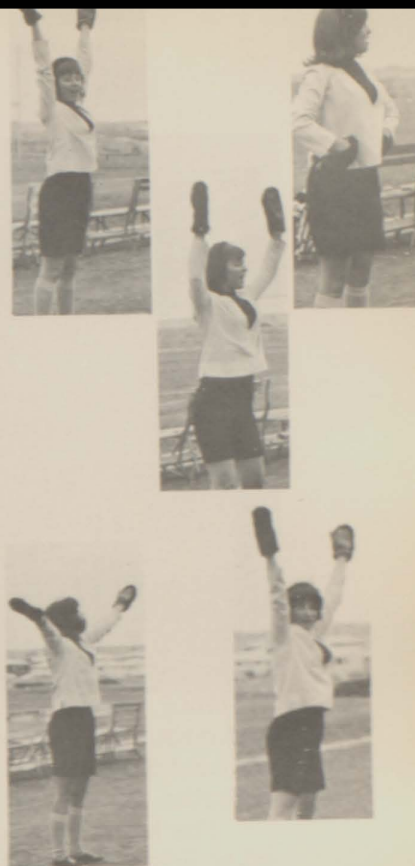

J.V. CHEERLEADERS

This year our Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were Bobby Bedont, Robin Leeright, Vickie Peterson, Linda Wasson, and Mary Murphy. They were very active in the support of the J. V. teams, and they kept the team spirit at a high peak. One of their main campaigns was the poster contest, and all the cheerleaders were very active. They made posters and hung them in the Junior hall. The juniors won the contest, too.

J. V. Cheerleaders are chosen by the student body after they audition at the annual assembly.

POM PON GIRLS

Our Pom Pon Girls were a fairly new addition this year. They did their swingin' routines at all the football and basketball games and they added a lot to our school spirit. Next year we hope to add another first to our cheering section: yell leaders. East has always been good at instigating new things and this would be a worthwhile idea. LEFT TO RIGHT: Gayle Treber, Linda Harrington, Lindy Miller, Linda Goepfert, and Carol Bean.

	Season	Record
	We	They
Central	0	14
Sterling	21	12
Ft. Collins	20	26
Rawlins (HC)	44	14
Torrington	13	0
Rock Springs	20	21
Casper	0	18
Laramie	18	27
Central	12	20

This year, as last year, saw East High defeated on the gridiron at the hands of Central.

But the year was not without its bright spots. Sterling, one of the most powerful teams in Colorado, fell to our T-Bird squad. In our Homecoming game, the T-Bird team soundly defeated Rawlins by the score of 44-14.

The heart-breaker came when we journeyed to Rock Springs for a duel with the Tigers. The lead changed hands many times throughout the game, and it looked as if the East High team would bring home a victory. But at the very last of the game, Rock Springs made a T.D. to even the score, 20-20. They kicked a field goal, and one referee called it no-good. But the head referee said that it was good and the final score stood at 21-20 in favor of the Tigers.

In our next battle against Casper, the T-Birds were overpowered by the Mustangs.

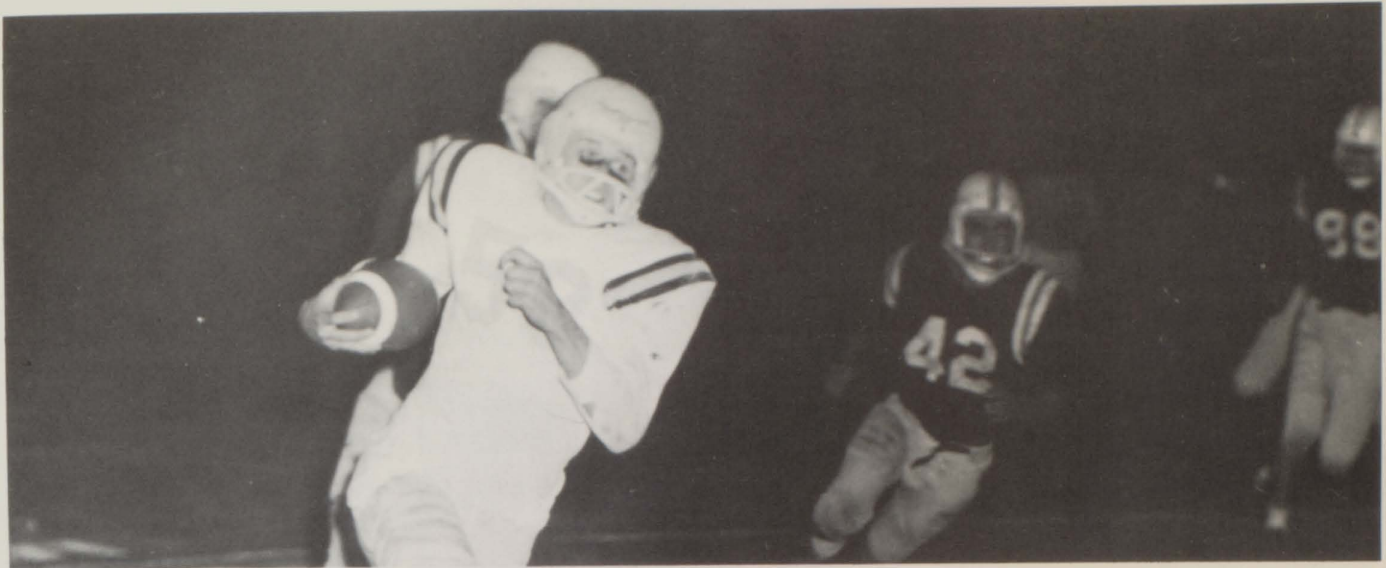

The game with Laramie proved to be the best team effort of the year. Up to this point Laramie had given up only 7 points all year. But Keith Beckwith and Dave Ward crashed over the Laramie goal line, and Howard Dunbar, playing excellent defensive football, intercepted a stray Laramie pass and again the seemingly invincible wall on Laramie's goal line was crossed.

The stage was set for what seemed to be a sure East victory. But "Brand X" stunned an eager T-Bird squad.

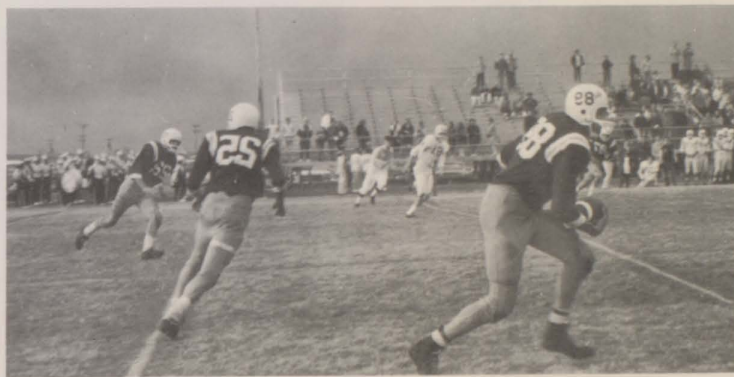

We can surely say that the East High football team did an extremely fine job this year despite our losses on the field.

There is a black sheep in every crowd.

The dash for Dash!

For the first time in East High history, our T-Bird basketball team defeated Central in an overtime contest by the score of 59-57. With five seconds to go in the regulation play, junior guard Greg Salverson made a free throw to tie the game. Central failed to make any more points, and so the game went into overtime. In the overtime, as in the rest of the game, it was nip-and-tuck. We got the ball out of bounds with six seconds left and the score tied again 57-57, and it looked as if we would go into another overtime. But out of nowhere senior forward Bruce Woodward came and just as the buzzer sounded, he sank a basket to give our team a well-deserved victory.

The other bright spot in East's basketball season was our victory over Laramie, the no. 1 ranked team in the state. Up to this time the Plainsmen were undefeated, and it looked like they would stay that way. But in our final game of the season, we gained the lead from Laramie and from then on it was an all-East game. The final score was 71-59, and any East fan can tell you it was a hard fought game.

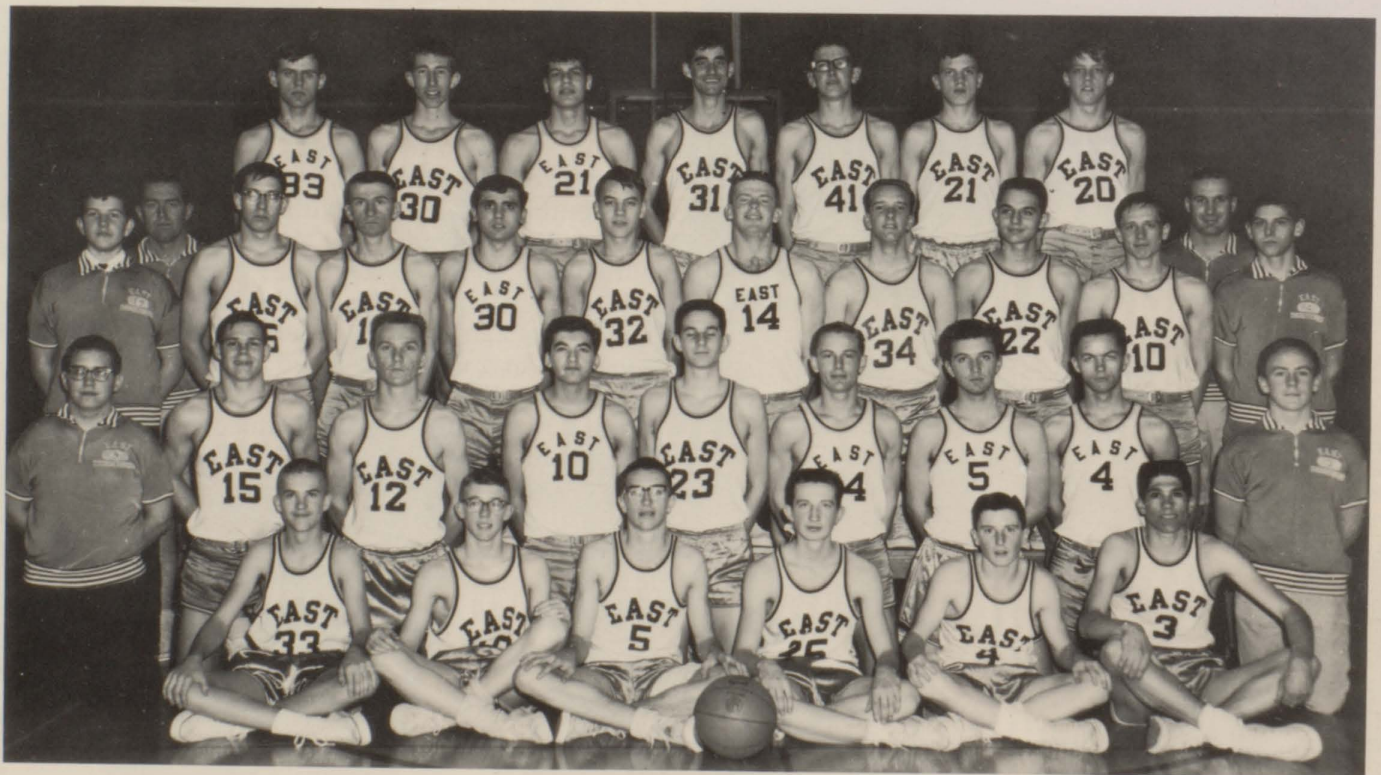

With these two victories, along with the many other fine games, we congratulate our fine basketball team for truly representing East on the court.

FLY DIE

This year was the greatest Homecoming ever. East Students elected Cindy Smith as Queen and Bob Bingston as East Beast. The Queen's attendants were Tanna Buckmaster and Karen Hillard and the attendants to the Beast were Steve Conkey and Bob Weisert.

Our bonfire nearly burned the paint off the cars that were parked near by and it singed the cars that drove by on Pershing. The varsity cheerleaders gave some rousing yells and the stage was set for the game on Friday night.

Our team really fought to win the big game and they really came through in style. After the game a dance was held in the cafeteria and everyone had a ball.

"SAMURAI" KEY CLUB BALL

On the evening of November 21, an atmosphere of oriental mystery invaded the East High cafeteria. Each corner of the dance floor was decorated with some article reflecting the character of the theme. A gold Buddha with flaming red eyes glared out over those present and at the coronation time served as the protector of the queen who set at the foot of the Buddha in a velvet throne. Diagonally across from this structure was found a huge oriental pond framed by an equally as impressive garden under indirect light. A red bridge spanned the pond and led to the refreshment area. Other appurtenances included a Chinese dragon, a huge mural of Japanese letters and shooting stars, and a painting of a Samurai warrior. Most of the decorations were under fluorescent light and added to the aura of mystery. One unique feature of this year's ball was an elaborately decorated entrance located in the lobby. All of these qualities combined to make this year's ball the most successful in terms of attendance and enjoyment. The Key Club, under the leadership of president Craig Storti, can be proud of a truly spectacular ball.

TAENDA TURNABOUT

On February 13th, the East High Taendas presented their annual Dance and Dinner for Turnabout. A Dinner was held at the Plains Hotel before the Dance and everyone enjoyed themselves very much.

The Dance was one of the most beautiful that has ever graced East High. There was a three tiered-fountain with a ginger-bread man guarding it. In another corner at the Dance was a ginger-bread house, with a candy-cane fence around it.

The guests at the Dance were able to enter house and have their refreshments, which were served in the hallway outside the tiny house. On each of the tables a small jar of candy hearts and candies were set. Punch and cookies were served by Taenda members and the whole evening was very enjoyable. It was climaxed by the presentation of the King and his attendants. Tom Flohr ruled for the evening and his attendants were Bruce Woodward, Steve Dennis, Jim Alexander, and Steve Marshall.

The citizens of Cheyenne and the patrons of Cheyenne East should be happy and proud to have a school and faculty which produces the type of performance heard in "The Sound of Music" by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

This musical is in excellent taste and is indeed entertainment in its true sense of the word. The story is wholesome and the music is far superior to most of the current stage productions presented to the American public. There is real satisfaction in hearing this music done so well.

Mary Hanson proved capable of portraying the role of Maria. Her singing left nothing to be desired. She was in full control at all times and the role gave her ample opportunity to display her musical talents.

Jerome Hernandez playing the Captain, depicted the role in the dignified style of a baron from Austria. It is too bad that the part didn't have more singing in it for he truly had a rich, lush baritone voice.

Mary Hardy displayed her depth of understanding in portraying the Mother Abbess. She gave dignity and strength to the part as well as benign humility befitting a Mother Superior.

Bobbie Bedont as Elsa Schraeder was very believable as the rich widow out to ensnare the captain. In this difficult role she proved to be mature. Her combining with Dave Montgomery as the sponging Max Detweiler gave the show some bright moments of humor. Both were effective in supporting character roles.

Jean Stauffer and Rick Souza in the "Sixteen Going on Seventeen" sequence gave a fresh verve and young charm to a scene depicting two teenagers' first love.

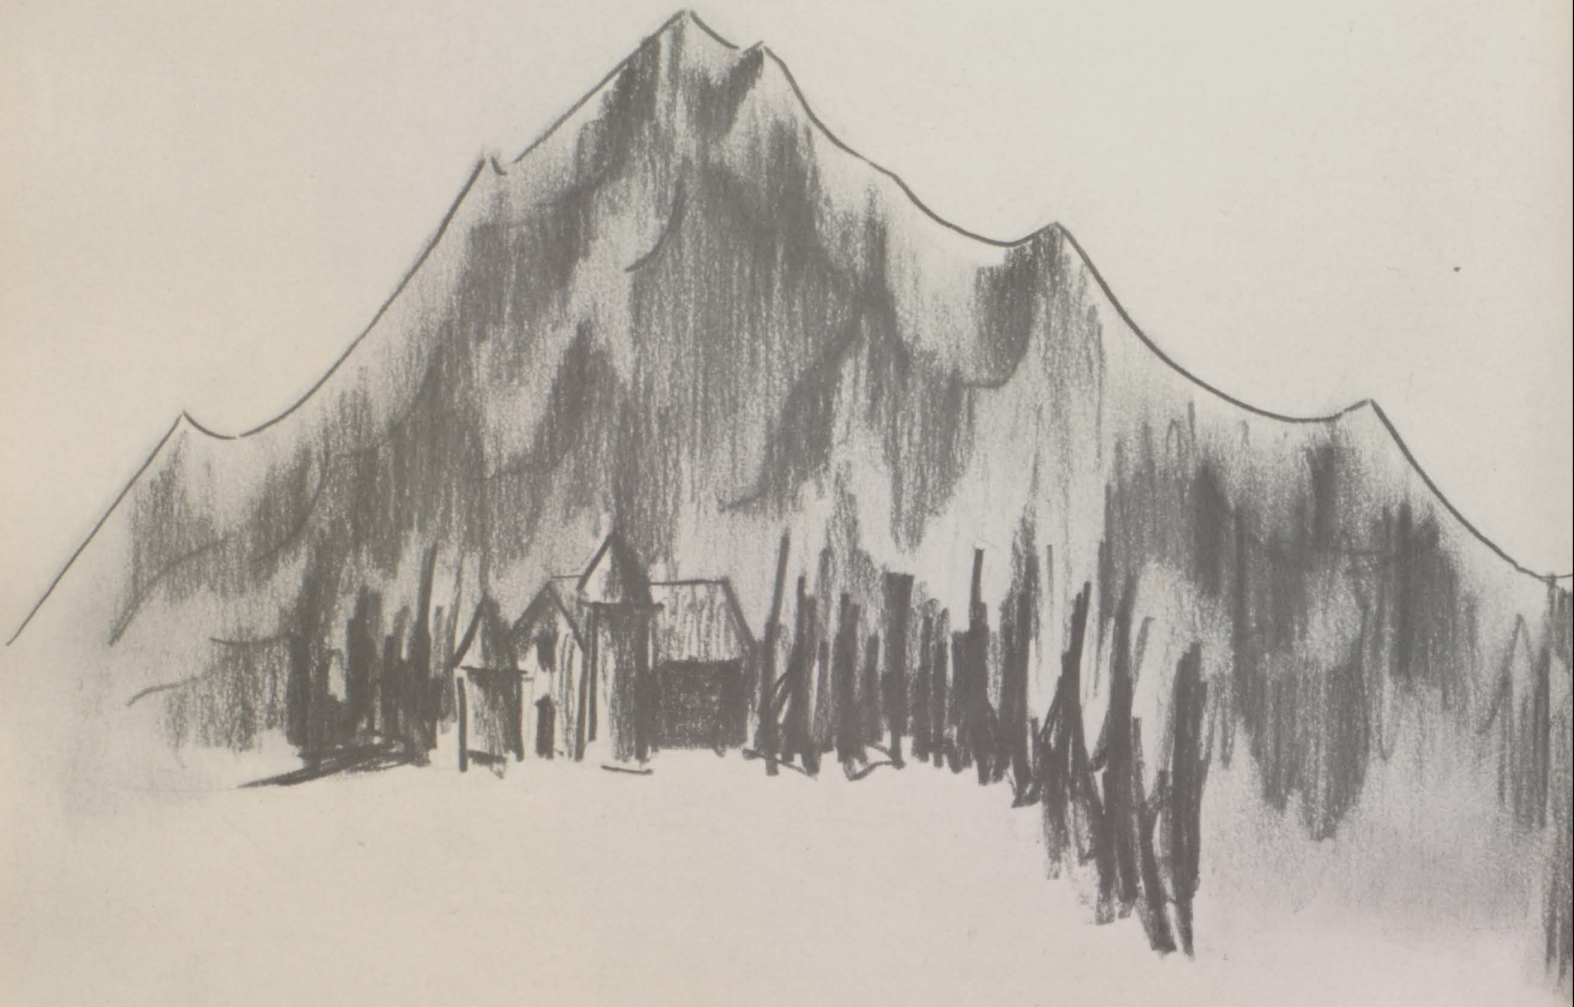

The orchestra gave the show a professional flare. It is responsible for changes of scene, interpretation of mood, and gives the show over-all cohesiveness.

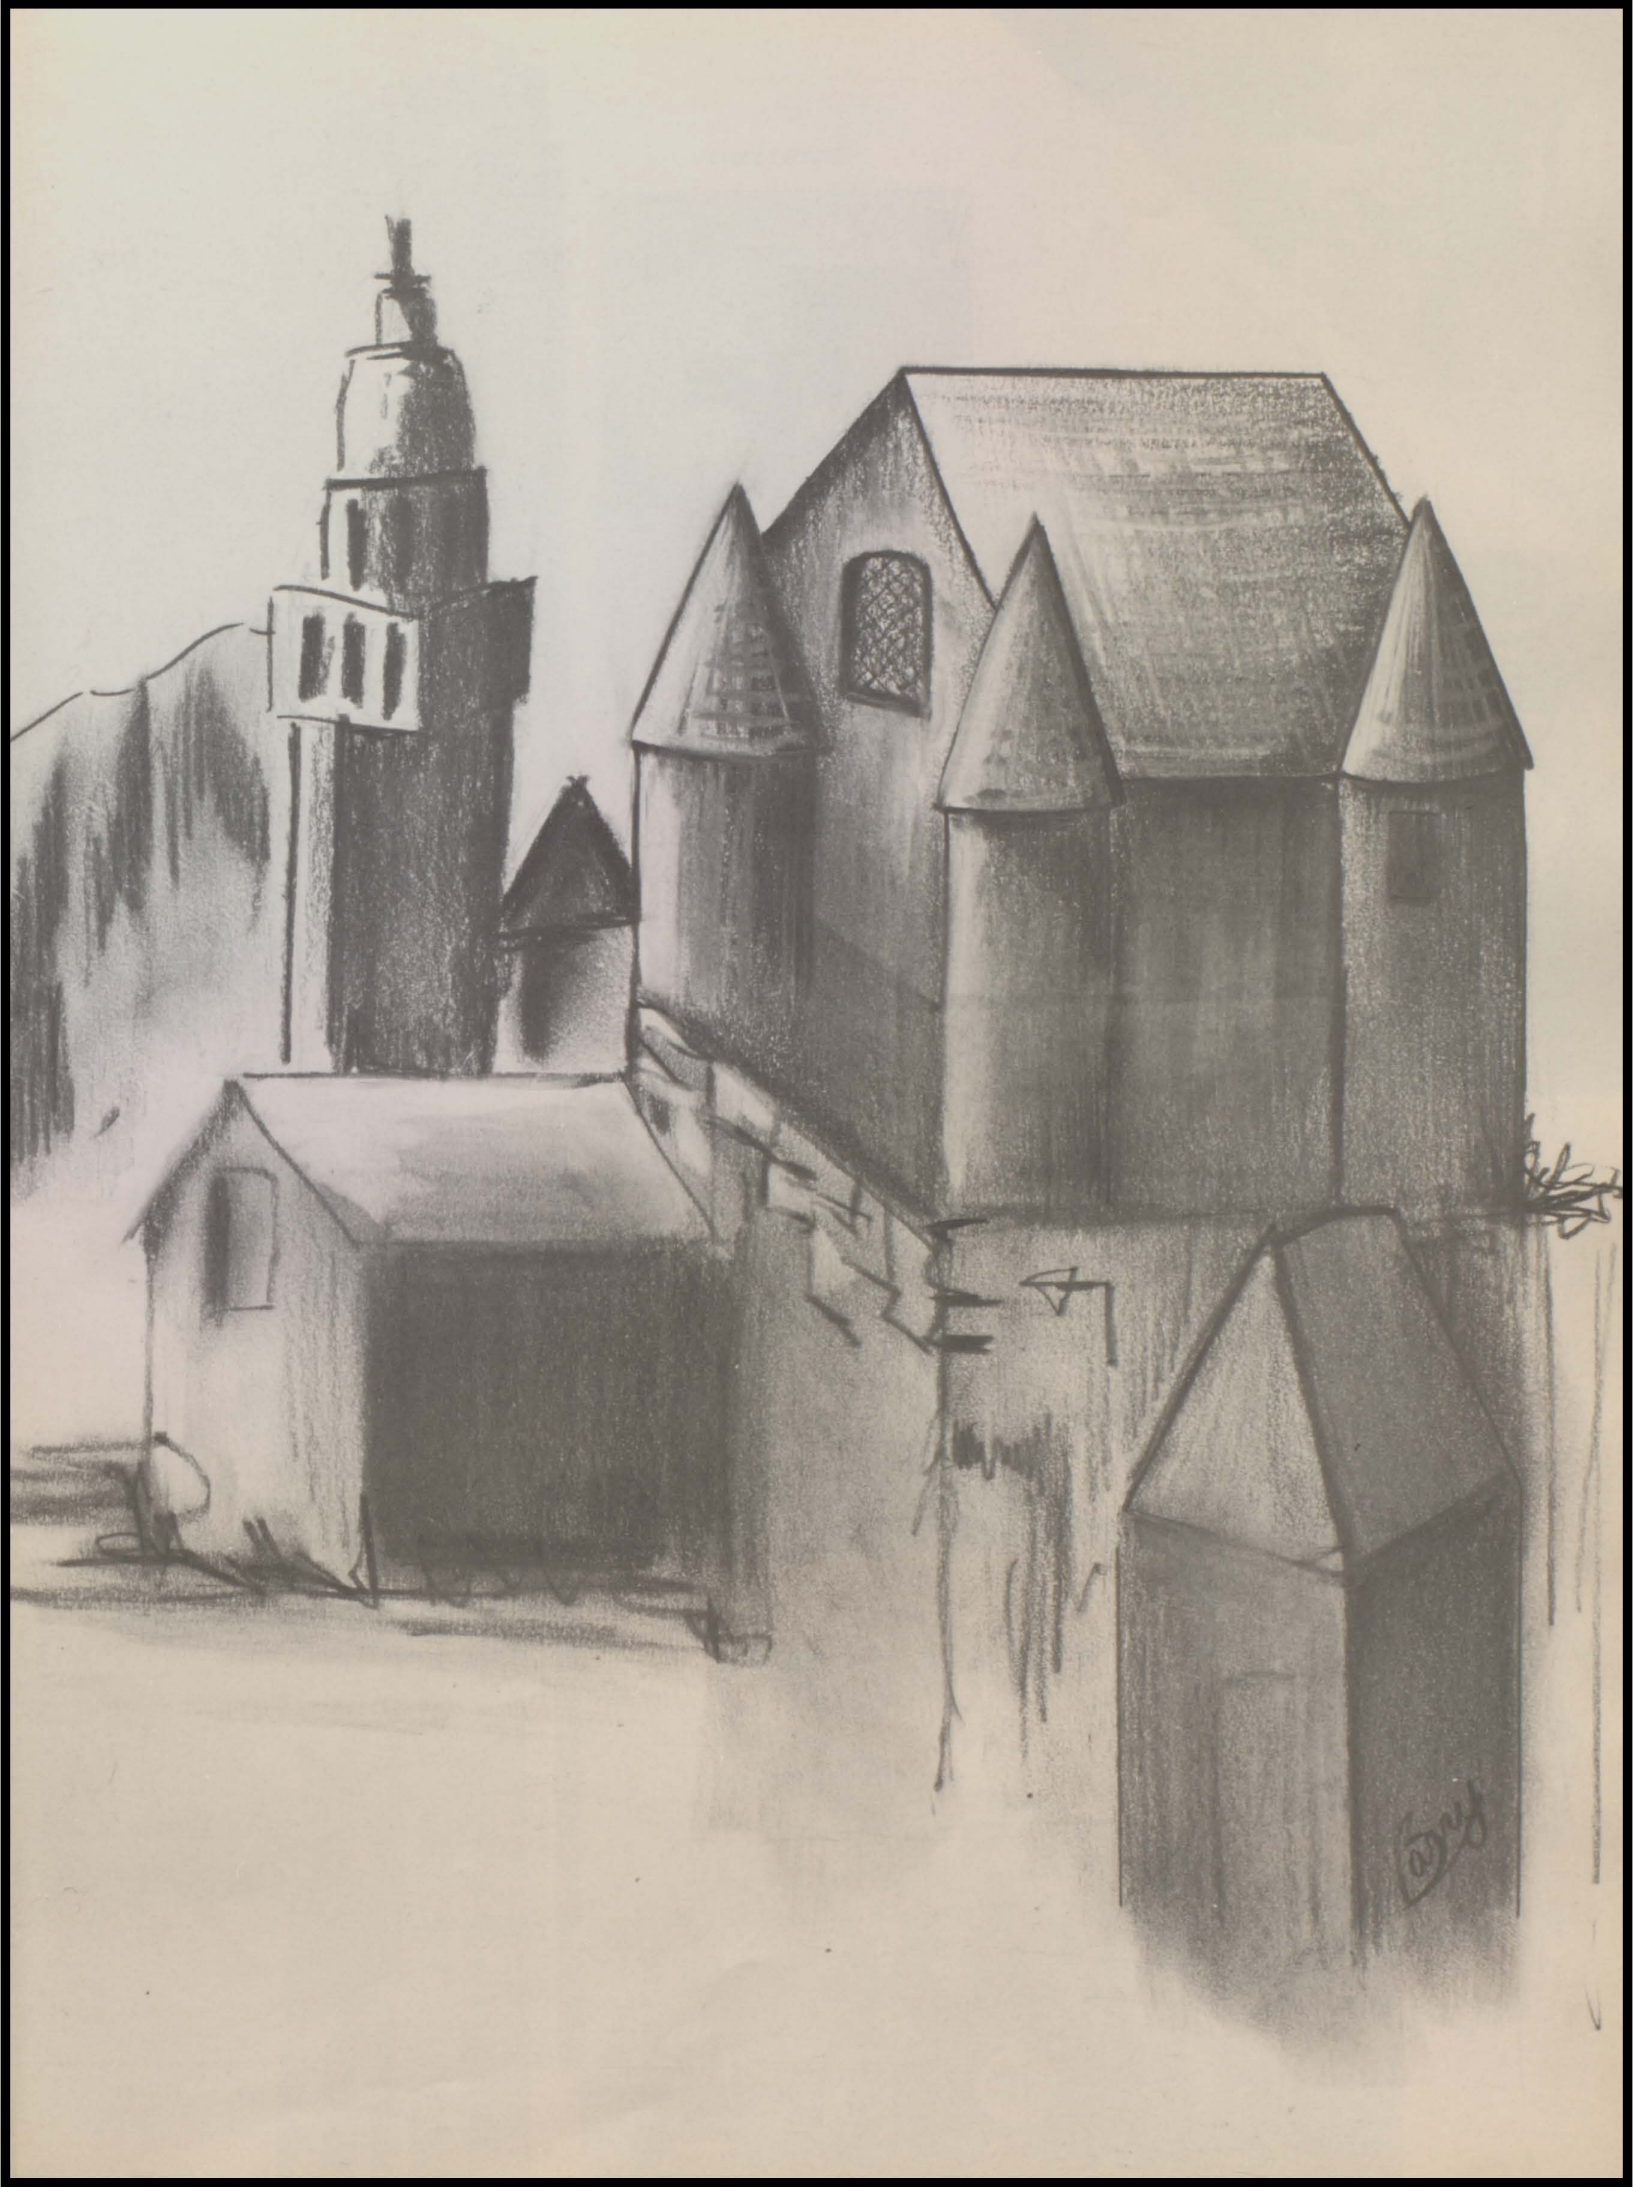

The high mark of this show from the standpoint of pure vocal beauty goes to the Nuns choruses. They were magnificent. It is hard to believe that this small group of girls could attain such a rich, mature sound.

The over-all impact of this show put on by these young people was tremendous. There is little any reviewer can add that would mean more than the audience itself. Special commendation should go to the school that has three men that work so well together, Jack Varra, Don Bondurant, and Bud Sills.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT

These three Student Body Officers were very busy this year and they filled their positions with ease.

East can be very proud of the work that our officers did this year, because our Senate really became a part of the ruling body for the first time. Senate was headed by President Paul Oslund, who did a really tremendous job of controlling the fifty-odd Senators. Carol Whitney, Vice-president, was the brains behind many of the activities sponsored by the Senate and under her guidance everything went smoothly and successfully. Glen Garrett did a wonderful job of recording the meetings of the Senate and heading several of the projects also.

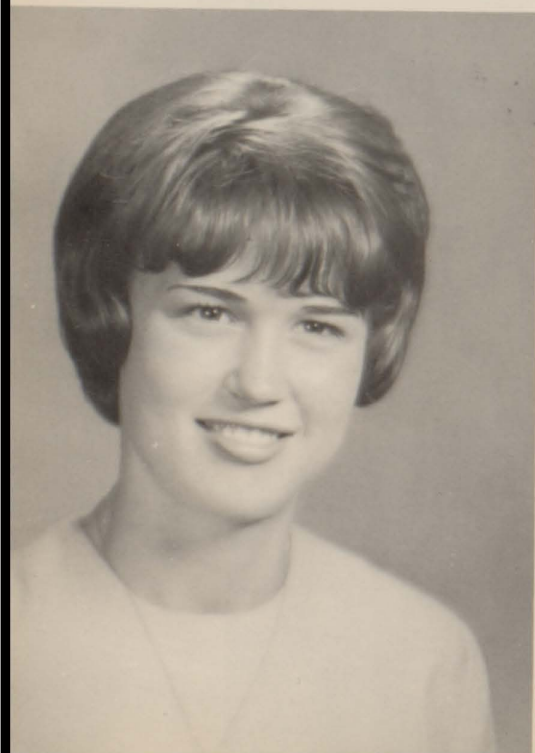

Mr. Varra, sponsor of the Senate, is also to be commended for his long hours of hard work with the Senate and their projects. It isn't very often that a faculty member will give his time and his energy in the manner that Mr. Varra did.

With the example set by this year's Senate, next year should be an even better year for East.

The Student Senate this year has accomplished a great deal, both in the way of social and academic projects.

At the first of the year, the Senate sponsored various activities for a highly successful Homecoming. Shortly thereafter, Senate began work on two amendments to the East High Constitution. The first, of these dealt with making J. V. Cheerleaders, Pom Pon Girls, and Twirlers specifically major or minor offices. The Second amendment called for a reapportionment of Student Senators from the homerooms. Both of these amendments were passed and action was taken on both of them.

The Senate also sponsored various other activities, including mixers, the Radio Show, an exchange trip to Casper with the Casper Senate, charter bus trips to various games, a Poster Contest, work on the parking lot, traffic problem discussions, debate concerning the Totem Pole, and a new system of electing Student Body Officers. The new system required an amendment to the constitution, which was easily passed. We had a Nominating Convention to nominate candidates, instead of the usual 10% signatures required before. It was an unusual experience and a big step forward for the Senate.

National Honor Society is a nationally recognized organization whose membership is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon any high-school student. Membership is more than an honor, though, it carries with it a responsibility and should be considered the beginning of an obligation, not merely the successful culmination of an effort to achieve honor and recognition.

National Thespian Honor Society is an organization that honors students who have worked on, or been in, productions put on at East High. Students receive points for working backstage, playing roles in the actual productions, building scenery, and being student directors. One must earn ten points to be accepted for membership.

Thespians put on, or helped, put on many wonderful plays this year. The first play was the Senior Class Play - "You Can't Take It With You", which was a tremendous performance and a very funny play. The other two main productions for this year were "The Sound Of Music" and the Junior Variety Show, both of which were excellent examples of acting and teamwork. East should be very proud of the fine Thespian Society our school has, as well as be proud of the performances they help produce.

Ten East High Students spent a fun-filled week, June 7-14, 1964, at Wonderful Wyoming's Girl's and Boy's State. The girls - at Laramie, and the boys - at Douglas, crammed hours of learning, playing, speech-making, eating, singing and friend-making into every day and many everlasting ideas were developed by the "staters." The week was topped by Friday's "Capital Day" trip and over three hundred boys and girls welcomed the co-educational luncheon held at the Plains Hotel, after a week of segregation! The Students all returned home Saturday with many souvenirs and memories of their stay at Girl's and Boy's State.

Although several members of the Wahina were unable to meet the membership qualifications, they deserve recognition because of their efforts on this year's annual; Nancy Bailey, Mary Hansen, Mike Finley, Sharon Blackerby and Ken Best. Innovation played a major role in the Key Club activities throughout the year. For the first time the Key club sold Student Directories. These Directories had almost all of the names and phone numbers of the Students of East High.

In conjunction with the other Key Clubs in the city, the East High Key Club held an initiation Banquet in honor of the new members.

The Key Club also held the most successful Key Club Ball in the History of East. It was called "Samurai", and the decorations were really tremendous. Everyone who attended had a wonderful time.

One of the other activities our Key Club helped with was the St. Mary's Hootenany, held at the pavillion. It was a lot of fun and proved to be a credit to all of the Key Clubs that participated.

DECA

Distributive Education is the training program that enables students, upon graduation, to enter into the business world as a part of the vital link between production and consumption. It trains students in sales, merchandising, and management areas.

D.E. offers the student an opportunity to study and learn about an area in which he wants to make a career. He is receiving vocational training with practical experience, learning to live in the working world, and at the same time, receiving a normal high school education. D.E. also is a good thing for the school. Having a D.E. program enables the school to accomplish many things. First of all, it is offering an area of training in which little has been done and in which nearly a third of the students will make their careers. Secondly, it is expanding the classroom to include the facilities of the community. Thirdly, it is helping the merchants build for the future. It can also be an excellent public relations medium for the school.

The Wahina Staff of 1965 encountered many difficulties when they began work on this year's annual. Mr. Niemi, the Wahina advisor, was experiencing his first year as a yearbook sponsor and at times (many times!) he found himself faced with the task of telling Mr. Jensen that the Wahina had once again missed its deadline.

But, after much hard work and frustration the yearbook got underway - heading for a delivery date in late May. A large delegation from both the yearbook and the newspaper staffs of East and Central attended a Journalism Workshop at the University of Wyoming, where techniques of constructing a yearbook and newspaper were discussed.

The Wahina Staff sent in its final deadline early in March and began work on a new project - the first Summer Supplement in Wahina history. The Supplement should be out sometime in August and will contain all the spring activities usually not included in previous Wahinas.

Special thanks go to Mr. Niemi, Susie Persons, the Business Staff, The Editorial Staff and the photographers, without whom this yearbook would never have been finished.

Rose Ann Erck headed the T-Bolt, with her assistant Editor, Craig Storti. They prepared the editorials, as well as the main part of the paper and they are to be commended for their hard work. Miss Allen is the sponsor of the paper, and she is also to be congratulated for the accurate and interesting account of the year's activities recorded by the Thunderbolt.

Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Jack Varra, presented several fine concerts, including the Requiem Mass by Gabriel Faure. The Requiem was a combined choir effort, with students from mixed chorus, Concert Choir, and Modern Choir. The Mass was a memorial to a former choir member, Joy Olson.

Several members from the choir also participated in the annual Musical presented by the music and drama departments each year. The musical was entitled "The Sound Of Music", with songs such as 'Climb Every Mountain', 'Do, Re, Mi', and 'My Favorite Things'.

The Choir also competed in the district festival held here in Cheyenne in the Spring. Last year they won the top honors and they hope to do as well this year. East High can certainly be proud of the fine choirs and their contributions to the School. As well as musically adding to our school, the department sponsored two additional items. First the current events board. This board was a great help to the student of East after it was completed, and everyone was kept well informed. The other item was the office sign that enabled strangers to find their way to the main office, a welcome convenience.

JUNIOR

VARIETY

Richard Johnson emceed the Jr. Variety Show.

The class of '66 presented the annual Jr. Variety Show on April 14 and 15 in the East Auditorium. Rich Johnson narrated the show, featuring "The Young Entertainers." He was assisted by the lovely and talented Elaine Gaulin, who added considerable interest to the show. Some of the young entertainers featured by the Jr. Class included the Wispers, a dance band who played a few traditional dance tunes. Bobbie Bedont and Connee Grantham proved that "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better!" Charlynn Carioso, a talented accordionist, played "Casey Jones" and "Lady of Spain."

Then Dave Schmidt effectively demonstrated "Why He's a Bachelor," with the help of the Thespian members. Dave Montgomery and Carroll Clay starred in the one-act play, along with Judy Witters and Lucy Valencia. Lance Covington and John Black pointed out the perils of allowing everyone to freely vent his feelings. Their pantomime was clever and interesting.

Alison Northcutt tiptoed through the tulips and the nasturtiums in an entertaining pantomime. Then "The Group", the District Stars of Tomorrow contest winners, featured several jazz selections, including one which they composed themselves. Solos by Frank Hosick, bass, and Tasso Kallas, drums, brought enthusiastic applause from the audience. Dell Ankeny, Sue Johnson, and Ann Murphy sang folk selections, "All My Trials," "The Cruel War," and "If I Had a Hammer." The final performers were the Venturas, who played "Surf Music," accompanied by girl dancers Mary McCracken, Muggs Addudell, Lynn deCastro, Bobbie Bedont, Linda Wasson, and Connee Grantham. On the final number, "The Young Entertainers" appeared for the grand finale of the evening.

The entire show was written, produced, and directed by East High Juniors under the supervision of Mr. Bondurant.

PROM

Davey Jones' treasure chest

Prom Royalty included Margaret Tsumagari and Gary Spencer, attendants; Lee Levengood and Gary Kaufolz, Queen and King; and Carol Whitney and Paul Oslund, attendants.

Mermaids, sea shells, tropical fish, a shipwreck, even turtles and an octopus, decorated the EHS cafeteria Saturday night, May 8th, when the junior class presented the Junior-Senior Prom, Aqua Paradise. The Spiders, a local band, played from 8:30 to midnight for the affair.

The theme, Aqua Paradise, was carried out with the use of those green and blue crepe paper streamers. The refreshment hall was decorated with miniature tables. The use of a silver punch bowl presented to the school by the Key Club added a great deal to the decorations.

The high point of the evening came at 10:00 with the coronation of the Prom royalty. Paul Oslund and Gary Spencer served as attendants to King Gary Kaufholz. Leah Levengood was chosen queen with Carol Whitney and Margaret Tsumagari attending. The coronation was witnessed by many parents as well as the juniors and seniors present for the very successful dance.

in action

The All Night Party started at the Hitching Post with supper and a dance. The music was furnished by the Chateaus. On to the Lincoln Theatre at 2:00 a. m. for a movie--entitled "Von Ryan's Express." Then to the Downtowner for breakfast in the "Aqua Room."

Everyone seemed to be in a daze, but it didn't take long for everyone to come alive and enjoy themselves.
