

APPALACHIAN ARTS FAIR

Saturday, August 23, 1969
University of Tennessee, Agricultural Campus
Knoxville (See directions)

AN ALL DAY FAIR with, by, and for the people of Appalachia, people of the hills and hollows and coal camps, and people who have left the mountains for the cities, but still call the mountains "home."

Bring your crafts to show -- quilts, stitchery, pottery, woodwork, rugs. Bring your guitar and your banjo; your voice to sing, your feet to dance, your skills at volley ball and horse shoe pitching.

FAIR is PEOPLE

Meet people "like homefolks" from Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, Cincinnati, Chicago.

See photos, slides, and movies of Southern places and Southern people.

Transportation (car pools and buses) will be arranged. For those from a distance, overnight lodging on Saturday will be provided. All are asked to bring a picnic lunch for Saturday noon. Snacks will be sold at the Fair from noon to 11 p.m. A meal will be served at 6 p.m. Bring cabbage, cucumbers, tomatoes from your garden for supper salad.

EXPENSES: A free-will offering will be collected Saturday afternoon to help defray the expenses of transportation, meals, and lodging. The Fair is partially funded by a private foundation for the purpose of preserving and developing Appalachian Folk Arts. Your most important contribution is your participation. The Fair is People. Come and bring your family, and plan to have a good time.
