My Dear Wife:

It is now about noon. I have been quite busy this a.m. fixing up blank appreciations for some of my notaries. We are going to have a close call to get them ready by Tuesday- as Sunday and the 4th come in as two days in which we can do no official business.

I seemed two rooms yesterday for our use. The rooms are ^upstairs the large house 2 storm- Large good and fine lawn- elegant shade tree- porch, its well furnished. The owner is old lady- a widow whom husband was a [bowter?]

She has two or three daughters and some sons. I saw no one but the old lady. The place was seemed for me through one of the young college boys who is to be one of my notaries. They ~~strikethrough~~ an ~~[/strikethrough]~~ do not ordinarily rent the rooms. I could not get- Board and room to-gether- so we will have to go out for our meals. I could see now way to avoid this. So we will have to do the best we can- but our accommodations for rooms will be what I would call first class

I yesterday rented a vacant lot near the Pierce Hotel booth and will have to put up- a frame shock for an office. I do not think I will go down to the rooms until you folks come- providing you get in before the rush comes and I do hope Porter will succeed in getting transportation so you can start not ~~less~~ later than Sunday evening. Well, Porter writes us on hour gotten clear well and I am so glad to know it. Well, I am still looking for the letter from you. Do write. With love and kisses,

Your loving Husband,

Dick.
