Congressional Club Guest.
Handsome Gowns Worn.
Mrs. Lowden There.

The Congressional Club presented a brilliant scene last evening at the reception and ball given by the club in honor of Gen. Pershing. The clubhouse was attractive in a setting of spring plants and blossoms and a handsomely appointed table was laid in the tea room. Mrs. Charles B. Ward, president of the club, stood at the head of the receiving line, assisted by Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Mrs. Medill McCormick, Mrs. Edward J. King, Mrs. James F. Byrnes, Miss Alice Page, Mrs. C. Frank Reavis and Mrs. Jouett Shouse.

Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, wife of the governor of Illinois, was there with Mrs. McCormick. Mrs. Lowden was handsome in a trailing gown of turquoise blue satin brocaded delicately in gold with gold cloth forming the top of the bodice.

Mrs. Daniels wore a costume of pale French blue georgette crepe. Mrs. McCormick wore scarlet satin brocaded in gold. Mrs. Ward was in black net studded with cut steel. Mrs. Shouse wore orchid brocaded satin and lace. Mrs. Reavis was in black net with jets and touches of velvet. Mrs. Byrnes wore green and gold brocaded metal cloth. Miss Page was in black tulle and satin. Gen. Pershing danced first with Mrs. Ward, and then with Mrs. Shouse.
