

JOAN HAVENER
"I'm not a flirt; I'm just friendly."

DEVONNE HOHENSEE
"Silence is one great art of conversation."

DEANNA HOFELDT
"Her thoughts and conduct are her own."

ANN JOHNSON
"An understanding heart is one that will always be remembered."

SHARLENE BARTELS KNIPPELMEYER
"If life is worth living, it is worth enjoying."

CAROL KLUSMAN
"I agree with you, but I must admit that you're wrong."

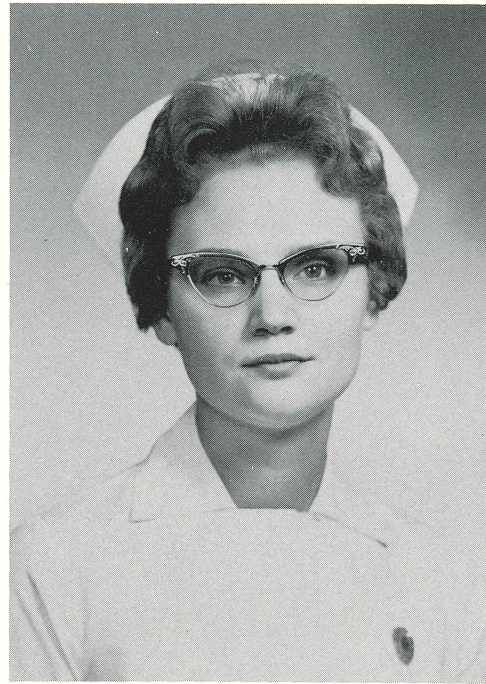

ANITA KREIMER
"Dependable is her middle name."

CAROL KUCERA
"Cheer up - things could be worse."

JO ANNE LINDQUIST
"Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well."

BONNETTA PAULSON
"Hard work is the recipe for success."

KAREN SLEPICKA
"Her gay spirit and cheerful ways wakens us to better days."

SONDRA SMITH
"Calm yourself, I'm never serious."

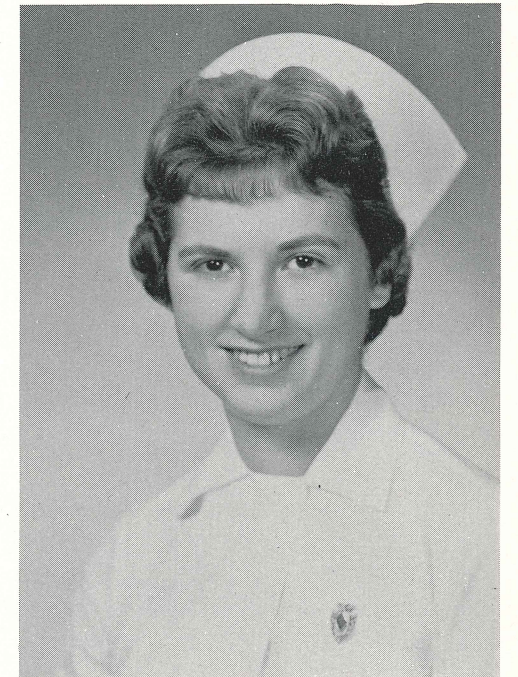

MARJORIE REDDING
"I never think of the future - it comes too soon."

KAREN SCHMAIJOHN
"I don't know which I prefer, a boy or another boy."

SHARON PANSKA STEWART
"She's herself, what more could you ask."

CAROLYN TIPTON
"Everyone likes her and she is worthy of it."

JUDITH WAYBRIGHT
"Honor lies in honest toil."

SALLY WESTERHOFF
"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

JOYCE WILLIAMS
"One of those quiet girls who never stops talking."

NANCY WILKENING
"She knows how to think and what's more she does."

Class Prophecy

Dear Ann (Johnson):

Little did I know when I left Anchorage, Alaska, two weeks ago, that I would have the fortunate experience of seeing all my classmates who were graduated with me from L.G.H. in 1962. The weather was excellent for sledding until I came to Columbia. Then I had to part with my dogs at a Forest Ranger Station. To my surprise, the first aid nurse at this station was Nancy Wilkening. She said that her life had been a very adventurous one.

As I crossed the border into Idaho in my little ambulance (I thought I'd be able to make better time in an ambulance), my passport was checked by none other than Marilyn Anderson. As I drove into Idaho (it should happen to a nicer person), I ran out of go-go liquid. At a nearby ranch, I obtained this wondrous liquid from my old friend, JoAnne Lindquist. The ranch was beautiful, but I had to travel on.

Crossing over into Nevada, a police dent was added to my left fender by Carol Klusman. You know how it goes when you're on your second honeymoon, and in love, too, no less. At her suggestion, I whizzed down to New Mexico to see Sandy Grebe. While crossing the desert, I found Devonne Hohensee trying to give first aid to what you might call an automobile, and a foreign one at that. She is enjoying her work at a nearby Geriatric Hospital. Having helped her with the task, I traveled on. Finally, I got to see Sandy, happily employed as a Public Health Nurse.

In Arizona, I found Bonnie Paulsen working with experimental animals. Even though research work is fun and time consuming, she finds time to raise her four children. Working as her assistant was Joan Havener.

I had always wanted to see scenic Mexico, so off I went. I had no idea that I'd see JoAnne Brockmeir and Kathy Bremer. They had the very satisfying job of working as a team to further the education of a remote village in the mountains.

Again I wanted to stay, but I had the itch to travel on - Texas. You KNOW what they raise in Texas - cowboys. I ran into two of them with their converted cowgirls - Sally Westerhoff and Kathy Bruha. Was I surprised. If you can call it Industrial Nursing, then I suppose that's what they did.

I was crossing the plains in Oklahoma, when, just like that, I had a flat tire. Just then, Karen Slepicka drove up and helped me change it. We had a nice chat about old times and her job as President of the ANA.

The Ozarks were much more beautiful than I had expected. There weren't many inhibitions either. Barefooted - all of them. While exploring one of the caves (I'm a mole at heart), I bumped into Phyllis Burnett (it was dark). She invited me over to her house for supper. Little did I know I would see Sharlene Bartels, Jean Deterding, Sharon Panska, and Joyce Williams. This JUST doesn't happen everyday. After supper each told about her experiences. Sharon told about her adventures, hilarious and otherwise, as Pediatric Nurse in North Dakota. Joyce and Jean were both working in the Ozarks and enjoyed their trips by donkey into the wilderness. And, of course, Sharlene had a few children (like six!) to spin a few tales about (not that she wouldn't like to spin their tails instead).

The following day I headed for Tennessee. What a beautiful green state. I was in a green state in more than one way - I had eaten too many green apples. While recuperating in a Nashville Hospital, Karen Schmaljohn took good care of me. We reminisced over many happy memories.

When I had quite regained myself, I breezed on up to New York and looked up Judee Waybright, whom I found to be happily married and quite busy with her triplets (it happens, you know). I learned that Dee Hofeldt and Carolyn Tipton were working at a nearby hospital, so I'dropped in on them. Sindy Smith was scrub nurse for a Neurosurgeon (I'll give you three guesses who for, and the first two don't count). Carol Kucera was head nurse of the Obstetrical Department, and enjoyed it tremendously.

I got itchy again (actually I didn't want to tell anyone, but I had an allergy) so I drove to Rhode Island. That may be a little state but boy, is it packed. Difficult? Yes, but I found her. There she was, Anita Kreimer, helping a lady across the street. We went to coffee and talked. She told me she had joined the Waves for four years and had enjoyed her experience very much. She now works as an office nurse.

I will be back in Anchorage in ten days. I hope they haven't missed the ambulance yet.

Your Arctic pal,

Marjorie Redding

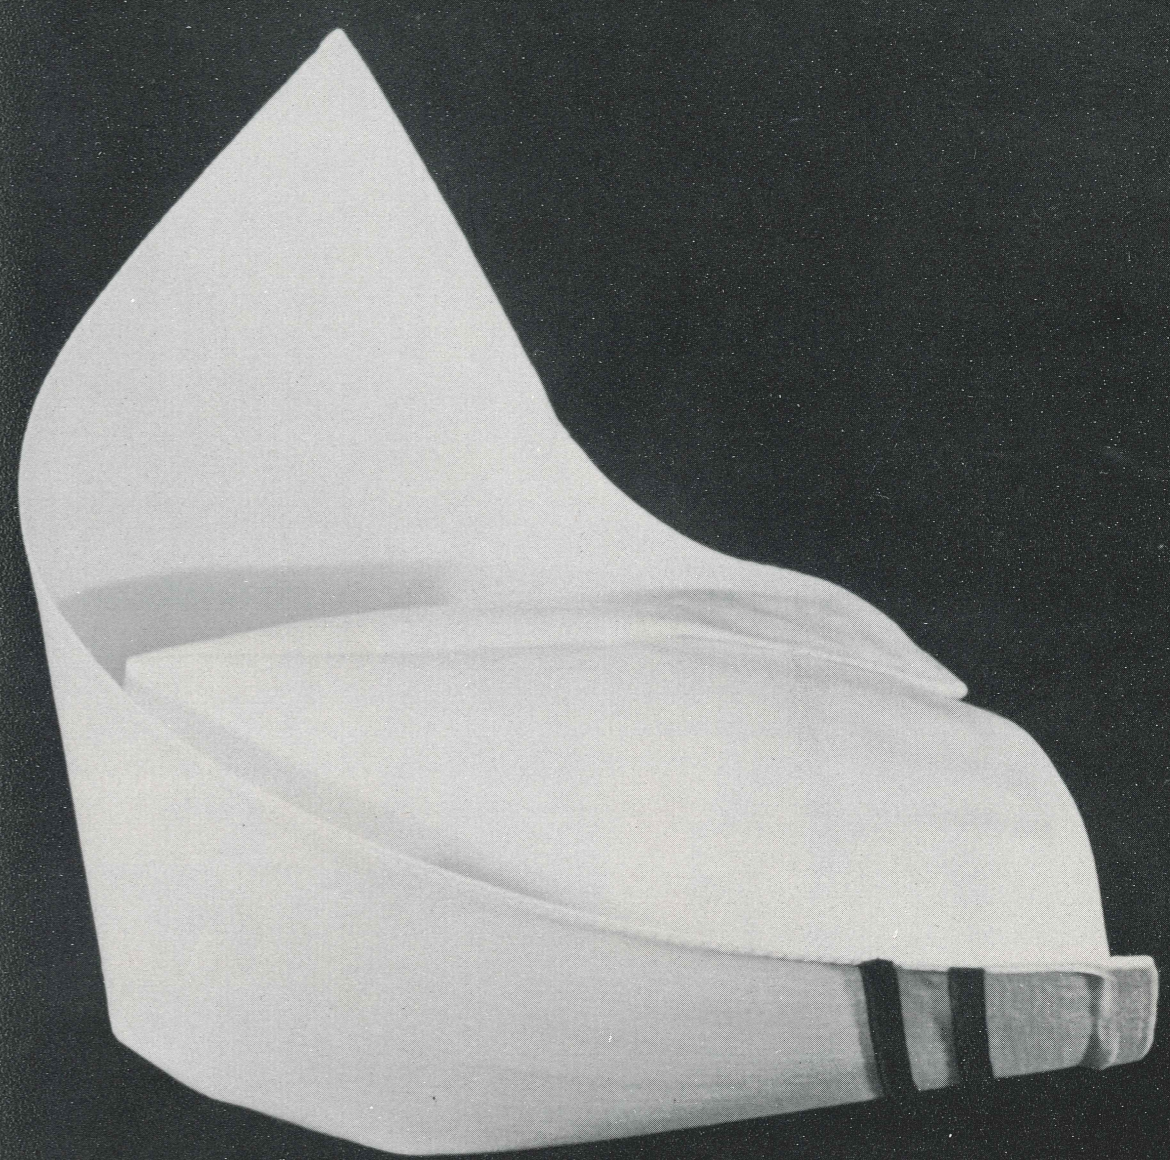

P.S. It's too bad the Husky Rental Service didn't have two dog sleds.

We, the Senior Class of Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any will heretofore made by us.

To the faculty we leave a supply of Percodan for all the headaches and trouble we have caused. To the housemothers we leave the fact that they won't have to put up with us anymore.

- I, Marilyn Anderson, will my ability to sing and play the ukulele to "Swinging" Sam (Reese, that is).
- I, Kathleen Bremer, will my ability to blush (at the right time) to Mary Wertman.
- I, Joanne Brockmeier, will my "cover girl" sun-tan to Jackie Smith.
- I, Katherine Bruha, will my "off beat" sense of humor to Marty Hansen.
- I, Phyllis Burnett, will my continuing education in the medical field to Ellie Barton.
- I, Betty Cathey, will my ability to use contacts as an excuse to sleep through class to anyone who can get away with it.
- I, Jean Deterding, will my excess strength and determination to Meridy Wahe.
- I, Sandra Grebe, will my nightly dates to Joyce Summers.
- I, Joan Havener, will my smoking technique to Judy Bresley.
- I, Deanna Hofeldt, will my "beauty shop" to Marcia Lofgren.
- I, Devonne Hohensee, will my ability to be afraid to say "I will" for fear someone will over hear me.
- I, Ann Johnson, will my dabbles in poetry to Kathy Nelson.
- I, Carol Klusman, will my "silky ash colored hair" to Pat Skiles.
- I, Sharlene Knippelmeyer, will my "long range" wedding plans to Sharon Turner.
- I, Anita Kreimer, will my clear thinking and organizational ability to Chris Armstrong.
- I, Carol Kucera, will my ability to lead three lives to Karen Rudden and Janice Malina.
- I, JoAnne Lindquist, will my brain to Mayo's.
- I, Bonnie Paulson, will my wealth of experience in Denver to Lucile Songster.
- I, Marjorie Redding, will my frequent trips to Miller's art shows to Bonnie Trupp.
- I, Karen Schmaljohn, will my passion for playing cards to Elaine Guthrie.
- I, Sharon Stewart, will my profitable experience at Selleck to Ellie Miller.
- I, Sondra Stickney, will my "neat room" to Joan Duensing.
- I, Carolyn Tipton, will my book, "The Navy Wife," to Margaret Hentzen.
- I, Karen Truka, will my much misunderstood maiden name to the records of L. G. (Similiar troubles Barbara Svajgr?).
- I, Judith Waybright, will my profitable and happy experience on affiliation to Beverly Ensminger.
- I, Sally Westerhoff, will my study habits to Donna Adams.
- I, Nancy Wilkening, will my experience with Orderlies to Vernetta Fuchs.
- I, Joyce Williams, will my "over-time" on the phone to Pat Polly.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF we hereunto set our hands and affix our seal at our school of nursing in the city of Lincoln and the state of Nebraska, this 24th day of August, 1962.

BACK ROW: P. Polly, M. Wahe, S. Reese, D. Schwaninger, J. Bresley, J. Smith, E. Barton J. Duensing, M. Hentzen. CENTER ROW: B. Svajgr, J. Summers, K. Ruden, M. Hansen, D. Adams, V. Fuchs, D. Peterson, M. Wertman, E. Guthrie, E. Miller, J. Malina. FRONT ROW: S. Vaught, B. Trupp, M. Lofgren, H. Palmer, C. Armstrong, P. Skiles, S. Turner, L. Songster. NOT SHOWN: B. Enzminger, K. Nelson, J. Bluma, D. Dallman.

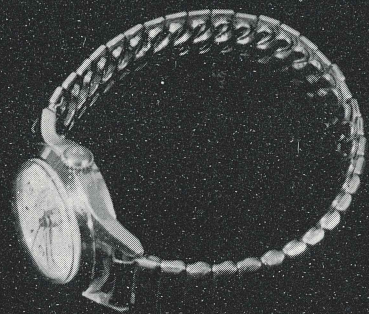

JUNIOR OFFICERS: Mary Wertman, Treas.; Harlene Palmer, Sec.; Donna Adams, Vice Pres.; Marty Hansen, Pres.

CLASS SPONSOR: Miss Kay Riddle

Freshmen

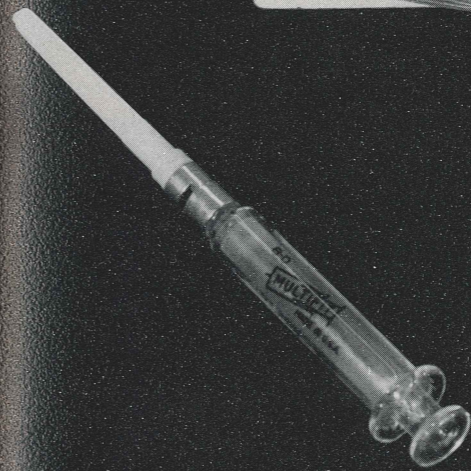

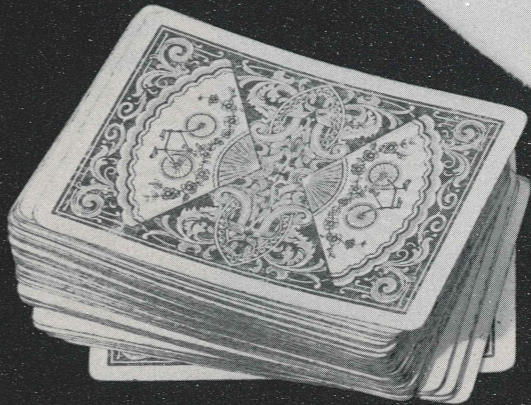

ROW 1: F. Hoops, J. Applegate, J. Oltman, J. Kruetzer, Jayne Gregerson, C. Laue, Judy Gregerson, R. Doremus, J. Litizzette, D. Green, J. Hanks, F. Freese. ROW 2: L. Jones, J. Gray, W. Anders, R. Flowers, J. Holtorf, S. Fiddelke, C. Else, S. Widtfeldt, M. Moody, M. Groves, S. Squire, S. Martin, P. Bower, M. Baker, A. Graves, B. Herrold, C. Ward, P. Bertran. ROW 3: D. Johnson, P. Miner, J. Gruendeman, B. Paulson, S. Kailey, B. Borland, D. Anderson, R. Craig, G. Kowrack, D. Klein, J. Halstead, N. Mattson, M. Kavan, J. Richards, S. Aegeter, M. Trupp, D. Spring, S. Thesenvitz, P. Nieman.

PRE-CLINICAL OFFICERS: M. Moody Vice Pres., S. Squire Secretary, G. Kowrack President, B. Paulson Treasurer.

FRESHMAN OFFICERS: M. Kavan Vice Pres., R. Flowers Secretary, D. Johnson President, B. Borland Treasurer.

Just how do you operate the circle bed, Miss Bruha?

Medical Surgical Clinical Areas

Students obtain a great portion of their medical and surgical nursing experience on 2nd Medical or 3rd Center. Here they become acquainted with many varied and interesting conditions. Students are able to put into practice what they have learned in class. The Clinical Instructors help the students with any problems.

What could we have for a Nursing Goal?

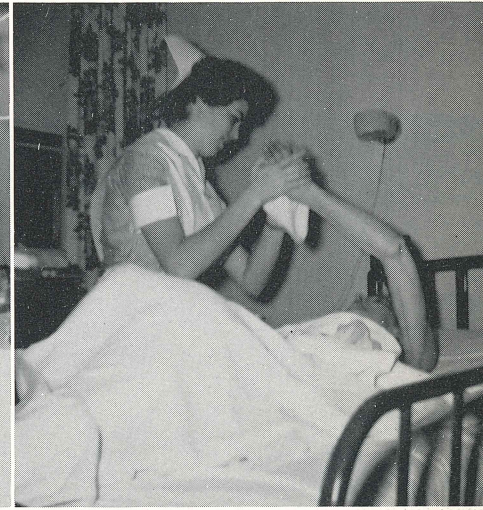

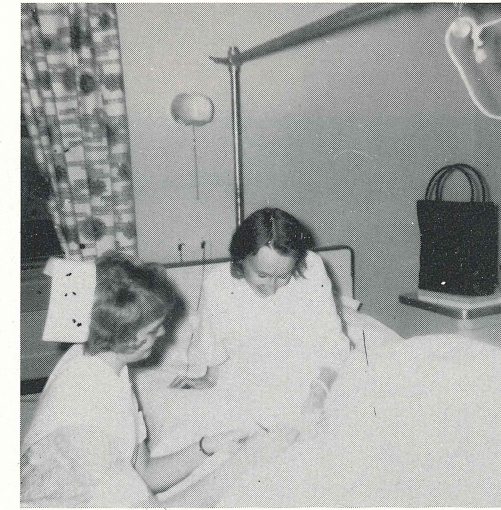

Have all of your patients received good back care, Miss Polly?

What's new down in C.S.R., Miss Books and Miss Borland?

What do you need for an adequate diet, Miss Grundeman?

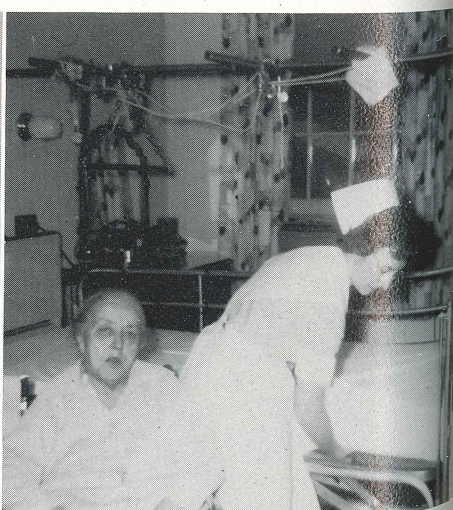

Is the bath water warm, Mrs. Stewart?

Have you checked those medications, Miss Kreimer?

Have you been teaching arm exercises, Miss Schwaniger?

Is that bed tight, Miss Green?

Is that a T.W. or S.S. enema, Miss Cathey?

How do you help a patient into a chair, Miss Hentzen?

How are you going to organize your work, Miss Bresley?

B. Svajgr and D. Peterson with a labor patient.

Obstetrics

Students have one week of orientation, then spend four weeks in each department - ante partum, post partum, and nursery.

The care study of a mother and her first baby is an important part of this experience.

C. Heckman shows baby to mother in recovery room.

J. Bluma sets up room for delivery.

K. Nelson cares for baby in incubator.

B. Enzminger gives bath demonstration.

V. Fuchs feeding infant.

D. Dallman carrying baby out to car.

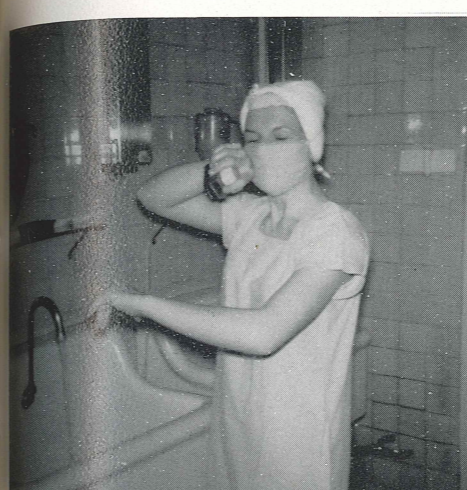

P. Skiles, E. Barton, and G. Morgan in the workroom.

Surgery

Students spend eight weeks observing and scrubbing for surgery and one week in the post anesthesia room.

Classes in the O.R. include technique and surgical procedures and care of the surgical patient.

J. Duensing - Scrubbing?

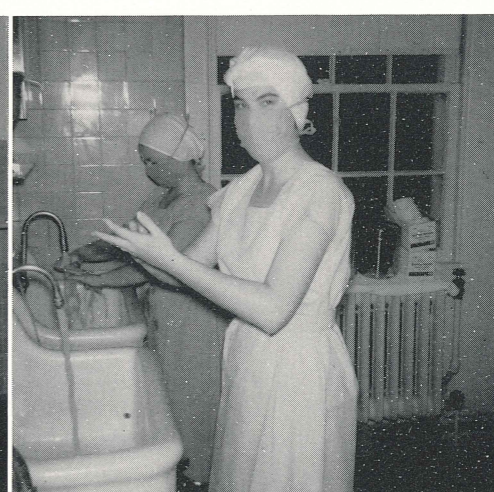

E. Barton preparing for day in PAR.

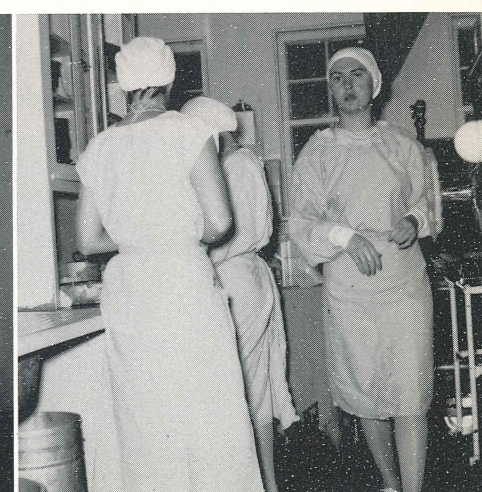

C. Armstrong - gloves to wrap!

Checking room for supplies.

E. Guthrie and P. Skiles scrubbing for surgery.

Preparing instrument trays for sterilizer.