will be redone and will become the Nursing Office and Medical Records.

As the hospital has grown, increased need for expanded programs for orientation and In Service Education for all departments has become evident. In the west wing of the south end of the basement a face lifting will soon begin also. This will become the education and training center for the hospital. Mr. Ken Stevens has just recently been employed as Director of Personnel Development and Public Information and will coordinate activities in this area. He is also spearheading the publication of the hospital monthly newspaper not yet named.

During August another new department will develop. Our first Social Worker will begin employment. We eagerly anticipate her assistance in many areas of patient placement outside the hospital, counseling about hospital followup and communication with patients and families.

Second West (years ago it was Second South) has now become an Extended Care wing. Along with many other burdens added to our paper work by Medicare developments is the requirement that on paper patients must be dismissed from the hospital and admitted to Extended Care (for billing purposes of course).

Fifth floor was opened in January of 1969 and adds 51 Medical Surgical beds. It is a larger floor than we've had before and we have not yet mastered its management. The nine rooms on the west end of this floor are lovely private, rather plush facilities. Lots of VIPs have been hospitalized in these rooms and they have become our most popular accommodation.

Sixth floor is almost ready to be occupied. As soon as first floor is finished and the offices moved (possibly by Nov.) it will be opened. Rooms are almost identical to fifth and it will increase our bed capacity to about 350 including Extended Care.

Rumors are afoot that more is planned. So keep in touch.

NLN NATIONAL CONVENTION - DETROIT

Mrs. Margaret Pavelka shares with us these thoughts from National NLN Convention:

"The National League for Nursing Convention in Detroit May 19-23 provided much food for thought.

The ferment and revolt prevalent at all levels of society is beginning to reflect on the health care scene. Along with the individuals right to equality is an emphasis upon every American's right to adequate health care. The 'receivers of care' are becoming more articulate, more critical and more demanding.

An interesting feeling was expressed by many speakers representing medicine, education and government. It has become evident in multi-disciplinary groups that the nurse (when and if she speaks at all) usually presents the patients or the public's point of view. Her unique contact with patients places her in a confidential relationship which encourages the patient to express his innermost feelings freely. We consequently are in a vital position to influence the redesigning of health care which the consumer is demanding. Since the primary purpose of the N.L.N. is to insure that the nursing needs of the people will be met, the League role is now interpreted as assisting to insure that all health care needs will be met.

The two highlights emphasized throughout the meeting were that: I. Nurses must become better prepared as leaders; knowledgeable about health care needs and how to meet them. Equally important nurses must develop the willingness and ability to speak out and make themselves heard on the health care team and in health care planning. II. Nurses must become involved in health care outside the hospital. Nurses must assist in insuring health care before hospitalization and follow up after hospitalization. Communication between health care individuals will be demanded by the consumer. Participating in his own health care plan will be expected. Patients will not tolerate being treated as dependent children without a right to know what is being done and why.

This organization again positively reaffirmed its support of all types of quality nursing education programs.

The nurse who is interested in the future of our health care system and preserving the role of the nurse as an equal partner in the health care team should become active in this organization."

CONVENTION 1969

Eight bright eyed Bryan nursing students boarded a chartered bus at 5:30 a.m., May 1, for Detroit, Michigan and NSNA Convention 1969. Red cowboy hats, NSSNA pins and two National Convention Candidates were identifying points of the Nebraska delegation. Programs included: a look at nursing in the future, films on nursing recruitment, and the establishment of funds for a foundation which will be used for scholarships, loans and projects of NSNA. After walking many miles, seeing many sights and meeting many other student nurses, we returned home with good memories of a new inspiring experience.

SCHOOL OF NURSING CURRICULUM CHANGES

Beginning with September, 1970, freshmen in our School of Nursing will be attending college full time for the first two semesters. They may live on the college campus or at home, but they will not live here at Bryan while attending college.

The program will remain three full years with four weeks vacation each year. The Bryan School of Nursing will continue to grant a diploma. Graduates may continue their work toward a college degree.

Reasons for the major curriculum change are to strengthen the knowledge base of the student nurse in anatomy, physiology, and communications, and to decrease student costs to the hospital, and consequently to the patient.

SENIOR PICNIC

The annual Alumni-Senior picnic was held on May 27 at Antelope Park here in Lincoln. A large group of alumni and students attended. The graduating Seniors, as usual, gave their impromptu skit and Mrs. Martha Maseman spoke on the history and functions of the Bryan Alumni Association.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

We're sorry the spring issue of Bryan Notes is a bit late this year. Phyllis and I took over the job of co-editors early this spring and since we're new at this type of work we've been slow to organize. I'm sorry to say I did have a poor response from class correspondents this time. I urge you to be prompt in returning your news to me. Our newsletter goes out in the spring and the fall so collect your news early. I will continue to send reminder cards to class correspondents. If anyone other than correspondents have news of interest (we welcome it) please contact me:

Also, I would like to urge all of you gals to use your graduation year after your name in all of your correspondence to the editors, or any of the officers of the Alumni Association. Most of our records have names listed according to classes and it is very time consuming to thumb through all of the classes to find one name. This is very important in notifying us of a change of address.

I would like to thank Shirleen Way for all her hard work in organizing the Bryan Notes these past few years. It has made our task much easier to say the least. A special thanks to the class correspondents and all who helped us put this issue of the Bryan Notes together.

Don't forget the Alumni Banquet on Aug 3. Get your reservations in early. I'll look forward to seeing you there.

WOMEN TODAY

Today's woman must, above all, be flexible. She must have remarkable agility of heart and mind to cope with the constant and unpredictable changes that will surely come in the course of her life. She must do many jobs well, dividing her time, energy, and interest among her family, herself, and others.

She must be more than willing--she must be determined--to grow, to become the most she can become, and to put the fullness of her abilities to the best possible use.

She must have faith that today is a wonderful day to be a woman and that tomorrow will be an even better one. She must have the vision and the courage to take today and shape it into that tomorrow.

THE POWER OF SILENCE

When things are in a turmoil, utilize silence. Silence is more eloquent than writing, more forceful than words. It has never betrayed anybody. If you doubt your own wisdom, remain silent.

In silence we conceal our own shortcomings, and hear the mistakes of others. Even the unwise have been considered wise in their silence. The heart prompts a man to talk, but the head should act as a check valve. Few men have regretted being silent, but many have made statements they wished were unspoken. We cannot reconcile ourselves to being betrayed by our own friends, yet we often betray ourselves by our own tongues.

If a friend, or an enemy, attempts to spite you with wit, remain silent and observe the recoil. Answering a man with words proves he has hit you hard. Your silence, on the other hand, disconcerts him more than argument.
