

SACRED CROWN BLESSED

Hudson Portuguese observed the Feast of the Holy Ghost on Sunday by the customary procession to St. Michael's church, carrying the sacred crown to be blessed. The line went from River street to the church, headed by a band. Mass was celebrated by Rev. George F. Wiseman. After the service the line returned to Liberty hall where dinner was served. In the afternoon the band played and festivities were conducted. In the early evening the crown was carried in procession to Elm street to a member of the society, who will retain it until the festival next year.
